THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE

VOLUME FIVE      WINTERS, TEXAS 79567      THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1994      PRICE 50 CENTS      NUMBER 22

1994 graduation completed with sunny smiles, rainy days

Wet weather failed to dampen the spirits of 41 graduating seniors during commencement exercises last Friday.

Due to the inclement weather, graduation was held in the school gym before a capacity crowd of well-wishers.

Fran Kidwell, pianist, played the familiar processional, accompanied by band director Todd Felty on the trumpet.

The baccalaureate devotional was given by Robert Jones, pastor of Winters Assembly of God Church.

Jennifer Boles gave the salutatory address, "Letting Go", followed by Kristin Deike's valedictory speech, "Half Empty, Half Full".

Superintendent Tommy Lancaster presented the Pearl

Jackson Memorial Scholarship to Elvia Moreno, who plans to attend Angelo State University.

Angela Bryan received the Floy Hood Hodge Scholarship. She plans to attend Texas Tech University.

Secondary School Principal Charles Kidwell announced the winners of the Jake Joyce Memorial Awards for Outstanding Students as Jennifer Boles and Chris Woffenden. Jennifer will attend McMurry University and Chris plans to attend Austin Community College then the University of Dallas.

Following the presentation of diplomas, the benediction was given and the graduated class of 1994 became part of WHS history.

THE CLASS OF 1994 stands together for the Pledge of Allegiance during commencement exercises on May 27. Forty-one seniors received diplomas from Winters High School.

ANGELA BRYAN was awarded the Floy Hood Hodge Scholarship during commencement activities last Friday night.

MIXED EMOTIONS spill forth as 1994 WHS senior Chris Woffenden receives a hug from his mother following graduation ceremonies last Friday evening. Chris, highest ranking boy of the senior class, received the Jake Joyce Memorial Award for outstanding male student.

ELVIA MORENO received the Pearl Jackson Scholarship during graduation ceremonies on May 27.

JENNIFER BOLES, 1994 salutatorian, received the Jake Joyce Memorial Award for outstanding female student.

First Baptist Church to host ground breaking for new hall

The First Baptist Church of Winters will observe ground breaking ceremonies this Sunday, June 5, for construction of a new fellowship hall.

The celebration will begin with a covered dish luncheon at noon following morning services. Then members and guests will gather on the lawn just east of the present educational building at the site of the proposed hall.

Construction on the 6,300 square foot structure will begin June 8, and is estimated to be completed in approximately six months.

Wingate homecoming planned for Sunday, June 5

The bi-annual Wingate Homecoming will be held on Sunday, June 5, 1994, at the Wingate School gymnasium. All former attendees of the Wingate School and their families are invited to attend.

A complete luncheon including dessert will be served at noon at a cost of $5 per person.

If possible, please RSVP to Betty Dean at (915)743-6142 or Vicky Hensley at (915)743-2195.

Reception to be held to honor Jim and Ramona Hanson

A celebration of Pastor Jim and Ramona Hansons' 40th wedding anniversary and Pastor Hanson's 40th year in the church ministry will be held on Sunday, June 5.

There will be a reception in the Educational Building of St. John's Lutheran Church at 1100 W. Parsonage from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to join in the celebration. The couple will be presented with the gift of a money tree. Anyone wishing to contribute should contact Fred or Brenda Watkins.

Oil Bidness Map Not Available

Oil prices continue to defy everyone's expectations as they have risen back to the $18 per barrel level. This has happened despite the "experts" telling us we were in a prolonged period of lower prices for any number of reasons.

I am not going to try to explain why prices are where they are now, I am only going to try to illustrate for you the effect that prices moving from $14 to $18 has on the small producer.

A few dry facts, first. An increase in oil price of $4 from $14 is an increase of 28.5 percent. That is equivalent to gasoline prices rising from $1.09 to $1.40 per gallon or a can of coke from 50 cents to 65 cents.

The same percentage increase applied to grocery costs would raise the cost of a gallon of milk from $2 to $2.57.

Remember, this would all happen over a period of 60 days.

To the small producer, the increase in revenue would make a previously uneconomical well making 3 BOPD potentially economical. This could affect as many as 100 wells in this county alone and 10,000 wells state-wide.

Think of the economic impact of 100 more wells on production in this area.

The small producer who was clearing $15,000 per year before the oil price increase would now be seeing profits near $20,000 per year. Multiply this by a few wells and the economic impact goes well beyond the pockets of the producer.

The psychology of producing oil and gas is also affected by the 28.5 percent increase in their revenue.

Workovers, repairs, and new wells and installations can now be considered as possible. The economics and general gloom of $14 oil usually prevented the thought from even entering the mind of a small producer.

Now, there are calls to dirt contractors, construction companies, drilling companies, and other service companies that aren't just about asking for more time to pay their bill.

Think what it would be like if a cotton producer, a watchmaker, or even a florist could raise their revenue by almost thirty percent. The dry goods store, the restaurants, and the local bank would be overjoyed with the good fortune that would inevitably trickle down to them.

With the capital intensive nature of the oil business, the trickle down effect is even more pronounced than it would be with other businesses.

So, if you see more than a few smiles on the faces of people that are in businesses that wouldn't seem to have any direct bearing on the oil patch, reconsider the effect of an oil price rise.

It would take about 40,000 of your red blood cells to fill this letter O.

Services for Mrs. Cooke were held Monday, May 30, 1994, at College Heights Baptist Church with Rev. Don Robertson officiating and Rev. Dean Thomas from Big Spring assisting. Graveside services followed in Winters at Northview Cemetery.

Canterbury Villa News

by Margie Clough

The residents of Canterbury Villa enjoyed a popcorn social Tuesday afternoon. Hot buttered popcorn and cold lemonade were served. They really enjoy getting together to visit while having a treat.

Ann Patterson was here for her hymnsing Tuesday afternoon. We would like to thank her for coming to see us so faithfully each week. Also, we'd like to thank Barbara Levens for playing the piano for us every week. We appreciate your time, Barbara. The residents have a good time singing along.

Canterbury Villa will be having a pancake social on Tuesday, May 31 at 10 a.m. Family and friends are invited and encouraged to attend. The residents always enjoy this activity.

We would like to thank Loretta

Michalewicz for bringing several beautiful potted ivy plants for our facility. They will be most appreciated and enjoyed by our residents. Thanks for being so thoughtful.

The residents are looking forward to summer and the month of June. We anticipate having lots of fun and activities next month.

We would like to wish all veterans a great Memorial Day. We have several residents who are veterans and they will all be recognized for their contributions to our country. You are encouraged to stop by and visit with us any time.

We have two new residents at Canterbury Villa. Mozelle McCready is in room #14 A and Margaret Irby is in room #15 B. They would appreciate your cards and visits.

Baldrige—Jones marry in Abilene

Mrs. Steven Kent Jones

Kristi Karol Baldrige and Steven Kent Jones were married May 14, 1994, at Southern Hills Church of Christ in Abilene.

The bride, a graduate of Levelland High School, is the daughter of Rhonda Baldrige of Apache Junction, Arizona, and Rod Baldrige of Levelland. She has attended Abilene Christian University.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones of Abilene. A graduate of Sundown High School, the groom is a graduate of Abilene Christian University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology and is a medical student at the University of Texas at San Antonio. The groom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Halley Schwartz and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones, all of Winters.

Maid of honor was Sherry Jones, sister of the groom, of Abilene. Bridesmaids were Julie Usrey of Abilene and Kristin Fox of Mesquite.

Best man was Joel McMasters of Arkadelphia, Arkansas. Groomsmen were Jason Hubbard of Abilene and Mykal Jones, cousin of the groom, of Crane.

Ushers were Donovan Kauffman, cousin of the bride, of Levelland and Jason Jordan, cousin of the groom, of Winters. Jack Reese performed the ceremony.

The bride's gown was of satin, with a sweetheart neckline, short puff sleeves accented with beads, with beaded gauntlets attached. The basque bodice was beautifully beaded with Schiffli beaded lace appliques continuing into the skirt. It had a chapel-length train with hem lace. The headpiece had a crown effect with pouf accented with beads.

Bridesmaids dresses were of plum longline, with square neckline, slim waisted with a full skirt of ballerina length. The puff sleeves had a full bow attached with three rows of pearls in the center.

Deike awarded advanced degree from Texas Tech

Elizabeth Elaine (Mitzi) Deike from Winters has been awarded a Master of Science degree in Interdisciplinary Studies from Texas Tech University.

Poe's Corner

by Charlsie Poe

Mrs. Court Meeks said that when the Winters Enterprise came each week her Dad always read Uncle Johnnie's column to the family and "we looked forward to hearing what he had to say." She had a newspaper which told of her wedding in December of 1914. On the back of it was an article by Ballew called "Mazeland Musings."

Although he had always promoted cotton, Uncle Johnnie was off on another track, preaching diversification. The following are excerpts from his column.

"We have always wanted to make a bumper crop and now we have made it. We have made more cotton than the world needs. We must raise more meat and less cotton. Meat never was higher and cotton never was cheaper.

"Our cribs are bulging with feed. We have better teams and tools than we have ever had. It is time to change this section from an all cotton country to a dairy, chicken, hog and maize country. Nearly every farmer can manage to get hold of a few jersey heifers and a few pigs—better make the change before we get to where we can't.

"Goats are good to eat. Mutton is hard to beat. A dressed one to carry to town once a week would bring over a hundred dollars a year. Goose meat is good to eat. Duck meat beats no meat. Let us face about and have something good to eat and some to sell instead of eating stale stuff out of tin cans and paper sacks."

Ballew predicted an era of prosperity in his article for the Ballinger Daily Ledger, July 7, 1915. He said that he had lived in the county more than ten years and had raised 134 bales of cotton on 185 acres of land without irrigation the previous fall. In the spring he had averaged 69 bushels of oats per acre and thirty bushels of wheat.

"Runnels has on her glad rags:

wheat bread, drumsticks, livers and gizzards. Living with a laugh and smile, no croakers save the frogs. Everybody a booster but fools and they are silent. Brother, fate put you here--push and shout, ring it out. The only pauper in Runnels County has been revolutionized. Everything on the modern farm is running smoothly and the running is both pleasant and profitable.

"Bully fine times--frog-joy, joy rides, jelly cakes and Johnny cakes, go away trouble.

"Farming in Runnels is a 'tippy' and 'classy' business. Let the editors kindly lead the cheering!"

Uncle Johnnie

Rainfall was deficient in 1916 and the year of 1917 recorded the lowest total precipitation (10.7 inches) since the weather bureau began keeping records in 1895. In the fall of 1918 the drought reached its climax.

After three years of drought and suffering, Uncle Johnnie's spirit was broken and he wrote a letter to the editor of the semi-weekly Dallas Farm News saying that "local pride has held us back too long. Suffering and distress are so acute as to make it criminal to conceal the awful facts." He described the barren fields and empty houses. The day after his letter was printed he went into the store at Wilmett, bought candy for his wife and children, had it tagged with their names, and then he sat down in a chair, placed a pistol in his mouth and pulled the trigger--a victim of the county's worst drought.

Uncle Johnnie's death was in vain for the rains began to fall in October. People who had left the county began to return, but it took several years to regain the population. There were twenty-thousand people in the county when the drought began, but the 1920 census showed the population to be just over seventeen-thousand.

Ginny Jones—Kevin Scott Vest announce upcoming nuptials

Kevin Scott Vest—Ginny Jones

Ginny Ann Jones and Kevin Scott Vest, both of Stephenville, announce their engagement and approaching marriage. The ceremony will take place at the First Baptist Church in Stephenville on August 20, 1994, at 12 noon.

Miss Jones, a 1987 graduate of Winters High School, is the daughter of Linda and Randy Jones of Winters. She is employed by Norton Company in Stephenville.

Mr. Vest is the son of Darline and Harold Vest of Stephenville. He is a 1990 graduate of Stephenville High School and attended Tarleton State University. He is also employed by Norton Company.

Ballinger woman charged in murder

Melissa Espinosa of Ballinger was arrested May 25 and charged with murder in the April 25 shooting death of David Edward Pearse, 70, of Ballinger.

Espinosa told police that she had killed Pearse by shooting him with a pistol, according to the complaint. The complaint added that Espinosa's mother had found a note in which Espinosa stated she was responsible for the death.

Pearse was found shot to death in his back yard by neighbor Michelle Hamilton, who called 911.

An autopsy by the Bexar County Medical Examiner confirmed that Pearse died of a gunshot wound to the back of the head.

The homicide was the first in about two years in Ballinger.

Espinosa as released after posting bond which was set at $10,000 by Justice of the Peace Greg Lange.

Chamber of Commerce Update

By Dawn Green

The Winters Area Chamber of Commerce would like to congratulate all the area seniors and wish them luck in whatever their future holds. A special congratulations to Mary Ellen Rodriguez for winning the Chamber of Commerce scholarship for $200.00.

The Chamber of Commerce office will be open Monday through Friday from 8-12 and 1-5 all summer long. These summer hours will hopefully help anyone who might need information concerning our area.

The Directors would like to have a Yard of the Month contest each month this summer. Anyone who notices a yard that should be recognized needs to call the Chamber office (754-5210) by noon on Wednesday, June 8.

Retirees honored at Winters Elementary

RETIREES SHIRLEY MEDFORD, LEFT, AND NELDA VOSS were honored by Winters Elementary staff with a luau on May 27.

Shirley Medford and Nelda Voss were honored with a retirement party in the Winters Elementary music room on May 27. The Luau was hosted by the elementary staff.

Nelda Voss has taught as an aide in the WISD for 20 years. She has been associated with all grades and feels it is "neat" to now teach the children of the students who started out with her in the early years.

Mrs. Voss and her husband, Fred, a retired farmer and rancher, plan to stay busy. Visiting with their grandchildren Tami and J.D. David and Debbie, will be at the top of their list. Nelda plans to "make a quilt at last."

Shirley Medford lives in Abilene with her husband, Willie, also a retired teacher. She plans to cook and read and "do things together." They have a son, Wayne, 33, of Munday and a daughter, Renee, 27, of Dallas.

Mrs. Medford has taught school for 35 years, the last three as a fourth grade teacher in Winters.

Crews News

by Hilda Kurtz

A penny for your thoughts is now a quarter.

Correction—Mary Jane and Jarrell Giles, not Gibbs, of Brownwood were Sunday afternoon visitors of Fairy and Wilber Alcom. Sorry.

The congregation of Hopewell Baptist Church enjoyed fellowship after Sunday services in the gym. Visitors were Louis, Dana and Scott Dietz and Jenni Calvert of Wichita, Kansas; Dee Bnea Baker of Abilene and Sharon Craft of ASU.

Louis, Dana and Scott Dietz and a friend, Jenni Calvert, came Thursday and spent the holidays with Selma and Hazel Dietz. On Friday Jimmy, Frances, Garrett and Katie Chapman of Ballinger and Judy Cooke of Winters all pitched in and did some odd jobs for Selma and Hazel and had supper on Friday night. On Sunday all drove out to Barrow Museum.

Lee Ueckert of Houston called the Brad Papes Sunday checking on Brad's planned knee surgery. Randy Kennedy and son Randy went on a camping trip to Enchanted Rock during the holidays.

Margie Jacob attended the supper and 42 party in the home of Hattie Minzenmayer Saturday night. Others attending were Frances and Jerry Holle, James and Lorene Halfmann, Roy and Anita Schafer and Christine Patterson. Game winners were James, Lorene and Roy.

Eileen Cartwright, Jeremy and Tiffany Prater were in Abilene for a doctor appointment and shopping Friday. Thursday night Jeremy attended his first school dance in the WISD cafeteria. He had a ball. The Cartwrights were in Blackwell Thursday and came home with a milk goat.

Spending Friday through Sunday with Leona and Charles Matthies were Pat Stevens of Coleman and Mike Stevens and family.

Grandson Blake Alexander of Lubbock spent several days with Helen Alexander.

Gladys Cotton of Ballinger and Walter Pape of Santa Anna visited with Noble and Harvey Mae Faubion Friday night.

Al Collom's brother Howard of Hobbs, New Mexico visited Al and Jessie for several days last week. On Sunday night the Colloms had guests for supper: Gladys Cotton of Ballinger, Walter Pape of Santa Anna, Howard Collom, Glenna Barnett of Coleman, Larry and Keith Collom and their families.

The Winters 4-H Club met Tuesday in Mt. Carmel Catholic Church. Desiree Mathis was elected Vice-President.

On Friday Marqué Mathis' aunt and uncle Koleta and Baxter Hunt of Denton came to spend the weekend. On Sunday afternoon Bill Mathis celebrated his birthday with a lot of others: Bill's sister Nikki Pratt and children, C.J. and Sarah, of Dallas; his brother-in-law Billy Johnson and children Clay, Matt and Will of Rising Star. After a brisket dinner all enjoyed a game of basketball. Happy birthday Bill. May you have many more.

The Crews supper and get together was postponed, due to graduation and other activities, until June 11 at 7 p.m. Bring ice cream or sandwiches.

Brenda Jacob of San Angelo spent the Memorial Day holidays with Margie Jacob and other relatives.

Visiting Doris Wood over the weekend were Bobbie and Larry Calcote and boys of Winters; Mr. and Mrs. Maloy Bryant, Robert and Douglas of Abilene; Doug Bryant of Brownwood; Jeff, Darla and Steven Cameron of Brownwood; Frances Mincey of Big Spring; Earl Ambrose of Ft. Worth. Doris attended the graduation of grandson Jim Calcote in Winters on Friday night.

Coleman Foreman's sisters Lamara Nowell of Abilene and Ilene Cannon of Hurst called to check up on him. He had an appointment with his knee doctor in San Angelo.

Hilda Kurtz visited in the Senior Citizens Nursing Home in Winters on Sunday. She attempted to see Erma and Norbert Ueckert, Bea Schrader, Effie Pumpfrey, Minnie Bredemeyer and Lawan Foreman, two of whom were asleep. She also enjoyed a visit with Jean Davis Monday evening, who came to make sure Hilda was doing well.

Connie and Georgia Gibbs, Travis and Lynda Ford of Rising Star spent Saturday and Saturday night at Lake Belton. They also visited with grandson Shane Ford and his family.

Mildred and Haeward Morrison's old friends Don and Alma Snyder, Donnie, Sarah and Dustin of North Vernon, Indiana spent last week. Joining them were the Morrison's daughter Maurine and Bob Scott and Sara of Sweetwater.

CHRISTIE AND STEVE BYRNE enjoy renewing old friendships along with Pastor Jim Hanson at St. John's Lutheran Church 90th anniversary celebration this past weekend. Pastor Byrne served St. John's of Winters from 1984 to 1991, and is presently serving St. John's of Port Arthur, Texas. Rev. Hanson is the present pastor in Winters.

Bailey Mayo leaves Soil Conservation Service after 35 years

Bailey Mayo, Assistant State Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Reno, Nevada, has retired after 35 years of service.

Most of Mr. Mayo's career was spent serving as a soil scientist, District Conservationist, Agronomist and Area Conservationist in Texas, at Alice and Harlingen, prior to moving to Reno seven years ago.

On May 7, he was honored with a retirement dinner at Bailey's Restaurant in Reno. Dick Mayo, Jean and Connie Mack Gibbs, all of Winters, attended the dinner.

Bailey Mayo is a graduate of Winters High School and Texas Tech University.

The Mayos plan to return to Texas.

Ballinger hit by storm, sustains heavy damage

While much of the country has been subjected to some pretty stormy weather these past three weeks, Ballinger received an extra heavy dose from Mother Nature last week.

Many Ballinger residents claim that the storm that occurred about 7:30 p.m. on May 25 was a tornado but no official reports of tornados were issued.

Several very large, old pecan trees on the Runnels County courthouse lawn were twisted and broken as were trees in the City Park.

Paske Shell station, located across the street from the courthouse, had its roof blown off. Higginbotham Brothers Lumber Company and the Precinct 1 county barn lost parts of their roofs.

A two-story home under construction for Darrell and Sherry Raines just outside of Ballinger on Country Club Road was completely flattened. A construction worker at the home site was injured on Thursday when a load of sheet rock fell from a truck onto the man.

Winters received between 2 and 4 inches of rain last Wednesday and Thursday but no reports of damage.

Texas Youth Commission chooses Coke County for corrections facility

Coke County officials were notified last week that a Texas Youth Commission facility for juvenile offenders has been awarded to Coke County.

State Representative Robert Junell, D-San Angelo, congratulated city leaders, county officials and residents from Bronte and Robert Lee during a press conference held last Thursday at the Coke County Courthouse in Robert Lee.

The $5 million facility, to accommodate between 75 and 100 beds, will be for the education, substance abuse treatment and counseling of female prisoners from across Texas. It will be located one mile west of Bronte on Highway 158.

Coke County's bid was made jointly with Wackenhut Corrections Corporation of Florida. The Florida company operates private prisons across the country, some of which are located in Texas. Wackenhut will operate the facility and provide 100 percent of the financing. They will, in turn, receive funds from the state based on a per diem basis of incarcerated offenders.

Ten communities in Texas, including Dallas, Ft. Worth, Houston, Austin and San Antonio had submitted bids to the Texas Youth Commission.

Rep. Junell stated that the effort put forth by the communities and its leadership was instrumental in acquiring the facility.

Slated to open no later than October 1, the center will employ 80 people with a payroll of $3.6 million.

From The Well

by Pastor Jim Hanson

It has been quite a week for Ramona and me. Last Thursday, May 19, we got a phone call from our son Paul about 7 a.m. He was calling from the Regional Medical Center in Odessa. "We're at the hospital. Mary's contracting. We'll keep you informed."

Ramona has been packed and ready to go for several weeks. She really is a great grandmother, she has "the touch" with babies. I think it is because of her child-like faith. She's one of the greatest, like what Jesus said, "Unless you change and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of Heaven. Whoever becomes humble like this child is greatest in the kingdom of Heaven." She is one of those. And little babies know it. They take to her just like she takes to them. She talks to them in their language.

I'm never quite ready. It takes me longer. Loose ends need to be tied. Connections need to be made. But, we finally got going and arrived about 7 p.m. We met Mary's step-dad in the hall, and in a few moments were filled in on what was happening. We got to see Paul and Mary in their room - Paul was all dressed in surgical type clothes. So proud. Mary was brave and keeping very up-beat. We said a prayer asking for a safe delivery and for everything to "be just right." And went back to the waiting room.

They had really wanted a natural child-birth. Had taken the lessons - breathing, working together, all of that. And were really ready. At 9:00 p.m. it looked like all was in readiness. She had dilated to 10. The baby was coming. And then - this report, "Fetal delivery too dangerous. We'll have to do a C-section." Poor Mary. 14 hours of labor - and then, this! But - anyway - at 9:43 p.m. the big event - Timothy Christian Hanson leaves the world of his mother's womb and enters the outside world. At 10:15 p.m. Ramona and I, together with Mary's grandma, step-dad, and step-sister were standing with our noses pressed to the glass window of the nursery, oohing and aahing over this precious child. He was vigorously protesting the procedure that was surely as difficult for him as it was for his mother. For the next 2 hours we were treated to his perpetual motion and constant crying. All the other babies in the nursery were peacefully sleeping. But not little Timothy! Arms flailing, legs churning, fingers stretching, chest heaving, and voice crying - he was announcing his arrival! Paul shoved his new video camera into my hands and said, "Just point and push this button. I've got to go back to surgery to be with Mary!" So - I pointed and pushed and have about 60 minutes of Timothy's first minutes on earth.

He really is a beautiful baby. I got to hold him the next morning - for an hour! There is something different about the feel of a new-born. It's like they are still more spirit than flesh - almost an ethereal quality - like they still have some of Heaven's density in them. Anyway, that's what it felt like to me. I wanted to sing "Silent Night", especially "sleep in Heavenly peace". And - at the same time I wanted to sing - full throttle - from Handel's Messiah, "For unto us a child is born, for unto us a son is given, and his name shall be called" Timothy Christian Hanson.

I looked at Mary. I looked at Paul. I looked at Ramona. All smiling. Birthing is a special time, a sacred - scary time. The Scripture says "When a woman is in travail she has sorrow, because her hour is come, but when she is delivered of the child, she no longer remembers the anguish, for joy that a child is born into the world." And so it is.

Legal Notice

To Whom It May Concern:

As you may know, I was recently appointed as the A.D. A. (American Disabilities Act) Coordinator for Runnels County. In order to comply with these mandates, we will start some construction at the Runnels County Courthouse plus any Annex Facility in the next few days and for some weeks to come in order to come into compliance.

This is to inform you that there will not be an easy access for the handicapped until this construction is completed. For the Courthouse area, the North door toward the jail will be sealed off and persons will have to use the South or West entrances. As far as any Annex facilities, we may have to use alternative offices until construction is completed. If you could notify us in advance we will make sure that you are met at a certain time so we can assist in your access. We do apologize for any inconvenience that we may cause during the difficult time, but would ask that you would bear with us during this process. Please watch for all signs relating to construction and should there be any problems, please do not hesitate to call the Courthouse for help for any problems.

Respectfully,
 Skipper Wheelless

Winters Police Beat

The information below is taken from reports on file with the Winters Police Department. Some of the information is provided to police by citizens, and in some cases, police have not finished investigating the reports. These reports make up a small percentage of the total calls the Department receives and responds to each week.

Winters Police Department reports received and/or investigated from Sunday, May 22 through Saturday, May 27, 1994. Winters Police Officers:

- investigated a reported Criminal Mischief in the 500 block of Van Ness in which person(s) unknown spray-painted a building. The investigation continues.
- responded to a reported Family Disturbance in the 500 block of S. Church. A separation of the parties was made and the complainant was advised how to file charges with the appropriate court.
- investigated a Criminal Mischief case in the 200 block of N. Broadway in which person(s) unknown damaged a pickup. The investigation continues.
- arrested Rossie Garrison Atwood II, 35, of Round Rock for outstanding Department of Public Safety warrants after Atwood's vehicle was stopped for a traffic violation.
- investigated a Traffic Accident at Main and Wood in which a 1985 Pontiac driven by Robbie Cortez of Winters struck a 1967 Ford Mustang driven by Robyn Parramore of Winters. There were no injuries. Damage to both vehicles was moderate. Cortez was issued a citation for Failure to Control Speed.

The Education of a Small Town Doc

by Keith Boles

Keith Boles has signed a contract with North Runnels Hospital to practice medicine in Winters after he completes medical school and residency. At this time, he is a second year medical student at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Howdy Winters! School's out! Finals are over but I'm still studying for the big USMLE exam on June 8-9. We've got good news. Lori and I found out on the last day of finals (May 13) that we'll get to stay in Lubbock for my last two years of school. We are very excited about that news. The big guy in the sky is watching over us and we are very thankful.

Right now, some of the faculty here are giving us some review lectures to help prepare for the USMLE. That will go on for two weeks then the last week-and-a-half we'll be on our own to cram. Looking back over some of the material, it doesn't seem too terrible because many topics have been repeated in different courses.

How about an update on my better half? My wife, Lori, took two classes this past Spring semester in addition to working full time. There were times she was busier than I was. She took two senior level history classes in progress to her Master's in English. She had to have two non-English courses in order to graduate with the non-thesis option. Since Lori is a graduate student, the professors required her to put in more effort on the research papers for each class than the undergraduate students. So, I'll say again, she was very busy.

She put out some very good and interesting work! One of the classes was called History of Rural America and Lori's research paper for this class was on the history of medicine in Winters. She talked about all the doctors that have practiced in Winters since the beginning and how health care has changed in Winters and similar rural areas over the years. There were some very interesting stories that she found. Her professor thought the paper was so good that he wants her to present it at a meeting of the West Texas Historical Association in Abilene some time next year. I have to brag a little bit. She made A's on both her papers and in both classes. I have a talented wife!

Lori will take her oral exams down at A&M in July and graduate in August.

Let's talk about the classes I took this past spring semester. They were Pathology, Internal Medicine, Psychiatry, and Introduction to Patient Assessment (IPA for short).

I also took Pathology last fall so it's been going on all year. Pathology is one of the most important classes a medical student can take because it covers everything that can go wrong with the body. If you'll remember, in Anatomy and Histology last year we studied the large scale (anatomy) and microscopic (histology) structure of the body in its normal state. Pathology studies the large scale and microscopic structure of the body in its disease state. What does a heart look like after it has had a heart attack? a lung after smoking 2 packs a day for 30 years? what does cancerous tissue look like? Pathology answers these questions. It also answers questions like: what's the most common cancer of children? what type of breast cancer is most common in women aged 20-40? what predisposes people to certain diseases?

The approach to this course was the same as in many others we've taken; by organ system. What diseases affect the cardiovascular system (heart, blood vessels)? the respiratory system (lungs, airways)? the digestive system (stomach, small and large intestines)? etc, etc.

The Internal Medicine course covered the exact same material as Pathology but from a clinical perspective. What is a clinical perspective and what does clinical mean? Good question. Pathology tells me what cancer looks like when I look at it under a microscope, but how does a patient look, feel and act when they have cancer? Will they have a fever? will they be feeling nauseous? will they hurt? When they come to my CLINIC (basis of the word clinical), how will I know to suspect that they might have cancer?

Clinical medicine (which is the 3rd and 4th year of medical school) and, specifically, the course I took this spring called Internal Medicine answers these questions. These courses teach us how patients present to doctors in clinics. That word "present" is another funny doctor word. It simply means how patients look, feel, and act and what symptoms and signs they have.

The Internal Medicine course is a transition from the basic science years (first two years of medical school) to the clinical science years (third and fourth years).

Now Psychiatry. This was basically just an overview of the major psychiatric illnesses, their epidemiology and their treatment. Epidemiology is simply who gets what illness, where, how, and how often. For example, phobias (scared of heights, etc.), depression, and anxiety are the most common psychiatric illnesses. Schizophrenia usually affects young adults. Obsessive/compulsive personality types are more common in men and passive/dependent personality types are more common in women. These are examples of epidemiological facts.

Psychiatry had a twist to it in that we had to interview actual psychiatry patients. This was nerve-racking because you interview the patient in front of six of your classmates and a psychiatrist. It wasn't bad, though. We didn't have any crazed serial killers or anything like that.

Finally, Introduction to Patient Assessment (IPA). This course allowed us to actually go into the hospital and practice history and physicals on real hospital patients.

A history is basically interviewing the patient: how long have you felt sick?, when did it come on?, where does it hurt?, did your father or mother have the same illness?, etc. etc. We did the histories and physicals by ourselves and then presented our cases to a physician assigned to us who would tell us (without hesitation) where we messed up.

This course also was designed to aid the transition from the basic science years to the clinical years.

That's it for now! See ya next time.

RETIRING AFTER SIXTY YEARS in the ministry is Brother Charles Myers. He and his wife, Dorothy, were honored with a reception at the Wingate Baptist Church on Sunday where he has served for 37 years.

Final meeting of year for Z.I. Hale Museum slated

The final meeting of the year for the Z.I. Hale Museum membership will be held on June 14, 4 p.m. at the Winters Housing Authority.

Mary Margaret Leathers and Jo Olive Hancock will install new officers for the coming year, as follows: President-Kay Colburn; Vice-President-Jewel Kraatz; Secretary-Selma Dietz; Treasurer-Edna England; Curator-Mary Margaret Leathers; Exhibits Director-Gloria Poehls; Reporter/Historian-Charlsie Poe.

Scheduled at this time will be the election of Board of Directors for the coming year. All members are invited to attend, with a special welcome to the new members who joined during the recent membership drive.

Refreshments will be served.

GETTING ALL EXCITED about their graduation are these seniors as they celebrate during rehearsal last Friday morning.

Insect Scout School

Everyone is invited to participate in the Cotton Insect Scout School which will be held on June 6 at the Texas Agricultural Research and Extension Center in San Angelo. The Scout School will be conducted from 9:00 a.m. to noon, with registration beginning at 8:30 a.m.

This training is conducted annually by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to provide cotton insect scouts (hired by the Texas Pest Management Association under the supervision of Extension Agents-Entomology Pest Management), producers and persons involved in cotton production the educational opportunity to learn about cotton physiology, cotton insects and how to scout fields for insects. Many producers are beginning to realize the importance of managing insect pests through an integrated pest management approach as opposed to a zero tolerance of insect pests in the field. Therefore, the information gained from scouting can assist producers in their managerial decisions and can make a difference in the profitability of the cotton crop.

The topics covered in the school include: cotton plant physiology; early season cotton insect pests; biology, identification and damage of cotton bollworm and tobacco budworm; biology, identification and damage of cotton boll weevil; identification of beneficial insects; secondary insect pests; cotton aphid identification; biology, and scouting information and cotton scouting techniques.

The Runnels-Tom Green Counties Pest Management Steering Committee has hired eight scouts, Shelly Daughters, Bryan Lovell, Becky Haschke, Brian Campbell, Jana Wilson, Caleb Fields, and Jeff Cheshier, to check fields enrolled in the Runnels and Tom Green Counties Pest Management Program. These eight scouts plus Shon Hallford and Jennifer Bickel who will serve as demonstration aides to Rick Minzenmayer EA-Ento(PM) and Dr. Tom Fuchs, Professor and IPM Coordinator, will attend this classroom training along with an in-field training, (for Texas Pest Management Scouts only) to be held in Taylor.

All participants in the Insect Scout School will be eligible to earn two pesticide applicator recertification CEU's for attending this training. For more information please contact Richard Minzenmayer at 915/365-5212.
