THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE

VOLUME THREE WINTERS, TEXAS 79567 THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1992 PRICE 50 CENTS NUMBER 41

SURROUNDED — Varsity Blizzard Jim Calcote appears to be outnumbered as he scrambles for some of the 142 rushing yardage gained against the Haskell Indians. Throwing a good block is #73 Jesus Sanchez

Blizzards freeze Haskell, 29-0; to play Tigers at Anson Friday

In an explosion of offense last Friday night the Blizzards scored first and never let Haskell score — and that is how you win a football game.

Jim Calcote scored in the first quarter on a 1-yard run to take the lead for the game. The touchdown seemed to wake up the offense and the Blizzards scored three more touchdowns and a field goal for a final tally of 29-0.

Coach Dan Slaughter said, "The Blizzards finally unleashed their offense. Jim Calcote had 17 attempts rushing for 142 yards and three touchdowns. John Belew completed 7 of 14 passes for 67 yards and one touchdown."

Calcote had some good blocking and then he ran hard and smart to emerge as a strong running threat.

Once the running became a threat, the passing game opened up and Belew recorded his success also with good up-front blocking by Russell Parramore, Josh Awalt, Wes Hart and Chane Reagan.

The defense stayed tough, holding Haskell to a total of 108 yards (47 yards rushing and 61 yards passing).

Slaughter says, "The defense played hard and hit well, making several big plays."

Three interceptions, two quarterback sacks, and three running back sacks are called game winners.

David Roman had an excellent game recording eight solo tackles, five assists, two running back sacks and two quarterback sacks.

Adrian Albarado contributed his usual interception and the Blizzards also recovered two fumbles, thanks to Doug Gray and Chane Reagan.

Jamey West kicked a 24-yard field goal and Albarado caught the 6-yard pass from Belew to round out the scoring.

The Big Blue will have to keep up the good work on both offense and defense to beat the Anson Tigers this Friday.

The Tigers have lost two heart-breakers in district play; the first one to Haskell and last week against Stamford. Anson could be 2-0 in district instead of 0-2.

Winters water is safe for drinking

The water department has become aware that an offensive odor and taste in the city water has created a problem. Although the water may smell or taste different from normal, that does not necessarily mean that it is unsafe to drink.

There are two words that often appear in literature about water treatment, potable and palatable. Potable means that water is safe for drinking and palatable means it is agreeable to the taste. Winters water is presently potable—safe for drinking—though some evidently are of the opinion it is not palatable.

Steps had been taken, several weeks before now, to prevent this from happening, but the efforts were less than successful. The department is now using a heavier dose of chemical, hoping to alleviate the difficulty. Hopefully things will be back to normal within the week.

The difference in taste and smell is caused by the lake "rolling over." When this happens, the water at the bottom, which is anaerobic, or without oxygen, trades places with that at the top. Anaerobic decomposition causes taste and odor problems.

Winters water is drawn from the surface of the lake, which means the anaerobic water is drawn into the pipeline and pumped into town.

Although the treatment plant is automated and can treat water problems, mother nature doesn't give advance notice of when these will develop. Therefore, sometimes a situation occurs, as it has in recent days, and the condition has to be corrected after the fact.

Please accept the apologies of the department for your inconvenience and know that the best is being done to see that these things don't happen again. Thanks to all who have been concerned.

Livestock Association barbecue October 11

The Winters Livestock Association will be serving barbecued brisket, chicken, and all the trimmings Sunday, October 11, in the WISD cafeteria. Serving time will be from 11:00 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from any Livestock Association member: Adults $5.00, children 12 and under $3.00.

In the Haskell-Anson game, the Haskell quarterback threw a desperation pass at the end of the game. Two Anson defenders went for the ball. It bounced off their hands into the waiting arms of a Haskell receiver for a touchdown. Anson lost.

In last week's Stamford game, Anson was ahead with 57 seconds left in the game. The Tigers had just scored and were kicking off to Stamford with what was supposed to be an inside kick to keep Stamford from running it back for a touchdown. Stamford ran it back for a touchdown. Anson lost.

Junior Cody Hestand (5'10", 150 lbs.) has been the workhorse for the Tigers and the Blizzard defense will have to stop him.

Back the Blizzards and travel to Anson Friday night for the 7:30 game.

Special recognition given at VFW anniversary celebration

40 years honored

The Winters Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9193 and the Ladies Auxiliary celebrated their 40th anniversary Saturday, October 3, 1992, in the Post home.

VFW officers from District 22 conducted a memorial service with Pastor Jim Hanson of St. John's Lutheran Church in Winters bringing the address and Post 1815 Honor Guard from San Angelo posting the colors. Tom Davis, also from Post 1815, honored the MIA-POW with "The Table" and the Ladies Auxiliary presented a special remembrance to the MIA-POW.

Commander Donnie Oats began the anniversary program by welcoming guests and members. Robert Parramore followed with a brief history of the local VFW.

Forty year-plus certificates and pins were presented to Gaston Boatright and Edward Gottschalk, charter members, and R.C. Kurtz received a 40 year pin. C.R. Pinkerton received a 30 year-plus pin. Varnell Pierce, a guest, was recognized as a charter member as was Ellis Z. Moore, who could not attend.

Mrs. M.H. Kurtz was recognized by Auxiliary President Mary Kurtz as "Gold Star Mother."

President Kurtz also presented a Certificate of Recognition to Russell Parramore for having attained the rank of Eagle Scout. This occasion marked the first time for this award to be presented by the Winters VFW. Russell is the grandson of Robert Parramore, Sr., one of the early lifetime members of the Winters VFW, and the son of Rhea and Robert Parramore, Jr., also a lifetime member.

FIRST TIME AWARD—Post Commander Donnie Oats and Auxiliary President Mary Kurtz present the Eagle Scout award to Russell Parramore. 1992 is the first year that the Winters VFW has had the honor of presenting this scouting award.

Early records of the Post have been lost, but early members recall that a group of veterans met and organized around 1947-49. The Post was named for local men who died in battle during World War II. Meetings were held in the Winters American Legion Hall or above the Chamber of Commerce.

In November, 1951, the group was reorganized and chartered. Rather than naming the Post after one deceased veteran, they called it "Winters Post." The first Post Home was bought in April of 1957, south of Winters off highway 83, and the present Home was built in August of 1976 on the same site.

St. Boniface Church fall festival set Oct. 11

The parishioners of the St. Boniface Church at Olfen are busy preparing for their annual Fall Festival to be held on Sunday, October 11, 1992. The rural farming and ranching community is located in the southern part of Runnels County, two miles west of U.S. Highway 83 at the intersection of Farm Road 1874 and County Road 234.

The first settlers to the area arrived in the early 1890's. A church/school combination building was built in 1901 to meet the religious needs of the people and to educate their children. In 1910 a larger church edifice was erected, but it burned to the ground in January, 1922. By November, a brick church had been built and was dedicated by Bishop Arthur Drossaerts, Bishop of San Antonio on November 16.

The first festival was held in the early 1920's and has been an annual affair ever since, except for a few years during World War II and the drought of the 50's. Money raised from the festivals is used for upkeep and maintenance on the church, hall and ground. Parishioners and non-parishioners alike combine their efforts to make the festival successful.

The noon meal will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and will feature homemade sausage (prepared by the men of the parish on Saturday) as well as the traditional turkey, dressing, homemade pies and cakes (prepared by the ladies of the parish). Price of the meal is $5.00 for adults and $3.00 for children.

During the day visitors may shop at the Country Store for a variety of handmade items, crafts and baked goods. Cotton and grain donated by the parishioners and many other items donated by merchants of the surrounding area will be offered at the auction beginning at 2:00 p.m.

Throughout the afternoon, Bingo, various games and activities are conducted. Lawn mower races, horseshoes and washer pitching are also conducted. A "Pigg Rib" and "Brisket" cook-off will also be held. To conclude the day's activities, a dance will begin at 7:00 p.m., with music by "Rebel Heart."

For more information on the Cook-off, call Gary at 365-5052 or Bob at 442-3194.

Inexperience shows in 34-2 loss for 9th Blizzards

The Winters 9th grade team played its first full game against the Robert Lee JV, losing 34-2.

The Blizzards had some mistakes in the first half and their blocking needs to improve, but the second half showed progress and they moved the ball better.

The two points scored by the Blizzards came when Rick Yancy intercepted a pass on the goal line and ran it back one-hundred yards.

Coach White was pleased with the performance of the special teams, including Ramie Reyes as punter and Chad Kraatz who made several good catches. He also stated that the team as a whole showed improvement in the second half and were gaining some valuable experience.

"Skulls" go to Joe Reyna, Richard Brown, Michael Luna (2), Chad Russell, Isaac Moreno, Domingo Lara, and Kevin Briley.

JV hurt by penalties and turnovers at Haskell

The Blizzard JV lost to Haskell Thursday night, which was a tough loss, as turnovers and penalties turned the tide.

The tying touchdown was scored by Winters, with seconds left in the game, with a 25 yard pass from quarterback John Biddix to Michael Mostad. There was, however, a yellow flag and Winters was called for illegal procedure and this nullified the play.

That seemed to be the way the night went for the JV. Three fumbles lost, two interceptions, and five penalties really hurt the offense.

The defense seemed flat in the first quarter, but played well the last three. They were stingy, allowing only 77 yards rushing and 40 yards passing. The two passes, however, were for touchdowns.

Richard Cortez received the "Head Hunter" award for this game. John Biddix received the offensive award.

Coach White thought the greatest problem was, "The boys went in too flat and over confident. I expect them to be ready for Anson."

He also stated his appreciation to all the fans who made the long trip to Haskell.

Skulls were given to Robert Silva, Jason Carrillo, Cody Whitteburg, Lance Donica, Richard Cortez, and Kevin Conner.

Captains for this game were J.W. Angel, Kevin Conner, Jason Mitchell, and Kelly Thompson.

Breezes-33, Haskell-0 gives 7th grade second shutout

The Winters 7th Breezes, after a slow 8-0 half, came back with an offensive show the second half. A three yard touchdown pass from Bear Nitsch to Dennis Conner was the lone score in the first half. Eric Bernal ran the extra point.

After the second half kickoff, the Breezes picked up the pace. Tony Torres capped a 60 yard drive with a six yard touchdown run. On the ensuing kickoff, Marshall Scates recovered an onside kick. The Breezes then proceeded for 53 yards, Tony Torres again doing the touchdown honors from 21 yards out.

The Breezes scored next following an interception by Glenn Tischler, this time on a 34 yard run by Eric Bernal. The second offensive line then went to work, springing Tony Torres for an 85 yard touchdown run. Marshall Scates kicked the extra point, the Breezes' first PAT kick for the year, to make the final score 33-0 in favor of the Breezes.

The Breeze defense, led by fumble recoveries by Dennis Conner and Bear Nitsch, recorded their second shutout of the season. Adam Cruz caught three passes during the game, one of them a halfback pass from Arnold Silva which gained 47 yards. Abraham Vasquez caught two passes for 27 yards.

Offensively, Stephen Cross, Shane Lewallen, James Andrae, Kyle Loudermilk, Chris McCaslin, Adam Cruz, and Arnold Silva played well.

Pastor Jim Hanson

She died last Friday night at 11:30 pm. She would have been 96 years old this Christmas. She was a gift, the best Christmas gift I ever had. For all of my life, she was always there for me. My mother.

She was really quite a woman. When she moved to Fergus Falls, Minnesota, with her parents when she was but 13 years old, she learned to drive. One of the few cars in Fergus Falls in the early 1900's. It seems her father bought the car, drove it around, and was putting it in his garage when he panicked. Instead of putting his foot on the brake, he pulled hard on the wheel and shouted, "Whoa! Whoa!" Too many years of driving a team of horses, and too few minutes of driving a machine, created an accident. He drove right through the end of the garage, got out of the car and went to the house. That's the day his daughter, Marie learned to drive. He gave her the keys and she became his personal driver.

When she married her college sweetheart in 1921, they moved to Middle River, Minnesota, where he served as pastor to one church in town and six out in the country. It was a home mission church, which meant it was "new territory", "lots of work", and little money. The congregation was hardly organized and they had no place for Mom and Dad to live. Dad located an abandoned bank, and they rented it. They hauled their water, which wasn't too bad. But there was no outhouse, so they used the public one down the block near the alley. Dad would walk her to the place at night, to keep her company and protect her. Not very romantic. Not very comfortable. She recounted the story many times with a twinkle in her eye and smiled.

She raised four boys. I was the third in line. All of us were active in athletics, in singing, and in scholarship. Mom had played basketball in high school and college. She played the piano. And she was a school teacher until she got married. Then she went full time, teaching her own brood how to play, how to sing, and how to study. And, how to love. And care for others. When my brother Rolf was born, her mother came to stay with us and help her raise the first two boys. Grandma stayed. She really had no place to go. Today they call this an "extended family." And I'm sure that mother felt extended and pulled as she did all the things that pastors' wives did in those days, directing the choir, doing Bible studies, taking part in all the church activities, as well as raising four active sons and her aging "shut in" mother, who stayed with us until she died.

She never had much materially. But she had enough. And she had a wealth of patience and an abundance of hospitality. And just plain endurance. She "hung in there" as long as she lived. And she lived long and full. Her favorite Bible passage was, "Whatever state I am in, there with to be content." And that's what she was. And that's what she is. Rest in peace, mother. And thanks for everything.

WTU offers new service

West Texas Utilities Co. now has available a new economic development service designed to offer significant incentives to new or expanding businesses.

The service is a rate that offers a discount on electricity to qualifying businesses such as manufacturing and industrial facilities. To qualify, a new business would have to locate in WTU's service territory and an existing business would have to, among other things, add more employees and equipment and be served by WTU.

The discount for a new or expanding business will gradually be phased out over a four year period, allowing time for the business to establish itself.

Any community industrial development program within the WTU service territory would be allowed to include the new Economic Development service rate in their portfolio to attract new business and encourage growth in existing businesses.

For more information, contact your local WTU office.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to relay a story to your readers that I don't think they know about.

A few years ago in this country a baby was born. It was born in perfect condition, it cried and everything. Shortly after it was delivered the doctor ordered the baby killed. You see, the doctor had promised the mother that the baby would be destroyed beforehand. Many people don't know that you are guaranteed a dead baby when you get an abortion. Well, in this case, the nurse asked how she should dispose of it and was told to put it in the trash and let the baby die. She did. Later, though, she went back, got the baby, took it home, and today the child is five years old.

Now there are all kinds of problems. It is time for the child to start school. It has no birth certificate, social security number, or any of the things that we require in this country to make you human. The nurse may lose her license because she acted unethically. There are even some that say the child must still be disposed of. After all, the child is no more alive today than the day it was born!

Another famous case in California: a baby was aborted, but it survived. When the doctor left the hospital the nurse placed the baby in the nursery. When the doctor returned, he was furious, and after a big fight with the other doctors and the nurses, he went in and strangled the baby. Charges were filed, but the court had no leg to stand on. He was acquitted.

There is a bill before Congress that Clinton says he will sign. It will legalize abortion with no restrictions up to eight months and twenty nine days. Actually, this is being done every day right now, but this will make it the law of the land. Hundreds of crying babies are being drowned in pans of alcohol every day.

Clinton thinks that this is OK. He thinks that if he promises you money and better times that you will overlook this crime. Don't be taken in. If you vote for him you will be guilty of murder just as much as if you were driving the get-away car at a bank where someone got shot. Don't sell out for few pieces of silver. Remember what became of JUDAS.

Sincerely,
Dick McNeill

Poe's Corner by Charlise Poe

Last week's story failed to mention that Beatrice (Mitchell) Schroeder taught the 3rd, 4th, and 5th grades in the Valley Creek School.

Beatrice said all the equipment that the school had was a record player, records, and a few books. For sports, there was a volleyball, basketball, and a baseball and bat. This was in 1932 during the height of the depression.

The children were good students and well behaved, Mrs. Schroeder recalled. They always went to County Meet and won their share of honors. They entered in spelling, story telling, declamation, ready writing, and essays. There was also junior and senior debating for both boys and girls.

One year a health program for rural schools was held at Abilene High School. Valley Creek put on a play with the skinny children playing the sick family. They had to take castor oil because they didn't observe the health rules. The plump children were the well children who did everything right.

For the Texas centennial the boys and girls staged a scene of Indians and Pioneers around a campfire. One of the boys played a guitar to accompany the group singing Texas songs.

Community gatherings were held at the schoolhouse. There was always a Halloween carnival. The ladies made quilts and sold chances on them. Box suppers were a good source of making money and were often held. Prizes were given for the prettiest girl and the ugliest man. Pauline Huckaby remembers how angry she was when her dad, a school trustee, received the prize for ugliest man, but her mother laughed.

Perhaps part of this money was used to build a new bridge across Valley Creek. "It had only a narrow bridge and the new one looked like Golden Gate to us," remarked one of the teachers. The elm, oak, and black walnut trees made a beautiful setting. One sunny winter day, Troy Foster began getting sick at school. His teacher told him to sit down until class was over and she would take him home. But he grew tired of waiting and started walking. The children going home after school found him asleep on the creek bank. Pauline Walker carried him home on her back. "I don't know how I did it," she remarked.

Troy was very ill and Dr. Barron was called. He pronounced it pneumonia and Troy was a long time recovering. His older brother, Kenneth, was energetic and mischievous. The teachers often found it necessary to correct him. Kenneth was later killed in the war.

The teachers were housed in a relatively new four room teacherage, painted white, just east of the schoolhouse, but said they couldn't have made it through the winter without the little roadster named "Susie." The principal and his wife had two rooms and the three single teachers had the other two. They had to provide their own furniture. Water was hauled from the creek to heat on a coal stove for bathing and laundry. A three-burner oil stove was used for cooking. Supplies were bought at Dunn's grocery in Wingate and church was attended at Shep.

With the help of the trusty roadster, the teachers fared well until cold weather set in. Probably built by volunteer labor, cracks had been left around the doors and windows, which had to be stuffed with cotton to keep them from freezing.

The mice were also looking for warmth and came indoors. The battle was on! Large cans were used for staple groceries. Cooked food was cared for in the stove and covered shelves. Mice getting into clothing was the worst problem, but a trunk helped out.

Mrs. Mitchell said she couldn't afford it, but she bought a chiffarobe, which they all used, with drawers on one side and a place for hanging dresses on the other. She prizes this piece of furniture which is now in her bedroom.

Once, the weather was so cold that the ice was solid and securing drinking water was difficult. Patsy Durett decided she had to wash her face and managed to heat enough water for that purpose. The others had to laugh, as the coal dust mixed with the trickles of water on her cheeks.

Miss Durett did not return the following year to teach at Valley Creek.

Panel will discuss sheep and goat referendum

On October 9 there will be a panel discussion, brought by Dr. Frank Craddock, Sheep and Goat Specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service; Allen Turner, retired County Extension Agent and 2nd vice-president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association; and Senator Bill Sims. The discussion will concern the upcoming vote on a predator control referendum.

The discussion will take place in Winters on October 9, 7:00 a.m. at the Ed Bredemeyer farm located one mile west of Winters on Loop 438 (West Dale Street).

If the referendum, sponsored by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, passes, it will provide a means for funds to be generated solely for predator control.

The referendum would also allow each producer to vote for three directors to represent their district on the Commodity Producers Board. Anyone, including 4-H and FFA members, who produces sheep or goats will be eligible to vote.

The voting will take place in Ballinger on October 29 at the County Extension Office.

Do the crime, do the time

Troy Fraser, Republican candidate for State Senate District 25, has revealed his plan to create drug free zones around Texas' schools.

His bill would double the normal prison sentence of felony convictions for selling drugs within "drug free zones," prohibit probated sentences, carry a minimum sentence of no less than five years in prison, and force prisoners to serve their entire sentence.

"We need to send a strong message to drug dealers that if they sell drugs around our schools they are going to spend time in jail," Fraser said. "This bill will make sure if they do the crime, they do the time."

Fraser, who lives with his family in Llano County, was born in Abilene and attended Angelo State University.
