Dr. Thorpe to Humana

Richard Y. Thorpe III, M.D. has accepted the directorship of Humana Hospital Emergency Room in Abilene, effective October 26, 1990. Dr. Thorpe will no longer be in medical practice in Winters after that date.

Dr. Thorpe is currently interviewing physicians to assume his practice in Winters and is striving to obtain a quality physician for the town.

"Considerable time and thought went into making this decision, but the new position will allow a better lifestyle and more time with my family," said Dr. Thorpe. "Winters will remain our home and we will continue to be members of the community, just not in the capacity of a physician," added Dr. Thorpe.

Dr. Thorpe expressed his support for North Runnels Hospital and Dr. Y. K. Lee. He believes North Runnels County is very lucky to have such qualified personnel, facilities and equipment. "Times are hard on rural health care and there is not a lot of incentive to maintain health care in those areas," according to Dr. Thorpe. "The people of the Winters area must continue to support Dr. Lee and the hospital," said Dr. Thorpe.

In concluding, Dr. Thorpe expressed his thanks to all his patients for allowing him to be their physician for the past five years.

Secondary School to host "Meet The Teacher Night"

Winters Secondary School will host the second "Meet The Teacher Night" on October 8, at 7 p.m. The same format will be followed as before. Parents will meet in the auditorium for a short organizational meeting. After the meeting parents will adjourn to their son or daughter's classes. Classes will last 10 minutes with a five minute passing period.

All parents who were unable to attend the first meeting September 10, are encouraged to be here. You need to become acquainted with your child's teacher.

Blizzards offensive - scalp Indians

Jody Guy rushes into the Haskell Indians' defensive line for a short gain last Friday night, with the assistance from behind by Timothy Torres.

The Blizzards are preparing to meet the Jim Ned Indians this Friday night at Jim Ned Stadium in Tuscola.

After a couple of games with not much offensive spark, the Winters Blizzards generated 203 yards rushing and 159 yards passing to bury the Haskell Indians by a score of 24-6 last Friday night in Haskell.

Quarterback Craig Slaughter completed 8 of 11 passes, one for a touchdown, for the highest percentage of completions for the season so far. The Blizzards averaged 4.1 yards per rush on the ground.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Blizzards' Jody Guy scored the first touchdown for the night with 8 minutes remaining in the second quarter. The touchdown came on a 2 yard rushing play into the end zone. The point after attempt failed.

Six minutes later, with 1:59 remaining in the half, Timothy Torres scored on a 6 yard run and again the point after was no good.

After a rousing performance by the Blizzard Band at halftime, the Blizzards came storming back, scoring the third touchdown of the night on a 26-yard pass from Slaughter to Brandon Boles. Boles made the catch surrounded by three Haskell defenders in the corner of the end zone.

Haskell made their only score with 1:47 remaining in the third quarter on a run by senior running back Johnathan Dever. The Blizzards' final score came two minutes into the fourth quarter on a 4 yard run by Timothy Torres.

Torres was the leading ground gainer against Haskell, gaining 149 yards on 27 carries for an average of 5.5 yards per carry. On the defensive side of the ball Bill Belew led the team with 8 solo tackles, 1 assist and 1 quarterback sack for a loss of 7 yards. Looking toward another tribe of Indians to the north, the Jim Ned Indians this week, the Blizzards are off to a good start in District play. Coach Danny Slaughter says the Blizzards should continue to grow in confidence if they continue their winning ways started last week against Haskell. This week, playing the Jim Ned Indians on their home field, the Blizzards will have to continue to be aggressive on defense and limit mistakes on offense to come away with another mark in the win column.

Jim Ned returned only 5 starters from last year's team and have yet to win a game in 1990. Blizzard coaches have been cautioning the Blizzards about becoming over confident this week. Winters is picked as a 17 point favorite by the Harris Rating System. Be at Jim Ned this Friday night and watch the Blizzards win!

Dogbite case heard in municipal court

A hearing before Municipal Judge J. C. Hodnett on Tuesday, October 2, on a dog bite case was tentatively resolved in the judge's chambers. The incident happened August 18 near the corner of Church and Spill Streets. An 8 year-old child was attacked by a large German Shepherd dog and seriously wounded.

Prior to the start of the hearing, Judge Hodnett asked the owners of the dog, James and Sarah Lee, to meet with him and City Attorney Ken Slimp. Following a lengthy discussion in chambers, the victim's mother, Faye Thomas, was summoned to enter into the discussion.

Upon returning to the hearing room, Judge Hodnett announced the hearing was postponed, pending an agreement made by the Lee family to remove the dog from Winters and to pay the medical bills for the child who was attacked. Medical bills for the child totaled approximately $2400. They city will retain possession of the dog pending arrangements to remove it from the city.

Neighbors attending the hearing included Don and Amy Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tischler. They protested the agreement, saying the dog should be put to death to keep it from endangering other children. City attorney Ken Slimp cited a law saying the dog must be given a second chance or the city could be subject to suit from the dog's owners. The Lees have one other German Shepherd and some concern was expressed by the neighbors about the dog, but acting Police Chief Patrick Coggin informed the group that some complaints had been lodged against the dog for being loose, but no complaints concerning aggressive behavior had been received.

Following the incident on August 18, City Animal Control Officer Curtis Jackson issued a citation to the Lees for the dog biting a person. Police officers are not allowed by policy to dispose of an animal unless the officer sees the incident and determines the immediate use of force necessary to prevent the animal from causing harm. The police officer can hold the animal until the arrival of an animal control officer. In this incident, officers arrived after the attack and did not actually witness it. The dog was taken into possession and observed by a veterinarian for ten days to determine if the animal was rabid.

At the conclusion of the hearing, concern was continued to be expressed by the Johnson family because of their three small children in close proximity to the yard in which the dog is kept.

Economic development meeting scheduled next week

Winters residents interested in the future of the town and trying to make plans for progress are encouraged to attend the economic development meetings scheduled for Wednesday, October 10 and Thursday, October 11. Dr. Tom Stebbins, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will lead the meeting. The meetings will be held at the Community Center beginning at 7 p.m.

Dr. Stebbins has used his technique in successfully developing programs for progress in many rural towns such as Winters in the past. The first meeting will allow participants to list their ideas about improving the economy and then coming together to rank the ideas put forth. The second meeting will have the purpose of allowing the people to select which economic development project or projects they want to work on, convert their ideas to workable goals and write an action plan to accomplish those goals.

"No one knows better what a community needs than the residents," says Dr. Stebbins. Runnels County Agent Mike Mauldin, City Alderman Steve Byrne, Chamber of Commerce president Gloria Poehls and others interested in the future of Winters encourage you to be there.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles

I was lucky enough to be able to attend the Society of Petroleum Engineers' Annual Meeting in New Orleans last week. It is a great way to take a vacation and call it a business trip, but I did learn a few things in the process. Instead of having one singular topic this time, I think I will share a few tidbits that I came across at the meeting.

At a seminar preceding the convention, I happened to sit next to a group from Saudi Aramco, the national oil company of Saudi Arabia. Two of the folks were native Saudi's (one male and one female) and one fellow was British. Several interesting things came out of our casual conversation.

First, the female of the group struck me as being rather normal, and, after all of the reports about the special treatment (similar to captivity and enslavement) afforded women, I expected, at least, a veil to be covering her face. Instead, she was very attractive (don't worry—my wife was right there) and wore regular, even modern, clothing. She was an engineer, and she eloquently explained that women are allowed to do just about anything in Saudi Arabia. But, she said, that most women prefer to take the ancient Moslem teachings to heart and be totally submissive to men.

Talk eventually got back around to the practical matters of what the "oilfield" was like in Saudi Arabia. After about 20 minutes of explaining that term and its significance, a few facts came to light. For one, the number of engineers and scientists that are employed by Saudi Aramco is phenomenal. Based on the numbers I heard, there are about 5 engineers and/or scientists PER ACTIVE WELL. Compare that to one engineer per 400 wells in most major oil companies in the U.S.

Also, the magnitude of Saudi Arabia's reserves and future production capacity makes our stripper wells look like a ridiculous waste of time. (By the way, the Saudi males were quite interested in the other kind of strippers.) It seems that Saudi Arabia has several hundred shut-in wells in as yet untapped reservoirs that can be produced in the next century. The reserves that they represent have already been documented and reported, but the point was really driven home to me while talking with the Saudis. The wells have capacities of several thousand barrels per day, no water, flowing. It was just staggering.

As the convention progressed, I was struck by the way most of the attendees and officials were really quite conservative in their outlook for the oil business. Most said that current oil prices were too good to last. The consensus was that one of two things will happen in the next few weeks or months: 1) Oil prices will drop to near $20-25/bbl. or 2) the Federal government will step in to impose an excise tax (aka "windfall profits" tax) and effectively lower the price for the producer but not the consumer. In any case, there were none of the wild predictions of $50 oil or the spoils that would follow. In one way or another, the industry has learned a few things from the previous boom and bust.

Conspicuously absent from the exhibition floor this time around were the women in tight skirts and low cut blouses that are often used to draw attention to the products that are being hawked to oil industry personnel. These pretty ornaments are being replaced by men and women who are serious about making a product that is effective and cost efficient for those in the oil industry. Gimmicks still abound, but behind most of them are honest-to-goodness products and services that really fill a need.

I think all of these attitudes reflect the leanness and meanness that everyone, especially service companies, has had to adopt in order to survive. And, to tie all of this together, it further illustrates how a country like the U.S., which has to coax every last drop of oil out of the ground, can compete with a country, like Saudi Arabia, that can open and close valves at a whim to produce as much as is required.

Next week, I will continue with additional pieces of information I picked up in New Orleans. Stay tuned.

Horizontal drilling causing mini-boom

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that a boom in horizontal drilling production is bringing new vitality to the state's oil patch.

"Horizontal oil and gas wells are delivering some old-fashioned oil boom prosperity to several Texas counties and pumping hundreds of millions of dollars into the state economy," said Bullock.

"The current conflict in the Middle East has added even greater importance to horizontal drilling as one way to increase our domestic energy production to reduce our reliance on imported oil," Bullock said.

In the August 1990 Fiscal Notes publication, the Comptroller reports that the value of horizontal production between the beginning of 1989 and the end of April 1990 was about $104 million. For every $1 million in oil and gas produced, Texas gains an estimated 25 new jobs. That translates into about 2,600 new Texas jobs.

During the first four months of 1990, horizontal wells produced nearly 3.5 million barrels of oil and 3.2 billion cubic feet of gas. Bullock said those figures respectively are only 1.6 percent and 0.2 percent of Texas' total production, but horizontal drilling could stretch Texas' oil and gas reserves by as much as 30 percent in the future.

The "mini-boom" in drilling activity is concentrated in the Austin Chalk, a narrow crescent of rich oil deposits that sweeps across much of South and East Texas. Using a computer-guided drill to dig horizontally makes it possible for companies to recover three or more times the oil and gas that conventional, vertical drills produce in the Austin Chalk.

"Counties like Dimmit and Frio have seen retail sales, hotel occupancy and new jobs skyrocket in recent months," Bullock said. "The frenzy of drilling activity has increased land lease prices from $25 to $35 per acre to the $150 to $400 range."

"It may not bring back the days of Spindletop, but horizontal drilling holds the promise of boosting Texas oil and gas production for years to come," Bullock said.

BY PASTOR STEVE BYRNE

Properly speaking, Christianity is NOT a religion. Religions concern themselves with religious matters. Defining "religion" as one aspect of life, alongside many other life-components. A neat and tidy way to view life, actually.

Then Jesus came along and did one of two things, depending on your point of reference. Either he did away with religion entirely, as a category of life, or else he expanded religion beyond categorization, to encircle each and every part of existence. Take your pick. They amount to the same thing.

Christianity is not a religion. It is a way to live. Jesus was just as concerned with his brother's health and issues of peace and justice as questions about God. Jesus spoke more about stewardship (how we live our everyday lives) than prayer.

Jesus' wholistic (holistic?) approach to people and his concern for all aspects of life motivates many of us to get involved and become active in our communities. Striving to meet human needs and create a healthy environment for people to live and be in relationship to God. In all of life.

Community action is a Christian vocation (calling). A place where each person can make a difference and serve God by serving our neighbor. In Mark 12:28-34, Jesus, in fact, sums up Christianity in precisely this way.

My own involvement in the Winters community and in rural issues over the past 7 years has been as a direct result of my understanding of service as Christian vocation. I can say, confidently, that many of the other volunteers I have worked with in community service projects have been motivated by the same understanding of this work as a "calling."

On Wednesday and Thursday, October 10 and 11, at 7:00 p.m. (both evenings), at the Community Center, neighbors who are interested in making the Winters-Wingate area an even better place to live, grow, and serve will meet for a Community Development Workshop. There will be a dozen or more reasons why the people there will participate. A lot of us will be there because we sense that God has called us to serve our neighbors together. I hope that you are one of us.

"I appeal to you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship." Romans 12:1

First Baptist's Beat

Last week a group of 11 adults attended a Senior Adult Chautauqua at Gloria Baptist Conference Center in New Mexico. The preacher for the week was Dr. Calvin Metcalf of Knoxville, Tennessee. Dr. Metcalf also did a series of dramatic monologues each morning that featured Jonah, Judas and Simon Peter. The Bible Study leader was Ralph Smith of Austin, Texas and the music was lead by Lynn Madden of Little Rock, Arkansas. Following morning Bible Study there were many special interest conferences to choose from. The afternoons were spent in free time. Wednesday afternoon a tour of the grounds of the conference center was taken. Thursday afternoon a trip to Santa Fe Ski Basin was made. At the ski basin the golden aspen trees stood in contrast to the dark green of the pine and spruce trees and was a wonderful sight to behold. Some of the group even rode the ski lift to the mid-point of the mountain where Santa Fe could be seen in the distant valley below.

Those attending the conference were Charlotte Miller, Jerry Lloyd, Emily Pendergrass, Charlise Poe, Gladys Swafford, Hortel McCaughan, Jo Olive Hancock, Omega Priddy, Mary Jim Currie, Nina Hale and David Speegle.

Last Sunday night First Baptist Church held a Fifth Sunday Family Fellowship at the Community Center. Fajitas were cooked by the Brotherhood with all the fixin's being provided by Sunday School classes. Before the meal there was a time of singing together. Special music was provided by Randall Boles who sang "The King is Coming" and a duet by David and Jeri Speegle called "A New Name in Glory." There were around 125 in attendance. Following the meal a time of fellowship was enjoyed.

Now, there is one tournament that encompasses the entire Big Country area. Tournament rules follow Texas Parks & Wildlife guidelines, with only Texas whitetail deer qualifying.

This tournament will be a first, taking weight of the deer into account as well as the rack. Area hunters are excited about this. Weight will be the totally dressed-out weight of the animal.

"Big Bucks" judging stations will be: Stephens Processing in Abilene, Ray's Grocery in Breckenridge, Trophy Taxidermy in Brownwood, Lake Gardens Processing in San Angelo, Swenson Meats in Stamford and Texas Packing in Sweetwater.

Todd Grantham on honor roll

Texas State Technical Institute in Sweetwater has released its honor rolls for the recently completed summer term.

In order to qualify for the President's Honor Roll, students must have a grade point average of 4.0 for the term. For the Dean of Instruction's Honor Roll, students need to have a 3.5 or better grade point average.

Todd Grantham of Winters has qualified for the Dean of Instruction's Honor Roll. Todd is a 1987 graduate of Winters High School. He is the son of Helen Grantham and the late Mike Grantham.

The only state-supported, residential technical college in Texas, TSTI offers both associate degrees and certificates in a number of cutting-edge technologies. The Sweetwater campus and its extensions in Abilene and Breckenridge offer 17 programs of study.

The college offers a wide variety of financial aid, as well as working with many sponsoring agencies. For more information, interested people can call toll-free 1-800-592-TSTI.

There will be registration locations in 30 counties in the Big Country area, including KWZD/Wizzard 103.7 at 3517 Grape Street in Abilene. In Winters, the registration location is West Dale Grocery.

Weekly prizes include best rack, biggest by weight, total rack and weight and biggest doe.

No deer from game ranches or "canned" shoots will be allowed, and polygraph examinations will be required of all winners, as per tournament rules. Prior registration (to hunting deer, then registering) is mandatory.

Entry fees are $60 for the season (pre-registration before September 28, 1990) and $75 for the season beginning September 29, 1990, or $25 per week on a weekly basis during the tournament.

First graders at Winters Elementary School presented "Chick-a-Chick-a-Boom-Boom", adapted from a book of the same name by Bill Martin, Jr. Songs about the ABC's and numbers 1-2-3 were sung for an audience of pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, and second grades in a very entertaining fashion by the first graders. First grade teachers Fran Kidwell and Brenda Bahlman are seen leading the children.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q-My spouse and I do not live together, neither do I contribute to her support. Can I claim her as a dependent on my pension claim?

A-No. A pensioner can claim a dependent spouse only if living with that spouse or, if separated, contributing to the spouse's support.

Q-I receive VA compensation and I wish to claim an adopted child as a dependent. What type of documentation does the Department of Veterans Affairs require?

A-You should provide VA with a certified copy of the final decree of adoption or the adoptive placement agreement. In areas where court records of adoption are not readily available, a certified copy of the revised birth certificate showing the name of the veteran as parent may be acceptable.

Winters High School Song

We are here, our dear old high
To laud your glories to the sky.
Colors, white and blue
And we'll stand by you.

We will wave our colors gay
As we go fighting on our way.
For our grand old high school dear,
We'll never fail, never fail
Hip, hip, hooray!

Twain Talk

by Truyla Twain

Smile - make people wonder

Do you remember last week's discussion? I talked about some of the everyday things that tend to make me get out of sorts. Well, I apologize if I sounded a bit on the stressed side and hope to get back in good standing this week with some of the "funner" things that brighten my days.

Stuff like -
Feeling the cool underside of my pillow.

Finally getting the popcorn hull unwedged from my tooth.

Remembering my coupons while I'm still in the grocery store.

Finding an earring that I lost two months ago.

Napping for an hour without any interruption.

Locating a parking space near the entrance.

Hearing the dentist say, "No cavities today."

Eating the last four chocolate chip cookies before anybody else gets them.

Getting the gum off the bottom of my shoe with one try.

Beating my husband at any game.

Getting the bathroom to myself.

Walking a mile without needing CPR.

Having a tissue handy when it's a really big sneeze in public.

Finding a $10 bill in my old purse before selling it for 50¢ in the garage sale.

Wearing a bathing suit and not being called "Sir."

Making a speech without spitting on my paper.

Hearing the highway patrolman say, "No ticket this time."

Finding a much-needed tissue that doesn't have gum stuck on it.

Getting an unexpected hug from my kids.

Now I realize that that none of these things are earth-shattering. It's just that I'm willing to bet those last four chocolate chip cookies that everybody has some things happen each day that deserve a little more appreciation.

We just need to take maybe a second or two and "stop and smell the roses."

And even if your flowers happen to be ragweed - be grateful and smile. Especially if you've got a clean tissue handy!

Ballinger obtains new doctor

Dr. Kenneth D. Leckie, 43, a former Lieutenant Colonel with the United States Air Force, has announced he will begin practicing medicine in Ballinger in the near future.

Leckie, a 1965 graduate from R. L. Turner High School in Carrollton, Texas, is also a 1974 graduate from Texas Tech University with a BA degree and a member of the Class of 1978 from Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine in Fort Worth.

He will be joining forces with Dr. Bill Pollan of Ballinger and together they will take over the medical facilities at the Ballinger Clinic, which was owned and operated by Dr. John E. Green, Jr., and located at 302 3rd Street in Ballinger.

The clinic has been sold and both doctors (Dr. Pollan and Dr. Leckie) will open the clinic as soon as the remodeling project is completed sometime in mid-October.

"I am pleased to have Dr. Leckie here. He will be a great asset to the community and the practice of medicine," said Dr. Pollan.

"Dr. Green will stay about a month to introduce his patients to both of us and then he will most likely work around as a relief doctor for other doctors," said Pollan.

In 1967-1970, Dr. Leckie enlisted in the U. S. Army and was a member of the Green Berets, where he served one year in the Republic of Vietnam as a Special Forces "A" team.

While in the U.S.A.F., Dr. Leckie spent time in Egypt and Saudi Arabia. During his time in the service, he met Dr. Pollan and worked with him for two years in the Stealth Fighter Squadron.

His last two years as a Flight Surgeon were spent at Edwards AFB in California and he was a member of the Space Shuttle Medical Recovery team.

He has been married for nine years to Rosemary, a registered nurse from Mt. Clemens, Michigan, and they have three daughters, Lauren, Monica and Kaitlin.

"We came to Ballinger at Dr. Pollan's invitation, but it was really Sherry Pollan who convinced us this was the place to settle, raise a family and become part of a community," said Dr. Leckie.

"I am excited to be back in Texas and am ready to begin serving the community," added Leckie.

Leckie noted that his practice will begin as soon as he receives his Texas medical license.

"We have lived in many places and this place gives you a feeling of being at home," says Rosemary Leckie.

"I'm ready to become a helpful part of the community, to get back into real family medicine and to raise a family," Dr. Leckie said.

WISD School Board meeting with architects

The Board of Winters Independent School District had a special called meeting last Tuesday, September 25 to interview the first of several architectural firms vying to handle the renovation of the present elementary school building. The renovation was recommended by the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Board on August 20.

The recommendations by the Advisory Committee included air conditioning the building, making the building environmentally efficient, insulating, adding additional rooms for music, elementary computer lab, and pre-kindergarten students. Also included in the recommendations were updating of the media center (library), making provisions for deaf education, the addition of three multi-service classrooms, a teacher work room, conference room and a counselor's office.

In the meeting last Tuesday, representatives of Huckabee and Donham Architects & Planners presented their qualifications to the Board for their consideration. After a short slide presentation showing projects in which they had been involved, Board members questioned the architects as to their opinions on what could be done and ballpark costs involved in the renovation.

At presstime, another special meeting had been called to meet with a second architect.

Poe's Corner
By Charlsie Poe

Jeannine Poe, insurance agent in Tillamook, Oregon

Believes in Service

Country Companies considers outstanding service providers so important, they are beginning a series in the company magazine, Connections, to recognize and honor their efforts.

First to be featured are an agent and district underwriter who were specially selected because of their exceptional service efforts. Even before her clients had dug their drowned yearling heifer out of the mud, Jeannine Poe, agent in the Tillamook, Oregon, Agency (NW), was at the dairy farm with a helping hand.

It was last January when portions of Oregon and Washington were hit with the worst flooding and windstorm in a decade. Within hours, Poe and other Country Companies agents and claims representatives were actively assisting clients. Many rural roads were closed, but Poe, determined to help, made her way to her clients—including Scott Esplin's dairy farm where 51 heifers were lost and a main barn damaged.

"We have to thank our agent who takes care of us and makes sure we have the proper coverage. It would be hard to get faster service or a more caring agent," said policyholder Esplin about Poe's service during his farm disaster. According to Vince Avolio, vice president-agency in the Northwest Region, "Jeannine has provided long-term excellent service. She performed in a superior way in helping our clients through one of the worst storms which has ever hit the area."

Poe, an agent for eight years with 13 prior years experience in claims, has a simple philosophy about being an agent: "I believe in personal service. Everyone in our office is committed to providing that special edge on service."

Most of Poe's business is in the farm market. She is friend to farmers and ranchers and understands the unique needs these clients have. "We don't count the hours it takes to service our clients. We work as long as it takes to get the job done. I've only got two speeds; stop and go. Putting in 10 to 12 hour days does not bother me.

"When people ask me when I'm going to retire, I say, 'Why should I?' I love what I do, I feel great and I'm living where I want to live. I'll probably never retire, I'll just fade away someday," kidded Poe.

Poe swears by the "Golden Rule" and our country commitment philosophy in her dealings with people. "It's the little things that count. I treat any problems my clients have like they're my problems."

Through thousands of miles and hundreds of conversations over cups of good coffee, Jim Chambers, district underwriter in the Springfield District (IL), did what he does best—listens to and evaluates the needs of potential policyholders.

Chambers sees serving clients as a very personal matter. "My dad was a farmer. When I'm asked to review business with a client, I do it as if I were taking care of my father's needs," explained Chambers.

From literally going that extra "muddy" mile to intently listening to the needs and concerns of clients, both Jeannine Poe and Jim Chambers are shining examples of Country Commitment Service Providers.

(Jeannine is the daughter of Charlsie Poe—sister of Dennis Poe. She finished Winters High School, graduated from Baylor University and taught school several years before entering the insurance business.)

BFI to begin contacting commercial customers

Wal-Mart will sponsor the Annual 4-H Bike-A-Thon. It will be held Saturday, October 13 from 3 to 5:30 p.m. Wal-Mart will match all funds up to $2000.

Plans were also discussed for the 4-H Food Show. The local club had a workshop on Saturday, September 29. The 4-H Food Show is set for November 3.

The club was reminded that October 7-14 is National 4-H Week.

Derron Robinson, Melissa Asbill and Beth Eggemeyer gave the program on "4-H—What It's All About."

Banana Splits were served as refreshments to approximately 30 members and parents.

Memo from the Chamber

October is here and that says pumpkins, Germanfest and Halloween. We want every business and every residence to resurrect witches and pull skeletons out of every closet. Winners will be announced in the paper the last week of October.

The booths for the Arts and Crafts Show, November 9 and 10, are filling up, we are over half full. If you plan to be a part of this event, please get your space reserved.

Caruth Small Business Development Center, the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, and West Texas Council of Governments are sponsoring a one-day Business Conference for women in Abilene Thursday, October 18, "Competing in the Market Place." If you are interested in learning more about the session, come by the Chamber office for a brochure.

Senior Citizens Nursing Home News

By Billie Ruth Bishop

After missing a couple of weeks, I'm finally getting a news letter in from the nursing home. I apologize for being late with the letters, but hopefully I'll do better in the future.

Several people brought in vegetables that I failed to thank. They were Omer Hill, Albert Wuistingner, Ace and Marty Polk and Chlora Boehnlein. There may be others whose names I didn't have. We thank you all and appreciate all you do for the residents.

Thursday of last week we had our Monthly Birthday Party. We only had one honoree in September, she was Cynthia Choice.

Mrs. Choice was 86 years old on September 7. Congratulations to her. The Friendly Ladies Sunday School Class from First United Methodist Church was the hosts for the party. We thank each one of the ladies who had a part.

Nancy Davis and Laurie Franklin brought a group of boys and girls who sang several numbers and entertained our residents. This always puts a smile on their faces and gives them that special little lift they need. Thank you for all your love and care.

Betty Pinkerton entertained as usual Monday morning with her organ music. The ladies and men alike enjoyed the old songs from their past. They like to sing along as the recall days gone by.

Mickey McCarty has returned to her home. Mickey we hope the best for you.

We invite you to come by for a visit real often.

Band Notes

by Stephen Henr, Director

Being a band member is more for a person than just knowing how to toot horn or to march in step. Being a band member teaches all its members valuable lessons that can and will be used throughout life.

One of the main lessons that of group endeavor. If you can work with others to achieve a common goal, you have learned a lesson that you can take into any job situation. In today's world, teamwork is a key to opening the door to any opportunities.

Another main lesson is that of self discipline. To be a band member, you must learn how to discipline yourself to practice and to go the extra yard if you need to. This is why more and more medical schools across the nation will consider a musician over a non-musician just because they generally have a higher degree of self discipline than the average student. They are more likely to finish.

This weeks spirit award goes to Tabatha Grohman and Michael Alatorre.

We are polishing our final routines. Applying the polish necessary to do well. We're working as a team towards a common goal.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to say a few things about our ambulance service and what they have done for my family. My husband was sick for 13 years and our ambulance service was always there to take him to the hospital if it be North Runnels Hospital or Abilene. They stand by to see if he stayed in the hospital or back home or the nursing home, where he was for 3 years.

When my niece almost lost her baby, she had to be sent to Lubbock by air, who was there for her and the baby, Randy and our ambulance service. They stayed at the hospital, called the airport every few minutes to see when the plane was insight the ambulance service was on its way with her. She has a very sweet little girl about 3 years old. Thanks to Randy and our ambulance service and the wonderful people who cared. When my brother had a heart attack, who was there, North Runnels Emergency Service. They got him to Abilene 2 different times. We might not have him today if it hadn't been for Randy's Ambulance Service and his people were there.

We have the best ambulance service and people that operate it. Thanks again I bet if you sit down and think, they have done some nice things for you and others.

Why should us, the taxpayer, pay for an ambulance service when we have the best in Texas. Think about us old people when we have to get by on Social Security check. Think about Mr. Pitt and you on the hospital bed. Someday your wife might be a widow and be on Social Security. As you know what comes around goes around.

Letter to the Editor

During this time of the Iraqi invasion into Kuwait and when many of our soldiers are risking their lives to protect freedom and rights of others we as Americans should realize how lucky we are to live in a country that allows us to participate in free elections, have freedom of speech and access to open meetings. Through the years many people have given their lives to ensure these rights and yet we as citizens often abuse and ignore them. Throughout the past several months, I have been attending City Council meetings and have noticed that there is next to no participation from the residents of Winters. I strongly encourage Winters residents to take advantage of our rights as Americans and attend local public meetings. The City Council has now taken steps to ensure accessibility for all residents. City Council meetings are now held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month at 6 p.m. at the Winters Housing Authority.

Sincerely yours,
William Evrard

Members of the City Council:
On behalf of the Runnels County LULAC Council Post #658 would like to extend our appreciation for the action taken regarding the location of City Council meetings.

We feel that temporarily moving the meetings to the Wiers Housing Authority has demonstrated your good faith in finding a viable solution to the problem of accessibility until a permanent solution can be found.

We'd also like to commend Charles Ludwick for exploring possible alternatives in making City Council meetings accessible to the elderly and handicapped. We feel his actions have shown that he is a very responsible and capable City Administrator.

Respectfully yours,
William Evrard

Letter to the Editor

I'm writing this letter to express my opinion that our ambulance service would be in very good hands with North Runnels Hospital. I think they could have two people on duty around the clock so two people would be available at all times to answer calls immediately. Response time on an emergency on Friday, September 28, to our Senior Citizens Center by North Runnels Emergency Service was 18 minutes.

Regardless of how we, the people, go about providing this service, at present the county taxpayers are paying $57,500 per year and the least we can do is think about just accepting assignment for senior citizens.

My daughter fell at Super Duper and was transported to North Runnels Hospital without a driver, no attendant and one band-aid cost $145. I think we can get more value for our dollar with an ambulance service operated by the hospital.

Two weeks or so ago, a friend, Jerrie Miller, fell unconscious and when the ambulance was called, the attendants did not know the location of the street address, nor after arriving did they know the location of North Runnels Hospital-response time unknown-but what kind of response time is possible under these circumstances?

I personally am interested in the best ambulance service possible because I have a heart condition and may need one quickly. I have no axe to grind or no job interest to protect. I am strictly interested in the Winters area having the best ambulance service possible. No one in my family is connected with the present service and I am not trying to hold on to it so some member of my family will be employed.

North Runnels Hospital has been well-operated and has always tried to be forward-looking in their services and is under excellent management. If North Runnels Hospital had an ambulance service, I think it would be one of which we could be proud, and would complete the services of the hospital.

There are a lot of people in the City of Winters who feel the same way I do.

Respectfully,
Rosemary Bennie

1991 Maid of Cotton being sought

Memphis, Tenn.-Does being the Maid of Cotton translate into the dream job of a lifetime?

Opinions may differ on that subject, but many people would agree that being the 1991 goodwill ambassador for the U.S. cotton industry is as close as you can get to that fantasy.

For instance, what kind of job includes six months of international travel, a fashionable all-cotton wardrobe, personal meetings with ambassadors and top government officials all over the world, courtesy calls on senators and congressmen...plus other incentives?

Probably not many. But that's exactly what awaits the person who'll be chosen in Dallas, Dec. 27-29, as the 1991 Maid of Cotton.

The National Cotton Council, sponsor of the program, is now accepting applications from qualified young women interested in such an opportunity.

Not only is this a real life fantasy, it is an invaluable way to get a head start on a career. The following list is a prime example of how being Maid of Cotton can help open doors to the job market:

ANGELA HERBERT (1988 Maid of Cotton)--After graduating from Arizona State University in 1989, Angela was hired as a regional sales representative for Gallo Wines in the Los Angeles area. In her job, she calls on key accounts throughout Los Angeles and Orange counties in southern California.

JANN CARL (1982 Maid of Cotton)--Jann used her experience as a springboard into a successful broadcasting career. After graduation from the University of Missouri, she worked for several stations before landing her current assignment as evening news anchor for KTLA-TV in Los Angeles, the flagship station for NBC. She is recognized as one of the top local newscasters in the highly competitive Los Angeles market.

KARIE ROSS (1981 Maid of Cotton)--Karie graduated from the University of Oklahoma and was one of the first women to break into television sportscasting. She worked as a sports reporter for a station in Columbus, Ohio, and got her big break a few years ago when she was hired by ESPN. She handled feature assignments and was an occasional co-host on the nightly "Sportscenter" show. She currently is working for Mizlou's Sports News Network, a new Washington-based sports cable television network.

The list of women previously chosen Maid of Cotton or finalists in the competition is an impressive one.

Actress Joanne Woodward was a finalist in 1949 and 1950 but didn't win either year. Martha Layne Hall, elected governor of Kentucky in 1983, was a finalist in 1959. Mary Ann Mobley, eventually chosen Miss America, was a finalist in 1959.

The new Maid's 1991 schedule for 1991 promises to be at least as demanding as Maid Ashley Brunson's was last year. As the 52nd Maid of Cotton, the Houston native undertook a busy schedule that included a visit to Capitol Hill, appearances in 25 U.S. cities, a special fashion photography session in New York, participation in a Korean fashion show that attracted more than 2,000 people and a highly successful promotional Far East tour which included stops in Japan, Korea and the Philippines. In addition, Ashley had newspaper and television interviews in 10 states.

Headquarters for this year's selection is the Loews Anatole Hotel in Dallas with the finals scheduled at the Stemmons Auditorium in the hotel on the evening of Dec. 29. The new Maid makes her first official appearance at the Cotton Bowl on Jan. 1.

The young woman chosen as the 1991 Maid of Cotton receives a $10,000 educational award made possible by a grant to The Cotton Foundation from Ciba-Geigy Corporation.

This year's selection is open to young women between the ages of 19 and 23 who never have been married and are residents of cotton-producing states. Judging is based on appearance, poise, personality and communications skills.

Application forms are available at National Cotton Council headquarters, P.O. Box 12285, Memphis, TN 38182. Deadline for entries is November 2.

VETERINARY UPDATE

Vaccination programs for dogs & cats

Today we're going to talk about vaccination programs for dogs and cats.

One of the most frequent things that I hear is when a client comes in with a kitten or a puppy that is five or six months old or a year old, and says that they didn't think any shots were due until the animal was six months old or a year old. So today we're going to go over the program that we normally follow that you can use to maximize the effectiveness of the vaccination and prevent your puppy from being sick.

Most puppies and kittens are weaned at approximately eight weeks of age. It's really important that as soon as your puppy or kitten is weaned, then you need to start on the first series of shots.

The problem that we have with weaning at this age and vaccination at this time is that there are generally maternal antibodies that are passed from the mother to the baby. Our first shot is generally not as effective as we would like to have it because of the cancelling out of these maternal antibodies by the vaccine that we use. Therefore, it is very important that the booster shots be followed in a regular series in order to maximize protection and prevent your puppy or kitten from becoming ill.

In dogs, we alternate vaccinations every two weeks with the combination 7-way with the Parvo-Corona and Parvo-Corona vaccine until the puppy reaches 16 weeks of age. This may sound like an expensive program to follow, but I can assure you that it is cheaper to do this than try to treat distemper or Parvo.

The distemper virus is a virus that affects all systems of the body and is almost impossible to treat. If you do salvage the dog, the chances are 9 out of 10 that there will be some permanent neurological damage.

So it's very important, distemper-wise, that you follow the vaccination program.

The other serious disease that we have to contend with, of course, is Parvo virus. We've talked about that for the last two weeks. I would caution you that I still see cases of this disease almost every day. It's imperative that you be protected so get your pet vaccinated in order to prevent this.

Normally in the past we have vaccinated only through the third month. Now we're finding it necessary to continue these vaccinations through the 16th week, because we are seeing more and more problems in older dogs that have had only one or a partial series of immunizations.

So let me caution you that once you start the series of shots, you should complete them.

Next week we will take up rabies vaccinations and the vaccination of your cat herd.

8th Grade Breezes scalp Haskell

The Winters 8th Grade Breezes, playing much better than the week before, scalped the Haskell Indians 20-0. The Breezes showing much improvement in all phases of the game, jumped out to 13-0 half-time lead, added an early 4th quarter touchdown for the final 20-0 count.

The Breezes got on the scoreboard early in the first quarter when Lupe Roman went 30 yards on the first play from scrimmage. Roman then kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead. The Breezes held Haskell on downs on their next possession and took over at their own 45 yard line. The Breezes offense then took over and drove the ball down the field to the four yard line. From there, Robert Silva carried the ball into the end-zone for the second Breezes' touchdown, Roman's extra point attempt was blocked. This left the score at half 13-0.

The third quarter was scoreless, but early in the fourth quarter the Breezes mounted a sustained drive to the Haskell 2 yard-line. From there, Robert Silva carried the ball into the end-zone for a Breeze touchdown. Lupe Roman kicked the extra point for the final 20-0 score. Haskell did have one scoring opportunity in the fourth quarter, the Breeze defense held 4 times inside the ten to preserve the shutout.

The Breeze offense consisting of linemen Jason Garcia, Cody Whittenburg, Lance Donica, Zane Guy, Perry Blackshear, Charlie Burton and backs Nathan Collins, Lupe Roman, Robert Silva and Anthony (Earl) Thomas combined for 180 yards total offense, 169 on the ground.

The Breeze defense consisting of Jason Mitchell, Cody Whittenburg, Lance Donica, Nathan Collins, Lupe Roman, Kelly Thompson, Anthony (Earl) Thomas, Mikey Hernandez, Robert Silva and Jason Garcia posted their first shutout of the year.

The defense was given some relief help by Shane Smith at linebacker and down lineman and Archie Lancaster in the secondary.

"Good overall efforts by all team members were the key ingredients to the victory," says Breeze Coach.

The Breezes play Jim Ned here Thursday night.

Haskell slips by Winters J.V.

The Haskell Indians eased by the Winters J.V. last Thursday by the score of 18-12. The Indians scored in the first quarter on a 3 yard run. The extra point failed making the score 6-0 in favor of the Indians. The Blizzard offense began moving the ball in the second quarter. Winters scored on a 65 yard touchdown pass from Gabriel L. Ortiz to Ahmad Griffin. The extra point failed making the score 6-6. Haskell ran the ensuing back 70 yards for a touchdown. The Indians went for the two point conversion which failed, which made the score 12-6 in favor of Haskell.

The second half began with Haskell recovering the kick-off on the Blizzard 45 yard line. The Indians scored from there making the score 18-6 in favor of Haskell. The extra point attempt was no good. The rest of the third quarter the Blizzards defense shut down the Indians.

Early in the fourth quarter the Blizzards had a golden opportunity to score but fumbled on the 10-yard line of Haskell. With only 2:00 to go in the game the Winters offense began to move again with the passing game. Ron Jones hit Ahmad Griffin on a 50 yard strike to put Winters on the Indian 20 yard line. The next play Jones again passed to Griffin for a 20 yard touchdown pass. The two point conversion failed making the score 18-12. The Blizzards then converted an on-side kick with Gabriel J. Ortiz recovering the ball on the Indian 45 yard line. The Indians intercepted a Winters pass to end the threat. The final score was 18-12 in favor of Haskell.

"I was very pleased with our kids tonight," stated Winters Coach Chuck Cathey after the game. "We just have to keep from making mistakes that give people the ball on our end of the field." Coach Cathey also noted other Blizzards who had an outstanding game; they were Billy Wayne Thomas on offense and Scott Thorpe on defense. He also commended all of his players on their effort and praised them for never giving up.

The Winters J. V. next action will take place at home this Thursday against Jim Ned which will begin immediately after the 8th grade game.

7th Grade Football Report

After a hard-fought ball game the 7th grade Blizzards came out on top, defeating Haskell 16-6. Coach Lipsey stated, "I was pleased to see that our kids did not give up. On Haskell's first possession they drove down and scored, but failed to make the two-point conversion. Once the defense figured out they could stop their big back, it turned the ball game around."

Offensively, Mark Deike scored first on a 55 yard sweep. Jerry Esquivel added the two point conversion. The final score came after Quarter Back John Paul Belew hit Joe Reyna, Jr., on a 30 yard pass play. Esquivel scored the touchdown on a drive play and Deike added the two-point conversion. Reyna scored on a 30 yard run in the second half, but was called back due to a clipping penalty.

Bright spots on defense included Michael Luna, Esquivel, Jason Carrillo, Kevin Connor, Mark Dieke, and John Paul Belew who came up with a pass interception.

The 7th grade will be at home Thursday against Jim Ned and we are looking forward to an exciting ball game!

PROVIDING EYE CARE TO WINTERS & SURROUNDING AREAS

Runnels Soil Conservation News and Notes

In just a few short years, tree seedlings planted this spring will quickly grow to protect and beautify your home and property, such as this windbreak surrounding the home of Victor and Bernice Matthiesen of Miles.

RS&WCD offers trees for sale

Well, it's that time of year again! Beginning October 1, the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District (RS&WCD), in cooperation with the Texas Forest Service (TFS) and the Soil Conservation Service (SCS), will be offering quality hardwood and evergreen tree seedlings for sale to area residents.

These seedlings from the TFS are healthy, quality trees that are well adapted to the soil and weather conditions here in Runnels County. With proper care, these seedlings will grow quickly and do a good job for you. The majority of the 5500 seedlings ordered and planted last spring are reported to be alive and well and on their way to providing beauty and protection for their owners.

The RS&WCD will be offering 4 categories of seedlings this year; bullet conifers, conifers, hardwoods, and wildlife packets. Twelve-inch containerized bullet conifers (evergreens) with 10 cubic inches of root volume are offered for $1 each. Available species are Afganistan pine and Arizona cypress. Twelve-inch containerized conifers with 28 cubic inches of root volume are available for $1.50 each. Species offered are Afganistan pine, Eastern red cedar, Austrian pine, and Arizona cypress. This extra root volume gives these seedlings an increased survival advantage over the bullet conifers. Ninety percent of the conifers ordered through the District have been of this type.

Barefoot hardwoods, approximately 24 inches in height, can be purchased for .60 each. Available species include American plum, catalpa, cottonwood, desert willow, green ash, honeylocust, skunkbush sumac, osage orange, pecan, red oak, Russian olive, sandcherry and walnut. Wildlife packets, which consists of 100 trees in 4 different species, will be available in 4 types; quail and pheasant, deer, turkey and squirrel. These packets, which contain species that are beneficial to wildlife habitat and nutrition, are available for $40 per each.

Excluding wildlife packets, the minimum order for this year's sale is 10 trees in any combination. Popular species like red oak, plum and pecan always go fast so do the evergreen seedlings. Please consider ordering early so that your trees can be reserved for you. Then, when the trees arrive in mid-February, you can punch a few holes and get these trees in the ground where they can do a good job for you for many years to come.

For information on this year's Windbreak Tree Program, please stop by the SCS office in Ballinger for an order blank or call 365-3415 and one can be mailed to you. In conjunction with the tree sales, the District will be offering information on economical drip irrigation systems to give your new seedlings the water they need for maximum survival. The trees will get a drink and you won't have to haul water or tug on a hose. Other technical assistance in planning and designing your windbreaks is available to make your tree planting efforts a success and something that you will be proud of for many years.

Sure, it will take a little effort to dig a few holes, but in a few short years, as you sit in the cool shade on a hot July afternoon, it will have been worth it. When the icy force of a howling north wind is nullified by the efficiency of your windbreak, you'll smile and be glad you did!

Mazeland School ex-students hold second reunion

by Betty Thomason

Harley and Clara Brooks hosted the Mazeland ex-student reunion for the second year in a row at their home in Sonora, September 15, 1990.

Mazeland School was located at Wilmeth and closed in 1946. Since that time the building has been converted to a private home.

Festivities for the 92 people attending began at 10:30 a.m. with registration, coffee and a short business meeting. Gene Wheeler gave the invocation. Branding Iron Caterers of Sonora served the barbecue lunch in the Brooks' spacious backyard.

One of the highlights of the day was a cake replica of the old Mazeland School baked and decorated by Mrs. Brooks. Tiny wooden outbuildings built by Mr. Brooks completed the schoolyard.

Music throughout the evening was provided by Jim Wilson and Bob Hartman of Ozona; Oscar Galendio, Harley Brooks, Johnny Ringold, J. C. Surber, Sonora; Mollie McCann and Jim Wilson of Fargo, Oklahoma. Betsy Jo Brooks and Linsey McAnnally performed a dance routine.

An auction of items brought by guests raised $480 toward next year's reunion.

Clara Brooks presented trophies to: Dillard Wood, ex-teacher; Faye (Condra) Smith, traveling farthest, (New Jersey); Rosalie (Berryman) Broadstreet, oldest student; Crook Broadstreet, oldest present; Cevan Smithson, youngest person present; Eva Lita (Wright) Smith, youngest student.

The city council met at noon last Friday and approved an adjusted rate for North Runnels Water Supply Company which their attorneys should be considering by this date. I will continue to report developments in the rate hearing case.

For those of you who missed the Town Hall meeting several weeks ago pertaining to refuse collection and landfill operations. I would like to update you on the status of the situation. Our present landfill is full and will be closed by the first of December. The city will be complying with Texas Department of Health regulations in the closing procedure and will be responsible for maintaining the site under their guidelines for five years. At this time, it is difficult to project the expense of closing the landfill which will include two feet of dirt cover, seeding, and the five year monitoring procedure.

The city plans to have a citizens convenience center, projected to be located adjacent to the present landfill, where refuse not picked up in town may be brought for disposal. This installation will probably be open the same number of hours as the present landfill, but there will be a charge to anyone bringing trash for disposal. The rates for the convenience center will be set by the council in the near future. Of course, the city is unable to accept any tires or toxic waste at this site.

Browning-Ferris Industries was approved by the city council to begin refuse pick-up on December 1, and a BFI representative will be in Winters the week of October 8 to consult with all business and commercial customers regarding their rates. The proposed rates for all residential services are listed at the end of this column.

We have contacted cities in the area (Breckenridge, Merkel, Gorman, Comanche and Cisco who have contracted for BFI's services and all reported satisfactory service and are pleased with the company. Any further questions you may have regarding any city issue, please feel comfortable to contact myself or Charles Ludwick at city hall.

Residential collection once weekly outside City Limits: $11.95 per month

Cisco Junior College to be represented in Macy's Parade

The Cisco Junior College Wrangler Belles drill team and marching band are preparing to represent the State of Texas in the 1990 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City, November 22. This will be the sixth time that Macy's Department Store has invited this group to participate in this nationally televised event, an honor not received by any other junior college group in the nation.

Wrangler Belle Director Debbie Baker has recruited 36 young ladies for the drill team, and Band Director Bill Swinney has a marching band of 46 members for the march through New York City. The show for this parade was finalized last summer, and all the students in the band and Belles are committed to memorizing their parts.

As with its five previous trips to Macy's Parade, Cisco Junior College has invited the public to accompany the band and drill team. The college is offering an attractive tour package of sight-seeing in New York City including four days and three nights. Some of the sights that the group will see are Times Square, Wall Street, the United Nations Building, the Statue of Liberty, the Empire State Building, St. Patrick's Cathedral, and more. "It's really a bargain," says Wyley Peebles of the CJC Fine Arts Department, who is supervising preparations.

Eris Ritchie, of Southwest Enterprise, in Cisco, will be the tour director and guide. Ritchie was band director at CJC when this group made its first appearance in Macy's Parade in 1971, and he has been the tour director for all the other trips since that time. Those interested in making the trip with the CJC Belles and Band should contact Wyley Peebles at Cisco Junior College while there are still some openings in the tour.

Cowboy Band plans busy year

ABILENE, TX--The return of football to the campus of Hardin-Simmons University and centennial activities are enough to keep the "world famous" Cowboy Band busy.

According to W. Scott Mather, band director, the band has definitely got a year full of hard work. September was especially busy with the West Texas Fair Parade and Rodeo. The band also performed during the High School Round-up Sept. 28-29.

The Cowboy Band Barbecue is Oct. 19 in the Mabey Gym. They will perform at 6:30 p.m.

The band will perform during a pep rally, by the Reflection Pond, at 10:00 p.m. on Nov. 3.

The band will travel to Dallas, in December, where they will be featured in the Adolphus Parade. The parade is on Saturday, Dec. 1.

Spring activities include a spring tour to Colorado in March, and the HSU Intercollegiate Rodeo in April.

Traffic to be re-routed

San Angelo-East West Freeway traffic will encounter some changes according to a spokesman for the contractor on the interchange at the east end.

Eastbound traffic going to US 67 and US 277 will continue further east to the newly constructed frontage road. Eastbound traffic going to Loop 306 South or FM 380 (Paint Rock Highway) will use a new roadway near the existing road.

Traffic from Ballinger and Bronte will use the present route if they are going into San Angelo. Those going south to FM 380 or Loop 306 will use the new top level overpass of the new roadway.

Northbound traffic on Loop 306 will go directly onto the new frontage road. The existing detour will be eliminated.

No other major changes to the traffic will be made for about three months. These changes will allow S. H. Tolliver Co. of San Antonio, the contractor, to continue their work on the main lanes of the three level interchange. Final completion of this project is expected in the early summer of 1991.

Signs and barricades will be erected to direct traffic through the new routes.

Carl Atchison P.E., is the Supervising Resident Engineer in charge of the project for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

As in all construction areas, motorists should slow down, follow the signs, barricades, and/or flagmen. Drive safely—don't wreck your life.

Homecoming at ACU set Oct. 25-28

Abilene, TX--A visit from McLean Stevenson of TV's M*A*S*H fame, a Hilltoppers performance, the Homecoming musical, class reunions and a parade are just a few of the highlights of Homecoming '90, scheduled Oct. 25-28.

Stevenson will be the guest host at ACU's USO Show, the Homecoming finale Oct. 27 at 10:30 p.m. that will feature the talents of alumni and current students. On M*A*S*H, an anti-war comedy set in Korea in the 1950s, Stevenson portrayed soft-hearted, bumbling Lt. Col. Henry Blake.

The musical focuses on Don Quixote's quest for the impossible dream and features such songs as "The Impossible Dream" and "Dulcinea." Tickets range in price from $5-$12.

Fulks will be honored for 42 years of service to the university during an invitation-only dinner Oct. 27. Stevenson will give a talk titled "McLean on McLean," scholarship recipients and new endowments will be announced, and a number of alumni will provide entertainment. Hosts Wayne and Nan Gurley will sing "The Impossible Dream."

The Homecoming parade is scheduled Oct. 26 at 5 p.m., and it will be routed from Oliver Jackson Boulevard to Campus Court to E.N. 16th Street. The parade will feature the Big Purple Band, school officials, Homecoming Queen nominees, the Coming Home Court, the Aggie Club on horseback, ACU's cheerleaders, floats, the ACU football team, clowns, the ROTC color guard, a fire truck and much more.

At 9 p.m. Oct. 26, a devotional followed by a pep rally are scheduled in Beauchamp Amphitheater, west of the Biblical Studies Building.

Homecoming chapel will be at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 27 in Moody Coliseum. The A Cappella Chorus will perform at 10:45 a.m. in Cullen Auditorium.

The Wildcats will play East Texas State University Oct. 27 at 2 p.m. at Shotwell Stadium. For adults, both general admission and reserved-seat tickets are $7. Student general-admission tickets are $4, and ACU students are admitted free with a current student ID card.

Searching your family tree?

Runnels County family tree climbers can learn more about their roots through a new magazine called Southern Queries.

Published six times a year, Southern Queries is called "the ancestors." The heart of the magazine is a section where readers exchange information about their ancestors and ask for help. There is also a calendar of family reunions and other events, and helpful articles on genealogical research.

"Genealogy is a booming pastime, especially in the South," said editor Steve Smith. "Southerners who start digging into their family past are often amazed at how closely many of us are related. This magazine is to help them make those connections and fill in their family tree."

Information on the magazine is available by writing: Southern Queries (Info), 115 Sundial Circle, Birmingham, AL 35215.
