Blizzards shut out Bulldogs 32-0 for 4th straight win

In their first road trip of the '94 season, the Winters Blizzards beat the Stamford Bulldogs 32-0 Friday night in Bulldog stadium.

The Blizzards chalked up another impressive pre-district victory, bringing their record to 4-0.

The Big Blue offense and defense both made quite a showing as total offense was 455 yards while Stamford was held to just 64 total yards.

Action started a little slowly for both the Blizzards and the Bulldogs. On their first possession, Winters managed to put together a solid drive which ended with a fumble recovered by Stamford. The Blizzards' second possession ended with an interception.

But the Big Blue defense held Stamford both times, forcing three plays and a punt each time.

The Blizzards finally scored in the second quarter on a 1-yard run by Robert Silva. Robert Reed kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0.

Winters threatened to score again late in the second quarter when the team switched gears to their "2-minute" offense, driving the ball down inside the 10 yard line with 11 seconds left before the half. Quarterback John Belew scrambled to within one foot of the goal line with 3 seconds left, and, along with his teammates, frantically called time out. A delayed signal from the officials let the half end before the clock stopped.

The second half was somewhat uneventful until the Blizzard offense got fired up. Mark Deike ran 11 yards around right end to score again with 6:52 left in the third quarter. Reed kicked the extra point to make the score 14-0.

Three minutes later Deike scored again on a 3-yard run up the middle. The point after failed.

To add adventure to the evening and 2 more points for the Blizzards, the Bulldogs fielded the Kelly Thompson kickoff in the end zone, stepped over the goal line and then back into the end zone and kneeled, resulting in a safety for Winters.

Jerry Esquivel reached the end zone next for the Blizzards on a 15-yard run. Reed's kick was on target again, giving Winters a solid 29-0 lead.

To top off the scoring, Reed nailed a 28-yard field goal with three minutes left in the game, pushing the score to 32-0.

The Blizzards dominated on offense, running 79 plays to just 32 for Stamford. Robert Silva led the Big Blue with 73 yards rushing on just nine carries. Mark Deike chalked up 60 yards rushing.

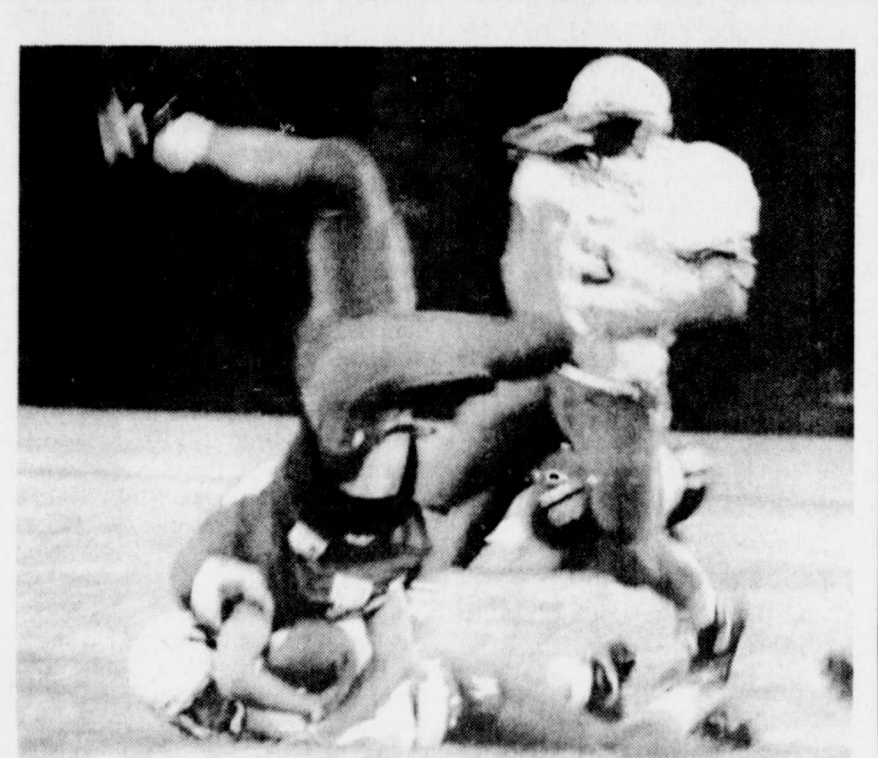

Blizzard defensive coach Charles Murphy said he was extremely pleased with his defensive team. "I am very proud of these young men. They are playing where they're supposed to be and getting the job done," said Murphy.

The defense completely shut down the Bulldogs for three quarters, holding Stamford to zero first downs and 16 yards, and giving up only 2 first downs and 48 yards in the fourth quarter.

The Blizzard defense continues to stifle any offensive threats, giving up only six points in four contests, including two games against state-ranked teams.

Winters travels to Anson this week to meet the Tigers at 8 p.m. Anson is coming off a 53-8 whipping by Jim Ned last week.

Be a part of the winning. Back the Blizzards this Friday night in Anson.

CRASH LANDING seems in order as this Stamford Bulldog takes a nosedive after a Blizzard tackle last Friday night.

Winters residents can help Texas

Clean Texas 2000 is a program designed to get Texas cleaned up by 50% by the year 2000. It is composed of cities and towns, schools, civic organizations, individuals, and clubs who want to clean up the environment.

Governor Ann Richards has created an award for participation in this organization. She is encouraging the citizens of Texas to get involved. Each year a panel of judges choose the 15 best clean-up projects in the state. The winners are presented an award at the Governor's Awards Banquet for Environmental Excellence. Awards may be given in the following categories: Large Business — Technical, Large Business — Non-Technical, Small Business, Government, Civic and Non-Profit Organization, Education, Youth Organization, Media, Agriculture, and Individual.

The deadline for 1994 is October 24. The project has to show results for it to be eligible.

All citizens of Winters are encouraged to be thinking of projects they could start now to show the State of Texas what Winters can do for the next year's awards.

Winters City Hall has applications and rules if anyone is interested in applying for the award.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles ©1994

It seems that a new "frontier" opens every day in these times of changing boundaries and political ideologies.

First it was Russia, then South America, then South Africa, followed by the Middle East, and now, Vietnam.

But, Vietnam carries a little more baggage with it than some of the other venues. The country is still under a communist dictator for one thing. And, I don't think a lot of us have gotten over the wounds (mentally and physically) that were inflicted there just over a couple of decades ago. Some animosity lingers, it seems.

This is being brought to bear much more than some would have thought. The reason may be that many of the CEO's of companies that might be interested in Vietnam fought there. Some of them even fled to helicopters in those last humiliating days of retreat from Saigon.

So, while many majors and independents are jumping in with both feet since diplomatic relations were normalized, there are still nagging doubts about working with people who were mortal enemies not too long ago. The very idea of sitting down to business in Hanoi is chilling to some, especially those who wonder about POW's and MIA's.

It is hard to get excited about signing papers in "Ho Chi Minh City", formerly Saigon. Just the idea that the name was changed by invaders and now we are set to break bread and do business with those invaders is hard to reconcile for some.

But, alas, business is business, and many will eventually go to Vietnam if they want to remain competitive. The potential for reserves is huge, although very little actual production has been secured there.

But, this circumstance forces those of us in the States to consider how to deal with doing business with someone we didn't beat in a war. This is a first for us. We are used to winning and following up with a compassionate rebuilding.

In Vietnam, we are returning to a place of defeat. A place we could not seem to win. It is strange, indeed, to consider the number of men and women who left the Saigon airport in body bags as we taxi to the terminal.

But, yet, we have a chance, it seems, to win in another way. It will never approach replacing the lost, but it can be of some solace to those of us facing the prospect of doing business there.

We can take our capitalism to the very heart of the place where the battle cry was "death to the capitalist pigs" and...we can win.

It is ironic, don't you think, that many questioned the audacity of our country's efforts to protect a democracy in those times 20 years ago, and, now, the American way is being embraced by all of the countries that suffered under communism. Now, we are able to fight with our economic might and the prospects for victory are much better.

Pioneer Church of God News

Blessings from God

by Helen Murchison and Janet Alleman

We want to thank the Assembly of God of Winters for inviting our church to their revival last week.

The Barnetts ministered in songs, preaching, and prayer. Rev. Barnett spoke about our blessings from God and how we should love one another and offer forgiveness.

The important things we learned during and after the revival is the joy of one's salvation and walking in the obedience of God's word. As long as we obey the Bible and try to serve the Lord with a whole heart, He is near and ready to answer our prayers.

Thank you Assembly of God for being so kind and loving toward all of us that came to the revival. It was exciting and all enjoyed a great time.

It is exciting and joyous when other denominations get together to worship and talk about Jesus.

We have some great churches in our town and are blessed mightily by God for that.

Everyone is welcome to come to Pioneer Church anytime. Rev. and Mrs. J.D. Mitchell may be reached at 754-4833.

God bless you.

MJM Bancshares, Inc., acquires First National Bank of Ballinger

Brian Richards, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of First National Bank of Ballinger, divulged Monday a controlling interest in the bank will be acquired by MJM Bancshares, Inc., subject to the approval of banking regulators.

"I have been working with Michael E. (Mike) Montgomery, the principal stockholder in MJM Bancshares, Inc. since 1991 when he began oilfield operations in Runnels County from his base in Dallas," said Richards. "He has a West Texas background in banking and owns MJM Oil & Gas, Inc., with operations that give him a strong link with the area. He is a likeable Texan who doesn't want to change the bank. Greg W. Schwertner will be the President and C.E.O., and I will remain on the board and retain an interest in the bank."

"I became interested in First Ballinger after completing a few oil wells in Runnels County and working with Brian Richards in 1991," said Montgomery. "The positive forces in the area economy combined with First National Bank's strong position in the financial community made the bank very attractive. I found myself wanting to help build all facets of the local economy. This means agriculture, small business manufacturing as well as the oil and gas industry."

MJM Bancshares, Inc. was created as a single-bank holding company for the acquisition of the First National Bank of Ballinger according to the application that will be filed with banking regulators.

Poe's Corner

Making the most of memory

The Triple L Club met Thursday in the First Baptist Fellowship Hall for their back to school program, a study of making the most of memory. This is a special concern for senior adults.

Many of us become panicky when we call one child by another's name, lose our car keys or forget an important appointment. We figure it is all downhill from now on.

This is not the case. There is a vast difference between a memory lapse and true memory loss. This was discussed in "Health Digest", a magazine provided by an insurance company.

While medical conditions like Alzheimer's Disease, Parkinson's Disease, and stroke can cause memory impairment, they are exceptions at any age.

Throughout your life, your brain can store more than a billion bits of information.

A recent study from the National Institute for Health concluded that brain cells stay active as you age and that powers of concentration actually improve.

However, the older brain, like the older body it inhabits, tends to process information more slowly in the second half of life.

Keeping memory sharp demands that we pay closer attention to what we want to remember while grouping the thoughts or images. For instance, remembering the address 3241 Main Street, one should group the number 32,41. After meeting someone new, repeat the name several times to yourself while associating it with the face. That way, the face will serve as a visual trigger to remembering the name.

But focusing on remembering isn't the only key. Memory requires the same kind of care as maintaining overall good health. Like other organs, the brain depends on a healthy diet and adequate rest. As we grow older, we often fail to eat a balanced diet. Over time, inadequate nutrition can affect memory.

Adequate rest is crucial to memory. Many older people suffer from insomnia, which can contribute to memory lapses.

Memory lapses can be related to medication. Over-the-counter drugs for diarrhea, coughs, and colds can affect memory. It is important to discuss medication with your doctor. Alcohol, drug use, and smoking can diminish memory, too.

Loneliness, boredom, depression, and lack of exercise can affect memory. However, memory responds to a lifestyle that keeps you engaged, active, and enthusiastic. When you're feeling your best, your memory will take care of itself. Don't let an occasional memory lapse frighten you.

The meeting closed with adults discussing tips to make the most of memory.

Always put essential items - purse, keys, watch, rings, and glasses - in one spot, use a bulletin board to post important reminders. Place a bag or basket by the door for items to take on errands.

Make a daily "to do" list in a small notebook, cross off items as they're finished and add new ones.

Charlise Poe, program chairman, handed out rubber bands to those present with instructions "to place it on your wrist as a reminder". If that doesn't work, "snap it".

Ezekiel, our oldest grandson, was only four at the time. Ramona was visiting our son Nathan and his family up in the Panhandle. He was serving an "open country church" near Gruver, Texas. It happened to be Vacation Bible School time. And, Ramona was excited. So much so that she had to call me up on the phone, all the way down to Odessa. "Jim," she said, "I'm so excited. All these little kids up here. And they're learning songs by heart! Ezekiel can sing 2 verses of 'Victory in Jesus'."

She still gets excited about singing. She always has been. Her family, as some of yours, used to gather around the piano, which was her mother's place of honor, and sing. Her mother, mother of nine children, used to play the piano for services at the "Icelandic Church", a little church down the road from their farm. She tried to teach Ramona to play the piano. It didn't work. But, for sure, Ramona learned to sing. She learned it at home. With her brothers and sisters and parents.

I'll not forget the night after her dad was buried. We had just become engaged to be married. In fact, I went up to his hospital room to ask for her hand in marriage. That's what we called it in those days. I think it made for stronger marriages. It made you realize that this one you loved was somebody else's first. To go and ask permission was the proper thing. I must have thought so, too. Each of my sons have asked for the hand of their beloved, and, my son-in-law asked me for Katie's.

Anyway, when I went up to his room in the hospital, it was just the two of us. I got right to the point. "Mr. Kompelien, I'd like to marry your daughter, Ramona, and I'd like your permission." He gave me his consent almost immediately. And, then we started to talk about Ramona, and what a wonderful woman she was. Before long, I began to realize that as we talked of her graces and virtues, he was beginning to waver in his consent. Sensing this, I thanked him again. And left. He died just a week or so later.

The night after his burial, the family was gathered in the living room. The funeral was over. The business part was all taken care of. And one of older brothers said, "Let's sing!" Not everybody was in agreement. But, we did sing. Before long, all were singing. Some of the good old songs. And some of the good old hymns. It seemed to be just right.

Our family, Ramona's and mine, have been singers, too. We sang a lot when the kids were young. Often we would sing in the car, especially when we made a long trip. At first, there were always protests. "Oh, do we hafta? Can't we listen to the radio?" But, we persisted. And soon we were singing. Now - all of them sing. And they are teaching their children to sing. There are few nights when the babies don't hear the lullabies of their mothers.

Lately, Ramona has been really stirred up. She has been fearful, and rightly so, that there isn't enough singing going on - in our homes, in our churches, in our community. And, in our schools. So, when the Methodist Church decided to hold a "singing" on Sunday, September 18, she really got excited. We even decided to join Billy Bishop in singing "At Calvary". And when we arrived, just a minute or so before it was to begin, the place was packed. Chairs were being brought in. And the folks stayed for 2 hours of singing. Ramona was thrilled. So was I. So was everybody who came.

It was like a rain on dry and thirsty ground. As we all, from all the churches and communities around, joined in singing, the Spirit of God fell upon our dry and thirsty souls, and we were filled. Praise God for the "singing". And Winters, keep on "singing". (There will be another one in December. See you there.)

Blizzards run tough course, place third

The Winters Blizzards continued their steady improvement with a 3rd place finish at Cross Plains. "Although there was not that much improvement time wise, individual and team placings continue to improve. I think the difficulty of the course had something to do with the slower times," said Coach Henley.

Placings and times are as follows:

J.V. Blizzards 8, Stamford 22

The J.V. football team was defeated 22-8 Thursday in a hard fought contest.

"The kids played 100% better than they did in their last outing. I was really proud of our efforts, especially since we had so many different people in different positions due to injuries," said Coach Chris Wilde.

Jace Wade scored on a 25-yard run and Eric Joeris ran the 2-point conversion.

The junior varsity Blizzards face Anson Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at Blizzard Field.

8th grade Breezes fall to Stamford

The Stamford Bulldogs slipped past the 8th grade Breezes 22-6 last Thursday in Blizzard stadium.

Winters coach Jim Bob Jacobs said, "Our offense just couldn't get untracked until late in the 4th quarter."

The Breezes' lone score came on a fine run by Lee Woffenden. The extra point failed.

Junior Barucero recovered one fumble for Winters.

The Breezes meet the Tigers at Anson stadium this Thursday night.

GEORGE VILLAREAL and CHARLIE BURTON teamed up for a trumpet duet during the Blizzard Band halftime performance.

7th Breezes defeated by Stamford 18-13

By Coach Biff White

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Final
W	0	6	0	7	13
S	6	6	0	6	18

As the score indicates, this was one of those back-n-forth ballgames. Stamford would score and then we would. The defense played its best game of the season with only two major breakdowns that resulted in two of Stamford's touchdowns.

On their third touchdown, we learned a hard lesson. A play is not over (even if the ball carrier is stopped) until the "ref" blows his whistle (even if he forgets). The defense was led by Victor Flores who had an interception and a fumble recovery. Joey King, Justin Meyer, and Chris Lujano also had fumble recoveries.

On offense our biggest problem was not being consistent. We had more mental mistakes than normal but we also missed two practices. David Hernandez scored one touchdown and Oscar Luz scored the last with his being a little more exciting. He scored a 60-yard T.D. pass on the very last play which really pumped the boys up. Chris Lujano kicked the extra point.

Captains are Craig Conner, Victor Flores, Chris Lujano, and John Bahlman.

With that final play and 6-weeks tests out of the way, we will get back on track and beat Anson there at 5:00 p.m. Thanks to the fans for their support.

Directions to Anson Field

Football fans traveling to Anson for the first time may find the following information useful.

You will enter Anson on U.S. Highway 277. Go around the courthouse and stay on U.S. 277 until 9th Street, at which time you will turn left (west). The football field sits northeast of the intersections of 9th Street and Avenue N.

As a final reminder, of course, if all else fails: Look for the high stadium lights. See page 6 for Anson Dining Guide.

Mothers, Students Against Drunk Driving organize Ballinger chapters

Interested Ballinger residents met September 14 with several members of the Big Country chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Driving. M.A.D.D. is working to start a chapter in Ballinger to help fight problems of people driving while under the influence of alcohol, as well as the victims affected in the aftermath.

"Our purpose is to get drunk drivers off the road and help victims of this violent crime," said Brenda Beck, a member of the Big Country M.A.D.D. chapter and Texas state representative for the organization.

Interest for starting a chapter in Ballinger came about after the death of 16-year-old Ballinger High School student Barrett Belcher who died August 26 from injuries sustained in an auto accident where alcohol was involved.

"We're doing this for Barrett," said Wendy Belcher, Barrett's mother, who attended the meeting along with her husband, Mike. Mike, an employee of Jim Bass Ford in San Angelo, presented a check to Wendy in the amount of $1,051.51 to help start the Ballinger chapter. The check was presented on behalf of Jim Bass Ford and Mike's fellow employees.

Veletta Martindale, a Brown County resident and treasurer of the Big Country chapter, lost a daughter in 1990 to death caused by a drunk driver.

Martindale and other M.A.D.D. members encouraged Ballinger residents to become active in making changes about how drinking and driving and the treatment of the victims is viewed and to voice their concerns to local, state, and national government representatives. "There is power in numbers," said Martindale.

At the invitation of the M.A.D.D. representatives, several Ballinger and county officials were present at the meeting.

Sheriff Bill Baird voiced his concerns. "I completely believe in the enforcement and prosecution of drunk drivers to get them off the road. The only way to make the streets safe from these drunk drivers is to keep them in jail," said Baird who has had several run-ins with drunk drivers himself.

Baird and Ballinger Police Chief Paul Boggess emphasized the problem of alcohol abuse, especially among teenagers, and how difficult a problem it is to solve. According to Boggess, Minor In Possession (of Alcohol Beverages) offenders 17-years-old and above go to jail and those under 17 must be picked up by parents or a legal guardian at the police station. Any adults contributing to the delinquency of a minor go to jail.

Runnels County Attorney John

McGregor's interest hit home when a boyhood friend's son was killed in an auto accident involving alcohol. "It rings the bell loud when it happens close to you," said McGregor. "We have got to make kids change the way they think of themselves. They have to take more responsibility."

Some of the youth of Ballinger are starting a Students Against Drunk Driving, S.A.D.D. is sponsored by Lisa Dews, a senior English and world geography teacher at Ballinger High School. Officers for the chapter are: Stephanie Sweeden, president; Julie Riley, vice-president; and Terri Teters, secretary.

A $50 donation from the junior class has been given to start the S.A.D.D. chapter. Regular meetings for the chapter are scheduled. For more information, contact Dews or one of the chapter officers.

The next meeting of the Big Country M.A.D.D. chapter is scheduled October 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Mills County State Bank, 1017 Parker, Goldthwaite, Texas.

The Ballinger chapter holds a meeting October 18. For more information, contact Gayle Bickel at 365-5301 or 365-3547.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN GERMANFEST held last Sunday drew a large crowd which enjoyed good food along with shopping in the arts, crafts and foods offered by members of St. John's.

Crews News by Hilda Kurtz

I once had a broad mind and a narrow waist. Now it's the other way around.

Hopewell Church visitors Sunday were Katherine and Luke Thomas; Audine, Dennis, and Roy McBeth; Jamie Detrick; and Sharon Craft. The congregation enjoyed dinner in the fellowship hall between services.

The Crews Supper will be held Saturday, October 1, at 6:30 p.m. Carol Kozelsky, Margie Jacob, and Audine McBeth, hostesses, hope to see a full house. Bring your favorite covered dish.

Last report I received, Jack Shields is still resting in Abilene Regional Medical Center.

Friday, Tiffany Prater and Kenny and Eileen Cartwright attended the Stamford-Winters game in Stamford. On Thursday, the Cartwrights, Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion, and Carolyn Kraatz attended the ballgame in Winters.

Saturday, the Cartwrights enjoyed the Play Day at the Winters Rodeo Arena.

Desiré Mathis attended the Stamford and Winters game and also was in the band Friday night.

On Thursday, Haeward and Mildred Morrison carried Tom and Agnes Morrison of California to Odessa to visit a first cousin. While there, Mildred and Haeward went over to see Martha Morrison. Later all were in Odessa and ate out, Chinese cuisine.

On Friday, Louise Cecil of Winters came out to Mildred's for lunch and joined the other cousins.

Late Friday, Tom, Agnes, Mildred, and Haeward drove to Kerrville and spent the night.

Early Saturday, they drove to Junction to visit Z.L. and Arlene McDaniel. Later they came by Ballinger and saw the cross on the hill. While in Ballinger, they visited Alvin McDaniel in the Ballinger Nursing Home. Later they visited Hulan and Marcie McDaniel.

Evelyn and Margie Jacob attended the pot luck supper at the Activity Center on Friday at Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Engler and Bryce Busenlehner had supper with Margie Jacob on Thursday. Afterwards they drove in to Winters to see Carol and Mike Kozelsky.

Jerry Alexander of Tucson, Arizona, spent the past week with Helen Alexander. Jamie Detrick of Troy, Ohio, is spending several days here.

Nila and Therin Osborne enjoyed the supper and visit with Karen, Wesley, John, and Stefanie McGallian in Wingate Wednesday night.

On Thursday, Nila and Therin were in Abilene to see Jack Shields at the Abilene Regional Medical Center.

On Saturday, Nila and Therin and Betty Lemon picked up Helen Brevard in Coleman and all went to David Green's for lunch.

Brian Faubion and Sharon Craft of Lubbock came Sunday and visited the Osbornes.

Arnold Tounget of Lubbock passed away Monday morning. He was a long time Crews resident.

Melvina Gerhart and Bernie Faubion attended the wedding reception of Blair and Londa Tharp at the Methodist Fellowship Hall Sunday afternoon.

Jimmy Chapman and son, Garrett, of Ballinger, came out Saturday and did some odd jobs for Selma Dietz. Judy Cooke of Winters joined the Chapman family for supper with Selma on Saturday. Selma had her stock tank cleaned out and now is ready for a good rain.

Kyle Kraatz and son, Johnna, Melinda Kraatz, and Joe Watkins came by to see Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion for a while on Sunday afternoon.

Brian Faubion and Sharon Craft came over the weekend and stayed with Bernie and Rodney.

Bernie and Rodney visited Kathy and Danny Phillips in Abilene. They saw nephew, Brandon Phillips, of Pueblo, Colorado, and his girlfriend, Shelia Greely. Bernie and Rodney spent the night with the Phillips family.

Ruth Pape set with Will Mathis after school Monday. On Sunday, she had a nice phone visit with Ray and Elle Peace, Brad Pape's kinfolks, out in Los Angeles, California. Brad and Ruth attended the Farmers Mutual Protection Insurance barbecue in Rowena at St. Joseph Hall.

My San Angelo families spent Saturday here sawing and cutting mesquite wood for the fire places and heaters. After lunch all went fishing.

Governor proclaims October as Fire Prevention Month

In Texas, fire deaths from smoke inhalation outnumber fire deaths due to burns by almost two to one. Yet, the Texas Fire Incident Reporting System shows that less than one in four homes where fires occur have working smoke alarms.

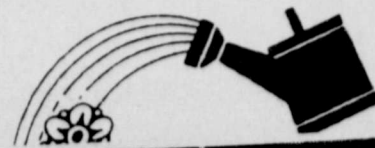

In Texas, citizens need to continue learning about how to prevent fires and protect themselves from the hazards of fire because these statistics have been a trend for at least the past 10 years, as long as detailed statewide fire records have been kept.

Texas fire departments, schools and civic organizations have increased their efforts to teach the public how to prevent fires and avoid injuries and deaths caused by fires. The Texas Fire Chiefs' Association, Texas Fire Marshals' Association, Texas State Association of Fire Fighters, State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association, Texas Chapter of the International Association of Arson Investigators and Texas Advisory Council - Arson have joined with the Texas Commission on Fire Protection to bring fire safety messages to the public.

The month of October has been designated by the Texas Commission on Fire Protection as Fire Prevention Month to mark the 123rd anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire, which occurred on October 9, 1871, and first focused attention on the importance of fire prevention. During this month, Texans are urged to change the batteries in their smoke alarms, to begin monthly smoke alarm tests and to check their homes for common fire hazards.

Ann W. Richards, Governor of Texas, proclaims the month of October, 1994, as Fire Prevention Month in Texas and urges the appropriate recognition thereof.

The Education of a Small Town Doc

by Keith Boles

Howdy, Winters! Well, I'm on the Psychiatry rotation now. The best thing about psychiatry is the easy hours. I show up about 8 a.m. and leave around 4:30, and I'm on call one night per week and one Saturday and Sunday out of the six week rotation. It's home call which means that I carry a beeper home and go in to the hospital when I'm called. I usually get called in at least once each call for an average of 3-4 hours at a time.

At the Lubbock campus, the psychiatric rotation is divided into two services, three weeks at St. Mary's Hospital and three weeks at University Medical Center. UMC is the hospital affiliated with the Health Sciences Center. The Psychiatry department at the medical school runs the psychiatry ward at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock. St. Mary's psychiatry ward has an inpatient ward with a locked unit for those who may harm themselves or others or wander off as well as an intermediate unit for more stable patients.

My work at St. Mary's consisted of seeing all the patients assigned to me and writing a note in their chart concerning their status or progress. The majority of patients on this inpatient ward had Alzheimer's disease or depression. I monitored side effects of medications, suicidal thoughts, and pervasive thoughts or concerns.

Our goal was to assist the patients in getting back to full function as soon as possible or in the case of advanced Alzheimer's patients, to find a long-term care home to transfer them to.

The three weeks spent at UMC consisted of consult work. This means the primary doctor caring for the patient in the hospital feels the patient has some psychiatric concerns which need to be addressed so he calls the Psychiatry department for a consult. Most of the patients were in for suicide attempts or complications of drug or alcohol abuse. Our consult aimed at assessing the problem and at getting these folks some sort of long-term treatment for their problems.

Some patients develop psychiatric problems while in the hospital. For example, there is such a thing as Intensive Care Unit (ICU) psychosis. This is where a patient has been in ICU so long that he/she begins to hallucinate or have paranoid delusions such as, "The nurses are trying to kill me". This usually occurs in older patients whose sense of awareness is already decreased due to the existing disease. It is said to be caused by lack of sensory stimulation; being in the same room, seeing the same people, with an inability to do much besides lay in bed for days on end.

When we're on call, we're responsible for patients who appear at St. Mary's or UMC emergency rooms with psychiatric problems or patients who need to be admitted to Charter Plains Hospital. Charter Plains is an adolescent substance abuse treatment center.

In a typical psychiatric interview with a patient, I ask patients to talk about past psychiatric problems and treatment, family history of psychiatric problems, current medical problems, past medical history and major traumatic events in childhood or adolescence. Childhood physical, mental, and sexual abuse is a major cause of adulthood mental illness.

After the history is taken, a mental status exam is done to assess the patient's mental functioning and awareness of his/her surroundings. The patient is asked to tell where he/she is, the date, and time to assess orientation. To test memory, the patient is asked who the current President is and to recall three items after five minutes. To test concentration, the patient is asked to count back from 100 by 7's. Other things can be done such as repeating spans of numbers, spelling words backwards, or interpreting proverbs such as two heads are better than one or the grass is greener on the other side.

It is important to perform a mental status exam each time because some patients may seem clear as a bell one minute and then be unable to tell you where they are or to remember their own name the next minute.

On this rotation, we are graded by an NBME board exam (40% of grade), clinical subjective ratings by the faculty and residents (40%) and an oral exam (20%). The oral exam is a case presentation; a patient comes in with certain psychiatric signs and symptoms. We're asked to decide what else we need to ask, to make a diagnosis, and then to create a treatment plan.

So that's psychiatry. Overall, it's been very interesting and a nice break before surgery rotation which is next and which has very long hours and hospital call. I'll write next about that. See ya then.

Charles Stenholm announces increased funding for boll weevil eradication

House and Senate conferees working on agriculture appropriations legislation for fiscal year 1995 have agreed to increase funding for boll weevil eradication efforts, according to Representative Charles Stenholm, Chairman of the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Department Operations.

"After working long and hard to secure increased funding, I am extremely pleased that the conferees accepted the House position to provide increased program support for the national boll weevil eradication effort," said Stenholm. "The Boll Weevil Eradication Program Office, which has relocated to Abilene, and the 12-14 new jobs which it brings to the big country, will greatly benefit from this increased funding."

The House Appropriations Committee had originally designated $13.084 million in funding for USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) to continue the Boll Weevil Eradication Program; boll weevils have been ranked by USDA as the single most destructive pest in Texas, Arkansas, and Alabama. As a result of an amendment Stenholm introduced in June, $5 million in additional funding was directed to APHIS for boll weevil eradication efforts for fiscal year 1995.

The Boll Weevil Eradication Program is a jointly funded partnership wherein producers contribute 70% of the cost, and APHIS makes up the remaining 30%. Studies have shown that this proven eradication program returns over $12 in economic benefits to growers and their communities for every $1 of cost. In addition, the program has resulted in reductions of pesticide use of up to 90% in areas where eradication is complete.

It's Bike-a-thon time by Lance Rasch ACEA-AG, Runnels County

National 4-H Week culminates with the annual Runnels County 4-H/Wal-Mart Bike-a-thon on Saturday, October 8. Wal-Mart has been a big supporter for the fund raiser. They generously match the money we raise, up to $1,000. Without the pledges, contributions, and help from Wal-Mart our county's 4-H programs would not be as successful as it is in developing the youth's potential.

For those of you not familiar with the annual Bike-a-thon or those that need to be refreshed, here's how it works. Each 4-H club member will be asking individuals for pledges and donations. The pledges may be based on the miles that the club member rides. An example is one dollar per mile. If the club member rides ten miles then the Runnels County 4-H has raised ten dollars. Also, a contribution of any amount will be greatly appreciated.

The Bike-a-thon will be at the Wal-Mart parking lot on October 8 at 3:00 p.m. The money raised will go toward the support of the Runnels County 4-H youth. This includes sending the youth to district and state competitions, helping with livestock supplies, banquets, and other educational events beneficial to further the education of America's future, our youth.

So if you are approached by a Runnels County 4-H'er, remember, your help will go to a worthy cause. Thank you for your support.
