Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

My how time flies, or should we say it's funny how time slips away.

At any rate, this year is almost half-way gone and it doesn't seem like it has had time to get good started yet.

In another day, or so, we will watch another senior class graduate. Time for these folks has, most likely, seemed to just crawl at times, and at other times, to really zoom by.

These folks deserve special recognition for their achievements over the past 12 years and they will need much encouragement and reassurance during the years to come.

Nothing new on the railroad, I guess. The head guys must now really know where the end of the line is. At least they haven't shown much, so far, other than to say they are not much interested in our community.

We will tell you more — when we know it.

Many of us newspaper-types, the ones that write columns especially, like to read what others like us write.

It is really interesting to see how some of our minds follow similar paths.

Now Paul Harvey wouldn't give much space to the clutter on, and in his desk but, Jack Cowan in San Angelo would.

I don't know whether he was really talking about his desk, or if someone had shown him mine.

It is surprising what we save, once we start the painful process of clearing the debris of the disaster area of a desk.

All sorts of little pieces of paper with nothing but a phone number that just doesn't ring any bells with me. They must be real important for some reason—I just can't remember why.

Then there are the stacks of envelopes, you know the ones that you get mail in. They must have been saved for some reason. To write on, maybe.

And rubber bands, there must be a gallon jar full of them, but I cannot find a paper clip or one of those real neat sticky-note pads.

Heck, I can't find my pen, either.

How about business cards, mostly mine. They were designed, I suppose, to hand out to folks that you want to be able to call or write to you. I use most of mine to write notes on—and those phone numbers I cannot remember who belonged to.

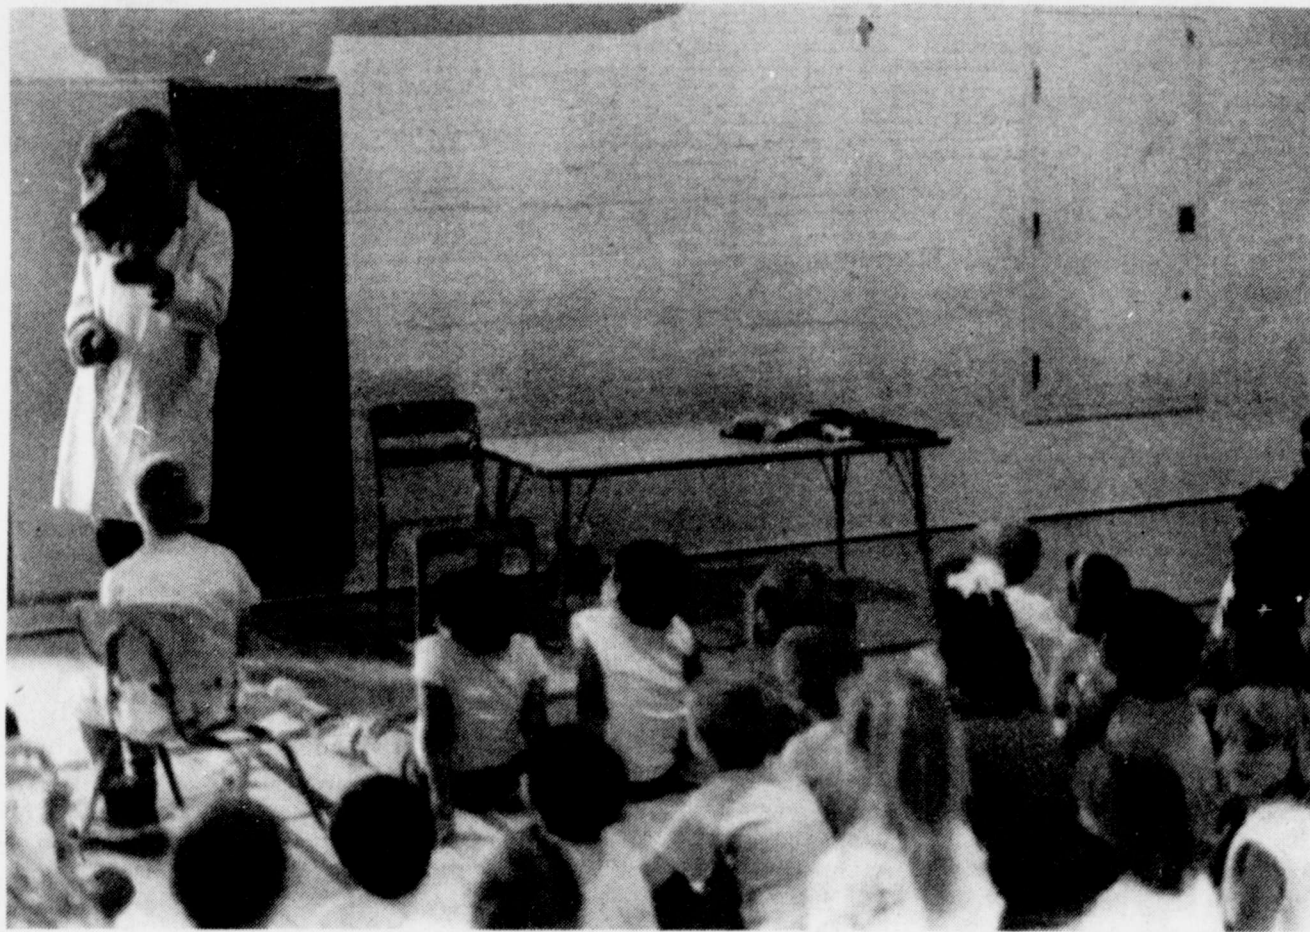

One thing for sure, I didn't do it all by myself. The clutter, I mean.

There are notices from good old Ed saying he is going to personally hand me a million bucks, or so. And there is that gee-whiz, good deal that tells me that I have just won a brand new car—absolutely free—it will only cost me a trip to who knows where and minimal charges (to defray expenses and handling) of an amount that is close to the cost of the car itself.

The last trip we made to win something free ended up with somebody's poor orphan steer smashing in the front end of the truck. Not only that, but we had to drive a bunch of hours to listen to some sales pitch about something that cost too much, and we didn't want either.

In cleaning my desk the last time, I found a telephone. I lost that little goodie about six months ago.

If you are wondering, by now, what prompted this perilous journey across my desk, I just wanted a paper clip.

Say "No" to strangers

McGruff, the Crime Dog, paid a visit to the Winters Elementary School's second grades last week to give the students some pointers on strangers, crime and drugs.

Accompanied by officers Richard Valdez and Rick Woodard of Abilene Police Department's Safety and Education Division, McGruff presented a short program to the youngsters about strangers.

WHS Graduation Friday 8:30 p. m.

Graduation exercises for the Winters High School Class of 1988 will be held at 8:30 p.m. Friday on Blizzard Field.

Special music for the activities will be provided by the Winters Blizzard Band, under the direction of Bailey McAnulty.

The highlight of the activities will be the presentation of diplomas to the 40 graduating Winters High School Seniors.

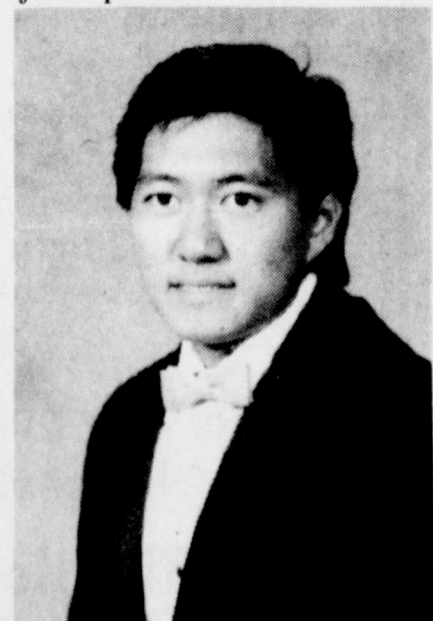

The Pearl Jackson Scholarship will be presented by T. D. Lancaster, Superintendent of Schools.

Rev. Glenn Shoemaker, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Winters will deliver the Baccalaureate Devotional.

Jim Lee, the 1988 Valedictorian, will receive special recognition during the ceremonies, along with Michelle Baker, the 1988 Salutatorian.

Jim Lee is graduating with a four-year grade average of 97.052. Jim is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Y. K. Lee. He has served as president of the Winters High School student body, president of the National Honor Society, a member of the Blizzard Band, the F. C. A. and the Texas Association of Future Educators.

After graduating from Winters High School, Jim is planning to attend Baylor University in the fall with a major in pre-law.

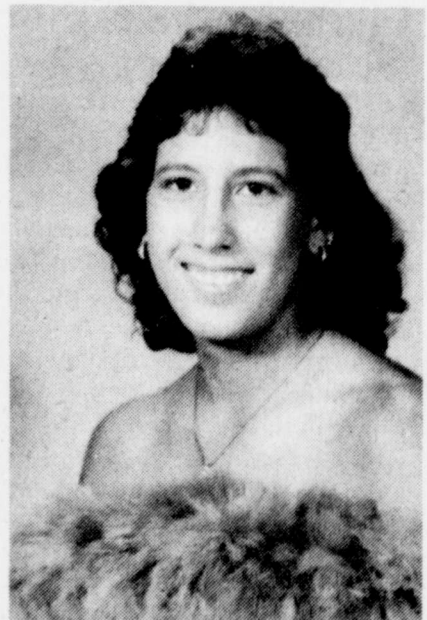

Jim Lloyd Lee
Valedictorian

The 1988 Winters High School Salutatorian is Michelle Baker. Michelle has carried a grade average of 93.056 through her four years in high school.

The daughter of Cecilia Dela Rosa and Mitchel Baker, Michelle was elected a Varsity Cheerleader during her junior year and was inducted into the National Honor Society.

She has served as treasurer and parliamentarian for the National Honor Society. Michelle would like to pursue a career in nursing with a major in nursing at Angelo State University.

Michelle Marie Baker
Salutatorian

Bass Classic set Saturday, June 4

The second annual Winters Area Chamber of Commerce Open Bass Classic has been scheduled for Saturday, June 4. The annual bass tournament is co-sponsored by the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce and the Silver Bullet Bass Busters.

This year's classic has been expanded to include not only Winters-Elm Creek Reservoir but Oak Creek Lake and Hords Creek Lake.

Top prize money will be $500 while second place will take $150, and third place will win $50. Second through 10th place winners will also receive merchandise prizes.

Entry fee for the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce Open Bass Classic is $30 for the 2-fish string, 14 1/2 inch length tournament.

Tournament officials say that all contestants may be subject to a polygraph examination at the discretion of the judges.

The official weigh-in for the meet will be held at 3:00 p.m. at the Winters-Elm Creek Marina.

Entry blanks for the bass tournament may be obtained at the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce office in Winters.

Winters Rodeo Association Queen Contest open

The Miss Rodeo and Junior Miss Rodeo contests are open for contestants. The queen and junior miss will reign over the Ninth Annual Winters Rodeo to be held June 17 and 18.

To be eligible to compete for the title of Miss Rodeo, a young lady must be entering the ninth, tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade in September of 1988. To compete for the Junior Miss title a young lady must be in junior high or be in any age group younger than junior high age in September of 1988.

Winners of the contest will be determined entirely by ticket sales. The Miss Rodeo and Junior Miss Rodeo contestant rendering the highest amount of dollars at the end of the pre-gate ticket sales will become Miss Rodeo and Junior Miss Rodeo for 1988. The winner of both Miss Rodeo and Junior Miss Rodeo titles will receive a gift certificate redeemable at any merchant advertising in the 1988 rodeo program, a $125 belt buckle, and a tiara. Miss Rodeo will also be the recipient of a two hundred dollar scholarship to the university or school of her choice.

Potential candidates may enter the Winters Rodeo contest by contacting Arch Jobe at the Country Cobbler, 754-5650; or Linda Dry at 754-5235.

WRA Playday set for June 5

The Winters Rodeo Association will host a special open playday on Sunday, June 5 at 3 p.m. in the Winters Rodeo Arena.

The arena is located north of Winters, just off highway 83. Events will be barrels, poles, straight-away barrels, flags, goat tying, stick horse race, cow chip throw, calf head roping, baseball drop, and balloon burst. Each age group will participate in five events. Entry fee for each event will be $2.00 Saddle blankets will be awarded to the high point individual in each age group.

This special playday will be followed by jackpot barrel racing and goat tying. Entry fee for the jackpot will be $5.00 per event, with $1.00 office charge and $4.00 going into the jackpot.

The annual summer series playdays will be on Saturdays, June 11, June 25, July 9, July 23, August 6, and August 20.

Wingate School Homecoming slated

The Wingate School Homecoming will be held Sunday, June 5, 1988 at the Wingate School.

A barbecue dinner will be served. Bring dessert if you wish.

The sign tells the story

Construction foreman Red Wilson points out a sign that tells the Stacy Dam story. The long-awaited project is within two years of completion.

The employees at the Stacy project were honored this past Sunday at an awards luncheon at the dam site. The employees' families were treated to a close-up tour of the site of Stacy Dam which, when completed, will impound some 10,000 acre feet of water on the Colorado River.

Coming of the Railroad

History repeats itself again and again as we face the prospect of another attempt by the railroad to discontinue the train service to Winters.

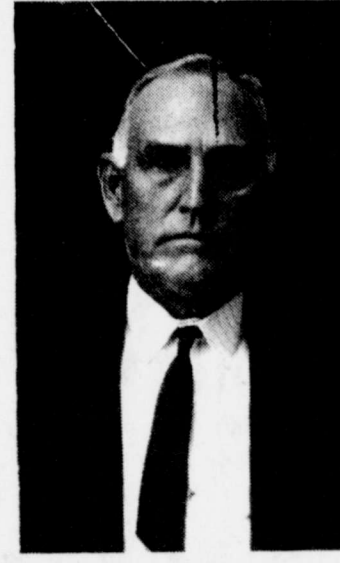

We will be as zealous in protecting the railroad established in 1909 as we were in keeping this service in 1976 when the Abilene and Southern sought abandonment.

Perhaps it will help us to review the efforts of those early settlers in their determination to provide rail service for Winters, the newly established town on the prairie, back in 1908.

On June 1, 1908, Morgan Jones came to Winters and conferred with five members of the town's railroad committee. He proposed to build the road from Abilene for a cash bonus of $50,000, a 15 mile right-of-way and adequate ground on which to build a depot. (Winters Enterprise, September 28, 1908)

Although it was many years ago, some people remember that Perry L. Meeks was the chairman of the committee that negotiated with Mr. Jones for the railroad. Other members were Dr. W. D. Sanders, Dr. J. L. Allred, W. M. Smiley and L. A. Bedford.

Mr. Meeks moved to Winters in 1894 from Lee County where he had served as Commissioner. He established the Winters Land Company with O. J. Hinds as partner. They built a land office which also housed a printing company. Meeks also acquired many acres of farm land. In 1901 he was appointed a Notary of Public for Runnels County by Joseph D. Sayers, Governor of the State of Texas.

P. L. Meeks Chairman of the Committee to build railroad in 1908

In the file of papers concerning the railroad is an agreement, August 26, 1908, between Morgan Jones and P. L. Meeks, whose name is at the top of a list of 133 signatures on the petition.

The committee was called the "syndicate" and Jones was called the "contractor".

The contractor agreed to undertake the construction of a standard gauge railroad from Abilene to Winters. The work on the road to begin one month after arrangements had been made for the procurement of right-a-way and satisfactory subsidy arrangements with other towns along the lines of railroad.

The syndicate agreed to pay the contractor $40,000 on the completion of the railroad. The running of an engine to Winters to be conclusive of its completion. Also to procure a one hundred foot right-of-way from the south boundary line of Taylor County for a distance of 15 miles, along the line designated by the contractor.

In his book, Colonel Morgan Jones (Grand Old Man of Texas Railroad), Bernon Gladden Spence implies that the Winters committee was so glad to see the railroad that they accepted Mr. Jones original terms of $50,000, but by the contract, we see that this is not the case. Those grand old men who fought to establish the little town were "horse traders" themselves and knew how to drive a bargain.

The syndicate was to obtain for the railroad the necessary land in Winters as a place designated by the contractor for the use of the railroad company depot, side tracks, switches, yards, platform and "y". The depot grounds were to be 200 feet wide by 600 feet long; the land for yard to be 250 ft. wide by 3,500 ft. long; the land for "y" not to exceed ten acres.

Tracts of land were contracted by their owners to P. L. Meeks, chairman of the syndicate to be conveyed to the contractor on the running of an engine into town. A list of the contracts are as follows:

Two lots owned by W. T. White; the west half of an acre owned by J. O. Flynt; one fourth of an acre, owner J. H. Tyler; a 70 acre tract, J. H. Beard, owner; one acre owned by H. N. McDonald; the south half of a lot owned by R. H. Yeats; three acres, owner Mollie Farrar; and a 105 ft. sq. lot in a tract of land belonging to T. E. Chapman.

The following options were also conveyed to the contractor by the syndicate:

One from M. A. Hunter for the purchase of 30 feet of the west end of a lot in the Murray tract for $50.

One from A. J. Spill for one acre of land out of north east corner of a 218 acre tract for $600.

One from August Spill, Sr. on about 20 acres off the east side of a lot at the price of $60.

In addition to all the other work, the railroad committee had to secure easements for a hundred foot right-of-way through property. Beginning in June and going through October the following men gave signed agreements for the railway to cross their land for the some of $1.00 each: E. E. Bartlett, A. J.

Watson, L. T. Bagwell, F. Ramsel, L. A. Harper (in case the road is run anywhere else this is null and void), A. F. Adams, H. N. McDonald, G. A. Buchanan, F. Armbrrecht, (with the understanding the R.R. will put crossing on 10 ft. wide strip of land designated), L. C. Chapman, J. M. Johnson, G. L. Heath, August Spill and John Brock and sons.

Several people had to be paid for the easements and a number of petitions for condemnation of right-of-way had to be dealt with. There also seems to have been some dispute over the north boundary line for Mr. Meeks received a letter from Percy Jones which was dated November 4, 1908:

"I find I was in error as to the location of the North Runnels County line, its coming a little further north than I was informed it was. The R.R. runs thru two of the Bagwell tracts in Runnels County and I'm enclosing your deed with corrected notes," signed, Percy Jones.

All things come to an end, and by September 22, 1908, the final contract was signed.

Now the syndicate and other citizens anxiously awaited the coming of the train!

Senior Citizens news

As always, there are many people that have given of their time and gifts to us and we would like to thank all of them.

Mrs. Hal Dry donated a plant to us and it looks beautiful in our dining room. Mrs. Lee Colburn gave some clothes for the garage sale and we can use them all. We have had other people bring clothes by as well and we have missed some names but I want to thank everyone who has given gifts for our garage sale. It will be Saturday, June 4, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. We hope everyone will come by and look through all of our goodies.

Joe and Melba Emmert came and played the organ Friday night and they brought along a beautiful lady who entertained us with a few songs on the piano. Richard Watkins came Monday morning and played the organ and we enjoyed it. It always helps to get our week to going.

It was out of town quite a bit and I want to thank some ladies for filling in for me. Pat Johnson and Linda Morrison took care of Bingo Tuesday and Thursday afternoon.

Mary Esquivel came in Thursday morning and read the paper to us. We all thank these ladies for keeping everyone busy.

We hope to begin doing some arts and crafts in June. If anyone has an easy and inexpensive idea bring it by and show us. Ask for Stephanie Smith and I'll be happy to see any ideas and to learn how to do it.

Q. How does baking soda react with buttermilk in baking?
N. B.

Sunrise Beach, MO
A. Buttermilk or sour cream causes the baking soda to release carbon dioxide that will help the cake or biscuit rise during baking. Add soda with dry ingredients so that the carbon dioxide is released in batter.

Q. What is the dry yeast substitution for 1 cake of compressed yeast?
Mrs. F. S.

Garfield Heights, OH
A. One packet of dry yeast (1 tablespoon) equals one cake of compressed yeast. Three packets of dry yeast equal 2 ounces of compressed yeast.

Letter to the Editor

As a parent and long time resident of Winters, I would like to take a few minutes and congratulate our Winters School Teachers on a job well done in all the wonderful programs they have brought to us during the school year. As the parent of four children, I have seen many wonderful performances. I would like to futher comment on the 3rd grade program last week which was a truly wonderful example of teachers and children working together. Nowadays when so many of us parents are having trouble communicating, its a breath of fresh air to see this in our schools. I'm sure that everyone at the performance will agree with me that the play was well organized. The children truly gave a very touching performance. This touching performance led me to write this letter to say I stand up and give the children and teachers a big hand on a job well done.
A happy person,
Jessica Perkins

District 7C Case No. 104,450
Date of Issuance: May 6, 1988

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE Applicant, Satanta Oil Company, P O Box 4335, Midland, Texas 79704, has made application for a spacing exception permit under the provisions of 16 Texas Administrative Code 3.37 (Railroad Commission Statewide Rule 37). Applicant seeks exception to the lease line distance requirement to re-enter Well No. 1, Rogers-Jones Lease, 300 Acres, E. Mathers #535 Survey, Nora (Gardner) Field, Runnels County, being 5 miles in a southeast direction from Winters, Texas.

The Location of this well is as follows:
330' from west line and 330' from south line of lease.
6200' from south line and 4100' from northeast line of survey.

Field Rules for the Nora (Gardner) Field are 467/1200, 40 Acres.

This well is to be completed at an approximate depth of 4200 feet.

PURSUANT TO THE TERMS OF Railroad Commission Statewide Rule 37(h)(2)(A), this permit may be granted administratively if no protest to the application is received. An offset mineral interest owner and lessee is entitled to request a hearing on this application. They must be prepared to appear at the hearing either in person or by qualified representative and protest this application through cross-examination or presentation of direct case subject to all applicable rules of evidence. If a hearing is called, the burden of proof of the need for an exception is placed on the applicant. A protestant should be prepared, however, to establish your standing to protest as an affected person, if challenging this exception, contact the Applicant's representative, C. W. Harman, at (915) 682-8442. If you have any questions regarding standing or other matters, please contact the Commission at (512) 463-6718.

RULE 37 CASE NUMBER 104,450

IF YOU WISH TO REQUEST A HEARING ON THIS APPLICATION, YOU MUST FILL OUT, SIGN AND MAIL OR DELIVER TO THE AUSTIN OFFICE OF THE RAILROAD COMMISSION OF TEXAS, A COPY OF THE INTENT TO APPEAR IN PROTEST. A COPY OF THE INTENT TO APPEAR IN PROTEST MUST ALSO BE MAILED OR DELIVERED ON THE SAME DATE TO APPLICANT AT THE ADDRESS SHOWN ABOVE. THIS INTENT TO APPEAR IN PROTEST MUST BE RECEIVED IN THE RAILROAD COMMISSION'S OFFICE BY June 10, 1988. IF NO PROTEST IS RECEIVED BY SAID DATE, THE REQUESTED PERMIT WILL BE GRANTED ADMINISTRATIVELY, TO BE EFFECTIVE THE FOLLOWING DAY.

NOTICE-NORTH RUNNELS WATER SUPPLY CORPORATION CUSTOMERS

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has adopted requirements that all public water systems notify their customers about lead exposure. This notification is intended to educate and inform consumers on this issue in light of the fact that your drinking water may be a potential source of lead exposure. This is being done even though your water system is not in violation of the current standard. There are also other potential sources of lead contamination in the environment.

The following specific language is required by EPA in this notice:

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (PPM). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain; kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

1. if your home or water system has lead pipes, or
2. if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
- if the home is less than five years old or
- if you have soft or acidic water, or
- if water sits in the pipes for several hours

Ways to avoid potential lead exposure are to "flush" faucets before use and to use cold water for drinking and cooking. You may wish to have your home tap water tested for lead content by a competent laboratory. You may also wish to check to see if lead pipes, solder, or flux were used in your home plumbing.

For additional information contact: Perry Poe, Manager, North Runnels Water Supply Corporation, 915-754-5000. (May 26, June 2, 9, 1988)

From A Goldfish Bowl

By Pastor Steve Byrne

Last week I made a call on Katie and Bill. Members of my congregation. I must have timed the visit just right. There was a pleasant smell in the air. And shortly after I began to visit with them, Katie got up and went to the oven. Opened the door. And pulled out what looked like a loaf of bread.

When she opened the oven door, the smell of freshly made bread permeated the room. Then she began to pull out more. Maybe 5 or 6. It was heavenly. It wasn't just bread, but coffee cake. The cakes, nevertheless, smelled like fresh bread.

This was not the smell of mere fresh bread. I thought, "This smells like home!" Maybe it wasn't just the bread. I have yet to visit this couple when I wasn't given the kind of hospitality that makes me feel at home. So there are some other dynamics working here.

The fact is that fresh bread makes me think of home. Which is kind of odd since my mother never made homemade bread except on rare occasions. Neither were my grandmothers in the habit of baking their own bread. It still made me feel like home.

There must be something instinctual about human beings that causes things we haven't experienced before to remind us of things that we have. The first time I worshipped in a Lutheran Church was the first time that I had ever worshipped in a liturgical church. It felt like home. Some folks think it strange and awkward, all that chanting and ritual. For me, it felt right from the first. Like this was the base I was searching for.

Heaven is somewhat the same way. No living person, Christian or not, has ever actually experienced heaven. Yet many of us know that this is our home. We belong there.

We may belong here to some extent. But we belong here for a short time. We belong there forever.

I like the way St. Paul says it in Philippians 3:20-21. "Our citizenship is in heaven. And we eagerly await a Savior from there, the Lord Jesus Christ, who, by the power that enables him to bring everything under his control, will transform our lowly bodies, so that they will be like his glorious body."

Somehow the Spirit moves within us to remind us of home. Even when we may not be able to trace this feeling of home to an actual experience. For me the Spirit moves through bread and liturgy and heaven. I hope you know the joy of our own "home-spirit."

Taxes no longer charged on feed that is also used to feed Texas game animals

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday that sales tax will no longer be charged on feed normally eaten by farm and ranch animals that is also used to feed Texas game animals.

"It doesn't make sense to tax feed that farmers and ranchers use to support the native wildlife population when other farm animals get to eat the same stuff tax-free," Bullock said.

Bullock said removal of the slaes tax on hay, corn, oats and other feeds that can be eaten by deer, turkey and other wild animals will promote progressive wildlife and conservation practices.

According to Bullock, Texas farmers and ranchers who lease hunting acreage will benefit by being able to provide supplemental feed during drought conditions or when animal habitats have been reduced.

Land owners will find it easier to but feed under the proposed rule, since they will no longer have to declare the type and location of the animal eating the feed.

"We've had some confusing situations because of the current rule -- for example, corn bought to feed deer is taxable, but corn bought to feed cow's isn't," Bullock said.

Feed for domestic farm animals and work animals will remain exempt from the state sales tax, but feed bought for pets such as cats and dogs is still taxable, he added.

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. Where does saffron come from and how can I use it?

M. R. Kennett, MO

A. Saffron comes from the orange stamen of crocus flower. Use a tiny amount of its threads or powder (flavor is strong) for poultry, rice, rolls, sauces, seafood and Spanish dishes.

Q. What will help sesame seeds stick to homemade Italian bread?

C. P. Bedford Heights, OH

A. Just before baking loaves, brush them with a mixture of beaten egg white or a beaten egg yolk mixed with 2 tablespoons water. Sprinkle with sesame seeds and press seeds in lightly.

Third graders present musical

The Third grade students presented a light hearted musical entitled "Its a Small World." The plot of the play was a group of students asking for examples of possibilities of places to travel on a school trip.

Matt Harrison is the travel agent who entices the students by introducing experts from Mexico,

England, Germany, France, Africa, the Orient, Australia, and America. Some of the songs that introduced the countries were, The Mexican Hat Dance, La Cucaracha, Up, Up and Away, London Bridge, She Loves You, Edelweiss, The Lonely Goatherd, Frere Jacques, Never Smile at a Crocodile, Sakura, The Siamese Cat Song, Kookabura, Yankee Doodle, America the Beautiful, and It's a Small World.

The third grade teachers, Cindy Cathey, Landa Grohman, Troylene Lineycomb, Deborah Rice and Cindy Rogers would like to express their appreciation to Rhea Parramore for her musical assistance, Cathy Beltran for teaching the students the Mexican Hat Dance, Virginia Brown and Nelda Voss for lighting effects, and the student's parents for providing costumes and supporting their children. Without their help, this musical production would not have been possible.

A very special day

On this Memorial Day, Americans once again honors those who died to keep this nation free. There are more than a million of them. There are a number of legends and folklore stories about the origin of Memorial Day. Waterloo, New York, claims to have been first to pay tribute, honoring its Civil War dead on May 5, 1866, by closing businesses and decorating graves of fallen soldiers with flowers. Boalsburg, Pennsylvania, also lays claim to the birthplace of Memorial Day. There, two women met for the first time while decorating graves with flowers on a Sunday in October 1864. The women agreed to meet at the cemetery the following year. In the South, tradition has it that women visited battlefields and decorated the graves of Confederate soldiers. Once such incident is said to have taken place in a cemetery in Columbus, Mississippi, in 1867, when a group of Confederate widows, mothers and children decorated the graves of their dead. When they had finished placing the flowers, they saw the nearby grave of Union soldiers. These graves were bare and forgotten, and in an act of compassion, the women and children decorated them, too. Word of this act spread and touched the heart of a nation. A year later, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Union's veterans organization, called on all members to observe May 30 as a special day—a day to decorate the graves of comrades who had died in defense of their government. Decorations Day rites were held in both the North and the South. In 1882, Decorations Day became Memorial Day. From then on, each May 30, and now the last Monday in May, has served as a salute to the military dead of all of America's wars. The honored men and women who fought and died for this country—from the snow-covered fields of the American Revolution to the steamy jungles of Vietnam—gave us something very special. So—on this Memorial Day—pause for a moment in remembrance of those members of America's Armed Forces—all of them, living and dead, yesterday's soldiers and today's veterans, who provided us with freedom.

State ASCS recommends drought aid for 38 counties

The state committee of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) has recommended approval for 38 drought-stricken Texas counties to authorize and implement the emergency feed program (EFP).

State ASCS committeemen also asked for authority to add other qualifying drought counties in the future as they document rainfall data and their eligibility.

The committee, chaired by Jerry Harris, a farmer and ginier at Lamesa, also requested that eligible livestock producers of the 38 counties be permitted to graze their animals on land in the acreage conservation reserve, or set aside program, and on conservation use acreage.

The recommendations were forwarded to Deputy Administrator for State and County Programs Earle Bedenbaugh, who is with the ASCS in Washington, D.C. Earlier requests for producer assistance have gone forth to the U.S. Department of Agriculture from Gov. William Clements.

The emergency feed program (feed cost-sharing program) allows the ASCS to share a portion of the costs of feed with eligible livestock owners, at an established rate, for purchases of feed normally grown on the farm. The producers must have suffered a substantial loss of livestock feed and find it necessary to purchase feed in quantities larger than normal to be eligible.

"Serious consideration of the programs are critical now in view of the state's worsening drought situation," said Dr.

Zerle Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who provides regular updates on the crop, livestock and weather situation in Texas.

Other state ASCS committeemen include Dale Hunt, Garwood; George Eller, Panhandle; D.V. Guerra, Jr., Linn; and Terry Harmon, state executive director, College Station.

Producers in five other counties that were severely affected by recent wildfires have already been approved for the grazing and emergency feed programs. The qualifying counties are Shackelford, Callahan, Coleman, Haskell and Throckmorton.

To be eligible for assistance, a livestock owner must have suffered a 40 percent loss of feed production on the farm because of a natural disaster which resulted in a need for the purchase of feed in larger quantities than normal for eligible livestock. The maximum quantity on which assistance is provided is 10 pounds of grain equivalent per day per animal unit. The "feed grain equivalent" relates the feed value of the various livestock feeds to the feed value of grain sorghum.

Counties recommended for approval in the program include:

Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Brooks, Coke, Concho, Crockett, Dimmit, Duval, Edwards, Frio, Goliad, Howard, Irion, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Karnes, Kimble, Kinney, LaSalle, Live Oak, McMullen, Medina, Menard, Nolan, Real, San Saba, Schleicher, Starr, Sterling, Sutton, Terrell, Tom Green, Uvalde, Val Verde, Webb, Zapata, and Zavala.

Savings available through Federal Passport Program

The Federal Recreation Passport Program, in which the Fort Worth District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is participating, offers big savings for vacationers year around.

Although many national parks, refuges and facilities can be used free of charge, others charge entrance, user and/or permit fee. To make usage of federal facilities a little more economical, a number of entrance passes are available that not only cut costs, but also make vacationing "smooth sailing" for any traveler.

Golden Eagle Passport:

The Golden Eagle Passport is an annual entrance pass for persons 61 or younger that waives entrance fees to national parks, monuments, wildlife refuges, historic sites and recreation areas, including those located around the 22 lakes in Texas operated by the Corps' Fort Worth District.

The pass costs $25 and is valid for one year.

Golden Age Passport:

Serving persons 62 or older, the Golden Age Passport is a free, lifetime entrance pass to national parks, monuments, historic sites, recreation areas and national wildlife refuges.

Additionally, the pass provides a 50 percent discount on user fees for services such as camping, boat launching and parking.

Golden Access Passport:

Also a free, lifetime entrance pass, the Golden Access Passport is for blind and disabled persons. This pass entitles holders to the same access and discounts as does the Golden Age Passport.

The passes admit card holders and all accompanying passengers in the card holder's vehicle.

All three passports may be obtained from the National Park Service or U.S. Forest Service headquarters in Washington, D.C., or at any federal park that charges entrance fees. The Golden Age Passport and Golden Access Passport may only be obtained in person with proof of age or disability from the federal parks or the Corps' Fort Worth District Public Affairs Office, 819 Taylor Street, Fort Worth.

Insect control for home gardens

Home gardeners are preparing for the 1988 garden season. Home gardens are always subjected to the attack of different insect pests. The damage that insect pests cause to plants in the home garden may be reduced by cultural practices and/or chemical control. For best results, combine these two practices.

Damage caused by insect pests may be reduced by the following cultural practices:

- * Grow healthy plants, which are often better able to survive and compensate for pest damage. This involves selecting a suitable location, good soil and keeping the plants well fed, watered and cultivated.
- * Select vegetable varieties which are best able to survive the insect pests usually encountered in your locality. Past local experience is a helpful guide.

* Plant crops late enough in the spring to avoid slow growth periods which favor injury from soil and seedling insect pests.

* Grow or buy plants for transplanting into your garden to avoid seedling pest damage and shorten the period in which other pests may cause injury before harvest.

* Isolate tomato plants within screened enclosures to delay their exposure to leafhoppers carrying the virus of curly top disease.

* Harvest crops as early as possible to reduce the period of exposure to insect pests.

* Practice garden sanitation, including weed control and the elimination of debris which may shelter pests. Promptly dispose of infested crop remnants which may harbor pests.

The use of insecticides in the home garden should be considered when insect numbers and injury have become excessive and other methods of control are inadequate. Most vegetable insects, mites and other arthropods can be acceptably controlled in the home garden, when necessary, by one of the following legally registered pesticides.

When used as directed on the container label:

- Carbaryl, sold under the proprietary name Sevin®, is an effective insecticide for use primarily against chewing insects such as caterpillars, worms and beetles. Formulated as a dust, a wettable powder or solution with water, liquid dilution or as a bait.

- Diazinon®, commonly sold in a formulation called Spectracide®, is a good general purpose home garden insecticide when used as directed. It is effective against insects with sucking and chewing mouthparts and spider mites. It is usually available as an emulsifiable concentrate, for dilution with water, as a dust or in granular formulations.

- Malathion is a general purpose insecticide when used as directed. It is effective against insects with sucking and chewing mouthparts. It is usually purchased as a dust or an emulsifiable concentrate for dilution with water.

- Kelthane is a good miticide for control of spider mites on home garden plants. It is usually purchased as an emulsifiable concentrate for dilution with water.

- Bacillus thuringiensis is a biocide commonly sold under the proprietary names, Dipel® or Thuricide HP®, it is an effective material for control of worms feeding on plant foliage. It has no time limitations on date of application to harvest of vegetable crops. Formulated as a liquid solution.

When buying an insecticide, first read the label to make sure it lists the insect pest you want to control and that the formulation is suitable for home garden use.

Remember - Safety First Around Electricity!

Enjoy a safe summer while working in your yard by following these safety tips.

- Use only properly grounded electrical equipment and replace all worn and damaged cords.
- Never use electric tools in rain or on any wet surface.
- Keep electric cords clear of your working area.
- Keep ladders or long-handled tools clear of power lines. Even wooden ladders can conduct electricity.
- Be careful when digging. Call your Local WTU Office to locate underground power lines in your area.

Seven Lutherans Confirmed

Seven youth of St. John's Lutheran Church confirmed their baptismal faith on Pentecost Sunday, May 22, 1988. This ritual of Confirmation took place during St. John's worship celebration.

The event culminated a two-year study of Holy Scripture and Lutheran doctrine. Nancy Spill taught the first year's curriculum, an overview of the Bible. Pastor Steve Byrne instructed the Junior High School aged youth in their studies on the teachings of the Lutheran Church.

Upon completion of their studies, John Austin, Michelle Carter, Kimberly Deike, J. J. Michaelis, Kaci Springer, Stacie Wheeler, and Billy Witte publically affirmed their faith in God through Jesus Christ and assumed adult responsibility for their baptismal vows made on their behalf earlier by parents and sponsors.

Michael Deike, chairman of the congregation, presented each confirmand with a wooden cross, given by the people of St. John's in honor of this event. Confirmation is internationally recognized by the Church as an important milestone in the Christian's journey of faith.

St. John's Church is a member congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, which was formed on January 1, 1988, when three branches of American Lutheranism combined to form the fourth largest protestant denomination in the United States, with a membership of over five million.

Television show looks for amateur talent from Winters area

Discovery Talent Search, the nationally syndicated television program, will begin auditions in this area to select talent for the televised special broadcast to be aired on KAMR-TV, Channel 4, for the Amarillo/Lubbock television area. The Discovery producers will be in the area within the next few weeks to begin the task of selecting local talent to be videotaped for the show. Twelve finalists will be selected for the show within two age divisions: six in the Junior Division (ages 14 and under) and six in the Senior Division (ages 17 and over). The first place winner in each age division will be announced on the show and each will be awarded $1,000 in cash.

Auditions may not exceed three minutes in length and may include a wide variety of talent such as singing, dancing, acting, magical acts, dramatic readings, lip-synching, or any variety talent that has entertainment

Professional high school rodeo set

A new concept in high school rodeo will be actualized June 16-18 in Hallettsville, Texas, at the Alton Allen Rodeo Arena when the Texas State Championship High School Rodeo Association, Inc., presents its first professional-level high value and exhibits the participant's ability and skill. Discovery Talent Search is a performing arts development program designed to encourage local talent development through participation in community television and reward of excellence. Local winners will participate in the national contest for a $5,000 National Award.

Everyone has an equal opportunity to appear on the television show regardless of age and is invited to call for an audition appointment. Auditions are being held for all ages, men, women and children, individuals and groups. The schedule a free audition for the show call toll free 1-800-227-6319.

The $100 entry fee per event will all be jackpotted back to the contestants. Since thirty entries will be taken in each event, these high school boys and girls may be competing for approximately $27,000 in prize money. This rodeo will be operated like a professional rodeo, with payouts to first through fourth places in an average and two grounds. World Champion PRCA cowboys Harry Tompkins and Bob Wegner will serve as judges. The All-Around cowboy and cowgirl will each receive a trophy saddle in addition to their cash winnings. Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company is the major sponsor of the rodeo.

Boys' events will be tiedown calf roping, steer dogging, bareback bronc riding, and bull riding. The girls will compete in clover leaf barrel racing, pole bending, goat tying, and breakaway roping. Team roping will be a mixed event.

This won't be the first time Hallettsville has been an innovator in rodeo. In 1947 three local citizens—Claude Mullins, superintendent of schools, attorney Alton Allen, and pharmacist Leon L. Kahanek—formulated a brand new concept: high school rodeo. The three close friends, all ranchers and active rodeo participants, decided to put their new idea into action, and thus high school rodeo came into being.

The First Annual Texas State Championship High School Rodeo was held in June of 1987 in Hallettsville, with 87 contestants coming from every corner of Texas to compete.

The First National Championship High School Rodeo was organized by these same three men and held in Hallettsville in 1949. Contestants came from many other states to make it a big success.

Mr. Mullins and the late Misters Allen and Kahanek took an active part in every Texas State Championship High School Rodeo and attended almost every National Championship High School Rodeo. They were all instrumental in developing and implementing most of the guidelines concerning the state and national high school rodeos and were made lifetime advisory directors of the National High School Rodeo Association.

Hallettsville also gets credit for being the first town to use a barrier in the event of calf roping. Now standard to the event, it is called the "Hallettsville barrier."

For information regarding the rodeo or to obtain entry blanks write A. J. Kallus, P.O. Box 267, Hallettsville, Texas 77964, or call (512) 798-2751.

VA Questions & Answers

Q—My husband receives VA pension benefits. If I go to work will this affect his benefits?

A—If your husband established entitlement to pension benefits prior to January 1, 1979, and continues to receive benefits based on the law in effect at that time, your earned income would not be a factor. If he receives benefits under the current pension law (PL 96-588) your income reaches a specified level his pension would be discontinued.

Q—Will the VA release my new address to my estranged wife?

A—No. Your address is privileged information and may not be released without your permission.

Q—My son who died in the service was cremated and his ashes were scattered without interment of any portion of the ashes. May I still obtain a memorial marker for him?

A—Yes. The memorial may be erected in a private cemetery or the memorial section of a national cemetery.

During the initial debate, Gramm strongly backed the proposal, saying, "it seems imperative to me that if we put our military personnel in danger, we need to have the strongest possible deterrent to protect them."

Texas Farmers Union names state field director

Ron Presley of Abernathy has been named Director of Field Operations for Texas Farmers Union.

Assuming responsibilities of office in May, Presley will oversee organizational and membership development activities throughout the state. His responsibilities will also include education and legislative activities for the organization.

Since graduating from Texas Tech University in 1980, Presley has been involved in agricultural finance and agricultural finance and agricultural commodity organizations; most recently as Associate Director of the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association in Abernathy, Texas. Presley will continue to reside in Abernathy.

Founded in 1902, Texas Farmers Union has been an influential "family farm" organization, working for better farm commodity prices by monitoring farm legislation and representing farmer interests in Austin and Washington.

Winters native named business editor of New Jersey newspaper

Winters area native Robert Moore has been named business editor for the Courier-News, a Gannett-owned daily newspaper based in Bridgewater, New Jersey. Moore is the son of Ellis and LaMoine Moore and grandson of Mrs. Bill Moore.

A graduate of Winters High School and of Texas Tech University, where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in sociology and a master of arts degree in mass communications, Moore lived in Shreveport, Louisiana, for the past 10 months. There he was founding editor of Shreveport Business, a monthly business publication; associate editor of UpState newsweekly; and political reporter for The Times, also a Gannett daily.

Gannett is a nationwide group of more than 90 newspapers and other media interests, including USA Today newspaper.

Robert Moore

Moore is residing in Somerville, New Jersey, a community adjacent to Bridgewater. Both are suburbs of metropolitan New York City. His wife, Susan Flanagan, executive director of the Shreveport YMCA, will join him at a later date.

Memorial Day and the price of cherished freedom

by Gene A. Murphy, National Commander Disabled American Veterans

My first trip to Arlington National Cemetery. My immediate impression was sorrow. Lines of stark white tombstones stretched across acres of rolling green hills. All too reminiscent of soldiers in formation. Viewing literally thousands of neatly arranged graves, I cried.

I cried for the brave young men and women who rested there. Soldiers who paid the ultimate price for my cherished freedom. And I cried as I remembered eight very special friends. Friends with whom I shared a unique closeness in Vietnam. Friends with whom I'll never share again. I remembered and paid tribute to them, the men didn't return with me from the jungles of Southeast Asia.

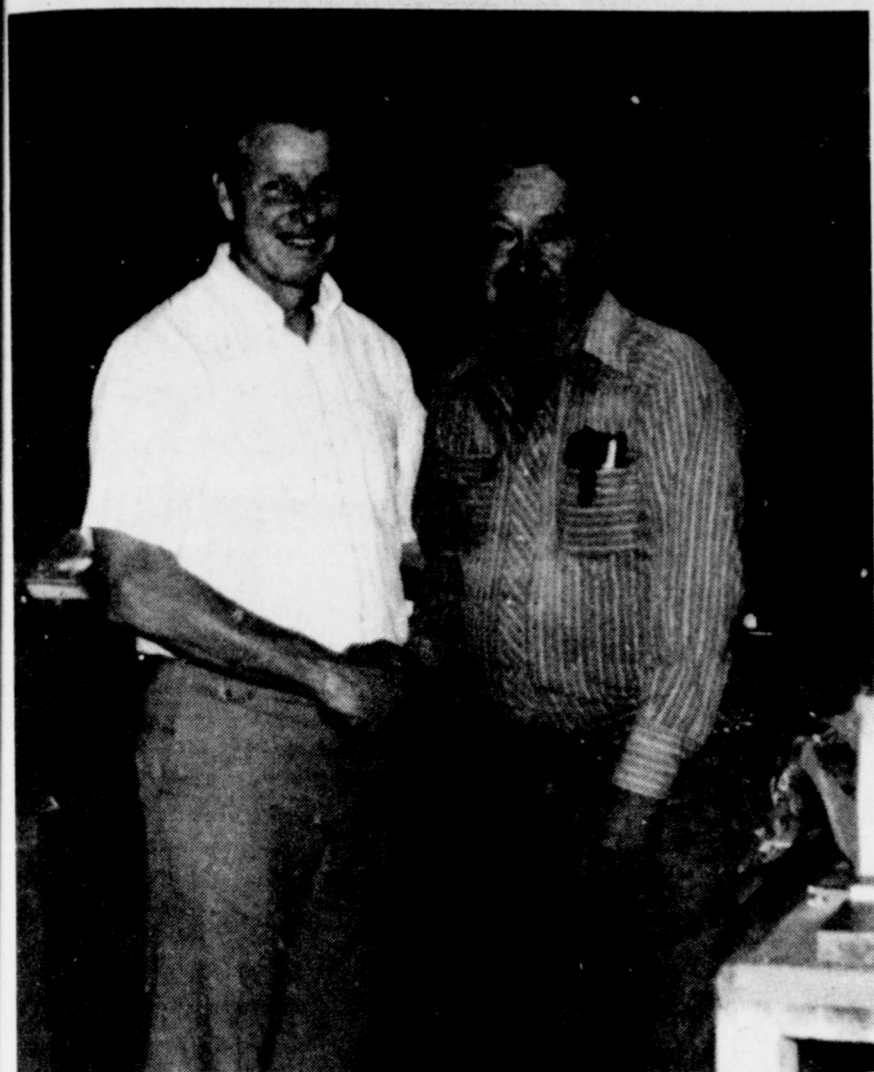

So many names etched in stone. They began to blur as I slowly rolled my wheelchair through the cemetery. But, as I moved, my sorrow began to ease. In its place, a kind of serenity and deep feeling of pride settled on me.

I'm proud of each and everyone one of the more than one million men and women who gave their lives in defense of this great country in our many wars. Proud not only of those who died during time of war, but especially proud of those who died in recent undeclared hostilities.

Over 300 died since the end of the Vietnam War. They died in Beirut, Grenada, the Persian Gulf, Central America. Nor do I forget the numerous men and women who have died recently as victims of terrorist's bombs and bullets.

My freedom—my wife's and my daughter's freedom—was bought with their blood. This is a debt I can never repay.

I am humbled by their sacrifices. I lost the use of my legs in Vietnam, but I came home. For 14 hours I lay bleeding on the jungle floor. For 14 hours I was sure I was going to die. But I was very fortunate and very blessed. God allowed me to live. On this Memorial Day, I ask all Americans to take a moment and reflect on those who did not come home. A moment to honor the true heroes of our country.

Rocky Mountain spotted fever can be deadly

Tick season is here and Texans need to be on the alert.

Not only are ticks a nuisance, but they can be deadly—because they can transmit Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

In Texas, the American dog tick is the main culprit in transmitting Rocky Mountain spotted fever to humans, said Dr. Cliff Hoelscher, entomologist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Symptoms of spotted fever may include a high fever, headache, nausea and muscle pain, followed in two or three days by a rash on the wrist and ankles. The rash will spread over the rest of the body.

"The sickness is prevalent in spring and summer months when ticks are most active," Hoelscher said. "A majority of Texas cases occur from April through August, although cases last year occurred in February and December."

The Texas Department of Health in Austin reported 22 cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever in 1987, with two deaths. A 3-year-old Archer County girl died in May and a 3-month-old boy died in Jasper County in September. During the past five years, health records indicate 64 cases in 1982, 108 in 1983, 53 in 1984, 33 in 1985 and 21 in 1986. The cases have affected people aged 3 months to 71 years.

"Campers, backpackers and sportsmen are urged to take special care to avoid tick bites and contact," Hoelscher said. "Keeping children away from tick infestations is particularly important."

The Extension Service has a publication on tick control and repellent which is available at all county offices. The publications, Ticks Attacking Humans, provides information on tick control, removal, biology, and development, and disease transmission.

"Remember to keep your pet free of dangerous tick infestations which could lead to serious health problems for the owner's family," said Hoelscher. "Do not let a pet in the home if it is infested with ticks. Also, protect yourself from tick bites on your next recreational trip or family picnic."

dy Pennington of Houston, Ashley Smith of Houston, John Smithee of Amarillo and Gerald Yost of Longview.

In announcing the meeting, Rep. Hackney said, "The oil and gas industry has been one of the state's leading employers, as well as one of its leading generators of tax revenues. We would like to invite all of the citizens of the Panhandle and West Texas who have an interest in any of these subjects to appear and testify."

The public is invited to attend and testify.

Memorial Day

At Gettysburg, at San Juan Hill,
In Flanders Fields now all is still,
But men still drill and march away
Like you who made Memorial Day.

In Normandy, and on Bataan,
At Inchon, Khe Sanh, and in Iran,
Selflessly the need you met,
And now we know we must not forget.

Those who fought and those who fell,
To hear the bell of freedom knell,
We crouch beside your graves today,
These wreaths of vernal buds to lay.

And to you who died for freedom's sake,
A pledge to carry on we make:
The torch that you so bravely bore
Shall be our beacon evermore.
We pray that by its guiding light
We'll find our course and hold it right.
We hope it may throughout the years
Bring an end to blood and tears.

For we're a nation proud and free,
And sometimes it is hard to see
Where friendship for our cause abides
And where a foe of freedom hides.

You have found peace while we still weep
And wait o'er charges we must keep.
There'll be no peace until we find
A way that's just for all mankind.
—William J. Acker

Commission issues six pipeline permits in April

Railroad Commission Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent has announced that six permits to operate new pipelines in Texas were granted by the RRC in April. In March, the Commission approved 14 permits. Four of the new permits were for gathering pipelines and 2 were for distribution and other lines. Gathering lines bring oil and gas from production leases, while trunk lines are larger diameter lines into which smaller lines connect.

In April, one operating permit was approved for a pipeline in the San Antonio area (District 1), two in the Refugio area (District 2), and one each in Southeast Texas (District 3), deep South Texas (District 4), and East Central Texas (District 5).

Gathering line permits approved: Terra Resources, Inc., Houston, gas, two lines - one in Live Oak County and one in Lavaca County; S&J Operating Company, Wichita Falls, gas, Duval and Jim Hogg Counties; and TXP Operating Company, Houston, gas, Henderson County.

Distribution line and other permits approved: City Public Service Board, San Antonio, gas, Bexar County; and Petroleum Transmission, Inc., San Antonio, gas, Fayette County.

National Eye Care Project

If you know a disadvantaged elderly person who needs medical eye care, ask them to call this toll-free Helpline: 1-800-222-EYES (1-800-222-3937).

Eligible callers will be referred to a nearby eye physician and surgeon (ophthalmologist) who will provide the care at no out-of-pocket cost.

The National Eye Care Project (NECP) is sponsored by the state society of eye physicians and surgeons and the Foundation of the American Academy of Ophthalmology. It is designed to make medical eye care available to persons age 65 or older who might otherwise not receive critical care to preserve their sight.

To be eligible, a person must be:

--age 65 or older.

--financially unable to pay for the care.

--In addition, the person must not currently be the patient of an ophthalmologist who is providing medical eye care.

Eye glasses, prescription drugs, and hospital care are not provided by the program.

More than 215,000 persons have called the NECP, and thousands have been treated for potentially blinding eye diseases. The number to call: 1-800-222-EYES.

(That's 1-800-222-3937.)

Remember family or friends with Special Occasion, Get Well or Memorial cards.

Sad facts of life—square meals make round people.

We are so thankful for the much needed rains, even if it was spotted. Coleman Foreman received 3 1/10. My gauge showed with the three rains 1/2 of 4/10 in. We all agree the wind has been showing off the last two days.

Helen Alexander and Selma Dietz attended the two day Senior Adult Baptist Incampment in Brownwood, heard several real good programs and speakers.

Sorry to hear Coleman Foreman has been suffering with an infection and ear ache for the last three days and other complications.

Bro. Oscar and Janie Fanning, and Selma Osborne ate Sunday dinner with Nila and Therin Osborne, later in the afternoon Nila and Janie went to Winters and visited with Viola Foster. Bro. Oscar and Therin visited with Adeline Grissom and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Parks.

Carolyn and Chad Kraatz attended daughter, Melinda's, piano recital in Winters Sunday afternoon.

Paula and Dee Bnea Baker spent several days in San Antonio this past week with her college days room-mate, Cindy, and her little daughter.

Jessie Ray Klutts, Dangerfield, spent Saturday and Sunday with Doris and Marion Wood.

Many more happy Birthdays Wanda Sims and Wendy Leib, which was Monday, May 23.

Gladys Cotton, Ballinger, came out to see Mrs. Effie Dietz on Tuesday. Selma Osborne came on Saturday to say hello.

Betty and Marvin Gray came during the week and brought Marie Kurtz some reading material. I dropped in for a while on Saturday.

Judy and Ernest Cooke ate dinner with Selma and Hazel Dietz on Saturday.

"Notice" for the people coming to Bernie and Rodney's Thursday night, please bring chairs.

Bernie Faubion, Gene and Melinda Kraatz attended Brian's concert Thursday night. Brian received most improved saxophone player.

Congratulations Keith Gerhart for receiving two school awards for having high grade points in his class.

On Friday Bernie and Gene Faubion and Keith Gerhart attended the Athletic Banquet in Winters. Bernie is looking forward to her mom, Betty Whittemore, coming on Monday from Pueblo, Colorado.

Katherine Thomas, Dallas, spent most of the week with Adeline Grissom.

Hazel Mae Bragg entertained Monday at a bridge club. Those who came were Dee Faubion, Netta Kirby and Jo McWilliams.

I enjoyed Sunday dinner with the Rodney Faubion family in the home of Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion. Bernie prepared the Mexican dinner, "what a treat."

There was a birthday dinner in the home of Robert and Claudia Hill, honoring daughter, Eugenia and Ronald Hill of Sweetwater. Others who came were Carol and Shane McCowan, Snyder, and Mike Hill of Sweetwater.

"Happy Birthday Guys"
I truly enjoyed your nice long letter Larry of Pecos. There will be an answer.

Wee Care School visits Abilene Zoo

On Thursday, the Wee Care School of First United Methodist Church went to the Abilene Zoo to complete the first year of the program. Thirteen adults and seventeen children were on hand to celebrate this occasion. After touring the zoo and feeding the animals the group had a picnic at a nearby park. There was still time to run and play before the trip home.

Next year the preschool will run two mornings a week, following the regular school year. Ages 3 and 4 are eligible. September's tuition of $30 is a non-refundable payment due by June 15 to hold a place for your child. Please get this to Laurie Franklin to officially register. There are still three openings available for next year. For more information contact any preschool committee member: David Evans, Kandy Sheppard, Ann McNulty, Mike and Nancy Davis, Kathi Edwards, and Laurie Franklin. Information booklets and registration packets are available at the church office from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Monday through Friday.
