Winters native and daughter graduate from Clarendon College on same day

It isn't very often that father and daughter graduate from the same college on the same day. However, Winters native, Jerry Chambliss, and his daughter Michelle were in the same graduating class at the 94th annual commencement exercise at Clarendon College recently.

The Chamblisses believe that they are the first father and daughter to graduate from Clarendon College at the same time, even though there have been numerous mother-son and mother-daughter graduate combinations.

Jerry, 47, an area manager for West Texas Utilities, began his college career shortly after he and his family moved to Clarendon ten years ago. He earned his associate of arts degree over a span of 10 years, taking courses at night, during summers, and traveling to Clarendon College's student center in Pampa for some. He was an honor graduate.

Michelle, 19, was able to complete requirements for her two-year degree in a single year.

When Michelle graduated from high school last May, she already had several hours of class credit at Clarendon College. After graduation from high school, she began summer school and then took 19 hours and 21 hours, respectively, the past two semesters.

The father-daughter team realized about mid-term that they would be in the same graduating class. The two did not have any classes together, however, Jerry did play fiddle and sing in the Cowboy College Band with Michelle.

In addition to carrying a full academic load, Michelle sang in the Cowboy College Band, was a member of the Clarendon College Student Senate, worked 15 hours a week as a pizza cook and volunteered as a nurse's aide every Sunday at Medical Center Nursing Home.

She plans on enrolling at Panhandle State University in Goodwell, Oklahoma next fall to obtain her bachelor of elementary education degree.

Jerry earned his degree in fine arts and said that he intends to obtain a bachelor's degree in business.

Michelle's mother, Dana, works as a secretary for the Perkins Program, a federal vocational grant office at Clarendon College.

Jerry is a graduate of Winters High School. He is the son of C.N. Chambliss of Winters and married Dana Bishop, the daughter of Jack Bishop of Winters. Chambliss and Bishop are proud of both Jerry and their granddaughter Michelle.

Eleven candidates featured on Saturday's local election ballots

Eleven candidates are featured on the ballots in the three local races to be held Saturday, May 2.

Services were held Monday, April 27, at the First United Methodist Church in Ballinger with the Rev. Winford Gore officiating. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery under the direction of the Winters Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Speedy Amales, George Alexander, Gene Harding, Jack Kenyon, Jack Hodge, Skip Tondre, John Robert Hodge, Dewayne Grant, Roy Dale Martin and Buck Foley. Honorary pallbearers were, Oscar Zertuche, Thomas Earl Winters and Ron Sloan.

The family requests that memorials be made to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center and the American Cancer Society.

Sidney Wayne Horton

NORTON—Sidney Wayne Horton was born in Indian Territory near Loveland, Oklahoma, on July 7, 1913. He died April 15, at Shannon Hospital in San Angelo after being ill for more than two years.

Sid came to Texas in a covered wagon with his father and younger brother Ebb, arriving in Lawn in August 1922.

He graduated from Lawn High School in 1933 and then attended Abilene Christian College. He later worked for D & W Tire Company in Abilene. On November 19, 1938, he was married to Mary Edna Virden at her parents' ranch home near Wilmett.

Sidney and Mary Edna made their home in Abilene until after World War II. He was employed by Texaco until joining the Army in 1942. He was a sergeant in Co. C, 119th Infantry, 30th Div. Wounded at the Rhine River in Germany during the Battle of the Bulge, he spent seven months in European hospitals before returning to Brooke Army Hospital in San Antonio. After his discharge in 1945, they lived at Wilmett three years, then two years at Lawn, before moving to their present home near Norton in 1950.

Mr. Horton served on the Norton school board, a number of years as president. He built and operated Horton's Tractor Service until his retirement. He then operated a wood-working shop in his building until he was hospitalized. He made large cedar-lined hardwood chests for all his grandchildren and his last work was a beautiful teakwood chest for his wife.

Services were held Saturday, April 18, in the Lawn First Baptist Church with the Revs. Bill Swindler and Gaylon Broadstreet. Burial was in McBee Cemetery at Ovalo, directed by Fry-Bartlett Funeral Home of Tuscola.

Mr. Horton is survived by his wife of over 53 years, Mary Edna of Winters; three daughters, Dr. Jackie Waynell Parker of Iowa Park, Flora Virginia McCright of Ft. Worth, and Martha Nicola Conner of Winters; four brothers, Herman Horton of Lawn, Charlie T. Horton of Abilene, Billy Ted Horton of Carlsbad, N.M., and Ebb Horton of Tuscola; two sisters, Merlene Lafoon and Velma Anderson, both of Lawn; and seven grandchildren, Catherine Parker and Wm. "Chief" Parker of Iowa Park, Amber McCright and Erin McCright of Ft. Worth, and Kirk Conner, Allan Conner and Mandy Conner of Winters.

He was preceded in death by a son, Toledo Steve Horton, in 1976. Memorials may be made to the Diabetes Association, West Texas Rehabilitation Center, or Ballinger Business and Professional Woman's Club.

Pallbearers were Richard Lange, Doyle Lange, Danny Lafoon, Lavon Hutton, Zane McWilliams and Gary Bryan. Honorary pallbearers were Earl Broadstreet, J.B. Denson, Lucius Evans and Wayne Miller.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles ©1992

I had the opportunity to travel to several locations in Europe, the Middle East and Africa, recently, and I met some Russian petroleum business personnel during the trip.

The discussions, through various interpreters, were quite enlightening in many ways. It was a real education for me regarding the professional and personal lives of the Russians.

My trip was last fall, just following the failed coup attempt and during the very disintegration of the USSR.

The folks I came to know a little 'bit' about were in a Middle Eastern country trying to finish a job that had been ongoing for several years. The task involved building facilities to produce an oil field that had been discovered and developed by the USSR under an agreement by which the Russians provided technical expertise and capital, while the host country provided the resource and promised friendly political relations.

The attempt to wrap things up were complicated by the turmoil in the USSR and the changes occurring in the host Middle Eastern country. The bottom line was that the Russians had to be out by the end of 1991, whether the job was completely finished or not.

Like most hard-working folks, the Russian workers take pride in their work, and they wanted to finish what they started. After it became apparent that completely finishing would be impossible, the guys there wanted to at least make the facilities functional.

When I and my fellow travelers arrived on the scene in the desert, these Russians were working very hard to do just that.

As they led us on a tour of the facilities, we found many unique mechanical arrangements in the producing facilities that made us ask questions. Our first private reaction was that the methods and designs employed in the facility construction were probably faulty, but after some questions and answers, we found the designs just different than we might install—not wrong.

Football camp

Hardin-Simmons University will hold a Quarterback and Receiver Football Camp, July 12-14.

This is available to boys from 8th grade through 12th grade.

Instructions will be given by outstanding college and high school coaches.

For more information on costs and registrations, contact Alan Wartes, Quarterback Coach, Hardin-Simmons University at (915) 670-1547 or (915) 670-1473.

The Russians used elevated separators to reduce working pressures, centrifugal pumps standing on end to move injection water, and odd-shaped safety 'bunkers' for fires and explosions.

While some parts of the facilities were unusual, others were almost identical to design in the U.S. I am not sure which is more remarkable—that we do things similarly, or that we do things totally different.

I did notice that, while most equipment was made in Eastern Bloc countries, there was some U.S.-made equipment with the evidence of such neatly removed or filed off.

In any event, the Russians were very proud of their accomplishments, especially the handy gadgets involving computers or sophisticated communication equipment. And, for the most part, the facility will operate efficiently once it comes on line. The oil field personnel were very professional and well-trained, although they lacked the broad experience of a U.S. oil hand. This is probably due to the manner in which petroleum personnel are assigned to one isolated type of work without change throughout their careers.

Besides the exposure to the working lives of the Russians, we had a chance to talk late into the night about their personal lives, their views of the outside world, and their hopes about the future.

Best of all, we did all of this over about three days, both in the desert and on the coast of the Indian Ocean, so we had a chance to really gain insight into their world.

Next week, I will relate the more personal side of their lives, so look for this column next time. I promise it will be decent reading.

Pioneer Church of God News

by Dixie Leverett

I once read a story of how a mother eagle builds her nest. She uses sticks and briars to start her nest and covers that with bits of soft things she finds. Then she lines it with her own soft feathers.

When the babies are born, they settle into the comfort. She wants them to learn to fly but they don't want to leave the comfort. So she begins to remove the soft things, and when they are down to the briars and feeling the pain and discomfort she sticks her big wing out and they hop on it to escape the discomfort.

She flies with them, then returns them to the nest. They hop back on to the briars and are ready to get back out on her strong wing when she flies with them and teaches them the beauty of this new experience.

They love the joy and freedom of flight and go on to a new life.

As humans we are the same, we get into situations that are all too comfortable; God wants us to move forward, we refuse and settle in, so he removes the softness and we get down to the briars.

He reaches out his strong loving hands and bids us come, we do because there is pain and discomfort where we are. A few trips out in his loving arms and we don't want to go back, we soar onward and upward to new heights. Thank God he has the knowledge what is best for us.

Exodus 19:4 "Ye have seen what I did unto, the Egyptians and how I bare you on eagle's wings, and brought you unto myself."

On Thursday, April 23, the men of the church met to discuss church expansion. We are growing and need more classrooms and sanctuary space. Thanks be to God.

MEMBERS OF 39+ CELEBRATE FIRST BIRTHDAY — Members of 39+ gathered recently at First United Methodist Church to celebrate the first birthday of the organization. A pot luck lunch and birthday cake was enjoyed by everyone attending.

William King descendants mark historical milestone

The descendants of William Monroe King, a pioneer Runnels settler, gathered on the banks of Fish Creek southwest of Wingate, on April 18, 1992, to celebrate the 100th anniversary of settlement in Runnels County.

A permanent stone marker will be placed, recording that the land now owned and farmed by grandson Jim King has been continuously owned by the King family in excess of 100 years—from 1891 to present.

William Monroe King, who served in the Confederate Army, moved his wife Mary Ann and three sons, Henry, James A., and William Pettus, from Mississippi to Texas by wagon train consisting of 22 wagons. The journey took 42 days.

They reached Runnels County in 1891 and purchased from John Robertson 750 acres of land on the west side of Fish Creek, about 2 miles southwest of Wingate, out of the John Early Survey and being part of the Odom-Luckett Ranch at one time.

Three grandchildren of William Monroe King survive, Ione King Watkins, Ruby King Watkins, and James Henry (Jim) King. Three grandchildren are deceased, William M. (Bill) King, Edith King Knowlton, and Robert D. (Bob) King. The King gathering was organized by Jim and Annie Faye King of Wingate, and Ruby King Watkins of Big Spring, all three of whom were in attendance.

Eight great-grandchildren were also present, Sharon King Glaze of Tye, JoAnn Watkins Stafford of Coahoma, Glenda Watkins Brasel of Big Spring, Peggy Watkins Evans of Big Spring, Shirley Watkins Davis of Big Spring, Bobbie King Jackson of Winters, Dorretha King Dunnam of Graham, and Gloria King Foust of Winters. Numerous fifth and sixth generation descendants were also represented.

Those attending not mentioned above were: Joe and Rowdy Glaze, Tye; Laurie, Jessica, and Robert Hall, Anson; Bill Stafford, Coahoma; Barry Stafford, Waco; Carrie Sullivan, San Angelo; Roger Stafford, Coahoma; Bob Evans, Big Spring; Marc and Kristi Couch, Big Spring; Bob and Shana Brasel, Big Spring; Shelly Brasel, Midland; Felton Jackson, Winters; Jerry and Dustin Dunnam, Graham; and Randy, Tammy, Brandi, Zachary, and Trenton Wall, Comanche, Oklahoma.

Also present for the event was Jim's special guest, his 99 year old maternal aunt, Orrie Low, of Winters. Mrs. Low's sister was Annie Renshaw King of Wingate. Mrs. Low was accompanied by her daughter, Mickey Orrell of Winters.

Jim King welcomed the group and gave the historical background. After lunch, the group enjoyed visiting, fishing, and flying kites in the wheat field. On departure, they stopped by and took pictures of the old oak tree, the base of which now measures 26 feet, which was the site of the original King home place and where the family's historical marker will be placed.

Spirit Filled Happenings

By Jan Thompson
Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist Church

Psalm 1:1 & 2: Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord.

While preparing for the Sunday message I came across an old book of Martin Luther's. It is a part of my library and highly treasured. Taking it up and scanning a few pages, this caught my eyes. The very Psalm that I had just read.

I quote Luther, "Men are concerned with blessedness. There is no one who does not wish that it may be well with him, and does not dread the thought that it should be ill with him. Yet all have differed from the knowledge of true blessedness."

The philosophers have searched most diligently and erred most grievously, thinking blessedness to exist in virtue. They have only made themselves more unhappy than the rest by depriving themselves of the blessings both of this life and the life to come.

The common people on the other hand, have thought blessedness to consist of sensual pleasure. They have hoped, at least, to enjoy the good of this life."

The person that wants to be blessed of God must have the right thoughts and motive for those blessings that come from Him.

Blessed, is the man that walketh not, nor standeth in the way, nor sitteth in the seat; take note that each of these will deter blessings from God.

The Word of God tells us, "Have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness." In other words if you see that a person is doing something of the ungodly nature, don't walk with him. If you have fellowship with such a person then what you're doing is condoning what they are doing and God says stay away from that one. Pray for them, Yes! but be careful not to be attached to them.

You are welcome to come worship with us each service at Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist Church. Sunday 9:45 and 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Wednesday at 7 p.m. Pastor Thompson is teaching each Wednesday night on a subject that all will enjoy.

Dr. Joe H. Price, former country entertainer, now pastor of Mesquite Baptist Church, will be appearing at Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist Church on Saturday, May 2, at 7 p.m. and Sunday, May 3, at 6 p.m.

From The Well

by
Pastor Jim Hanson
St. John's Lutheran Church

Yesterday was a big day at St. John's. Confirmation. Nine young men and women, all teenagers, dressed in white gowns with red flowers pinned, stood up and made their public confession of faith. The practice goes way back into history. It's a tradition in our church.

I think it is a good one. It is good for young people to study the Bible, and the practices of their church. To become acquainted with the creeds and doctrines is important too. And to realize that God is more than what you'd like Him to be is healthy. The God of the Bible is real.

But that which impressed me the most, humanly speaking, was the time and effort of parents. The church basement was decorated beautifully in red and white, with lighted candles on every table. Red and white carnations, red and pink roses, and a beautiful centerpiece with an old Bible and a vase that was "mother's." The meal was fantastic, the good old "church supper" kind with ham and turkey, beans and potato salad, vegetables, and a whole table of desserts. There was a poster on the wall for every confirmand, with the date of their baptism as an infant, pictures from that day up to the present, so beautifully done. Hours and hours were spent in getting the place ready, and in getting the young folks ready.

It was a family time. Grandparents and uncles and aunts and cousins came. Friends came. To be part of the time, to help with the passage from childhood to adolescence in church. To be with and pray for these young people, and to wish them well.

The time was well spent. In addition to preparation time, Sunday's celebration was at least four hours long! Why not? Young people do not become adults instantly. It takes time. And this time, this most important time in their lives, surrounded by generations and memories will surely help them on their way. It was so good to hear them say, young and old, as they left the church on Sunday afternoon, "Wasn't that a good celebration, a good time?" And it was. A God time is always good.

Nadeen Smith hosts April meeting of Sue Carter Circle

The Sue Carter Circle of The First Baptist Church met April 21st in the home of Nadeen Smith. Nadeen called the meeting to order and Verda Smith led the opening prayer.

Darlene Sims had charge of the program "The Life and Ministry of Debbie Brownfield in Ethiopia." She gave the opening part "Let's Pretend." Darlene represented Debbie Brownfield, Charlie Poe, Sara Beth Heidenheimer, Verda Smith, Eunice Polk represented Baptist women.

Sara Beth Heidenheimer gave the calendar of prayer for the missionaries having birthdays that day. She used as her scripture Psalms 18:32. Alice Traylor led the closing prayer.

Nadeen served refreshments of cake, coffee or drinks to: Sara Beth Heidenheimer, Dorthea Laughan, Charlie Poe, Eunice Polk, Darlene Sims, Verda Smith and Alice Traylor.

Plans for Project Graduation

Plans are underway for an exciting graduation night party for the seniors at Winters High School! The 1992 graduating class has decided to celebrate their graduation on May 28 with an all-night, chemical-free graduation party to assure that none of the class of 1992 will be injured or killed in alcohol-related accidents.

This will be Winters High School's second "Project Graduation," the name used across the country, and it's a tradition that needs to be continued at Winters High School.

Basically, Project Graduation is an all-night, chemical and alcohol-free party that is organized by the seniors, with help from parents, school personnel and business people in the community. The party will be well chaperoned. It is hoped that Project Graduation will reduce the chance of any of the students being injured or killed in alcohol-related accidents.

To make Project Graduation the biggest and best party ever, and to establish it as safe and fun tradition at Winters High School, your help is needed. Parents, seniors and interested adults will be contacting individuals, churches and clubs for donations of money, services or merchandise for prizes. To find out more about making a donation or helping with Project Graduation, contact Lavelle Killough, 767-3676; Judy Biddix, 754-5690; or Cheryl Bryan, 754-4966.

FACTS & FIGURES

There could be good news for the approximately 360,000 U.S. soldiers and federal employed Army civilians who'll be leaving their government jobs in the next four and a half years. The U.S. Army will teach them job search skills to prepare them to find their way after leaving active duty. This could be good news for the whole country.

The average depth of the Pacific ocean is 12,925 feet.

On the road again

There is nothing like the open road to put roses in your cheeks especially when headed for a week of fun at the Spring Samboree entitled "Show Boats a' coming" sponsored by the Good Sams, a national organization of R.V. (recreation vehicle) owners.

This celebration was held in Alexandria, Louisiana. I left home at 7 a.m., March 31 with Halley Sims in her Allegra motor home. We met two other travel trailers at Abilene, driven by Pete Norman of Abilene and Jack Swindle of Monahans. They are Texas State Coordinators with their wives, Faye and Phyllis.

Jack was leading us in his new Road Ranger and Pete followed in a Coachmen's Classic. A fancy procession, if I do say so. We were sailing along at a fair speed when Halley said, "we've lost Jack, we've got to catch up."

"What about that trailer in front of us," I asked, as she sped around him. We had forgotten the name of his vehicle.

All the drivers had CB's and a voice came over the intercom—"why did you pass the lead car?"

Halley was embarrassed and stumbled over an apology, but she never lived it down. The men teased her the entire time we were gone.

We reached the 552 trailer court six miles out of Tyler at 4 p.m. and all the drivers were glad to call a halt.

Since I knew nothing about anything else we were doing, I announced that I would be "chief cook and bottle washer." We had sandwiches at noon as we sped along. My theory is you've got to eat to keep up your strength and for sure I didn't want the driver to give out.

After playing Skip-Bo in the evening, we had a good night's rest and arose to dropping temperatures, it was getting colder by the minute. With a warming breakfast of waffles and syrup we got on the way at 9 o'clock. We planned combread and stew for lunch and cooked chicken for dinner as we went along. I forgot to lock the refrigerator and had to take care of it while in motion to keep from losing everything. "I told you I was a slow learner, I said." "No you're a quick forgetter!" Halley replied.

Between Waskom and Shreveport we saw a sign for gas, 79.9 and would have lost Halley for sure, but she already had a tank full of gas; it holds 90 gallons.

After getting our vehicles established in the Mall at Alexandria, we set out to see what was going on. The program included everything from A to Z; all kinds of games, programs, contests, dances, arts and crafts and door prizes.

Being the history buff that I am, a tour of the Kent House on Thursday was the most outstanding event of the week to me.

Kent House is the oldest known standing structure in central Louisiana. Completed in 1800, Kent House was built by Pierre Baillio II. Baillio constructed the house on land he received about 1794 from a land grant from the Spanish governor of Louisiana, Baron De Carondelet.

In 1842, Robert C. Hynson purchased the house from Baillio heirs. Hynson had come to Louisiana from Kent County, Maryland and the house was named for that area.

Kent House survived the Civil War and a 1963 plan to demolish the building. Kent House was opened to the public in 1975 after renovation was completed and the house beautifully furnished with museum-quality items.

On the grounds are appropriate gardens and outbuildings necessary for plantation life including kitchen, milk house, slave cabins and carriage house.

ANNA GONZALES AND KEVIN HALFMANN

Engagement announced

A June 13 wedding is planned for Anna Bertha Gonzales and Kevin James Halfmann at Holy Angels Catholic Church in San Angelo.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gonzales of Plains, Texas, and is a 1988 graduate of Plains High School and is a candidate for May graduation from Angelo State University with a bachelor's degree in Spanish.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Halfmann of Winters, is a 1987 graduate of Winters High School and a graduate of Angelo State University with a bachelor's degree in kinesiology and math, and is employed by the San Angelo School District.

Bredemeyers celebrate seventieth anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H.F. Bredemeyer of Winters were honored with a family dinner by their children, grandchildren and brothers and sisters on Saturday, April 18, at their home in celebration of their 70th wedding anniversary. Also in attendance were Pastor Jim Hanson, Ramona and Kati.

The couple was married April 17, 1922. Mrs. Bredemeyer is the former Minnie Minzenmayer.

The Bredemeyers have five children, Mrs. E.R. Wessels, Freddie Bredemeyer and Mrs. Johnnie Wilson, all of Winters; Mrs. J.C. Wessels of Bryan; and Bobby Bredemeyer of Round Rock. They have 15 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

The Bredemeyers had lived and farmed west of Winters until 1964 when they moved to town. They are members of St. John's Lutheran Church.

Girl scouts enjoy weekend at Lake Brownwood

The magic of camp and the happiness of being with friends will long live in the memories of the Girl Scouts who attended the Jr. Camporee April 24-26. Jr. Girl Scout Troops 180 and 161 of Winters joined 250 area scouts last weekend at Camp Wood Lake in Brownwood to brush up on their camping skills.

The "Campcrafters" weekend included activities such as pitching tents, practicing firebuilding, knots and lashing. Scouts learned to use a compass, and how to follow a compass trail. Scout groups enjoyed using trail signs and laying trails for others to follow.

Saturday night, the troops joined together for a campfire by the lake and shared songs, skits and stories with one another.

Attending the event from Troop 180 were Jamie Bishop, Courtney Cathey, Chanda Hoppe, Tamara Grohman, Angie Lee, Misty Pritchard, Tamara Thorpe Brooke Tounget and Allison Well. With the group was leader Easter Walden and Barbara Tounget.

Members attending from Troop 161 were Heather Daniel, Amy

Heathcott, Karen Oats, Monica Parramore, Lisa Poindexter, Lawanda Rainey, Tina Sherman, Wendy Sherman, Angela Shoemaker, Judy Spill, Kathy Torres, Heather Watkins and Jeanna Kozelsky, along with leaders Chris Parramore, Barbara Heathcott and Brenda Watkins.

Crews News by Hilda Kurtz

Parents spend the first part of a child's life urging him to walk and talk—and the rest of his childhood making him sit down and be quiet!

Ladies that attended the Hopewell 9:30 a.m. Bible Study on Monday were Harvey Mac Faubion, Nila Osborne, Helen Alexander, Eileen Prater, Selma Dietz and Robbie Neal Faubion. The study was on the 9th and 10th chapters of Romans.

Hopewell church congregation enjoyed dinner together after services. Sunday visitors were the Barkleten family.

May 9, the second Saturday, is the correct date for the Crews supper. Everyone is asked to bring sandwiches or ice cream and your dish and spoon. Connie and Georgia Gibbs and Linda and Dale Duggan are the spokespersons.

Gary Hill of Eastland came and got his mother, Claudia, during the week and went to Sweetwater to see Mike and Von Hill. Von is in the Sweetwater Hospital very ill.

Lawan and Coleman were in Abilene Thursday for an appointment at Humana Hospital.

David Craig, Lee Ueckert and a friend, Debbie Brannon, all of Houston came Monday. They all went to the creek for some fishing and a picnic with Ruth and Brad Pape. On Tuesday they babysat with Will, Debbie, Will and Ruth ran to town and got hamburgers while the guys fished some more. On Wednesday Lee and Ruth were in Ballinger shopping and went through the library. That afternoon they visited with the Mathis family. On Thursday all enjoyed the birthday supper for David.

Doris Tippet of Odessa came to see Georgia and Connie Gibbs on Thursday. Corra Petrie attended the 39+ meeting at the Methodist Church in Winters on Thursday.

Tammy, Justin and Mark Kaczuk; Mike, Eileen, Jeremy and Tiffany Prater visited Georgia and Connie Gibbs on Sunday.

Chester McBeth had some friends from Dallas visiting during the week. They were Gene Phipp and a friend and Gene's son. The son bagged a turkey and two rattlesnakes.

Addie Hardaway of Stockton called Selma Dietz to let her know she would be coming next week.

Pat and Earl Cooper were in Little Rock, Arkansas recently to visit their granddaughter, Gayle and family. They also visited the Brooks Parks family. The next stop was to visit a son, Ronnie Bennett of Denard, Arkansas. Sorry to hear Pat had a freak accident with a cat that bit and scratched her. She had to see doctors three different times, twice in Arkansas. She is doing okay now.

Those attending the Winters Open House Sunday were Eileen Prater, Selma Dietz, Melvena Gerhart, Bernie Faubion, Sally Mae and Marvin Gerhart, Janie Fanning, Naomi Gerhart and Sherri Mikeska.

Adeline Grissom attended the Ballinger Ethnic Festival on Saturday. Sharon Busenlehner, Margie Jacob and Sue Lamb had lunch at the Tea Room in Ballinger to celebrate Sharon's birthday on Tuesday.

Beverly, Corey and Brad Van Zandt; Margie Jacob; Sharon and Bryce Busenlehner attended the Winters Colorguard performance on Monday night. Scott Kozelsky, Margie's grandson, was in the performance.

Jeremy Prater was honored on his eleventh birthday Wednesday at the Ted Meyer Park in Winters. Cake, punch and games were enjoyed by all who came. "Many more of these nice birthdays, sugar!" Mike and Eileen Prater attended the square dance Saturday night. A good time was enjoyed by all who went.

Sherri, Amanda, J.T. and Ray Cooper spent Sunday afternoon with Pat and Earl Cooper.

Lorene and James Halfmann entertained with supper and a 42 game Saturday night. Those who attended were Roy and Anita Schaefer, Frances and Jerry Holly, Pat and Earl Cooper, Evelyn and Herbert Jacob, Kevin Halfmann and Margie Jacob. Jerry and Anita won high games and Margie Jacob won most scores.

Karen McGallian spent Monday afternoon with Nila, sewing a dress for Stephanie. She will wear the dress in a school play.

AmWest Savings Association gets into the spirit of Election Year by announcing its own choice for president.

Upon accepting the position, Robert M. Shofstahl becomes AmWest Savings' President and Chief Operating Officer.

Mr. Shofstahl most recently served as President, CEO and Director of Pelican Homestead and Savings Association of Louisiana. He served as a member of the Board of the New Orleans branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, as chairman of the U.S. League of Savings Institutions, and as president of the New Orleans League of Savings Associations.

Don A. Adam, Chairman of the Board and CEO of AmWest Savings Association, expressed his admiration for Mr. Shofstahl and for his banking expertise. "AmWest Savings is fortunate to attract a person of Mr. Shofstahl's caliber. His experience, knowledge and management reputation will greatly benefit the Association."

With 56 locations throughout West and Central Texas, AmWest Savings Association is a $2.7 billion institution headquartered in Bryan, with over 1,000 employees statewide. AmWest Savings is a member of the Adam Corporation/Group.

Mike Mauldin presents program to Literary and Service Club

The Literary and Service Club held its regular meeting on Thursday, April 23, in the educational building of St. John's Lutheran Church. Sharing hostess duties were Doris Prewit, Eula Mae Kruse and Sue Prewit.

Selma Dietz, department chairperson for conservation, introduced guest speaker Mike Mauldin, Runnels County Extension Agent. He addressed the group regarding summer lawn care.

Using a slide presentation, Mauldin discussed weed control, application of herbicides and insecticides, fertilizers and proper watering procedures.

Following the program, Betty Wessels presided for the business meeting. She reminded the members of Mayfest on May 2, at which time the club will have a brownie sale, and of the annual President's Guest Tea, May 4, honoring all local graduating senior girls and their mothers.

Following Ramona Hanson's report that the Adult Literary Council is in need of funds to purchase teaching materials, the club voted to donate to this cause.

Billie Middlebrook, Federation Counselor, announced that the Literary and Service Club placed first at the Heart of Texas District meeting of GFWC/TFWC in DeLeon on March 20-21, amassing a total of 445 club points.

Awards presented at this meeting were first place for a painting by Darlene Sims; first in art for a project on literature and drama; first in projects for music and dance; first in painting (arts and crafts) to Darlene Sims; second in program for Federation Day; and first for club report.

Members attending were Sheila Paschal, Pat Fenter, Jo Olive Hancock, Mary Margaret Leathers, Selma Dietz, Betty Wessels, Lela Thormeyer, Gwen Andrae, Estella Bredemeyer, Eula Mae Kruse, Ramona Hanson, Noma Eoff, Billie Middlebrook, Ethel Mae Clark, Doris Prewit, Sue Prewit, and Mary Stanfield. Guests were Mike Mauldin and Jennifer Prewit.

Norton Notes

by Janice Lange

"Know the difference between your need and your greed."

Residents of the Norton Community wish to express their sympathy to the Joe B. Lloyd Jr. family. Joe passed away Saturday, April 25.

The Norton Community wishes to express sympathy to the Curtis Barrett family. Curtis passed away Tuesday, April 28.

Easter guests of Leroy and Mildred Burris were Kevin, Deana, Cody and Selita Burris from George West.

Lavon and Imogene Hutton attended her uncle, Neal Joiner's funeral in London, Texas on Friday April 17.

On Easter Sunday Lavon and Imogene Hutton attended church in Brownwood where they were having a revival with Malcom Kniffen preaching. They got to visit several friends while there.

The Norton 4-H'ers competed in the Runnels County Roundup parliamentary contest on Tuesday, April 21, at the county courthouse. They did not win but enjoyed the competition. Afterwards the members had a party at the Pizza Hut. Those participating were Kristin Martinez, Holly Englert, Kayla Niehues, Stacy Halfmann, Shane Halfmann, Jill Halfmann, Phoebe Harrell, Amanda Harrell, Herbert Harrell, Barbara Belk and Sarah Feaster.

The 4-H wool judging teams met Thursday for a practice session. We are very happy to have two new participants from Winters. They are James Andrae and Jennifer Prewit. All the members would like to thank Allen Belk for his hard work with these 4-H'ers.

Amanda Harrell traveled to Sonora with other Ballinger Band members for the Jr. High All-District Band Competition. Amanda placed sixth in clarinets and played in the Symphonic Band. She and six members qualified for the Band Concert in Mason on Saturday. Amanda along with other band members played the following songs "Bobby Sue," "Yellow Rose of Texas," "Edelweiss" and "Discovery March" at the Mason Concert. Jill Halfmann marched with the High School Band in the Ballinger Ethnic Festival parade.

MAKING T-SHIRTS FOR CINCO DE MAYO — High school students who work in the TIPS program at Winters Elementary School work on T-shirts for the Cinco De Mayo Family Fun Day celebration on Tuesday, May 5 at the elementary school.

Arbor Day Foundation gives free shade trees

Ten free shade trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during April 1992. The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's "Trees for America" campaign.

The ten shade trees are Red Oak, Weeping Willow, Sugar Maple, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, River Birch, Tuliptree, Silver Maple, and Red Maple.

"These trees were selected to provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes, and fall colors," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

The trees will be shipped post-paid at the right time for planting in April or May with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to SHADE TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

Planting summer wildlife food plots

Planting wildlife food plots is an increasingly popular tool that the land manager can utilize in managing wildlife habitat.

Simply defined, a food plot is a piece of ground planted to produce forage for wildlife consumption. These areas may be planted for a variety of reasons:

1) The landowner may want to attract wildlife for hunting or viewing.

2) Overgrazing may have reduced or eliminated the most favored and nutritious forbs and browse.

3) Herbicidal brush and weed control may have reduced natural wildlife food plants.

We are all familiar with winter oats or wheat and how these areas attract and provide nutrition for wildlife during the stress periods of winter. But what can the landowner, hunter, or manager do to improve wildlife habitat and nutrition for the summer months?

Depending on seasonal weather conditions, summer (especially late summer) can be even more nutritionally stressful for wildlife than winter periods. Hot, dry conditions during July and August cause forage to wither and lose nutritional quality. Thus, providing a food source during this critical period can reduce nutritional stress and pay dividends in terms of numbers and quality of wildlife.

Some of the most commonly planted summer deer foods include annuals such as cowpeas, sunflowers, soybeans, millets, sorghums and perennials such as Illinois bundleflower, Engelmann daisy and Maximillion sunflower. Ground disturbances encourage such plants as croton, sunflower, ragweed and native grasses that are beneficial to quail, dove, turkeys, etc.

Proper planting procedures are critical in obtaining productive summer food plots. Drilling and broadcasting are the two most common methods for planting. Conventional grain drills work well on smooth, firm, well-worked seedbeds. The Brillion seeder is another commonly used implement for planting food plots. The Brillion uses packer wheels that uniformly distributes seed and shallowly packs them into the soil for essential seed to soil contact and germination.

Broadcasting would be the preferred method on very soft seedbeds or areas too rough or rocky for drilling. Broadcast applicators may be pulled behind a pick-up or tractor or the seed can be hand-thrown for smaller areas. Seeds should be covered after broadcast if possible by dragging a harrow, packing with rollers, or even by dragging brush over the seeded area.

Planting is usually in mid-March to mid-May when sufficient soil moisture is generally available. The type of soil in the selected area is an important consideration when planning what to plant in a food plot. The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) office in Ballinger can give technical guidance on specific plant species for your particular soil, site, growing conditions and management objectives. Contact the SCS office at 365-3415 or stop by the office at 610 Strong Avenue in Ballinger.

Food Plot "Tips"

• Almost any soil disturbance will encourage growth of weeds and forbs. This is especially true in sandier soils. Light disking around the brush-line is an easy way to stimulate growth of beneficial forbs.

• Plots should be designed to create as much "edge" as feasible. "Edge" meaning areas close to escape cover.

• A rectangular shape is more desirable than a square one. Odd areas and corners in pastures or fields may also work well. Thick brush motts might be left in the center to provide concealment for hunters, photographers, etc.

• Minimize erosion potential by orienting plots on the contour and/or perpendicular to the direction of the prevailing wind.

• Areas should be fenced if possible. Livestock, especially sheep and goats, compete with wildlife for desirable forbs.

• A well-worked seedbed is the best "secret" to germination and establishing planted vegetation.

Runnels County Rumors

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service

Small Grain Certification — The final date to certify all small grains (wheat, oats, etc.) is May 1st. Small grains must be certified regardless of whether they are for grain, for cover on ACR or CU for Pay acres, for grazing, etc.

Remember, any wheat left standing after May 1st will be considered wheat for grain, unless you certify to leave the wheat standing and pay a farm visit fee of $10.00, or destroy the crop by May 1st.

Grain Sorghum Deficiency Payments — The final 1991 Grain Sorghum deficiency payments were mailed on March 27th, in most cases.

The rate for Grain Sorghum NOT enrolled in to 0/92 program was 37 cents per bushel.

The rate for Grain Sorghum enrolled in the 0/92 program was the guaranteed rate of 56 cents per bushel.

The final payment amounts were reduced by any advance that was received (22.4 cents per bushel.)

CRP Weed Control — All CRP participants are reminded of the responsibility to control weeds on CRP acreage.

The State Committee has adopted a policy which states that all CRP participants must maintain the vegetative cover on all required conservation practices on CRP land and take other action as necessary to control weeds to maintain the production capability of the soil.

If weeds are not controlled in a timely manner, all CRP participants on the farm will be subject to applicable penalties. The committee will be visiting every CRP farm in the county during the year to ensure that weed control measures are being carried out.

ACR and CU For Pay Requirements — There is no cover requirement for land used as ACR or CU for Pay for 1992. Land that is designated as ACR or CU for Pay must have been planted to an annual crop in 1 of the last 5 years or have been designated as ACR or CU for Pay in 1 of the 5 years.

Land that is used as ACR or CU for Pay must be 5 acres in size and 1 chain (66 feet) in width. Exceptions to this rule are those cases where the farm's requirement is less than 5 acres or one plot less than 5 acres is allowed if that amount is needed to complete the farm's ACR or CU for Pay requirement.

Whole fields of less than 5 acres are also acceptable. 4 row skips in an established skip row pattern is acceptable as ACR or CU for Pay acreage.

CU for Pay acreage can also be in skip row of less than 4 rows, however in these cases it must be located in cotton only.

Small grain planted on land designated as ACR or CU for Pay must be substantially destroyed by May 1st either by grazing or by mechanical means.

Acreage designated for ACR or CU for Pay cannot be grazed or hayed during the period of June 1 through October 31, the non-haying or grazing period designated by the county committee.

Workmanlike Manner — In 1992, as in previous years, the county committee is responsible for determining if crops planted to participate in the USDA's wheat, feed grains, and cotton programs have been planted and tended to in a manner which would be expected to result in the farm's established yield.

If they feel that a crop has been tended to in an unworkmanlike manner, they must reduce the payment yield for that crop on that farm to a level in line with that crop's expected yield.

Conservation Compliance — Producers are reminded to be aware of complying with the conservation plans that were developed by SCS on all highly erodible farms in the county.

Failure to do so could result in the loss of all program benefits, including the farm program, CRP, ACP, Wool and Mohair incentive payments along with others.

Wingate ranchers have high selling bull at Stephenville

Larry and Barbara Edwards of Wingate had the high selling bull with a gain test of 4.95 lbs. per day. Ira Duck, Jr. and grandsons had high selling female at the annual Cross Timbers Sale at John Tarleton University's prestigious Horse Arena.

Mr. Damron of Stephenville area purchased the #1 Sale Bull and Abilene's newest Polled Hereford breeder, Bryan Butler, purchased the Ira Duck highest cow sale entry.

Both animals were sired by the Duck herdsire, a Canadian bred bull JLF Repeater 734, who was developed and gain tested in the Jimmy and Letha Farrington herd.

The 734 bull sired the high indexing bull in the All Breed Concho Valley Gain Test at San Angelo in 1991 and sired three bulls in the 1992 Gain Test with average daily gains of 4.23, 4.95 and 4.95 lbs. per day.

Dorothy Hester was awarded the annual Progressive Breeder Award. She had second highest selling cow also. She had consistently sold animals in both the Stephenville and Clifton annual sales. At private treaty she twice sold an interest in two top herdsmen to Ben and Linda Nettles' Polled Herefords of Denton Valley in Callahan County.
