City, North Runnels Water case to be ruled on by TWC

The North Runnels Water Supply Corporation petition to the Texas Water Commission should have a final ruling Wednesday. The three members of the Water Commission were to make a final ruling during their meeting beginning at 9:00 a.m. Wednesday.

North Runnels Water Supply Corporation (NRWSC) filed appeals of the rates set by the City of Winters to be charged NRWSC in February, 1990 and April, 1991. A preliminary hearing was held in Austin on September 14, 1990 and the City and North Runnels agreed to try to come to an agreement between themselves before a full evidentiary hearing was held.

The two parties were unable to reach an agreement and a two day evidentiary hearing was held May 13 and 14 of this year. Following that hearing, NRWSC and the City agreed to an interim rate to be charged North Runnels of $2.56 per thousand gallons.

Hearing examiner Kerry Sullivan of the Texas Water Commission took the evidence presented by both sides along with recommendations of the staff attorney and an attorney for the public interest (both Water Commission employees).

Sullivan advised both parties by letter and a copy of the summary of his recommendations that he would recommend to the Commission a rate of $2.468 per thousand gallons to be retroactive back to February 15, 1990. The City Council had voted to increase the charge to NRWSC from $1.98 to $2.05 per thousand when North Runnels began the petition process to the Texas Water Commission.

One of North Runnels' main points in the case was that the rates were discriminatory toward NRWSC. They complained to the Commission that the rates requested by the City were significantly higher than the effective rates of between $1.86 and $2.00 per 1000 gallons currently charged by the City of Winters to its largest retail customers. Examiner Sullivan, in his summary of recommendation states that he believes that this is a legitimate item of concern to NRWSC. "On its face it appears incongruous for wholesale rates which do not contain cost components for storage or a distribution system to be higher than the rates charged to the most similarly situated retail customers. The recommended rates are, however, lower than the $2.87 effective rate charged by Winters to in-city residents and are substantially lower than the rates charged to Winters' out-of-city retail customers."

Sullivan goes on to say, "Winters also points out that the in-city ratepayers pay city taxes which NRWSC avoids; Winters did not establish, however, that any portion of such city taxes are applied toward paying for water utility service. Consequently, a disparity in rates is not justified on this basis."

"The Examiner believes that the recommended rate reasonably reflects the actual cost to Winters of providing service to NRWSC, which is the appropriate subject matter of this proceeding. Consequently, the Examiner believes that the recommended rate is not unduly discriminatory," Sullivan stated.

If the Commission rules as the Examiner has recommended, NRWSC will pay a surcharge to the City of Winters of an amount equal to the difference between the rates set and the revenue collected from NRWSC for service provided on or after February 15, 1990.

The conclusion to the North Runnels case has been anticipated by both parties for several months. The ruling of the Texas Water Commission could be appealed through the court system, according to Sullivan. As of press time, no indication by either party had been made that they will appeal the case.

Blizzards lose to Hawley

The Winters Blizzards came up short on an upset bid of the Hawley Bearcats, 13-7 last Friday night.

What was mostly a defensive struggle for the night ended with Winters being handicapped on offense by fumbles, an interception, and penalties.

The Blizzards held Hawley on their first offensive charge of the night and then drove the ball down the field in a good series of plays. Winters was stopped this time by a fumble on Hawley's 20-yard line, seemingly setting the tone for the remainder of the game.

The Winters defense would hold Hawley and the offense would drive until misfortune stepped in. Hawley ended up scoring in the second quarter on a 60-yard drive ending the half with Hawley leading 7-0.

The Bearcats scored again in the third quarter, ending that period with a 13-0 lead. Then the Winters offense got cranked up.

With good blocking up front, a run-and-pass combination got the Blizzards down to the 1 yard line. Jim Calcote took it across from there and Jamey West kicked the extra point to make it 13-7 with about 3 minutes left in the game.

Winters elected to onside kick and Brandon Boles recovered the ball at the 35-yard line for the Big Blue. The Blizzard offense was still cooking and drove to the 20-yard line. A questionable clipping call made it 4th down and 20. Winters was unable to make the first down and turned the ball over to Hawley.

The Bearcats ran out the clock from that point and claimed the 13-7 victory.

Scoring Summary	Winters	Hawley
First downs	14	19
Rushing yards	141	313
Passing yards	72	33
Comp-Att-Int	3-10-1	2-6-0
Punts	4-36	4-31
Fumbles lost	3-2	2-10
Penalties-yards	6-50	5-40

Winters faces Anson

The Blizzards travel to Anson Friday night to play the tigers at 7:30 p.m.

Anson is 1-5 for the season and winless in district play this year. The Tigers lost to Hamlin this past Friday night 14-6 in a close ball game.

Overall, the Tigers are larger than usual with tackle Kerry McGee at 6-4, 280; Mike Diaz at 280, Brian Soliz at 265, and Jason Soliz at 210. Ten lettermen return from last year's district championship season.

The Harris ratings place Anson at 104 and Winters at 142 this week, and pick Anson to win by 10 points.

Ron Jones #5, varsity quarterback, sails a pass down field during action against the Hawley Bearcats. Blizzard Jim Calcote #21 provides blocking.

Winters man arrested on murder-for-hire charge

A Winters man is currently being held for criminal solicitation to commit capital murder.

Local deputies with the Runnels County Sheriff's Department (RSCD), working in cooperation with the Department of Public Safety Intelligence Division and the Texas Rangers Office, arrested Billy Wayne Neal, 50, of Winters.

Neal was arrested in a sting set up by lawmen on the parking lot of the Ballinger Wal-Mart store south of Ballinger Wednesday, October 9, around 5 p.m.

The sheriff's department received information that Neal was trying to employ someone to kill Willie Wright, 27, also of Winters, according to case officer Quentin Watkins with the RSCD.

The sheriff's department, with the assistance of the other law enforcement agencies, set up a surveillance van to record, both in audio and video, the meeting between Neal and the so-called hitman, which was really an undercover officer working with the agencies. The meeting was successful and Neal was arrested at the scene without incident.

It seems that Neal was jealous of a relationship between Wright and his wife, Ann Arlene Neal, 40, of Winters and he attempted to arrange for Wright to be killed, according to Watkins report.

Neal was placed in the Runnels County Jail and charged with the offense of criminal solicitation to commit capital murder. Bond was set at $100,000.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles ©1991

If someone had told you back in 1989 that oil prices would stay consistently above $20 and be as high as $22 in 1991, wouldn't you have expected a very active year (in 1991) for drilling?

I know I would have. Costs are down and prices are up AND stable. What more could the oil patch ask for?

Well, apparently that is not good enough, because activity is down and prospects are slim for a really big 'year-end push'.

What is the deal? I am not altogether sure, but there are some ideas floating around that try to explain the current activity slump, and I, of course, have my own theories.

The most publicized theory on the current drilling slump is one that blames taxes. Not a novel approach, but possibly enlightening, so we will investigate.

The theorem says that the Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) is a strong disincentive to invest in drilling oil and gas wells. Thus, activity is depressed because prices and costs, although quite improved, have not separated (prices up, costs down) enough to overcome the burden of the AMT on capital investment, especially in oil and gas drilling.

Whoa, there. For us non CPA-types, this AMT talk is way over our heads.

Let's try to summarize, in laymen's language, what the AMT is all about, and then we can tackle the problems it causes. Bear in mind that I am no expert on U.S. taxation—I am only interpreting and paraphrasing what I have overheard.

The Alternative Minimum Tax is a separate procedure (with its own forms) that is used to calculate a 'minimum' tax. It is completed by individuals who are subject to it (more on that in a minute) AFTER they finish their regular tax forms and procedures for the IRS every year.

It was intended for wealthy individuals (and corporations to some extent), so that they would not escape paying a 'fair' tax even if they had hired the best CPA's in the business to avoid (legally) taxes through investment 'schemes' and such.

It basically adds back in some deductions and credits taken on the regular federal tax forms, thus causing the tax payer to pay more tax. Only those that meet certain criteria are required to fill out the AMT forms, and, mainly, those criteria involve income levels and certain types of business participation.

As is often the case, Congress shot US in the foot with their good intentions.

It seems the AMT, according to some, at least, is especially burdensome on capital outlays and more especially burdensome on capital-intensive businesses like the oil and gas industry. The theory goes on to say that the AMT is making the profit levels after-tax too low to warrant the high risk of drilling for those subject to the AMT. Since many investors in drilling wells are relatively wealthy, they are usually subject to the AMT.

Thus, the pool of capital has dried-up because less investors are willing to take the risks, considering the AMT will take a big bite out of the reward (if there is one).

All of this is news to me, but I don't deal in the taxation arena too much, so it is not surprising that I am only now hearing about it. In any event, I can believe that the AMT could be part of the cause of the current lack of activity.

I also can believe that plain, old pessimism is part of the problem, too. But, that is a topic for another day.

This time, I present this theory about the AMT to inform you that are interested, not so much to spout my opinion. I know that is a big change from the norm in this space, but I've got to keep life exciting, don't I?

Apology in Order

(or Angel and Calcote are right)-contributed

It was observed at a soccer game between the Winters Gremlins and the Ballinger Dynamos that a question arose concerning the score of the game in progress. The friendly dispute was between the female fans and the male fans watching the game. It is to be noted that at the end of the game when the score was confirmed by the coaches Robert Silva, Brock Guevara and Cody Whittenberg that the guys were right. The Winters Gremlins won by a score of 3-2.

A public apology was deemed necessary by Puny Whittenberg, another bystander.

So, Susan, Bobbie and Karen were wrong and Monte and Larry were right!!

Victorian mansion changes hands

Since Dr. Jerry Biddix of Port Arthur is practicing medicine in Winters and likes history, it is possible he will be interested in the early day home where he now resides.

At one time it was occupied by a well known doctor, J.L. Barron, who practiced medicine in Runnels County for 30 years.

The victorian style home was built in the early 1900's by Paul and Mary Crews who moved here from Buda in Hays County. The Crews soon moved away and the Swatches occupied the house in 1920 and 1921. John J. Swatchesue said Mary Crews was his mother's sister.

The Crews returned to Winters for a time before the estate was placed in the hands of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia under the direction of James F. Holiday. Louise Seals said her father, Bill Baxter was hired to manage the farm and they moved into the overseers house in 1931, her first year to attend school.

There were four other dwellings on the place. Louise and Marvin Seals lived in one of them after they married, until they moved to the plains of West Texas.

Her father remained on the place until the old mansion was bought by Dr. John L. Barron and Robert Lee in 1945. They bought the place as partners and in 1946 acquired some land at Norton.

Dr. Barron soon traded his land at Norton for the Crews property and remodeled the house extensively before he moved there in 1947.

The grounds were landscaped in 1949 and J.B. Guy, his son-in-law, recalled that it came a flood in September of 1950.

While the Barrons lived on the Crews place Dr. Barron reached the height of his medical career and entertainment was provided for friends especially when Mrs. Barrons' brother, Will Mahoney of Memphis, Tennessee came to do the barbequing of the meat.

After the Barrons moved to Winters and established his clinic he continued studying medicine and went to Chicago almost every summer. He learned surgery under the direction of Dr. Edwin Middleton, Sr. and Dr. Hedrick in Abilene.

Because of his knowledge of medicine and his desire to help people, Dr. Barron became a well known and popular physician. His daughter, Doll Guy, said he was the only doctor that she ever knew of that called patients and inquired how they were getting along. One elderly woman said that the moment John Barron walked in the room she felt better.

In his early practice, while doctors were still making house calls, Dr. Barron practiced over six counties and drove many miles almost daily to see patients. While traveling country roads, he began studying Bible scripture to complete his work as a Mason. He always had a driver when one was available.

In Winters, Barron had a faithful black man named Preacher as his regular chauffeur. He was a regular sight in town as he drove the doctor's black Chrysler. Preacher was also a good nurse or attendant but he had no use for hospitals and was afraid of the undertaker. He said, "When he comes to see you he ain't coming to see how well youse a doin'."

Doll didn't know it at the time, but her daddy was also a good psychologist. She was at home with two little children when J.B. was in service and she became very dependent. Dr. Barron came to see her and said, "I hear you are staying in bed too much. I'll get someone to keep the children and I want you to go to work for me tomorrow at the office."

She thought she was too sick to go, Doll said, but she thought she ought to mind her parents, and she went. It was just what she needed and she soon felt much better.

In 1957 when Dr. Barron began to lose his health he sold 600 acres on the north side of the farm to Joe Crockett. Two years later he sold Charles Koehler 383 acres, which included the houses. In 1961 Pybum and Virginia Brown bought the large house and grounds for a home. After a fire caused by a faulty water heater this year, they sold to Dr. Biddix, whose wife likes to restore old homes.

Spirit Filled Happenings
By Dixie Levereit, Church Editor,
Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist

The long, lazy days of summer are over and we are a few weeks into the hustle and bustle hectic days of school. I had forgotten how much rush there is in getting little ones ready for school. My children are already grown and I have become a little rusty on the every day wants and don't wants where children persist on having their way.

But now I am sending my grandchildren to school and I am getting a refresher course. I think as we rush around with our busy schedules, God wants us to remember Him, His love for us and remember others. We get so wrapped up in our own little world of cares that we forget to pray for others that may need help a lot worse than ourselves.

Also, when things seem to be going pretty good for us we forget to be thankful for the little things. We must constantly remind ourselves that "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends" John 15-13.

Jesus Christ gave up his life for you and I so that we may have life and have it more abundantly. Let's make this week a week to pray for our country, city, schools, churches, neighbors, and our families.

Getting down on our knees in prayer can lift us higher than we've ever been lifted before.

Thursday, October 31 at 6:30 p.m. the church will host a Hallelujah Night (a Christian alternative to Trick or Treat). Everyone is welcome. A video will be shown entitled "The Witches Curse."

There will be lots of games, fellowship, prizes, candy, and a costume contest.

Monday, October 21, at 7:00 p.m. the ladies group will meet. All ladies are invited.

Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist Church is located at 1017 N. Cryer in Winters, Texas, and is a spiritual light growing ever brighter in a seemingly darkened world. Reverend John Haley is Pastor.

Runnels to get road repairs

A project to place raised pavement markings on 350 miles of highways in District 7 is underway. Various sections of highways in Val Verde, Kinney, Real, Edwards, Sutton, Crockett, Menard, Runnels, Coke, Tom Green, Irion, and Glasscock counties will receive the new markings, according to Joe W. Lane, P.E., of Sonora, the engineer in charge of the project for the Texas Department of Transportation.

The contractor will begin work Monday in Glasscock County and will move east and south as they complete a section.

In the area where the crew is working, adequate warning signs, barricades, flaggers and other warning devices will be utilized to direct the travelling public. Motorists approaching the work area should slow down and watch for men and equipment. The crew will move down the road at a steady but slower pace than the public.

This $203,895 project is one of many the department contracts with private firms to do the state work.

The following highways in Runnels County are included in the project:

- F.M. 382 from F.M. 1770 to S.M. 53
- U.S. 67 from east end of U.S. 83 interchange to Coleman County line
- F.M. 2133 from U.S. 67 in Ballinger to U.S. 67 in Rowena
- F.M. 2872 from F.M. 1692 to U.S. 67

Indians sneak past 7th grade Breezes

After a hard fought battle the Breezes came up a little short with a 16-22 loss. Although Winters was leading 16-14 at the start of the 4th quarter, the defense played hard but could not keep the Indians out of the end zone. Shane Lewallen scored first on a 1 yard run. Arnold Silva added the two point conversion. The other score came as a 30 yard punt return by Silva. Lewallen added the two point conversion. Lewallen suffered a broken wrist and will be out for the remainder of the season. Coach Lipsy said, "We will regroup and be ready for next week."

8th Grade Breezes whip Bearcats

The Winters 8th grade Breezes, after a slow start, came on strong in the second half of the game to defeat the Hawley Bearcats 34-8. The Breezes opened the scoring on a 20 yard run by Joe Reyna, Jr. The extra point try was no good.

The Bearcats came back with a touchdown and extra point to go ahead 8-6. The Breezes scored the only touchdown of the second quarter on a 60 yard run by Joe Reyna Jr. for a 12-8 half-time score.

The second half was not as close as the first. The Breeze defense, consisting of Jason Carillo and Michael Luna at ends, Kevin Briley, Robert Bedford, and Issac Moreno at the defensive tackles, Kevin Conner and Jerry Esquivel at linebackers, Michael Mostad and John Biddix at half backs, Mark Deike and Jesse Ortiz at cornerbacks and John Belew at safety, completely shut out the Hawley offense.

The offense, meanwhile, picked up where it left off in the first half. Michael Mostad opened the second half with a 20 yard touchdown run, John Belew hit Kevin Conner with the 2 point conversion.

The Breezes scored again in the 3rd quarter on a 15 yard touchdown pass from John Belew to Kevin Conner. Mark Deike ran the 2 point conversion. The Breezes' last touchdown came on 1 yard run by Mark Deike for the final 34-8 count.

The Breezes have a big ball game coming up against Anson here, October 17.

"Come out and support the Breezes!"

7th Grade Breezes Win over Hawley

After a slow first half the Breezes picked up the pace in the second half.

Arnold Silva scored first on a 38 yard run. The 2 point conversion failed. Silva then broke loose for a 40 yard touchdown run. He also added the two point conversion.

Silva then scampered 82 yards for the go ahead touchdown. The 2 point conversion failed.

"We had some good blocking up front to open up the holes," Coach Lipsy added. Justin Mitchell and Adam Cruz lead the defensive attack.

Crews News

by Hilda Kurtz

Anger puts your brain on pause and your mouth on fast forward.

Last Saturday the Norval Alexanders attended the Jenkins reunion in the Lawn Community Center. Between 35 and 40 people came.

Lavonda Foreman of Hobbs, N.M. came the furthest. Others came from Big Spring, San Angelo, Alice, Abilene, Lawn, Rankin, and Crews.

Visiting Helen and Norval Alexander on Wednesday were cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard of Alice.

Ruth and Bradley Pape were in Temple Thursday and Friday. Brad had a doctor's checkup. While waiting for his appointment they drove out to the Winkle Bee and Pecan Farm, just north of Temple. They brought home some real good honey and pecans.

Harvey Mae Faubion had some tests run in North Runnels Hospital on Wednesday.

Walter Pape of Santa Anna, Gladys Cotton of Ballinger, and Brother Oscar and Janie Fanning of Abilene visited in the Noble Faubion home Sunday afternoon.

Spending Sunday with Pat and Earl Cooper were Ray, Sherry, Amanda, and J.T. Cooper of Winters. Grandson J.T. spent Wednesday with the Coopers.

Whether or not this buck will grow to his potential will depend largely on the degree of management imposed on the territory he roams. The development of Deer Management Cooperatives can assure common sense management goals that can increase deer quality.

What is deer management?

by Don Haley
(part 2 of a 4 part series)
The 1 1/2 year old buck hesitates for a moment at the fence-line between adjacent hunting leases. What do you do? Do you harvest the immature buck, depriving him of the chance of ever reaching his full potential or do you let the neighboring hunters across the fence do it for you? In either case, any attempt at improving deer quality is lost.

Hunters and landowners in several Central Texas counties are learning that working together and using some common sense can go a long way toward increasing the quality of deer on their land or lease. The secret of their successful deer management cooperative associations.

The basis of a deer management cooperative is merely a group of landowners and/or hunters of adjoining areas who form an alliance to mutually carry out proper deer management for the benefit of all.

The principle that makes co-ops work is that landowners and hunters both are more likely to carry out good management if they know their neighbors are trying as well. Few hunters in Runnels County will pass up a 2 1/2 year old 8-point buck in hopes they can harvest it next year as older, more mature buck. They know that, in most cases, when the buck jumps the fence to the next ranch, it will be shot!

However, in a deer management cooperative, all the hunters over a large area know that if they pass up young bucks, neighboring hunters will as well. This means that the majority of those passed up, immature bucks will be there for harvest as 2 1/2, 3 1/2 and older bucks. This cooperation can only result in an increase in age structure which translates into more bucks with bigger and better antlers.

The other primary goal of most co-ops is to improve the doe to buck ratio. Many typical Central Texas ranches, due to overharvest of bucks and underharvest of antlerless deer, have a doe to buck ratio as high as 10 to 1. This means that only 9 out of every 100 adult deer will be bucks. On the other extreme, a well-managed ranch can often approach a doe to buck ratio of 2 to 1, meaning that 33 of 100 adult deer are bucks. Which ranch would you rather hunt?

Most wildlife biologists recommend that the ratio of does to bucks should not exceed 3 to 1, with ratios of 2.5-2 to 1 being much more desirable. Therefore, the benefits of a management cooperative are not only better bucks, but more bucks. To the hunter, this means greater enjoyment. To the landowner, it can translate into more money return to the ranching enterprise.

Next issue: What it takes to make a management cooperative work.

Local ladies cruise the sea

Nina Hale and Mary Stanfield returned Friday from a sixteen-day cruise on the Costa Italian ship, the MTS DAPHNE. Passengers boarded at Los Angeles on September 24.

The cruise liner docked in the harbors at Mazatlan, Puerto Vallarta, and Acapulco in Mexico. A stop was made at Caldera, Costa Rica, where passengers were carried inland on a narrow-gauge railway train through the jungle to San Jose, the capital city.

On Saturday, October 5, the ship sailed through the Panama Canal, entering the Miraflores Lock from Balboa in the Pacific. After passing through the Pedro Miguel Lock, Gatun Lake, and the Gatun Locks, the DAPHNE sailed into the Atlantic near Cristobal Bay. The passage through required a total of eight hours, nine hours being the average time required.

Other stops were made at Willemstad, Curacao, in the Netherlands Antilles, and St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. Passengers disembarked at San Juan, Puerto Rico, on October 10, where they boarded flights back to the U.S. mainland.

Runnels Soil Conservation News and Notes

Windbreak trees, like this Arizona Cypress, can add value, protection and beauty to your home and property. The RSWCD is offering evergreen and hardwood seedlings for purchase beginning October 1. Please see related story.

Runnels SWCD begins tree sale October 1

Well, it's that time of year again - "tree time." Beginning Tuesday, October 1, the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District (RSWCD) will be offering quality hardwood and evergreen tree seedling for sale to area residents through the annual Windbreak Tree Program.

These tree seedlings, which are raised in the Texas Forest Service nursery near Lubbock, are healthy, viable seedlings that are well-adapted to the soil and weather conditions here in Runnels county. Over the past three years, 174 residents have purchased and planted almost 11,000 evergreen (conifer) and hardwood seedlings. These windbreak trees are well on their way to providing shade, beauty and protection to their owners.

If you have not purchased windbreak trees for your property or need additional or replacement trees, the RSWCD will be offering four categories of seedlings this year: bullet conifers, conifers, hardwoods and wildlife packets.

Twelve-inch containerized bullet conifers with 10 cubic inches of root volume may be ordered in multiples of 20 for $20.00. These bullet conifers are available in the Afganistan Pine variety. Twelve-inch containerized conifers having 28 cubic inches of root volume are available in multiples of 20 for $30.00.

For more information on this year's Windbreak Tree Program, please stop by the SCS office or call 365-3415. Technical assistance in planning and designing your windbreak is available to help make your tree planting efforts a success and something that you will be proud of for many years to come.

Dear Editor,
"True happiness, if understood, consists alone in doing good." I read this in a newspaper not long ago. If each of us kept this in mind, this community would be a better place to live.

I am writing this for I feel a need to express myself after an unpleasant incident last week. I oil paint and have helped others to paint for a number of years. When one first begins, it can be very frustrating. I tell each beginner, that if you have the deep down desire to paint, you will accomplish it. I wanted to learn to paint for such a long time. Back then, nobody around here taught classes, as I do. That is one reason why I want to, and enjoy helping others to paint. It's not entirely for the money, for I could never become rich on the fee that I charge. The only way I consider myself rich is through the friends that I have made through painting. Friends are treasures that you cannot buy. Another thing you cannot buy is the ability to paint, you have to work at it to accomplish it, and that takes time.

If you cannot take criticism, you might as well learn that too, because you get a lot of criticism. You can read books and study about art, but unless you take this knowledge and practice painting, you will never accomplish it. The same is with religion, one can go to church, study the Bible, know it from front to back, but with all the knowledge, if one does not put it to use each and every day, this knowledge is useless. For as I see it, the purpose to have this knowledge is to practice it on the people one comes into contact with. When you practice this, your goal is to be a Christian. And when you take your knowledge of art and practice, your goal is to be an artist. From each you create a picture. As a Christian, the way you live and treat others creates a picture for the viewer. As an artist the picture is on canvas for the viewer. It is up to the individual if you create a bad or good picture.

You as the reader, may not understand why I expressed myself in this manner. But there is one out there that will know.
