Burglars hit IGA Lawrence Brothers supermarket

Lawrence Brothers supermarket in Winters apparently joined the growing list of stores that have fallen victim to a string of recent burglaries.

While on routine patrol in the early morning of September 18, Officer Virginia Skaggs of the Winters Police Department noticed a door ajar at Lawrence Brothers supermarket. Officer Skaggs called for backup and upon investigation, officers discovered that the store had been burglarized during the night.

Burglars had apparently gained access into the store through the roof. Several vending machines had been broken and a small amount of money taken.

Store Manager Jerry Sartor reported that the burglars vandalized the office area and attempted to break into the store safe but were unsuccessful.

Police Chief Carey Balentine stated that several similar burglaries have recently occurred in our area and surrounding counties. Other stores burglarized have been in Menard, Cross Plains, Stamford and, most recently, Tuscola.

When the manager of Village Market in Tuscola reported for work at 6:30 Friday morning, he discovered his store had also been burglarized.

Along with the Winters Police Department, the Department of Public Safety Intelligence Force and Texas Rangers are investigating the crime and working on significant leads in the Winters case as well as the string of similar burglaries. A number of suspects are under investigation.

BURGLARIZED — Business was back to normal only hours after Winters police officer Virginia Skaggs discovered an early morning break-in at the local Lawrence Brothers supermarket last Friday.

Winters clean-up work days set by Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber looks forward to the time when all our buildings on Main Street will be occupied again.

County tax rate hike approved

On Tuesday, September 15, the Runnels County Commissioners approved just over a nickel increase in the county-wide tax rate. The new rate is a 5 3/4 cent increase over last year.

In a public budget hearing following its regular meeting, the court unanimously set the tax rate for property owners at 63 3/4 cents per $100 valuation. The rate for last year was 58 cents per $100 valuation.

The new tax rate is broken down into 58 3/4 cents for each $100 valuation plus a special 5 cent road and bridge levy.

With the new tax rate, a $10,000 home would require the owner to pay $63.75 to the county.

Officials say property devaluation is one factor that has contributed to the tax increase.

Overall, property value in the county has declined by $11,461,955 over this time last year due to decreased oil and gas production, reports Robin Burgess, tax assessor-collector elect.

The estimated value of Runnels County property for the tax year is $259,418,176, down from $270,880,731 a year ago.

Using an estimated 90 per cent collection rate, the county stands to receive approximately $1.5 million in tax money - $74,417.50 more than last year.

Burgess said the extra revenue is needed to pay for the rising cost of health insurance for county employees, utilities and other increasing operating expenses such as repair and maintenance of county buildings such as the courthouse.

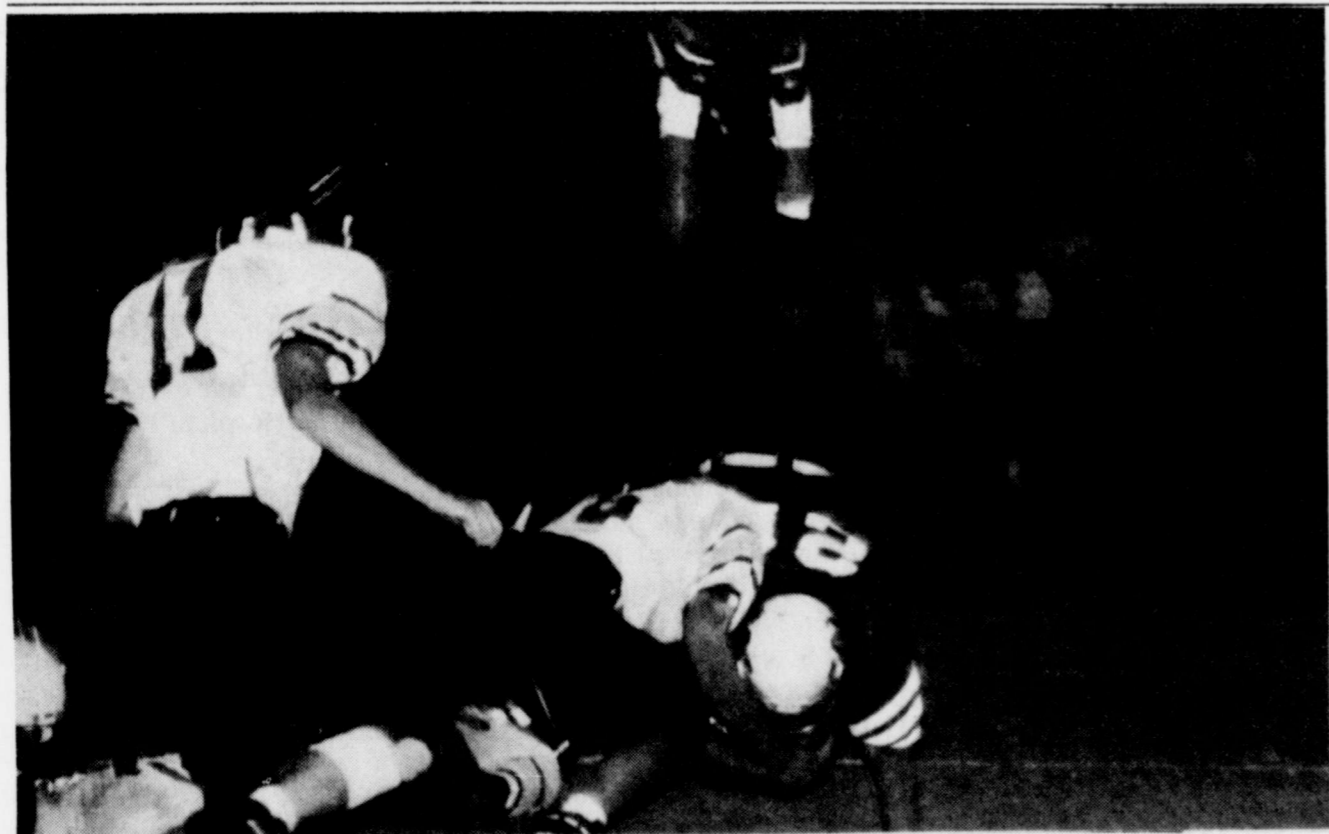

The cost of health insurance for county employees has risen 19 per cent -- the first increase in three years, reports Burgess. The county's insurer is Blue Cross/Blue Shield.

Taxpayers did get some good news from the court. The county will be debt-free as of October 1.

WHICH END'S UP?—Jim Calcote seems headed for a rough landing after taking the ball over the goal line for the varsity Blizzards last Friday night.

Eagles-35, Blizzards-6 Second half proves lethal to Blizzards

The Winters Blizzards played a great first half but could not hold the intensity for the second half.

Holding the Goldthwaite Eagles to only six points in the first half showed that the Blizzards had a strong defense. The only problem was that the Big Blue's offense could not match the defensive strength.

Goldthwaite scored right before the half ended after the Blizzards had handed them the ball twice inside the 30 yard line. The first half ended with the Eagles leading 8-0.

The second half was a different story. The gates were opened wide and Goldthwaite scored 26 points in the third quarter.

Head Coach Dan Slaughter stated, "The defense played well until the second half. In the first half, Goldthwaite was held to only 80 yards of offense, but in the second half the Blizzards gave up 205 yards of offense."

Freshman quarterback John Paul Belew seemed to be having trouble with the snap from center and other offensive troubles seemed to stack up from there.

Senior Albert Bernal took over quarterback duties in the fourth quarter.

"Offensively the Blizzards struggled all night except on one drive in the fourth quarter," Slaughter said. "The Blizzards need to come off the ball with aggressiveness and open up more holes for the running backs. Our blocking will improve."

Jim Calcote scored the only touchdown for the Blue. Both Calcote and freshman Jerry Esquivel trudged out the yards on the scoring drive.

Doug Gray and Andy Esquivel provided spark on the defense with an interception each. Doug and Andy, along with Corey Spill and Wes Hart, also recovered fumbles.

The Blizzards will be traveling to Hamlin this Friday to play the Pied Pipers. Hamlin was an early season pick to win district 7-2A and has been rated as high as third in the state. But Hamlin has lost its last two games to class 3A teams Wylie and Floydada. Wylie was probably a surprise loss for Hamlin and Floydada is a power team.

Hamlin returns 14 starters from a 9-3 playoff team from last year. Heading the list of returnees is running back Waylon McGee and all-state tackle Charles Jenkins (6'3", 255 pounds).

Jenkins leads the other big linemen, Todd Adams (6'3", 245 pounds) and Paul Hodnett (6'0", 240 pounds).

With Hamlin's big returning linemen and an all-star running back, the Blizzards will have their hands full stopping the Hamlin offensive attack.

Coach Slaughter says the team has a good attitude but needs to improve offensively right now.

OIL BUSINESS

By Reg Boles ©1992

This month's "Oil Patch Basics" will consider the reclamation of casing from abandoned wells.

Very often, when wells are being prepared to be plugged and abandoned, a portion of the casing in the well can be removed and reconitioned. This casing is very viable for use in other wells, including newly drilled and completed wells.

This discussion will, of course, not apply to those wells that are being abandoned BEFORE any production casing is put into the well. Those wells are being abandoned because they tested poorly before any decision to run casing was made—so, no casing to retrieve.

We will, instead, limit our discussion to those with casing installed at some time during the life of the wells, which are now being abandoned.

In most cases, the wellbore must be cleared as much as possible before setting the plugs required to permanently seal a well. Often, it is impossible to completely clear the well to the TD because of obstructions that cannot be removed easily.

If it is deemed necessary for environmental reasons to clear the obstructions, then it will be done to the best of the ability of the plugging party. Many times, an obstruction is not a problem where protecting water zones and such are concerned, so the obstructions may not need to be cleared or only partially cleared to set the plugs.

Clearing the well is important to casing retrieval because there is a better chance to recover more casing if the well is completely clear.

After the clearing decision has been made, then deciding what portion of the production string of casing is salvageable is next.

In most wells, the bottom section of the casing is cemented in, and retrieval of this casing is pretty much impossible. So, the casing above the 'top of cement' (where the cement comes up to on the outside of the casing) is a point at which retrieval attempts begin, assuming the casing is clear to that depth.

First, the retrievable casing must be separated from the casing that is going to stay in the hole. The casing can be unscrewed, cut mechanically, or cut chemically.

Unscrewing the casing at a joint is the least messy of the choices, but it can waste some casing (if it unscrews further up the hole, first) and it can be hard to accomplish.

Cutting the casing is common, and mechanical cutting is used most often, because it requires less sophisticated equipment than chemical cutters in most cases. A mechanical cut is done by running one of several tools that severs the casing circumferentially by cutting, squeezing, or exploding the pipe. A chemical cut is made by pumping a dissolving chemical at high pressure at the casing for a time and then allowing time for it to cut through the pipe.

After the casing is cut, the casing is worked free and pulled out of the hole one joint at a time.

That is the simplest way to retrieve casing. If a more exotic situation occurs, things get complicated.

If the casing is cemented at the top and the bottom with a space of retrievable casing in between, two cuts and special tools to latch the casing are required. If there are multiple strings of casing, then special procedures must be employed to cut casing (to avoid excessive damage to other strings) and to access the intermediate strings. There are a multitude of possibilities.

Regardless, the casing is removed from the well, cleaned-up, and pressure-tested. Some may have to be junked, but usually a large percentage of the string is going to be reusable. The age of the casing and conditions under which the well produced will affect the viability of the casing, but casing is generally very durable.

Another 'mystery' of the oil patch bites the dust!

New Thunderbird plane to be in area

GOODFELLOW AIR FORCE BASE—The 1992 airshow season didn't even begin when the year was given a page in the Thunderbird history book.

In 1992 millions of fans will see a new Thunderbird aircraft grace the skies. The U.S. Air Force Air Demonstration Squadron officially introduces its ninth different type of demonstration jet, the F-16C Fighting Falcon. The squadron was also the last active-duty unit to make the transition.

The major parts of making an F-16C into a Thunderbird aircraft involved swapping the gun system for a smoke system, as well as each jet receiving the traditional Thunderbird F-16 paint scheme.

The Thunderbirds will perform September 26 at Mathis Field Airport in San Angelo. Admission is free for the airshow, which, in addition to the Thunderbirds, will include the U.S. Navy parachute team, the Leapfrogs, and a variety of static display aircraft. The F117 stealth fighter will make a flyby, as will a B-1 bomber.

Gates open at 10 a.m., the Leapfrogs perform at 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., and the Thunderbirds take to the sky at 3 p.m.

The golf tournament will begin with a shotgun start at 12:00 noon.
The directors and membership meeting will start at 5:00 p.m. with a social hour to precede dinner served at 7:30.

Prison plans need community support

MacSayles of the Winters Area Business and Industrial Corporation, formerly known as the Winters Area Economic Development committee, urges all area citizens and residents to make plans now to attend an area-wide meeting to discuss preliminary plans to obtain a prison facility for this area. The meeting will be held on October 20 at 7 p.m. in the Winters High School auditorium.

At that time, a representative from the Texas Department of Corrections will conduct a slide presentation and be available to answer questions from anyone attending.

This prison facility project has the potential of creating as many as 300 jobs locally, depending on the size of the facility. Obtaining such a facility would also improve the tax base and the economy in general.

Sayles and other members of the B&I Corporation stress that intense community support is of utmost importance to the success of this project. The number of persons in attendance and the enthusiasm shown will play a major part in whether our area will be considered.

Prior to the meeting on October 20, flyers will be handed out door-to-door within the city and mailed to rural areas. Members of the local Boy Scouts will be aiding the Winters Area B&I Corporation in distributing these flyers.

The name change to Winters Area Business and Industrial Corporation from Winters Area Economic Development Committee is due to a State regulation governing non-profit organizations.

The Winters B&I Corporation will be providing weekly updates of information concerning this project. So mark your calendars and remember this very important meeting on Tuesday, October 20.

First Baptist's Beat

Local Baptists are concerned about Texas mission work

by CHARLSIE POE

A week of prayer and offerings for Texas missions was observed September 13-20 at First Baptist Church with Susan Conner directing the women's program in the fellowship hall on Tuesday. "Fight the Good Fight," an appropriate song, introduced each topic discussed. A key word from the scripture Hebrews 12:1 was also chosen for each phase of the work sponsored by Texas Baptists and a prayer offered for each.

"Cloud" of witnesses are important in sports and also in encouraging new churches. New approaches needed are finding sponsors, advertising, and space (homes, gas stations, old garages, dairy barns, etc.) Volunteers include workers of all kinds. Work was begun two years ago in Laredo, one of the most unchurched cities in Texas.

"Throw off everything that hinders." A serious runner strips off any extra weight before he races, knowing that a few extra ounces may bring defeat. Chaplains and retiree builders need to keep fit as they are important as volunteers. The Seaman's Center in Freeport ministers to sailors on 400-500 ships from around the world that come to port each month. Retirees load up trailers and travel to sites to help construct new church buildings. Many Texas towns can witness to the more than three million people, "Snow Birds," coming through to find a warmer climate for the winter.

Things that entangle one should be overcome by Bible study, prayer, and worship, and key churches can become of great help in starting new churches. Texas has 48 key churches with a goal of 100. With 584 mission churches in Texas, these key churches can be of help in almost every area.

"Run with perseverance" is necessary in every endeavor. Each year it is the faithful servants doing simple tasks that keep everything in running order. Language, radio and television ministries, along with summer youth missions programs, are excellent for the summer.

"The race marked out for us." Keep your eye on the race and don't turn around to watch someone else. Care and share programs have been set up to lend a helping hand to other churches by providing matching financial funds for repair and building educational space. Resort ministry has become important with over 500,000 staying in Texas overnight camp facilities last year.

Blizzard JV winners against Goldthwaite

Last Thursday, the JV Blizzards faced a determined team and answered the challenge with a 13-6 win over the Goldthwaite Eagles.

The Eagles had plans for the Blizzards since the Goldthwaite 9th grade players had lost only one game and tied one in two years (to Winters), and the Eagle sophomores were undefeated for two years. So, as the score sounds (13-6), it was a struggle from the beginning to the end.

Coach White stated, "I'm not complaining, but 14 penalties for 155 yards will tend to throw your offense off stride, so I want to give our offense credit. We moved the ball well and played great field position."

Robert Silva and Mark Deike combined for 35 rushes for 150 yards, with Silva scoring from 10 yards out to give the Blizzards a 13-6 lead. The Blizzards first score came with the second play of the first drive when John Biddix called an audible to Mike Hernandez, who ran a quick "9" then went 24 yards for a touchdown. Lupe Roman added the extra point.

"I also want to give the 'Pit Crew' offensive linemen a pat on the back for opening up the holes for the backs and not allowing one quarterback sack," added Coach White. A stingy Blizzard defense was led by Jason Carrillo and Lance Donica who each had four quarterback sacks and four solo tackles.

The inside defense was anchored by Cody Whittenburg and Richard Cortez who protected linebackers Kevin Conner and Lupe Roman, who were in on at least 50% of the team tackles.

The JV secondary is known as a 5-spoke with cornerbacks Jesse Ortiz and Mark Deike; two halfbacks, Mike Hernandez and Ashley Lewallen; and safety, Michael Mostad.

The Big Blue Crew has allowed only one touchdown in three games and has caused 14 turnovers, which speaks highly of their aggressiveness.

Coach White commented, "It was an exciting game down to the wire with a Goldthwaite 'Hail Mary' pass blocked in the end zone. Next week we start our goal of winning district against Hamlin."

Captains for this game were John Biddix, Robert Silva, Michael Luna, and Presiliano Sanchez. Managers are Eric Hamrick in charge of video taping, Archie Lancaster in charge of statistics, and Dereck Oats, tees and ball carrier.

The game film will be shown on Tuesday night at 7:00 p.m. in the old I.A. building across from the gym.

8th grade Breezes fall in tough 16-6 game

1992 8th Grade Breezes

The Winters 8th grade football team was defeated 16 to 6 last Thursday in Goldthwaite. The Breezes scored first and moved the ball most of the night, but failed to score again.

The Eagles scored on a kickoff return and a pass play. Coach Ron Yancy states, "James Andrae, Kyle Loudermilk, Arnold Silva, and Chris McCaslin played well on offense. Defensively, Steven Cross, Allan Conner, Mario Rodriguez, and Justin Mitchell played well.

The Breezes entertain an undefeated Hamlin team this week in Winters. The 8th grade Breezes hope to change their record on Thursday evening at Blizzard stadium.

7th grade Breezes win against Goldthwaite

The 7th grade Breezes continued their winning ways, defeating the Goldthwaite Eagles 18-12 Thursday night in Goldthwaite.

The Breezes started the scoring on a 22 yard run by Marshall Scates on the first play from scrimmage. This touchdown had been set up by the defense, who had partially blocked and recovered the ball on the twenty-two yard line.

The Breezes continued their efforts in the second quarter with a two yard touchdown run by Tony Torres. This touchdown was set up by a 40 yard run by Marshall Scates. The Breezes were ahead at halftime, 12-0.

Beginning the second half, the Breezes' offensive line made up of center, Michael Pritchard; guards, Daniel Cortez and Justin Minzenmeyer; tackles, Eric Tabone and Michael Ramirez; tight end, Dennis Conner; flankers, Chris Soto and Stacy McMinn; and wingback, Mikey Reyna continued their fine blocking. In the process, the Breezes sprung Eric Bernal open for a 53 yard touchdown run.

The 4th quarter was uneventful for the offense, and the second team defense took over and gave up the scores to Goldthwaite, one on the last play of the game.

The final score was Winters - 18, Goldthwaite - 12. The Breezes' next action will take place in Winters against Hamlin September 24.

"The Glacier" staff thanks community for support

"The Glacier," Winters Secondary annual, is an unfunded, non-profit, student organization. Its production relies solely upon the advertisements it carries and student sales. Without the support of the community--both individuals and businesses--it would not be possible to prepare and publish "The Glacier." Each year the annual staff turns to the community and surrounding area seeking support. This year, as in years past, many people have responded. The annual staff is aware that economic conditions are weak and that there are many demands made upon everyone with the beginning of the school year. Because "The Glacier" depends upon you so heavily and because "The Glacier" appreciates your continued support, the annual staff would like to express its gratitude publicly.

The staff of "The Glacier" gratefully acknowledges the support of the following businesses and individuals:

They're looking for a few dark houses.

The fact is, burglars love darkness. It makes them all but invisible. And there's no reason why we should make their crimes easier to commit.

You can make them think long and hard about burglarizing your home with a Guard-Lite from West Texas Utilities.

For pennies a day, you can give them what they hate - A well lit home. At the same time it's a convenient way to give yourself what you want most - peace of mind.

Our deepest sympathy to Naomi, Milton, and their family due to the death of our neighbor, Irene Gerhart.

Also sympathy goes out to another long ago neighbor, Joe Irvin, and his son due to the death of Irvin's wife, Pinkie. She passed away Sunday morning; the funeral was held Monday morning under the direction of the Winters Funeral Home.

I am glad to have Arthur Kerby back home after spending a week in Humana Hospital for tests.

Helping with the Winters Woman's Club spaghetti supper Friday in the school lunch room were Melvena Gerhart and Bernie Faubion. The supper was well attended and very good.

Kris and Chris Rives of Austin spent the weekend with Wanda McLarty and Adeline Grissom.

Nila and Therin Osborne were in Coleman Wednesday night visiting Helen Brevard.

On Thursday, they were in San Angelo and visited with Alice and Quincy Traylor at the Baptist Memorial housing unit.

On Friday, they attended the fair and stock show along with Karen, Wesley, John, and Stefanie McGallian. John won 4th and 6th places with his calf and Stefanie won 3rd place with her calf.

After Sunday night services at Hopewell Baptist Church, Janie Fanning was surprised with a birthday party. Refreshments were served. Many more happy birthdays, lady!

Melissa Faubion of Bedford was honored with a bridal shower in the home of Bernie Faubion on Saturday afternoon. Hostesses were Wanda McLarty, Frances Bredemeyer, Melvena Gerhart, Erlene Springer, Rosa Marie Englert, and Bernie Faubion. Melissa is engaged to Jason Harshman of Bedford, Texas.

ATTENTION

The Crews community game and supper will be Saturday night, September 26, at 7:00 p.m. Bring one large dish or two small and meet your neighbor.

A Halloween party is also being planned.

The Mike Prater family attended the Abilene fair Wednesday. On Friday, they attended the spaghetti supper in Winters. On Monday, Eileen and Jeremy had a doctor's appointment in Abilene and did some shopping while there as well.

Ruth Pape met her son, Mike Craig of New Jersey, at the Abilene airport at 5:00 p.m. For supper on Friday, they enjoyed the take out plates at the spaghetti supper in Winters. Later Friday night another son, Lee Ueckert, came from Houston. On Saturday, Debbie and Garland Horn of Corsicana came.

Ruth's grandson, Randall Kennedy, and family called from Houston.

On Friday, I visited Hildegard Asbury in San Angelo. At 9:00 a.m. I had an appointment with myskincancer doctor. Afterwards I went shopping and ate pizza.

On Monday, Marque Mathis attended Desiree's "Meet the Teacher" night at high school. On Tuesday, the Mathis family attended the Abilene rodeo. Desiree joined in the calf scramble and got a T-shirt.

Marque and Desiree were in San Angelo on Saturday and helped give a friend a bridal luncheon.

Bill Mathis killed a baby rattlesnake in their garage Sunday morning. Speaking of rattlers, I chopped one in half on Friday in my garden. That makes seven rattlesnakes in just a couple of weeks.

Selma Dietz and Margie Jacob attended Gries' meeting at the Church of Christ.

Ladies studying mission during the W.M.U. meeting Monday morning in the fellowship hall of Hopewell Baptist Church were Selma Dietz, Dee Faubion, Nila Osborne, and Melvena Gerhart. They studied the various places that full time chaplains fill these days. These are Six Flags over Texas, fire departments, resort areas, the Big Bend, lakes, and Huntsville. Here, in Huntsville, a building stands that was put up by 270 people in 24 hours. This home houses families of prisoners. They can stay up to 3 days free of charge. All thanks to Baptist cooperation.

On Saturday, Marvin and Melvena Gerhart and the Mike-ska family attended the fair and later celebrated Sherri's birthday by eating out. Happy birthday, Sherri, and many more!

Carolyn and Jerry's grandson called from Massachusetts, his new home. He really did enjoy the plane ride and flight.

Margie Jacob attended the supper and 42 game in the home of Frances and Jerry Holle on Saturday night.

Others who came were Hattie Minzenmeyer, Henry Minzenmeyer, Ruby Turk, Roy and Anita Schafer, Herbert and Evelyn Jacob, and Pat and Earl Cooper. High score winners were Herbert Jacob, Hattie Minzenmeyer, and Pat Cooper.

On Sunday, Herbert, Evelyen, and Margie Jacob were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Strube. Approximately 35 people attended. DeLores Hoelscher also celebrated her birthday.

Dennis, Audine, and Roy McBeth of Midland; Sybil Tounget of Lubbock; and Lyndon McBeth of Monahans are here for the Irvin funeral and will stay with Chester McBeth.

Naomi and Milton Gerhart had all their children and families staying with them for a few days. They came for their grandmother's funeral. Here were Toby, Melinda, Greg and Anthony from The Colony; Terry of Lafayette, LA; Joe of Winters; and Theresa and Jordan West of Winters. The Gerharts thank everyone for their kindness, phone calls, food, prayers, and visits.

Davis-Marshall wed in Lubbock

Karen Lynette Davis and Stephen Roy Marshall were married in Lubbock September 5, 1992 at 2:00 p.m. in a double ring ceremony performed by Pastor Steve Doles.

White bows adorned the pews and candlelabrum, which held white candles and were decorated with English ivy.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a candlelight white formal gown with a cathedral train designed by Ilissa. The bodice had a sweetheart neckline and was embellished with pearls and iridescent sequins. The puff sleeves tapered to fit at the elbow. The bride also wore a crown headpiece adorned with pearls and a pouf on the back. She carried a cascading bouquet of white silk roses surrounded by English ivy, pearl sprays, white tulle, and lace and pearl streamers.

To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a pearl necklace belonging to the mother of the groom.

Maid of honor was Denise Davis Kewak of Dallas, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Marty Redman and Kiersten Davis, both of Lubbock. They wore full length gowns with white bodice, puff sleeves, and a black skirt and carried bouquets of white silk roses and stephanotis, surrounded by English ivy, pearl sprays, and black and white ribbon streamers.

The best man was Brent Reese of Lubbock. Groomsman were Gary Barley of New Home and John Cahill of Marble Falls, uncle of the groom.

Wedding music was provided by Lucy Lanotte.

Ring bearer was J.P. Powell, nephew of the groom. Flower girl was Amber Green of Winters, cousin of the bride.

Ushers were Brandon Neattles of New Home and John David Barley of Lubbock, brother of the groom.

The reception was held at Kuykendall Hall.

Serving at the bride's table were aunts of the bride; Kay Brown of Snyder, Brenda Green, and Dawn Green, all of Winters. The table, covered with a white satin tablecloth with lace overlay secured at the corners with tulle bows, was appointed with silver punch bowl and candlelabrum.

Karen Davis Marshall

The groom's table, covered with a lace tablecloth, held a chocolate sheet cake with the names of the bride and groom and a silver coffee service. Serving from this table was Sharee Neattles.

The bride, a graduate of Winters High School and Texas Tech University, is the daughter of Carolyn and Jerry L. Davis of San Angelo, formerly of Winters, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs.

O.H. Green of Winters. She is employed with Sentry Property Management in Lubbock.

The groom, the son of Mary Ann and Melvin Barley of Lubbock and Sammy Marshall of Guatemala, attended Sul Ross University and is employed by Pharr R.V.'s Inc. in Lubbock.

From The Well

by Pastor Jim Hanson

She was 91 when she died. I was 16. She had come to live with us before I was born. I can still remember the occasion. It was early in the morning. There was a hustling and whispers across the hall from her room. And then, all of them, my mother, my big brother, my aunt, and my dad, all together, saying the Lord's Prayer, out loud. Grandma had gone home, at last.

As a younger boy, I could remember her praying out loud. It never bothered me. Her prayers were out loud and long every morning. After she had read the Scriptures, out loud, and after she had sung some hymns, alone, and out loud. Then she would pray. She would name all of her loved ones before God. And that of course included me. I can still remember the kind of peace that surrounded me like a security blanket when I heard her name my name. When she had done that, I knew I was in good hands. She had put me there.

At the end of her prayer, her final petition was, "And dear Lord, take me home." Her night time prayers, tho shorter than the morning ones, ended the same way. And that prayer, "Take me home" did not give me peace. Instead it was like a sharp knife. I knew what she meant. She was ready to die, to go home to heaven. But I wasn't ready to let her go.

So in the manner of little boys who have not yet learned to repress either their feelings or their desires, no sooner had she expressed this prayer, out loud, across the hall I silently, under the covers of my bed pleaded, "Dear Lord, don't do it. Not yet. Not until I'm 21."

You see, not only was Grandma's prayer for me a security blanket. She was. She was my security because she was always there, she always had time for me, she always made room for me, and she had a faith in God that showed. She had been through the toughest of times, starting out with her husband in a covered wagon. Raising a family of seven. Developing a fine Iowa farm. Selling the farm and moving to a college town so their children could get a college education. And in a few years, losing her husband to cancer, and in short order, losing her home and her money because of the "crash." She had nothing when she came to live with us. And when she died, all of her earthly possessions could be packed in a suitcase.

Yet, she had everything. For that final trip "home" she didn't need a thing. And she left me and all who knew her, as our inheritance, the most precious of all gifts, the gift of love. Her love and God's. When my father, who was a preacher, was once told, "You must have been a wonderful teacher, a wonderful example, to have four sons, all of them preachers." Dad explained, "It was their grandmother. She taught them to love Jesus."

A couple of Sundays ago it was Grandparents Day. Not much of a celebration. It's hard to commercialize Grandmas like mine. They are of finer stuff. The stuff that lasts, like love. And just thinking about her makes me feel "at home." And at moments, to look forward to "going home."

FARMERS OF THE WEEK—Kay and Bud Busher, shown with son Kevin, are third generation landowners.

Chamber of Commerce recognizes outstanding farmer

In an effort to recognize the many fine folks of Winters in both the city and rural areas, the Chamber of Commerce will salute a local farmer, rancher, business, or individual.

The Winters Chamber of Commerce has chosen to honor Bud Busher as farmer of the week.

Bud's grandparents, Frederick Ludwig and Augusta Tesmer Bredemeyer, came to Runnels County in 1899 and purchased land two miles west of Winters. Bud's parents, Cullen Frank and Dorothea Bredemeyer Busher, farmed some of the same land until Cullen's death in 1964. Bud and his wife, Kay, are third generation landowners today.

Bud graduated from McMurry College and taught school and coached until moving back to the family farm in 1966. He stock-farmed part time while teaching at WISD for several years. He owned a feed and fertilizer business from 1979 to 1991 and is now farming and ranching full time.

Bud and Kay lease several farms and raise registered Limousin cattle as well as commercial crossbred cattle. They enjoy square dancing and playing with the grandchildren and attend First Baptist Church. They have two children, Kelli and Kevin.

Kelli and her husband, Oscar Hubach, have six children; Justin, Joseph, Kaci, Courtney, Tiffany, and Kayla. Oscar is employed by James K. Anderson Oil Co., and Kelli has a cleaning business.

Kevin was active in FFA in high school and graduated from Texas A&M University in 1991. He is currently farming and ranching in the Winters area.

Kay Busher is the daughter of W.L. and Edna Williams England, long time area farmers, and is secretary at First United Methodist Church.

The Bushers stated, "Winters is a great place to live and raise a family. Our community could be a better place to live if all the people, rural and city, worked together to attract unique businesses. Recreational facilities at the lake could be improved to attract people from the larger cities."

Bud and Kay affirm that their parents have had the most influence on their lives.

Ladies Golf Association plays just for the fun of it

After the game, prizes were awarded and the ladies enjoyed hot dogs and cookies.

Attending were Donna Torres, Sandy Griffin, Mary Jane Blackshear, Brenda Clough, Saffron Gibbs, Jan Sims, Linda Dry, Peggy Hubbard, Sac Sprinkle, Lois West, Joan Hightower, Betty Blackerby, Hattie Belle Bishop, Mary Beth Drake, Wanda Smith, and a special guest, Tana Gibbs.

Runnels County Cotton Tour and Information Day September 30th

The 1992 Runnels County Cotton Tour will be held on Wednesday, September 30. Everyone is encouraged to meet at 9 a.m. at Kasberg Gin in Miles. The first stop is the Greg Hohensee farm 1 mile southeast of Miles. There participants will view a Morning Glory control test and a Rhizome Johnsongrass control test. The next stop is the Lange Brothers farm north of Norton to view a replicated cotton variety test. Also a hybrid cotton variety test will be viewed and Dr. Davis from Lubbock will discuss the hybrid test. The final stop is the Norton Community Center where defoliation will be discussed during a noon meal catered by The Shed. Other speakers during the tour include Dr. Billy Warrick, Dr. Tom Fuchs, Richard Minzenmayer and Mike Mauldin.

1993 Maid of Cotton selection

The search has begun for the 1993 Maid of Cotton. The National Cotton Council, sponsor of the program for 55 years, is now accepting applications from young women interested in the opportunity to serve as the U.S. cotton industry's goodwill ambassador. The selection is open to young women between the ages of 19 and 23 who never have been married and are residents of cotton-producing states. Dates for this year's selection are Dec. 27-29 at the Westin Galleria Hotel in Dallas. The selection process in Dallas will include individual judging interviews, public speaking and community activities. The final selection will be at the beautiful Morton H. Meyerson Symphony Center in downtown Dallas. Judging is based on appearance, poise, personality and communications skills. In addition to an all-cotton wardrobe provided by Jan Barboglio Incorporated of Dallas and other leading designers, the 1993 Maid of Cotton will receive a $10,000 educational award from Ciba-Geigy Corporation, which has supported the program for the past nine years with a grant to The Cotton Foundation. Applications may be submitted to: P.O. Box 12285, Memphis, TN 38182 or call (901) 274-9030. Deadline for submitting applications is October 4.

Runnels County Rumors

from the United States Department of Agriculture
Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service

Funds released for crop losses, stake claim now

If a farm receives benefits under Phase II for 1992 small grains, the farm is eligible only for the remaining 1992 crops under Phase III. Producers with crop insurance must have had losses greater than 35% and producers without crop insurance must have had losses greater than 40% to qualify. Producers with qualifying gross incomes of $2 million or more are ineligible to file claims. Producers who were prevented from planting a crop are eligible to participate in the disaster program for that crop if the county committee has previously approved the prevented planting claim, or if the evidence supports the approval of a late filed claim. Small grain producers who chose to graze their small grains and participate under the 0-92% option can request to reclassify their CU for payment acreage as failed acreage and participate in the disaster program. Program crops which failed and were not appraised by ASCS or FCIC will have a disaster year yield assigned by the county committee. All production evidence must be certified weight tickets, warehouse receipts, or ASCS measurement. The President has announced that $775 million has been released for Phase II and Phase III of the Disaster Assistance Program for crop losses from 1990, 1991, and 1992. For Phase II, $100 million has been allocated for program crops planted in 1991 for harvest in 1992. The sign-up for this disaster program for wheat, oats, and barley began on September 8, 1992, and ends on October 2, 1992. For Phase III, $665 million has been allocated for 1990, 1991, or 1992, participating or non-participating program crops and non-program crops. The sign-up for this disaster program will begin on October 13, 1992, and end February 12, 1993. Counting Phase I of the Disaster Assistance Program which was held this past spring, disaster assistance is now available on a per farm basis for any of the two years of 1990, 1991, or 1992. However, if the farm was paid under Phase I for either the 1990 or 1991 crop year, that farm will not be eligible for disaster assistance under Phase III for the same crop year. The farm operator will have the option of participating on that farm for either of the two remaining crop years, if eligible.

Runnels County Extension Agent transfers to Coleman

COLEMAN—Runnels County Extension Agent (CEA) Marty Gibbs, 26, will transfer to Coleman effective October 1. The announcement was made jointly by Coleman County Judge W.W. "Pete" Skelton and District 7 Extension Director Ken Cook. Gibbs has been a Runnels CEA since January of 1990. While in Runnels County he had the responsibility of overseeing the county's very successful agricultural 4-H programs. Last year, while under his direction, the county had the most entries in the State 4-H Roundup in College Station. The event is the highest level of competition in Texas 4-H. His 4-H members have also successfully entered several record books in state and national competition. Runnels County Ag Day, a highly successful symposium featuring sessions for adults and youth, is another area in which Gibbs has played a key role. In recent years, the event has been attended by as many as 500 people. A native of Livingston, the new agent holds a B.S. in Animal Science from Texas A&M University. He is currently completing studies for an M.S. in Animal Science at Angelo State University. While attending A&M, he officiated at many 4-H and FFA livestock judging contests throughout the state. He was also a member of the University's 1988 Reserve National Champion Livestock Judging Team. Gibbs was active in school organizations including the Texas A&M Saddle and Siroin Club, and the Alpha Zeta Honor Society. While a member of the society, he was named a distinguished student for four semesters. The new Coleman County agent is married to the former Jackie Potter of Livingston. Gibbs fills the position vacated by Kerry Shropshire, who recently transferred to Brown County.
