NEW QUARTERBACK? No, it's head coach Robin Byrd as he takes his Blizzards through plays during two-a-day workouts. Approximately 60 players will make up the varsity and junior varsity teams for Winters High School. An intrasquad scrimmage is tentatively planned for Friday, August 12, at 7 p.m.

Hit the books — school starts August 16

With temperatures still over the century mark and longings for fun in the sun at the pool or lake, students and faculty must soon "change gears" for back to school.

Tuesday, August 16, at 7:50 a.m. will be the first day of regular classes for Winters Public Schools. Teachers will have a work day on Monday, August 15.

New staff members include Sherry Cavazos, first grade; Pam Clark, fourth grade; Joanie Prado, sixth grade; Heidi Brewer, chapter I; Sharon Thomas, special education; Liz Anderson, elementary counselor; Cynthia Davis, English; Sue Reed, special education; Ral Dees, math; Chris Wilde, social studies; Jim Bob Jacobs, math; Charles Wilson, counselor; and Sharon Cochran, special education.

Several teachers and other staff members have new assignments this year.

The public is invited to meet the elementary faculty and staff on Monday, August 15, at 7 p.m. Students may locate their teachers and take their school supplies to their room assignments at that time.

The TIPS after school program of WISD will begin serving children before and after school on the first day of school, August 16. There will be a partnership fee of $25 required again this year.

Drivers are reminded that special school zone speed limits will be in effect during the school year and extreme caution should be taken at all times. Areas with posted speed limits are Heights Street (in front of the elementary school and administrative offices), Rogers Street (behind elementary school, near tennis courts, bus loading zone and Activity Building), Novice Road (street running east and west by football field) and Main Street (in areas designated by signals).

"Meet the Blizzards" this Friday with scrimmage and ice cream

Football fans will have an opportunity to view the upcoming varsity and junior varsity squads this Friday evening at the annual "Meet the Blizzards" scrimmage and ice cream supper.

The freshmen will scrimmage the junior varsity at 7 p.m. followed by an intrasquad scrimmage among the varsity players.

Head coach Robin Byrd said that approximately sixty young men have come out for football this year. Two-a-day practices started August 3, with the first two weeks of workouts devoted to conditioning and teaching.

Byrd states, "We've lost several (prospects) that we thought would play but, for various reasons, decided not to. A few have dropped out from injuries or other reasons, reducing the 72 beginning Blizzards to 60 toughing it out."

The public is invited to support the Big Blue as they take the field this Friday night. Homemade ice cream will be served following the scrimmage. Anyone wanting to bring ice cream is welcome to do so.

The Blizzards may scrimmage Eldorado on Thursday, August 18, at Blizzard Field beginning with the freshmen squad at 6 p.m.

On Thursday, August 26, the Blizzards travel to Colorado City to scrimmage against the Wolves at 6 p.m.

Support your local Volunteer Fire Department: attend barbeque this Sunday

The annual Firemen's Barbeque will be held Sunday, August 14 at the Winters school cafeteria from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. A menu of brisket and sausage and all the trimmings will be served. Cost will be $3 for children ages 12 and under and $6 for adults.

The purpose of this event is to raise funds for a new fire station and much needed equipment and supplies.

The department has recently purchased a new fire truck; however, another pumper truck is still urgently needed. Based on the population of Winters, the VFD is required to maintain at least two pumper trucks. A 1965 model truck, still in use, will not qualify for any key rating when it becomes 30 years old.

This past year, the Winters VFD has responded to 16 alarms in the city of Winters and to 44 alarms rurally.

The Winters Independent School Board instructed Huckabee and Associates to design a new cafeteria and band hall.

The board wants a cafeteria connected to the 1954 gym. The foyer of the present gym would connect the new cafeteria to the gym. The west end of the gym would have glass areas enabling one to watch basketball games from the cafeteria.

A larger seating area than what is in the present cafeteria was also requested. A south entrance was asked for in addition to the entrance through the present gym.

Attached on the north end of the cafeteria would be the elementary learning lab and classroom.

The $40,000 award by the state for educational excellence given in 1993 would be used to assist in building and furnishing.

West of the new cafeteria and elementary lab would be a band hall that would be a separate building. A design by Band Director Todd Felty would be used to help draw up these plans.

All of these building plans plus the elevator in the high school building need to be built for less than $900,000. This is the amount of reserve funds that would be available. No taxes would be used to build these buildings.

Another consideration for the board is how to feed students during construction. The first thing needed to be done would be to demolish the old cafeteria. The length of time to build the new building would take longer than the summer break.

The architect will finish plans before September for the board to consider.

During the August 3 called board meeting, resignations were accepted from Peggy Harrington, Teri Johnson, and Dana Yancy.

Based upon recommendations of Principals Kidwell and Wyatt, Ral Dees and Pamela Clark were hired as teachers.

No other action was taken by the board. Gary Don Pinkerton, Charles Allcom, Joe Pritchard, Ronald Presley, Bob Webb, and Bob Prewit were present for the meeting. Joe Bryan was absent.

Football ticket sales to begin August 11

Sale of 1994 season tickets for the Winters Blizzards football games will begin on Thursday, August 11. There will be a period of one-week during which last year's season ticket holders will be given the option of purchasing them again for this season.

Sales for fans who did not have season tickets last year will begin on Thursday, August 18 and close on Thursday, August 25. These tickets will be sold on a first come, first serve basis.

Season tickets will be sold as a book of five tickets to include all home games. They can be purchased at the school business office between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on the specified dates. Price per book will be $15.

Tickets for out-of-town games will be available at the business office beginning on Wednesday mornings and continuing until Friday noon for that Friday's game. Tickets will also be sold in the secretaries' offices of the elementary and secondary schools. Student tickets will be $2 each if purchased at school.

The first home game of the season will be against Roscoe on September 2.

TREASURES GALORE! Clemmie Reel of Winters pays for her bargains to Lion Larry Suit assisted by wife, Carol, during Saturday's Treasure Extravaganza Garage Sale. The event, sponsored by the Lions Club, raised more than $1,000 to be used for local community projects.

Council accepts donated properties, hires Main Street Program manager

The Winters City Council has accepted the deeded property of the Winters Sheet Metal building on West Dale Street. Accepting this property will assist the city in cleaning up abandoned buildings for the Main Street Program.

In other business of the regular city council meeting Monday evening, a motion was passed to add a fourth fine to the Animals and Fowl Regulations.

If an animal is picked up by the city animal control officer once in a year, a fine of five dollars is assessed and the dog must be rabie vaccinated and a city license obtained. For the second pick up in a year, the fine will be ten dollars; three times will be a fifteen dollar fine. Now, the fourth pick up will constitute a fifty dollar fine.

Attorney Ken Slimp told the council that public notice in the newspaper will have to be published before the fine could be assessed on anyone.

Rebecca (Moore) McCowan has been hired as a part-time employee for the city and will be the Main Street Program manager. McCowan will also work as a general clerk in the city offices.

Budget workshop times were set for the council for August 15 at

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles ©1994

Some folks have raised the issue of the Alaskan North Slope (ANS) export ban with me of late. They want to know what it is and what does it mean.

So as not to get hoarse by explaining it a hundred separate times, I'll just save my voice and explain it once here.

The ANS export ban is a ban on exporting crude oil from Alaska to anywhere except (effectively) California. This ban came about when the Prudhoe Bay field was being developed in the 1970's and brought on line through the Alaskan Pipeline. It was intended to prevent anyone from taking U.S. oil to Japan or anywhere else, since we all needed it so badly here (witness the high gasoline prices in the late 1970's).

At the time, it seemed a noble purpose. After all, anybody that would allow someone to sell American oil when every drop was needed at home was considered a traitor. The law was intended to force the issue.

However, over the years we have discovered that a certain amount of oil will be imported in the Eastern U.S. in any event. And, the selling of Alaskan oil in California only does not even statistically effect any reduction in imports across the country. In fact, it only serves to depress the California sales market so much so as to cause producers to cut production and suffer financially.

Now, there is a push to lift the ban on Alaskan exports. Proponents argue that this will actually increase domestic production, help the balance of trade, and create jobs in Alaska and California. Opponents of lifting the ban say that no appreciable positive economic effect will be seen by allowing exports out of Alaska. They further argue there is no reason to lift the ban as a result.

I tend to think that anytime someone or some government tinkers with the law of supply and demand, there will be trouble. This ban is simply a distortion of what the true market is trying to establish.

This would lead me to believe that lifting the ban would be beneficial because it would erase this artificial roadblock in the economy. Of course there are national security considerations, but, all-in-all, the Alaskan crude is a drop in a bucket in the import/export picture.

But, I am no expert in this type of study, so further evaluation would prove helpful before finalizing the report. However, the debate will continue. I suggest that you people out there examine the issue yourself and make your own decision based on whatever opinions you might have.

And, everyone should follow up by calling their congressman to demand accountability and consideration for their concerns.

Business organization discusses Main Street Project and recent vandalism in downtown Winters

The Winters Area Business and Industrial Corporation met in regular session on August 3. The call to order was given by President Nelan Bahlman.

It was noted that a new slate of officers will be elected in October.

In an update of the Main Street Project, members were told that the application is being processed. An application for a $350,000 grant is also being processed. To receive the grant, the City would be required to contribute $90,000 in matching funds.

Two old buildings located on West Dale St. will be demolished when they become the City's property. The owners of the buildings are making necessary arrangements to donate them to the City.

A vote was taken concerning a motion for the WABIC to pay half the cost of including Winters in the West Texas Travel Guide.

Coleman will be the site of the Texas Mid-West meeting on September 13.

Members were reminded of the pending N.A.F.T.A./Hwy. 83 project.

A discussion was held concerning the recent vandalism to the downtown area. It was agreed that the vandalism must be stopped. Methods of achieving this will be investigated.

Members in attendance were Nelan Bahlman, Joe Gerhart, Archie Jobe, Mac Sayles, Tommy Russell, Jim Hanson and Gary Moore.

Poe's Corner

by Charlsie Poe

Even senior adults go home sometime

It was hot when our train pulled into the station at Mount McKinley, but it was not uncomfortable for long. We checked into the park's lodge and made ready to board a bus for an eight-hour wildlife tour into the park.

We were advised to take sweaters and light jackets for it would be cool in the late afternoon. As soon as the bus pulled out on the 61-mile run into the wilderness, we were cool. It was a tour designed both to explore the wildlife of the park and to see its beauty.

There were no grizzly bears to our disappointment but we hadn't been busing more than 15 minutes when we saw a cow moose with two young ones grazing on willow. We also saw caribou - 15 or 20 of them during the evening.

One of the pleasures afforded us was eating supper outdoors at a 2,900-foot pass in Mount Kinley National Park. We ate by the roadside in a natural setting. It was a hot stew, served with biscuits, drink, and vanilla dessert. A catering truck followed us and driver-guides served the meal.

We climbed above the road to find places on rocks and ledges or sprawled on the ground to eat. We were lucky the day had been hot. It cleared the sky of clouds, and we have a very distinct clear view of majestic Mount McKinley, at one vantage point about 75 miles away. It can only be seen on clear days.

Two miles out of Fairbanks, to the left of the Steese Highway, we see the pipe storage yard and truck traffic control center for the trans-Alaska pipeline. Our driver-guide pointed out a building that was well insulated, heated and built at a cost of $9,000. It was the modern version of the "old out house".

The pipeline brought a tremendous boom to Fairbanks. It stretches 860 miles from the north slope oil fields at Prudoe Bay to Valdez on the coast. It was built by eight major oil companies and employed 14,000 people.

The ride into Anchorage, afforded much good scenery as a panorama of mountains (many covered with snow), lakes, rivers, and forests passed before us.

Time in Anchorage is measured from the earthquake - not only the date, March 27, 1964, but the hour, 5:36 p.m. It was Good Friday.

The earthquake was devastating. It did $8,000,000,000 in damage, destroyed more than 150 commercial buildings and many homes. It killed 115 people here and elsewhere and jolted 22,000 miles of area.

It opened crevices from 32 to 35 feet deep and raised or lowered the ground three to eight feet along a 500-mile area.

Anchorage was our last stop before returning home. We saw Earthquake Park where most of the signs of the 1964 earthquake have been erased.

After a winding drive along the shore of the Scenic Turnagain Arm, we visit the Portage Glacier. It discharges icebergs which float across the Glacier Lake.

The last day we are on our own. Some of us take a drive to Matanuska Valley, the major agricultural area, where potatoes, cabbage, turnips, zucchini and alfalfa are grown. The growing season is only three months but crops develop quickly because of the long daylight hours. Seventy pound cabbage and 30 lb. turnips are not unusual, but tomatoes can only be grown in hothouses.

Anchorage is built around Ship Creek and we stood at the dam to watch the salmon as they came to spawn or jump the fish ladder to the streams beyond.

Each day of our trip seemed more interesting than the last, but even senior adults have to come home sometime.

Bill Baird appointed to Board of Sheriffs' Association

Sheriff William "Bill" Baird was appointed as a director of the Board of the Sheriffs' Association on July 27 at Austin.

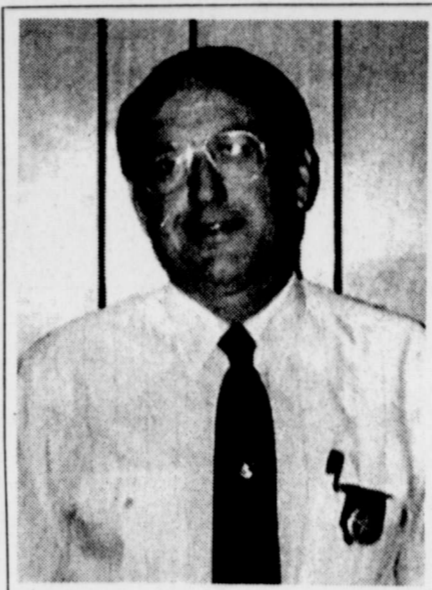

This was the Sheriffs' Association of Texas 116th Annual Training Conference with over 1000 participants.

Sheriff Baird has been in office in Runnels County since April, 1983. He is a distinguished public servant and has supported the Association with his time and dedication to good law enforcement. His goal during his tenure in office is to expand the training for peace officers throughout the state.

The Sheriffs' Association of Texas is the oldest law enforcement association in the nation. The sheriffs met for the first time on August 14, 1874, in the Courthouse in Corsicana, Navarro County. The meeting was called to order by General L.S. Ross of Waco.

The sheriffs began annual training conferences in 1878. These training conferences today are the largest composite gathering of law enforcement officers in Texas. It includes all federal and state law enforcement agencies as well as sheriffs and other county and city law enforcement agencies, along with major industry security forces. Each annual training conference, following a legislative session, provides training on new legislation which was passed that affects law enforcement.

In addition to the annual training conferences, the Association conducts training throughout the year for law enforcement agencies. Last January, an administrative school was conducted for all sheriffs and their chief deputies at the Department of Public Safety Training Academy in Austin with 100 in attendance.

The Sheriffs' Association of Texas coordinates its efforts with federal, state, county and city agencies and other law enforcement associations to promote cooperation, training, education and more efficient services to the public.

The Association recently completed a memorial on the Association grounds which honors all sheriffs, deputies and jailers who have been killed in the performance of their law enforcement duties. Currently there are 219 names on the memorial wall.

Blizzard Booster Club elects 1994-95 officers

The Blizzard Booster Club kicked off the 1994-95 season with a meeting at the new field house on Monday evening.

Head coach and athletic director Robin Byrd conducted a tour of the weight room, locker rooms, offices and storage areas in the newly constructed field house. A look at the old field house showed many improvements which have been completed throughout the summer to benefit the junior high football players.

Hi-tech video equipment, new jerseys and helmets are only a few of the extras allowed this year. Due to a budget cut, there were no new pants purchased this year, and meals for out-of-town games will be limited to $5.00 per player.

Following the tour, a meeting was conducted by president Michael Deike to elect new officers. Those elected were Michael Deike, president; Scotty Belew, vice-president; Gwen Andrae, secretary; Peggy Belew, treasurer; and Brenda Burton, reporter.

Committees were formed in order to distribute the many duties of the club. Concession stand workers will be organized by Susan Conner and Gwen Andrae. Melanie Wade will coordinate the Halloween carnival. Kay Guy will be in charge of the posters. Buttons for the junior high, junior varsity and varsity will be the duty of Rhonda Joeris. Dickie Clough will make the yard signs.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, August 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the field house. Fund raisers will be discussed and a date to clean the concession stand will be set.

All interested persons, especially parents of any school athlete, are always welcome to attend the Blizzard Booster Club meetings.

Since early Tuesday morning, our home has become an "action center". At approximately 5 a.m. on Tuesday, our son Nathan, his lovely wife, Ruth, and their 3 children, Ezekiel, Samuel, and Anna, arrived in Winters. It is a long drive from American Falls, Idaho, where Nathan is pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church. Since it is so long a drive, Ramona and I decided to meet them in Lubbock, leave our car in a church parking lot there, and drive them home in their suburban - which would give us three more hours with them coming in, and three hours going. It was great. Like Nathan said, "It was like having a long cup of coffee - with you driving - and it gave us a chance to have a good visit."

On Tuesday at 9:00, little voices were heard. As we gathered for breakfast, a new kind of table talk. The very first question Ezekiel asked was, "Grandpa, when can we go fishing?" Anna said, "I don't want to go fishing - I want to go swimming." Sam said, "Let's do both." Before breakfast was over, I could see who's agenda was coming before us. So, we made a few decisions. And, for sure, we went fishing.

Going fishing with a 10-year old, an 8-year old, and a 5-year old plus their dad and mom is a little different than going fishing with Ramona. Two-thirds of the excitement is getting ready. "Grandpa, can we dig for worms?" As we were walking down the road to town, Zeke said, "Grandpa, can I cut one of these canes for a pole?" So, we got a pole. Like Huck Finn, years ago. And, because of the generosity of one of our members, we took off for his tank, loaded down with "big expectations" on the part of the children, and some real "apprehension" on the part of Grandpa. We got there - and there were worms for us, poles to use, and a place to fish.

Well, Grandpa caught the first 2, nothing to brag about. Nate caught 1, nothing to brag about. The grandsons and Anna were patiently fishing, feeling the little fish peel the bait off the hooks, but not able to hook them. Such patience! After a couple hours of this, Zeke asked me, "Grandpa, I can cast. Can I use your pole and casing rig?" I said, "Sure." And said a prayer, "God get him a fish."

It wasn't but a few minutes later. "Grandpa, I caught one. I'm bringing him in." And he did. And, it was a real keeper, 2- 3 lb. bass. The smile on Zeke's face was as big as the fish, and the gleam in his eyes was as shimmering as the scales of the fish as it broke water. Such a thrill!

It's not cheating to say a little prayer when you go fishing. And it is most proper to say "Thank you, Jesus," when you do. And to say "Thank you" to the folks who let you fish on their place in their tanks. It really takes a lot of work to make it possible for people to catch fish. The poles, the reels, the bait, the farmer who cleans and stocks the tanks, the parents and grandparents. But - God, too. One of the folks there, another parishioner said, "That fish your grandson caught has probably laid 10,000 eggs." That's God's work - for sure.

Last night we gathered around the table to play "Skip-Bo". This is a new game for the kids. Rounded out the day. The kids were sleepy. Trundled off to bed. And this morning, here is Zeke asking me, "Grandpa can we go fishing today?" And, about an hour later, in the yard, rigging up a new cane pole. "Can I use my pole, Grandpa?" "Sure, Zeke." There's a lesson here. Somehow it will be better if he can catch a fish on a pole he has made. And I sure hope it happens. And, for sure, it's so great that our home is an "action center" for a few days. It's what real life is all about. (We haven't watched T.V. for 1 minute since they came.)

NOTICE OF EFFECTIVE TAX RATE

1994 Property Tax Rates in North Runnels Hospital District

This notice concerns 1994 property tax rates for North Runnels Hospital District. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:	$ 274,420.56
Last year's operating taxes	$.00
Last year's debt taxes	$ 274,420.56
Last year's total taxes	$ 274,420.56
Last year's tax base	$ 109,718,870.00
Last year's total tax rate	$.25000/$100

This year's effective tax rate:	$ 271,803.68
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 103,857,410.00
This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$.26170/$100

(In the first year a hospital district or city collects the additional sales tax it must insert the following lines unless it made its first adjustment last year:)

Sales tax adjustment rate	$ NA/$100
Effective tax rate	$ NA/$100

x 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing

This year's rollback tax rate:	$ 271,803.68
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 103,857,410.00
This year's adjusted tax base	$.26170/$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$.28264/$100
+ This year's debt rate	$.00/$100
= This year's rollback rate	$.28264/$100

A hospital district or city that collects the additional sales tax to reduce property taxes, including one that collects the tax for the first time this year, must insert the following lines:

Sales tax adjustment rate	$ NA/$100
Rollback tax rate	$ NA/$100

For a taxing unit with additional rollback rate for pollution control, insert the following lines:)

Additional rate for pollution control requirement	$ NA/$100
Rollback tax rate	$ NA/$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following estimated balances will be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the current fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

SCHEDULE B: 1994 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amount for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

School tips for parents

Send your children off to their first day of school well equipped and full of excitement. The following are some ideas to help ease the transition from summer vacation to classroom education, and make the school year a happy, safe and productive one.

GRADE SCHOOL—Develop a phone chain with the names and phone numbers of your child's teachers and the parents of his/her classmates. Make everyone on the list responsible for calling the next person on the list. This network is a quick and accurate way of sharing information about early dismissals, snow days, field trips, etc., and also serves as a valuable telephone directory.

Take a moment to teach your child about safety and strangers. Keep track of their rides to and from school, and instruct them not to go with anyone who isn't their designated ride. And whenever possible have someone there to meet them when they come home from school.

HIGH SCHOOL—Because the day doesn't end when the final school bell rings, make sure that your child has a healthy, quick-energy snack and a few dollars in their pocket to get them through both after-school activities and your front door.

Make an effort to get to know the names and phone numbers of your child's closest friends. Being in touch with their circle of friends will help you to know where they are, and will make it easier to notify them in the case of an emergency.

COLLEGE—Send a little bit of home. Care packages are a great way to show your child that you're thinking about them. A few of their favorite goodies will make them feel closer to home - and let you know that they're getting enough to eat.

If you are applying for a foster child, the application must have the child's name, the child's "personal use" income, and an adult signature. If you do not list a food stamp or AFDC case number for the child you are applying for, then the application must have the child's name, the names of all household members, the amount of income each person got last month and where it came from, the signature of an adult household member, and that adult's social security number or the word "none" if the adult does not have a social security number. If your child gets meals because you get food stamps or AFDC, you must tell the school when you are not getting AFDC or food stamps for them. You may then fill out another application giving income information.

Confidentiality: School officials use the information on the application only to decide if your child should get free or reduced-price meals.

Reapplication: You may apply for meals anytime during the school year. If you are not eligible now but have a change in status, like a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, become unemployed or get food stamps or AFDC for your child, you may then complete an application.

NOTICE OF EFFECTIVE TAX RATE
1994 Property Tax Rates in Runnels County

This notice concerns 1994 property tax rates for Runnels County. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

The Education of a Small Town Doc

by Keith Boles

Howdy, Winters! Well, the big licensing exam is over. I woke up on time, got to the test on time, and didn't go blank during the test. None of the nightmares I had been having became reality.

On July 5th, the third year started. This is the start of the clinical years when they throw you in the hospital to see if you will sink or swim. I am starting with the Obstetrics/Gynecology (OB/GYN) rotation. It's six weeks long. I delivered my first baby at 5:53 p.m. on 7/19! It is quite an experience to bring a new life into the world. I don't know who was more scared: the mother, the baby, or me.

I'll give you a general overview of my day on the OB/GYN rotation. I wake up at 4:30 and get to the hospital by 6:00. The first thing we do is morning rounds on the post-partum floor which means we go in and see all the mothers who've delivered babies in the previous couple of days. Some have delivered the normal way and others by Caesarean-section. We go in and ask them how they're doing, if they had any problems during the night, check their incisions if they had a Caesarean, and give them a brief physical (listen to heart and lungs and feel the height of the uterus in the abdomen).

When we're done with this, the OB/GYN residents show up and we round again. At each patient's door, we give a little presentation of each patient's situation and how they're doing, i.e. if they have a fever, nausea, vomiting, etc.

On Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays, we also present the patients to the attending physician. Now I'm going to digress to explain the hierarchy of a teaching hospital.

As a medical student, I'm at the bottom of the totem pole, and the intern is next. The intern is a first year resident. Interns and residents have graduated from medical school and are M.D.s. Residencies vary according to specialty from three years for family practice to seven years for neurosurgery. Just keep in mind that an intern is a first year resident.

The intern is charged with the day-to-day operations of a hospital ward; admitting and discharging patients, writing orders for laboratory tests and medications, etc. The upper level residents supervise the interns and medical students. They usually assume care of more complicated patients and keep close watch over the therapeutic decisions of the interns.

The attending physician is the head Kahuna. Whatever he or she says goes. They've had many years of experience in the care of patients and keep up with the latest medical literature and sometimes do research on the side. The responsibility for the care of patients ultimately lies with the attending physician. His signature is on all the charts. If a patient sues for malpractice, it is the attending physician who gets sued. Because of this, he or she usually oversees the management of each patient.

Now I will take up my story where I left off. On Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays, we present each patient to the attending physician. This is to give him a general idea of what's going on with each patient. If he agrees with the management of the patient, he simply signs the chart and moves on to the next. If he doesn't agree, then he/she advises the residents or students on how best to manage the patient. It is his or her choice whether to give the advice politely or impolitely.

Rounds are done around 8:30 and clinic starts at 9:00. In Obstetrics clinic, we see pregnant mothers coming in for regular biweekly or monthly checkups and in the Gynecology clinic, we see women coming in for yearly pap smears and checkups or women with gynecological problems.

Clinic lasts from 9-12 and 1-4. If it's busy in the morning, however, we may not get a lunch break. In clinic, they let us do everything. We go in by ourselves, see the patients, and then go back to the chartroom and present the patient to the residents. If they agree with our assessment, we're done. If a pelvic exam needs to be performed, we get a nurse and a resident to give us guidance and supervision as we perform the exam. We do afternoon rounds, but they are very abbreviated and informal.

On nights I'm not on call, I usually get home about 5:30-6:00 p.m. I am on call about every fourth night. Being on call means we sleep at the hospital, which I don't look forward to. Since babies deliver at all hours, I don't get much sleep while on call. So far I've averaged about 2 hours per night. The worst part is that we don't get to go home in the morning. We have a full work day ahead. So when I get home the night after call, I'm usually asleep by 8 p.m.

So that's the way my time is spent here on OB/GYN rotation. I don't enjoy the nights spent away from my wife when I'm on call at the hospital, but I guess that's just part of the dues I have to pay.

Testing and grading for the OB/GYN rotation consists of three things: we take an NBME (National Board of Medical Examiners) final exam (50% of final grade), a departmental written final (30%), and then there are "subjective evaluations" (20%). Subjective evaluations are the residents' and attending physicians' opinions of the medical student. And as the label implies, they are subjective. If the student and the resident or attending physician don't see eye to eye, the student will likely get a lower grade from the doctor. That's just the way the ol' ball bounces.

Well, that's what I'm up to at this time. Next rotation is Psychiatry. I'll write about that next time.

Winters Police Beat

The information below is taken from reports on file with the Winters Police Department. Some of the information is provided to police by citizens, and in some cases, police have not finished investigating the reports. These reports make up a small percentage of the total calls the Department receives and responds to each week.

- Winters Police Department reports received and/or investigated from Sunday, July 31 through Saturday, August 6, 1994. Winters Police Officers:
 - executed a Narcotics Search Warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Joyce Weems. A quantity of marijuana and drug paraphernalia was located in the residence. Alberta Ortega, 35, of Winters was arrested and charged with Possession of Marijuana, a Class B Misdemeanor, and Possession of Drug Paraphernalia. Officers of the Winters Police Department were assisted by Runnels County Precinct 2 Constable Archie Jobe.
 - responded to a report of an intoxicated person causing a disturbance on TX 153 and arrested Jimmy Wayne Nesbit, 36, of Winters for Public Intoxication and Disorderly Conduct.
 - investigated a report of children being left unattended in a vehicle. There was insufficient evidence to support charges against the suspect and the case was ruled unfounded.
 - investigated a reported Criminal Trespass in the 300 block of Redner. The case was unfounded.
 - investigated a reported Family Disturbance in the 300 block of N. Fannin. Charges were filed on Jose Martinez Rodriguez, 45, and Betsy Ortega, age not available, both of Winters, for Class C Assault-Family Violence.
 - while in the process of investigating another case, a report of Disorderly Conduct was made to the investigating officer. The victim in the case wished to file charges. Mary Ellen Rodriguez, 18, of Winters was filed on for Disorderly Conduct by Abusive and Profane Language.
 - investigated a traffic accident at Novice Road and N. Concho in which a 1992 Chevrolet Corsica driven by Susan Conner of Winters collided with a 1992 International bobtail truck driven by Victor Santoya of Winters. Mrs. Conner was transported to North Runnels Hospital by North Runnels Emergency Medical Service. There were no other injuries. Santoya was issued a citation for Fail to Yield Right-of-Way. The Winters Police Department was assisted by the Texas Department of Public Safety Highway Patrol, the Runnels County Sheriff's Department and the Winters Volunteer Fire Department.
 - investigated a traffic accident in which a 1986 Chevrolet pickup driven by Sherry Wheeler struck a 1984 Oldsmobile driven by Elton Jay Garcia. Garcia was transported to North Runnels Hospital by North Runnels Emergency Medical Service. Wheeler was issued a citation for Following too Closely.
 - investigated a traffic accident in which a 1984 Yamaha motorcycle operated by Charles Wilson struck from the rear a Runnels County Sheriff's Department unit driven by Dan Stoker. Wilson was issued citations for No Driver's License, No Liability Insurance and Operating a Motorcycle Without Approved Headgear. There were no injuries.
 - received a call that there was a snake inside a house in the 100 block of Mel Street. The snake was found and removed from the house. The snake was not poisonous.
- Runnels County Crimestoppers offers a cash reward for information which leads to the grand jury indictment or conviction of offenders and the caller does not have to give his or her name. To give a Crimestopper's tip, call your local law enforcement agency at:
