Schools & Votes

New Governor Ann Richards and her top legislative supporters did not wait long to begin work on solving the education funding crisis. Governor Richards and the leaders have agreed upon a statewide property tax as the way to solve the school finance crisis.

The plan would have to be approved by voters in a constitutional amendment election. Let's not let it get that far. The plan as unveiled so far smacks so much of socialism it scares me! Have we as Texans and Americans not lost enough of the freedom to make decisions for ourselves and our families?

With the Governor's plan, (and a bill has been authored by Sen. Carl Parker D-Port Arthur) a statewide $1 per $100 of assessed value property tax would be levied by the state. Local school property taxes would be limited to 25 cents per $100 valuation. The state would distribute revenues equally to all school districts based on their number of students.

The state would control new construction projects as well as most of the other aspects of school financing other than annual maintenance and operations expenses.

How many times have we, the people, been promised the state or federal government will take care of all needs if we just allow them to take control? From past experience, I hope the people of the Winters and Runnels County area can see through this plan. Anytime any branch of government gets hold of the money to finance something, layer upon layer of bureaucracy is quickly formed, expenses go up, and more new taxes are needed to keep the program funded.

Now is the time to nip this plan in the bud! We have lost enough local control of our school systems. I urge you to look at what the candidates for state representative have said about school funding. Note their position and vote for one who is in favor of returning control of our schools to the local people.

I urge you to get out and vote on Saturday. Your vote does count and could be the deciding one. With eleven candidates, it is almost surely going to wind up in a runoff, but all one of the candidates needs is 50% of the votes plus one—that one could be yours.

As for my vote and my recommendation to you, vote for Richard Watson. Although we may not agree on everything, I believe he will represent this district with the least outside influence of any of the candidates. My values are also nearer the values he has expressed in his campaigning.

Eleven FFA members to show in Houston

Eleven FFA members from Winters, Texas will be joining 4-H and other FFA members from throughout the state for showing competition at the upcoming Houston Livestock Show, February 16 through March 3 at the Astrohall.

These FFA and 4-H exhibitors compete in one of two divisions of the Houston Livestock Show - the junior show division. The other division, the open show, attracts its exhibitors from the world's agricultural industry, primarily professional breeders and ranchers.

Entries in both the open and junior shows combine with horse show entries to make the Houston Livestock Show the world's largest.

Representing 862 Texas 4-H clubs and FFA chapters, the junior show is expected to exceed 13,000 entries this year. A variety of animals are shown in the junior show division: market steers, market swine, market sheep, market poultry, beef and dairy heifers, breeding sheep, goats, commercial steers, and breeding rabbits.

Exhibiting market steers are James Andrae, Ben Barker, Ed Bredemeyer, Terry Day, John

Exhibiting market barrows is Misty Pritchard.

Exhibiting beef scramble entries are Page Bishop and Ed Bredemeyer.

The four market animal categories represent animals raised by the exhibitor as food sources. Top animals in each of these categories are eligible for their individual market auctions. Total money paid in 1990 at the four junior show auctions exceeded $2.7 million.

"The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is committed to benefiting youth and supporting education. We feel we accomplish these goals through the active role we take in supporting the second week of livestock competition, our junior show. This second week features the livestock projects of youngsters from all over the state and we're proud of the dedication and hard work they give to each of their animals," said Steve Woodley, Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo assistant manager.

Census figures revised

The official census figure for Winters has now been revised to 2905, up from the preliminary figure of 2893, but down from the 1980 census figure of 3061. These figures according to the Census Bureau, may still not be counted as final.

WISD Performance Report for 1989-90

The 1989-90 Winters Independent School District annual performance report, released recently, shows Winters students maintaining average to above average performances. On the Metropolitan Achievement Test (MAT 6), administered to grades Kindergarten through 11, the math scores ranged from the 52nd percentile to the 80th percentile. The scores are reflected in national percentiles. In other words, for the scores in the 52nd percentile, 52% of the students in the nation taking the test scored lower.

In reading, there were scores below the 50th percentile, but the range was from the 44th percentile to the 82nd percentile.

On the TEAMS (Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills) test, Winters students fell below the state average in several subject areas. The best average percentage of mastery continued to be in the 9th grade writing test. Of Winters' ninth grade, 78% of the students mastered the writing test while only 71% passed at the state level.

Marcha leads to knife fight

A wedding marcha turned ugly last Saturday night at the local VFW. Three men were injured and two arrested following the knife fight which broke out during the marcha.

Runnels County Sheriff's Department officers answered a call at 11:30 p.m. and found a large group involved in a fight. Investigating officer Randy West said two men were treated at North Runnels Hospital and released. They were Juan Reyes and Jose Reyes, both treated for knife wounds to the stomach.

A third person, Raymond Ortiz was taken to North Runnels Hospital, then transferred to Hendrick Memorial Hospital with knife wounds to the chest and abdomen.

Arrested and charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon were Oscar Ortiz, 18, of Wingate. Reyes has posted a $25,000 bond and was released from Runnels County jail while awaiting trial on the charges. Ortiz remains in Runnels County jail under a $50,000 bond.

Runnels County Sheriff's officers continue to investigate the altercation and more arrests may be made at a later date.

Bredemeyers receive Star-Telegram Award

Freddie, Rodrick, and Malcolm Bredemeyer were chosen to receive one of the 25 awards given this year by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. The award was presented to the Bredemeyers during the second annual Farm and Ranch Awards Program recently in Fort Worth.

Those farmers and ranchers chosen for the awards are selected for their prowess as producers and marketers of their respective species of crops or livestock. The Bredemeyers were selected in the wheat growing category. The selection criteria did not include being the biggest, richest, or most politically active. Those selected were chosen because they have built some of Texas' most efficient food, fiber, timber, and nursery plant producing businesses, regardless of the extent of their resources.

According to an article in the January 27 issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the Bredemeyers don't lead the state or even West Texas in winter wheat production. Few other Texas farmers bank higher percentages of annual profit - reaching up to 30 percent when the weather cooperates.

Freddie and his sons pool their labor and machinery on otherwise separate operations. They grow wheat, cotton, grain sorghum, some hay, and a few beef calves on a combined total of about 3,000 rented and owned acres in North Runnels County.

Wheat acreage totals 1200-1300 acres and they harvest an average of 30-35 bushels per acre.

According to Malcolm, 31, who farms over 1100 acres, "last year we had some of both the sorriest and the best wheat yields we've ever had." Cotton is more likely to reap higher profits than the other crops and to turn a bad year into a good one, according to Rodrick, 32.

Freddie, 65, says that was true in 1990 as their average cotton yield on 700 acres was a record high - near a bale per acre. Overall, 1990 was an excellent year for gross returns because of a good wheat crop and cotton crop. The downside of 1990 was the grain sorghum crop.

A large percentage of the Bredemeyer wheat crop is sold as top quality seed at prices 10 to 20 percent above market levels. That means cleaning their own wheat for better grade and repeatedly cleaning their planting, harvesting, and other equipment to maintain purity on the varieties they raise.

The Bredemeyers perform virtually every bit of their own labor, raise and harvest wheat on an average cost of $40 to $50 per acre. They purchase almost exclusively used equipment, then dismantle, renovate and sometimes customize the implements they buy. All equipment is covered when not in use and serviced to enable it to be used far beyond the normal operating life.

Freddie's farm survived Texas' severest drought in the 1950's. He has always terraced sloped land and is ardent about returning organic material to the soil. His sons Rodrick and Malcolm have taken up his conservation habits.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles

I have a "pet peeve" that I am going to "take out" on all of you this week. Not that you particularly deserve it, but, heck, nobody else will listen to me.

Those of us that keep an eye on the oil industry on a daily basis have certain indicators that we watch as barometers to the future. Oil prices, rig count, seismic crews running, well completions, federal leasing volume, and coffee shop intensity are just a few of the important figures we follow.

Now that oil and petroleum in general have moved into the public eye, these indicators are reported for the non-petroleum folk on the evening news, on the front page, and even in the Reader's Digest. With this information has come some confusion as to their origins, meanings, and usefulness.

One in particular that is the most-quoted, behind oil price, is the rig count. I don't doubt the accuracy of the numbers that are being quoted, but I do believe that those reporting them are unaware of what they mean. This leads to misinformation and can cause confusion as to why the rig count is important.

The rotary rig count, as it should be titled, is the number of working drilling rigs that are being utilized to drill oil, gas and petroleum service wells (injectors, etc.). It is compiled by a couple of different organizations, both of which manufacture drill bits.

I have noticed that the media has seized upon the reporting of this number (reported weekly) as an important business indicator for the general public. I am not disputing this fact, though there are some pitfalls in trying to predict the future of petroleum industry activity with the rig count—I'll save that discussion for another time.

What "gets me" is the fact that most news organizations don't have the foggiest idea about what is being "counted" in the rig count.

Most have decided that the rig count is a count of the number of pumping units at work. I am sure this is the case, because, almost without exception, a picture of a pumping unit appears next to the graphic showing the rig count in any media that is reporting it (TV, newspaper, etc.).

Let's see, there are about 1200 rigs drilling in the U.S. and about 150,000 pumping units in TEXAS. Not exactly the same thing.

I've even read in big city newspapers about "...the rig count in the Permian Basin appears to be high, because this reporter spotted at least 250 units between the airport and the oil show...". This seems a little bit silly when one considers that (a) there are only 15 miles between the airport and the oil show and (b) there are only 150 rigs working in all of the Permian Basin.

Normally this would only make me chuckle, but this simple misconception is a symptom of more widespread non-understanding of the oil business as a whole. What makes it even more disturbing is that those who are making these mistakes are right here in Texas where oil is "king". If anyone should strive to understand the business, Texans and their media should.

Now, I know what you are saying. Misunderstanding the rig count is not going to hurt anyone.

You are probably right, but it does mean that the at-large media and possibly the general public as a whole does not really have any conception of the nature of the business that plays a major role in the state's economy. Further, it hints to me that rig counts and oil prices are interesting at times when gasoline prices seem to be rising and motorists' anger with it, but not necessarily at other times—when oilfield workers are out of a job, for instance.

Maybe I have it all wrong, but either way it just plain ticks me off that newspeople get it wrong, but pretend they are experts at the same time.

OK, I quit. My foot was almost up on the 'ole soap box, but I am going to pull it in while I still have a leg to stand on.

WTU to file for fuel clause rate increase

West Texas Utilities Company will file a request early next week with the Public Utility Commission to reconcile historical fuel costs and increase the fixed fuel factors to reflect expected increases in the cost of fuel.

The new factors are not expected to affect customers' bills until later this year or early in 1992. The actual date will be determined by the time it takes to complete the regulatory process.

Gary Moore, WTU local manager, said the new factors will increase the average residential customers' bill by $1.44 a month, or 2.5 percent, based on consumption of 660 kilowatt-hours per month.

"Our cost to residential customers is essentially divided into two major parts, the base rate and the fuel factor," said Moore. Fuel factors make up about forty percent of the total cost to customers.

The company is requesting the increase now primarily for three reasons. First, it has under-recovered retail fuel and purchased power costs through December 1990 by $3,050,015.

Second, the PUC has recently expressed the opinion that fuel costs should be reconciled at least every three years through either a rate case or a fuel reconciliation case such as WTU is filing. WTU's fuel costs were last reconciled in a rate case which covered a period ending with March 31, 1987, almost four years ago.

Third, while WTU may be over-recovering during some of this year (partly as a result of renegotiated terms in a major gas contract), they expect that will change to some extent during 1992. In other words, by the time a decision is reached in Austin, the company expects the new fuel factors will be necessary.

The company is not asking to collect its present under-recovery balance at this time. Instead it is asking to update the balance just prior to conclusion of the case and make a refund or surcharge over a twelve month period if that is warranted.

During the upcoming proceeding the company will present information on all fuel and purchased power costs since April 1987 to demonstrate that it has generated electricity efficiently, used effective cost controls, and negotiated fuel-related contracts in a manner that produced the lowest reasonable costs for customers.

The company's cost control efforts include construction of a gas pipeline to the Fort Phantom power station near Abilene to provide access to more suppliers, renegotiation of supply and transportation contracts for gas and coal improvements in the efficiency of some plants so that they burn less fuel to make electricity. Legal notices of this filing will be published in newspapers of general circulation in WTU's service area. In addition, customers will receive individual notice by post card according to the requirements of the commission.

The last WTU customer rate increase was in 1987 and the last non-profit fuel clause rate increase (5%) was in 1988. According to Moore, another rate change, succeeding this filing, is not expected until the late 1990's.

Local Girl Scout leaders attend annual meet

The 42nd Annual Meeting of the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council, Inc. was held at the Weatherford College on Saturday, January 26. The flag ceremony and the program were presented by the troops in Parker County. Ellen Smith showed slides and spoke about the Wider Opportunity she attended in Colorado in the summer of 1990. Elected to the board of directors as Member-at-Large for three year terms were: Patricia Dugan of Brownwood, Kathy Garner and Jane Whitsitt, of Jacksboro and Paul Lansford of Stephenville. Elected to complete the last year of a three year term was Sue Boyer of Weatherford. Elected to three year terms on the council's Nominating Committee were Linda Kerr of Coleman, Larry Riffle of Brady and Jane Whitsitt of Jacksboro.

President Janice Smith of Weatherford gave the State of the Council address congratulating the members on the growth in membership, both girls and adults, for the last four years. Smith also stated an increased amount of training had been taken by the volunteers and there was an increase in the participation in councilwide sponsored program events.

Treasurer David Rothrock of Weatherford spoke to the financial health of the council. He reported the national organization, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., has told the council it must rely more on funds raised by adults rather than on money generated by program for girls, i.e. the cookie sale. Rothrock also reported concern because the council reserve funds are being used and these must be rebuilt to equal one third to one half of the council's yearly operating expenses to meet the guidelines determined by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

Open forums were held on the subjects of fund development, leader retention and cookie sale awards. Following the reports from the open forums recognition awards were distributed.

Easter Walden of Winters was presented with a key chain for being a council outdoor trainer. Teresa Davis, troop leader and service unit cookie chair received a five year tenure pin as did Chris Parramore, troop leader and service unit public relations chair. Deb Pritchard, troop leader, received a ten year tenure pin.

Two Winters FFA members in Houston Rodeo event

Terry Day, 16-year old son of Myron and Brenda Schrader, and Jamey West, 15-year old son of Jim and Kim West, from Winters, will compete in the 1991 Houston Rodeo calf scramble on February 24 in the Astrodome.

The calf scramble is an exciting part of Houston Rodeo action, featuring Mazz and Little Joe Y La Familia as part of that matinee performance.

The boys will be in competition for one of 252 calves to be awarded at the 1991 Show.

Additionally, as many as two youngsters from each of the 18 rodeo performances will be awarded "hard luck" certificates for their hearty efforts in attempting to catch a calf, resulting in 36 more certificates actually given.

An entertaining event whose net proceeds provide educational contributions to Texas students, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo ranks as the nation's largest donor of agricultural scholarships. Currently, more than 1,000 students are on Show-sponsored scholarships. The Show's educational commitment for the 1990-91 school year exceed $2 million.

Equally important is the Show's commitment to youngsters competing at the event itself. The calf scramble is one of the Show's major programs benefiting youth, requiring a yearlong commitment from the winner to the animal project.

Beginning with athletic competition in the Astrodome, the program ends 12 months later with top-notch competition in the Astrodome showing.

The actual calf scramble event involves 28 energetic youngsters pitted against 14 vigorous calves. Each youngster is committed to capturing a calf, haltering and bringing it to the finish line -- but only the successful ones receive $800 calf purchase certificates.

The certificate donated by a generous sponsoring firm or individual, is used to purchase a purebred registered beef or dairy heifer. This year, several companies have strengthened their commitment to the calf scramble program by sponsoring a calf for each of the 18 rodeo performances.

The calf is raised by the winner for special showing competition in the Astrodome at the following year's Show. The yearlong project is closely supervised by the appropriate county extension agent or agricultural science teacher.

Additionally, the winners are required to submit financial records, photographs and a scrapbook to the calf scramble office to detail the progress of the venture. The youngsters are encouraged to provide updated reports to their sponsors as well.

Proper livestock evaluation techniques, efficient cattle feeding and production methods, principles in economics and money management are all realistic learning experiences for the youngster who manages to get a firm hold on a calf. To date, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo calf scramble has put 11,813 animals valued at more than $2.6 million into the hands of Texas youth.

Soil test now to determine 1991 crop needs

Soil testing should be one of the first steps in planning your 1991 crop production program and now is the time to collect soil samples from fields to be planted to spring crops.

The cost of a soil test is a minor investment to make for the peace of mind it brings when faced with making fertilizer decisions.

If a soil test indicated that fertilizer is needed to attain a desired yield goal, then its use is strongly recommended. Not fertilizing or reducing fertilizer rates may result in yield levels which will not generate enough income to cover basic production costs.

On the other hand, direct savings can result when a soil test indicates that there are already adequate or near adequate levels of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or other nutrients to attain a desired yield.

In either case, following soil test recommendations can effectively reduce the per unit cost of producing a commodity and increase the chances of making a profit.

Of course, a good fertility program can only insure optimum yields when other conditions affecting crop yields are favorable. A good plant stand, adequate moisture, good physical condition of the soil, and insect, disease and weed control are all important in obtaining profitable returns from money invested in fertilizer.

Crop producers who have not yet made a final decision about which crop to plant on which field should submit soil samples now and request fertilizer recommendations for several cropping alternatives per soil sample. This information can be helpful in making final cropping decisions.

Soil sample bags and information sheets can be obtained by contacting the County Extension office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

Twain Talk

by Tawyla Twain

To go ... or not to go

How do you feel about public restrooms? Of the thousands that I've visited, I've found them to be quite varied in decor, size, availability, and of course, cleanliness and odor.

Because this column provides a great wealth of irrelevant information, I'll be discussing a few of these different "powder rooms." So get your scissors handy to clip and save this for future reference.

Remember, you'll have to view this through the eyes of a female because, trust me on this one, it "do make a difference."

I'm sure my outlook would be different if I were anatomically equipped in a manner that did not require that I touch anything other than a zipper. But since that is not the case, I can only tell you what it's like for "us girls."

Take the truck stop restroom category for instance. A real adventure. Why husbands pick these places, I'll never understand.

First, these "ladies" rooms often lack a doorknob and have bits of tissue stuck in holes in the walls. Shouldn't this be some sort of Divine sign that perhaps we should move along to another facility?

But since hubby has already "gone" and is out honking the horn in the car, we venture forth, taking a few steps as necessary to reach the potty. Because the commode tank lacks a top, we are blessed with a view of the corroded insides.

This adds to the acrobatics as we gingerly balance ourselves while holding our 15-pound purses in our teeth. We are uncertain of whose name and favorite saying we prefer to touch on the wall as we balance.

The best thing about all the "words of wisdom" is that it gives us something to read and takes our minds off the toilet tissue we spied lying on the wet floor.

If we're lucky enough to discover dry tissue, we quickly learn that it's worse than 60 grit sandpaper and has large flecks of wood fibers. So we fish in our purses for a Kleenex and pray it's not one we put our old chewing gum in earlier. Then comes Round 3 of acrobatics when we try to flush the toilet using our feet, no matter what the physical pain it causes.

More decisions. Do we use that little globby bar of maybe-used-to-be-white-but-now-brown soap that's sorta floating in a puddle at the back of the faucets (which you discover has only cold water working)? More acrobatics as we try to turn the faucet on and off with our elbows.

Now that we've "washed" our hands, we look to see one of those cloth towel dispensers that you pull down for a clean part. And does it ever fail that we've gotten the very end of the roll and it's obvious that we're the ninth person to use that very same spot to dry our hands? So now we get to go into a shaking frenzy trying to air-dry our hands.

If we want to freshen our makeup, we usually find a mirror about the size of a TV Guide magazine with a greenish, grayish, foggy color which can give us some idea of how we'll look when we die. There are at least two cracks in it which make us look like we do in the Funhouse mirrors at the circus.

So don't be surprised when we finally emerge from "the bathroom from hell" and our lipstick is an inch higher on one side, we're dragging toilet tissue on our shoe, we have cold, wet hands, and we're out of breath. At least we made it out alive and we're good for another 20 miles before we need another "pit stop."

Spirit Filled Happenings

by Dixie Leverett
Church Editor

Are you experiencing the winter of your life? Is everything barren, brown, and lifeless? Has the despair in your life made you feel as though you've fallen through the ice. Are you unable to surface for air and suffocating, as if you were plunged deep into the depths of lifelessness.

You walk out into the bitter cold and the glare of the snow brings tears to your eyes. You long for a change, a renewal of life.

While your head is bent low a tear falls into the snow, and to your dismay a flower pops up to say: I am a little flower known throughout the world for my beauty. Yet uncertainty and doubt did I arise for the odds were against me - and was it surely a surprise. While your discomfort brought you tears, the water from your eyes brought me cheers.

I was able to escape from a world unknown, where the light was hidden and no future foretold. Your tears that had fallen ran down to my seed and washed away the darkness that would not let me grow. I sprouted up with glory and my blossom began to shine. For God loves His creation, even a petal like mine.

God loves us so much more than a flower, and you can be assured of this one thing. He will wrap His loving arms around you to show you that He cares. For God is love and that is what He will bring.

"Ask and it shall be given you; seek and you shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you."

Kindergarten students are preparing for Valentines Day by making original valentines. They are making their own creations by lacing the edges, using curling ribbon, and doilies to decorate the cards.

Mrs. Hogan and her first and second grade class had a special guest on Tuesday, January 29. The postmistress from Lawn, Brenda Richardson, brought information about the Ben Franklin Stamp Collecting Club to share with the class. She showed a collection to the students which contained stamps from as far back as World War I. The students each received a coloring book and a stamp. This visit may spark the desire to begin stamp collecting as a hobby for some of these children.

The third and fourth grade class had 100% participation in the "Book It" program for the month of January. Good work: Randy Cotter, Eloy Gomez, Trint Bearden, and Alice Matthews.

FROM A GOLDFISH BOWL

BY PASTOR STEVE BYRNE

One of my most ardent prayers of petition goes like this, "Dear Lord, grant me patience - but please hurry!" Patience is a virtue which seems to be in short supply in my life. Probably due to my own lack of cultivating it rather than the lack of opportunity to have it.

Last Wednesday was a perfect example of this lack of patience and the foolishness of my own wisdom.

We had been to Theological Conference in North Dallas. Decided to leave early. I simply "had" to be back in Winters by 2:00 P.M. to teach my Crossways! Bible Class. I had it timed perfectly.

Leave at 8:15 - after the rush hour traffic is past its peak. 15 minutes before the first of two meetings began. Four and a half hours of driving with 30 minutes to eat at McDonald's in Weatherford puts us home by 1:30 easy.

When I went down to check out, the roads were icy. We were advised not to leave until later. But I was in a hurry. Too much of a hurry, in fact, to call Winters and check on the weather here.

Pastor Grimm and I left at 8:15, according to plan. Once on the street and on the freeway, we both understood the wisdom of those who advised us to wait a while. I was afraid to get off the freeway in the bumper-to-bumper traffic; and, besides, we had already checked out of the Hotel, so there was no place to go once we got off. We tracked onward. Slowly!

Finally pulled into the gas station/convenience store on the west side of Ft. Worth at 11:15. This is not a misprint. Three hours to make a 45-minute trip!

I called Gail. Who informed me that the conditions here were worse than they were in the Metroplex. We called off the class since there was no way I could get home by 2:00. Which had already been effectively done by the weather.

As it turned out, the highways were clear and safe to drive the speed-limit by noon. Had we stayed for our meeting and left when it was over at 11:00, we would have been home within 45 minutes of when we arrived in Winters.

Because of a lack of patience, we had spent 3 hours slipping and sliding and sitting still in bumper-to-bumper traffic instead of going to the meeting. Which I found out later was uncharacteristically exciting. If patience and good sense were a prerequisite for salvation, I doubt I would have a ghost of a chance. Since the only qualification is God's Grace, I do have a chance. A ghost of a chance. A Holy Ghost of a chance.

And that is a sure thing! Still, Lord, a little patience wouldn't hurt me. Only You can give me that in Your own time instead of hurrying. Which, I suppose, is already a form of patience. Thanks!

HONORED TREATY... In January 1847, John Meusenbach, a German immigrant, rode into the camp of fierce Comanche Indians, seeking peace. Meusenbach won the Indians' respect with his courage and frankness. On March 2, 1847, a treaty was signed, allowing German immigrants to establish settlements. This treaty was the only one made between whites and Indians in Texas which was honored by both sides.

Critical area treatment

by Charles Frerich
Soil Conservation Technician

Critical area treatment can be used to correct deep gully erosion along rivers or streams. Treatment of the area includes shaping and grassing the area to hold the soil in place.

Shaping the gully begins at the stable point of the outlet such as natural ground with grass cover or if by a river or stream, the waters edge to prevent any head-fall.

A designed slope will be established to insure a non-erosive velocity of the water through the channel. Sideslopes will be built so the area can be driven over with farm-type equipment for maintenance or weed control of the area. When shaping has been completed a firm seedbed should be prepared for planting of the grass cover.

Coastal Bermuda grass is an excellent cover for channels but is hard to establish on the sideslopes due to rain running off the slopes before soaking into the soil. Other grass options include Premier Sideoats and K. R. Bluestem. These grasses have been used successfully as cover in the channel and sideslopes. These grasses are somewhat less palatable to livestock than most of the other range grasses so stock tend to not graze them as readily. This will insure a longer cover for the critical area. If possible livestock should be excluded from this area until the grass is established.

Treatment of critical areas can be cost-shared by the A. S. C. S. as well as other conservation practices such as terraces, waterways, ponds, and diversion terraces. For more information on critical area treatment or any other conservation practices, contact your local Soil Conservation Service.

Dear Editor:

This County's voters have a very unique and important opportunity.

It is within the power of the local voters to be able to help elect a good, qualified, young man to the Texas House of Representatives.

Richard Watson is that man. A veteran businessman (pharmacist), minister and for many years, politically active citizen, Watson is the candidate who can make a difference for good in Austin.

Voters in this county could hold the key - and in an election of this type, every single vote is critically important. It's a Special Election, set for Saturday, Feb. 9th, to fill the unexpired term of Rep. Jim Parker who resigned to serve on Gov. Ann Richard's team as Legislative Liaison.

The candidate who draws 50% of all the votes, plus one vote wins the office. With that many candidates, most expect a runoff.

Absentee voting is underway now at the County Clerk's Office and a heavy vote in this County is always important, but doubly so in this contest. Under new election laws absentee voters don't have to have a reason for voting prior to the Feb. 9th Election Day. Polls will be open at the locations in the county on that date from 7 to 7.

Watson has prepared himself to seek this office for a number of years, and had planned to run when the incumbent no longer sought the office.

The thrust of Watson's campaign is old-fashioned: he's trying to shake the hand, and ask for the vote of as many voters in the six-county District 65 as possible during the short period available. The governor called the special election on Jan. 16th.

Watson and his wife of 22 years, (the former Connie Coan) live in Gorman and are both lifelong natives of the District. Their children are Rachel, 20; Leah, 16; and Stephen, 9.

Of the many serious issues facing Texas in the '90s, Watson says, "The most critical issue today is the crisis in families. Every piece of legislation in Austin needs to be examined from the perspective of, 'How will this affect the family?'"

"The votes I will cast in the House will be based on underlying principles such as the protection of family values, the limitation of government, the prevention of further erosion of local control of our lives, and the accountability of state agencies to the elected representatives of the people."

He has been active both professionally, and as a political and fiscal conservative, and works closely with a number of conservative organizations including the Free Market Foundation, the American Security Council, the National Taxpayers Union, the Justice Fellowship and others that promote and protect basic family values.

It's elementary: Watson.

Sincerely,
H.V.O'Brien

Letter to the Editor

If this was the first time something like this happened, I wouldn't be writing this letter. But I saw a situation this weekend and I was very disappointed in the way the police officers handled it. I realized that this town lost a good officer when David Wheeler was let go. A lot of people might not have liked him but at least he was doing his job.

Every family tree has a little "sap".

The community supper was well attended Saturday night. Dee and Sam Faubion hosted the Valentine Party. The buffet table was decorated with a white cloth and red streamers. The center piece was a cute valentine tree. Individual tables were also decorated with white table cloths and red streamers and bowls of valentine candy. President Sam Faubion welcomed the visitors. Secretary Linda Duggan read the minutes and Eileen Prater gave the gym roof report. Tony Catalino did a real good job covering the gym roof and will do a small finishing job. Again we thank all the ones who donated funds.

Dale Duggan encourages everyone to go vote February 9th for State Representative. This is very important.

Inez Hambricht was dismissed from Ballinger Hospital Wednesday and is in Ballinger Nursing Home.

Visiting Rody and Paula New in Abilene were Rodney and Bernie Faubion, Dale and Linda Duggan, Rodrick and Jill Brede-meyer, and Jason Conner. Games of 42 and 88 were played. The ladies won.

Katy Duggan's meat goat placed 4th in the Ballinger Live-stock Show. Congratulations Katy!

Bernie Faubion was in Abilene Thursday and took her sister, Kathy Phillips, out to lunch. Later that evening, Kathy and Danny came down to visit Bernie and Rodney.

The rattlesnakes are out these warm days. Dale Duggan ran over one last week on the highway.

Ruth and Brad Pape enjoyed eating out on Sunday. Gladys Cotton of Ballinger and Walter Pape of Santa Anna visited Ruth and Brad Sunday afternoon. Ruth talked to her daughter, Elaine Kennedy, in Tampa, Florida, on Sunday night. She is doing fine.

Pat and Earl attended the second birthday party of their grandson, J.T. Cooper, in the home of his parents, Sherry and Ray. Others present were Brenda, Richard, Dodie and Gina Chambliss of Blackwell; Mr. and Mrs. Tata of San Angelo; Sherry's sister, Bobbie, and Larry and boys; and Rhonda Reed.

Becky and Elwood Brown came Friday night to the Earl Coopers and played cards. Or was it dominoes?

We all welcome Alice and Quincey Traylor of Winters home, after 5 nights in San Angelo at Shannon Hospital. These are only a few I got who came to say hello: Louis Wade, Lillian Eubank, Chester McBeth, Mansfield and Shorty Foster, Travis Downing, Mrs. Baker, Eunice Polk, and Clarence Hambricht.

Paula and Darla Davis and their two children of San Angelo spent last Sunday with the Jerry Kraatz family. Carolyn and Jerry Kraatz were in San Angelo Monday to see Shelia Stenard who had surgery in Shannon Hospital. She may be home by the time you read this.

Melvina, Marvin, and Keith Gerhart spent Sunday in Menard with her mother, Myrtle Wright. On Saturday they enjoyed spending the day in San Angelo.

Doris Wood spent several days last week in Fort Worth with her two sisters, Louise Walters and Mrs. and Mrs. Bill Brantley. On Sunday she had her children and families home, the Maloy Bryants, Robert and Douglas Bryant of Abilene and a friend, Quince of Anson, and Bobbie and Larry Calcote and boys of Winters.

Bro. Oscar and Janie came a while before night church services Sunday.

With Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion are Jim and Lavina Webb of Dallas. They came on Sunday night and will be here several days. Others who came Monday were Winona Goode of Level-land, Rodney, Bernie, Gene, and Brian Faubion, and Carolyn and Jerry Kraatz and children. Eileen, Jeremy, and Tiffany Prater came on Monday.

Pat and Cecil Hambricht of Winters came out a while Saturday with Corra Petrie.

Gary Hill of Eastland spent Friday and Friday night with his mother Claudia.

Adeline Grissom and Wanda Sims were in Wylie last Monday to see Joe Riley Sims play basketball. On Saturday night Von, Phyllis, Jennifer, and Jeff Byrd of Abilene, and Wanda and Sam watched Jeff win his game. Adeline spent Friday through Sunday with the Byrds in Abilene.

The Wesley McGallian family and Nila and Therin Osborne spent Thursday in Fort Worth at the Stock Show.

Brother Oscar and Janie Fanning and Louise Osborne enjoyed Sunday dinner with Nila and Therin. Bernie Faubion came later in the day. Karen McGallian and

Stenholm to host meeting in Abilene

Residents of the 17th District will have an opportunity to personally express their views to Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-Tx) on Tuesday, February 12, from 5 to 7 p.m. when he hosts a town hall meeting in Abilene.

"The more I hear from my constituents, the better prepared I am to represent their views in Washington," said Stenholm. "I would like to encourage everyone who is in Abilene and the surrounding areas to take the time to visit with me about the issues that are concerning them."

The meeting will be held in the Central Jury Room on the third floor of the Taylor County Courthouse located at 300 Oak Street.

Literacy Training

You can open doors for an adult non-reader to change his or her life.

There are hundreds of illiterate people here in Runnels County. These people are among the 27 million Americans who cannot read or write well enough to fill out a job application, understand the label on a medicine bottle, read their children's report cards, observe safety warnings, read the Bible or newspaper, or vote.

You can help as a volunteer in one of more than 600 local literacy groups in the United States. Mr. Phillip Turner, through the Tom Green County Adult Literacy Council, will be conducting a Literacy Training Workshop beginning February 16 at the Winters Public Library. There is no fee for the workshop.

The 10-hour Laubach Literacy Workshop trains volunteers to teach reading through structured phonics - based approach in a sequential order using controlled vocabulary. The first day of training will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, February the 16th, and then finish Sunday, February the 17th, from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

For more information, contact Lee or "Tooter" Harrison at 754-5386 or Pauline O'Neal at the Winters Public Library 754-4251.

Spring SOCCER Registration

Spring soccer registration has sprung. If your child was between the ages of four and thirteen by January 1, 1991, he or she is eligible to play soccer this spring.

There will be a soccer sign up at the Winters High School gym on Saturday, February 9, 1991, from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. February 13 is absolutely the last day to register. As of last year, the registration fee is now $15.00 for the first child and $10.00 for each additional child per family. This fee must be paid at the time of registration.

The scheduled games begin March 2, 1991 with the last game being played on April 13, 1991.

Also, the Soccer Association welcomes anyone interested in helping out in any form or fashion. Coaches, officers, general flunkies, and many other volunteers are needed. Anyone interested should contact Monte Angel at 754-4963. You do not have to be a parent to participate. Anyone can help out and make a difference for the children and the Soccer Association.

Senior Citizens Nursing Home News

By Billie Ruth Bishop

Mrs. Daisy Willie is in North Runnels Hospital. Mr. Gene New is in Hendrick Hospital in Abilene. We wish the best for these two.

Mr. Herman Curry of the Bradshaw community is a new admission to the nursing home. He is in room 1B. He would appreciate your visits and cards.

We all enjoyed celebrating Mrs. Norbert Ueckert's birthday last Friday afternoon. It was a big surprise for Mrs. Ueckert. Although she is not a resident, we at Sr. Citizens claim her as if she were. She is a daily visitor and a volunteer. She comes to visit her husband in room 7A and brightens all of us with her visits. She is always ready for any activity and helps others who are unable to go by themselves. Her daughter, Nelda Voss, baked the cakes and brought them for the party. We all enjoyed being part of it. She had several visitors to drop by and wish her happy birthday. We love you, Mrs. Ueckert.

TAKE THE PICKARD CHALLENGE: NOBODY WILL BEAT OUR PRICE!

Ben Doyle SUDDERTH says...

'Outrageous' Property Taxes are destroying the Economy of Rural Texas!

The unconcerned lawmakers in Austin have allowed property taxes in this state to destroy the economy of the rural areas!

Combined with other factors, landowners pay for property three times!

(1) The first time is the original purchase price! (2) The second time is interest on a long term loan! (3) The third time results from PROPERTY TAXES during the life of the loan, plus constant increases of property taxes!

BEN DOYLE SUDDERTH realizes that for many property owners' their taxes are four (4) times what they were just five years ago!

"Outrageous" PROPERTY TAXES...

- Excessive PROPERTY TAXES are causing land values to drop drastically which has destroyed part of the economic foundation of rural TEXAS!
- Excessive PROPERTY TAXES are causing small businesses to close their doors!
- Excessive PROPERTY TAXES are creating long-lasting conflict between neighbors!
- Excessive PROPERTY TAXES are causing people in our rural areas to lose their jobs!
- Excessive PROPERTY TAXES are discouraging land and home improvements!

Outrageous PROPERTY TAXES are causing people to give up the "American Dream" of home ownership!

This election offers the opportunity to VOTE for a proven TOUGH DECISION MAKER, who not only understands we have a problem, but who will attack the source of the problem. We need...

The TOUGH DECISION MAKER!

When will he retire?

After working 20 years in a Safeway Grocery Store at Fort Worth, Gene Bernal retired in 1986 to fulfill his dream of opening a business in a small town where he could take time out to pursue his hobbies of hunting and fishing.

In the meantime, the family came to Winters to visit a nephew and his wife, Richard and Mary Arredondo. The couple insisted that the Bernals look at the Red Pepper, a small restaurant that was for sale.

As a result, the Bernals bought the Red Pepper and named it Casa Cabana. They went to work to restore and enlarge the building. Gene was impressed by the friendliness of the people who came by to visit or offer suggestions. He catered his first meal for a Mexican dinner held at the community center in celebration of the Texas Sesquicentennial. This was when the wagon train came through and about 900 people were fed.

When the cafe opened, Gene and his wife, Dora, and their five children were the only employees. The three oldest, Elma, Gene, Jr., and Albert waited on tables. They complained to their parents, "Not a single person has left a tip, what's the matter with these people?"

The problem was solved when five year old Eric, who had been given the task of cleaning tables after meals, came up with his pockets full of money and said, "Look at all the money these people left. They must be rich."

The Casa Cabana now has three waitresses: Linda Perez, Rosa Roman, and Virginia Garcia.

Gene, Jr. graduated from DEVRV, a computer college in Irving, last year. Elma is attending the same school. They share an apartment in Fort Worth. Albert is in the 10th grade and Eric

Cannon-Bryan announce engagement

Dr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Cannon of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Joe Bryan of Winters are pleased to announce that their children, Deborah Cannon and Douglas Bryan, are planning an April 13 wedding.

The bride-elect is a 1985 graduate of Abilene High School and a 1990 graduate of ACU with a degree in Business Administration. Deborah is currently employed by Texas State Optical, Abilene, as office manager.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1979 graduate of Winters High School and a 1984 graduate of Tarleton State University with a degree in Agricultural Education. Doug is a self-employed farmer.

The April wedding will be at Hillcrest Church of Christ in Abilene.

Cancer Society to meet

The North Runnels Unit of the American Cancer Society will meet Monday, February 11, 1991 at 5:15 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce Building. The public is invited to attend.

is in the 5th. They both play in the band.

"The kids are regular hunters," Bernal says, "and the girls' hobby is buying clothes." They are more popular here than in the city and they like it.

Bernal's sense of humor is shown in the signs he has exhibited. "I'm the boss, that's why." And "Don't shoot anything not moving, it's probably the hired help."

Bernal likes to help in civic things and he served on the city council for two years. He works with the Chamber of Commerce and has helped raise funds for the library once before. He mentioned to the city council that we need more money to provide a bigger and better library for our children.

February 28 was set for Library Day at the last Chamber of Commerce meeting and approved by the City of Winters.

The Bernals are donating 40% on all Cabana Taco Salads and Deluxe Super Chalupas, either of these is $3.65 plus tax. Volunteers are selling tickets to help the library in this fundraising campaign. These tickets are redeemable through February 28.

Many firms in town are backing this effort and we should all pitch in and help.

It looks like Bernal will have to retire again before he has any time for hobbies. He and Dora are busy catering meals for birthday parties, reunions, and dinners. They both were born and reared in Uvalde and were married in 1964.

We hope they will continue to serve that good Mexican food, as well as other food too. Some of us can remember when we had to drive to San Angelo or Abilene for a Mexican dinner.

Who Cares???

What in the world are we doing here?

By Pastor Louis Halford
Somebody Cares Ministries

Please read Micah 6:1-8 and Matthew 5:1-12!

Have you ever asked yourself, "What in the world am I doing here? What does it all mean? What is expected of me? How will I know when enough is enough? And how far do I take this religion business? How much does God really demand out of me? How far do I go?" I suppose that few verses in the Bible are better known than Micah 6:8, "He has showed you, O man, what is good and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God." I suspect this text is well known for two reasons. One, it has three easily discerned sections which make it easy to preach on - do justice, love kindness, walk humbly with God. It also deals with the age old question "What does God expect?" I like this text because it is relevant to our world as it was the world Micah lived. Let's consider these three biblical demands upon our lives and ask ourselves, "What in the world am I doing here?"

Let's begin with the call to love kindness. Here is the most basic, the most minimal requirement of all religion - that we should treat other people as we would like to be treated.

We may not be able to agree on everything. Indeed, we may have some areas of our lives in which we are in sharp conflict, but we can at least treat each other with simple human kindness. The Bible places no limits on our kindness. The Old Testament law as the very heart of the teachings of Jesus require that kindness is to be extended even to one's enemies. Exodus 23:5 requires the children of Israel not to oppress strangers - with the reminder that they were once strangers themselves. Jesus said, "Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you." (Matt 5:44) There are no limits placed upon our kindness. We are to pour out acts of love and generosity even towards persons that we may deem undeserving. For Christians this is particularly significant because we believe that God poured out His love on us when we were undeserving. Kindness is among the most basic requirements for the believer. Sometimes that kindness meets with only cold ingratitude from the recipient. Still, it must be extended.

We are also to do justice! Justice is a much larger and more complicated concept than kindness. Justice concerns the passion that you and I must have to see that every person everywhere has a decent opportunity for a healthy, wholesome, rewarding life. This is the passion that drove Abe Lincoln to see the abolition of slavery.

No concept is more Christian or more American than is the demand for justice. Wherever there are people who are oppressed, whether it be politically, economically, racially, or any form that oppression may take, we must raise our voice.

This is not a popular theme, since we are still living in the "Me" generation. As Christians, we have been bought with the blood of the cross. We are here today because a man from Galilee cared more about us than He did Himself. We can not shut ourselves off in a cocoon while the rest of the world goes to Hell. We are responsible for one another. Justice is a part of the Christian witness.

Of course there is one more requirement of our faith - to walk humbly with our God. Few characteristics are as appealing in a person as is genuine humility. Jesus said, "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the Earth." Jesus was not talking about the shy, timid mouse of a person who is content to serve as the world's doormat. The most humble person from a biblical standpoint is the person who has surrendered their life completely to God. Paul said, "It is not I who lives, but Christ Jesus lives in me." That is true humility - true meekness - to be crucified with Christ. That kind of humility or meekness leads to tremendous power and effectiveness in life.

So what in the world are you doing here? I hope you are doing justice, loving kindness, and walking humbly with God.
