TWO-A-DAY SNAPS—The long awaited two-a-days began in earnest this past week at the Winters High School practice field. Some 68 students turned out for the workouts. Head Coach, Robin Byrd, reported that training has been starting at 7:30 a.m. and continues until around 12:30 p.m. The first scrimmage will be in Menard on August 20.

Commissioners granted cable-computer request; juvenile detention service

Runnels County Commissioners met on Monday, August 2, and granted cable and computer request. They agreed to enter an agreement with a Sweetwater group for juvenile detention services.

Commissioners granted GTE their cable request. The okay was given for GTE officials to place a cable along the ditch line of County Road 254 and 255.

They also agreed to acquire the services of Sweetwater's Recore Juvenile Detention Center. This gives Runnels County three locations in which they can house juveniles when needed.

Runnels County currently uses the juvenile detention centers in Tom Green and Taylor Counties, all of which are reportedly feeling overcrowding. This is forcing other communities to look at other locations.

"We currently use Tom Green County, but have an agreement with Taylor as a second choice. However, we should consider another location just in case," said Michael B. Murchison, Runnels County Judge.

Officials agreed that a third location to house juveniles when needed would be helpful and they agreed to contact Recore for their services.

The County will only pay a fee when there is a juvenile from Runnels at the location.

Dan Stoker, a deputy with the Runnels County Sheriff's Department, was also on hand to request the purchase of a computer system for the sheriff's department.

The new system being requested will be used to handle the growing number of cases being handled by the department. "Because of an increasing case load during the past two years, we are being forced to look at other ways in keeping and obtaining information when needed," said Stoker.

The Sheriff's Department currently files information on 3x5 place cards and in order to check for information on a prisoner or warrant, officials must look through numerous files to obtain this information.

With the use of the computer the department will have access to a large program that can store more information and distribute at a quicker rate according to Stoker.

Stoker quoted several prices which he had obtained and after a brief discussion Commissioners gave the green light for the purchase of the system.

The system to be purchased will cost the county $8,626 and will be purchased locally from Micro-Print X Inc. The funds for the system will be pulled from the miscellaneous office supply fund in general accounting.

Officials were also scheduled to hear a budget amendment request.

Several bills were paid, including a $2,472.31 bill for the purchase of an auxiliary motor for the Ballinger Volunteer Fire Department.

Request to close alley to be studied further

The Winters City Council voted to table the request of William Corley to close the alleyway from Parsonage to Truitt streets and between Church and Melwood streets in the regular City Council meeting held Monday, August 9.

Mayor Gerhart asked Mr. Corley to state his views regarding this request.

Corley said he had purchased his home at 204 Parsonage within the past three months and discovered the driveway to his garage is and has been used in the past as an alley and a means for Dry Manufacturing personnel to get to and from Dry's parking lot, which has an entry from Melwood Street.

Corley commented that his attorney has informed him that he (Corley) would be held legally liable should any accident occur to children or property within the alleyway/driveway.

"This," Corley stated, "is my entire reason for seeking this relief from the council."

"My children, as well as other neighborhood children, play in this zone and I am worried for their safety, especially since some of these cars coming and going are driving rather fast," Corley said.

The mayor then recognized Jerry Hood of Dry Manufacturing to give his view on this subject.

Mr. Hood mentioned that the alley in question was used by Dry Manufacturing personnel for 25 years as an entry and exit to their parking lot. He added that if this driveway is closed, it will create a lot of hardship for Dry's employees.

On Friday, August 13 at 7:30 p.m. there will be an ice cream supper to "Meet the Blizzards." There will also be an intra-squad scrimmage.

At this point, Mr. Corley stated he, "does not see any necessity to create hardship, it is only a habit of Dry's employees."

After further discussion it was decided to table this item for the next Council agenda.

The Council heard from Quincy Traylor who discussed his request to lease land around Elm Creek Reservoir and specifically, land below the dam and bounded by highway 53.

City Attorney Kenneth Slimp mentioned that before any decision to lease this land is made, the deeds should be checked to make sure there is not a deed restriction.

The Council voted to have the deeds checked and if it is allowable to lease this area, to then place same up for bids.

The item on the agenda that

WTU parent company to participate in test program

West Texas Utilities Company has announced that the Renewable Energy project it is hosting will also participate in a nationwide program. The local utility's parent, Central and South West Corporation, is one of three electric utilities selected by the U. S. Department of Energy and the Electric Power Research Institute to participate in a nationwide wind-power testing program.

During the next five years, the $40 million program will evaluate advanced wind-turbine technology that is expected to make wind power competitive with electricity generated from fossil fuels.

Central and South West will receive a $2 million grant toward construction of a wind farm near Fort Davis in the WTU service area. EPRI will provide an addi-

Mazeland-Wilmeth Reunion

A record turnout of 140 people attended the Mazeland-Wilmeth reunion Saturday and Sunday, August 7 and 8, at the Winters Community Center.

Registration began Saturday morning. Visitors arrived from California, Arizona, New Mexico and all parts of Texas. Bill (Sonny) Shackelford of Selma, California came a distance of 1800 miles to receive recognition for traveling the greatest distance.

Shackelford is pastor of First Southern Baptist Church in Selma. He has been a preacher since 1962, in California since 1968 and at his present church since 1981. He is the grandson of pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Harter. Their daughter and his mother, Veldon Shackelford, now resides in a California nursing home. Bill and his wife have three daughters and seven grandchildren.

Two sisters shared honors for being the oldest persons present. Both Vertie Hood, age 95, and Ethel Harkins, 93, received plaques. Their sister Irene McNeil taught at Mazeland 63 years ago.

The youngest person present was Amber Fairbetter, eight years of age.

Ex-teachers recognized included 82 year-old Agnes Harris Madison of Belton who was also the oldest student present. She graduated with the class of 1927. Mary Lou Ivey Brown of Weatherford, ex-teacher, was also present.

Dorothy Ball Sanders was announced as the daughter of a teacher and given a plaque in memory of her mother, Janie Rampy Ball, who died last year.

In return Dorothy presented matching denim vests to president Clara and Harley Brooks.

The youngest ex-student present was Eva Leta Wright Smith, age 52.

Clara Brooks, president, presided for the business meeting. New officers elected were Hal, Jr. (Butch) Bowen, president; Donnel Moreland, vice-president; Betty Thomason, secretary; and Marva Jean Underwood, treasurer.

The next homecoming will be in 1995.

Pearl Moreland gave a treasurer's report of $371.82, due in part to Jackie Bruce as auctioneer for the successful white elephant sale.

A pancake breakfast was served to guests Sunday morning by Clara and Harley Brooks.

The following inscription appears on the Texas Historical Marker in Wilmeth at the Baptist church:

"Mazeland (2 1/2 miles SW) was founded in 1903 when a post office and store opened on A.B. Hutchinson's ranch. Community was probably named for the corn of 'maize' which grows in the area. A one-room school, built 1 mile W (1904), later served both places.

By 1906 the settlement had enlarged, so this section was named in honor of Joe Wilmeth, a popular Ballinger banker.

Before Wilmeth Post Office was established (1907) citizens would take turns bringing mail from Mazeland in horse-drawn wagons. In 1909, however, both post offices were discontinued. (1968)"

Family and Medical Leave Act took effect August 5

The Family and Medical Leave Act of 1992 took effect on August 5, 1993, for most eligible employees. FMLA will provide more than 45 million U.S. workers greater flexibility in balancing work and family responsibilities when they must attend to family or serious medical needs.

Since publishing regulations implementing FMLA in the Federal Register on June 4, the department has been conducting an extensive public education outreach campaign to make employers and employees aware of the new law and to explain their rights and responsibilities when it takes effect.

FMLA covers all public sector employers and private sector employers of 50 or more employees. The new law grants eligible employees up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave per year -- with health insurance coverage maintained during the leave -- for the birth or adoption of a child or for the serious illness of the employee or an immediate family member. Accrued paid leave may be substituted for unpaid family and medical leave in certain circumstances. Upon return from FMLA leave, an employee must be reinstated to his or her original job or an equivalent job with equal pay, benefits and terms and conditions of employment.

To be eligible for FMLA leave, an employee must have worked for a covered employer for at least a total of 12 months, and must work at a location where at least 50 employees are employed within 75 miles. Advance notice by employees of the need for FMLA leave is required when it is foreseeable; the employer may require medical certification to support leave requests for serious health conditions.

FMLA does not supersede any state or local law which provides greater family or medical leave protection. It also does not affect any other federal or state law which prohibits discrimination.

FMLA's enforcement procedures parallel those of the federal Fair Labor Standards Act. The act is enforced by the department's Employment Standards Administration Wage and Hour Division.

Wage and Hour Administrator Maria Echaveste said, "We used an unprecedented approach to develop user-friendly FMLA regulations and informational materials, based on extensive communication with all interested parties. We believe this will make implementation of the new law easier for everyone. We will continue to work with all interested parties to assure that FMLA's benefits are realized as soon, and with as little difficulty, as possible.

All covered employers must post a notice informing their employees of their rights under FMLA.

This information will be made available to sensory impaired individuals upon request. Voice phone: (202) 219-6060. TDD message referral phone: 1-800-326-2577.

It was sort of crazy for us to consider it. And even crazier to do it. But we did it. Our family, Ramona, me, our daughter, four sons, their spouses, and our five grand kids did a concert, a "home coming concert" in Trinity Lutheran Church, Crookston, Minnesota, at 7 p.m. Sunday, July 18.

Our sons make up a quartet. Really, they are pretty good. They have sung at our family weddings, and my mother's funeral. They sing songs like "Abide With Me", "Just A Closer Walk With Thee", "Love Divine", "Just As I Am", "Sun of My Soul". Good old hymns. The kind that don't wear out. And they enjoy it. So we had the core of a good concert. They would sing about 8 or 9 good hymns and close with a barber shop version of "It's A Me, O Lord, Standin' In The Need Of Prayer."

The place was right. Crookston, Minnesota, Trinity Lutheran Church. A big congregation, about 2,100 members in a town of 9,000. We had served there 17 years. All of our kids graduated from high school there. All grew up there. It really was their home town and their home church.

Many folks in that church and community helped raise our 5 kids. They were a handful. Each one strong willed, each one gifted and intelligent, each one good looking. I am not bragging, just grateful. But they did need some supervision and oversight and direction, especially when dad and mom were not around. And they got it from the good folks in that place and parish.

And just this past year, the man that had directed the high school choir and the church choir for all of us had died. So it seemed fitting and only right that we should dedicate the concert to him and take offering for the church choir.

In addition to the sons, Katie, our daughter has a fine voice. And when we were there at Crookston, Christmas was such a special time. We had three services on Christmas Eve and one on Christmas Day, so we never opened our Christmas presents until the 26th. We'd spend our free moments caroling, as a family at the nursing home, the hospital for shut ins, and for friends. I had a string of sleigh bells and we'd light up our lanterns and go. Such fun. So, on that July evening, we had to include some carols and Katie would do a solo. Besides, now our family has grown, and all of the new in-laws sing too. So we made up a family chain.

But, that's not all. Nate and Ruth, our oldest and his wife do "Precious Memories" so well, with Nate on the guitar. And John and Julie, our second boy and his wife, met at a Bible Camp, and with John at the guitar, they'd have to lead in some camp songs. And for closers, some sing alongs like "Pass It On."

It went so well! The church was filled, even if the lightning and thunder were doing a light show outside. The church recorded everything, both on VCR and audio, so we all have tapes. I was M.C. and forgot to turn off my mike, so on some songs I came through too strong. But they loved it. And we loved doing it. Songs and hymns and spirited songs. In His house. With His people and our family. Afterwards coffee, refreshments, hugs, and hellos. And finally good byes. I'll never forget it. And it's all on tape. I play some of it every day. Mistakes and all, it is for us, the sweetest sound this side of heaven.

referred to the request for a street crossing guard at the crosswalk on North Main drew much discussion.

There were numerous thoughts and suggestions explored. One was for the W.I.S.D. to start a schooling for senior citizens to be trained for crosswalk guard work.

The Council suggested that the concerned citizens for a crosswalk guard also request the W.I.S.D. to place them on their next agenda and that the Council and the schools could work together on a solution.

In other action the Council approved Tim Glendening to administer the emergency grant and awarded a contract to David Todd for engineering services for the emergency grant.

Fire Chief Johnny Merrill reported that a $25,000 grant application for the fire department had been changed to a loan.

The Chief stated that the loan would be repaid by the fire department over the next 20 years at .02% interest.

1993 Property Tax Rates in NORTH RUNNELS HOSPITAL

This notice concerns 1993 property tax rates for North Runnels Hosp. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$274,661.36
Last year's debt taxes	0-
Last year's total taxes	274,661.36
Last year's tax base	108,390,720
Last year's total tax rate	.2534/$100

This Year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$273,244.72
÷ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	109,707,490
= This year's effective tax rate	2.491/$100
x 1.03 + maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	2.566/$100

This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property and adjusting for transferred function)	$273,244.72
÷ This year's adjusted tax base	109,707,490
= This year's effective operating rate	2.491/$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	2.690/$100
+ This year's debt rate	-.5100
= This year's rollback rate	2.690/$100

Schedule A

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance

Governor signs bill to create the Alternative Fuels Council

Governor Richards has signed legislation that will create the Alternative Fuels Council and the Alternative Fuels Conversion Fund. The council will operate as a state agency and will have the authority to finance activities supporting and encouraging the use of alternative fuels.

"The reasons to promote alternative fuels are self-evident: it is good for the state's economy and for the people of Texas."

"I am confident that the recipients of the loans and grants will have the foresight to create better and more efficient fuel sources not only for the state but for the whole nation. With the new technologies discovered, Texas will be a leader in the alternative fuels market," added Governor Richards.

Governor Richards also congratulated the bipartisan effort from both chambers and its sponsors on the success of this legislation.

The author of S.B. 737 is Sen. Bivins (R-Amarillo) and the House co-sponsors are Rep. Earley (D-Portland) and Rep. Holzhauser (R-Inez). All sponsors of S.B. 737 were delighted that Governor Richards signed such an important piece of legislation.

The council will be composed of the commissioner of the General Land Office, all three Railroad Commissioners, the chairman of the General Services Commission and the chairman of the Texas Air Control Board. The council will have the authority to distribute funds to eligible borrowers for projects that promote the use of conversion of vehicles to alternative fuels. According to provisions in S.B. 737, governmental entities will also be allowed to apply for funds at no interest.

The monies appropriated to the Alternative Fuels Conversion Fund will consist of oil overcharge funds appropriated by the legislature, gifts, grants, loan repayments, or other money designated by the legislature or the executive branch.

The legislation also authorizes up to $50 million in revenue bond financing for public entities or public-private joint ventures that convert vehicles, purchase "dedicated" converted vehicles or build alternative fuels refueling stations.

Bank account titles affect SSI eligibility

"Having your name on someone's bank account could keep you from getting Supplemental Security Income (SSI)," says Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo. "If you are listed as a co-owner of a bank account, Upp says, we must count the money as yours even if your name is there merely as a convenience to the account holder."

Upp explained that people cannot get SSI if they have assets (including bank accounts) worth more than $2,000 ($3,000 for a couple).

Here's an example: Janice Jones applies for SSI. Her daughter, Stephanie, has $3,000 in a savings account. Stephanie lists Janice as a joint owner of the account—primarily so that Janice will have access to the money in case something happens to Stephanie. Although Janice doesn't consider the account hers, Social Security does.

Janice could be found ineligible for SSI because she is over the $2,000 resource limit. If none or only some of the funds in the account belong to Janice, she can retitle the account to restrict her access to the funds or reflect a situation where Janice is acting solely on behalf of Stephanie. Janice could also remove her name from the account or move any funds belonging to her to another account.

Proper titling is also important when community, civic, or social groups collect money for a special reason, such as to assist an SSI recipient pay medical expenses. "For the money to satisfy its intended purpose," Upp says, "the donors must place restrictions on the use of the money and title the bank account in which the money is placed to show these restrictions. As long as the account title shows the money cannot be used for food, clothing, and shelter, the account is not considered a resource", Upp said.

If you would like more information on helping to set up bank accounts involving SSI recipients, contact your nearest Social Security office or call Social Security's toll-free number 1-800-772-1213 business days between 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

The first state university in America was chartered in Georgia in 1835.

Former Winters resident teaches in Russian city

A month-long Russian evangelistic outreach campaign was completed recently in Sumy, Russia with Grady Bryan, Winters High graduate of 1986, participating in this effort.

Grady, son of Sealy and Nancy Bryan, will be teaching at the Polytechnical Institute in Sumy.

Sumy is a city of over 300,000 population, and was the site for the summer campaign. This Russian city still operates on the old Soviet/Communism system. For over 75 years its residents have not had the opportunity and privilege of hearing the gospel.

Tim Johnson of San Angelo and another participant in this evangelistic group responded to a request to go into Sumy and visit three institutions of higher learning.

The group was given invitations by all three universities to supply teachers.

The universities requested two persons to teach Bible, American culture, English, history and any other subject.

ing, food and a coupon/salary. Bryan's salary represents the highest salary at the university---it is $20.00 per month.

Bryan will remain in the Ukraine for the next two years working, teaching and preaching the gospel of Christ.

"We averaged 250 to 300 people in attendance each night at the evangelistic meetings. There were 32 baptisms and many of those attending the services professed an exciting desire and acceptance to the teachings of the gospel," related Bryan.

Others in this first campaign were Van and Sandy Pendergrass of San Angelo, Ray and Myma White of Weatherford, Wayne and Charlotte Lemley of Rosebud, Oregon and Max Pratt of Ballinger.

Bryan stated, "The Pleasant Street Church of Christ, 1020 South Pleasant Street, Springdale, Arkansas, 72764, is accepting 'love offerings' for me and some people may wish to help in this effort."

Newly elected 4-H officers plan 1993-94 calendar events

The officers met July 26 at the home of Gary and Dinell Jacob to plan the 1993-94 calendar events.

After tentative plans were discussed, the group enjoyed a hamburger supper and a friendly game of volleyball.

The group traveled to Ballinger July 29 for a Leadership Lab held at the City Park. Barbara Heathcott provided transportation.

The afternoon was spent working on officer training and yearly planning of programs and activities for each club in the county.

After 2 1/2 hours of hard work, all enjoyed swimming and a hamburger supper.

Those attending from Winters were: Kelly Walker, Angela Jacob, Shelley Meyer, Desiree Mathis, Chanda Hoppe, and Amy Heathcott.

Later that evening, a Council meeting was held to discuss upcoming business this fall and to elect new Council officers. Winters was represented by Council Delegates, James Andrae and Brent Jacob and Club President, Amy Heathcott.

The Winters 4-H Club is off to a great start. Watch the newspaper for reminders of upcoming events. Don't forget the Back to School Bash August 13. Hope to see you there.

1993-94 Hunting, Fishing license now available

If you don't know where you are going, you will probably end up somewhere else.

Lawrence J. Peter

The 1993-94 Texas hunting and fishing licenses and state stamps are currently available at license vendors across the state.

There are no price changes in this year's licenses. Fishing licenses cost $13, as do hunting licenses. Combination hunting and fishing licenses cost $25.

Current licenses expire August 31, 1993. In the past, the new licenses did not become effective until September 1. This year, a 1993-94 fishing license is effective the day it is purchased and remains valid through August 31, 1994.

This means that an unlicensed fisherman can buy a 1993-94 license this week and go fishing the same day. In previous years, the unlicensed August angler would have been required to buy a current-year license for the remainder of August and a new license on September 1.

Fishermen younger than 17 or older than 65 are exempt from license and stamp requirements. Hunters younger than 17 or older than 65 must purchase a $6 special resident hunting license and applicable stamps.

The applicable stamps include a $5 turkey stamp and a $7 archery stamp if a hunter plans to use a bow during the October archery season. A $7 Texas waterfowl stamp is required in addition to the $15 Federal Waterfowl Stamp.

Texas hunters will need their new licenses when the dove season opens in the North and Central Zone on September 1. The north zone is the area north of Interstate 20 and includes Jones and surrounding counties. The north zone season will end November 9.

The central offers a split season from September 1 to October 31 and December 26 to January 3.

Jay Roberson, Texas Parks and Wildlife program leader for webless migratory game birds, expects another good mourning dove season in the state.

"Our nesting surveys indicates a 9 percent increase in nesting mourning dove from last year," Roberson said. "Most of the state experienced a wet spring, and we're now in a dry summer pattern. Those are good conditions for dove nesting. Texas should have a good dove season."

Team Penning held Saturday

Team Penning was sponsored by the Runnels County Riding Club on Saturday, August 7, in the Ballinger arena.

Part of the proceeds will go to help the Runnels County 4-H Horse judging team attend Congress in Columbus, Ohio.

Texas voters to decide on agricultural economic development financing

Action by the Texas Legislature this general session will allow voters across the state on November 2 to decide on increasing an agricultural finance program's funding authority from $25 million to $100 million, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said. "Of all action taken by the Legislature regarding agriculture, this measure has the most potential for creating jobs and strengthening local economies throughout the state as we propel Texas agriculture into the 20th century," Perry said.

If approved by voters, constitutional Proposition 16 would allow the Texas Agriculture Finance Authority, or TAFE, to raise additional funds by issuing commercial paper notes backed by the state's bonding authority.

TAFE was established by the Texas Legislature in 1987 to help ag processing and ag diversification companies start up or expand operations.

With $25 million in funding approved by voters in 1989, TAFE has assisted 34 businesses across the state—including nurseries, fiber-related industries and food processors. These companies project to create 4,700 jobs directly or indirectly and to add $463 million to the gross state product. "With the initial $25 million in funding, this finance program has given taxpayers more than their money's worth with 1,800 percent return on their investment," Perry said. "It pays off by creating or retaining jobs and adding dollars to the gross state product."

TAFE works through public-private partnerships that involve local banks or other private lending institutions cooperating with the finance authority to provide loans to ag processing or ag diversification businesses.

To qualify for TAFE assistance, businesses must use their equipment and other assets as collateral. As a loan is repaid, the money goes back into the TAFE fund and is used by the finance authority to help other ag business projects. The program is funded by TAFE, which uses the state's authority to issue commercial paper notes that partially fund and guarantee a portion of the loans made to businesses.
