New school year offers changes

New buildings, old buildings, and temporary buildings are just part of the changes facing students and teachers for the 1991-92 school year.

School starts at 7:55 a.m. this year with the tardy bell at 8:00.

New teachers can be found throughout the schools, along with other new faces of bus drivers, aides, cafeteria staff and administration.

Kindergarten and first grade students will be going to the Wingate school buildings this year until renovation of the Winters facility is completed. Second through sixth graders will be using the newly completed metal building on the Winters campus.

In addition to the large building which will house grades 2 through 6, there will be three smaller temporary buildings; one for Chapter I computer lab and class, one for Special Education classes, and one to serve as the office of L. C. Hounsell, elementary principal.

Parents dropping off and picking up students in grades Pre-K through 6 are urged to do so in the parking lot between the gym and the elementary building.

The Winters cafeteria will be offering a snack bar and salad bar for junior high and high school students. Breakfast and lunch will be available for all students Pre-K through 12.

Secondary students will be allowed to wear "skorts" which meet dress code requirements.

The Blizzard Band Hall is now air-conditioned, much to the delight of band director, Stephen Henry.

The Student Council has adopted the slogan "Get It Done in '91" for the coming year and encourages everyone to do so.

They're Ba-a-ack!

WHS students gathered at the Winters park Friday afternoon for a year-book signing party, hotdog lunch, and big plans for the coming school year.

Ready or not, here we come! Work continues on the 12,000 sq. ft. building which will be used for classrooms for grades 2-6. The large metal structure is scheduled for completion in time for the first day of regular classes on Monday, August 26.

Blizzards to scrimmage C-City

The Blizzards will check their progress on Friday with a scrimmage against Colorado City. The action begins at 6:30 p.m. at Blizzard field.

Head coach Dan Slaughter has a rebuilding task at hand due to some major vacancies caused by graduation last spring. In addition to looking for a starting quarterback, interior linemen are also needed.

The Blizzards have some strong building blocks returning from a very good playoff team last year. Running backs Jody Guy, senior, and David Roman, junior, form a strong backfield. These two also anchor the defense at the linebacking positions. Seniors Brandon Boles and Johnny Rodriguez will return to solidify the defensive backfield.

The Blizzards are finishing two weeks of two-a-day workouts and are ready to try their skills on someone other than themselves. Colorado City, 3A, a class larger than Winters, will be a formidable opponent.

Come back the Blizzards this Friday night.

Boosters host ice cream supper

1991 WHS Blizzard football teams will be introduced and honored with an ice cream supper on Thursday, August 22, at 7 p.m. at the football field.

The annual event is sponsored by the Blizzard Booster Club. The public is invited to come out and meet this year's squad and coaches, and enjoy homemade ice cream.

Seeing red! A large quantity of bright red paint covers the front door of the high school building as a result of vandalism on August 15.

Winters High School vandalized last week

The Winters Police Department arrested and charged one adult in the vandalism at Winters High School. Sandra Kay Baker, 35, of Winters is being held in Runnels County Jail on a charge of felony criminal mischief. There is a pending charge against a juvenile believed to have been involved.

Police were tipped that someone had splashed paint on the building in the early morning hours of Thursday, August 15. Officer Tim Dexter investigated and found a large quantity of paint on the front door and surrounding areas of the school building. Paint had also splashed in another area of the front and an east entrance door.

A thorough investigation followed, culminating in the arrest of Baker and the pending charges against the juvenile. Baker has posted a $5000 bond and has been released.

School officials said the cleanup and repairs have exceeded $700 and may well reach $1000 before complete restoration is accomplished.

Sales tax receipts increase for year

The State Comptroller's Office reported a slight decrease for August in Winters' sales and use tax. Although, the overall tax figures are significantly larger than the total for the same time last year.

Winters' net payment this period was reported at $17,993.65 which was 12.23% lower than last years payment, recorded at $20,501.98. Payments to date are $117,546.97, up 10.61% from last years total of $106,271.36.

Ballinger's net payment for August was at $67,565.56, which was 6.25% lower than last years August payment of $72,067.64. Overall up-to-date payment figures total $294,626.12 compared to 1990's figure of $272,533.09 for an 8.11% increase.

Runnels County sales and use tax figures are also down. A total of $87,565.84 is a 7.46% decrease from last year for the month. The county still shows a 8.72% increase for the year.

State Comptroller John Sharp said "Even though some areas in Texas show only a slight increase, while others' rebates are down, overall the state's economy is strong and healthy." The payments to 105 counties reached $14.3 million for a year-to-date total of $92.5 million, an increase of 18% over 1990's total at this time.

At your service... these fine-looking Winters residents served as waiters and waitresses at the VIP Runnels County Children's Protective Services for neglected and abused children. The event, held last Saturday, is the county's major fundraiser. Approximately 350 enthusiastic supporters attended the function.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles ©1991

As promised, we are going to discuss the oil field mechanic for our 'Oil Patch Basics' topic this time around.

Now, you may be thinking: mechanic—what's the big deal? There is one on every corner—no big deal.

Well, an oil field mechanic is a special breed of mechanic. He or she must have flexibility in their expertise and, sometimes, specialized skills in certain areas beyond auto repair. But, I am getting ahead of myself.

Let's start from the beginning and define what I mean when I say 'oil field mechanic.'

An oil field mechanic is someone who repairs or maintains equipment used in the exploration, production, and transportation of crude oil and natural gas.

He/she may be an independent contractor or he/she may be on an oil company's permanent payroll. This person may be a regular auto mechanic, who has skills with a variety of engines and such that makes him/her useful in the oil patch, or he/she may be an oil field specialist.

In most situations, the mechanic must fully understand all types of machinery and the laws of physics and such that cause machines to do work. The internal combustion engine is only a part of the variety of equipment a mechanic will encounter.

He/she may be asked to get a compressor running again, or fix the gang truck's winch. The mechanic may be asked to repair a miniature chemical pump or the huge gears of a pumping unit. Injection pumps, circulating pumps and their electric motors, and Ajax combustion engines are just some of the myriad of prime movers and other devices that a mechanic may run across.

Some small jobs can be done without the aid of a mechanic, if a pumper or roustabout is somewhat mechanically skilled. But, most equipment in the oil field can be complicated, and a problem may require skilled expertise that only a practicing mechanic can provide.

In my personal experience, it has been most comforting to see the mechanic drive up after I have spent four or five hours tinkering with a pump or a compressor with no luck. He/she can usually spot the problem right away and have it fixed in a jiffy. There is no substitute for experience and skill.

The mechanic's job can be demanding in a high activity area. If a lot is going on and/or there is a large amount of equipment in the field in a particular area, a mechanic is constantly on call.

He/she may have to go out in the middle of the night because a LACT pump has gone down and oil is running out of a tank onto the ground, or he/she may have to work 10 hours in the pouring rain to get a compressor going to get gas sales back on line. The people suited for mechanic work seem to have this uncanny understanding of all things mechanical. You know what I mean—they can tear anything down and figure out the problem and fix it. Then, they store it away in their brain for later problem diagnosis. It is often beyond a mere mortal's understanding. Those folks know who they are.

Tune in next month when we will discuss the oil field electrician.

By the way, thanks for the letters of encouragement and support, they mean a lot to me. For those who think this part of the paper needs improvement, it is your turn. Write or call this paper with your suggestions—no profanity, please. ©1991 Reg Boles

A new way of farming

A continuing series of articles on Johnny Ballew

We have faith in our land and the business man has faith in us. There never will be a better time to change this section from an all cotton country to a dairy and chicken and hog and maize country. Nearly every farmer can manage to get hold of a few Jersey heifers and a few pigs—better make the change before we get to where we can't.

I have been raising cotton 40 years and have been successful in a very modest way. My experience is that low prices for a series of years follows high prices. We have had high prices for the next series. It has always been so. It will always be so. We must now watch up the corners with a wiser eye. We have been doing big things on the expansive order. Now we must watch the little things. Little things put together make big things.

I am told the earth is made of small grains of sand. Men have made fortunes out of nickles and dimes. We must not despise the little things on the farm. We can wear our old cap another year but we are bound to eat. What's better than a large fat juicy roast. Think of a big round ham with a rim of fat running all around. Think of hot biscuits and yellow butter and red ham gravy! And there are the billy-bones, pot pies, drumsticks, liver and gizzards—go away trouble. Goats are good to eat. Mutton is hard to beat. A dressed one to carry to town once a week would bring over a hundred dollars a year. Goose meat is good to eat. Duck meat beats no meat. Let us face about and have some sense and something good to eat and some to sell instead of eating stale stuff out of tin cans and paper sacks.

WHEN DAVE COMPTON of Norton moved to Runnels County in 1910 from Itasca, he remembered that Uncle Johnnie was saying, "Use a buster on the land, don't plow with a disc."

Ballew made good crops, but Mr. Compton recalled that when the farmers in the area saw a weedy field, they said, "Uncle Johnnie, you'd better get a plow."

A new way of farming for West Texas—to make a crop with very little rain—was also promoted by Uncle Johnnie, said Compton.

One article from the Semi-Weekly Farm News describes this theory. It was written in January of 1912 or 1914. The date of the year was lost.

I have read with very much interest the communication from my friend, E.L. Boykin, from Garden City in regard to farming in West Texas by irrigation from wells. If this type of farming proves successful it will mean more than any one factor in the development of West Texas. If, then, Mr. Boykin demonstrates that the underground supply of water is sufficient to supplement the rainfall in quantities to make good crops, and if this ocular demonstration proves that these lakes of water can be lifted cheaply by gasoline pumps, the problem of feeding the increasing population of the West has been solved. Moreover, Mr. Boykin is a benefactor.

But, if we are going to be perfectly frank and honest, there is an interrogation point in our heads as to both propositions—namely, the supply of water and the economy of lifting and applying it to the surface.

So much depends on the success of this phase of farming that we cannot refrain from calling attention to the vast possibilities along the line. Millions of acres west of the 100th meridian await the application of just a little more water on the surface to make them the most productive in the world.

This dirt has been analyzed and found to be twenty times as rich in plant food as the ordinary pine lands and every progressive farmer familiar with this section realizes the crying need is water. So far, the wisdom of man has not been equal to solving the water problem in this vast section. . . .

Memo from the Chamber

By Bonnie Lee

We can feel Fall in the air! Summer vacation time will soon be over and those "back to school" days will be here.

The Chamber would like to welcome our new school administrator, Jimmy Butler and his family, and our new doctor, Jerry Biddix and his family. Winters is happy to have these families become a part of our community.

This office has received a supply of directories on Texas Public Campgrounds and dump stations. This would be a great asset for the R.V. and camping people. Also, we have a good supply of Texas highway maps. If you have need for any of these, please come by and pick up your copy.

It is with regret that we will be losing Roeneal and Phyllis Boles to Plainview. Earlier we were sorry to see Randy and Julie Springer move. Julie and Roeneal served as directors for the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce the past year. Filling these two vacancies will be Teresa Davis and Debra Lindsey.

At the last Director's meeting, Scarlett Mikeska and Cheryl Bryan accepted the co-chairmanship of this year's Arts & Crafts Show in November. If anyone has a suggestion and idea for this year's show, please contact one of these ladies.

Spirit Filled Happenings
By Dixie Lovett, Church Editor,
Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist

The heat and humidity on Friday was unbearable. It drained you, made you feel lifeless and the dirt in the air stuck to your damp skin. It made you want to take a cool bath, wash away the sweat and grime, sit in front of the cooler and drink a tall glass of ice cold water.

It's like the heat Satan puts on when he knows you are trying to live for Jesus. He tries to drain you of all life, make you feel dirty and stifle your breath. But our Lord Jesus Christ provides you a cool peace beneath the shade of His loving hands. He offers you a cool drink from the fountain of life and washes all our sin (dirt) of our life away.

To receive this cleansing, all you have to do, is to accept Him, believe on His holy name and live for Him.

I John 1:9 If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist Church is located at 1017 N. Cryer in Winters, Texas and is a spiritual light growing ever brighter in a seemingly darkened world. Reverend John Haley is pastor.

Ever notice that the car behind you is always in a bigger hurry than the one in front of you?

Ferris Akins, area missionary, of Ballinger, filled in for Bro. Oscar Fanning at Sunday services at Hopewell Church. Brother Fanning is on vacation. Akins' wife, Roma, played the piano. The Akins were dinner guests at the Therin Osbornes. Others included Wesley, Karen, John and Stephanie McGallian of Wingate and Louise Osborne of Winters.

The Ferris Akins, Nila and Therin Osborne came by after the evening services for snacks and a nice visit with Bernice and Rodney Faubion.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $60.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

Sincere Thanks

A person drinking and driving, you read about them everyday. Little did I dream that one of those people would change my life forever or my family's life. We just got our feet on solid ground and this tragedy had to happen.

I thank God I am not paralyzed, but curse the fact that I cannot do the things I use to, and might not ever be able to do them again.

If it had not been for a wonderful woman I never would of known who hit me (she chased him down after he left me). I would like to thank Ginny Smith. I would also like to thank Martha Pinkerton for staying with me.

We have a very long, long road to go. Without my loving family for hanging in there, taking on twice the load and making me smile when I'm down, I don't know what I would do - if they can make it through this they can make it through anything. Thank you with all my love Lucius, Kim, Kristie, Russell, Granner, Eloise and Earnest.

I would like to thank Dr. Lee, Dr. Bray, Dr. Torres, Dr. Holloway, and a great surgery staff at Hendricks. I would also like to thank Robert and Rhonda Cook, Ann and Henry Wheeler, Ray and Aletha Guevera, Leonard and Kathy Pringle, Caleb and Corey Pringle, Mike and Francis Meyer, J.B. and Doy Guy, Mr. and Mrs. Holloway, Theresa and Ouida.

Our circle of family and friends may be small, but their hearts are as big as Texas and they have helped me through the first phase. I never could of made it through surgery without them.

Thank you,
Sheila E. Wood

Our hearts are saddened at the passing of one of our dear residents. Mrs. Oval King passed away Sunday morning in North Runnels Hospital. Our sympathy is extended to her family.

Mr. Luther Smith is a new resident. He is in Room 25. He would appreciate your cards and visits.

Although there were no residents' birthdays in August we had our monthly birthday party last Thursday. The Renewal Class of the Methodist Church was our host for the party. We were happy to have our band instructor and his wife to lead us in a few favorite hymns.

WARNING! WARNING!

BE ON THE LOOK OUT...

School's back in session and in the excitement of the new school year, many school-age children, especially the young ones, may forget to lock both ways when crossing the street or exiting the school bus.

That leaves it up to you as a driver, to be extra careful around school yards, neighborhood play areas, and departing school buses.

So remember...when you see yellow, be sure to see red - as in red alert. Let's all slow down and give our children the chance they deserve.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:
Recently we were in Winters (the best little town in the country because it is home) to help celebrate my parents' 50th Wedding Anniversary. My parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sudduth, live at 603 Bowen Street. Next door east is nothing but a stinking garbage dump. It smells terrible and the flies are awful. Why it can't be cleaned up is beyond me. The city should be ashamed to have a health hazard like that in the city limits.

Next time we come to Winters it would be nice to breathe some fresh air and have a cookout in the backyard, which was impossible to do while we were there.

Anyway I wanted you to know it is sad to see something like that going on in Winters.

Gary & Geneva (Sudduth) Frydendall

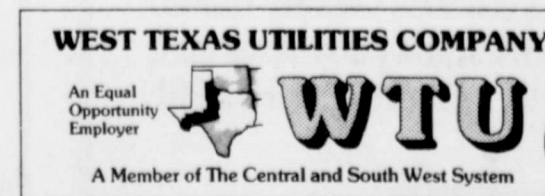

P.S.

Wool Referendum set for August 19-30

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has scheduled a referendum August 19-30 for wool producers to decide whether to continue a market promotion and improvement program.

Keith Bjerke, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Service, said the proposed program, similar to one approved in 1986, would continue to authorize deductions from producer price support payments.

If the referendum is approved by a majority of either the producers voting or the producers who own a majority of the sheep represented in the referendum, deductions from wool price support payments would be established at a rate not to exceed seven cents per pound of wool marketed and not to exceed 35 cents per hundredweight of unshorn lambs for calendar year 1991.

For calendar years 1992 through 1995, the deductions may increase up to an additional one cent per pound of wool marketed and up to an additional five cents per hundredweight of unshorn lambs per year.

The amounts deducted will be used by the American Sheep Industry Association to finance advertising and sales promotion programs for wool in domestic and foreign markets, and for information programs for producers on production management and market development and improvement.

ASCS county offices will distribute ballots in early August. Completed ballots must be returned in person to the county office or be postmarked by the August 30 deadline.

To be eligible to vote, a person must have owned sheep or lambs six months old or older for at least 30 consecutive days in 1990. A cooperative may vote on behalf of its members but if it does so, its members are then ineligible to vote in their own capacity.

In the 1986 referendum, producers owning 67.8 percent of the sheep approved the program.

Ben Barker tours area livestock shows

Ben Jac Barker, the sixteen year old son of Preston and Naida Barker, recently completed his summer "circuit" of club calf stock shows. Beginning with the Spring Kickoff Classic in Wichita Falls, where he achieved the Limousin Showmanship award, the WHS junior has been on the road quite frequently during the past few months with entries in several of the TCCA sanctioned shows across the state.

Ben's lightweight Hereford steer won Reserve Champion honors for him at the Lake Country Classic in Breckenridge in June. Other shows where his calves earned him points toward a "top ten" spot in the Texas Club Calf Association included the Panhandle Parade of Breeds in Plainview, the Belt Buckle Bonanza in Ft. Worth, the Hill Country Extravaganza in Kerrville, and most recently, the Best of Texas Steer & Lamb Show in Snyder.

While placing respectably in all the shows, Ben's Limousin steer managed to capture a pair of blue ribbons at the Kerrville and Snyder events. Ben also showed a lightweight Charolais, placing third in his second outing. Ben's parents and FFA advisor, Roy Shackelford, accompanied him on his summer stock show ventures.

VETERINARY UPDATE

by Jimmy Smith, DVM

Fall breeding herd management

Fall will be here before you know it, and with it will come the fall breeding season. October and November are traditionally the two months of the year when the club calf producers will be the busiest. But whether you are a club calf producer or not, there are several things that you need to evaluate prior to the breeding season so that you will have everything ready to go.

Evaluate the condition score of your cows. Cows need to be in adequate flesh (score 6 or 7) prior to calving because it is almost impossible to get a lot of weight on a very thin (score 4 or less) cow that is suckling a calf.

Thin cows are slower to return to estrus after calving, and conception rates are lower for thin cows. It is much easier to put flesh on cows prior to calving. If your cows are thin, this needs to be corrected as soon as possible.

First calf heifers need to be bred at least one heat cycle ahead of the mature cows. A two year old heifer with her first calf is trying to give milk, she is still growing, and she is trying to conceive another calf. All of this is quite taxing on the new mother, so it takes her a little longer to start coming back into heat.

Vaccinate with 5-way Lepto and Vibrio prior to breeding. This vaccine is a tool that is too cheap not to use. Leptospirosis is a disease that causes abortions usually at the beginning of the third trimester of pregnancy.

Vibriosis is a disease that causes what we call the "repeat breeder" syndrome. The cow will come into heat, conceive, but will abort her fetus.

After she aborts she will come into heat and breed again, and the same process will repeat itself all over again. The estrus cycles will be abnormal in their occurrence pattern. Both Lepto and Vibrio can be easily prevented by vaccination.

Bulls should be semen tested prior to each breeding season whether they are used as herd bulls or cleanup bulls. So, if you find that one of your bulls is no longer a potentially sound breeder, you will have adequate time to replace him.

If you have not already done so, put out a mineral supplement containing phosphorous. Our area has been and probably always will be low in phosphorous.

Phosphorous is a critical element in reproduction as well as other functions. With low serum phosphorous, cows will not show signs of heat, even though the reproductive tract is going through all of its normal functions.

Also it has just recently been proven that phosphorous deficiencies are the primary cause for magnesium deficiency or what we call "grass tetany" and "wheat pasture poisoning". Injectable phosphorous preparations may be necessary if serum phosphorous levels are too low.

If your grass or pasture is not green, additional supplementation with vitamin A will be necessary. Vitamin A is necessary for epithelial tissue repair, and remember that we're not just talking about the epithelium of the skin but the epithelial linings of all the body organs, including the uterus.

There are lots of other management practices that you can use, but these that I covered today are just the basic necessities.

NOTICE OF EFFECTIVE TAX RATE 1991 Property Tax Rates in City of Winters

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for City of Winters. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Wheat Acreage Reduction set at 5 percent

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is requiring a 5-percent acreage reduction for the 1992 Wheat Program, according to Jerry Harris, Chairman of the Texas State ASC Committee. This compares to the 15 percent acreage reduction required for the current wheat crop.

"This level was chosen to maintain competitiveness in world markets while balancing the risks of excessive supplies or possible shortages," Harris said.

Wheat producers who comply with the acreage reduction requirement will be eligible for target price protection at $4.00 per bushel. The same as this year. Harris said the program will not have a paid land diversion.

The 1991-92 wheat crop is projected at 2.0 billion bushels, down 26 percent from last year's 2.7 billion-bushel harvest. The decline reflects an 8-million-acre reduction in planted area and lower yields. "This year, decision to plant fewer acres were based on higher acreage reduction requirements, new flexibility provisions in the 1990 farm legislation, and lower wheat prices," the ASCS official said.
