"I need your blood" says Bob Whitt of United Blood Services. Susan Conner of Winters cheerfully donates a pint of blood for North Runnels Hospital. Thirty-six pints were donated Tuesday, July 31, by Winters area residents to help with the area blood supply.

Winters residents attend aircraft gathering at Oshkosh, Wisconsin

Local resident and pilot K. W. Cook and his young friend Matt Harrison took in one of the world's largest aircraft exhibitions last month. The Experimental Aircraft Association's Oshkosh exhibition brings aviation enthusiasts from all over the world to the small city of Oshkosh, Wisconsin each summer.

Cook has attended the show every year since 1979 and usually carries someone with him who is interested in aviation each year. This year his passenger was young Matt Harrison, 11 year-old son of Phil and Vicki Harrison. Cook and Harrison departed

Winters airport on July 26 for the 6 1/2 hour flight in Cook's Piper Comanche. With one stop enroute, they arrived, along with many thousands of other planes, in time to see some of the sights that afternoon.

Approximately 3,000 homebuilt planes were flown and exhibited at Oshkosh this year with 8,000 other planes in attendance. Most of those flying in to the show stay in tents near their plane. There are showers available and port-a-johns for the necessities, according to Cook.

Many old warbirds are on exhibit and aerobatic exhibitions are a daily occurrence. The EAA

Museum covers two square blocks with models of homebuilt planes as well as many full size planes.

On Saturday, July 28, over 400,000 people attended the event. Mr. Cook said that even that day, not a bit of trash could be found on the grounds any where but where it belonged. There are no alcoholic beverages sold or allowed on the grounds, nor is smoking allowed.

Matt enjoyed taking in the sights at his first Oshkosh and plans to be an aeronautical engineer and attend the University of Texas. Mr. Cook says he's looking forward to next year.

Matt Harrison stands in front of the Stealth Tactical Fighter at the Experimental Aircraft Association exhibition in Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Football practice to start August 13 for 1990 Blizzards

Head football coach, Dan Slaughter, has announced the practice schedule for members of the Blizzard football team.

Practice will begin on Monday, August 13, with two-a-days. First practice will be from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. and the second practice of the day will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continues until 7:30 p.m.

All incoming freshmen and transfer students are required to obtain physical examinations before being allowed to practice. The first four days of practice will be in shorts and the first day of practice in pads will be on Friday with an intrasquad scrimmage scheduled for 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 18.

Any student expecting to play football this year but who will not be present for the start of two-a-days should notify one of the coaches as soon as possible. Winters High School football coaches for the 1990 school year are Dan Slaughter, head coach and assistants Chuck Lipsey, Jeff Butts, Jimmy Randolph and Chuck Cathey.

Centennial Celebration financial report

Winters Centennial Celebration has reported as of July 31 that all bills have been paid with income derived from the various activities. As of this time it appears that in the neighborhood of $.35 to $.40 may be returned to shareholders at the end of the fiscal year on August 31.

General Chairman Randall Conner reports that although no profit was made from the overall activities, it is felt by the corporate officers that the town did well. There is still some inventory of mementoes and souvenirs which may or may not be sold in the future which could add some more income. No more expenses are anticipated at this time.

Conner says, "I think the people of Winters can be proud of their Centennial Celebration and the activities of the year."

A complete financial report and balance sheet is available for examination by anyone who is interested at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Rains continue to fall in Winters area

With the passing of a cool front on Sunday, the Winters area received more rain. Quantities from 1.5 to more than 2 inches fell in the immediate area.

New drug investigator for County

Jerry Gibbs has been hired by the Rio Concho Multi Agency task force and assigned to the Runnels County sheriff's office according to Sheriff Bill Baird. Gibbs' duties will be 100% drug law enforcement and he will also be working as an investigator in Concho and Coke counties also.

The new investigator's salary and benefits will be paid by the Rio Concho Multi Agency Task Force. Gibbs has been in law enforcement for five years and is a resident of Ballinger.

He requests that any information pertaining to illicit drugs may be directed to him through the Runnels County sheriff's office or the Winters or Ballinger Police Departments.

WHS band begins rehearsals on August 13

The Winters High School Blizzard Band will begin its summer rehearsals at 9:55 a.m. at the Band Hall Monday morning, August 13.

Rehearsals will be Monday through Friday from 9:55 a.m. until 12 noon and 7:30 p.m. until 9 p.m. every day from August 13-August 24, with section rehearsals from 2 to 3 p.m. daily.

All parents are invited to come and watch the rehearsals.

The Blizzard Band will be under the direction of Stephen Henry.

School class schedules, orientation day to be August 16

August 16 is the date for all 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grade students in Winters schools to pick up class schedules. Schedules will be available in the High School Auditorium at 9 a.m.

Seventh grade students and other secondary students new to Winters Secondary School will meet in the auditorium for orientation and class schedules at 2 p.m. on August 16. A short program will be presented by the Student Council, cheerleaders and TAFE representatives. Following the program, students will be taken on a tour of the building and campus.

Parents are invited and encouraged to attend the orientation program.

It has also been announced that High School annuals will be handed out in the library on the 16th.

City Council works on budget, no tax increase anticipated

The Winters City Council has been working on the next fiscal year budget for the City at the last two meetings. At a special called meeting at City Hall on Tuesday, July 31, the Mayor and Council worked on the general fund budget. At the regular meeting held on Monday, August 6, work on the water/sewer portion of the budget was discussed. After reviewing the proposed budget figures, the Mayor and Council has said they believe the anticipated budget can be met with no tax increase.

At the special meeting on July 31, Fire Chief Johnny Merrill discussed anticipated needs of the Winters Volunteer Fire Department for the coming year. He also encouraged the Council to begin looking toward the purchase of a new or newer pumper truck for the department. The current pumpers are nearly 30 years of age and the state has stringent requirements as to the approval of use of trucks of that age.

At the special meeting, bids were to be opened for the replacement of the standpipe in the north water tower, but no bids were received. City Administrator Charles Ludwick was to inquire as to someone who might be interested in doing the work. An ordinance to extend the 40 mph speed limit on Highway 153 was adopted by the Council also. The Texas Department of Highways and Transportation had requested the speed limit be lowered to 40 mph an additional 600 feet east. The 40 mph speed limit had extended to the east side of North Runnels Hospital and will now extend 600 feet further east.

At the regular meeting on August 6 the Council reviewed the proposed water/sewer budget for the 1990-91 fiscal year. The Council also approved a letter of intent to be sent to the Texas Department of Aviation concerning the needed work at the Winters Airport.

A previous request had been approved, but it was indicated that money would not be available until 1994. After an inspection by the state and the submission of the letter of intent, it is hoped money will be made available in October.

After some discussion as to what could be done to help Winters in its quest for more growth, the Council voted to pay routine bills and adjourned.

New Band Director at Winters High

Band Director, Stephen Henry

The new band director for Winters schools for the 1990-91 school year is Stephen Henry.

Mr. Henry received a BME from Angelo State University in 1987. He is currently working on a Master of Music degree at the University of North Texas in the area of Music Theory with a secondary area of computer assisted instruction in Music Education. His areas of expertise include tuba, conducting, voice, theory and piano. He formerly served as band director in Floydada, Texas.

Mr. Henry will begin band practices on August 13, for all Winters High School band members and encourages all parents to observe rehearsals.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles

Unfortunately, this country finds itself in the midst of the worst budget shortfall ever, and the guys we have elected to take care of things like that are apparently perplexed about what to do about it. Let's see, they could reduce spending and reduce the deficit. Naah. That might make somebody angry and end the $85,000 per year free ride they're on. OK. They are 'forced' to raise taxes, but they will camouflage it by calling it 'revenue enhancement' and levy it on big business and 'sin' items like alcohol and tobacco. Oil companies are a prime target because they are perceived as cash machines that can spare any amount of money to dig any Congressman out of a budgetary hole.

Wened to wake up and 'smell the coffee.' Any tax on any business or any product will find its way to the consumer. And when it does, it will put a drag on the economy. In some way, we will all pay the price.

I digress. The title of this column implies that I will concentrate on the oil and gas business. So be it. There are a myriad of taxes under consideration by the federal government that will affect the energy industry, and it will do us good to review them.

The tax proposals are broken up into three categories. Gasoline taxes, BTU taxes, and import fees. Socialists like all of them, environmentalists like most of them (because they might curb fuel usage and thus pollution), producers could live with some of them, and refiners are biting their nails hoping none will be enacted.

Taking them one at a time: The gasoline taxes include proposals to raise the federal excise tax on gasoline between 10 and 15 cents per gallon, which would raise $10 to $20 billion per year for the government. Of course, the Californians think it is unfair to them because they like expensive cars that happen to have poor fuel economy. Same goes for the northeastern states. Producers stand to lose or gain very little in the short term, but longer term effects may include lower oil prices due to a drop in demand for gasoline. Refiners will lose as a result of lessening of demand due to higher gasoline prices in the short and long term. This tax is a very politically volatile proposal because consumers (also voters) would see the effect on their pocketbooks almost immediately.

The BTU tax proposals basically consist of a 3% to 10% sales tax on all forms of energy consumed. This would include gasoline, fuel oil, diesel, natural gas, methanol, ethanol, liquified natural gas, etc. It would raise less than $10 billion per year. No types of consumer would be spared. Not only would motorists and truckers be hit (like in the gas tax case) but also those who cook their food and heat their homes with gas, farmers who fill their tractors with diesel and propane, and campers who use Coleman Fuel to cook their catfish. It appears such a tax would face such severe opposition from so many fronts it will have very little chance for passage. Not to mention that it would be a nightmare to administer and enforce.

The import fee group has a lot of support from producers and great opposition from refiners and foreign producers. It has the potential to add $15 Billion (at $5/bbl) to the federal coffers and prop up the domestic industry. But, alas, there is no free lunch. Eventually, it would artificially depress demand and the long term outlook for domestic producers would not improve that much. Consuming states are going to be hard to convince that this is a good thing, while producing states will be scrambling to get behind such a proposal. Consumer prices of all energy would probably go up and, again, the mighty consumer and voter may have a hand in killing this idea. Congressmen further hurt the case for such fees by proposing exemptions and special allowances, etc. that will make administering the fees almost impossible.

Two common denominators in all of these proposals is that the economy would suffer overall because of the tax inefficiency (loss in productivity and profit) and consumers would be hit with higher costs. And, even the CEO of Exxon is a consumer at some point.

All of this brings me back to my original point. Taxes are not such a good idea in any case. Cutting spending seems to be more appropriate, unless of course me or my neighbor happen to be recipients of any of those federal funds. But, that is different— isn't it? Sound familiar? Cut others benefits but don't touch mine! I think this is the real root of the problem. Someday, somebody is going to have to gut-up and say: "Cut everybody's, including mine." Any volunteers?

First horizontal well drilled in Coleman County

The Herring -122- #2H has become the first modern horizontal completion in Coleman County. The operator, Brent A. Wagman of Abilene is holding all information 'tight' on the newly completed well, but limited information is available.

The well was drilled to a depth of 4112 feet and a true vertical depth of 3673 feet. A 'drain-hole' or horizontal section stretches approximately 832 feet from 3280 to 4112 feet. The completion is in the Dog Bend formation, which has some of the characteristics of other horizontal targets, even though the formation may not actually be fractured.

The well was drilled vertically into the Dog Bend and then at least 500 feet deeper to test for other plays. Apparently, no zones between the Dog Bend (Top at 3194) and 3673 (TVD) were found. The well was plugged back to 2934 feet, and then drilled horizontally to its final total depth of 4112. Win-Tex drilling is the contractor.

The reported initial rate for the well is 53 BOPD and 4 BWPD, flowing with 240 psi on the tubing (surface) with a 22/64 choke. A well at that rate would be profitable, but the question that will likely be posed prior to further development is whether such an initial rate provides sufficient return on investment.

The Methodist's Message

Wee Care School begins registration for 1990-1991

Wee Care School is a ministry for three and four year old children offered by the First United Methodist Church of Winters. It is a non-profit, self-supporting, outreach program.

Classes will be held from 9:00 am until 12 noon on Monday and Thursday. The first day of school will be September 6, 1990. Students need to be three or four years of age by that date.

The child/staff ratio will be no greater than eight/one.

A monthly tuition of $25 will be due and payable on the first class day of each month. A one time nonrefundable registration and supply fee of $15 is due by the first class session.

Limited financial aid will be available for some students, subject to approval by the Financial Aid sub-committee. Information will be available through the Director. The preschool will need a copy of your child's completed immunization record.

The lead teacher for the 1990-1991 school year is Chris Paramore. Sarabeth Heidenheimer will begin her first year with the preschool as an aide. The Preschool Director is Laurie Franklin. Mary Wilkerson is beginning her first year as the preschool committee chairman.

The registration forms are available at the First United Methodist Church office from 8:30 am until 12 noon every day.

Paul Adams to speak to Senior Adults at First Baptist Church August 9

Paul Adams of San Angelo will be the speaker for senior adults at a covered dish luncheon held in First Baptist Fellowship Hall Thursday, August 9, at noon.

Adams is director of the Rehabilitation program for adults at Shannon Hospital. He will also present a film on functions of the heart.

Those wishing to play games of dominos and 42 may come at 10:30 for this activity.

Reservations are now open for the Senior Adult Chautauqua at Glorieta, New Mexico from September 24-28. This event is sponsored by the Triple L Club of First Baptist Church.

Those wishing to attend may call the church office for information. A $50 deposit is due by August 19. This is an exciting week of Bible Study and fellowship in the cool mountains of New Mexico.

FROM A GOLDFISH BOWL

BY PASTOR STEVE BYRNE

The VCR is a great invention. Now I get to sit in my living room and watch movies I wanted to see for less than the price of one movie ticket. If I have to go to the restroom, or want a snack, I simply punch the stop button. And I don't miss any of the action, if there is any in that particular movie to miss.

At my age, movies are not a social event. I don't care to drive an hour to go into a dark place to not say anything, watch a show, and drive an hour home.

When I was a teenager, it was a social event. I can remember one time I took a girl to a movie I had already seen. It wasn't very good. She had already seen it, too. But we were hoping that something would happen during the movie. Something which usually didn't happen for me. Something between the two of us.

It was our first date. I'm not sure if anything all that social, profound, or anticipated happened that night. I do know that I watch most VCR movies with her these days. Something social must have happened, either that night or some subsequent night. Evidence, Sean and Ryan. And our 20th anniversary in June.

These days, movies are not social events for me. Parties, tennis, ball games - social events. Not movies.

When I was in Odessa, I went to a health club and either worked out on weights or played racquetball five days a week. When we moved to Winters, I bought a GYMPAC to work out on upstairs. Occasionally I go up and oil it. Just in case I ever decide to get serious about getting my body into shape. I carry around the evidence of this truth wherever I go. Working out is not only an exercise program. It is also social, in nature.

Being a part of a church is the same thing. Both a social event AND a spiritual exercise. God intended it to be that way.

Lots of folks talk themselves into watching TV/VCR type church on the tube and say that this is church. But Scriptural witness asks not so much, "What did you get out of Church?" as "How are you using what you got out of Church to build up the people of God?"

Watching a movie is still not a social function, by nature. Being Christian IS!

One is a spectator sport. The other is NOT! Some things are meant to be kept to yourself. Other things are to be shared.

Blessed are those who know the difference!

Biggest Thrill and Most Terrible Tragedy

Before Tom Green County was created in 1874, there were five settlements in the area. The two largest were Benficklin, four miles up the river from Fort Concho, and San Angelo, across the river from Fort Concho. These two more populous places contended strongly for the honor of being the county seat.

Benficklin won the honor, but soon San Angelo became the county seat when a flood destroyed Benficklin and the dreams of its people.

The Tom Green Times of August 24, 1882 reported: "By daylight, the middle Concho had reached 30 feet above its level and was still rising.

The river reached its highest point of 46.5 feet about 4 p.m. on Thursday. As all the streams except the North Concho River converged above Benficklin, the little county seat was doomed under a 45 foot wall of ravaging flood water. All the houses disappeared in a current which melted stone walls like snow in June.

The death toll was estimated much higher but only 65 bodies were found. This number became accepted as the death toll. San Angelo became the county seat immediately after the flood. In 1884 property was purchased, and a courthouse was built.

The high tide of the 1882 flood waters was marked on a cliff at Paint Rock with a hatchet by Harvey Ratchford. (From article written by Rev. M. T. Elliott in 1976 in the Historian.)

The introduction was written to give us the setting for L. P. (Luce) Wood's story, and to which we now return.

"It was in 1882 that the Concho (commonly called Ben Ficklin) flood took place. Our line camp was at the mouth of Amos Branch, about 12 miles below Paint Rock, right across the Concho River from D. C. Melton's house. That flood swept the entire site of Ben Ficklin, a town, located on the main Concho, as clean as a slate. Coming on down it took everything before it.

"We cowboys put in all our time trying to help all we could, and roped everything in that river, from cattle, horses and human beings to baby's cradles. Some of the folk were already dead and some were clinging to the houstopps and other diverse things! It was terrible to see and not be able to do more than we were, and yet we did all we could.

"The Cardwell family, some five miles below our camp, living in a tent while their house was being completed, were all drowned at one time, excepting Mr. Cardwell. All of the bodies, that is his wife and two children, were found a couple of days after drowning. But one child was searched for for more than a week, when Frog Coffey, a cowboy, found her in a big drift near the mouth of the Colorado River.

"Mr Cardwell said he was ready and wanted to die, and he did that night. We boys helped to take up the bodies of the wife and two children, and the five of them were buried in one grave at Paint Rock, one day later. It was the saddest occasion I have ever witnessed, just as that river at its height was the most spectacular. There were 72 people drowned in that flood and no telling how much property was destroyed."

Stayed with 7-4-H outfit until fences came in

"I am like all the other boys that lived through wire-cutting time, never actually saw it done; but I got to the O. H. Triangle Ranch just about an hour after it had its fence riddled. It was a long pull and a hard one for the cowmen who had come out and fought the Indians off to see the sheepmen and 'nesters' as they called the farmer then, buy the land and fence them out. But it had to be, and after all was best, for it changed the country from open range to good farms with schools, improvements and conveniences then unheard of.

"It wasn't easy for us boys, used to going to all the big roundups from Brown County to the Pecos, to go back to stock farming instead. As for myself, I have always had a right smart bunch of cattle and always hope to have.

But if I ever find another roundup like they used to be, I sure will go and relive the old times over and be a real cowboy again!"

St. John's Preschool to begin September 4

St. John's Christian Preschool year will start Tuesday, September 4, 1990. Classes will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 11 a.m. on Tuesday. Children who will be three or four years old by September 1, 1990 are invited to attend. There are a few vacancies in each class at this time.

Registrations need to be in by August 10. Registration blanks may be picked up at the church office from 1-4 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Mary Kurtz, director, will be glad to answer any questions if you call 754-5182.

A gift of clothing was presented to the museum by C. J. Cornett. A note written by his late wife, Willie Bell Cornett, accompanied the clothing:

"Papa bought the pants and coat about 1900. He wore the suit when he married December 1, 1907. He also wore it in 1957 and again in 1967. The suit was still a fit.

"Mama's wedding dress was made into dresses for the girls. For her 60th anniversary, Flora Virden wore a dress that resembled her wedding dress. It was made by Margaret Bryan.

"Mother's coat was bought when Gene was a baby. We loved the feel of the soft plush. She wore it many years."

Now AmWest can give you something few banks can...

A good night's sleep.

Now AmWest has "DreamSaver"—a savings program designed to bring peace of mind to all those who worry about saving money.

Here's how it works: You tell AmWest how much you want to save every month, (as little as $25 if you like) and they'll deduct it automatically from a free checking account (that's right, free checking) and put it into a CD account. Keep your money there for a full 12 months and it will earn a high-interest CD rate. Take it out early, and you'll get a penalty — three months interest or $50.

So "DreamSaver" not only helps you save money on a regular monthly basis — it helps you keep your hands off it too. And with a little money in savings — a good night's sleep will come a whole lot easier.

Put Your Money on Texas.

Substantial penalty for early withdrawal. Interest paid quarterly. Rates subject to change without notice.

Remember when we had a little folding money? Now we have folding banks.

Our sympathy to the family and relatives of Bro. James Powers who passed away Friday in Humana Hospital, Abilene, he was buried Sunday. At one time the Powers lived in our community, James and Virginia were my neighbors to the north.

I would say 3/4 of our folks out here attended the Farm Bureau Barbecue Thursday night in Ballinger.

Happy Birthday to Adilene Grissom Tuesday, July 31; Amantina Faubion, August 6; Brenda Jacob, Sunday, August 5; Casey Alexander, Tuesday, August 7; and Calli Johnson 3 years old Sunday, August 5.

Congratulations to Margie and Walter Jacob on their 43rd anniversary. Their plans were rained out, but don't think they minded too much to see the 3 inches of rain.

Chester McBeth spent Saturday with his sister, Mable White, in Tuscola.

Bernie Faubion spent Tuesday with sister, Kathy and Danny Phillips, in Abilene.

Bro. Oscar and Janie Fanning, Abilene, Nila and Therin Osborne, Melvina and Marvin Gerhart enjoyed Sunday after church services dinner with Bernie and Rodney Faubion. Kathy Phillips, Abilene, spent Monday with the Faubions.

Anna Terhune of Arlington came Monday and spent several days with her mother, Lilly Presley. On Tuesday they drove to Lometa and visited Charlie and Doretta Gerhart.

Adilene Grissom, Katherine and Luke Thomas spent Friday in Abilene with Phyllis, Von, Jeff and Jennifer Byrd. On Tuesday Phyllis came and stayed until Wednesday.

Eula Mae Graham and Louise Walters, Ft. Worth, are spending several days with Doris and Marion Wood. Frances Mincey spent a few days in Austin with a friend.

Enjoying supper Friday night with Nila and Therin Osborne were, L. C. and Ouita Foster, Carlton and Deloris Parks, Karen, Wesley, John and Sefanie McCallian and Louise Osborne.

Gary Hill, Eastland, spent the weekend with Claudia Hill. Mike Hill came on Saturday.

Pat, Allen, Page and Paul Bishop attended great-niece, Calli Johnson's 3rd birthday party in Bronte Sunday. Others there were, Cindy, Bailey and Gus Saunders, Paula Johnson and Mr. Herman Curry.

Aileen Prater and Barbara Heathcott attended a Teacher's Workshop in Brownwood Thursday.

Ruth Pape received a phone call from her son, Mike Craig, in Italy, he has been stationed there for over two years. He is returning back to the states, Ruth and Brad will meet his plane Monday night at 11 p.m. in Abilene. He will visit other relatives while here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dobbins, Corra Petrie and Hazel Mae Bragg ate out Sunday at the Peachtree Restaurant after church services Sunday.

Closing I'll report my rain. It rained Sunday most of the day, the gauge had 3 1/2 inches. I didn't believe my eyes either. Haven't heard anyone complaining about too much rain "yet."

Farm equipment loans available to local farmers and ranchers

Winters area farmers and ranchers will find it less expensive to finance the purchase of new and used equipment through a new Texas Production Credit Association loan program, effective August 1, 1990.

The program offers a stated fixed rate of 9.95 percent for loans up to five years with no repayment penalty. All qualified farmers and ranchers in Texas are eligible.

"This program is intended to help local farmers and ranchers make equipment purchases in time for the coming harvest season," said Ken Smith, Texas PCA president.

Financing is available for the purchase of such things as tractors, combines, or other farm and ranch equipment.

Established in 1933 in Texas, Production Credit Associations are specialized agricultural lending institutions owned by farmer-borrowers and managed by agricultural financing professionals. PCAs are part of the nationwide Farm Credit System.

Additional information on the equipment loan program may be obtained at any Texas PCA office or by calling (915) 944-9265.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, many of the young men and women of the State of Texas have entered the service of the United States Armed Forces; WHEREAS, their self sacrifice and heroism has brought to the realization of all Texans of their great worth;

WHEREAS, the Veterans Land Board was established to provide a means for the State of Texas to show its appreciation and gratitude for the service and sacrifice and these fine young men and women; and

WHEREAS, many of the young men and women for whom the Veterans Land Board was created to benefit have not availed themselves of its benefits, and may not be aware of their benefits as Texas Veterans; and

WHEREAS, the Veterans Land Board, under the leadership of Gary Mauro, has established a number of programs to inform all eligible veterans of their rights and benefits as Texas Veterans, one of which programs is a veterans awareness seminar;

NOW THEREFORE, in recognition of the Texas Veterans Land Board's efforts to inform all Texas Veterans of their rights and benefits, the City of Winters, Texas hereby proclaims the week of August 12 - August 18, 1990, to be Texas Veterans Land Board Awareness Week.

Local Scout explores Bahamas

J' Dan Miller displays some of the conch shells he gathered while diving in the Bahamas.

J' Dan Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller of Winters, recently returned home after participating in a sailing trip to the Bahamas. J'Dan was one of a group of Explorer Scouts to travel to the Caribbean. Leaders of his group were Mr. & Mrs. Keith Wells of Abilene.

The first leg of the adventure took J' Dan and his group on a drive to Louisiana then Florida. Overnight stays during the drive were spent at various Army or Air Force bases.

After leaving Miami, the scouts spent seven days aboard the Sundancer, a 65-foot wind-jammer. Daily activities included sailing, diving, fishing with spears and poles, and eating lots of fish.

An added attraction was a shopping excursion to the straw market in Nassau, Bahamas.

The group also enjoyed a few days at Disney World and Epcot Center in Florida before heading back home to Texas.

J' Dan says the entire trip went much too quickly and he plans to make a repeat visit, possibly next year. He extends his gratitude to all who have helped him work through the ranks of scouting - from Cub Scouts, to Boy Scouts, to Explorers, and to those who made this memorable trip possible.

Twain Talk

by Twyla Twain

Do you go to garage sales? You know, those wonderful, exciting events where you spend money on junk that somebody else got sick and tired of having around.

Junk that you buy just because you don't want that snippy little old lady to beat you to it. Stuff that seems great at the time you plunk down the money, but makes you question your sanity once you get it home in good light.

As buyers, we let our pride and ego lead the way and toss good sense out the broken-but-still-works window. We'll waste an hour fretting, pondering, and haggling over spending 50¢, trying to work down to 35¢. Then how about 30¢? Do you realize we're working for less than one-tenth of minimum wage at this point?

Tell me. Why would a supposedly intelligent person buy just one roller skate? Or a toaster that could be used on death row if it's plugged in? What does a size 48 woman do with a size 6 dress? Maybe the purchaser of all those back issues of National Geographic knows something we don't.

And as sellers of goods we are just as strange. Why do we try to sell one sock? Or a car battery that's leaking acid everywhere? Do we really think we can get rid of three cans of dried-up Play-Dough? Yet we persevere.

If you think you're really strong-willed and physically fit, try getting to a garage sale the minute it opens. Now don't rely on the advertised time because you can bet your last quarter that a skilled band of bargain hunters will be gathered before the crack of dawn and at least a good hour earlier than expected.

Beware. These people are professionals. They'll go right past the set of broken bongos and the bell-bottom double knit pants. They can spot a piece of genuine antique glass from down the block and know exactly what it's worth, all the while offering you 25¢ "just to help you get rid of stuff."

But I'm not one to criticize such a talented breed of shoppers. Some of these folks are downright serious about their garage sale lives. They plan their entire week around the schedules and locations of upcoming sales. They map out swift and effective strategies to allow them to cover forty sales in one day. Something like a commando raid.

I propose the idea that some governmental agency be formed to organize something like "Selected League of United Garage Sales." "S.L.U.G.S." for short. Members would, on an appointed day at a specific time, participate in a huge, national fruit basket turnover type of sale.

Everybody would be able to get rid of all their unwanted treasures but also be required to take in someone else's castoff collection. Members would keep their "new" stuff for a year then repeat the whole process.

Say, maybe if we play our cards just right we could plan this new holiday right after Thanksgiving. Can you think of a better way to solve all those shopping problems?

Just transfer all your garage sale stuff and say "Merry Christmas" at the same time. Think about it.

Vocational Agriculture Teachers Assoc. celebrated anniversary

Clouds of World War II were looming and the U. S. would soon be in the middle of that conflict. Ahead was the need for the greatest food production era in the history of mankind. It was in the face of such overwhelming circumstances that the Agriculture Teachers banded together for self improvement and put together the greatest food production machinery the world had known at the time.

The Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas celebrated its 50th Anniversary on Thursday evening, August 2, 1990. The banquet was sponsored by the Central Power & Light Company, Robert R. Carey, President and CEO. The association was organized on November 2, 1940 in College Station, Texas. Congressman Charles Stenholm, District 17, Stamford, Texas, gave the keynote address at the banquet. The association also recognized W. H. Meischen, Executive Director of the Association, for his twenty-five years of leadership and service to his chosen profession. Prior to his work as the Association Executive Director, he taught Vocational Agriculture in the Raymondville I.S.D. for sixteen years.

A State Membership Meeting for the VATAT was held in conjunction with the 50th year celebration on Thursday evening. Tom Heffernan, Association President from Pleasanton, conducted the meeting. On Friday, August 3, area meetings were conducted and the conference adjourned at 12 noon.

State leaders in agriculture were in attendance throughout the week. Activities and entertainment were also planned throughout the four day meeting for the spouses.

Letter to the Editor

Winters Area Chamber of Commerce
To whom it may concern:

I received your package on 7-26-90. I just wanted to say thank you so much for the two pins and two buttons they are a nice addition to my collection. I always make it a point to thank the person who sends a pin to me. It was a very nice surprise to receive these pins and buttons. I have now about 200 pins in my collection, my framed pin set is now almost complete. So again thank you I really appreciate all of your help.

Thank you

Mrs. Alton Ray Schaefer

Rose-Schaefer vows exchanged

Marla Lee Rose and Alton Ray Schaefer were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony on Saturday, August 4, 1990, in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Ballinger. Father Louis Moeller performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James D. Rose of Uvalde. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schaefer of Ballinger.

The back altar had urns filled with mixed white flowers accented with pink alstermerias and baby's breath. The two side altars were adorned with hurricane lamps, Star-of-Bethlehem, miniature carnations, pink alstermerias and baby's breath which were arranged on mirrors. The same flowers encircled an ornate brass holder that held a pearlized unity candle. Burgundy roses and greenery tied with white lace ribbons marked the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white crystalline organza. Chantilly lace adorned with sequins and pearls enhanced the basque bodice and wedding band collar. Puff sleeves tapered to a bridal point at the wrist. The extra full skirt and attached chapel train featured a band of chantilly lace above double organza ruffles. A large organza bow at the bodice back caught ruffles that fell to the skirt hem. Motifs of lace accented with pearls and sequins were scattered throughout the skirt.

Complimenting her attire, Marla wore a headband of silk flowers and pearl sprays. A fluted puff of silk illusions topped the rolled edged veil.

The bride carried a cascade of white roses interspersed with greenery and baby's breath.

Serving as matron of honor was Audrey Richey of Temple. Bridesmaids were Nancy Law of San Angelo; Deborah Nance of Irving; Becky Benjamin of Mineral Wells, and Pam Bierschwale of Leakey. Junior bridesmaid was Charlotte Rose of Brackettville, niece of the bride. Niece of the groom, Charlotte Schaefer of Ft. Worth, was the flower girl.

Gregory Schaefer of Ballinger was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Bernard Schaefer of Norton, brother of the groom; Mark Schaefer and J. R. Schaefer of Ballinger, cousins of the groom; Charlie Book of Miles; and Howard Pruser of Winters. Brian Rose of Brackettville, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Jim Rose of Brackettville, another nephew of the bride, carried the kneeling pillow.

Ushers were David Rose and Kyle Rose of Brackettville, brothers of the bride; Ralph Schaefer of Ballinger and Dennis Schaefer of Norton, brothers of the groom; Brooks Wallis of Colorado City, brother-in-law of the groom; Dennis Rohmfield of Ballinger; and Stanley Werner of Miles.

Organist was Janet Minzenmayer and vocalist was Teresa Strube. Altar boys were John Binder and cousin of the groom, Kevin Winchester of Ballinger. Readers of the liturgy were sisters of the groom, La Verne Wallis of Colorado City and Brenda Alexander of Plano. R. B. Alexander of Plano, brother-in-law of the groom, made a video of the ceremony.

Following the ceremony a reception and barbecue were held at the ODHS Hall in Rowena.

In the reception hall, there were wooden "heart" baskets with dusty rose silk arrangements and a "keep sake" box displayed on the register table. These all had a folk art bride and groom painted on them by the bride's mother.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Uvalde High School and attended Southwest Texas Jr. College. She graduated from Angelo State University in 1988. She is an elementary school teacher in Winters.

The groom graduated from Ballinger High School in 1979 and attended Angelo State University. He is a farmer and rancher in the Ballinger area.

After a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple will reside in Ballinger.

Anabolic Steroids: Facts Not Well Appreciated

Recently there has been more information and education available on the dangers and problems associated with anabolic steroids. However, two aspects of anabolic steroid use need to receive even more attention: the damage done to the heart, and the mood altering properties of anabolic steroids often referred to as "roid rage."

Heart Damage

Steroid use can damage the heart in three different ways. First, steroids cause the heart muscle to enlarge, just like other muscles do when steroids are used. Unfortunately, an enlarged heart muscle may close off blood flow inside the heart. Secondly, steroids cause high blood pressure, which means the heart has to work harder. A study in 1988 compared 88 male body builders who had used anabolic steroids with a control group of 13 body builders who had never used these substances. The users had generally higher blood pressure and significantly less favorable blood/fat ratios than nonusers. Thirdly, steroids elevate cholesterol, which clogs up the coronary arteries and limits the supply of oxygen available to the heart.

The medical literature is full of warnings of possible effects of steroid use on the heart and blood vessels, and there are several case reports of individuals who have suffered early heart attacks associated with their steroid abuse. Forest Tennant, M.D. in the booklet, The Steroid Heart, summarizes these dangers by saying, "Steroid users should plan on heart trouble and an early death."

Other Hazards

Like many psychoactive drugs, steroids can have unpredictable effects on mood and personality. Individuals involved in athletics may become more aggressive, thereby causing unnecessary injuries both on and off the playing field. Steroid-related personality changes may result in inappropriate anger, irrationally, destructive behavior, and "flying off the handle." A recent case report appearing in the New England Journal of Medicine described a 23-year-old male body builder who found himself unable to discontinue his steroid use without becoming depressed and having disabling fatigue. He also reported having become uncontrollably violent, paranoid, and suicidal as a result of steroid use*. In another study, two psychiatrists interviewed 41 male football players and body builders who had used steroids. One in five (22 percent) had psychotic symptoms (indications of major mental illness) following use. These researchers concluded that major psychiatric symptoms may be common adverse effects of athletes' steroid use.

The Bottom Line

The risks of steroid use are now well documented. But there is also little question that national and international competitive pressure remain intense. This, coupled with the athlete's strong desire to excel, may make it appealing to use anything that might improve athletic ability. Experts in sports medicine agree that use of anabolic steroids poses unacceptable risks to the individual.

White Sox win 2nd in district

The Robert Lee White Sox, with 3 Winters players, placed second in the District Tournament in Brownwood last week. The White Sox won three games and lost two in the tournament. The first game played by the White Sox saw them come out on the top end of a 3-2 score over the Brownwood Red Sox.

In the second game the White Sox defeated the Tye Indians 9-0. The third game, played on Wednesday, August 1, was a losing one for the White Sox against the Brownwood Yankees. The final score was 4-2 with Aaron Hood the losing pitcher. In the second game of the night, the White Sox outscored the Brownwood Red Sox 5-4.

The game was tied at the end of 6 innings 4-4 and was won in the bottom of the 7th inning. John Paul Belew pitched the first six innings, with Aaron Hood relieving in the seventh.

In the championship game, played on Thursday, the White Sox lost 7-4 to the Brownwood Yankees. Steven Harrington was the losing pitcher. This put the White Sox in second place in the District Tournament and was their final game of the season.

Manager of the White Sox is Bill Hood and the coach is Larry Hayes.

Grain Sorghum Production meeting

by Mike Mauldin
County Extension Agent-Ag
Runnels County

"The Winters Young farmers and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service annually sponsor a Grain Sorghum Variety Trial and a Field Day in the Winters area. However, the 1990 variety trials have not done well this year due to hot, dry weather in June and early July," says Randall Conner, member of the Runnels County Crops Committee and Winters Young Farmers.

Instead of a Tour and a Field Day, a Grain Sorghum Seminar will be held on Monday, August 13. The Winters Young Farmers will cook and serve hamburgers at 12 noon at the Winters City Park.

Following the meal, the program will be conducted by Tom Fuchs, Area Entomologist, Dr. Bill Warrick, Area Agronomist, Dr. Jake Landers, Range Specialist, all with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Mr. Mike Mauldin, County Extension Agent-Ag Runnels County.

If you have any questions, please call Mike Mauldin (915) 365-2219 or Randall Conner (915) 754-5373. The Variety Trials are a joint effort of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Runnels County Crops Committee, and the Winters Young Farmers.

Head Start applications being taken for 1990-91

The Winters Head Start/Child Development Center will be starting the 1990-91 program in August and applications are now being taken to determine eligibility. Children who will turn three (3) years of age by September 1, 1990 or are 4-5 years old may be eligible to enroll. Eligibility is determined based on a family's income and/or need. All eligible children will be enrolled in the Child Care Food Program (Texas Department of Human Resources) at no expense to the family, regardless of income.

Head Start is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year and what started as a pilot project for the summer months has grown to a nationwide program that is "Helping to Build Families." Since 1965, Head Start has provided a comprehensive array of preschool services and experiences to millions of children that awakens in them the joy of learning and the fun of mastering new skills.

For more information contact the Winters Multi-Purpose Center, 601 W. Pierce or call (915) 754-4325. The Head Start program, sponsored by Central Texas Opportunities, Inc., is an equal opportunity agency.

The Crop Connection

by Richard Minzenmayer
Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)
Runnels-Tom Green Counties

General Situation

Scattered showers and cloudy weather continue to persist throughout the Concho Valley. Bollworm infestations remain very variable and spider mites in Tom Green County continue to increase. Boll weevil punctures remain very low.

Bollworms & Budworms

Bollworm egg counts last week ranged from 0 to 70 eggs per 100 plants or 0 to 31,500 eggs per acre. Generally speaking, the bollworm egg lay is very low right now, but should increase dramatically this week. So be on the look out.

Bollworm larvae ranged from 0 to 33 treatable worms per 100 plants or 0 to 14,850 worms per acre. Bollworms are also variable from field to field so scout each field separately. Don't spray just because your neighbor is spraying. Remember, the economic threshold is 10 to 12 worms per 100 plants or 5,000 worms per acre.

There has been a lot of rumors going around that certain pyrethroids are not working. The fact is, if one doesn't work, none of them will work. All the pyrethroids are working well at this time. I will be the first to tell you that if we continue to use the pyrethroids as indiscriminately as we are right now, they will become less effective and probably increase our secondary pest problems substantially. I don't know what has happened to our thinking, but pest management is out and total pest elimination is in. Everyone knows this will not work very long. The system is doomed to crash.

There are lots of individuals making recommendations which do not correspond to the recommendation the Extension Service gives. When you make your pest management decision, base it on research backed information. Do not base it on hearsay. The recommendation the Extension Service gives you is based on at least 3 years worth of data. Make a wise decision.

Aphids

Increased numbers of aphids are being seen in terminals and around squares on many plants. There is a substantial increase in the number of winged aphids being found right now. This is usually a signal of an aphid infestation build up.

The suggested threshold for cotton aphids is when you have an average of 25 aphids per leaf. To figure this, pull 3 leaves per plant (top, middle, bottom) and count the number of aphids per leaf and figure the average. Do this at random, checking at least 50 plants. Don't go to the hottest spot.

Plant Growth Regulators

There has been lots of questions pertaining to Pix® lately. Remember, the best growth regulator is a good first load. A good indication of reproductive to vegetative growth is the number of nodes from the white bloom to the terminal. Optimum is when the white bloom is 4 to 5 nodes from the terminal. If the white bloom is 6 or more nodes from the terminal a Pix application is necessary. If the white bloom is 2 or 3 nodes from the terminal, cut out is fast approaching and Pix is not recommended.

Spider Mites

Spider mites are probably the number one pest in irrigated cotton right now. Spider mites are very hard and expensive to control, therefore, when making your control decision, make a wise one. Look at the economics, the past effectiveness of the miticide you going to use and realize there's a good possibility of another infestation the end of August. Tom Fuchs, Area Entomologist, and I currently have two mite tests out and will be evaluating the treatment very soon. Right now the Extension Service recommends the following products: Curacron, Capture, Zephyr, Kelthane, Comite and others.

It is not recommended to add pyrethroids (Scout X-Tra) to the miticide to increase efficiency. Your just allowing additional selection pressure on bollworms and other pests unnecessary.

Grain Sorghum Tour

The Winters Young Farmers annually sponsor the Runnels County Grain Sorghum Variety Trial and Tour. The trial was planted this year on the Gary Jacob Farm at Winters. Unfortunately, that area was exceptionally dry early in the season the rains came too late.

The Winters Young Farmers will sponsor a noon meal and special program at 12 noon on August 13 at the City Park in Winters instead of the usual Tour.

Dr. Tom Fuchs, Dr. Billy Warrick and Dr. Jake Landers will be there to discuss grain sorghum production and alternatives, such as haying and grazing, for fields that will not be combined.

The information given herein is for educational purposes only. References to commercial products or trade names is made with the understanding that no discrimination is intended and no endorsement by the Cooperative Extension Service is implied.

RUNNELS COUNTY CRIMESTOPPERS

On Tuesday night July 24, 1990, a dark blue 1988 Chevrolet Beretta was vandalized in the parking lot of the Pizza Hut in Ballinger, Tx. The vehicle belongs to Dionne White of Ballinger. Two tires were cut on this vehicle. If you have any information concerning this vandalism please call Runnels County Crimestoppers at 365-3591 or any local law enforcement agency. You do not have to give your name and your information may be worth a cash reward of up to $1000.00.

How can you move while you're standing still?

Even though you might think you are standing perfectly still, you are actually moving in five different directions, all at the same time. Here are the explanations:

First: The earth is continuously rotating on its axis, which gives us day and night.

Second: The earth is continuously orbiting the sun, travelling 600 million miles a year at a rate of 1,000 miles a minute. This gives us our seasons.

Third: Our whole solar system, the sun and all nine planets, is continuously revolving around our galaxy, the Milky Way, at a speed of 180 miles per second.

Fourth: The Milky Way itself is continuously moving at about 1,350,000 miles per hour around a cluster of galaxies.

Fifth: Some astronomers believe that there is a center to the universe and that the cluster of galaxies containing the Milky Way is continuously moving away from that center.

So even though you may think and feel as if you're standing still, you can see that this isn't so!

VETERINARY UPDATE

by Jimmy Smith, DVM

Rabies Symptoms in Small Animals

Last week we talked about rabies in large animals. This week we'll spend a little time talking about rabies in small animals.

Referring to last week's article, you'll remember that rabies is endemic to this area. It is very important that we keep our dogs and cats protected against rabies, not only for the benefit of the animal but also for the benefit of the pet owner and anyone who would be playing with the pet. It is extremely important that vaccinations be done on a regular and routine basis.

The vaccines that we have now will last longer than a year, however, it is still important that you vaccinate every year. This is recommended in our area by the Texas Department of Health because we are an endemic area.

Signs of rabies in small animals are basically the same as in large animals with one exception, that being the cat. The cat is an animal that exhibits furious rabies symptoms and is about the most aggressive animal that you've ever seen. If one of them tried to attack you, there is practically no way that that you could fend him off.

The paralytic form of rabies is also common. These animals will sometimes show some degree of aggression before they become paralyzed.

One important element that I want to point out is directed to those people who have litters of puppies and kittens. One of the favorite things for a rabid skunk to do is to invade the nest of the female dog or mother cat that has a litter and to ravage the puppies or kittens.

A lot of the rabies that we see in those animals just weaned with a history of the nest being attacked or visited by a skunk during the previous three or four weeks. It's very important that you check these litters every day. If there is a visitation by a skunk, you need to make a record of that and get in touch with me.

We get a lot of phone calls about not only wild animals, but stray animals that are suspected of rabies. It is not very safe for an untrained person to try to dispose of such an animal in any form other than by gunshot. Most people realize that and we get many animals brought into the clinic to be sent off for a rabies check. Many of these animals are shot through the head.

It is very important that if you find it necessary to put an animal down with a gun that you do not shoot the animal through the head. We must send the animal's brain to the laboratory of the Texas Department of Health and it is very important that the brain be left undisturbed. The brain is what we check for signs or lesions of rabies. So let me caution you that if you find it necessary to shoot an animal which will be checked for rabies, do not shoot it through the head. Probably the best thing to do would be to give me a call and let me advise you on how to handle the situation.

Another thing that is very important to remember is that if you do elect to take off the head of the animal to be checked, the brain must be kept at a temperature above 32 degrees and below 40 degrees Fahrenheit. The brain must be kept cool but not frozen. This will eliminate the possibility of destroying important tissue necessary for making a conclusive diagnosis.

If you have any veterinary questions you'd like answered in this column, please write The Winters Enterprise and I will be glad to print my reply.

Ask Bob Bullock

Editor's note: Bob Bullock, Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts, answers questions from taxpayers in his monthly column, "Ask Bob Bullock." If you have a question about state taxes, write to: Bob Bullock, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Austin, Texas 78774, or call 1-800-252-5555.

Dear Bob Bullock:
I feel like I've been hit with a double whammy when it comes to buying cigarettes. Since July 1, I've been paying 41 cents in excise tax on a package of cigarettes, instead of the old 26 cents per pack, and paying sales tax to boot. Is this how it's supposed to be?

"Sinning" is about to get to expensive for me!
M. E. M.
Lubbock

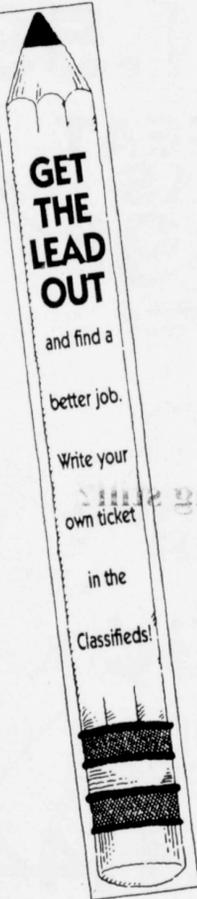

Dear M.E.M.:
The tax rates have gone up, but nothing else has changed. The federal tax is imposed on the manufacturer. Distributors pay a state tax. These expenses are then rolled into the retail price of the cigarettes. The tax you pay-the sales tax-has been collected on cigarettes since 1984.

Dear Bob Bullock:
When people replace the batteries for their hearing aids, is sales tax due?
C. J.
Beaumont
Dear C. J.:
The hearing aid is exempt, and so are the batteries to run it.

Dear Bob Bullock:
We sell vinyl and aluminum siding on a wholesale basis to contractors who in turn deal with the final user of our product. We don't sell our product to anyone on a retail basis. Do we need to collect sales tax on any of our transactions?

P. S.
Dallas
Dear P. S.:
In some cases you should collect tax. An easy rule of thumb is if the contractor gives you a resale certificate or exemption certificate, collect the tax.

CALCULATION INFORMATION FURNISHED BY RUNNELS COUNTY APPRAISAL DISTRICT

1990 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN NORTH RUNNELS HOSPITAL DISTRICT

This notice concerns 1990 property tax rates for North Runnels Hospital. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. Compare it to the tax rate the taxing unit proposes for this year. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

LAST YEAR'S TAX RATE:

Last year's operating taxes	$	277,220.34
+ Last year's debt taxes	$	41,188.45
= Last year's total taxes	$	318,408.79
÷ Last year's tax base	$	113,717,426.00
= Last year's total tax rate	$.28/$100

THIS YEAR'S EFFECTIVE TAX RATE:

Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$	318,066.97
÷ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$	115,024,295.00
= This year's effective tax rate	$.27652 /$100
x 1.03 = Maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$.28481 /$100

THIS YEAR'S ROLLBACK TAX RATE:

Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$	276,922.73
÷ This year's adjusted tax base	$	115,024,295.00
= This year's effective operating rate	$.24075 /$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$.26001 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$.03857 /$100
= This year's rollback rate	$.29858 /$100

SCHEDULE A: UNENCUMBERED FUND BALANCES

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
	-0-

SCHEDULE B: 1990 DEBTS SERVICE

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues if applicable)

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
BOND	$40,000	$4,400	-0-	$44,400
Total Required for 1990 debt service	$	$	$	44,400.00
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A	$	$	$	-0-
- Excess collections last year	$	$	$	-0-
= Total to be paid from taxes in 1990	$	$	$	44,400.00
+ Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only 100% of its taxes in 1990	$	$	$	-0-
= Total Debt Service Levy	$	$	$	44,400.00

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers receive funds for flood-damaged facilities

Public Law 101-302 was signed by President George Bush May 25, 1990 allowing for $40 million to be allocated for repairs to flood-damaged facilities at Corps lakes.

The Corps' Fort Worth District was given $12,060,000 of the allocated funds due to conditions at 16 of its 25 lakes heavily damaged by the spring floods. Repairs have already begun using Fort Worth District money in anticipation of the funds which have now been received. Every effort is being made to expend
