Incumbants unseated in runoff

Only a few went to the polls in the run-off elections in Runnels County Tuesday, only 18 percent of the registered voters in the county.

The unofficial returns from the run-off election late Tuesday shows that two incumbants on the Runnels County Commissioners' Court were unseated by their challengers.

In the race for the Precinct 3 Commissioner's post challenger James Thurman Self apparent ly unseated long-time commissioner Gilbert Smith in the runoff with a vote total of 308 to 215.

Self and Smith bested two other candidates in the primary election to make it into the runoff that unseated the incumbent commissioner, Gilbert Smith.

In the run-off election for the Precinct 1 seat on the Commissioners' Court, incumbent Commissioner Robert Virden was defeated by challenger Skipper Wheelless. The vote totals gave Wheelless 311 votes to Virden's 179.

Wheelless and Virden survived the primary election to make the run-off as well as a re-count of the ballots in that precinct which was requested by Tommy New who gathered the third largest number of votes in the primary election.

In the run-off for the office of Constable, Precinct 2, Runnels County, former deputy sheriff Barry Hilliard defeated Jimmy Whittenberg for the office.

Hilliard polled 266 votes to defeat Jimmy Whittenberg with 234 votes. Mrs. Whittenberg had been seeking election to the office held by her late husband for many years.

On Saturday, April 23, the big push to Clean-Up Winters will be made by the Lions Club, Boy Scouts, City and County.

Everyone is urged to take pride in the appearance of their property and the city as a whole and put forth an effort in this project.

Winters golf teams advance to regional

The Winters Blizzard Girls and Boys golf teams both advanced to regional play as a result of second place finishes in the district meets.

The girls team did an outstanding job in posting a score of 419 which trailed San Saba's first place score of 415 by only 4 shots. This was a tremendous effort by our girls team because San Saba had the edge as we were playing on their home course. I believe if we had been at a neutral sight the girls would have been district champs. The team was led by 3rd place medalist Stephanie Powers as she shot a 101, followed by Lynda Billups 103, Kim Slaughter 106, Denise Smith 109, and Tami Belew 115. These scores are not bad at all considering it rained on them nearly the entire round. Our second group finished two shots out of 3rd place with a fine 535 score. This group, nearly all of whom are Freshmen, consisted of Barbie Bradley, Mindy Andrae, Brandi Brown, and Brandi Fry. This shows excitement on our players part and it will lead to good things in the future. The tournament was held in San Saba on April 9th.

The Winters boys team traveled to Brady on April 11th for their district meet and also did an outstanding job in posting a 361 total to finish second and advance to regional. The course in Brady was in excellent shape but strong winds hampered play to some degree. The team was led by Tommy Selby who cap-ured District Medalist runner-up with a fine 82 score to trail the 1st place medalist by one stroke who shot an 81. Tommy was followed by fourth place medalist Brady Cowan who turned in a good score of 86, Billy Frank Belew 95, Stephen Patterson 98, and John Andrae 99, for a team score of 361. Tommy Selby would not only advance with the team but also as a medalist as a result of his runner-up finish.

Our second team was in the running for a regional berth through the first 9 holes but faltered a little at the end. They were led by the 5th medalist Chris Bahlman who shot an 88, followed by Kenyon Black 91, Dan Killough 98, Brandon Poe 99, and Gary Halfmann 102, for a team score of 376 and a 4th place district finish. Others competing as medalists were Mike Gray 97, Craig Slaughter 98, and Kelly Spill 99. Some of these 2nd team and medalist players could move up to the 1st unit with good performances in practice until we head for regional.

The Regional Tournament will be held April 26th & 27th at the Comanche Trails Course in Big Spring.

The Llano Estacado Winery

The Young Farmers and guests made an early start for their tour on Saturday morning of the Llano Estacado Winery south of Lubbock. Everyone wanted to be back in time for lunch at Seven Seas, courtesy of Funk Seeds Company.

The winery was born out of a casual experiment by two Texas Tech professors with grapevines shading a Lubbock patio, this winery is one of the largest in Texas.

After experimenting with many grape varieties it soon became clear that the classic European wine grapes, Vitis Vinifera, were ideally suited to the Lubbock area. The sandy, loose soil, good water, hot days, and cool nights contribute to excellent growing conditions for wine grapes. Land is abundant and relatively inexpensive, especially compared with California's Napa Valley.

The farmers around Lubbock have proven themselves as adapt at growing grapes as they are at growing cotton and grain. The majority of grapes used at Llano Estacado are grown on the High Plains of Texas in the Lubbock area.

The Llano (pronounced yah-no), or Staked Plains of Texas was named by the explorer Francisco Coronado over 400 years ago. His men drove stakes into the ground to mark their way across the broad flat plains trying to discover the legendary cities of Gold. Today in this land of cotton, cattle and oil, the plains of West Texas are staked with grape vines, and wine is the discovery of the 1980's.

The Llano Estacado Winery was founded in 1976 in Lubbock. It is the first modern Texas winery of the 20th century. In little more than a decade the winery has grown from a commercial experiment to a producer of award-winning wines. The winery first received national attention when its 1984 chardonnay won a Double Gold award in the 1986 San Francisco Fair.

It has grown from a moderately-equipped winery, producing a few hundred cases a wine. Llano wines are fermented in either refrigerated stainless steel tanks which cost over $2,000 each or oak barrels. The winery ages its wines in oak.

The wine is then piped into bottles in a clean, laboratory like, room that is glassed in so that the entire process can be viewed from the outside. The cleanliness and order here as well as all the other places we visited is impressive.

Our visit continued to a farm where the grapes are grown. The vines were receiving their first pruning of removing the larger growth. Later they would be pruned more closely. This process was just as clean and neat as all others and just as exact.

Following lunch, the afternoon was spent in more touring, some shopping and a little rest before a catered prime rib dinner at Ambiance, next door to the hotel. The dining room was elegant with soft material draped from the ceiling and lining the walls. All went well until we started back to the hotel.

Modesty usually prohibits me talking about myself but having freely discussed others escapades, it is necessary for me to tell about mine. If you ever think you are not getting enough attention just try walking through a glass wall - then it won't make any difference.

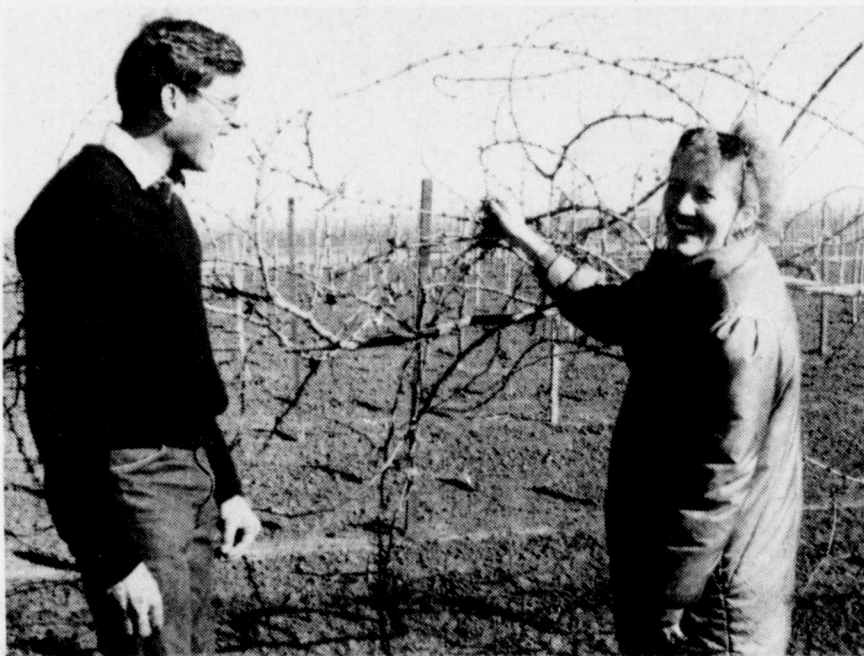

We had walked through the first glass door on the south end of the hotel and I was not expect-ting another door to be there; having been cautioned to watch my step, I looked down to make sure I wouldn't trip and ran into the second glass door. My first thought was of my glasses; the frames were bent, one lens had popped out and a big knot was already forming above my right eye, not to mention the pain.

A woman stuck her head out a side door and said, "It's happened before-if you need a witness-I'm Minnie from the housekeeping department."

Mary Margaret Leathers gathered up my glasses and led me blind and suffering to the hotel office to fill out a report.

You start in from the time you were born up until what you plan to do from here on. Was I going to see a doctor? Was she kidding; at night in a strange city. Luckily we had a nurse with us, Mitzie Deike, she said I would be all right but would have a black eye the next day. After two pain pills, I had a good nights rest. Dale Duggan mended my glasses the next morning with the help of June Hays' glass kit and I was fine except for looking like "after the fight."

Edna England, my dear room mate, said she was going to tell everyone that I had spent all morning in the winery. I'm glad I have a host of witnesses to tell what I did.

Senior Citizens News

Isn't the weather beautiful? It would really be nice if some folks would come enjoy it with us. I know some people that would like to have you come visit.

Our thanks to Richard Watkins for playing the organ for us Monday. Also our thanks go out to Helen Crenshaw who has started volunteering for us. She is really helping us out and we are very thankful to have her with us.

Judy Lanning will be here Wednesday and we are looking forward to it. She always brings a message worth remembering. Melba and Joe Emmert will be here Friday and we're ready for them. We really missed them last month.

We will be having a western day on April the 21st. We ask everyone to come join in the fun we will be having. We will be conducting a family council meeting on that day also at 5:00 p.m. We want all our family members to attend if possible. It will help to inform the family and the staff of needs of our home.

Removing odor from a refrigerator

There may be nothing more unappetizing than opening the refrigerator and being greeted by the odor of spoiled food, long after the food has been removed. This kind of odor problem can occur if you're away and the refrigerator goes off for several days. Even an empty refrigerator in a rental home, camper or cabin that wasn't thoroughly cleaned before being closed for several weeks may also have a strong odor. Removing the odor may not be easy, according to a home economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "Most people know to put an open box or dish of baking soda in the refrigerator to absorb the odor," says Marilyn Haggard. "But that will not be sufficient in all cases." "When the odor remains, crush several charcoal briquettes in a dish and leave in the refrigerator for several weeks. If you can still smell the spoiled odor, replace the briquettes with an open dish of vanilla extract. "If nothing helps, the specialist says the insulation inside the wall may have absorbed the odor and it will be impossible to remove."

In 1967, Carl Yazstremski won the batting title in the American League with a .301 batting average.

Bob Bullock reports on postal increase

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said last week's hike in postal rates will cost the state an additional $8.6 million during the current budget.

"When the cost of stamps goes up, housekeeping costs to the state go up just like they do for everyone else," Bullock said.

He said that more than $2.7 million in additional postage will be needed to cover state postage costs through the end of the fiscal year in August and about $5.9 million will be needed for additional costs next fiscal year.

The new postal rates will increase the state's first-class costs by 13.6 percent, first class pre-sort costs by 16.7 percent and third class costs by about 24 percent.

The overall cost to the state should average about 17 percent during the next 17 months.

"The cost of doing business for the state has just gone up and there won't be any relief from these postage increases," Bullock said.

He said that during fiscal 1987 the state spent about $35 million on postage.

The state's eleven largest agencies account for about 65 percent of the postage costs or about $23 million a year.

AHAF launches new program to help Alzheimer victims and caregivers

American Health Assistance Foundation (AHAF) has launched a new charitable program, "Alzheimer's Family Relief Program" designed to give emergency relief funds to Alzheimer victims and their caregivers.

"Much has been published about the problems of the Alzheimer patient, but the sometimes forgotten 'victim' of Alzheimer's disease is the primary caregivers whose problems, although different than the patient's, can be as great," said Eugene H. Michaels, president of AHAF who heads the nonprofit organization that has

Bob Bullock reports

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said 20 used car salesmen have been accused of violating the state's motor vehicle tax laws.

Bullock said his agency has filed misdemeanor complaints against 19 salesmen and one person has been indicted in Harris County on a felony charge.

"The public may not have a right to expect good mileage from a used car, but they have a right to expect that the deal is legal and aboveboard," he said. The charges are the result of a statewide audit of used car businesses. The audits also show the business may owe more than $1.25 million in motor vehicle sales tax.

Bullock said the audits resulted from complaints against used car salesmen. The violations included showing fictitious or inflated trade-in values on sales tax affidavits, failure to transfer titles to new owners and failure to remit the state sales taxes that have been collected.

A felony indictment for signing a false affidavit was handed down by 248th District Court grand jury in Houston.

Misdemeanor charges for failure to transfer titles were filed against salesmen in Amarillo, Arlington, Brownwood, Dallas, El Paso, Grand Prairie, Houston, Laredo, Lubbock, McAllen, Odessa and San Angelo.

Misdemeanor charges for failure to keep accurate records were filed against salesmen in Lubbock and El Paso.

Falsifying a motor vehicle tax affidavit is a third-degree felony punishable by two to five years in prison and a $1,000 fine. Failure to transfer title is a Class C misdemeanor punishable by up to $200 for each violation. Failure to keep accurate records is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $25 or more than $500 for each violation.

the check envelope and give it to the postman or drop it in the mail box. When the check is returned to the Treasury Department, Social Security will automatically be notified of the death.

Sometimes, the failure to report is intentional because someone is trying to defraud the Social Security Administration. However, Social Security is making an intense effort to prevent this from happening.

To assure that checks are stopped after a person has died, Social Security has been matching its records against those of other Federal agencies in an effort to identify those on the rolls who have died.

In addition, Social Security also matches its records against State death certificate records.

The quickest way to notify Social Security is to call a Social Security office or write "deceased" on the check envelope and give it to the postman.

People who are interested in learning more about reporting responsibilities can call the San Angelo Social Security Office for more information. The numbers is 949-4608, and the office is located at 2214 Sherwood Way.

VA Questions and Answers

Q. Why can't I get Veterans Mortgage Life Insurance to cover my VA-guaranteed home loan?

A. By law, Veterans Mortgage Life Insurance is available only to those veterans who have severe service-connected disabilities and who have been awarded a specially adapted home grant.

Q. What is the VA definition of a Vietnam Era Veteran and how does one qualify?

A. President Ford designated the Vietnam Era as August 5, 1964, through May 7, 1975, to determine service eligibility for certain VA benefits. In order to be considered a veteran of the Vietnam Era you must have had at least one day of active duty on or between those dates.

Q. Are veterans with a service-connected disability seeking Veterans Administration medical care exempt from the VA's Means Test?

A. All veterans with service-connected illnesses or disabilities are provided no-cost care regardless of income. Certain other veterans also are exempt from the Congressionally-instituted Means Test, including former prisoners of war, veterans exposed to radiation or herbicides, and veterans of the Spanish-American War, the Mexican Border period and World War I.

Garfield Heights, OH

A. Both angel food and chiffon cakes have to be inverted during cooling to allow cake structure to set. For a 13x9x2-inch pan, support pan with several wooden, snap-type clothespins or balance pan between other pans of similar height. Be sure that cake top doesn't touch counter or cooling rack during cooling time.

Q. I'd like to use buttermilk in my muffin recipe. How can I substitute buttermilk for milk?

E. K. Frontenac, MN

A. Use same measure of buttermilk instead of milk. An emergency substitution is 1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar plus enough whole milk to make 1 cup (let stand 5 minutes before using). Or use 1 cup whole milk plus 1 1/4 teaspoons cream of tartar. Or use 1 cup plain yogurt.

Q. Does a scrambled egg have more calories than a hard-boiled egg?

C. McF. Epsom, NH

A. If an egg is scrambled without added butter or oil, it will have the same number of calories as a hard-cooked egg.

"I'm very proud of these young men," stated Winters Coach Chuck Cathey. "We may not have had many participants, but they worked as hard as they possibly could. Like I told them, there time is coming if they continue to work hard and be dedicated. We have. All year that hard work and practice pay off, and if you ask any of them they will tell you that. I think they finally understand that no matter what your doing, whether it is participating in athletics, in the classroom, or at a job; you will perform better if your work habits are hard."

From A Goldfish Bowl

By Pastor Steve Byrne

The first parish that I served was a small, 110-year-old open country church in DeWitt County. In a little community called Arneckeville. It had an eventful, and most of the time, blessed heritage.

Pastor Meier was the pastor who held the longest tenure. Twenty-one years, 1925-1946. By the time I began my pastorate there, the majority of the congregation had either been baptized, confirmed, or married by Pastor Meier. Some, all three.

He was Herr Pastor, no doubt about it. Being a good church musician, he relieved the church organist from her position one day because she wouldn't play a song the way he wanted it played. Pastor Meier sat down at the old pump organ and played it. From that day on, Pastor Meier was the church organist, as well as pastor and choir director.

If the congregation was not singing with enough gusto, Pastor Meier would make them do the song again. Once they sang the same song five times before they went on to the next part of the service. It made the service longer. Soon people began to put their hearts and voices into the hymns the first time. That is Herr Pastor.

You couldn't do that these days. But back then, it was the rule rather than the exception. By the time I got to Arneckeville, they had a reputation for their hearty congregational singing.

There was another side to the Pastor Meier that I found out about from James. James was a young service man during World War II. The first time that he had been away from home for any length of time found him fighting a war in Europe.

Every week while he was in the service, James received a letter from Pastor Meier. As did each and every service man from the little congregation. This was not a copied letter. Rather Pastor Meier wrote between ten and twenty individual letters to the servicemen each week.

James said that sometime he felt like giving up. And it was looking forward to reading Pastor Meier's letter that kept him going sometimes.

Edwin Meier came to this country from Germany some time before World War I as a missionary pastor to the Texas Lutheran. During World War I he was serving a rural congregation in Texas where he was suspected of being a German sympathizer. Some probably suspected him of treason. Some of the local town's men who were members of the Ku Klux Klan evidently decided that it would be best to locate him in a town that was less prejudiced against German Americans. He moved to another congregation.

Jesus once said, "Do not judge, or you too will be judged." Could it have been that the judgment on these men was that they had deprived their little town of the contribution that Pastor Meier had to give them, as he eventually did give them to the young service men in Arneckeville? Who knows?

One thing for sure. Judgment, when mixed with hate, is a destructive force. That is what Good Friday was all about.

The rural congregation where Pastor Meier was serving at the beginning of World War I was the same congregation that I know serve. St. John's Lutheran Church, Winters, Texas.

Northrup King Forage and Grazing Sorghums

GRAZER SEED . . . $19.80/cwt

TRUDAN 8

True sudan palatability means your cattle will eat up Trudan 8. Fast starting Trudan 8 keeps on producing through long, hot summers and gives you quality grazing, hay or greenchop. It has low prussic acid potential. Its resistance to Biotype C greenbugs makes Trudan 8 a dependable forage producer. Well adapted where sudan grass is normally grown.

SORDAN 79

Here's an excellent choice for your emergency forage crop. NK's Sordan 79 hybrid sorghum sudangrass has inbred hybrid vigor for fast growth. And heavy soils pose no problems for Sordan 79. It has greenbug (Biotype C) and downy mildew resistance, plus drought tolerance. The high quality of Sordan 79 makes it a top choice for grazing, hay or greenchop. Well adapted where sorghum or sudangrass are normally grown.

MILLEX 24

Millex 24 is a Northrup King hybrid pearl millet annual summer forage specially developed for growing conditions in the deep South. It produces lush, leafy, tender forage that is extremely high in TDN. It can thrive on sandy soils in hot, dry or humid weather. Millex 24 is adapted to well-drained, sandy soils with a pH range of 5.8 to 6.5 and supplies quick, high tonnage and high quality forage for all classes of cattle. Surplus Millex 24 can make excellent silage or greenchop. Under hot, dry weather conditions, forage tonnage from Millex 24 has exceeded 6 tons of dry forage per acre.

HIDAN 36 SORGHUM-SUDANGRASS HYBRID

A popular, versatile sorghum-sudangrass hybrid:
* High in protein for greater milk and beef production
* Exceptional cold tolerance
* More seeds per pound for lower planting costs
* Fine stems and fast regrowth
* Low in prussic acid content
* For greenchop, hay or grazing

Raucous Rumors

Most of you are aware that the rumors that float around the coffee shop usually hold as much validity as those that float around the beauty shop. Well, there's one going around now that is true. I have recently married a wonderful man from Winters named Lanny England. I've decided that perhaps this is a time of my life when I should sit around and watch Wheel of Fortune and eat chocolates instead of stay in the cotton field from daylight till dark and talk to farmers on the phone all night.

So I have decided to resign from the position of County Entomologist for Runnels and Tom Green Counties effective April 30. It will be the best thing for Lanny and me. And I think this will be a very good change for the Pest Management program. You folks are ready for a new person with some fresh new ideas!

The wheels are rolling to have this position filled very soon and most likely the new person will have some good field experience. That's a good deal for you! I was fresh out of school and didn't know parathion from parquat when y'all first knew me!

So On We Go...

Now is the time!

Sign-up for the 1988 Runnels-Tom Green Pest Management Scouting program is now underway! If you would like to participate, please sign up before April 22, 1988, at one of the following locations:

- Veribest Ag Supply
- Wall Seed and Delinting
- Wingate Gin

Dryland cotton will be scouted once per week through the season and will cost $3.50 per acre. Irrigated cotton will be scouted twice per week for $6.25 per acre.

It is noteworthy that in 1987, the cost of the average insecticide application on dryland cotton was $4.58 and the average irrigated cotton insecticide application cost $6.84. Both are more than season-long scouting.

In order to help the new county entomologist get started, the pest management steering committee has decided to ask every one to help out by signing up on only two fields per producer. The new entomologist and the steering committee will look over the maps of acreage that has been signed up and will accept all that they can handle.

If for some reason the entomologist position is not filled before summer, the pest management program will not run in 1988.

I appreciate the men who serve on the Pest Management Steering Committee. They make some difficult decisions and have always been a tremendous help. These folks are: Scotty Belew, Rodrick Bredemeyer, Tommy Chapman, Michael Deike, Edward Kellermeier, Brent Mikeska, Nolan Niehues, Russ Weatherford and Herbert Woehl.

No Worries

I realize that limiting the scouting program may put a hardship on some of you to get your cotton scouted. We are very fortunate to have two private consultants who have moved into this area and would like to set up shop. The are: Mike Rucker, 653-3721; Rodney Sams, 653-1303.

This is our first experience with private consultants in this area and there's a few things you need to think about. First of all, these guys are professional entomologists, not just scouts; these guys are a step beyond that! They can make spraying recommendations, advise you on your farming activities, and much more!

I encourage you to give these folks a try this season and let them help you.

There are also several folks who worked for the pest management program in years past who will be scouting on their own this summer. This is another option for those of you are unable to sign up all your cotton with the scouting program.

Boatloads of Bugs

As most of you know, during the winter months, we sampled leaf litter material near cotton fields to determine the overwintered boll weevil population. This is important to cotton farmers because boll weevils are our key pest here and they are our worst threat insect-wise to the crop.

Our studies this winter have indicated that the number of overwintered boll weevils is higher this year than we've ever recorded it before. In fact, in 67 samples, we found 49 live boll weevils. This is more than twice as many as we've ever found before.

I realize that we're short on moisture so far but that can change in a hurry! I think it's important for cotton producers to consider boll weevils as they plan their crop this year. I highly recommend the uniform delayed planting date to reduce overwintered weevil populations. It would also be wise to begin thinking about how you plan to handle an in-season population of weevils should they occur at economic levels.

Runnels County Had a Shindig!

The Runnels County Ag Day was held March 8 and producers in the county voted for the uniform delayed planting date. Runnels County Cotton producers will begin planting cotton on May 25. That's a Wednesday!

Tom Green County Has a Shindig Soon!

Tom Green County Agent Rex Jones has announced that the Crops Committee is planning a cotton meeting on Thursday, April 14. The meeting will be held at the Wall Fire Hall. The program will be as follows: 6:30, "Refreshments"; 7:00, Stew Supper (guaranteed delicious!); Speakers: Jim Parker-Texas Tech Textile Research Center, Lubbock; Dr. Dan Krieg-Texas Tech Dept. of Soil and Plant Sciences, Lubbock; Roy Morris-Mobay Chemical Company, Lubbock; Dr. Charles Sticher-Area Extension Entomologist, Ft. Stockton; Dr. Tom Fuchs-Area Extension Entomologist, San Angelo; Mandie England-Area Extension Entomologist, Ballinger; John Schwartz-Chairman of the Tom Green Crops Committee, San Angelo.

Our thanks to the Tom Green County gins and Mobay Chemical Company for sponsoring the meal!

You won't want to miss this meeting! There will be lots of good information for you and the vote for the uniform delayed planting date for Tom Green County will be held at the meeting. See you there!

The Proud, The Few, The Bug Scouts

Yep, we're looking for a few, good workers to scout cotton this summer in the Runnels-Tom Green Pest Management Program. We are currently taking applications and will until April 15.

We need individuals who would like to learn about cotton insect pests and can work at least until the end of August, preferably into September. Scouts must be old enough to drive, have access to a vehicle and be willing to work outside. If you or someone you know is interested in scouting for summer employment, please contact Mandie England, County Entomologist, Runnels County Courthouse-Third Floor, Ballinger, Tx., 365-5212.

C-Ya!

I have thoroughly enjoyed serving as County Entomologist in Runnels and Tom Green Counties for the last nine years. You folks have been great to me, given me many "second chances", and have taught me TONS about people, life and bugs. These years will be favorites in my memory!

I wish you all a slim crop of critters and a bumper crop of cotton in 1988!

Pest management program underway

The Runnels-Tom Green Pest Management program is currently underway. Cotton producers wishing to participate in the scouting program may sign up through Friday, April 22.

Persons wishing to have their cotton fields scouted for insects may contact one of the following steering committee members: Russ Weatherford at Veribest Ag, Tommy Chapman at Wall Seed and Delinting or Brent Mikeska at Wingate Gin.

Other steering committee members are Scotty Belew, Rodrick Bredemeyer, Michael Deike, Edward Kellermeier, Nolan Niehues and Herbert Woehl.

After all fields are signed up, the steering committee will meet and review field locations and acreage. If the total acreage signed up exceeds steering committee guidelines, the committee may elect not to accept all fields signed up into the program.

Costs for dryland cotton will be $3.50 per acre for once per week scouting through the season. Irrigated cotton scouting fees will be $6.75 per acre for twice-weekly scouting. Fees cover expenses of scout's wages and mileage.

Scouting will begin when the cotton is up and will continue until the end of August.

Further information may be obtained from a steering committee member or from Mandie England at 365-5212.

Goat Roping slated

Range management critical after wildfires

Ranchers that have seen much of their rangeland engulfed by wildfires in recent weeks need to give particular attention to certain range management practices in the days ahead.

Wildfires have run rampant over an estimated 400,000 acres of western Texas, destroying the buildings, pens, equipment and hundreds of animals.

With those losses comes the rebuilding of fences and related properties, and special attention to range management, points out Dr. Jake Landers, a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who is located at San Angelo.

"The most critical thing is not to put livestock on the burned area too early," says Landers. "The worst damage from a fire comes from too heavy grazing too early."

"How fast burned ranges recover will depend greatly on weather conditions," he notes. "And that will dictate how soon they can be restocked. Grass must be allowed to recover, though, and a rule of thumb to follow in this regard is 60 to 90 days. However, in a dry year, recovery will take much longer."

Landers points out that range grasses are adapted to fire and will resprout when moisture and temperatures are adequate.

In addition to paying particular attention to grass regrowth, the specialist recommends balancing animal numbers with the amount of pasture burned. If half the pasture is burned, restock when the burned portion has recovered, using only the number of animals that the burned portion can handle. This would be about half the usual amount stocked on the particular pasture.

Another option, says Landers, is to fence off the burned portion and to treat the burned and unburned pastures separately.

The specialist also advises ranchers to follow through with a good brush control program. That means controlling prickly pear and tasajillo with picloram, since these normally resprout after a range fire.

"Apply a small amount of picloram in April or May to wipe out prickly pear and tasajillo," recommends Landers. "In studies involving prescribed burns in February, an aerial application of picloram in late April at 1/8 to 1/4 pound per acre gave a 98 percent control of these two brush species."

Farmers of 1970s eligible for money back

Forget here and now, this a matter of here and then. If you were a farmer in the 1970s, you're entitled to a refund for some of your fuel expenses. But you have to act before June 30, reports Allen Turner, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The refund is a result of a settlement reached by the Department of Energy with oil companies that allegedly overcharged for crude oil during a period regulated by price ceilings.

Consequently, farmers can get back about $80 or more for every 100,000 gallons of fuel used between August 19, 1973 and January 27, 1981, says the Agent. That equates to a little over $14 for every 100 acres of cropland in production during the seven-and-a-half year period, according to economists with the Extension Service.

Mr. Turner notes that this refund should not be confused with the income tax credit for federal excise taxes on fuel.

The Department of Energy will base refunds on actual gallons purchased, estimated gallons used or a USDA estimate of 23.8 gallons per acre of cropland per year. An explanation of filing procedures for the refund and a simple two-page filing form can be obtained from Allen Turner at the County Extension Office.

Ask Betty Crocker

Q. Which fat is best for preparing pans for baking?

R. C. Parma, OH

A. A solid shortening gives best results. Cakes may stick when oils, spray-on preparations, butter or margarine are used. Also butter and margarine burn or scorch more easily.

Tip of the Week: Always preheat oven for ten minutes before baking cakes, cookies, breads, muffins, biscuits and other baked treats.

Tickets are $5 each and may be mail ordered now and will go on sale in the Stock Show Office Walk-In on May 2, 1988.

For further information contact the Stock Show Association, 2017 West Beauregard or call 942-1900.

GEORGE WARNER GRAIN SORGHUMS STANDMASTER

A variety that has developed on our farms for those who want good yields, outstanding standability and one that will stand a shortage of water, if necessary. The short stiff stalk helps it wait for the combine. Standmaster blooms about five days earlier than Standking Y-G and matures in 105-110 days depending on the environment. This has been a big dependable winner in the Rolling Plains and will do well in many areas of Texas.

Blue Bonnet Hill Winery to compete in largest wine show

Over 70,000 fairgoers will be able to enjoy their first "Taste of Texas Wines" at "Vin Italy," the largest wine show in the world, between April 8-13. Representatives of five Texas wineries, the Texas Department of Agriculture, and Texas Tech University will participate in the annual show in Verona, Italy.

Llano Estacado Winery and Pheasant Ridge Winery, both of Lubbock; Messina-Hoff of Bryan; Fall Creek Vineyards of Tow; and Bluebonnet Hill Winery of Ballinger will represent Texas wines at the United States exhibit at "Vin Italy." The Texas group will share the U.S. booth space with wine producers from California, New Mexico, Washington and Pennsylvania.

According to Danny Presnal, marketing specialist with TDA, premium Texas wines can compete with the best-quality wines anywhere in the world. "That's what we want to show people at 'Vin-Italy,'" Presnal said.

Presnal will help represent the Texas wine industry at the show, along with staff members of the Texas Wine Marketing Research Institute at Texas Tech. The U.S. exhibit is a joint effort of the Foreign Agricultural Services, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Texas Tech, TDA, and the participating Texas wineries.

Texas boasts 22 commercial wineries, as compared to 13 facilities in 1983, and but one commercial winery in 1975. Commercial wine production in Texas this year is estimated at one million gallons, with a retail value of $30 million and a total economic impact on the state of over $100 million.

"Grapes continue to be one of the most important alternative crops for Texas agriculture, and wine-making is pumping much-needed cash money to our state's farm economy," said Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower. "New production is developing every year, but just as important is the superb quality of these Texas wines. Texas wines are just now coming of age, and I predict they will be a big hit at 'Vin Italy.'"

Third grader writes poems

The following poems were written by Leslie McDonald, a third grader at Winters Elementary School.

My Teacher

My teacher has beautiful rosy red cheeks. She also has rosy red lips. When I look at her I think of a princess dancing in the night. My teacher is as pretty as the voice of a bluebird singing in the morning sunlight. My teacher is as sweet as honey. My teacher's voice is a light as a feather and as soft as a wool blanket. My teacher is not the proud type that goes around with her nose in the air. Of course she is proud, but not of her french poodle that just got a perm. She is proud of me, my class, her children, her husband, but most of all herself....

Our World

Our seven continents which are North America, South America, Anartica, Asia, Europe, Africa, and Australia are great continents that have room for everyone on earth. The are the only land on earth unless you count Giligan's Island or the Oceana's floor....

I'm Number One Cause I Beat A Swan

When I go running on the rocky banks, I run from a swan. As I run from the swan, I sometimes stop to hop. I hop here and I hop there. When I hop I am careful not to stop and go plip in the cold misty water. When I reach the shore, I want everyone to know so I yell - I'm Number One Cause I Beat A Swan!

Consumer concern about food additives

With terms like "maltodextrin," "monocalcium phosphate" and "sodium bisulfite," food labels can read like a chemistry test. "Although consumers have cultivated a taste for an all sorts of convenience foods that require additives, they also wonder about the long-term health effects of the chemicals listed on the labels," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service. Are shoppers' concerns well-founded? "Food additives are hardly new," she explains. "They've been with us for thousands of years, probably starting with the discovery that salted meat lasted longer." The man-made chemicals added to foods are closely scrutinized and strictly regulated by the Food and Drug Administration. Their use is permitted in foods only at levels that ensure a large margin of safety between levels of human exposure and the highest level at which no harm of any sort is evident in test animals, the nutritionist says.
