Timothy Torres scores the second Blizzard touchdown against Coleman with a three yard run.

Blizzards skin Bluecats, look forward to Coahoma Bulldogs

After a sluggish first quarter on the part of both teams, the Winters Blizzards went on to down the Coleman Bluecats 16-14 in a nail biter on the first Friday night of the 1990 season. The first quarter saw both teams struggle with a combined three lost fumbles and only six first downs between them.

The Blizzards had the only scoring opportunity in the first quarter when they put together a 9-play, 19-yard drive after Timothy Torres recovered a Bluecat fumble on the Coleman 28. A field goal attempt by Billy Wallar fell short.

The Bluecats scored first with 6 minutes left in the first half when quarterback Chris Nunez connected with Brice Brudeny for 51 yards and six points. The extra point try failed. Five minutes later the Blizzards answered with their first touchdown of the 1990 season with a pass from quarterback Craig Slaughter to Brandon Boles in the end zone. Billy Wallar's point-after kick was good and the Blizzards were in the lead 7-6 at halftime.

The Blizzards came out ready to play in the second half. Their first possession saw them drive 31 yards in seven plays with Timothy Torres scoring on a three-yard run. With 7:33 left in the game, Billy Wallar kicked a 32 yard field goal to put the Blizzards ahead 16-6.

The Bluecats came scratching back, driving 50 yards in eight plays for a touchdown with 4:33 remaining in the game. Quarterback Nunez passed to Sean Casey for the touchdown and the Bluecats made good on a 2 point conversion try on a run by Heath Hemphill.

On the next series, Coleman held Winters and took possession on its own 36. With the game still very much up for grabs, Nunez threw a pass which was intercepted by the Blizzards' Craig Slaughter deep in Winters' territory. Winters possession was lost with a punt and 11 seconds left on the clock. The Bluecats tried a pass from the Winters 42 which was knocked down and quarterback Nunez was sacked on the last play.

The Blizzards had 19 first downs to the Bluecats 12 and outrushed the Coleman team 159 yards to 123. Passing yardage showed the Blizzards behind Coleman with 156 yards compared to the Bluecats' 166. Quarterback Craig Slaughter was 8 of 15 passing with no interceptions. The Blizzards lost 3 fumbles and were penalized 11 times for 70 yards.

This week's game finds the Blizzards hosting the Coahoma Bulldogs from district 6-AA at Blizzard field. According to the Harris Rating System, the Blizzards are a 1 point favorite to win over the Bulldogs, so it should be another tough battle for the Blizzards.

Coahoma returns 6 starters on offense and 8 on defense from their 1989 team which went 4-6.

They have three returning all-district players in Rusty Ginnetti, a 5-6, 145 lb. senior wingback on offense and deep back on defense; Mike Hernandez, a 5-7, 150 lb. senior running back and linebacker; Mike Knowles, 6-2, 275 lb. junior tackle on offense. Team strengths include experience at key positions, quickness and a good attitude, according to their coach Steve Park, in his fourth year as coach at Coahoma.

Everyone is encouraged to come out to Blizzard Field on Friday at 8:00 p.m. and see the Blizzards BLAST THE BULLDOGS.

Early morning fire damages Alderman-Cave building

Volunteer firemen were routed out of bed early Monday morning when a major fire broke out in the cottonseed hull storage area of Alderman Cave Milling and Grain Company on West Dale. As firemen arrived about 6:30 a.m. flames and smoke could be seen coming from the area behind the retail sales room and offices.

Charles Allcorn, an employee of the firm, arrived first and smelled smoke but could not determine the origin. Soon after, Mike Davis, another employee arrived and as they searched for the source, the smoke and flames began to pour out of the storage area. Murray Edwards, president of Alderman-Cave, praised the

City Council votes to accept BFI proposal

After many months of study and trepidation, Winters City Council members bit the bullet and voted to enter into an agreement with Browning-Ferris Industries for handling solid waste for the City. The okay was also given for City Administrator Charles Ludwick to give notice of termination of the present contract with John Sims, effective December 1 of this year.

More discussion was held as to any other alternatives to closing the present landfill, but the council concluded that the agreement with Browning-Ferris was the best answer to the problem. Len Lyons, Marketing Manager for BFI, was present at the meeting and told Council members the company would start surveying the city and calling on individual business customers in the near future in order to be prepared to begin when the city is ready.

In other business, a public hearing on the 1990-91 budget was held with few questions from those in the audience except when copies of the budget would be available. After conclusion of the hearing, the Council voted to accept the proposed 1990-91 budget.

Following acceptance of the budget, the 1990 tax rate was set at .62138 per $100 valuation, essentially the same as last year.

The second reading of an ordinance closing a portion of Willow Street following a petition by Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist Church, was accomplished. Council members voted to pass the ordinance and authorized City Administrator Charles Ludwick to begin negotiations with Guiding Light Church for the sale of the closed portion of the street.

A discussion of alternative meeting places for the Council meetings was one of the last items on the agenda. Ludwick reported that any of the places which had been discussed in prior meetings—the back portion of the fire station or building a room in the old city light plant—would require a considerable outlay of money. His recommendation to the Council was that they try the Housing Authority meeting room temporarily to see how it would work out. The meeting times would have to be changed to the second and fourth Mondays rather than first and third, because of availability. Alderman Steve Byrne moved that the next meeting, September 24, be held at the Winters Housing Authority at the regular time of 6 p.m. After a second, the motion was passed unanimously.

Police Chief resigns, interim appointed

Police Chief Larry Willis has resigned effective September 14 to take a position as a Deputy Sheriff with the Runnels County Sheriff's Department. Willis and his wife will be moving to Miles, which is the area he will be working as a Deputy Sheriff.

Patrolman Patrick Coggin has been appointed to serve as interim police chief until a permanent chief can be selected. Coggin has been with the Winters Police Department since leaving the Air Force early in 1990.

Economic development meeting

A group of interested citizens met August 28 at the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce office to begin planning for an improvement in the economy of Winters. The group met with Dr. Don Stebbins, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and made plans for a public meeting of all those interested in the future of Winters. The meeting is scheduled in two night sessions, October 10 and 11.

Dr. Stebbins, who will coordinate the program said, "the main purpose of the program is to help local people focus their attention and energy on economic development projects that they select and plan."

The planning procedure that will be used is part of the community development program developed by Stebbins because he was getting a large number of questions from people in rural communities about how to get started in economic development.

A sufficient number of local people who are willing to work on economic development is the most important ingredient in a successful economic development program according to Dr. Stebbins.

"It's been my experience that, if we can conduct the program with a group of 30 or more people who sincerely want to work, we can almost guarantee that some interesting, useful things will be planned," Stebbins said.

During the first meeting, everyone who attends will have an opportunity to make recommendations about what they think can help the economy in Winters.

The objectives of the second meeting are to convert the top ranked recommendations into workable goals and develop an action plan for each task force that people decide to work with.

Nolte bond reset

Following the issuance of eleven indictments last week against Randy Nolte of Winters by a District Court grand jury, his bond was allowed to remain at $15,000 cash. The bond had been set at that level following a hearing after Nolte's arrest in July.

Additional stipulations were laid down by the judge at the bond hearing. Nolte cannot return to the city of Winters, he is not to contact any of the alleged victims or their families and cannot be in personal contact with any person under the age of 18 without parental permission and another adult must be present, according to District Attorney Steve Smith.

Eleven indictments were returned against Nolte, with numerous counts under each indictment, ranging from indecency by contact to sexual assault of a minor. Nolte has waived arraignment and the trial date has not been set as yet.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles

In continuation of our discussion of how the raw oilfield products get to market, we will discuss natural gas and its natural movement to the consumer. If you haven't already done so, go back and read last week's column before you get started on this one. (Pretty tricky way to get you to buy out-of-date newspapers, isn't it?)

Again, we will start at the wellhead, because that is where it all begins.

As we mentioned last week, the operator has facilities to gather, collect, and distribute oil, water, and natural gas. Remember that most wells produce these three products, but it is possible that it produces only two or even only one (hopefully, it isn't water) of the products. In any case, the operator separates the gas from all other products in the wellstream, but the situation becomes different than it is with oil at this point. While the operator can store oil for later shipping, the gas usually has to be sent on down the line immediately. It isn't as practical to store gas while waiting for the buyer to come by. By its very nature, gas is always trying to escape, so it must be kept in a line until it reaches some location that is specifically meant for gas storage (we'll get to that later).

The typical lease installation consists of a gas separator that sends the 'dry gas' (it isn't really dry, just mostly water free—we'll get to that later, also) down a line and through a gas meter and into a gas pipeline. The gas meter is no simple device. Oil can just be measured, but gas requires special measurement techniques. Why? Because gas varies in volume depending on: temperature, pressure, etc., while oil volumes stay relatively constant over prevailing pressure and temperature ranges (at the surface). Thus, gas volume measurements must be recorded with accompanying pressure and temperature measurements and then must be corrected back to some 'standard conditions' (14.65psi and 60 deg. F in Texas) to properly calculate actual volume passing through a meter. (Now that I have told all of this, don't let it confuse you, because it doesn't really affect anything else we will talk about, today. Just plain forget it if you have to—I just threw it in as a "fun fact".)

You can already see that gas is a special product that requires special handling. Stay with me if you can, it really gets good, now.

The gas follows that line to a processing plant where the product will be processed, stripped of all valuable products, and sent on down the line to a distribution system (like Lone Star Gas, etc.). Once again, it is not as simple as it sounds. First of all, the gatherer (see last week's column) may own the plant or they may strictly be a transporter, only. The plant can also be owned by a middleman or by the enduse distributor or anybody else for that matter. The operating company may own everything but the enduse distribution system. There are a multitude of combinations, and I think I have beaten that dead horse enough.

Getting back to the movement to market: the processing plant is going to use pressure, temperature, and mechanical force to strip out natural gas products that are valuable. (By the way, NOW is the LATER I referred to, above.) Propane, butane, and various other flammable products are produced here, as are various liquid fuel products. The value of the raw wellstream can be improved by as much as 100% by this process. The plant then discharges the dry (it is really dry, now) mostly methane (natural gas as we know it) into a line that takes it to the enduse distribution system. From there, it makes its way into our homes (and probably into our cars in the future) and factories.

Since we do not always use the exact amount of gas being produced at any given time, gas must be stored for later demand increases. This is usually done inside of distribution system lines by allowing the pressure to get higher (thus compressing more gas into less space) or by injecting it into underground storage caverns (Gulf Coast). When gas is needed in quantities that exceed production, the stored gas is then used as required. When demand slackens to very low levels and storage is "at capacity", then producers are forced to cut back on their production at the wellhead. This is called "curtailment" and it usually manifests itself in the form of lower purchase "nominations" (max. volume that a company will pay for) by gatherers and distributors.

Now, at least, you know a little more about where it all comes from and how it gets to the consumer. Isn't capitalism wonderful?

Senior Citizens Nursing Home awaiting State inspection

Many relatives of persons at the Senior Citizens Nursing Home in Winters have been concerned over a letter sent out by the Human Resource Department of the Texas Department of Health indicating they were to move patients from the nursing home if they were receiving Medicaid. The president of Texas Lifecare, Inc., owner of Senior Citizens Nursing Home, David Tucker, says that Senior Citizens is presently awaiting a visit from Texas Health Department officials for an inspection relative to their application for reinstatement of the Home's contract to receive Medicaid payments for patients.

The contract was terminated on June 16, 1990, according to the Information Office of the Texas State Health Department in Austin. The deficiencies noted and for which the contract was cancelled were listed as staff training, infection control, direct care, sanitation and safety. Mr. Tucker told The Enterprise that the deficiencies were more in the line of documentation of those named, rather than actually being deficient. A new administrator and nearly complete new nursing staff has been put in place and everything has been done to correct the documentation of patient care as requested by the State Health Department. The nursing home is still accepting patients and no patients have been asked to move by the nursing home, according to Mr. Tucker.

The inspection by the Health Department must be a surprise, so no one knows when the inspection will come. Mr. Tucker stated that they are in readiness for the inspection whenever it comes. He also emphasized that Senior Citizens Nursing Home serves a pressing need in the community and that his company will do everything possible to comply with all regulations and give the best of care to their patients. Texas Lifecare, Inc. operates several other nursing homes in the state of Texas.

Winters receives sales tax check for July

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday his office sent checks totaling $84 million in monthly local sales tax rebates to cities and counties in Texas. The checks reflect taxes collected on July sales and reported in late August by businesses filing monthly tax returns.

Winters received $13,392.58, up 47.35% over last year for the month. A total year to date of $114,404.11 has been received in sales tax rebates by the City, up 4.60% over 1989.

Other Runnels County towns and their receipts include Ballinger with $21,472.43 for the month and $222,191.61 year to date for a total increase of 32.32% over 1989. Miles received $1,269.67 for the month compared to $515.06 for July 1989 and has received $9,522.79 for the year, up 15.01% over last year.

Merchants collect the state and local sales taxes and send them to the Comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its 6.25% share and each month sends cities and counties their portion of the sales tax.

Knights of Columbus officers installed

The Manuel Orona Council 8574 of the Knights of Columbus of Winters installed new officers recently. Following a hamburger dinner for Knights and their families at Mt. Carmel Catholic Church, the following officers were installed: Grand Knight, Oscar Torres; Deputy Grand Knight, Joe Pritchard; Trustee I, Ray Guevara; Trustee II, Mark Bridgeman; Trustee III, Mike Meyer; Treasurer, Sal Esquivel, Jr.; Chaplain, Father Hoorman; Warden, Raul Rodriguez; Advocate, Ray Reyna; Recorder, John Joeris; Inside and Outside Guards, Joe Escalona, Manuel Herrera; Financial Secretary, Tim Meyer; Chancellor, Louis DeLaCruz; Lecturer, George Villarreal.

Joe DeLaCruz has been selected District Deputy for District 100 of the Knights of Columbus and John Joeris is the District Warden for the District.

John Andrae

Andrae to receive highest FFA Degree

John Andrae of Winters, has been nominated and is expected to receive the highest degree awarded by the National FFA Organization, the American FFA Degree.

This honor is based on outstanding achievements in agricultural production, processing and service programs and on demonstrated leadership abilities. Andrae will be one of the 1,056 members receiving the award at the 63rd National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, November 8-10.

Only one in 400 of the 386,832 FFA members have advanced through Chapter and State FFA Degrees to earn this national award. Andrae, the son of Allen and Gwen Andrae, is currently attending Texas A&M University majoring in Animal Science. He is a member of Winters FFA chapter and his agricultural education instructor/FFA advisor is Roy Shackelford.

Each degree winner receives a gold American FFA key and a partially-paid trip to the national FFA convention in Kansas City. The American FFA Degree recognition program is sponsored by the Agricultural Division of American Cyanamid Company of Wayne, N.J.; Case IH of Racine, Wis.; the Farm Credit System of Washington, D.C.; Nachurs Plant Food Company of Marion, Ohio; Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. of Des Moines, Iowa, and Pirelli Armstrong Tire Corporation of New Haven, Conn. as a special project of the National FFA Foundation.

More than 20,000 FFA members are expected to attend the 63rd National FFA Convention, which is the largest annual youth convention in the nation. Those attending will see the American FFA Degree awarded, hear nationally-known speakers and witness the installation of the six new national FFA officers.

County Extension Agent-HE Runnels County

Ten (10) Runnels County 4-Hers record books advanced to state competition in College Station earlier this month. Before state, each of the ten were 1st place books in the 17 counties making up District 7.

Placing first and advancing to national judging was Tracye Binder's Fashion Revue Record Book. If her book ranks in the top 35 in the nation, she will receive an expense paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago in December, compliments of McCall's Pattern Company and Viking Sewing Machine Company. Good luck, Tracye.

Others placing at the state level were:

- Deron Robinson-Citizenship-3rd place
  - Angie Hohensee-Clothing-3rd place
  - Christy Strube-Food Preservation-4th place
  - Jennifer Bickel-Leadership-5th place
  - Kendra McCown-Breads-6th place
  - Heather Schwertner-Foods & Nutrition-6th place
  - Jason Schwertner-Petroleum Power-8th place
  - Beth Eggenmeyer-Achievement-12th place
  - Bridget Mansell-Horse-12th place
- Congratulations to all of these 4-Hers. If anyone is interested in learning more about record books, contact any of these 4-Hers or the County Extension Office.

FROM A GOLDFISH BOWL

BY PASTOR STEVE BYRNE

I learned a lesson in humility last week.

I took my first-bird-hunting. After the obligatory review of the safety rules (since it was the first time we had been out this year), I began the next phase of teaching about the way of the hunter.

We hunt near a tank that has no trees or large objects around it. Fortunately, the July and August rains had left a plethora of tall grasses and weeds above the present water line. "Birds, like most animals, have good eyes for seeing motion. If you are very still and very quiet, you have a better chance of going unnoticed, since they will be looking for signs of unfamiliar motion more than they will for unfamiliar stationary objects. So, get in the edge of the weeds, get still and quiet, and don't raise your shotgun until they are close enough to shoot."

Then the hunt began. When it was over, Sean had more birds in his bag than I had in mine. I was shooting a 12-gauge pump, which throws a large pattern and can shoot rather quickly. Sean was shooting a single-shot, break-open .410, which throws a small pattern and usually allows its operator one shot at a time. I was a little miffed inside. Sean not only got more birds, he shot fewer shots. My own feelings were a misplaced sense of humility.

Frederich Buechner, in Wishful Thinking, says of humility, "True humility doesn't consist of thinking ill of yourself but of not thinking of yourself much differently from the way you'd apt to think of anybody else. It is the capacity for being no more and no less pleased when you play your own hand well than when your opponents do." (page 40)

Maybe one day, when we all learn to weep in sorrow with each other. When we rejoice at the good fortune of our neighbor with all the zeal we would have had it been our good fortune. With absolutely no inner disappointment or bitterness. Maybe, then, we will experience the community that Jesus came to bring.

He called it "the Kingdom of God." True humility appears to be a definite part of that community.

On Tuesday, September 4, teachers and students entered Wingate Elementary School for the first day of classes. Students found their rooms and settled in for an exciting year of school.

New students are: Matthew Moreno, Mark Moreno, Martin Quiroga, Jr., Connie Reyes, Carol Ewing, Kelly Bearden, Brian Pritchard, Stacey Sneed, Eloy Gomez and Jody Neal.

Marlene Hogan has joined the Wingate faculty. She teaches first and second grades.

There will be many changes this year, with the transfer of the seventh and eighth grades, but everyone is expecting a great year and encourage the community and parents to continue their support of our activities.

First Baptist's Beat

Last Sunday the Music Ministry of First Baptist Church kicked off the children's choir program for this year with a carnival. There was a ring toss game, tic-tac-toe game, and a fishing booth where the children played and won prizes. The purpose of the carnival was to enroll children in the choir program. A total of 37 children were enlisted. If you would like to involve your child in this on-going music program, you can call David Speegle at 754-5521 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., or bring them next Sunday at 5 p.m. for the first rehearsal of the year. There are three choirs spanning the ages 4-6th grade. Non-church members are invited to participate.

As part of First Baptist Church's Centennial Celebration this year, the adult choir presented a concert of their favorite anthems. The concert was professionally recorded by a studio in Midland, Texas. Cassette tapes of the concert are now available through the church office. The tapes cost $5 and include these titles: "In This Very Room", "Cornerstone", "Glorify Thy Name", "Come Before His Presence Singing", "When Jesus Comes Again", "More Than Wonderful", "Please Be Still", "Weave Me, Lord", and "What Will We Promise, What Will We Give." Tapes may be purchased between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday at the church office.

This Friday night following the football game, all Jr. High and High School students are invited to the after game fellowship hosted by First Baptist Church. Come out and cheer the Blizzards on to victory then come by the church for a time of food and fellowship. Go Big Blue!

Children attending the First Baptist Church Choir Carnival last Sunday night enjoy games and a real clown. Thirty-seven children attended the carnival and sign-up for children's choirs.

Bethany Class Installs Officers

The Bethany Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met September 4 for the monthly meeting and luncheon. The opening prayer was given by Opal Hamilton.

Those enjoying the luncheon were members: Lucille Virden, Nina Bedford, Ethel Mae Clark, Jo Olive Hancock, Pinkie Irvin, Dorothy Bedford, Myrtle Duncan, Jimmie Davis, Vivian Foster, Lorene Moreland, Billie Whitlow, Bonnie Fairey, Omega Priddy, Pat Simpson and the hostesses, Margaret Favor and Lillian Eubanks.

Presiding for the business meeting was president, Jo Olive Hancock. The minutes were read and the secretary's report given and approved. The treasurer's report was given by the treasurer. The sick were mentioned and a letter of appreciation was read from Dollie Virden.

Officers for 1990-91 were installed by Jo Olive Hancock using the rainbow and all the beautiful colors representing each officer. As each officer was introduced a color was given to her, also she was told her duties. Installed was Teacher, Mrs. Vivian Foster (a gold color); Assistant Teacher, Lillian Eubanks (silver color); Opal Hamilton, President (red color); Vice President, Bonnie Fairey (pink color); Secretary, Ethel Mae Clark (white); Hortel McCaughan, Assistant Secretary (color white); Pianist, Louise Waggoner (violet color); Billie Whitlow, Class Treasurer (orange color); Omega Priddy and Lorene Moreland, Benevolence (yellow color); Group Leaders, Myrtle Duncan, Pinkie Irvin and Margaret Favor (blue color); and Reporter, Lillian Eubank. Following her installation, Mrs. Jo Olive Hancock led in prayer for all officers.

Runnels Baptists to hold meeting

The regular meeting of the Runnels Baptist Association will be held September 17 at the Wingate Baptist Church, Wint.

The W.M.U. and Executive Board will meet at 5:30 p.m. The evening meal will be served at 6:30 p.m. The program begins at 7 p.m.

The program is to be on Christian Life Emphasis. Gayland Broadstreet, Association Christian Life Chairman, is in charge of the program. Jerry Gibbs, with the Rio Concho Multi Agency Task Force and assigned to the Runnels County Sheriff's Office, will present a program on drugs and drug law enforcement.

The public is invited to attend.

Baptist Women met Tuesday

Women of the First Baptist Church met in the fellowship hall Tuesday for prayer and discussion of the mission needs in Texas.

Jo Olive Hancock, president, presided for business and announcements. New officers were elected and will be installed in October.

Beth Bradley, program chairman, gave the Texas Baptist goal of establishing 2,000 new churches by the year 2000, and said that by February the number had reached 1900, with new methods and concepts being used. One is to establish a key church with satellite missions, whereby a church can multiply itself to do the work of 40 churches.

More than $800 has already been received for the church's goal of $3,500 for this mission work.

Charlie Poe read the prayer calendar for missionaries who have birthdays on the day of the meeting. Lillian Roberson voiced the prayer. The 1000 Hispanic congregations, 300 without pastors, were also remembered in prayer.

Sara Beth Heidenheimer led the group in pledges to the flags and Bible. She also led the singing with Louise Waggoner at the piano.

Refreshments were served following the program.

Hearing on water rate for North Runnels Water slated Friday

The rate dispute between the City of Winters and North Runnels Water Supply Corporation will be the subject of a preliminary public hearing on Friday, September 14 in Austin. The hearing stems from a request from North Runnels for a review of the rate increase imposed by the City of Winters on February 15 of this year.

The Texas Water Commission will hold the hearing at 10:00 a.m. Friday in the Stephen F. Austin State Office Building, room 512. The Commission will have jurisdiction to consider the appeal if it is established at the hearing that the petition for review is signed by at least 10 percent of the ratepayers affected by the rate change.

The Methodist's Message

This past Sunday was Grandparent's Day and Teacher Appreciation Sunday. The Renewal Class sponsored a Roast Beef Dinner with all the trimmings. Over 200 people were served. Proceeds go to benefit the Lord's Acre, which will be on November 11 this year.

Teachers were honored during the worship service. Travis Franklin and David Evans sang a duet while David played the guitar.

Laurie Franklin represented our district at a Conference officers meeting in Hamilton on Sunday. She is the Minister's Wives Conference Treasurer for the Central Texas Conference for the 1990-1991 conference year. She is also the district retreat delegate for the Minister's Wives of the Brownwood district.

This Sunday the sermon will be "Following Through" with Matthew 21: 28-32.

Wee Care School has great beginning

On Thursday, September 6, the preschool of the First United Methodist Church got it's 1990-91 school year under way.

The theme for September will be "I Am Special." The children will learn that they are all children of God, and that each is unique and very special. They will discover ways they are alike, and ways they are different. They will discuss that it is God's plan for them to grow and change, and they will take nature walks to observe things that are growing.

The colors for the month are red and yellow. The children will be coloring, painting, and cutting red and yellow pictures. The shape they will learn about is the circle. The letters A, B, and C, will be introduced. The three year olds will be learning to recognize and become familiar with the alphabet, so that as they begin learning to write their names, they will begin to know the names of some of these letters. The four year olds will concentrate on naming the letters and trying to write them, along with working on writing their names.

A wide variety of activities will be provided to keep preschool fun and exciting for the students. The preschool will again be using learning centers in areas of creative arts, drama, science and discovery, family living, building, and listening. On Mondays, music will be included. This will be singing songs and fingerplays. On Thursdays, the students will be exploring movement to music through stretching and exercise, forms of dance, etc. On the last Thursday of every month the children will have a cooking project. They enjoy the experience of preparing their own snack and tasting their work. This month we will be making a healthy snack food called Monkey Munchkins.

This promises to be an exciting year and the preschool is very lucky to have Chris Parramore as their teacher. She is a very creative and talented person. The aide, Sarabeth Heidenheimer, is a very caring and exciting person. Wee Care School and First United Methodist Church has a lot to be thankful for.

Methodist Ladies held meeting

The United Methodist Ladies met in the church parlor Tuesday, September 11, 1990.

President, Odessa Dobbins, presided with a business meeting. The opening prayer was led by Billie Middlebrook. Mrs. Middlebrook reminded the ladies of the annual meeting September 20 at DeLeon and September 23 is U.M.W. Sunday in the Methodist Church. Lois Jones gave the treasurer's report.

The study "God is One" about Islam, was started by Odessa Dobbins substituting for Betty Thomason. Others on the program were, Nina Hale and Lois Jones.

Odessa Dobbins closed the first chapter with an approach to Islam.

TOYMAKER & SON

To be presented at Winters High School Auditorium Monday, September 24

Since ToyMaker & Son was first presented in England in 1978, it has been performed in over thirty nations - including Mainland China - and on every continent of the world. ToyMaker & Son has appeared before world leaders, and has been shown on nationwide television in several countries.

ToyMaker & Son was sponsored as part of the official festivities of the 1982 World Cup Soccer Games in Spain, and chosen by the Entertainment Committee to perform at the Commonwealth Games in Brisbane, Australia. It was also the most sought after production in Los Angeles during the 1984 Olympic Games.

The unique fusion of movement, drama and mime, combined with colorful costumes and a dynamic original soundtrack by New York composer Vince Corozine, make it an unforgettable experience. Such is the impact of this striking allegory that wherever it is performed people are saying "I'll never be the same again".

ToyMaker & Son is the epic account of the most powerful rebellion in history, the greatest love story in the universe, and the most daring rescue plan ever conceived.

Make friends, but remember that the best of friends will wear out if you use them too often.

Linda and Dale Duggan hosted the community supper and fellowship. Vice President Sam Faubion called the business meeting after a delicious meal. Eileen Prater read the minutes and the treasurer's report. Newly elected officers are, Sam Faubion, President; Eileen Prater, Treasurer and Secretary; Dale Duggan, Vice President. The gym roof was discussed. The next meeting will be October 27, combining October and November meetings, with a Halloween Carnival. The next meeting will be the first Saturday in December. Fred Watkins will see about getting an estimate on the roof. Other fundraising activities, like cake sales, garage sales and etc., to help raise money for the roof were discussed. Names were drawn for prizes, Andrew and Benjamin Brown's names were called. Roy, Andrew and Benjamin Brown were visitors.

Nila and Therin Osborne, Sue Campbell, Karen, Wesley, John and Stefanie McGallian attended the Abilene State Fair Saturday night. John showed his heifer and won or placed 2nd. Congratulations John! Sunday night after church services Nila and Therin Osborne drove to Coleman to visit with Amber Fuller, Helen and S. J. Brevard. All were doing fine.

The Rodney Faubions returned from a visit with Betty and Hudon White at Corpus Christi last week. Brian fished off of a boat, they also were on Padre Island.

Roy Brown and two sons, Andrew and Benjamin, of New Mexico, were here visiting his folks, Becky and Elwood Brown and other relatives.

Margie Jacob came by to see me Friday afternoon, so did Adeline Grissom, she stayed and had supper with me. After supper we had war with a rattle-snake out at the hen house. Adeline held the flashlight while I chopped off the head.

On Monday Nila and Therin Osborne visited the Coleman Foremans awhile. Bernie Faubion came Friday on business and a nice visit. Afterwards the Foremans were in Winters on business and also visited with Ethel Bridwell.

Lawan and Coleman Foreman wish to thank Eileen Prater for the tomatoes and okra. Selma Dietz also brought tomatoes.

City maps are now available

New city maps are available at the Chamber office. These maps include city streets of towns in Runnels County, Coleman County and Concho County.

Also included in the map is the Stacy Reservoir Project.

WHS Cheerleaders Hamburger Supper Don't Forget

Robbie Neal and Sam Faubion came by after church and brought an upside down cake. They thank you again.

Eileen Prater and Noble Faubion were in San Angelo during the week for Noble's eye checkup, got a good report.

Mark Kaczuk of Winters spent the day Monday with Georgia and Connie Gibbs.

Karen and Kyle Kraatz of Abilene spent Sunday with his folks, the Jerry Kraatz. Keith Kraatz of Ft. Houston, San Antonio, spent several days.

Elaine Kennedy and Jack Jacobs of Tampa, Florida, spent Friday through Tuesday with Ruth and Brad Pape. Brad goes three times a week for therapy at Humana Hospital, Abilene, on his arm for a month.

Ronald and Eugenia and Mike Hill of Sweetwater, Gary Hill, Eastland, were here to be with their mother, Claudia, during the week.

Linda Denson, San Angelo, spent Labor Day with Fairy and Wilbert Alcom.

Melinda and Scott Amedom of San Angelo, and Wanda Sims spent Sunday with Adeline Grissom.

Selma and Hazel Dietz are new great-grandparents. Frances and Jimmy Chapman, San Angelo, had a son, Garret Ray, born last week. He weighed all of 9 pounds 7 ounces. Congratulations to you all. Selma will be staying a few days with the Chapmans.

Sunday the Methodist Church honored Grandparents and all Sunday School Teachers with a fundraiser dinner for the Lord's Acre. Corra Petrie and Hazel Mae Bragg attended the dinner.

Hazel Mae visited with Corra on Thursday. Saturday afternoon Hazel Mae and Corra attended the pink and blue shower for Carmela Polston in the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

Nephew, James Phipps, and two friends of A&M, spent Saturday night with Chester McBeth.

Margie and Walter Jacob carried Louise Michaelwicz of Ballinger for her doctor's checkup, the report was good.

As far as our rain report, some said 1/2 inch, Mrs. Claudia Hill had 2 1/2 inches, my gauge showed 6/10.

This Friday, September 14, Charles Ludwick and myself will be in Austin to represent the city in a Water Rate Appeal Hearing filed with the Texas Water Commission by North Runnels Water District. The hearing will determine the validity of the 16 year old contract to provide water between the city and the water district. The water district was paying $1.96 per thousand gallons of treated water until February when, under the contract, the rate was increased to $2.05 per thousand gallons, just under a 5% increase. Under the terms of the contract, the rate could have been raised to a maximum of $2.12 per thousand. We are in hopes a swift and fair verdict will result because if drawn out, the hearing process can be very costly to both the city and the water district creating higher rates for water users. I will report the results in future articles.

I am happy to report the city received a long sought grant from the Texas Aeronautics Commission to repair the airport runway and lighting system. The airport has been in dire need of repairs for several years but funds were just not available. Work should begin sometime this fall or early next year. The Street Department also recently finished re-topping several streets around town and they look very good. We plan to re-top about twice as many this budget year. The council and staff is continuing to work on garbage disposal and landfill management. You should be receiving a questionnaire in the mail soon regarding services you would like to see offered as garbage pick-up. We ask you please take the time to complete and return the questionnaire. If you have any questions regarding any issue of concern, please contact myself or Mr. Charles Ludwick at City Hall.

Quarterback Craig Slaughter, #11, runs for yardage against the Bluecats. Slaughter was the leading ground gainer for the Blizzards.

Zzzzzz - Amen!

Do you get sleepy in school, church, or meetings? You know, that lead-headed feeling when your eyelids weigh fifty pounds each and the Sandman is camping on your brain.

Falling asleep in the presence of others requires various physical feats. Do you ever watch somebody trying to stay awake and keep from looking like they're going to fall over any second? I think it's great.

Kids in school are usually the bravest about falling asleep. They don't try to hide it - they'll just plop their heads down on the desks and snore away. This leaves them at the mercy of fellow classmates and teachers. (I still remember falling asleep in class and waking up to find myself completely alone - everyone had sneaked out into the hall to make me think I'd missed the entire class period). Frankly, that's the last peaceful nap I've had since being put to sleep for surgery.

I never really understood why nap time is limited to just kindergarten. I'd bet most kids would vote to have an official siesta time every day. But only at school. They sure wouldn't want to waste their own precious time on weekends by napping. (But who needs a nap when you sleep until noon?)

Anyway, back to public sleeping. I must admit that at times I have difficulty staying awake during bored meetings - oh, I mean board meetings. If I can find another pathetic listener who's more miserable, I usually try to focus on him trying to stay awake and look important at the same time.

Just watch, his eyes will glaze over and he won't blink for about two minutes. He'll stifle a yawn but his nostrils will flare to three times normal size. His top lip will curl up and he'll clench his teeth.

If he happens to yield to nature and the yawn wins, he may spring forth that little surprise shower of spit that always lands on important papers. Then he makes matters worse by trying to look cool and wipe off the drops that landed all over the boss's report, only to watch all the ink smear and the paper ripple with sogginess. Such hazards.

But my very most favorite is watching folks sleep in church. These are real classy public snoozers. They want to appear so much in control and you know they're losing it with each passing second.

They'll casually place their arm over the back of the pew, trying to fool everyone into thinking they're loving the person next to them. Naw - all they're doing is bracing themselves and anchoring their upper bodies for some serious napping.

They'll usually try to appear alert and sit up tall. But just give them a second. Watch those eyelids close. Now they're open and the snoozer is shifting around. Now they're closed again and the head is nodding forward. Look out - it's the "jerk thyself awake" syndrome followed by a quick survey to see if anybody saw them.

They think they're in control but nope, they're back to slumberland in about four seconds.

This time the chin is dropping and the mouth is falling open. We all know what this means - it's the dreaded drool about to drop.

Poor soul. Just about the time for the big splatter to hit, he wakes up - sort of. Then he lets his head start to fall backward. This can be fun when people around him don't realize he's sleeping and they think he's looking at something on the ceiling so they do the same thing. Then the minister thinks it's Divine Intervention cause everybody is looking toward the heavens.

I'd love to tell you more about this exciting topic but seems my eyelids are getting very heavy. My chin is starting to drop and my mouth is falling open. I'm fighting a big yawn now.

Oops! What was that? And all over my nice, crisp paper! --And Ne'er the Twain Shall Meet--

North Runnels Hospital Board meets

The North Runnels Hospital Board of Directors met Monday, September 10 at the hospital for its regular meeting. Good news for the meeting was that the hospital is in sound financial condition.

Sandy Moore, CPA, and Controller for North Runnels Hospital reviewed the financial statements and stated "right now we are in a good, stable condition, financially."

Lee Medical Supply was approved to lease an area at the hospital to store medical equipment. This equipment will be rented to outpatients who need wheelchairs, oxygen, walkers and other medical equipment at home. Lee Medical Supply will be renting out the equipment and keeping it maintained and it was stressed the hospital is only renting space to the supply company and not going into the medical supply rental business.

A need for a sterilizer was discussed and tabled for further study. Approval by the Board was given to let bids on heating and cooling units for the hospital.

Monthly statistics were given for the hospital by Administrator Bob Prewit. "Statistics show a steady flow of patients and services and that's good," stated Prewit.

Following approval of the Board to pay outstanding bills, the meeting was adjourned.

Faye and Freddie Hansen promote the sale of Hansen speakers for movies in New Orleans

Cinderella and the Prince

Being the last living member of her family, Beatrice Harris has fallen heir to a great responsibility when her Aunt Faye in Fort Worth died recently.

The problem is twofold: Mrs. Harris is blind and her aunt was the wife of Frederik (Freddie) Hansen who invented the Nasen speakers for the movies, and became wealthy in the process. As a result, there was a storehouse full of treasures as well as an imposing home in Fort Worth to dispose of.

With the help of the Hansen attorney, an estate sale was held and the house put on the market. Of course, Beatrice had to keep a few family keepsakes for herself.

The souvenir most cherished by Harris is an enlarged, colored, photograph of her grandmother's youngest sister on her mother's side of the family. It was made of Sophia Spinx in 1875 and encased in a massive gold frame. The picture may have been made in France as she was married to a Frenchman. It was to be handed down to the oldest member of the family in each generation.

Other treasures that Harris has kept are almost too large for her home; a bedroom suite where she often slept when visiting her aunt and massive drapes that she had to alter.

The story of Faye and Freddie begins when she was operating the Powder Puff Beauty Shop in Fort Worth on Main Street. Two girls who worked in the shop were going on dates and asked her to go with them as Freddie's date couldn't go, but she wasn't interested.

Finally, Faye agreed to their plans, but said she would close the shop and they could pick her up at the house. "My mother will have a fit if I go with someone she hasn't met." Faye was a divorcee but lived with her mother and she was very strict.

They all went to the house and Mrs. Burk met them on the front porch. She wanted to know all about the young man, but finally gave her approval for the date. It was love at first sight for Faye and Freddie and they were soon married.

Frederik Hansen, a pioneer in the American film industry, was born in Odens, Denmark in 1892, and graduated from the University in Copenhagen. Shortly afterward he and a friend came to the United States. He stayed in Nebraska with relatives while his friend went to Dallas. He wrote Freddie that if he would come to Dallas he could work for Pathe films. So that is how a young man got to the Texas film industry.

With the United States entry into World War I, Hansen enlisted in the military and was assigned to the Engineers. He served in France and when the war was ended became a naturalized U.S. citizen. He returned to Dallas and Pathe films.

Sometime in the 1920's he joined friends named Underwood and Egell in a company which owned theaters in several cities. Hansen became the San Antonio manager.

In 1931 he was married to Faye Rudd of Fort Worth, a graduate of Texas University, at First Christian Church there. They lived in San Antonio until their return to Dallas in 1939 when he became District Manager for the National Theater Supply Company. He retired in 1969.

Through the years his chief interest was his business. They had no children. Faye, throughout the 53 years of marriage, went with him, but she would not go by plane. So they traveled all over the world by train and ship, to demonstrate the Hansen speaker. He also invented the time bank lock.

Hansen died in 1985 after several years of illness, with the knowledge that he had taken the movie industry out of the silent films.

Winters J.V. falls to Coleman in opener 14-7

The Winters Blizzards J.V. opened its football season last Thursday night with a 14-7 loss to the Coleman Bluecats.

Coleman opened the scoring half way through the first quarter with a 20 yard touchdown run. The Blizzards defense played stingy the rest of the first half, not allowing the Bluecats another point. The Blizzards began moving the football late in the first quarter. On a key third and twelve situation Gabriel L. Ortiz connected with Ahmad Griffin for a fourteen yard pick up. The big play of the drive was a 43 yard pass from Ortiz to Adrian Albarado which got Winters to the Bluecat eight yard line. Three plays later Ortiz and Albarado connected for a touchdown pass. Griffin's extra point was good, which gave the Blizzards a 7-6 lead going into the half.

The Bluecats took the lead on opening kick-off of the second half when they returned the kick 68 yards for a touchdown. The two point conversion was good giving Coleman a 14-7 lead.

The defenses then took over with neither team scoring the rest of the game. Scott Thorpe and Brock Guevara had an outstanding defensive game for the Blizzards.

The next action for the Winters J. V. will be Thursday, September 13, at 6:30 in Coahoma.

Adrian Albarado, #41 catches a touchdown pass for the Winters JV.

Gabriel L. Ortiz, #5, and Benji Barker take advantage of a time out.

Jim Calcote, #22, is met at the line of scrimmage by the Coleman JV.

7-2A Football Review

The district was even in the first weekend of non-district play at 4 wins and 4 losses.

Anson defeated Wall in a close game, 28-26. Albany outlasted Archer City 34-20. Hamlin bested Merkel by a score of 17 to 0. Winters squeezed by Coleman 16 to 14.

Haskell lost to Munday 64-19, Hawley was beaten by Baird 21-6, Jim Ned was defeated by Bronte 24 to 18 and Stamford was conquered by Clyde 25-14.

This week the outlook is better for 7-2A as the Harris Ratings pick 6 of the 8 teams to be winners. This is the Harris picks for this Friday night:

- Stamford over Merkel by 13
- Winters over Coahoma by 1
- Albany over Baird by 12
- Anson over Coleman by 12
- Hamlin over Rotan by 14
- Hawley over Roscoe by 19
- Picked to lose:
- Jim Ned to lose to Knox City by 20
- Haskell to lose to Seymour by 1

Winters High School Song

We are here, our dear old high
To laud your glories to the sky.
Colors, white and blue
And we'll stand by you.

We will wave our colors gay
As we go fighting on our way.
For our grand old high school
dear,
We'll never fail, never fail
Hip, hip, hooray!

Blizzard Fight Song

We are the Blizzards,
the Blizzards are we.
We're true to each other as we can be.

You gotta fight, boys,
you gotta fight.
You gotta fight
for the Blue and White

And when the season
is over and through,
We'll know that our boys were true-blue.

We are the Blizzards,
the Blizzards are we.
We are the Blizzards,
Yes, sir-eee!

(spell) B-B-LIZ
Z-Z-ARD
Blizzards, Blizzards!
Yes, sir-eee!

Jones Parrish

Jones Parrish, 80, of Ballinger, died at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, September 1, 1990, in St. John's Hospital, San Angelo.

Born November 10, 1909 in the Union Community, he graduated from Ballinger High School, attended Sul Ross State University and was well known throughout the state for raising cornish game. He married Belva Watson February 15, 1936 in Ballinger.

Mr. Parrish was Service Manager for Underwood Motor Company and was a member of First Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Belva Parrish of Ballinger; two sons, Charles Parrish of San Angelo and Johnny Parrish of San Antonio; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jean Parrish of Ballinger; and one grandson, Blake Parrish of San Angelo.

Graveside services for Jones Parrish were held at 10 a.m. Monday, September 3, in Evergreen Cemetery with the Rev. Jerry Howe, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating. Services were under the direction of Rains-Seale Funeral Home.

James Williams

James Alton Williams, 97, of Ballinger, died at 2 a.m. Monday, September 3, 1990, in Big Spring VA Medical Center.

Born April 25, 1893 in Allen, he married Edna Juanita Belt May 29, 1920 in Hood County. His wife preceded him in death June 10, 1984.

He was a veteran of World War I, and an electric motor repairman. Mr. Williams was a member of Avenue B Church of Christ.

Survivors include a daughter, Wanda Spreen of Ballinger; two sons, Jack Williams of Dallas and Gene Williams of Opelousas, Louisiana; one sister, Mrs. Susie Freeland of Granbury; three grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Graveside services for James Alton Williams were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday, September 5, in Garden of Memories Cemetery, directed by Rains-Seale Funeral Home.

Mable Thomason

Mable M. Thomason, 81, of Winters, died at 9:35 p.m. Thursday, September 6, 1990, in Sulphur, Oklahoma.

She married Perry Hugh Thomason March 6, 1929 in Wynnewood, Oklahoma. They lived in South Texas, where she was a housemother at Coastal Bend Youth Center in Driscoll. She came to Winters in 1976 following her husband's death.

She was a homemaker, a member of the Methodist Church and a member of the Eastern Star.

One son and grandson preceded her in death, Melvie Joe Thomason and Perry Richard Thomason.

Survivors include one son and daughter-in-law, Keith and Betty Thomason of Winters; five grandchildren; and 12 great-grandchildren.

Services for Mable M. Thomason were held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in Winters Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Travis Franklin officiating. Graveside services were held at 1 p.m. Monday in Memorial Garden Cemetery in Robstown, Texas.

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank the friends of the family for their thoughts, prayers and food for us during this time of sadness at the loss of our mother and grandmother.

A special thanks to the staff of the nursing home, to Dr. Thorpe and to the nurses of North Runnels Hospital who took such great care of her.

We also wish to thank the ladies of the First Baptist Church for the wonderful meal served to the family and to Bro. Shoemaker for the message and comfort he gave us.

The Children and Grandchildren of Gertrude Young

Erling Jorgenson

Erling L. Jorgenson, 66, of Ballinger died at 4:45 a.m. Saturday, September 3, 1990, in Shannon Medical Center, San Angelo.

Born March 7, 1924 in Ray, North Dakota, he married Thelma Catherine Hays June 12, 1957 in Ballinger.

He was a veteran of World War II (Patton's 3rd Army), Korean War, Vietnam War, and was an engineer with the Civil Service. He was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Memo from the Chamber

The 20th Annual Arts and Crafts Show is being planned for November 9 and 10. This year's show is being planned in a way which is anticipated more of the local craft people will participate.

The show will be housed in one building, however, and the space will be limited to 20 booths. Booths are $30 for out of town people and $20 for the local people. The Chamber is inviting the classes at school, clubs and organizations to participate in this year's event. These groups could have outside games to make their fundraiser.

As in the past food and drinks will be handled by the Chamber of Commerce. Outside booths will be $10.

An on-going "Christmas Store" by the Winters craft people could become a reality if everyone will be a part of the celebration November 9 and 10.

Z. I. Hale Museum met September 4

The Z. I. Hale Museum members met in regular session at the Rock Hotel Tuesday, Kay Colburn, president, called the meeting to order and the minutes of previous meetings were read and approved.

Edna England read the Rock Hotel's treasury report with a total of $5,840.50. The 13 lunches served earlier in the year netted $701.15.

Plans were made for the September 20 luncheon for the public. Jo Olive Hancock was appointed chairman of menu planning along with Edna England assisting. Jewel Kraatz was appointed for the work time schedule, and Kay Colburn for ticket printing.

Kay distributed copies of planned future business and projects. She also suggested cards be made for mailing to non-active members telling of meeting dates and welcoming each one.

Members are asked to sell tickets for the October 20th Lonesome Dove Party.

Kay Colburn volunteered to be chairman of the Christmas exhibit of trees, dolls and toys. Pauline Johnson will assist.

Mary Margaret Leathers gave the Museum treasury report with a total of $3,269.02.

Edna England will prepare a plaque showing contributors nameS in both the Museum and Rock Hotel. Kay Colburn will chair the quilt show publicity plans.

It was voted to sell pewter trays for $12 each and the Rock Hotel to pay for the 72 trays.

Charlie Poe was appointed reporter for the museum.

Eleven members attended the meeting.

VETERINARY UPDATE

by Jimmy Smith, DVM

Canine Parvo Virus

Today we need to talk about the signs of Canine Parvo virus. There are several viruses that cause similar signs but Parvo virus is probably the most devastating and rapid-acting of them all.

The best way I know to describe for you, as a pet owner, of how you would find your dog with Canine Parvo virus is as follows:

1. You probably have a newly acquired dog.
2. You may notice a slight degree of depression as you leave for work in the morning and
3. when you come in that evening, your dog is either severely ill, comatose, or even dead.

This virus causes vomiting and hemorrhagic diarrhea - the clinical signs that we see. Dehydration is followed by shock. In some cases there can even be severe heart damage. We've seen these types of incidents in the past so we know that the reference books aren't lying to us when they tell us that other things besides gastrointestinal effects can be observed.

Our primary goal is to get a satisfactory vaccination program in effect. Now most grown dogs have either withstood the challenge and lived through the disease process or have been vaccinated. There are very few instances when grown dogs are susceptible to the effects of the disease. There are some exceptions, however. The Doberman Pinscher breed has very little natural immunity against this disease and we've had several incidences of grown Dobermans that were exposed to the disease and came down.

One of the problems with this disease is that the virus is a very long-lived virus. Researchers know that this virus can live for months and months and is very difficult to contain.

Even strict sanitation does not always contain it. Chlorine bleach is as good a disinfecting agent as you can use if you have been infected with this virus.

The main thing is to get your dog on a good, sound vaccination program with no longer than 2-3 week intervals between booster shots. When these puppies come off of their mothers, there is a gray area when they are very hard to protect. So a good vaccination program should keep you out of the woods most of the time.

As I said, the clinical signs are depression, vomiting, diarrhea, shock, coma and death. There are other enteric viruses that can cause signs similar to these but a differentiation can be made between them and the Parvo virus by laboratory work or simply by the fact that, for instance, with the Canine Parvo virus, when the dog is still ambulatory we'll see a real high fever. We don't see that in these other viral diseases.

Other laboratory work can reach confirmation but when we see a dog come in with these clinical signs and we automatically expect the worse, we treat him for Parvo viral infection simply by administration of antibiotics, fluids to treat and prevent shock, anti-emetics to stop vomiting, and anti-diarrheals for the diarrhea.

Next week, we'll continue with further information on Canine Parvo virus.

If you have any other questions regarding this disease or any questions you'd wish to have answered in this column, please contact The Winters Enterprise, and I will be more than happy to reply.

Runnels Soil Conservation News and Notes

Water is a precious resource. How it is used, protected, conserved, and improved affects each and every one of us.

Water quality is important to all of us

by Don Haley SWCD Technicia Runnels Soil & Water Conservation District

Water! There is much to be said and known about it and the countless ways in which it affects our daily lives. Did you ever think about how many times in a single day that we depend upon our water resource? We depend upon it for drinking and bathing, for washing and cooking, for recreation and fun. We soak our lawns, squirt our cars, and irrigate our fields. We discuss the weather, talk about it being too wet or too dry and the consequent problems incurred by too much water when we don't need it and too little water when we need it desperately.

For the most part, acceptable water is something we take for granted when we turn the tap, wet a fishing line, or go for a swim. It is the commonplace, everyday things that often go unappreciated, not because they are not of true value, but because we routinely take for granted that which has always been. Since we all use it, the quality of our water resource is of utmost importance to each of us. The protection, increased conservation, improved utilization and wise-use of our water resource is an issue that affects every one of us here in Runnels County and throughout the world.

The mechanics and hydrology of watershed management can be as simple as "water runs downhill" to the highly complicated engineering principles that builds the dams and twirls the turbines that transforms tumbling water into electricity. The Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District (RS&WCD), in association with the Soil Conservation Service (SCS), can provide assistance in water quality planning, soils and vegetative information, waste management system planning, as well as assistance with hydrologic data, measurements, and structures that influence water quality here in Runnels County.

While water quality issues are a global concern, the RS&WCD and the SCS is available for assistance and planning in the implementation of soil and water conservation practices to protect, stabilize and improve the water resource here at home. The product of water quality conservation, in association with other resource conservation practices, is in reducing the delivery of pollutants to surface and ground water and in maintaining and enhancing the quality of our water resource, not only for today, but for those who will inherit the land and its resources from us.

If you use water, then the science and methodology of how water is used, protected, conserved, and improved is of importance to you. For information and assistance on water quality management questions or any other area of resource conservation, you are invited to stop by the SCS/RS&WCD office at 610 Strong Avenue in Ballinger or call 365-3415.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
 I'd like to ask everyone in Winters to join with me in supporting our soldiers in the Middle East by tying a yellow ribbon around their car antennas or where they will be visible.

I'm sure we have local folks who have someone they love or know that are over there while we live our days normally, they are living theirs by the minute, hoping that nothing erupts to endanger or threaten their lives. I feel that they are over there for all of us and not just doing their job.

Come on Winters, bring out the yellow ribbon and show your support. Let us hope for peace and that each soldier can make a safe return home.

M. S.
 A Caring Citizen

Letter to the Editor

On Friday afternoon, August 31, 1990, I had the opportunity to discover how nice and helpful our DPS Troopers from the State of Texas really are.

I and my little dog were traveling Highway 67 from San Angelo to Winters and just south of Ballinger I experienced a blow-out on my car.

The temperature was about 105 degrees and I felt like the air conditioner was not even working.

Just as I pulled on the emergency blinkers and got out to survey the situation, a very nice young DPS Trooper pulled up to ask about the trouble. In that terrific heat and watching closely a red ant hill very nearby, he changed the tire and I continued on my way in about fifteen minutes.

I am told he is Officer Warren of the Texas Highway Patrol, and I would like to take this opportunity to publicly acknowledge the fact that I have very good reason to believe that all highway patrolmen are not the "bad guys" they are said to be.

I would like to say again, "Officer Warren, I really do appreciate the job you do patrolling our highways, and thanks again for helping a lady in distress."

It really makes me feel good to know that if I have trouble, there can be a friendly highway patrolman to come to my rescue.

Nell Patton

Tony and Tonya Gova from Fort Worth.

This year's attendance, along with the perfect weather, made this reunion a memorable one with plenty of reasons to unite again.

Out-of-school TEAMS Testing

The 1989-90 school year was the last time for testing using the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS). However, students who have failed to show mastery of this test and were denied a diploma because of it will continue to be offered the opportunity of taking the section or sections which they did not master. During the regular administration of the exit level exam in October, individuals who are no longer enrolled in school and have not previously passed both sections of the TEAMS test but have met all other graduation requirements may retake the section(s) not passed. On October 17, the English language arts section will be administered to any out-of-school individuals who may choose to be tested. The Mathematics section of the test will be administered on October 18.

Registration as an out-of-school examinee must be completed and mailed to the testing processor in Iowa City, Iowa. This form must be received in Iowa City no later than 4 p.m. September 26, 1990. Individuals who are no longer enrolled in a Texas public school and wish to register to retake the exit level mathematics and/or the English language arts test(s) may pick up a registration packet at any high school campus.

Winters High School is serving as a testing site. Testing will begin promptly at 8 a.m. each morning in the high school building located at 200 East Jones. For more information about TEAMS Exit level testing or pre-registration, call Susie Johnson at 754-5516. You must register to be eligible to take the test.

Mike Grantham

Mike Grantham memorialized through scholarship

by Travis Franklin

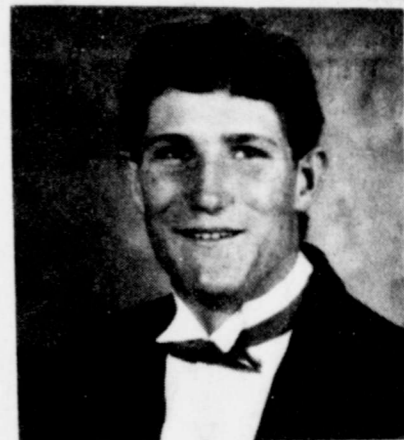

Mike Grantham loved young people. He devoted his life to seeing that kids received the opportunity for education. Mike loved being an educator and he was dedicated to providing an atmosphere where education was possible at the secondary level. Because of who Mike was as a person and as an educator it is only fitting and appropriate that a scholarship has been established in his name to honor graduating seniors. The scholarship will be awarded each year during awards day ceremonies in the spring and will be selected by a selection committee for 1991. The committee is composed of Bob Webb, chairperson; David Evans, Susie Johnson, Jimmy Randolph, O. J. Murray, Helen Grantham, Jackie Tensionn and Travis Franklin. Since the scholarship was not in place for this past year's awards day ceremony two high school seniors from the class of 1990 have been selected to receive the scholarship. The recipients of this year's Mike Grantham Memorial Scholarship Award are Marie Pritchard and Jimmy Ripley. Congratulations to these two young people for this high honor.

Mike Grantham made a difference in our community and in our schools. He touched the lives of many of our young people and for that we are all grateful. If anyone would like to express their personal appreciation for who Mike was and for what he dedicated his life to do, you may contribute to the scholarship fund to help the young people of our community to continue to have the opportunity for quality education. Your contribution may be deposited into the scholarship fund which is currently set up through AmWest Savings and Loan on Main Street. Through your contributions you too can make a difference in the life of your young people.

Visitors

Sam and Howard Harville of Phoenix, Arizona are visiting Clemmie Reel, Heather and Kira, G. C. Harville and Vaskell Harville of Winters; Billy and Don Wilson and Robert Harville of Ovalo; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin King of Abilene; and Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Riggan of Sweetwater.

Sew and Sew held meeting

The Wingate Sew and Sew Club met September 4 at the Wingate Lions Club Building. Present were nine club members: Pauline Huckaby, Annie Faye King, Eura Lloyd, Martha O'Dell, Oma Lee Overman, Mildred Patton, Ethel Polk, Lucille Pritchard and Lessie Robinson. Two visitors were also present, the nice woman that brought Eura out to Club and Jessica Pritchard. Quilting was done at the meeting for Mildred Patton. The next meeting will be September 18 with Oma Lee Overman as hostess.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF PROPOSED

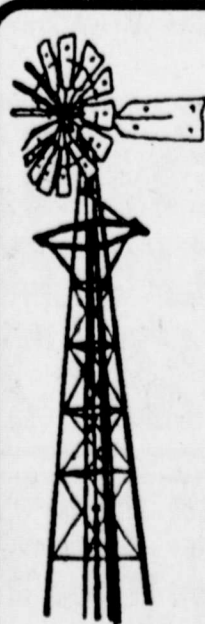

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 6, 1990

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 2, Sixth Called Session, 71st Legislature, proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that if the Senate, at any special session, does not take final action to confirm or reject an appointee of the Governor made during a recess of the Senate, the appointee is entitled to continue in office until the Senate rejects the appointee at a subsequent session or until the Governor appoints another person to fill the vacancy, but such a nominee whom the Senate does not act to confirm or reject at a subsequent regular session is considered to be rejected when the session ends.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to clarify the authority of the senate to consider certain nominees to state and district offices and to provide for filling vacancies in those offices."
