Murder, rape indictments returned

The Runnels County's District Court Grand Jury, in session Friday, issued true bills in two separate murder cases as well as 12 other indictments for charges ranging from sexual assault on a child, aggravated rape, forgery, injury to a child, and felony driving while intoxicated.

Billy Joe Taylor, 34, of Oklahoma City, was indicted on charges of murder in connection with the death of a 48-year-old Coleman woman whose body was found March 29, about six miles northwest of Ballinger.

Taylor was apprehended by officers in Barstow, California on April 7. He remains jailed in that state in lieu of bond while local officials are following necessary steps to extradite Taylor.

According to information contained in the indictment against Taylor, it alleges that Taylor "did intentionally and knowingly cause the death of Dortha Anderson by a manner and means unknown." The information stated that the suspect had lived with, and gone to school with the deceased and that he had driven her car to Oklahoma.

The San Antonio Medical Examiner's office said that the woman had been dead three to six weeks and that a cause of death was not determined, however there were indications that marks on the body were consistent with evidence found at the scene where the body was found.

A Rowena man was also named in a murder indictment. Frank Gaitan was true-billed on charges of murder stemming from the shooting death of Jose Manuel Flores, also of Rowena.

Abel Martinez Ramon, of Jarrell, Texas was named in two indictments stemming from his arrest on charges of suspicion of DWI. Ramon was indicted on charges of retaliation on a public servant and aggravated assault on a peace officer.

According to the indictment, Texas Highway Patrol Trooper Tom Barkley stopped Ramon on U. S. 67 in Miles. When the trooper attempted to place the suspect under arrest, Barkley was kicked by the suspect.

The second indictment, for retaliation on a public servant stemmed from a threat to shoot the trooper in the head. The threat was allegedly made while Barkley was transporting

Rex Cody McNeil, of Winters, was indicted on charges of aggravated sexual assault on a child, a female under 14 years of age. Bond for McNeil, after the indictment was set at $25,000.

Thomas McNew, of Rowena, was indicted on charges of injury to a child "causing bodily injury by striking the buttocks of a child under 14 years of age." McNew was released on a $2,500 personal recognizance bond.

Two Abilene residents were named in the same indictment alleging aggravated sexual assault.

Rape charges were filed against Robert Denny Phillips, 34, and his wife Maria Olguin Phillips, 37, in connection with the April 15 assault on an 18-year-old woman near the Maverick community in far western Runnels County.

Bonds were set at $25,000 each for the pair.

Ermon Wayne Fenwick, of Winters, was named in an indictment alleging that he "intentionally and knowingly threatened Johnathan Ray Fisher with bodily harm by using a firearm." The after-indictment bond for Fenwick was set at $10,000.

The incident leading to the charges, and subsequent indictment, against Fenwick stemmed from a disturbance that occurred on the parking lot of a Winters convenience store in March.

Bond of $10,000 was set for William Arthur Corpe following his indictment on charges of theft of livestock. He is accused of taking two cows from Bub Caffey.

Guadalupe Luna Jr., of Eola, was indicted on charges of burglary of a building in connection with the burglary of Jack King's liquor store near Rowena.

Manuel Fabela was named in an indictment alleging possession of a controlled substance, thought to be cocaine.

Harvey Sparks Jr., of Winters was indicted on felony DWI charges filed by Winters Police officers. Runnels County officials said that Sparks was to be returned to Runnels County from Kansas this week.

Mario Albert Esquivel, of Winters was also named in a felony DWI indictment by the grand jury.

The grand jury also true-billed Eva Retana, of Ballinger, on charges of forgery by passing. The charges involve the alleged forgery of an endorsement on a payroll check.

Blizzard Band wins Excellent Ratings

The Winters High School Blizzard Band participated Wednesday, April 20, in the University Interscholastic League Concert and Sightreading Contest. The band received a Division Two rating in both areas of competition. This rating is considered an "Excellent" level of performance from a Division One, Two, Three decision from the three judges, and in Sightreading competition, the judges decision was garnered from a Division Two rating given by each judge.

WHS Band Director Bailey McAnulty stated, "The contest results this year were both a Division rating higher than last year. It shows the band has the potential for better musical growth with diligent preparation toward future competitions." McAnulty concluded, "this 87-88 Blizzard Band is still a young group with over half of our personnel being Freshmen and Sophomores. If these students will accept the challenges and inspire themselves and future band students to higher levels of achievement, the Blizzard Band will regain the quality which the band has known in the past."

VAMC offers
Respite Care

The Veterans Administration Medical Center, Big Spring, Texas, now offers a Respite Care Program for veterans, according to Conrad Alexander, Medical Center Director. This program is established to provide a period of rest for families and caregivers who have been caring for chronically ill, terminally ill, or disabled veterans at home. To participate in this program, the veteran must have received treatment at the Big Spring VAMC within the last year, need only basic nursing care, be medically stable, and have been cared for at home for at least 30 consecutive days.

To offer this service to the largest number of veterans, respite care visits are limited to 7-14 days at a time. The total number of days number of days per year veterans may utilize this service is 28 days. Applications will be made to a screening committee which will negotiate with the caregiver to establish appropriate admission and discharge dates. Admission and discharge will be planned to occur Monday through Friday, according to Alexander.

Initially, there will be two beds reserved for the program. Additional beds will be considered as the program progresses. The caregiver will be responsible for arranging the veteran's transportation to and from the medical center but will not be responsible for any of the veteran's care during the period of respite stay. As it is a period of rest for the caregiver, limited visitation is encouraged during respite stay.

For further information, contact Francis Montague, RN, Nursing Home Care Unit Supervisor, at (915) 263-7362 extension 257, or John Webb, Chief of Social Work Service, at (915) 263-7361 extension 340.

Air Force looking for good nurses

Nurses who care about their patients and have a need to be appreciated should check with the Air Force. The Air Force is seeking qualified nurses now. There are special opportunities for medical/surgical nurses, obstetrical nurses, pediatric nurse practitioners, mental health nurses and nurse anesthetists.

Nurses who meet Air Force standards will have the opportunity to work some of the most up-to-date hospitals in the world. These medical facilities range in size from 25 to 100 beds and they have the latest technologies. Wilford Hall Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas, is the largest and is the only medical facility in the military which has bone marrow transplant capability.

As well as working in their specialties, nurses are a part of a sophisticated worldwide air- evacuation system. They prepare patients to travel to Air Force medical facilities to receive the special services they need.

Air Force nursing offers early opportunity for leadership and responsibility, and the chance to work in challenging positions. In addition nurses enjoy a variety of entitlements. These include medical and dental care, 30 days of vacation with

Highway Department to recall worn-out license plates

Some vehicle owners will see a new message on their registration renewal forms beginning in May: "New Plates Required." The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will start a program of recalling plates more than eight years old to comply with a state law that calls for issuance of "safety plates."

Highway Department testing personnel have found that "the reflective value of license plate sheeting begins to deteriorate dramatically after eight years," said Dian Neill, head of the department's Motor Vehicle Division. The dull plates are difficult to see in the dark.

RRC's Nugent says 1987 rail accident total for Texas is lowest this decade

Texas railroads logged their lowest accident total of this decade in 1987, according to Railroad Commission chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent, who said the 213 accidents recorded last year represents a 20 percent drop from the 265 mishaps on state rails in 1986.

"Our state rail safety program is working," Nugent said. "The accident total has gone down each year since our rail safety program got off the ground. "Our 10 rail safety inspectors increase the number of inspection personnel in the state by almost 40 percent," he continued. "We hire seasoned people, give them the best training available, and you see the results."

Rail Nugent said the state's rail safety picture isn't all rosy. The Commission chairman said hazardous materials traffic on Texas rails is increasing as is the number of accidents involving those materials. He noted the Commission has but one hazardous materials inspector in training and one on the job due to funding limitations.

"The people of Texas could be in danger at any moment, as hundreds of thousands of carloads of hazardous chemicals roll through the state each year," Nugent said. The RRC chairman said statistics compiled at the Commission show that over the five year period from 1983 through 1987, the number of train accidents in Texas declined by 55 percent. But over the next 12 months, the department expects to issue 1.4 million replacement plates for all light trucks and passenger cars with tags originally issued from 1975 through 1980. Next year, recalls for 1981 plates will go out in the continuing program, conducted through county tax assessor-collector offices.

Vehicle owners who volunteer to trade their 5-to-8-year-old plates may still do so free. "The state collects fees sufficient to replace license plates every five years, so you're just getting your money's worth if you trade them in on time," said VaRue McWilliams, tax assessor-collector for Runnels County.

Children with diabetes can go to camp

Every summer, over 300 young people between the ages of six and eighteen attend a very exclusive camp near Gainesville. The entrance requirements are strict: the child must have diabetes.

Too often, regular summer camps turn away a child with diabetes because of their special diet and medical needs. But Camp Sweeney, organized over 35 years ago, is a place for the diabetic to learn while having fun. All of the activities of a regular summer camp are offered: horseback riding, swimming, boating, fishing, arts and crafts, riflery and many more sports, plus movies, dances and carnivals in the evenings. Sandwiched between the fun things are interesting sessions on medical and dietary information to help the campers take care of themselves and learn to live productive lives with their affliction under control.

Diets are formulated according to each individual's needs, giving the diabetic valuable examples of how to exchange foods to include an occasional "treat" so he won't feel left out around his friends at home.

Located on rolling wooded acreage 10 miles northeast of Gainesville, the site is bordered on the south by a 34-acre lake. Three, three-week sessions are held every summer, with the opening session scheduled for June 5. Others begin on June 26 and July 17. A medical staff and experienced counselors are always present and keep a close eye on the campers in a one-to-four ratio, many of them former campers themselves.

The camp is a United Way agency, and scholarships are available for any child whose family is unable to pay the full session's fee. No child is turned away because of race, religion, or national origin.

Established in 1950, Camp Sweeney was the first educational and recreational training center in the South for children with diabetes mellitus. Thousands of youngsters are living a self-sufficient, healthy life due to their training at Camp Sweeney.

For additional information and application forms, write to Camp Sweeney; Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Inc.; P.O. Box 918; Gainesville, Texas 76240 or call 817-665-9502.

Nursing Home Week celebrates life

Did you know that 87,000 Texans live in nursing homes, and almost that many Texans work and volunteer in nursing homes? Many of these delightful and caring people are here in our community and deserve special recognition during National Nursing Home Week, May 8-14.

Nursing Home Week is a time to remember our community pioneers who have wonderful adventures and tales to share, but who are no longer able to live in their own homes among us. It is also a time to say "thank you" to the hundreds of caring people who share in bringing dignity, love and joy to those living in nursing homes.

This year's theme for the celebration is "Respect: The Heart of Caring" and it captures the relationship every community needs with its elderly—not out of duty, but out of a joyous appreciation of the richness of life.

May 8 is Mother's Day and almost 70 percent of those in nursing homes are women. Some older women in nursing homes have outlived their families, or their children and grandchildren now live far away. In honor of Mother's Day and Nursing Home Week, many nursing homes will be hosting special receptions and open houses for the community. This is also a good time to drop by a nursing home and offer to help decorate a bulletin board, or read a poem, or help someone write a letter. And let's remember to thank the nurses and others who are dedicated to carrying for our pioneers.

Big Bird: The first fossil of what scientists believe to be the biggest seabird ever discovered has been unearthed on the Atlantic coast. According to National Wildlife magazine, the fossil was encased in a 30 million year old block of stone excavated in Charleston, South Carolina. Early speculation is that this enormous bird is a distant relative of today's pelican. Scientists believe the bird weighed 90 pounds with a wingspan of almost 18 feet.

Troubled teenager seeks new life through martial arts

A 13-year-old New England boy was heading down the wrong path of life. Steve was into drugs, constantly in trouble and doing poorly in school. After his second arrest for breaking and entering, he enrolled in the martial arts. His life began to turn around. His self confidence and self respect increased and his grades began improving. His counselor said, "His martial art involvement has been the outlet and source of discipline that Steve needed to redirect his life."

Motorcycle Safety and Awareness Week

The period of May 1 through May 7 has been proclaimed as Motorcycle Safety and Awareness Week. The Texas Department of Public Safety is participating in Motorcycle Safety and Awareness Week, which is aimed at increasing motorcyclist safety.

Colonel Leo Gossett, director of the Department of Public Safety, said that in 1987, there was a tremendous decrease in the number of Texas motorcycle fatalities. It was a 29 percent drop, from 403 in 1986 to 286 in the next year. He stated that the Department of Public Safety will continue to support and participate in all traffic safety related programs that help continue the downward trend in Texas accident fatalities and injuries.

Colonel Gossett said that this was the lowest number of deaths of motorcyclists since the repeal of the mandatory helmet law on August 29, 1977. The law was revised to permit both motorcycle operators and passengers of age 18 and above to ride without wearing protective headgear.

Although Texas law requires motorcyclists under the age of 18 to wear helmets, 62 percent of the motorcyclists under 18 who were killed in 1987 traffic crashes were not wearing helmets. Studies have shown that laws requiring helmet use by a limited segment of motorcyclists result in low usage even by those required by law to wear protective helmets.

"The decline in deaths and injuries is heartening," Gossett pointed out. "The many officials involved with the Motorcycle Safety and Awareness Week programs and providing lifesaving knowledge and skill through their work."

"Many of the present motorcycle accident-related problems result from a large number of motorcycles being much smaller and more difficult to see in traffic situations," Gossett said. "Motorists should always carefully watch for motorcyclists. The riders have equal rights and are entitled to a full traffic lane on the roads."

Bob Bullock reports

State Comptroller Bob Bullock wants to make sure that Texas consumers don't pay too much tax on items they buy with discount coupons.

Confusion can arise because items bought with coupons issued directly by the stores are taxed differently than items bought with manufacturer coupons, according to Bullock. "Coupons save money for consumers, but they can create havoc for grocery stores when collecting tax on the discounted items," Bullock said.

When a customer buys an item with a manufacturer's

Refinishing furniture

For do-it-yourselfers, hours spent refinishing furniture can result in some beautiful furniture—and headaches, dizziness or nausea. According to Dr. Peggy Owens, a housing specialist, liquid paint and varnish removers are the culprits. She says that although do-it-yourselfers typically heed label warnings to use strippers in a well-ventilated area, they often don't realize how much ventilation is required. When you must work inside, you'll need 10-15 exchanges of indoor air with outdoor air every hour," explains the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist. Owens says that rate of air exchange can be obtained with a window exhaust fan, but not an air conditioner. "Air conditioners don't provide adequate ventilation for paint remover fumes because they recirculate air rather than exhausting it."

substantial savings into consumer's pockets.

"We've contacted industry members, answered their questions, and helped clarify the rules for them. We'll do what it takes to solve the problem," Bullock said.

Word of Mouth

With so many toothbrushes on the market, how do I know which one is right for me? And how often should I replace my toothbrush?

Dentists and dental hygienists apply general guidelines for choosing a toothbrush.

Choose a toothbrush with soft, end-rounded bristles since they are less likely to damage gums. The head of the brush should be small enough to reach every tooth, especially those in the back of your mouth. Children need a smaller head size than adults. The Oral-B ULTRA, a new toothbrush designed specifically for effective cleaning and plaque removal, incorporates highly uniform end-rounded bristles and is available in four head sizes.

When the bristles on your brush become bent or frayed, the brush is worn out and can no longer provide effective cleaning. The American Dental Association recommends that you replace your toothbrush every three to four months.

Beef checkoff goes for the gold

Like a fleet Olympic runner, the beef checkoff came out of the blocks full steam on Oct. 1, 1986. That was the date the nation's producers began contributing $1 per head for research, promotion and education about beef.

Now the beef checkoff is entering the stretch run of its 22-month trial period as cattlemen ready for the May 10 vote on whether to approve it permanently.

However, unlike that Olympian whose energy is spent as the finish line comes in sight, the beef checkoff's momentum becomes stronger as the referendum date comes closer. Ongoing programs on national, state and local levels continue to encourage increased beef consumption. All these programs are coming together to improve the profit potential of cattle production.

"Studies reveal that the number of Americans who believe beef fits into their lifestyle increased from 59 percent in January to 64 percent in June," said Sarah Buxkemper of Ballinger, Texas, chairman of the Runnels County Steering Committee. "Those who believe beef is an important part of a well-balanced diet increased from 51 percent to 56 percent. These increases show that every dollar checked off by cattlemen in this program is an investment that pays dividends."

In the first year of the program, checkoff dollars collected nationwide totaled about $73 million. About $5 million of this amount came from beef and cattle importers. In Texas, checkoff dollars totaled $12.6 million.

"The checkoff is structured so that all producers invest an equal amount for each animal sold in the program," said Buxkemper. "Importers and all producers participate. The law sets a 5 percent cap on use of checkoff funds for administration so dollars go to their intended purposes for promotion, research and information. And the state council decides how to invest 50 cents of each dollar. This allows our Texas Beef Industry Council to respond to those needs within our state. The remaining 50 cents goes to the Beef Board for national programs."

Major programs on both national and state levels resulting from checkoff dollars include: —Announcement of a working relationship to promote "heart-healthy" diets between the American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate and the Texas Beef Industry Council.

—Cooperating with health professionals to produce brochures on nutrition of red meat (distributed to 4.5 million supermarket shoppers), cholesterol and heart disease, and the truth about common misconceptions of beef.

—Getting the word out to the media that beef is back. More than 4,700 positive articles reaching approximately 371 million consumers have recently run in major prestigious publications.

—Providing secondary and elementary school teachers with lesson plans, films, software and multi-media packages for the classroom. Through these tools, educators can instruct millions of students on beef's proper role in the diet.

—Airing more than 500 television spots and 1,920 radio spots about beef. For instance, during the Winter Olympics coverage on ABC, beef checkoff dollars sponsored 19 commercials, one Olympic Diary, and one Olympic Moment. Overall, the beef ads have reached 94 million adults between the ages of 25 to 54.

—Cooperating with Paul Harvey, America's best known radio personality, to promote beef two times per week. His spots run from December 1987 to June 1988.

—Using point of purchase (POP) materials effectively. A recent study of 18,000 supermarkets showed industry POP materials increased fresh beef sales from 3 to 5 percent in a four-week period. In other words, every checkoff dollar invested for POP returned $62 in projected additional beef sales.

—Distributing beef promotion placemats that provide nutrition information. More than 500,000 have been used by Texas restaurants and 200,000 by Texas hospitals.

"It's just good business for beef producers to join together through the checkoff to sell our product," Jimmy Owen, chairman of the Texas Beef Industry Council board of directors, said. "This joining together is paying off. Hundreds of projects are currently being funded through checkoff dollars. In addition to our TV spots and magazine ads, checkoff dollars support projects in research, education, foodservice, and retail, as well as provide nutritional information to consumers, food editors, dietitians, and doctors."

Anyone who has owned or acquired one head of cattle between Oct. 1, 1986, and March 31, 1988, is eligible to vote May 10. One vote per business entity is allowed. For purposes of the referendum, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has defined a business entity as any individual or group of individuals who has a common ownership in cattle, such as a partnership, corporation or family.

Registration and voting will take place May 10 at county extension service offices around the nation. You may vote in your county of residence unless your cattle are corporately owned. In Winters, applications for absentee ballots may be obtained at Alderman-Cave. In Ballinger, absentee ballots may be obtained at Tom Sykes Realty, 1st National Bank, or Robinsons Ag Mart.

Absentee ballots are also available from Dr. Milo Shult, Associate Director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, 105 System Bldg., Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-9990.

Oil and gas permits issued increased in March

A total of 1,441 drilling permits were issued by the Railroad Commission in March, according to RRC Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent. In February, the total was 1,332.

The March total included 968 permits to drill new oil and gas tests, 62 to deepen existing holes, 225 to plugback existing holes, and seven for other wells. Operators were also issued 179 amended drilling permits.

Permits issued for new oil and gas holes in March included 52 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 35 in the Refugio area (District 2), 88 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 80 in deep South Texas (District 4), 17 in East Central Texas (District 5), 49 in East Texas (District 6), 144 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 64 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 152 in the Midland area (District 8), 94 in the Lubbock area (District 8A), 87 in North Texas (District 9), and 45 in the Panhandle (District 10).

In the first three months of 1988, the Commission has issued 4,023 drilling permits, an 11 percent increase from the 3,601 issued during the same period of 1987.

The 1,441 permits issued in March included 669 oil permits, 198 gas permits, 472 oil and gas permits, 70 injection permits, seven disposal permits, and 25 other permits.

Q. What's the best way to measure cream cheese?

V. B. Las Vegas, NV

A. Measure cream cheese by weight. Use a small kitchen scale. It isn't accurate to spoon into a glass measuring cup to the desired ounce level.

Q. I'm on a low cholesterol diet. Will making soup stock from beef bones contribute cholesterol to my diet?

W. K. Chicago, IL

A. Yes, but only in small amounts generally within guidelines of low cholesterol diets. The beef bones, however, must be well trimmed of fat and meat, since meat is marbled with fat.

From A Goldfish Bowl

By Pastor Steve Byrne

I just got back from our Synod Assembly that was held in Dallas last weekend. The meetings were all held in the Sheraton Park Central Hotel on LBJ Freeway and Coit Road in North Dallas. That is where I stayed.

I timed my arrival so that when I got to Dallas on Thursday I was arriving during the "non-rush-hour," if such a thing exists. The freeways are efficient in Dallas and I didn't have much of a problem getting to my destination. My experience this past weekend tells me that Dallas is the pinnacle of efficiency.

Everybody drives small-size cars. High powered ones where you can whip in and out of traffic. I wanted to visit a friend who owns the pipe shop at LBJ and Preston, so I pulled into the shopping center parking lot in my "new-to-me" pick-up. The parking lot was so efficient that there was not a parking space to be had in which my chosen form of transportation didn't stick out into the fire lane.

It had been a long time since I had been in the city for any length of time. I found myself comparing my lifestyle to that of folks in the city. And comparing things, too. When I got to the hotel, I got on an escalator. The little boy in me imagined, as I rode up the escalator, what I would think if I had never seen one. "A flight of stairs that you don't even have to walk up. Just stand there and the stairs walk for you! THAT is efficiency!"

But that wasn't the height of efficiency. I found that in my room. When I walked into the bathroom to take care of some urgent business. As I made myself reasonably comfortable, with newspaper in front of me, I looked up and

I saw it Amazing! Just above the holder full of the necessary paper that most bathrooms have was something that I have never seen in a bathroom in Winters that I remember. A telephone!

I tried my best to think of a life-style that was so harried and so in need of efficiency that I couldn't afford a few moments without having to conduct other business at the same time. I just can't. The day I can imagine that is probably the day that Dr. Lee or Dr. Thorpe is going to have an ulcer patient on his hands.

THE PREACHER in Ecclesiastes 3 gives us some wisdom for our harried lives. "There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven." Then he goes on to hold the different activities in juxtaposition to one another. He seems to be saying that there is a time for doing most things, but that life must have balance. There are some things that weren't meant to be done all at the same time, or else our lives get unbalanced. Having had an ulcer at one time, I know what he is talking about. And I also know that we suffer spiritually AND physically when we pay no heed to this warning of the need to retain balance in our lives.

In the rural areas, we may not have a lot of phones in the toilet, but our lives can still become unbalanced and get off-center. Some times it helps just to step back and take a good look to see if our lives honor THE PREACHER'S wisdom.

There is a time. And there is a season. For everything and every activity. Under heaven. See you in Church Sunday.

Acne medications stain home textiles

Common acne medications will do more than clear up blemishes; they'll also remove color from clothes and other textiles. "Acne preparations containing benzoyl peroxide will remove color from fabrics, bedspreads, towels, sweaters or carpets, says Dr. Ann Beard, a clothing and textiles specialist. "It causes spots and discoloration on all textiles in time, with color change accelerated by moisture and heat," says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist. Spot removal and dry cleaning will not remove discoloration from benzoyl peroxide on clothing, although some fabrics can be dyed a darker color to cover it up. Beard explains. "Teenagers should know that acne treatments have the potential for permanently spotting their clothes, so they can try to avoid contact between the medication and the fabrics," remarks the specialist.

Controlling the rising cost of keeping cool

In most areas of Texas, it costs more to cool a house in summer than to heat it in winter.

Many Texas homeowners have responded to this situation by turning up the thermostat on the air-conditioner a few degrees while budgeting more income for summer utility bills. Some people also have learned to turn off the air-conditioner as often as possible—certainly during the day if the home is unoccupied—and to maximize the effect of the air-conditioner by closing off rooms and using fans to help circulate the conditioned air.

"These are steps in the right direction," says Nancy Sawtelle of the Texas Energy Extension Service, "but there are many other ways to avoid high summer energy bills. Examine your home and its surrounding environment to work out a whole-house cooling strategy that takes advantage of the natural climate. For instance, let the cooling breezes in during moderate seasons by opening your windows. Similarly, keep the hot summer sun out by shading windows."

Texas Energy Extension Service has a free booklet, entitled, "It's a Breeze," that can identify the most appropriate whole-house cooling strategy for an individual home. The booklet introduces the principles of climate behavior in Texas—from the arid west to the severe north central and the humid east and south.

"It's a Breeze" Explains how early Texas settlers, as well as the Native Americans before them, kept cool despite the hot climate. It describes a host of natural and highly efficient mechanical means of cooling and ventilating homes—morning glory window shades—roof-top cupolas and whole-house fans. It may save you hundreds of dollars a year!

For your free copy call the Texas Energy Extension Service's Energy Hotline. Call toll-free 1-800-643-SAVE and ask for "It's A Breeze."

Word of Mouth

Is a soft-bristle toothbrush better for me than a hard-bristle brush?

Dental professionals consider a rounded bristle shape and soft texture to be the most important components in the removal of plaque and the inhibition of gum disease, an oral malady that afflicts more than half of all adults.

The American Dental Association (ADA) cautions that a hard-bristle brush may damage sensitive gum tissues or wear down tooth enamel. The ADA recommends a soft, end-rounded bristle toothbrush like the new Oral-B ULTRA. This type of brush conforms comfortably to the contours of the teeth and is less likely to damage gums.

Graduating class of 1927 plans reunion

The 1927 Senior Class of Mazeland High School will have the sixty-first anniversary of their graduation with a reunion of class members on May 22, 1988. The gathering will be held at the Lions Club Building in Wingate. All friends, former teachers and students of the school, and any other interested parties are invited to join with class members in sharing fellowship and revival of memories of days when the school was located in the Wilmet Community about one mile from the small village which consisted of two grocery stores, one cotton gin, a garage, and two churches, the Baptist and Church of Christ. A few dwellings were located in the area. The Methodist Church was next to the school property. The school building that was in use at the time of this graduation still stands and has been converted into comfortable living quarters.

The graduation exercises were held in the Baptist Church on May 13, 1927. There were 12 members of the class, with each member participating with prepared speeches, after which the school superintendent, W. J. Locklear presented the graduates to the president of the School Board. He, in turn, awarded diplomas.

This school was a part of the Wilmet Community for many years, but changes in the environmental structure of the farming area because of mechanization, enrollment in the school decreased drastically. Also, consolidation of a number of schools into one campus became the trend in education at that time. Mazeland was consolidated with the Winters Independent School District in the late 1930s or soon after. Although it is no longer in existence, there are many who hold fond memories of times spent there.

There were only 10 grades, 1 through 10, included in the school's instructional program, so class members did not complete the required course of study as prescribed by Texas School Law at that time. Some of the class commuted to Winters the following year and graduated from the 11th grade with the 1928 Graduating Class.

Members of the class were J.S. Ensor, Phillip Davidson, Homer Tubbs, Robert Vicars, Lucille Vicars, Vivian King, Thoe Johnson, Pauline Cauthron, Ruby Dichenson, Lila Parrish, Kathleen Campbell, and Agnes Harris. The superintendent, who also taught the 9th and 10th grades, is now deceased, as are two class members. They will be sorely missed from the project reunion. With the exception of Vivian King, all members have been located and contacted. If anyone reading this has information of Vivian, please notify Agnes Harris Madison, Route 4, Box 433, Belton, Texas 76513 or call Rosalie Albright, Phone #915-743-8938.

Each person attending the luncheon on May 22, 1988 at Wingate should bring food for all members of their party.

VA to observe National Consumers Week

In proclaiming National Consumers Week, President Reagan pointed out that, across the Nation and around the world, consumers are sending an important message: there is no substitute for good service.

VA Administrator Thomas K. Turnage announced that the Veterans Administration, an agency serving millions of consumers daily, will observe National Consumers Week, April 24-30. "The national theme for this year's observance is 'Consumers Buy Service,'" said Turnage.

In response to the President's words, Administrator Turnage added, "National Consumers Week provides a special opportunity for all VA employees to rededicate themselves to the VA's mission: to provide benefits and services to veterans as efficiently as possible and to deal compassionately and sensitively with their needs and concerns."

According to Conrad Alexander, Big Spring VA Medical Center Director, information concerning veterans benefits will be provided in the lobby of our local medical center during this week-long observance, to inform veterans of their hard-earned benefits.

Veterans and their families are encouraged to visit the medical center or call (915) 263-7361, extension 312 or 314 to obtain any information of interest to them, said Alexander.

Calories and fat vary in cookies

The way the cookie crumbles can give you a clue to the fat content of most "store-bought" cookies. "In general, the soft-style cookies have a higher fat content, because the extra fat is what creates the softer texture," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. She says regular-style ginger snaps, for example, have about 23% of their calories from fat and vanilla wafers about 28%. By contrast, about 45% of the calories in soft-style chocolate chip cookies, and 48% of the calories in soft peanut butter cookies are from fat.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:
At this time we would like to remind our friends and neighbors of a unique day that was established by the Congress of the United States on July 18, 1958. "Loyalty Day-May 1st." The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and their Ladies Auxiliary along with others worked extremely hard to obtain this congressional action. We have worked equally hard since that time to educate the many people outside the VFW as to the significance of this day. Though loyalty has been celebrated for decades there was never a national celebration.

The date, May 1st., was initially selected to counteract the Communist's Mayday activities. Activities that were designed to boldly flaunt the communist doctrine, a doctrine that includes the violent overthrow of the United States government. Through this observance of loyalty we hope to counteract the efforts by the World Communist Movement to make May 1st. a day of disruptive action in America.

While we welcome the easing of tension between the United States and the communist today, we urge our fellow citizens to accept change but to remain every cautious and alert. We must be prepared to defend our freedom not only from foreign enemies but also from domestic enemies. These are the so-called "Americans" who preach treason while enjoying the protection afforded to all Americans by our priceless Bill of Rights.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars wishes to remind our people of their birthright of freedom and justice and that with this priceless heritage comes obligations. If we do not accept these obligations, we stand to lose our precious liberties for all time. We will keep promoting year-round loyalty and, on May 1st., we hope you will help us highlight that loyalty to insure that Americans will never let down their guard and allow this national to falter.

We would like to make the point that only through positive action can patriotic Americans effectively counteract those elements which constantly seek to create chaos among us and, at the same time perhaps jar back to reality our fellow citizens who have become the victims of the negative outlook. We can't put our obvious responsibility off until a later date or hope someone else will handle our patriotism for us. It will take every citizen to fend off those who oppose our nation.

Thank you,
Winters Veterans

TEAMS testing to be held again

In accordance with the provisions for TEAMS testing in HB 72, those juniors and seniors who have failed to master all sections of the test will retake TEAMS on May 3 and 4. The test given to eleventh and twelfth graders is an exit level examination and both the mathematics and English language arts sections of the test must be passed by students prior to their receiving a high school diploma. In addition, out-of-school individuals who have met all graduation requirements except for passing both sections of the exit level test will be permitted to take one or both sections during this administration. Pre-registration prior to April 12 was required for this testing session.

Beginning with the 1990-91 school year, the exit level TEAMS test will include a written composition as part of the language arts test. All current eighth grade students are being notified of this new graduation requirement. Consequently, by 1990-91 all students taking the exit level TEAMS test must show mastery of both the mathematics and English language arts with a written composition sections of the test in order to receive a high school diploma. The TEAMS test requirements are in addition to all state guidelines concerning high school curriculum requirements.

If you should have questions concerning TEAMS testing, contact Susie Johnson, high school counselor.

Teacher

being examined

Several years ago, when it came time for nonrenewals, a teacher simply did not find a contract form in his or her box in the teachers' lounge. In 1981, the Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE) worked with the Texas Legislature to pass Senate Bill 341, known today as the Term Contract Nonrenewal Act. In the seven years since its passage, the TCNA has helped bring teacher nonrenewal out from the back room into the board room.

In the March/April issue of ATPE News, the association's official magazine, ATPE General Counsel Beckie Elliott discusses the effects of the TCNA on nonrenewal with Jay Brim and Mark Robinett, members of the law firm of Brim and Arnett. ATPE's retained legal counsel. Legal factors and psychological effects of nonrenewal are discussed, as well as proper procedures to follow when faced with nonrenewal.

The March/April ATPE News also includes a special eight-page section containing complete coverage of the eighth annual ATPE state convention, held March 10-12 in Corpus Christi. ATPE state officers for 1988-89, award winners, and resolutions and bylaws amendments passed at the convention are highlighted.

Also the magazine, editor Nora Sheppard Bender looks at three ATPE local units—Cypress-Fairbanks ATPE, Northside ATPE and Arlington ATPE—that have memberships topping 1,000 and comprise ATPE's 1,000 Plus Club. ATPE, the largest independent educators' association in the country, has a statewide membership of 45,500, which consists mostly of classroom teachers, but also includes administrators, paraprofessionals, retired educators, education students and public members.

Facts about fire ants

Fire ants presently infest more than 125 Texas counties and their westward migration continues.

Three native Texas fire ant species exist—the commonly found tropical and southern fire ants, and the rarer desert fire ant. It's the red imported fire ant species, however, that's causing the most concern, says Allen Turner, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This destructive specie of fire ants was first introduced in 1930 near Mobile, Alabama. Since then, imported fire ants have winged their way across nine southern states from the Carolinas to Texas. They've also spread by crawling, drifting down rivers on logs or traveling aboard vehicles. Shipments of nursery stocks or soil from infested areas can relocate entire ant colonies the Agent adds.

While fire ants do feed on insects and other pests, their destructive nature far outweighs any benefits, Turner says. They damage young plants by gnawing holes in roots, tubers, stalks and buds and sometimes they attack newborn livestock and wildlife.

In addition, fire ant mounds—which often are large and as hard as concrete—can damage machinery, hinder mowing operations and reduce land values. Fire ant infestations are particularly hazardous in lawns, parks, playgrounds, school yards and homes, he adds.

Animals and people that disturb fire ant mounds will be stung repeatedly.

Symptoms of the sting include burning and itching, often followed by a white sore or pustule that may leave a scar.

Some hypersensitive persons may react to the venom and suffer chest pains or nausea and even lapse into a coma from one sting.

Across the Mayor's Desk

First, I would like to thank all who had a hand in our clean-up week. A special thanks to the hard working street department. Our community is looking much improved through your clean-up efforts. The City is also working with WTU to improve the street lights on Main Street as well as adding some street lights on the East side of Main Street.

The street department is also currently engaged in the mosquito spraying program for eight hours each week which is done in the early morning hours, so you may not see them but they are hard at work. I also would like to encourage each of you to help us with this project by removing any areas likely to attract the mosquito population.

In the future, I hope to write a column every several weeks to keep you abreast of current city activities. If you have comments please send them to "Mayor", c/o Winters Enterprise, or directly to me at P. O. Box 7, Winters, Texas!

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS in 1958 the Congress of the United States of America authorized a day to be set aside to demonstrate our loyalty to our flag and country and instructed the President to each year proclaim May 1 as Loyalty Day, I, Randy Springer, proclaim Sunday May 1, 1988 as Loyalty Day in Winters, Texas.

I urge the citizens of Winters and surrounding areas along with the Winters Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9193 and its Laides Auxiliary to take time on this day to share with others their love of flag and country, that through such sharing they might awake the sleeping patriotism in our apathetic fellow citizens.

Let us be as wise and willing to sacrifice as were our forefathers, to protect and preserve their dream of freedom and self-government. As they passed this legacy to us pass it on to our children, intact and untainted.

Through our action on this day and the rest of the year let us demonstrate that we are proud of America and that there is more right with the United States than there is wrong. That this country of Freedom and Self-Government is still the Bastion of Liberty and the Greatest Nation the world has ever known.

Randy M. Springer
Mayor of Winters, Texas

If you didn't notice the dot on this page, it's likely you won't notice a tumor this size in your breast. A mammogram can.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97 percent, five year survival rate and a 90 percent, ten year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small even before it can be felt.
