Red Ribbon Week says "No", drug survey says "Yes"

National Drug and Alcohol Prevention Week was held October 25-29, in conjunction with National Red Ribbon Week. Under the leadership of the student council many students at Winters Junior High and High School participated in several activities promoting drug and alcohol awareness.

Yet, while a large number of students pledged their support of drug and alcohol prevention, some sobering statistics reveal that many local students are actively involved in drugs and alcohol.

In the Spring of 1993, the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, in conjunction with the Public Policy Research Institute at Texas A&M University, administered a survey to students in grades 7 through 12 in the Winters Independent School District.

A total of 321 students completed the questionnaire, which asked about students' experiences with alcohol and drugs. Due to misinformation, 18 surveys were excluded from the analysis, making the final number of surveys included in the analysis to be 303.

Students' responses to the questionnaire indicate that:

*Seventy percent of WISD students reported lifetime alcohol use and 58 percent reported lifetime tobacco use.

*Twenty-four percent of WISD students reported using tobacco and 36 percent reported using alcohol in the past month.

*Thirty-three percent of Winters students said that most or all of their close friends drink alcohol, 7 percent reported attending at least one class during the school year while "drunk," and 13 percent said they had driven a car at

Blizzards freeze Rotan Keep playoff hopes alive

A burning desire to win overpowered frigid temperatures as Winters soundly defeated the Rotan Yellowhammers last Friday night, 32-6. The victory keeps the Blizzards in the playoff hunt.

With Haskell upsetting Hamlin last week, Hamlin and Jim Ned are tied for the lead in district 7-2A with records of 5-1. Winters is next with a record of 4-1-1.

The Blizzards can earn their way into the playoffs with a victory over Jim Ned this week. The Jim Ned Indians are coming off of a come-from-behind win over Anson this past Friday night.

With eleven seconds left in the game, the Indians' Jade Lamb threw a 63 yard scoring pass to Larry Trevino to pull out the 20-14 win.

Jim Ned's record is 7-2 for the year. Hamlin plays Anson this Friday.

The Blizzards should be ready for the Indians this week, following the big win over Rotan. The offense racked up 383 yards while the defense held their opponents to only 93 yards.

"Under the bad weather condition, I think we played well," Head Coach Robin Byrd said. "In the first half we didn't do too much offensively, but in the third quarter we went to work and took care of business."

The Blizzards started the scoring with a 19 yard run by quarterback John Belew in the first quarter of play. Belew kept the ball around left end on the option play to score.

Coach Byrd stated, "I was very pleased with our offensive line. Anytime a back can get over a 100 yards rushing, the offensive line is doing a good job." Running back Brock Guevara had 161 yards on 12 carries. Guevara received Honorable Mention from the Abilene Reporter-News in their selection of high school football players of the week.

In the second half, Andy

Esquivel started the scoring by catching a 50 yard touchdown pass from John Belew.

Guevara then ran 24 yards for a touchdown and the Blizzards were on their way. Robert Silva then scored on a 2 yard run to cap the third quarter scoring.

Zane Guy caught a 13 yard pass from Belew to add the final score for Winters.

Byrd said, "Once again preparation by Coach Murphy, Coach Lipsey and Coach Butts paid off. This week's ball game should be a good one."

Come back the Blizzards as they take on the Jim Ned Indians in Tuscola at their new football field. Game time is 7:30.

Blizzard fans are reminded to gather in front of Winters High School at 6:15 Friday to form a "spirit caravan" to Tuscola. Anyone wanting their car decorated should arrive at 6:00.

The Annual Z.I. Hale Museum Quilt Show will be held this Friday and Saturday, November 5 and 6 at the Rock Hotel from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Annual Quilt Show has established a very good following from those who know and appreciate the art, skill and time that goes into making quilts.

Our mothers, grandmothers and great-grandmothers made quilts out of necessity from the material available. There are, however, numerous quilts from years past that were definitely made for the beauty of color and design and are prized by their present owners. This decade has seen a return to quilting for the thrill of creating a thing of beauty and the pride of accomplishment.

All quilt owners are invited to bring their quilts for display to the Rock Hotel on Wednesday, November 3 from 1 to 5 p.m. or on Thursday, November 4 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles ©1993

California continues to provide important insight into what NOT to do in the future.

As we have discussed in this space on occasion, California, because of its sheer size and economic breadth and its self-important style, is like a country unto itself. And, as I have observed on more than one occasion, California is becoming a sinkhole for money and time for anyone in business out there.

With all of the rules and regulations concerning environment, karma requirements, etc. businesses are choking, people are losing their jobs, and the whole California economy is headed into a deep recession.

To make things worse, California has been recently forced to back down on an illegal taxing scheme that had been applied to foreign companies operating in their state. It was illegal because the federal government had agreed with other countries not to tax certain profits and wages of expatriots, but California had ignored this treaty under the heading of "this is California and we will tax anybody and anything if we feel like it." The supreme court had some choice words for such acts, and California has been forced to back down lest they lose all of the federal money they get from the rest of us.

But, it doesn't seem anyone out there has learned much about the real world.

The California Air Resources Board placed into law rules requiring the sale of only low sulfur, low aromatic diesel in the state to reduce emissions. Since these rules have taken effect, diesel prices have doubled, diesel supply has dwindled to one-fourth of the original supply, and food, medicine, and other supplies are ruining out by the highway while they wait for more diesel.

Now, I realize that Los Angeles and surrounding areas have a terrible smog problem, and special rules are required to try to minimize such things. I also realize that Los Angeles is a place that preaches about whole foods, whole spirituality, and saving our earth, but it does precious little about it on a personal level.

By this I mean, that as a group California officials preach about clean earth, etc. but they jump in their big cars and join 20 million other folks on the freeway, bypassing the public transit system on the way. On an individual level, everyone seems to want their cake and eat it, too. Not an uncommon attribute for humans, but Californians are allowing their elected officials to lead them down a path of destruction in the meanwhile. This diesel rule is an example. It is overkill. The value of reducing aromatics is of questionable value. The already in-place Federal low sulfur rules for diesel are deemed sufficient by scientists who know, but the California statehouse seems to know better about such things.

So forcing refiners to come up with a singular fuel for California has resulted in the shortages. Several refiners are saying to heck with California, let's get out. Others are still struggling to see how they can profitably provide such a fuel and stay in California. The few who are making it available are those who are entrenched in California (their production of oil and gas is there) and they are willing to run a money-losing diesel business to keep the powers-that-be in California happy.

On the other side of the coin, truckers are saying to heck with California. They have proof that the special fuels are damaging their engines and they are looking for business elsewhere.

The bottom-line is that overkill and over-regulation can kill an economy. California is taking body blows daily from such things. Business is leaving in droves. Saving the earth is a worthwhile endeavor, but it is one that is to be taken slowly, scientifically, and with consideration for the humans it lays waste to. Saving the earth the way California wants to is making people hungry, angry, and dead (i.e., riots, Reginald Denny, etc.).

California is on the leading edge of the way a state suffers when its leaders are out of touch with reality.

least once after having "a good bit to drink."

*Twenty-three percent of district students reported using inhalants at least once during their lifetimes, and 4 percent reported past-month inhalant use.

*Fourteen percent of WISD students reported using marijuana during their lifetimes, and 3 percent reported past-month marijuana use.

*WISD students are most likely to turn to their friends (76 percent) for help with a substance abuse problem and least likely to consult a counselor or program in school (36 percent).

Alcohol is the most widely used substance among students at Winters ISD. Seventy percent of students reported using alcohol at least once during their lifetimes (76 percent statewide). Lifetime alcohol use increased from 56 percent among 7th through 8th graders (64 percent statewide) to 79 percent among 9th through 12th graders (82 percent statewide).

The alcoholic beverages most often consumed by Winters students are wine coolers and beer. Thirty-five percent of WISD students said they drink beer on a weekly or monthly basis and 26 percent admitted weekly or monthly consumption of wine coolers.

Twenty-seven percent of WISD students said that when they drink beer, they drink five or more at a time. Reported consumption of five or more wine coolers at one time among district students was 21 percent, similar to the statewide rate of 18 percent.

Thirty-three percent of WISD students reported that most or all of their close friends drink beer, wine, wine coolers, or liquor (38 percent statewide), and 72 percent said alcohol was somewhat easy or very easy to obtain (75 percent statewide).

Parental attitudes can be a major factor in whether or not a student uses alcohol or drugs. When asked how their parents feel about kids their age drinking beer, 76 percent of Winters students said they do not know, and 12 percent said their parents neither approve nor disapprove.

Statewide, male students were slightly more likely to have used illicit drugs than were female students. In the WISD, male students were slightly more likely to have used marijuana than were females. There were no significant differences by gender among district students with regard to the use of alcohol, tobacco, inhalants, or any illicit drug.

In the statewide survey, students living with two parents were less likely to have used illicit drugs than were students living in other family situations. In the Winters ISD, students living in other family situations were somewhat more likely to have used tobacco, alcohol, and inhalants, and over two times more likely to have used "any illicit drug" than were district students living in two-parent homes.

The influence of drug education programs may be reflected in students' attitudes toward the use of specific substances. Eighty-seven percent of Winters students believe using powdered cocaine is "very dangerous" and 88 percent believe using crack is "very dangerous". Seventy-nine percent believe using marijuana is "very dangerous", while 75 percent believe using inhalants is "very dangerous".

By contrast, the perceived danger of alcohol use is lower. Fifty-one percent of WISD students feel that is "very dangerous" to use alcohol (50 percent statewide).

Poe's Corner

by Charlsie Poe

The little filling station known for years in Winters as the J.S. (Slats) Boum Texaco Station had its beginning in 1926, as an independent gas pump in front of a small grocery store with living quarters in the back. The store faced Main Street with McAdoo Street on the south running parallel to North View Cemetery.

The lot on which the building was constructed had a historic beginning. When Delphin Floyd died in the siege of the Alamo in 1836, a 640 acre tract of land, of which the filling station lot was a part, was awarded to Floyd's widow.

The land has been sold and subdivided many times. In 1923, two lots out of this section were sold to R.P. Fishel. In 1926, Fishel and his wife, Ella, bought $1500 worth of lumber from H.H. Hardin Lumber Company and gave the lots as collateral. They constructed a building 24 x 60 feet on the south lot. Thus the station, with its single gas pump out front, had its beginning.

The Fishels owned the store and station for four years, at a time when automobiles were coming into common use.

In 1926 there were 5308 autos registered in Runnels County. In 1927, 5735 cars were registered and the next year 6279, bringing a brisk business to the Fishel's station.

Fishel sold the business to W.R. Franklin in February, 1930. The country was then in the grip of the Great Depression and gasoline prices dropped as low as nine cents for "white" gasoline and peaked at fifteen cents in the summer of 1930. All gasoline at that time was regular gas, though grades differed. Higher octane gas, as we know it today, did not appear on the market until after the close of World War II.

Franklin died in June of 1930 and his wife, Catherine, leased the property to Magnolia Petroleum in July. In the lease the building was described as a stucco, drive-in filling station, with a ladies rest room, living quarters, and built-in office shelving. The three-year lease was for $1620, payable at $45 per month.

Three years prior to this (in 1927), oil companies began trying to phase out the term "filling station." For those selling petroleum products exclusively, the new name "service station" was being introduced.

During the years Catherine Franklin owned the property she leased to several different tenants. Two of these were Thomas Elmore McAdoo and his father-in-law, Thomas Edward Fisher. They operated the store with its one gasoline pump for three years.

The Depression lingered and during this time gasoline continued to sell for nine cents per gallon.

John Edward, son of McAdoo, recalls the period his father and grandfather operated the business.

"When I was a kid growing up, the fall of the year was the busiest time for gas stations. There were eight cotton gins in Winters at the time. Two of these were near the station; one was just across the street behind the little station, and the other was across the highway. When farmers came to gin cotton they bought gas and the town's population probably doubled in the fall. My dad stayed open until all the people left town on Saturday night. On week nights he closed at 9 o'clock."

After the tenure of McAdoo and Fisher, Mrs. Franklin continued to lease the business.

(From research notes furnished by Juanita Zachry.) To be continued next week.

Winters gives generously for benefit tournament

Sunday, October 31 was a beautiful day for a golf tournament. 47 people turned out at the Winters Country Club to take advantage of the sunshine and play golf for a good cause.

The organization and facilitation of this type event requires an enormous amount of hard work and planning. Bill Hall organized and ran off the Sims Benefit Golf Tournament, which brought in over $2000. The monies will help defray expenses for the hospital stay and rehabilitation of Jamie Sims.

Jamie, thankfully, is back at home following a two month stay in Hendrick Medical Center following a tragic accident Labor Day week end.

Winners of the tournament were: first place—Connie Mac Gibbs, Jiggs Nichols, Donnie McWright, Brenda Clough, Matthew Jameson and Steve Grenwelge; second place—Bill Hall, L.C. Hounsel, Jerry Hood, Dianna Billups and Rudy Garza; third place—Kenny Gibbs, Louis DeLaCruz, Gloria Newsome, Mike Meyer, Howard Reid.

Winners in the drawing for prizes: fish cooker—Morris Robinson, silver service—Dianna Billups, crystal set—Oscar Torres, veterinary service—Curtis King, tool box—Ouida Nichols.

Weekend, continued

Quilts and other items may be priced by the owner to sell during the show hours, with 15% to go to the Museum.

There will be separate divisions for crocheted and knitted afghans, bedspreads, tablecloths, etc.

Quilting instruction films will be shown during show days. For information concerning the films, call Edna England at 754-4272 or come by the Quilt Show.

A beautiful multicolor king size quilt has been made and donated by Bobbie Bowman to the Museum and Rock Hotel for use as a money raising project. The quilt will be given away on Saturday, November 6 at 5 p.m. To have your name entered for the drawing, contact any Museum member. A $1.00 donation will enter your name.

Come to the Rock Hotel this week end for the Quilt Show.

From The Well

by Pastor Jim Hanson

Last week I spent most of a day in my home town. Brookings, South Dakota. A small city of about 16,000, when you count the students who come each fall to South Dakota State University. Located in eastern South Dakota, where the land is richer and the rainfall better than the western part of the state. I think it is a pretty place.

My parents moved there in 1939. About the time that Adolph Hitler was moving his troops into Poland. My dad, who was a Lutheran preacher, had accepted the call to be pastor of First Lutheran Church. And also to serve a small country church, Sterling Lutheran, named after the township in which it was located.

We had been living in St. Paul. For five long years. Three times in those five years, we moved. Three different houses, three different neighborhoods, three different schools for this small boy to come into. And the times were tough. It was no place to raise a family. In the Depression, in the city. I hated it.

My dad didn't especially care for it either. He was raised on the farm in Wisconsin, and had spent the early years of his ministry in rural northern Minnesota. Years later, after he had died and I was going through some of his letters, he wrote to one of his friends, "I don't think I want to live in the city. It gives me the jitters."

In those five years that we lived in St. Paul, there were few nights that this small boy didn't pray, "Dear God, get us out of the city. To some small town in the country. Amen." And I guess my dad must have been praying the same prayer, because we moved there and moved in before school started in the fall of 1939.

I loved it there. Often when the weather was right, my mother would pack me a sack lunch, and I'd spend most of a Saturday just walking out in the country, walking the prairie, feeling the sun warm my skin on a chilly October afternoon. It felt so good to be close to the soil, surrounded by blue sky overhead and good earth under my feet.

As I grew older, and became more active in school and things, I played in the band, played sports, sang in the choir, had a part in the class play, and was elected president of the class of '46. Fun times. Full. The wonderful world of a small home town where one has a chance at most anything. Even when the clouds of war shadowed everything, and we mourned the loss of four older friends and relatives, and saw the flag-draped caskets in front of the church, there was a strength in small town U.S.A.

Last week as I wandered around town in Brookings, I visited the new church. I found the picture of my confirmation class, the class of '43. My dad was in the picture and I was transported back to those days spent in the basement of the church going over Bible history and Luther's Small Catechism. The following Sunday at early church, I made a connection with Beverly Craddock, one of my girl friends (we never dated) and we talked about the good old days. I walked to school, the same way that I used to years ago. With each step, more memories came to mind.

There is a book entitled You Can't Go Home Again. After last week I'm not sure. I think you can. For the space is sacred. It is holy ground, our home town. God put us there and made connections with us there, with our families and our friends. It's kind of like Bethlehem, our home town. Even if I don't live there any more, I'm glad I have one. And there's a part of me that will always contain a part of it. Forever.

WINNING COSTUMES — Mike Krause and Irma Ueckert, residents of the Senior Citizens Nursing Home, were named winners in the costume contest held last Friday afternoon. Winning employees were Vickie Carleton and Tina Ortiz.

Senior Citizens Nursing Home News by Billie Ruth Bishop

Well we have had a busy week this past week with Halloween and all the ghost and goblins running around.

We had a party for all the residents last Friday and we all had a very good time. Employees came dressed up as they wish to the great enjoyment of the residents. We had devils, witches, an old man, an old settler, a ghost, baseball players, spiderman, clowns, and an assortment of others all dressed for the Halloween Party.

We had a drawing for costume winners because of the great assortment, no one could decide who should win. The winners were: Irma Ueckert and Mike Krause for the residents and for the employees Tina Ortiz and Vickie Carlton with their devil costumes.

Saturday we had a Halloween carnival with the public invited. We had booths for the children of digging for money, going fishing, and a bag toss with prizes given to all the children who attended.

We would like to thank the Family Group and all employees who donated their time and effort to make this an enjoyable time for all the residents. They really enjoyed seeing everyone dressed up in their Halloween costumes.

We would like to welcome Agnes Andrae, a new resident to our home. We hope she has an enjoyable stay with us.

A big thanks to J.R. White for the peaches and containers he donated to the kitchen and also thank you to George and Cleo Brown for the fresh tomatoes.

Billie Bishop is on vacation this week so we really appreciate all the volunteers who are helping out in her absence. HAVE A NICE VACATION, BILLIE.

Canterbury Villa News by Margie Clough

The residents really enjoyed our Family Night Dinner which was held October 26 at 6:30 p.m. We would like to thank the string band for the good music they provided for us.

Also, we would like to thank Ballinger Florist and Apples and Spice Florist for providing us with the beautiful bud vases for the table. Everyone really enjoyed the flowers, and we appreciate you for all that you do for us. Thanks, also, to Tommy Parks for loaning us some bud vases.

We thank you for your thoughtfulness. There was a really good turnout for this activity, and I am so glad everyone took the time to attend.

Canterbury Villa had a lot of little trick or treaters on Halloween evening. The residents really enjoyed passing out treats to all the little children. We appreciate all the parents who brought their children by to visit with us. We have several people to thank for providing trick or treat candy. Bill and Mary Goetz of Bill's Grocery, Wal-Mart, and Dorothy Johnson you were all thoughtful to think of us. We appreciate each of you.

Our "sweetest pumpkin" was chosen during our annual trick or treat festivities. Hattie Reed was chosen as the "sweetest pumpkin" for this year. Congratulations Mrs. Reed.

We look forward to several activities during the month of November, and invite family and friends to stop by and visit often.

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Mary Hall, who passed away on October 31. She will be missed by everyone here at Canterbury Villa.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
I would like to take this time to thank all the people of Winters who participated in trick-or-treat activities Saturday and Sunday night.

I know it was a lot of trouble to have Halloween spread out over two nights and if you don't have small children you might not realize what a special time it is. If you could have seen the wonderful time my children had Sunday evening (especially my three year old) you would know that the trouble of getting up and down to answer the doorbell and the expense of the candy was worth it.

With all the bad things that happen in this age that we live in it is amazing to see the excitement and fun children experience through small things like trick-or-treating.

Again, thank you from the bottom of my heart and from my kids who don't even realize yet what a wonderful community they live in.

Lisa Nitsch

Aggravated robbery victim receives injuries, offender escapes

The Winters Police Department is currently investigating an aggravated robbery which occurred at about 5 p.m. on Sunday, October 31, 1993.

The victim of the robbery, Elia Reyna, was visiting friends in the 700 block of Majestic and had parked her 1987 Camero at the side of the residence, on N. Frisco. The victim was alerted that someone was in her car and she went outside to confront the person inside her car.

The victim got in front of her car and the occupant of the car drove the car into the victim. The victim held on for about 40 to 50 feet before falling off to the side of the car. The victim suffered injuries from the incident and had to be hospitalized.

The offender is described as a Hispanic male, late 20's to early 30's, short dark brown hair with a mustache, light complexion, with medium to heavy build.

The offender was dropped off at the residence by another individual driving a late model "Jimmy" (compact Blazer type vehicle) GMC. The Jimmy was described as being a blue-green color with a tan or brown stripe down the side.

The driver of the Jimmy fled the scene in the Jimmy and it has not been located.

A bulletin was put out on the stolen car and a Runnels County Deputy Sheriff spotted the vehicle about 4 miles north of Ballinger. The driver of the stolen car abandoned the car in Ballinger and fled on foot.

Members of the Ballinger Police Department and the Runnels County Sheriff's Department searched for the driver but were unable to locate him.

The Winters Police Department would like to thank the Runnels County Sheriff's Department and the Ballinger Police Department for their assistance.

Veterans could be eligible for benefits

Many survivors of veterans are unaware that they might be eligible for money, medical care, educational assistance, help in buying a home or other benefits. Eligibility and benefits change constantly and some people ineligible in previous years are now able to start receiving money.

The Consumer Education Research Center, a national nonprofit consumer group, each year compiles a book describing the latest rules on available benefits and how to qualify for those benefits. Entitled "Complete Guide to Federal and State Benefits for Veterans, Their Families and Survivors," the book is available for $11.95 plus $3 postage and handling.

Orders for the book should be sent to Consumer Center, 350 Scotland Road, Orange, NJ 07050 or call 1-800-872-0121 with credit card.

Excerpts from "Hair and Feathers"

B.D. Davis of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reports that several whitewing dove have been seen in and around Runnels County.

He warns hunters that, although it is not illegal to take up to 6 whitewing dove during the hunting season, a whitewing stamp is required.

While in flight, the whitewing and the mourning dove are virtually indistinguishable. Hunters may kill the whitewing by mistake. To be safe, they should acquire a whitewing stamp.

Mr. Davis also reports, under the heading of Wildlife Trivia, that deer season for Runnels, Coleman, Concho and Coke Counties is November 6, 1993 - January 2, 1994. The bag limit is 4 deer with no more than 2 bucks.

The fall turkey season complies with the above dates. The spring season is April 2 - May 1, 1994. The bag limit is 3 turkey per license year. Only gobblers may be taken in the spring.

Quail season runs from October 30, 1993, through February 27, 1994, statewide. The daily bag limit is 15 birds.

J.V. goes down to Rotan 20-0

The junior varsity Blizzards lost to Rotan Thursday by a score of 20-0.

Chris McCaslin was the leading rusher and Kyle Loudermilk lead the team in receiving.

"Good blocking up front from the offensive line enabled us to move the ball, we just never managed to get into the end zone," Coach Chuck Lipsey stated.

The defense played well but gave up the big play. Jesse Ortiz and Justin Mitchell lead the team in tackles.

Coach Lipsey said, "I feel the boys gave a good effort but must play consistently and reduce mistakes."

8th grade takes Rotan 20-6

The Winters 8th grade football team defeated Rotan 20-6 last Thursday.

Rotan almost scored on the first play of the game, running back the opening kick-off to Winters' 2 yard line. They scored on the next play.

The Breeze defense took over and controlled the rest of the game. On Rotan's second possession, Dennis Conner blocked a punt and fell on the football for a touchdown.

On the first play of the second quarter, Chris Aguero took a quick pitch around the left side for a 72 yard touchdown run. Eric Bernal scored a two point conversion and had a punt return called back.

Eric Joeris scored the third touchdown on a 39 yard touchdown reception from Ray Luera.

Defensively, Marshall Scates, Ray Luera, Isias Lara, Tony Torres and Bear Nitsch had good games.

The Breezes end the season this week against Jim Ned.

7th grade wins 15-12 thriller at Rotan

The fans and parents that made the long trip to Rotan definitely got their money's worth. They even got their "heart" exercise because the boys won a thrilling 15-12 victory over Rotan.

The game went back and forth with Michael Prewit scoring the first touchdown on a 15 yard run. His extra point kick was good and the Breezes led 7-0.

Rotan came right back and scored on a 35 yard sweep, but their two point try was stopped by Eric Tekell with a big tackle. The Breezes then took the ball to the 12 yard line, but time ran out, ending the first half.

Rotan got the ball in the third quarter and scored from 7 yards out, taking the lead 12-7. Lee Woffenden stopped #31 on a reverse and the two point try failed again.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter the Breezes drove to the 10 yard line. A fumbled pitch-out causing a ten-yard loss stopped the drive.

The Breeze defense now had to bow their necks and hold Rotan for three plays and force a punt. The big play was on 4th down with 4 yards to go for a 1st. Rotan tried to get the Breezes to jump offside, but the ploy didn't work. Rotan then ran on a fake punt and the Breeze defense swarmed to #12 and stopped him one foot from the first down.

With momentum having swung to Winters, the winning drive was begun. On 4th and 15, Lee Woffenden ran a reverse for 20 yards. Woffenden's shoulderpads broke, causing several adjustments. Jeremy Alvarado went in at wing-back, took the ball and scored from 12 yards out. Kenny Whittenburg caught the pass for a two-point conversion, but it was called back. The same play was run again and was successful, making the score 15-12.

Rotan drove to the 19 yard line, with a little help from penalty calls, with 33 seconds left in the game. Coach Biff White stated that he called a time out to "re-mind" the team that they had never allowed a touchdown in the fourth quarter. Rotan ran a screen right and #12 ran it down to the one yard line and a flag was thrown to stop the clock with one second left. Rotan had one more chance to score from 11 yards out. Justin Kaczyk made a big play, knocking the ball down in the end zone.

Next game is with Jim Ned for the district championship.

Captains for this game were B.J. Gardner, John Morris Edwards, Cody O'Dell, Eloy Gomez, Eric Reeves.

Boosters applaud Main St. merchants

The Winters Blizzard Booster Club recognizes all the Main Street merchants who are proudly supporting the Blizzard team this week.

Anyone driving through Winters can recognize the enthusiasm for our school by reading the windows of all the businesses along the highway. Painting on the windows was done by members of the Booster Club. The Boosters appreciate the willingness of all the merchants who allowed their windows to be painted.

Show your Blizzard spirit by wearing blue on Friday. Speak a kind word to any Winters student, encourage any football player, manager, cheerleader or band member and go to the game in Tuscola this Friday night.

Order windbreak trees early

Area residents who want to order windbreak trees from the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District should get their orders in early. Stocks may become depleted and you might not receive the trees you want if you wait to order.

The RSWCD will be offering three categories of seedlings this year: conifers, hardwoods and wildlife packets.

Twelve inch conifers (Afghanistan pine, Austrian pine, Arizona cypress, Ponderosa pine and red cedar) have a 28 cubic inch root volume and are $35 for 20 trees.

Bareroot hardwoods (Bur oak, Chinkapin oak, Shumard oak or red oak, flameleaf sumac, mulberry, catalpa, desert willow, honeylocust, osage orange, pecan, Russian olive, sand cherry, skunkbush sumac, native plum and Nanking cherry) are approximately 24 inches in height and sell for $20 for 25 trees.

The wildlife packets (100 trees in 4 species) contain species beneficial to wildlife habitat and nutrition. Types of wildlife packets available are deer, turkey, squirrel and quail and pheasant. They are priced at $45 per packet.

This program will conclude on February 3, 1994, and seedlings will arrive at the Soil Conservation Service office in Ballinger on February 16, 1994.

Technical assistance in planning your windbreak is available. For more information, call 365-3415.

"Horses"

by Darci Lindsey
Spirited as the otter,
Clever as the fox,
Loyal as the dog,
Swift as the gazelle,
Often I think when God made
this creature,
That he took all of those animals and the wind,
And commanded them to join,
And out came a powerful noble
beast,
Also known as the Horse.

"Danger"

by Arthur Martinez
Danger ahead
Even though I'm in the hall
Fear strikes me as I get closer
Good grief! I'm almost there Hello, Mr. Wyatt!

"Like a Shadow"

by Yolanda Gonzales
Creeping up like a robber
Following me wherever I go
Down the stairs like a ghost Curtains filled with flowers like a garden
Looking out the window I see
Stars bright and beautiful.

"Hickory Tree"

by Jana Presley
Near the wooden house,
Across from the light blue stream,
Past the dark cemetery,
Toward the winding road,
Under the gleaming sky,
Against the delta ground,
Over the tiny hills,
Beneath the forest stands the old hickory tree.

"The Garden of Life"

by Kristin Goff
Life is like a garden,
Learning your stepping stones,
Stickers are the pains you fear,
Struggling like the rose
among the thorns,
Colorful flowers are the happy moments you hold dear Water your garden with success,
Success is only won through working harder than the rest,
We all try to make our garden the very best.

"Horse of Course"

by Justin Davis
On the horse called Mr. Ed,
Of course,
Along the way,
Upon the saddle,
Within a mile,
Throughout the day,
Down a winding road,
At the ranch,
Around the cattle,
Outside riding,
Beyond the air,
Is where you'll find me.

"The Secret Rock"

This is my rock
and here I come to steal the secret of the sun.
This is my rock
and here it will stay until night
and day.
This is my rock,
and it is strong
to tell you if you are right or wrong.

On the edge of the rocks
Under the clouds you stand
By me.

The cat watches the dog
Cautiously the cat times its Anxiously the dog goes af-

Suddenly I hear a screech and a loud bow-wow
The cat runs up a tree
The dog ran around the tree
Just then I heard a thump
and a loud hiss
The dog had hit the tree

I said, "Rover give it up."

Pursuant to Title 49, United States Code, Section 1612 of the Federal Transit Act, the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) issues this notice for solicitation of proposals and/or applications from private and public nonprofit organizations serving elderly and/or disabled persons to utilize funds available under the Section 16 grant program, administered by TxDOT.

Notice of Invitation: The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) is issuing this request for applications for the Section 16 grant program. The Section 16 grant program provides capital assistance to nonprofit organizations which provide transportation services to elderly and/or disabled persons in Texas.

Funding for the Section 16 grant program is appropriated by the Federal government under the Federal Transit Act as described in FTA Circular 9070.1C, December 23, 1992. Fiscal year 1994 appropriations for Section 16 grant program are expected to be announced in October.

Eligible capital expenses under the Section 16 grant program include: (1) the replacement of vehicles such as buses, vans, trolleys, etc., currently used to transport elderly and/or disabled persons; and such auxiliary equipment as is normally acquired with vehicles of this type; (2) the purchase of vehicles for service expansions and new services to elderly and/or disabled persons; and such auxiliary equipment as is normally acquired with vehicles of this type; and (3) the purchase of radio equipment only, i.e. equipment that is not part of a vehicle allowed categories 1 and 2 of this paragraph. Section 16 funds must be used for transportation projects serving elderly and/or disabled persons.

Applicants requesting funds for multiple projects should group them within the application by funding category (replacement vehicles, expansion vehicles, new starts, and radios). The narrative should demonstrate the need for the equipment, the capability to maintain and operate the equipment, and the involvement of the applicant and the community in requesting funding for the equipment.
- (3) A budget for each category of equipment which shows the unit cost of each item and total equipment costs. The federal dollars and local match dollars provided by the applicant should be noted.
- (4) Compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act to provide transportation services that are accessible to disabled persons.
- (5) Provide proof of demonstrated coordination efforts with other transit systems within the applicant's immediate service area in the application.
- (6) Proof of local match ability to pay a minimum of 20 percent of funding for said equipment. No federal dollars may be used as local match unless authorized by the federal agency that awards those monies.

Minivans and Screwdrivers

Husbands should not be fixers. They should probably stay in the kitchen where they belong. But fixing things we don't know how to fix is a genetic thing with men. We think we can do it even though logic on any level says we can't. Why call in a professional when we can save time and a lot of money doing it ourselves? It's simple. Well - maybe not. Our minivan had a rattle in the sliding door that was driving me nuts. No one else could hear it, but I got out my screwdriver. I adjusted for several weeks, but nothing seemed to help. Since we were leaving on vacation the next day, time was critical. Maybe if I took out those two little screws and put a spacer underneath... My wife stuck her head out the door and ordered me to leave her car alone. "Don't mess with that door anymore. The guy at the dealership said there's nothing wrong with it anyway." "What do they know?" I said to myself. Just one more little twist and.....wham! The sliding door fell completely off the van and hit the concrete with a sickening thud. The impact crinkled back the bottom corners of the door like they were made of silly putty. The sliding rollers burst from their tracks, slamming into the side of the van with a dent the size of a softball. Pieces of gray paint were floating in the air.

When my wife ran out, I tried to bring some humor to the situation. "There's some good news and there's some bad news," I told her. The good news was that the rattle was fixed. The bad news was that she now had a little more wind noise. She was not amused, looking at me with that hands-on-the-hips glare that she uses on the students in her 4th grade class. She really didn't say all that much, but the words "idiot," "I told you so" and "I want a new car" come to mind. The next morning, vacation postponed, I wrapped the opening where the door used to be in plastic and headed toward town. Even driving slow, the wind was too much for the plastic and duct tape. I heard a giant whooshing noise as the plastic came apart, sucking away all my wife's school papers in the back of the van as it went. Just as well. Having plastic for a sliding door on a minivan was very embarrassing. People don't know you've had an accident and that you're heading for the body shop. They don't know that the mad-looking lady behind you is carrying the door in the back of the pick-up. They think maybe you just live that way and stare and point. Anyway, without the plastic, now I just looked like a helicopter gunship driving through town. In time, though, the professionals were able to put the van back together and it is now as good as new. Things are pretty much back to normal, except that my wife has imposed a lifetime ban on my screwdriver.

Only, the other day as we were riding along, I'm almost sure I heard a rattle in the door. I glance over at my wife, who's glaring at me with that "don't even think about it" look. Nope, on second thought, I didn't hear a thing!
