Board closer to approving final building program

In a regular meeting of the Winters Independent School District Tuesday, June 14 at 7:30 p.m., the Board of Trustees moved a step closer to deciding on a building program.

The architectural firm of Huckabee and Associates presented plans for an elevator in the high school building and a new cafeteria, elementary lab and an addition to the band hall.

The plans for the elevator showed two alternatives. The plans utilizing the east side of the high school would require building an addition to house the elevator and would cost an estimated $167,000.

The west side plan would place the elevator in an opening between the high school and the south two-story addition to the building. In this plan the elevator doors would open on both sides to allow access to both areas of the building.

The latter plan would cost an estimated $136,000. The board favored this plan because of less cost and more accessibility to all parts of the building.

The architects have to study more aspects of the west elevator plan to give a final proposal to the board.

An addition to and renovation of the present band hall was also proposed. The 48' x 48' addition would be for a rehearsal hall with the present area being renovated for offices, practice rooms and storage. Estimated cost of this renovation and expansion is $210,000.

The final proposal presented by the architects was for a new cafeteria and elementary lab under one roof. To be connected to the 1954 gym, the new building would zig-zag toward the present elementary building.

The plans called for brick veneer, but the estimated cost of $840,000 was too high for the board to consider. They asked for a less expensive plan using metal siding and roof. The estimate includes a $150,000 kitchen equipment allowance and $30,000 for elementary science equipment.

Proposed cost of all construction totalled $1,186,000, plus architectural/engineering services of $76,000, the grand total being $1,262,000.

The board discussed the fact that the old cafeteria will have to be torn down in order to build a new one on the same site, creating the side effect of having no cafeteria, possibly for an entire school year. Business Manager Jimmy Butler was instructed to investigate alternatives.

In other business of the board, Dorothy Reed was hired as special education teacher. Also, Jim Bob Jacobs was hired as eighth grade boys coach and teacher. Chris Wilde was hired as junior varsity and freshman football coach and teacher.

Superintendent Tommy Lancaster reported on special education needs. Presently, some Winters students are bused to Ballinger for special education. Ballinger ISD has informed Lancaster that, in the coming school year, an increase in Ballinger special education students fills all the class-

Winters man helps recover stolen school van

WINTERS POLICE CHIEF CAREY BALENTINE examines the 1989 Dodge van stolen from the Rochester Independent School District last week. The van was recovered in Winters as a result of efforts of a Winters man.

A 15-passenger van stolen from the Rochester Independent School District sometime early last Thursday was recovered in Winters Friday morning.

Dan Miller of Winters was out walking about 6:45 a.m. on June 17, and noticed the 1989 Dodge van on the parking lot of Holloway's Video. Miller had read about the stolen van just that morning and promptly notified Winters police.

Carey Balentine, Winters police chief, notified Rochester authorities who confirmed that was the van in question and also provided the name of a possible suspect. Investigation by the Winters police revealed the suspect had a sister living in Winters.

Francisco Reyna, 18, of Rochester was apprehended about 9:30 a.m. at a relative's house and taken to Runnels County jail. Reyna also had outstanding warrants for three misdemeanors.

The van contained three new air conditioning units which appeared to be undisturbed upon examination by Balentine.

room space making it impossible for them to take the Winters students.

Lancaster stated this would mean more special education facilities would be required in the Winters system to handle its own students. He is studying this presently and will report further information.

Those present for the meeting were Gary Pinkerton, Ronald Presley, Bob Webb, Joe Bryan, Bob Prewit (arriving at 8:55 p.m.) and Joe Pritchard (arriving at 10:10 p.m.) Charles Allcom was absent.

David Smith didn't get a new tie for Father's Day this year

by Jean Boles

As Father's Day approaches each year, many folks wonder what to buy that special man and what would he really like or need.

For Winters resident, David Smith, his wish list for Father's Day was quite unique.

Smith, 50, received a new heart on June 12 in Dallas. Six days later, his oldest daughter was married in the First Baptist Church of Winters.

Now that's a busy week!

Smith had what was probably his first heart attack on Wednesday of the last week of July, 1993. By Saturday, he decided to see a doctor because he was having the same symptoms he had had earlier in the week.

His doctors determined that he needed triple by-pass surgery, which he received within a few days.

While this surgery brought some temporary improvement in his condition, his doctors decided he was definitely a candidate for a heart transplant.

So the anticipation began.

David was placed on a waiting list and constantly wore a beeper in case a suitable donor became available. Time was of the essence for David, his wife and two daughters.

The oldest daughter, Carrie Sue, had originally planned her wedding for later this summer. However, her father's deteriorating medical condition prompted Carrie and her fiancé, Jody Guy, to move their wedding date to June 18, the day before Father's Day.

In a traditional fashion, Carrie planned to walk down the aisle arm-in-arm with her father.

But that plan fell by the wayside as David and his wife Cindy drove to Dallas the evening of June 12. They planned to spend the night so David would be rested for his routine medical checkup on Monday morning.

Shortly after they arrived in Dallas, David's beeper sounded and word came—a new heart for David was available. Could they hurry to Dallas to prepare for surgery?

Talk about being in the right place at the right time. David and Cindy immediately contacted the Transplant Center and he was admitted to St. Paul's Medical Center.

After seven hours of surgery, David Smith left the operating room with a new heart.

And Carrie's wedding was only six days away.

Six short, hectic days if you're preparing a wedding. Six long, anxious days if you're adjusting to a new heart.

Thankfully, this story has a happy ending. David is doing very well, is walking some, and will remain hospitalized at least two more weeks. He will be required to stay in the Dallas area for several months so that the doctors can closely monitor his progress.

Carrie and Jody were married last Saturday. Carrie looked absolutely radiant coming down the aisle, proudly escorted by her mother (who should get some sort of award for juggling major events of life).

So David got a new heart and a new son-in-law.

Not your typical Father's Day gifts, but I bet David is happy about both of them and won't return either.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles ©1994

It's time for Oil Patch Basics, and, this month, we are going to talk about the sucker rod.

Simply named, the origin of which I am unsure, but it could relate to the general purpose of pumping oil and water out of a well. At any rate, the sucker rod is a very common item in the oil patch, especially considering that hundreds of thousands of wells are pumped using sucker rods.

Specifically, a sucker rod is an elongated piece of metal that is run into oil wells (inside of tubing). It has on the downhole end a rod pump, which is in place to pump liquid to the surface (up the tubing). On the upper end, it connects to the surface pumping unit.

This connection between the pumping unit and the downhole pump allow the pump to work the fluid to the surface using the power of the pumping unit.

The sucker rod may seem like a relatively simple piece of equipment, but it has many hidden complexities.

The sucker rod can come in any number of metal alloys, depending on the service environment that will be encountered. There are so many types of rods that there is a system of nomenclature utilized to keep up with them.

There are "C" rods, "K" rods, "KD" rods and on and on. These are API (American Petroleum Institute) labels, and manufacturers have their own variations. Each label tells the potential user something about the alloy used, the resistance to corrosion, the strength, and the rod's longevity.

Although the rod pump is given a lot of consideration upon selection, the sucker rod selection may be given very little thought. Considering that the rod string can often cost as much as 9 or 10 times the price of the pump, the rod selection is worth the time.

A rod consists of a pin, a wrench square, the body, another wrench square, and another pin.

The pin is the threaded part of the rod and is screwed into a "box", which is a term for the female connector of two rods (threaded on the inside). The wrench square is for tightening the rods into the boxes. The body is the slender part of the rod and comprises most of the length of the rod (usually 25 feet except for pony rods which are varying lengths).

Rods are usually run into a hole in "doubles" or "trebles" which refer to two or three at a time, unless it is the first time the rods have been run. In that case, they are run in one at a time and connected each one to another.

The same is true for pulling the rods out of the hole. Depending on the size of the workover rig, they will be pulled out two or three at a time.

Rods can fail because of too much stress, corrosion, or even from manufacturer's defect. It can cost as much as $10,000 just to pull a well, so good design of a rod string can be very valuable.

I did leave out some of the other uses of sucker rods, such as building fences, carports, and simulated jail houses. But, I tried to stick to the "official" uses for this space.

Top ten things you should know about Social Security

With apologies to Dave Letterman, here are the top ten things you should know about Social Security.

Number 10: Your Social Security benefit is based on your earnings, so make sure your employer is using your correct name and Social Security number when reporting your earnings to the government.

Number 9: Social Security is more than retirement. Disability coverage for people who can't work for a year or more and survivors benefits for the family members of a worker who has died are important and often overlooked parts of Social Security.

Number 8: When you work, you earn Social Security "credits", up to a maximum of four per year. Most people need 40 credits (10 years of work) to qualify for retirement benefits. Younger people need fewer credits for disability and survivors coverage.

Number 7: Social Security provides benefits to qualified family members of retired and disabled workers. Generally, children under 18 can get checks and so can a spouse who's 62 or older or who's caring for a minor child. In many cases, divorced spouses also get benefits.

Number 6: You can get an estimate of your Social Security benefits and a copy of your earnings history by calling 1-800-772-1213.

Number 5: Check with Social Security about a year before you plan to retire. In some cases, you can get retirement benefits even before you stop working.

Number 4: When you file for retirement benefits, we need to see a certified copy of your birth certificate and your last W-2 form (or tax return if you're self-employed).

Number 3: Social Security should not be directly compared to private savings and pension programs because "social" objectives are a fundamental part of Social Security. For example, workers with low incomes get a benefit that represents a higher percentage of their earnings than do well-paid workers.

Number 2: You should not expect to live on your Social Security. The program was always intended to supplement, not replace, private pensions plans and other savings and investments.

Number 1: Social Security will be there when you need it. Social Security has changed a lot in the last 60 years, and it undoubtedly will change in the next 60 years... but a basic program that provides benefits to retired people, to people with disabilities, and to the survivors of a worker who has died will always be the foundation of our society's income maintenance network.

A Cousins Reunion

The Broadfoot-Cooke reunion was held Saturday, June 4 at Rose Park Recreation Center in Abilene. The family members in Abilene hosted the affair which lasted most of the day with a catered lunch by Briarstone. Horace and June Cooke and Beth Broadfoot Barr were in charge of arrangements.

Since the last gathering for the Dr. Robert Cooke family was in 1965 and the Jacob Oscar Broadfoots had never had one it was deemed necessary for the cousins to convene while they were still able to travel. The first generations were deceased, all except Robert Cooke, Jr. of Arlington, now 96, and the youngest of his family.

It all began when Dr. Cooke left his practice at Kentucky Town near Whitewright to come to West Texas in 1889 at the insistence of his wife, whose mother was expecting a baby. Sallie knew that she needed a doctor.

The H.C. Mitchells had moved to a farm on Bluff Creek a year before, north of present Winters. When the first public meeting place, a schoolhouse, was built with volunteer labor, Dr. Cooke assisted. He met with the citizens in January of 1890 to name the town Winters. He bought a block of land on Main Street where he built his house and attached his office to it.

The Cookes had two small children, Eula Mae and Carroll and Leslie was born at Winters. The family later moved to Rogers, Arkansas, but soon returned to Abilene to enter their daughter Juanita in Simmons College. While there, Dr. Cooke helped to organize the University Baptist Church. He and Mrs. Cooke and the two youngest children were charter members.

By 1910 they had moved to a small fruit farm at Clyde. Eula Mae was married to Charlie Graham and lived in Winters. The oldest son, Carroll Littleton, met Susie Oscar, daughter of Jacob Oscar and Elizabeth Ramsey Broadfoot of Clyde and they were married December 18, 1910.

Moore attains Master Florist Manager status

Florists' Transworld Delivery (FTD®) Association Member Mary Ellen Moore of Flowers, Etc., 115 S. Main, Winters has been certified as an FTD Master Florist Manager. FTD is the world's oldest and largest inter-city flowers-by-wire delivery organization.

To attain Master Florist Manager status, Mary Ellen successfully completed four FTD sponsored "Basic Knowledge" seminars. Each seminar was conducted over a two-day period to provide in-depth training on financial, marketing and management related topics.

Master Florist Managers are an elite group of FTD Florists striving to improve themselves and the floral industry through expanded knowledge and expertise.

The Broadfoots of Wigtownshire, Scotland fled to Ireland in the reign of Charles II of England, returning after 1688.

Andrew Broadfoot of the fourth generation had migrated to Florence, Alabama and died there. His fifth child, James, died in Texas. James' child, Jacob Oscar, was born in Arkansas, March 21, 1861, and later moved to Clyde where he died July 20, 1916. His two sons were Howell Gilmer and James Nolan, both deceased.

Nolan's two daughters attended: Beth Barr, also Bitsy and Wayne Berryman of Kilgore. Howell's adopted son, Hal Ray and wife, Charlene, of Clyde also attended.

Carroll and Susie's children attending in addition to Horace were two daughters: Wilna Grisham and Helen Schumann, both of Eden. Mary Ruth, Paul and Joe are deceased. Ramona, Joe's widow, brought her grandchildren by in the afternoon to visit.

The five children of Leslie and Retha Collins Cooke were present: Willis and Freda Cooke, Chickasha, Oklahoma; Morris and Nan Cooke, Canyon Lake; Julia Bryant, Marble Falls; Sarah Cooke and Carl Cooke, Garland; Maurine and Norman Heaton, Garland. The Willis Cooke's son, Frank and Pat Cooke of Gans, Oklahoma also attended.

Charlie and Eula Cooke Graham were represented by daughters Charlsie Poe, Winters, and Gladys Swoffard, Clyde, accompanied by her son Gaston's wife, Mary (Mert). Sons George and Robert Graham are deceased.

Tom and Juanita Cooke Taylor migrated to California during World War II and their two sons and three daughters continue to live there. None were able to join the cousins reunion.

Robert Cooke, 96, and his wife, Muriel, sent their good wishes. His daughter Lucille Mebus was unable to attend.

Many fond memories of visits with cousins were recalled.

Senior Citizens Nursing Home News

by Billie Ruth Bishop

Last Thursday the Winters Square Dancers entertained the residents at the Monthly Birthday Party. The Rebecca Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church hosted the affair. Punch and cookies were served and gifts were presented to the honorees. Those having birthdays in the month of June are Norbert Uecker and Gladys Joyce. Everyone enjoyed the square dancers and they are invited to come back any time.

We celebrated with another party at the Nursing Home on Friday. This was to honor the men in observance of Father's Day. Nelan Bahlman was on hand to bring us a program in song. We appreciate him giving of his time and sharing his talent with us. Gifts were presented to the oldest father, Robert Spill; youngest father, Lionicio Ruiz and father of the most children, Jim Barnes. Congratulations to these men.

Mr. Jim Barnes is a new resident in Senior Citizens Nursing Home. He is in room 23A.

We thank the Butts family for the beautiful flowers they shared with us.

We have two residents in the hospital at this time. Mrs. Ella LaJuan Foreman continues to be in Mr. Nolan Mowdy. We hope they have a good day.

We are making plans for a Family Night and Watermelon Supper on Tuesday night, July 5 on the lawn at the Nursing Home. The Winters Square Dancers have agreed to pay us another visit. There will be plenty of entertainment and fun for all.

DPS recruit school offered

The Texas Department of Public Safety is accepting applications for out-of-state applicants until July 15 and for in-state applicants until August 19 for its December, 1994, recruit school.

Following 23 weeks of intensive training, successful applicants will be commissioned as state troopers for the Texas Department of Public Safety, charged with enforcing traffic laws on rural Texas highways.

After 4 years with the DPS troopers will be able to compete for promotions within the Traffic Law Enforcement Division. Promotional opportunities eventually will be available in other DPS areas.

Applicants must be at least 20 years of age and have either 60 hours of college credits or prior military or law enforcement experience. U.S. citizenship, a Texas driver's license and a willingness to accept assignment anywhere in the State are also required. An applicant must successfully complete a written examination, a physical exam, an agility test, oral interviews and a thorough background investigation before being accepted.

The DPS offers state benefits and a starting salary for Trooper-Trainees of $1721 per month. Following graduation, troopers will be paid $1983 per month, with a raise every 6 months for the first year. Commissioned officers also receive hazardous duty pay and monthly allowances for meals, uniform cleaning and footwear. Uniforms and equipment are furnished by the Department.

For details on this challenging career opportunity, contact your nearest DPS office.

Fireworks June 26 in Ballinger

Ballinger's 5th annual fireworks display and free watermelon feed will be held at the new City Lake Park on Sunday, June 26th.

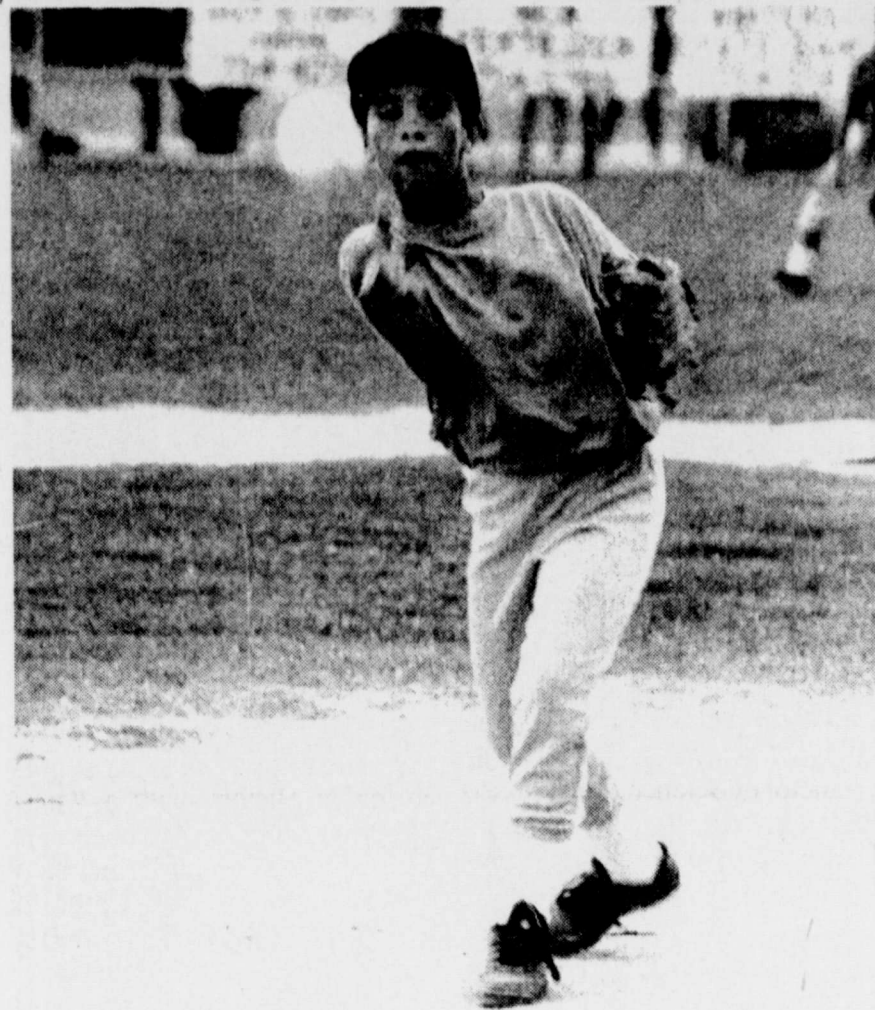

The event is sponsored by the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber officials will be on hand to sell hamburgers, chips, and tea beginning at 7 p.m., followed by the serving of free watermelon slices at 8 p.m.

The fireworks display is expected to begin about 9:15 p.m. and last approximately 20 minutes.

Last year's show was the largest display Ballinger had seen in several years, and this year's show is expected to be even more entertaining.

In the event of inclement weather, an alternate date of Monday, June 27th, at the same time and place has been set.

For more information you may contact the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce at (915)365-2333 or (915)365-5611.

ANGIE ROMAN of the Winters All-Stars 12 and Under, puts a pitch across the plate. The All-Stars have a 2-0 record as of June 21, having beaten Coleman and Sweetwater. The All-Star Tournament begins this Friday night at Nelson Park in Abilene, with games being played all day on Saturday. Coaches for the Winters All-Stars 12 and Under are Mary Lynn Presley and Nancy Spill.

Summer TIPS to begin next Monday

The summer TIPS program of WISD will get underway on June 27. All children participating in Chapter I Camp Learn-a-lot and the TIPS enrichment class should report to the Elementary Activity Center for a WOWW assembly at 9 a.m.

Breakfast will be served each morning at 8:30 and classes will begin promptly at 9. Lunch will be served from 12 - 1 each day. Children between the ages of 1 and 18 may eat lunch and/or breakfast daily at no charge.

Summer school students not enrolled in the afternoon summer TIPS program will ride the bus home at 12:30 after lunch.

Those children involved in afternoon TIPS should be picked up at the Elementary Activity Center between 5 and 5:30 each afternoon.

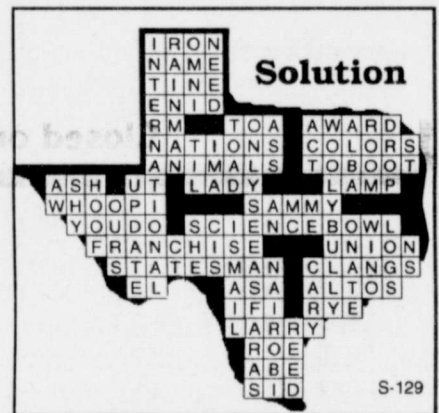

Students who have not returned signed permission slips for swimming and skating must do so before being allowed to participate in those activities. The information on this paper is also necessary because it provides emergency information. If you have lost this form, there will be blank forms available on the morning of June 27 (the first morning of summer school). Parents should bring their children to the Elementary Activity Center and check to make sure all forms are in order.

Thank you to Winters State Bank for donating pencils for summer school and to Mrs. Baird's Baker for donating afternoon snack products.

The TIPS staff anticipates a wonderful summer program. And looks forward to serving the children of Winters!

It was in the basement of a church in northern Minnesota on a cold November night. About 20 of us, mostly high schoolers plus a couple of preachers and 3 or 4 other adults. We were meeting to plan a church conference for youth. We were sharing thoughts and reflections on our churches.

One of the young women, a high school senior, said "When we come to church, we come together to stay apart!" What a statement! I could hardly believe my ears. Or, understand. So, I asked her, "What are you saying?"

She explained, "It's like this. On Sunday morning we do our chores, eat breakfast, clean up and get dressed up for church. We then all squeeze into the car. When we get to church - we all split up. I go to be with my friends, my brothers with theirs. Dad goes to the men folks. Mom goes to the choir. The only time we get together at church is after church, when we all squeeze together in our car and go home. We come together to stay apart."

I have not forgotten her statement. It was true for her. It is true for most of us. It is true in many churches. Someone has said that Sunday morning at church is the most segregated time of the week. I think they were talking about racial and sexual segregation. I'm not at all sure I agree about that. But, as far as the family splitting up I surely do agree. With our categories of people, dividing them into pre-school, elementary, Jr. High, High School, and all the other categories, we never really get together as a family. At least it seems so.

What about the family pew - where the whole family came together and sat together in one pew in church? It is a beautiful sight to see. One of my fondest memories of the church I served in northern Minnesota is that of the Chuck and Lavem Rongen family. They had five kids, four sons and a daughter. They always came in together and sat together - filled a pew. Chuck was a big man with a big heart. Lavem had the same qualities. They had their difficulties in raising their kids. But, on Sunday morning they were all there, together. An exception to the rest.

One time I commended Chuck for this practice. I asked him, "How do you do it? Don't the kids ever complain?" He replied, with a smile, "Often. They do complain. But I explain to them - the church is important, our family is important, and it is most important that we begin the week together, in church." Right on. Like Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

And, there are other benefits. One of my favorite definitions of the church is "the family of God." When we get right down to it, the love of God is thicker than blood. We get so that our families become intertwined with other families. Sometimes we have friction. But there is a stronger tie than our separations.

Just a few weeks ago, in our church basement at St. John's, we were having a dinner for the family - after a funeral. There were lots of people there. Our son Paul, his wife, Mary, and their newborn son, Timothy, were asked to come too. As we were eating, one of our older members, great-grandmother for sure, came over and put out her hands to hold the baby and free Mary to eat. The two strangers bonded in an instant. He snuggled into her arms, and she surrounded him with love. Where else could this happen but in the family of God? We sing, often, in church, "Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love, the fellowship of kindred minds is like to that above." For sure. In church. The family in church, and the church in the family.

Producers with broken terraces given variance

Due to the recent heavy rain-falls and the damage they caused, a variance has been granted for producers having broken terraces on their highly erodible fields in Runnels County.

This variance, for fields in Runnels County only, allows producers to postpone terrace repairs until this fall, when spring planted crops have been harvested.

Producers must have terrace repairs completed before they plant spring 1995 crops. This is to conform with the Conservation Compliance Program administered by USDA.

Producers who require assistance with these repairs may call the Soil Conservation Service at 365-3415, or come by the office at 2000 Hutchins Avenue in Ballinger between the hours of 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Soil temperatures for gardening

More important than moon signs and more predictable than weather is another variable which drastically affects how seeds and transplants grow: soil temperature. Soil temperature is a factor which few of us consider important enough to check before planting yet it is probably the most important factor affecting seed germination and plant growth. Soil temperatures at which vegetable seed will grow are classified into three categories—the minimum temperature required for seed growth, an optimum temperature and a “realistic” soil temperature. The realistic soil temperature is that temperature somewhere between optimum soil temperature for seed germination and the minimum temperature which will allow the seed to germinate. For instance, the optimum soil temperature for watermelon is 95° F, but at this temperature the summer heat will decrease yields and plant vigor. Yet if a gardener plants watermelon seed when the soil temperature is 60° F the seed will germinate, but growth will not be vigorous. Thus, there must be a realistic soil temperature. Following is a chart which lists the minimum, optimum and realistic soil temperatures for some of the most common garden crops.

Crop	Soil Temperatures Degrees F
	Minimum	Optimum	Realistic
Cucumber	60	95	64
Cantaloupe	60	95	68

Brochure available to dog owners for pet protection during the hot summer

Summertime is just around the corner, and with this season, there is important information that pet owners should know. For example:

- Not All Dogs can Swim!
- Dogs can get sunburned!
- In extreme heat, owners should limit the time their dogs stay outdoors!
- A dog should never be left in a car!

Many owners do not realize they need to adjust their pet's (and often their own) routine in the warm weather. Unfortunately, being uninformed can have tragic consequences.

In response to this situation, the American Kennel Club, the nation's leading pure-bred dog authority, has created a free brochure alerting dog owners to the safeguards and special care they need to give their dogs during the summer months.

Included in Canine Summer Safety Guidelines are general safety concerns, beach tips and swimming precautions to protect dogs from unnecessary accidents and injuries.

A free copy may be obtained by writing to AKC, Summer Safety Guidelines, 5580 Centerview Drive, Raleigh, NC 27606.

Letter to the Editor

Readers asked to contribute humor

Dear Editor,

From 1950 to 1957 Texans in all walks of life experienced the worst drought in the state's history, a phenomenon whose effects surpassed those of even the Great Depression and the Dustbowl. For the past seven years while completing my masters and doctoral degrees, I have studied those years and have increasingly come to appreciate the unique ability of Texans to cope with such environmental disasters.

Our best coping mechanism is laughter. Growing up in Junction, Texas on the edge of the Hill Country, I've heard the stories that circulate the local cafes, feed stores, race tracks, and rodeo arenas. Where ever Texans gather someone has a joke. The laughter those jokes bring helps us deal with life in a state where extremes of climate are the norm.

Now I'm collecting drought humor to preserve this special aspect of the Texan character and culture. I'm asking your readers to help by sharing with me their own drought jokes or funny real-life anecdotes. All contributors and localities will be acknowledged. Please send your stories to: Dr. Rana K. Williamson, 5708 Remington Cr. #2704, Ft. Worth, Texas 76132.

Thanks so much and keep praying for rain.

Sincerely,
Rana K. Williamson
