Winning and playoffs — it's definitely a "Guy" thing

by Jean Boles

With competition comes pressure. All kinds of pressure. And usually the worst is the kind a person puts on himself.

If Zane Guy of Winters doesn't put enough pressure on himself, his three brothers and two sisters are more than happy to contribute.

Zane, a Winters High School senior, plays tight end and defensive end on the undefeated Blizzard football team. The Big Blue, 9-0 thus far, will meet the Wall Hawks Friday night for the district championship. A win for Winters will mean the first district title since 1983.

That 1983 title is also special to Zane because his oldest brother, Barron, played on that Winters team. His brother, Houston, played on the 1988 Blizzard team that advanced to bi-district play as runner up of district competition. Brother Jody played on the 1990 district runner-up Winters squad which met a state finalist team in bi-district play.

With three brothers holding bragging rights to playoff games, it seems only fitting that Zane uphold the family tradition.

Fortunately, the Winters win over Stanton last week ensures a playoff berth for Winters and places Zane in the "Guy Family Playoff Hall of Fame".

People say competition is good for you. And people enjoy competing on different levels.

For the J. B. Guy, Jr., family of Winters, contests are a way of life and sometimes survival in the large, close-knit family.

Children Barron, LaShea, Houston, Jody, Zane and Janet seem to thrive on challenges—in athletics, academics, or with each other.

Kay, effervescent mother, and J. B. "Junior", soft-spoken but strong disciplinarian father, literally beam when asked about their six children.

With only Zane and Janet still living at home, the Guy household is much quieter than in the past—until all the children come to visit. Then once again the house is filled with tons of laughter, good stories and, of course, competition.

Eldest son, Barron, says, "Competition is our favorite sport. We'll compete against each other about anything, from any athletic event to who can drink the most chocolate milk the fastest."

Competing against one another has always been a way of life for the Guys. And so have athletics.

Kay Byrd Guy, a 1960 Winters graduate, was a member of the 1959 Blizzardette District Champions basketball team. She played guard when girls' basketball played half-court with three forwards and three guards.

J. B. Guy, Jr., also a 1960 WHS graduate, played varsity football for three years and has a real passion for the game.

Barron wore #64 and played offensive guard and defensive tackle for the Blizzards. During his junior year, 1982, the Winters team was district runner-up and lost to San Saba in bi-district play. The playoff game was the first for Winters in 20 years and the first year that UIL allowed two teams from each district to advance to the playoffs.

Eastland, district champion, went on to win the state title. Winters lost to Eastland during district play but was the only district team to score against the Mavericks.

Barron's 1983 district championship was the first for Winters in 20 years. The team beat Mason 34-12 for the bi-district title then lost to Boyd in the area playoffs. Boyd became the eventual state champion that year.

Barron also played golf, participated in the award winning high school band and one-act play, and graduated in 1984.

He attended Angelo State University and returned to Winters to join his father's business, Guy's Dirt Contracting. He and his wife, Donna, are parents of Wiley, 5, and Abby, 1, and never miss a football game.

Not only does Barron attend all his brothers' games, he has served as announcer at all home games since 1986.

For everyone who knows Barron and his competitive nature, they might be amazed at the professionalism and self-control he exhibits week after week, especially if he questions a referee's call or the actions of his brother who's on the playing field.

Houston Guy graduated from Winters in 1989. He wore #61 for the Blizzards and played guard and defensive end. His 1988 team was district runner-up and lost to Stanton 24-12 in bi-district play.

While at WHS, Houston received all-district honors both offensively and defensively. He was named All-West Texas guard and All-Area defensive end honorable mention. In 1989-90 Houston played outside linebacker for Sul Ross University. He graduated from Angelo State University and

A GREAT BUNCH OF GUYS, (left to right) Zane, Jody, Houston, and Barron, display football trophies won over the past 11 years. The four sons of Junior and Kay Guy of Winters have each played on a winning Blizzard football team that advanced to playoff rounds. Zane plays on the 1994 Blizzards who hold a 9-0 record and will meet a team from district 5-2A in playoff action.

Jamie Sims crowned 1994-1995 Football Sweetheart

JAMIE SIMS was crowned Blizzard Football Sweetheart Friday night. She is escorted by her father, Jerry Sims.

Jamie Sims, the daughter of Jerry and Jan Sims, was crowned 1994-1995 Football Sweetheart during halftime activities last Friday.

Jamie is a senior at Winters High School and has served as editor of "The Glacier" for the last two years. She has participated in varsity tennis throughout her high school years and earned the District Champion title in Doubles for the last two years. Jamie is a member of the National Honor Society.

During her junior year, she served as the Blizzard mascot and was a member of P.A.L.S.

She played junior varsity basketball her freshman and sophomore years.

Jamie is a member of the First Baptist Church in Winters where she participates in the Youth Choir and Youth Committee.

Election day, Tuesday, Nov. 8; $2.9 million jail bond proposal on ballot

Federal, state and county offices will be decided this Tuesday, November 8, along with a county jail proposal.

Republicans and Democrats alike are hopeful of retaining positions and gaining new positions in this November balloting.

On the bottom of the ballot is a proposition for the jail bond proposal. See sample ballot page 9.

The county commissioners held a public hearing on Thursday, October 27, to again answer any questions the public might have regarding the jail proposal. About 60 concerned citizens attended.

The commissioners had as their guest Bob Frisby of Jail Planners, Inc., Jim Wiginton, a jail design architect, and an officer with the State Jail Commission.

Most of the information discussed was a repeat of details previously published in this paper.

Wiginton stated that a 40 to 50 bed expansion could be easily added on after the original 104 bed unit is built.

Sheriff Bill Baird and District Attorney Steve Smith both stated that Runnels County has been lucky to avoid lawsuits relating to the old jail.

The overall opinion of the crowd at the Oct. 27 meeting seemed to be in favor of a jail but there was some disagreement as to what kind of jail to build and how much money to spend on it.

Mr. Bill Thomason, one of the most vocal citizens to oppose the proposed jail plan, was not at the meeting.

In the county races, the Precinct 2 county commissioner office has a race between Keith Collom, the Democratic nominee, and Richard Hamilton, the Republican nominee. Both candidates are from Winters.

Incumbent Johnny Wilson was defeated by Collom in the Democratic primary last May.

The only other contested race in the county is commissioner for Precinct 4. Richard Strube, the Democratic incumbent, is running against Edgar Poehls, a Republican.

On the state level, the only race of note is Democratic incumbent Bill Sims versus Republican Hugh Shine. These rivals are running for the State Senate in District 24.

There are other state races which are outlined in detail in the 1994 Texas Voters Guide inserted in this paper as a public service of Higginbotham's of Winters.

Voting in Runnels County has held a steady pace since early voting polls opened Oct. 19.

Through Sunday more than 340 people have cast their ballots for the Nov. 8 general election, averaging more than 20 a day.

On Sunday, 57 people cast their votes during the special Sunday voting times in Winters and Ballinger. Early voting is done through mail-in ballots or walk-in at designated polling places.

County voting officials said there are 6,130 registered voters in the county. Early voting through Sunday has produced a 5 percent turnout. Voting officials feel the turnout for the Nov. 8 election will be strong and encourage voters to make their ballot count.

Early voting in person for the Nov. 8 general election, which includes the jail bond issue, is in the Runnels County Clerk's office in the county courthouse through Friday, Nov. 4.

Voters may cast ballots in the Nov. 8 General Election from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the polling locations listed on page 10.

Take an active role in government and vote for the candidate and issue of your choice.

OIL BUSINESS

By Reg Boles ©1994

It just seems that public misperceptions about the "mysterious" oil business continue without relief.

It's not enough that we have to deal with stagnant oil and gas prices, general mistrust by the folks at large, and total disregard by the officeholders in Washington, D.C. We must also endure mis-statements, misquotes, and general ignorance by those in the media who don't do their research.

For instance, I read the other day in a Texas newspaper (that's right-Texas-the oil state) that, during the course of a secondary recovery program in a very geologically complex area of the state, "Huge volumes of water will be pumped into the lifeless caverns that hold the oil..."

Now, those that are familiar with the more mundane details of the oil patch can see the problems with this statement. Those of you that don't recognize the problems are in luck, because I am going to give you a few hints.

First, oil is not in caverns. It is in pore space in rock, which is very small openings that can't be seen (in most cases) without a microscope. Look at a sandstone rock sometime and notice that there are some very small spaces between grains of sand. These spaces are probably larger than the pores in most oil reservoirs ever discovered. Bottom-line: cavern implies large empty space filled with precious oil and gas--this could not be further from reality.

Also, "pumping water" gives some people the feeling that fresh drinking water is being poured down these wells. This is also not true, except in the rarest of cases where there is ample water for such purposes. Usually, the water is that produced out of the oil wells in the field or from some unpotable water source. No one wants to inject drinkable water into oil wells.

Another example of really bogus statements regarding the oil patch would include those being printed and read about recent oil spills, including the Russian spill that is said to be "flowing like a river".

The problems begin when reporters state that such a spill is actually happening to the magnitude of the wildest rumors. The facts are that there are very few fields capable of producing the type of crude that will run like water at the cold temperatures in Siberia, where the oil is said to be leaking. Additionally, the amount of oil said to be flowing is probably way more than any field is capable of producing, even over an extended period of time.

The really annoying statements about the spill have come from international fringe groups through the American media. They are saying this is another good reason why all hydrocarbons should be banned or abandoned or whatever. They are saying that this proves that the oil patch operators are incapable of being responsible for their actions.

Please note that (assuming the worst scenario is true) the spill was caused by those with no profit motive. The result is from years of state-rule that prevented proper maintenance of equipment and facilities. Also, note that what goes on in the Siberian tundra bears little resemblance to West Texas or wherever most oil is produced.

Either way; check the record. The American and international (non-government-owned) oil companies have the cleanest record of any business that handles wastes that can be considered harmful if spilled or mishandled.

I guess those of us in the oil business will always have to put up with a little misinformation. But, it is up to you and I to let folks know that information reported as fact may not actually be so factual.

Senior Citizens Nursing Home News

by

Billie Ruth Bishop

We would like to extend a belated thank you to Mary Kurtz and the VFW Auxiliary for their visit and entertaining program recently. Please accept my apologies for this oversight. We are looking forward to another visit from you.

Saturday night was the beginning of Halloween festivities at the nursing home when the Family Group sponsored a carnival with several games and trick or treat for the young ones.

The first graders came on Monday afternoon and entertained our residents with songs. They were dressed in costumes and were a very lively bunch. They were treated with candy by our residents as they were leaving.

The employees of the nursing home dressed in costumes Monday and were judged by the residents. Winners of the contest were Sandra Willborn, Pat Hollis, Vicky Carlton, and Linda Clark. Afterward we all enjoyed chips and dips, cake, and cokes. Thanks to all of you who participated and made this a fun time for the residents. A special thanks goes to Jessie Colloom for the beautiful cake she made and brought to us.

Mr. Manuel Esquivel continues to be in Hendrick Hospital at this time.

We are happy to welcome Mrs. Marie Bradford back after a stay in North Runnels Hospital.

Norton Post Office is 100-years-old

In celebration of its 100th birthday, there will be a reception at the Norton Post Office on November 27. Mildred Burris, postmaster, says that refreshments will be served and everyone is welcome.

H.D. Pearce took George W. Norton, a native of Kentucky, out to the divide between Valley and Oak Creeks to look over a block of land known as the Burnett school land. Norton later purchased the property at fifty cents per acre and put it on the market in one and two hundred tracts. C.S. Miller was agent and prices were from $3.50 to $8.00 an acre.

The name of the town became Norton when the post office was established in 1894. It was housed in a room on the porch at Marion A. Wilkerson's home, almost two miles northeast of town, and he was the postmaster.

Mail came twice a week by horseback from Maverick. The post office was moved into Norton October 13, 1902. Other postmasters have been Thomas L. Trimmier, 1902; Thomas J. McCaughan, 1904 and again in 1919; Hattie E. Lloyd, 1911; Lee O. Steele, 1916; Roy L. Roper, 1921; William L. Hayley, 1926; Inez Daniel, 1940; Sallie Barrett, 1983; and Mildred Burris, 1984. Cindy Richards is substitute.

At Norton's death in 1889, he owned large tracts of land in many Texas counties. The following year, Norton's wife and son granted a ten-acre tract to L.A. Jackson, John Mackey, and R.P. Taylor, trustees of the Methodist Church, on which to build a church. This was known as Center Valley.

The school began in the church in 1901 with the pews as desks.

Water was secured from a well on the F. Roper farm nearby. The first teacher was Mrs. Laura Daniels and the second teacher was Oscar Torbett. The first person buried in the cemetery was the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Louder who died in January of 1901. The name was changed to Norton Cemetery sometime after the streets of Norton were laid off by O.C. Bivins in 1903.

Some early settlers were L.C. Proctor and Tom L. Patterson, whose father-in-law was Captain A.B. Hutchinson. The Procter farm became the D.W. Turner farm and is now the Anton Lange home. The Patterson home was just outside Norton, where he lived until his death in 1910. His only child, a daughter named Vera, married Dr. T.V. Jennings of Winters.

Robert Turner built the first store in 1901, but soon moved it to Marie and was followed by T.J. McCaughan who built a general store in 1903. Other merchants have followed, but Carl Lewis operated it about 20 years.

Dr. W.W. Mitchell and Less Trimmier built the first houses in Norton in 1901. Dr. Mitchell practiced medicine here until his death in 1950, except for a time spent in service during World War I when Dr. Stallingsworth came briefly.

The drug store operators were J.D. Miller, Lee Sadler, Roy Roper, W.L. Hayley, and Leldon (Buddy) Daniel, who was killed in a car wreck in 1952.

Several small schools around Norton combined with the Norton High School when the building was finished in 1906. The north Norton school built on the Procter farm in 1901, did not become a part of the Norton School until 1939. The school from Maverick came to Norton in 1937. In 1968, the Norton School burned and later in the year, high school students were sent to surrounding districts. An elementary school was rebuilt.

There is nothing left of Norton today but the post office and the Country Folks Cafe next door.

Mr. Webb has been coming to Winters because "he enjoys hands-on care of patients, the reason he went into nursing in the first place". Unfortunately his commitment at Community Hospital is going to require extra time spent there and he will not be able to continue to come here on alternating weekends.

The Family Group appreciates Mr. Webb for the excellent care he gave to the residents at the Senior Citizens Nursing Home.

This coming weekend, St. John's celebrates 90 years of being a Lutheran Church in Winters. It is a special time. It is a time for remembering and recollecting. In a way it is like homecoming and a family reunion put together. There is something about coming back home and worshipping in the same church that does something for you. Just this past week, I had a telephone call from one of our recent graduates from high school. She is now in college. She wanted to know if I had any churches that I could recommend to her. I was pleased that she called.

But as we talked about churches where she was living, she started to talk about her home church - St. John's. She had been home for homecoming and came to church on Sunday morning. The way she talked about her church was the same way she would talk about her home. Her church was so special to her. Just the way it is. She talked about the feeling of peace and the sense of God's presence when she came. She said, "If and when I get married, for sure I want to be married in St. John's."

What is there about the home church that makes one feel that way? I remember so well First Lutheran Church in Brookings, South Dakota. It was my home church for 8 years, from the time I entered 6th grade until I was a sophomore in college. It was an old building. With stained glass windows and a hand carved altar. Since my dad was the preacher there, we lived next door. I loved that old building. I was confirmed there. My grandmother was buried from that church. I can still remember the sermon that the religion professor from St. Olaf College preached that day. He used as his text these words from 2 Timothy 1:5ff, "I am reminded of your sincere faith, a faith that dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice and now, I am sure, dwells in you." As he stood in the pulpit and read these words, he looked down at one of the front pews where I was seated with my three brothers. He proceeded to tell us that it was my grandmother's fervent wish and prayer that all four of us would become preachers. One of my brothers was married in that church. All 4 of us did become preachers. And my brother, Rolf, who was married there, was ordained there.

Two summers ago when I was visiting there, I saw that they were tearing down the church. The congregation had outgrown the church years before and built a new one much bigger. The old First Lutheran had housed a number of smaller churches of various denominations but was now being razed and would soon be replaced by an apartment building. It was noon hour, and nobody was around. So I carefully snuck up to the building site and took four bricks from the pile - bricks that had been part of the wall of the church. My home church. And I have them with me in Winters. You can tear down and remove the building, but you can't remove the memories.

Churches are holy places. Ever so often one of the neighbor children ask if they can see the inside of the church. Most of the time they are impressed. Some of them ask, "Does God live here?" I tell them, "I hope so." For years we were taught that the church was indeed God's house. In our efforts to become realistic and factual and modern, we don't do that so often any more. I'm sad. Because it just has to be God's House. That's why it is our home church. We feel at home with God there. One of my favorite hymns, "Open Now Thy Gates of Beauty," has these words about the church: "Here thy praise is gladly chanted, here thy seed is dully sown; Let my soul, where it is planted, bring forth precious sheaves alone." No wonder folks come from miles away to celebrate a church anniversary. Something deep from within their well compels them, and when the church bell rings, they know they are coming home.

THE BEAN BAG TOSS was one of several booths at the Senior Citizens Nursing Home Halloween Carnival held last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Frank Collins winds up for the pitch.

The earth has three motions. It spins like a top, travels around the sun and moves through the Milky Way galaxy with the rest of the solar system.

ROBERT SILVA #1 cuts around a Stanton defender and heads for the end zone and the first six points of the night for the varsity Blizzards as they beat the Buffaloes 35-0. Also shown is Mark Deike #30, who made two touchdowns last Friday.

Blizzards roll over Stanton 35-0; play for district title against Wall

The Blizzards just keep on keeping on.

The Big Blue froze the Stanton Buffaloes in their tracks last Friday night by holding Stanton to just 36 total yards. The Buffaloes finally made a first down with 2:46 to go in the third quarter.

The Big Blue Wrecking Crew defense spent more time in the Stanton backfield than Stanton did. Kevin Conner played an outstanding game as defensive line-backer for the Blizzards. Conner made tackles to the left, to the right, and behind the line of scrimmage.

And just to show he could play on special teams, Conner blocked a Stanton punt which Presiliano Sanchez recovered in the end zone for a touchdown late in the third quarter.

For his efforts, Conner received honorable mention recognition from the Abilene Reporter-News and was named to the Honor Roll of the San Angelo Standard-Times.

The entire defensive team played an outstanding game as the secondary knocked down passes (Stanton was 2 of 11 attempts) and the defensive line controlled the line of scrimmage all night.

With such good defensive play, the offense had plenty of time to control the ball and scored on three runs and a pass.

Neither team was able to get to the end zone during the first quarter. Then the Blizzards offense started to gel when Robert Silva scored with a 15 yard scamper around right end in the second quarter. Robert Reed and his reliable kicking put Winters up 7-0.

Mark Deike then punched one over from five yards and Reed added the kick.

Deike scored again in the third quarter from eight yards out. Reed's PAT was good, pushing Winters' lead to 21-0.

Still in the third quarter, Zane Guy caught a 7-yard pass from quarterback John Belew to cap the offensive scoring. Reed added the kick.

Then came the Conner punt block, recovered by Sanchez, with Reed again on target for the extra point kick that ended the scoring at 35-0.

The Wall Hawks are the opponents this Friday. They are 6-3 and 3-1 with a loss in district play to Coahoma.

Winters head coach Robin Byrd says Wall likes the option and they throw the ball well. Of Wall he states, "We probably haven't seen as good a team all year."

Byrd sees the keys to the ball game as ball control, no turnovers, and making sure the defense stops the option and passing game.

Winters is 9-0 for the season and 4-0 in district play. The Blizzards have qualified for the playoffs and will meet a team from District 5-2A. Ozona is 3-0 and Eldorado and Iraan are 2-1 in that district.

The Blizzards meet the Hawks in Wall this Friday at 7:30 p.m. Be a part of the winning. Come support the Big Blue as they head to playoff action!

A special commemoration was observed in prayer and a candle lighting for the deceased son of the groom, Casey Wheelless. The candle was lit by the groom's son, Kevin Wheelless, and Kelly Kloeber.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a candle-light satin brocade dress, designed in Western fashion featuring a beaded Gallan lace western design and a matching western Gallan lace hat.

The bride carried a bouquet of burgundy and teal flowers with sunflowers atop a rosary belonging to her grandmother, Louise Michalewicz.

Matron of honor was sister of the bride, Janet Cason of Winters. Also serving as Matron of Honor was Delores (Porky) Hoelscher, aunt of the bride, of San Angelo. They wore burgundy western attire accented with pearl fringe and Gallan lace.

Bestmen were Kevin Wheelless of San Angelo, son of the groom, and brother of the groom, Donnie Wheelless of Crosbyton.

Ty Cason of Winters was ring-bearer.

The groom's party wore candle-light tuxedo shirts, black western ties, and blue jeans.

Ushers were Brent Jacob and Tad Cason of Winters.

Candle lighters were Angela Jacob of Winters and Trisha Wheelless of Crosbyton.

The offertory gifts were brought forward by Gary and Dinell Jacob, Mark Jacob, and Susan Leady, all of Winters. Gail Brown of San Angelo read the special prayers and readings. Facilitators of the wedding were Kelly Matschek and Sherline Strube.

The rehearsal dinner was given at the home of Tad and Janet Cason in Winters.

A reception-dinner and dance followed the wedding at the Winters Community Center.

The center was decorated with sunflowers and western-antique decor.

The bride's cake was a three-tiered, candle light cake decorated with flowers in burgundy, teal, and sunflowers. The cake was made by Carol Kozelsky.

The bride's table sat in front of an antique barnwood back-drop.

The groom's table was decorated with hay bales and sunflowers.

The bride graduated from Winters High School in 1974 and attended Western Texas College in Snyder. She is currently employed at Angelo Pellets Feedmill in San Angelo.

The groom graduated from Crosbyton High School in 1967. He completed courses in Diesel Mechanics at T.S.T.I. in Waco.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will make their home in San Angelo.

Crews News

by Hilda Kurtz

Hugs are like pancakes --- much better when they are warm.

The Crews Halloween Carnival was well attended. There were lots of spooks, games, laughs, and fun. Thanks to all who helped make it a success.

Hopewell Baptist Church had their annual dinner Sunday. Visitors were Paula, Rudy, and Ronnie New of Abilene; Carolyn Kraatz of Winters; Lionel Phipps and son of Dallas; and Dee Brea Baker of Abilene.

Correction: Juanita Shields was a visitor last Sunday at Hopewell Baptist Church, not Juanita Hill.

Dennis, Audine, and Roy McBeth returned home after spending a week in New Mexico. They visited with Keith, Laura, Rusty, and Chris Tounget. The McBeths served as house parents to Rusty and Chris while the Toungets were away. One day they all watched Rusty play soccer; another day they enjoyed time in the beautiful mountains.

Coleman Foreman attended the late O.J. Foreman Family Reunion at the Buffalo Gap Encampment. Coleman's oldest sister, Joyce James of Tennessee, did not get to come due to her husband having throat surgery. Thirty-four people attended.

Eileen and Kenny Cartwright's friends, David and Colleen Phipps of Wichita Falls, dropped in. They were on their way to Corpus Christi. All attended the Winters-Stanton football game.

Beverly, Corey, and Brad Van Zandt and Brenda and Margie Jacob attended church services Sunday in Brownwood. Afterwards they enjoyed dinner with the Jerry Englerts. Father Zientek of Brownwood also joined them for dinner. Later in the afternoon, all attended the United States Army Field Band and Soldiers Show in the Brownwood Coliseum.

Visiting Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion during the week were Lonnie Webb of San Angelo, Walter Pape of Santa Anna, and Hilda Kurtz.

Melvina and Marvin Gerhart had their grandsons, Bryant and Braden Mikeska of Wingate, to spend the night on Friday.

Visiting Georgia and Connie Gibbs Sunday from Winters were Saffron, Tanna, and Kenny Gibbs and Tammy, Haley, and Mark Kaczyk. Coming Sunday afternoon from Dallas were Lionel Phipps and his son.

Ruth Pape had two phone visits. One from son, Lee Ueckert, of Houston and one from Elaine Kennedy of Tampa. They were planning Thanksgiving. Lee is thinking of visiting during the week.

The Bill Mathis family attended the Winters-Stanton football game Friday night in Winters.

Marqué Mathis carried son, Will, trick or treating to Ruth and Brad Pape's and Melvina and Marvin Gerhart's on Monday night.

Selma Dietz and Dorintha Wilkerson were in Abilene Thursday to pick up new glasses for Dorintha.

Ruth Pape spent part of Thursday morning with me.

Nila and Therin Osborne ate supper with the Wesley McGallian family on Monday night.

Stenholm or an appointed member of their staff to discuss important issues facing Winters and the nation.

To complement these special meetings and briefings, Karolen will participate in a number of leadership building activities. In one activity, "If I Were President" students role-play the President, members of the Cabinet, and representatives from Capitol Hill who must respond to an international crisis involving North Korea. Culminating the National Young Leaders Conference is the "Mock Congress": in which Scholars assume the roles of United States Representatives by debating, amending, and voting on proposed legislation on crime.

The National Young Leaders Conference is sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council, a nonprofit, nonpartisan educational organization. Founded in 1985, the Council is committed to "fostering and inspiring young people to achieve their full leadership potential". Over 300 members of the United States Congress join this commitment as members of the Council's Honorary Congressional Board of Advisors. Each year, only 7,000 outstanding youth nationwide may participate in the 20 sessions of the National Young Leaders Conference.

"The conference provides the opportunity for students, like Karolen, to distinguish themselves as tomorrow's leaders," said John Hines, Council Executive Director. "Scholars not only gain knowledge and experience in the nation's capital, they leave with a sense of accomplishment and an increased ability to face the challenges of the future."

Kay Bailey Hutchison Working For Texas

Reducing Government to Strengthen Families and Small Business.

She's voted against higher taxes every time and for the Balanced Budget Amendment. She strongly opposes unnecessary federal regulations that hurt small business.

And she's proposed a new law so homemakers can save with a tax free retirement account, too.

Changing the Way Washington Works.

Kay cut her own Senate office budget 20% — just as she promised last year. Now she's pushed Congress to slash its budget, reduce government overhead by 10%, and trim $50 billion from 50 programs.

Kay's the sponsor of a bill for a national referendum on term limits and will set an example by only seeking two full terms herself.

Now she's determined to make Congress live under the laws it passes for the rest of America.

Protecting Our Freedom.

On the Armed Services Committee, Kay is fighting for a strong defense and defending our Texas military bases that are so critical to national security.

She's committed to protecting private property rights and other constitutionally protected freedoms.

She's pushing for tough crime laws that protect citizens, not criminals.

Already An Effective Leader.

Though we sent Kay Bailey Hutchison to the Senate just last year, she's already making a difference for Texas.

She passed a bill to make the federal government — for the first time — pay for some costs of its failure to protect our Texas border against illegal immigration.

Our choice this year is to keep this effective, new conservative leader who puts Texas first ... or replace her with a Clinton-style "New Democrat."

Sheriff urges citizens to vote for jail proposition

There has been a lot of talk and publicity recently about the building of a new county jail for Runnels County. The present 70-year-old jail has not been certified by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards for the last two years due to overcrowding. The present jail had 22 beds in it and cannot hold more than 18 inmates with the present number of employees. Eleven beds were added a year ago to give more inmates a bed within 72 hours after being placed in jail. This past summer there was a period of time that the daily average was 45 inmates.

The County Commissioners, the County Judge, and myself have for the past two years studied this problem. We have visited several jails and have talked to several planners and architects. We visited the jails in Corsicana and Athens that were built by Bob Frisby and architectural work by Wigginton Fawcett. We toured these facilities and it became apparent that they were a new concept in jail design. We decided that this type of facility would best serve Runnels County. These jails are built so that the prisoner cells surround an officer station and this officer is able to watch a large number of inmates much more easily. There is unbreakable glass instead of bars and this has several advantages:

1. The jail is much quieter.
2. Easier to keep clean.
3. Control of contraband and the passing of notes and letters.
4. Easier to watch inmates.
5. Disease control.

There are many things that must be considered when planning a jail. Federal lawsuits are one of the biggest problems that any county government faces. A jail that is designed to allow the inmates to be controlled more easily will help to keep these lawsuits from being filed. Personnel is another area that must be considered in the planning stage. A facility that is cheaper but is less efficient to operate in that there must be more officers on duty will cost more in the long run. If it is necessary to add one position to a shift that means that at least 4 more employees must be hired to fill this one position. The adding of these 4 employees will cost the county about $100,000 annually for salary and benefits. The design of the facility will also have a major impact on the cost of utilities to operate the jail.

The county officials have considered all of these problems in deciding to move forward on the design that is being voted on Nov. 8. There have been letters written and articles in the newspapers that are talking about a company that can build a jail cheaper. This company is building a jail in Hood Co. at Granbury that will have 192 beds. The architect stated that the cost will be $4,800,000 and the sheriff stated that it will be $5,800,000. If this company can build a jail for Runnels Co. with 104 beds at a cost of $1,000,000 they should be building the jail in Hood Co. for less than $2,000,000.

I ask that the voters take the time to vote on this issue and the county officials will move in whatever direction is necessary after the election. The bond issue is on the bottom of the ballot under PROPOSITION.

Please vote.
Thank you,
Sheriff Bill Baird

Resident concerned about media, guns, and crime

Dear Sir or Madam:

As a patriotic American and a member of the National Rifle Association, I'm extremely concerned about the way the media has blamed gun owners for the rising tide of crime in our country.

To counter the myths that have surrounded the gun control debate, the NRA's Wayne LaPierre has just written a book entitled, "Guns, Crime, and Freedom". This book is available in local bookstores right now.

More than half of your readers are gun owners. I'm writing to ask you to give them the fair and equal treatment they deserve in the pages of your newspaper. And I urge you to begin carrying out this policy immediately, by informing the public of the existence of this book. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Ellis Ueckert

Commissioner asks taxpayers for "YES" vote on county jail

To Runnels County Taxpayers:
As some of you know, I have worked for Runnels County thirty-five years. Twenty-three of these years, I served as Deputy Sheriff and the remainder as County Commissioner of Precinct #2, serving the northeast part of county. All the years have been rewarding and very pleasant for me and my family.

Over the years, I have found people in this county to be very cooperative especially when a community or the county was faced with a problem of any kind. We are now faced with building a new jail for the county. Federal and state mandated, we either build a new maximum security jail that meets the state jail standards or our old jail will be closed down, then we would have to transport all inmates somewhere else.

For the past year, your Commissioners' Court and Sheriff have driven many miles and put in many hours looking at new and old jails trying to come up with a plan that will solve our present problem and for years to come in the future. The plan we are recommending will meet all standards we have to abide by. It can be enlarged in the future if the need should arise.

The county jails in Corsicana and Athens, Texas, were built in the same design as we would like to build in Runnels County. They are built in an entirely different concept to the old jail of the past. I only wish all of you could visit these jails. They are unbelievable and cannot be described, unless you see them in person. I do not like to describe a jail as something to be proud of, but if all of you can see your way clear to vote "YES" on the bond election, November 8th, we can and will build a jail all Runnels County can be proud of.

I am a taxpayer same as all of you and do not like taxes anymore then you do. I have voted "YES" for this bond election, and hope that enough of you will join me so that it will pass with no problems.

I would like to thank all of you for permitting me to work for and with you all these years.

Respectfully,
Johnnie Wilson
County Commissioner Pct. 2

Dear Editor:

We admit to being biased in our support of Mary Scott Nabers in her race for the Texas Railroad Commission. We are her parents. We realize that she is human, therefore not perfect. We assure though, that she is and has been, a public official that will not lie, cheat, or steal.

Mary is a friend of public education and a motivator of young people. She is talented, charitable, and trustworthy. If those are requirements of a public servant, then we feel she merits and will appreciate your consideration.

V.F.W., Auxiliary to sponsor contests

Winters Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9193 Ladies Auxiliary met for their October meeting in the Post Home.

A report was given by President Mary Kurtz on the program held at the Winters Senior Citizen Nursing and Retirement Home. Those attending enjoyed the sing-along with Betty Pinkerton at the piano and organ and the clown act. Residents really seemed to enjoy the fish-shaped soap made by the Auxiliary ladies and the delicious cookies and angel food cake made by Mamie Jean Hoppe.

It was reported that donations had been made to the following projects: Health and Happiness/Christmas Cheer Fund, Cancer Aid and Research, Hospital Pledge, State Nursing Scholarship, Disaster Fund, and State President's Special Project.

The group received a Certificate of Appreciation from the National Home for Children. It was announced that District 22 President Edith Bradley would be present for the next meeting.

The Auxiliary then met with the V.F.W. Post in a joint meeting. The group decided to sponsor the Voice of Democracy Program and the Annual Young American Patriotic Art Contest in the Winters School. Patriotic and Safety Contests will be held in the Winters Elementary School with prizes given. See related story "Voice of Democracy" Scholarship Program.

A Veteran's Day Supper will be given Saturday, Nov. 12, at 6:30 in the Post Home for all Post and Auxiliary members and all other veterans and their spouses.

The next meeting will be Nov. 14, 1994, at 7:00 p.m. in the Post Home.

Spook House draws crowd for needy cause, fun

Several Winters residents recently joined efforts to support a needy cause and offer an alternative to mischief and violence during the one night of the year that many seem to be searching for ways to get into trouble.

On Halloween night, a Spook House was conducted at the corner of Hamilton and Melwood Streets. Actors visited from "The Chain Saw Massacre"; Freddie Krueger made an appearance, as well as Dracula and several other haunting characters. Guides took you through a winding path which included a graveyard.

Admission was one canned good per person to be donated to the Winters Food Pantry.

Participants included Tanya New, Shane and Lauri Smith, Tank and Melela Tankersley, Randy and Doty Hoelscher, Blaine and Cindy Barnes, Zaine Barnes, Mickey and Cory Smith, Margie Clough, Marlis Ashton, Mikey Hernandez, Raymond and Millie Ortiz, Ray and Aletha Guevara, Lance Guevara, Derek Tubbs, Kenny Whittenburg, Julie Dieke, Robbie Kraatz, Wayne Kraatz, Cari Hayes, Rowdy Boyd, and Leo Uresti.

Thanks to everyone who visited and made it a fun night.

Parade of Costumes inspires imagination

In preparation of what one might call the scariest holiday of the year, some students and teachers "dressed to the hilt" to disguise themselves and create somewhat of a different atmosphere in the halls of Winters Elementary School on Monday, October 31.

Witches, black cats, ghosts, goblins, pumpkins, and vampires were seen commonly, while sometimes unidentified persons or objects spirited the Halloween day.

A parade and contest were held recognizing students for costumes. Recognition was given in each grade for five different categories. Judges were Superintendent Tommy Lancaster and Administrator Jimmy Butler. Students were awarded a bag of goodies. Winners are as follows.

Voter registration ranks among top for gubernatorial election year

Texas Secretary of State Ronald Kirk encourages all registered voters in Texas to take advantage of early voting through November 4. Election day voting begins at 7:00 a.m. and ends at 7:00 p.m. on November 8.

Texas has 8,641,848 registered voters. Over 500,000 people in the State of Texas registered to vote between August 16 and October 9. "I am pleased that Texas recaptured over half of the voter registrations lost in August. It shows that Texans do take their government seriously and know the significance of taking the first step in the electoral process," Kirk said.

Although Texas experienced a slight decrease from its 1992 registration numbers, voter registration is higher than it has been in the last twenty years for a gubernatorial election. The following is a listing of voter registration in the last five gubernatorial elections: 1990-7,701,449; 1986-7,287,173; 1982-6,414,988; 1978-5,681,875 and 1974-5,348,393.

COLEMAN COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST

Notice is hereby given that Coleman County Electric Cooperative, Inc. (the "Utility") intends to change rates for electric utility service effective January 1, 1995, or as soon thereafter as may be permitted by law. Based upon a test year ending June 30, 1994, the increase requested over actual test year revenues is $318,220 or 5%. The changes are applicable to all areas, all customer classes, and all customers served by the Utility.

The Utility proposes to change all rates for residential, irrigation, small commercial, large commercial, security lighting and cotton gin service, including customer, demand, energy, minimum and other charges. The proposed changes are expected to affect the classes as follows: for the 5,103 customers in the residential class, the proposed increase will be $166,605, or a 6.19% change in revenues; for the 117 customers in the irrigation class, the proposed increase will be $3,121, or a 6.19% change in revenues; for the 2,381 customers in the small commercial class, the proposed increase will be $133,144, or a 6.19% change in revenues; for the 53 customers in the large commercial class, the proposed increase will be $7,250, or a 1.15% change in revenues; for the 3 customers in the cotton gin class, the proposed increase will be $1,000, or a 4.83% change in revenues; for the 1,370 security light customers, the proposed increase will be $7,100, or a 6.19% change in revenue. No change is proposed for the 2 LP special customers, Santa Fe Pipeline Company and Colorado River Municipal Water District.

The Utility is required to give notice of the percentage increase in base revenues, which is 11.75%. The percentage increase in base revenues is NOT an indication of how much your bill will increase. Rather, it is a measure of the increase needed by the Utility for its own operations, excluding payment for the cost of power purchased by the Utility from its wholesale power suppliers.

Information concerning the proposed rate changes, including the proposed customer, demand, and energy charges applicable to each class of service, the estimated effect on revenue by customer class, and a brief description of the applicability and type of service for any new class of service which is proposed by the utility, is available at the general office of the utility, located at 300 North Highway 84, Coleman, Texas 76834, or will be provided upon request to any customer by mail without charge. The utility has filed a copy of this Notice of Rate Change Request with the Public Utility Commission of Texas. Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512)458-0256, or (512)458-0221 for text telephone. The deadline for intervening will be November 28, 1994.

is currently coaching and teaching at Valley View near Denton. Jody Guy played defensive end and fullback as a junior at Winters High School in 1990. That year, the Big Blue was district runner-up and lost to DeLeon 24-0 in playoff action. DeLeon eventually lost in the state finals to Groveton. Jody was named as second team All-District defensive end.

As a senior, Jody wore #33, and played linebacker and fullback. He was named as first team All-District linebacker in spite of playing five games with a broken foot and a broken finger, both later requiring surgery.

While at WHS, Jody was a member of the district track team and National Honor Society. He graduated from Winters in 1992, and presently attends Angelo State University, majoring in government and actively involved in weight training. He is married to the former Carrie Smith of Winters.

Zane, #35 on the Blizzard football team, has played varsity tight end and defensive end for the past three years. As a sophomore, he was named as second team All-District tight end. As a junior, he was named to the first team All-District as tight end and defensive end. He has participated in basketball and track at WHS, and is a member of the National Honor Society. After graduation in May, 1995, Zane hopes to play college football.

Let anyone attempt to overlook the females of the Guy family, LaShea and Janet have managed to more than hold their own competing against four brothers.

LaShea, a 1985 graduate of WHS, was a varsity cheerleader for the 1983 Blizzard playoff team. She also competed in varsity basketball. She is married to Jeff Butts, a 1983 Winters graduate, and presently a varsity coach for the undefeated Blizzards. Jeff played quarterback on the 1982 district runner-up team, and has coached three of his brothers-in-law at Winters.

Houston, Jody and Zane are all quick to point out that "Coach Butts" has never been "soft on relatives" and "shows no mercy" to his brothers-in-law.

Last, but not least, is the baby of the family, Janet. Presently a sophomore at Winters, Janet runs track and plays varsity basketball. She was a member of the 1993-94 Lady Blizzard basketball team that won the district championship and was the only team in the state to beat the Lady Indians of Jim Ned not once, but twice in one season.

The Guy family has had some-one playing football for the past seventeen years and figured that each son played a minimum of 56 regular season football games from seventh grade through twelfth grade.

Being a devoted sports mom, Kay always dressed in traditional blue and white on game days and has accumulated dozens of "Blizzard outfits" and accessories over the years. However, if her team lost a game on that day, she wouldn't wear that same outfit the rest of the season.

One year, the family attended football games three nights a week. One son played junior high games on Thursdays, one played varsity games on Fridays and one played college games on Saturdays.

A great sense of humor, a lot of bandages, three sets of couches from wrestling matches, a reliable automobile and love of sports have seen the Guy family through years of competitions.

Then there is the secret weapon — chocolate gravy. This Friday morning breakfast treat has been a tradition for the Guys for many years. The concoction consists of sugar, cocoa, butter, vanilla, water and a secret thickening agent that only Kay knows. This mix is cooked and served on toast — at least an entire loaf — and washed down with a gallon of milk, when all four boys were home.

Of course, sometimes the boys would bet and argue over who could eat the most "chocolate gravy". These "discussions" often ended in physical challenges of sorts, anything from arm wrestling to leg wrestling indoors to a wild game of chase and tag outdoors.

As with many contests, tempers can become short at times and the physical activity heats up. This has also been part of growing up in the Guy household.

When all the kids were at home, Barron broke Jody's collar bone, LaShea shoved Jody into some bricks causing a large cut which required stitches, Houston broke Jody's nose so Jody chased Houston with an axe, Jody hit Zane with some keys and cut his eye, Zane shot Barron with a BB gun, and LaShea could beat all her brothers at arm wrestling. Janet has remained pretty much unscathed except for one incident when her brothers "cannonballed" her across the room in a tossing match. Most of their attention toward Janet is in the form of being overprotective and "bossy", she says.

Another big event that still continues is the annual "Turkey Bowl" family football game played each Thanksgiving. This rough-and-tumble game has become a "survival of the fittest" contest with competition being every man for himself. The winner captures bragging rights for an entire year. "And brag, they do," says Kay.

When asked what advice their dad would give them before a big sporting event, the Guy brothers said Junior would always say, "If you'll win this game, I'll buy you a new truck." Then he'd smile.

Barron adds, "We've won a lot of trucks over the past seventeen years; we just haven't received any of them yet."

Perhaps the Guy children know they've received something that money can't buy — dedication, tradition, and unconditional love. And playoff titles.

Every vote counts

HOW IMPORTANT is one vote? The Farm Bureau News cites several examples of how one vote made a big difference:

- English became the official language of the United States instead of German, by one vote.
- Texas was admitted into the union, by one vote.
- President Andrew Johnson was saved from impeachment, by one vote.
- The Selective Service was kept alive, by one vote, just weeks before Pearl Harbor was attacked.

To the Voters of Runnels County

Runnels County economy cannot support a new jail. Citizens are burdened with all the taxes we can afford to pay now. In the twelve years I was owner and operator of H & H Tire & Muffler, I saw lots of farmers and businesses close their doors and go out of business because of the economic conditions in Runnels County. If you think Winters is on a "boom" just drive around town and look at all of the houses for sale and the vacant buildings in downtown Winters.

Building new jails or prisons is not the answer. The proposed building for the jail is better than most houses we live in. What we need are stiffer laws for the Criminals.

When England wanted to cut government waste, a Texan showed them how to trim the fat

Cutting waste in government isn't easy. That's why, when members of Parliament wanted to make the British government more efficient, they consulted the recognized expert in America: Texas Comptroller John Sharp.

Hardly a surprise, old chap. Since taking office in 1991, John Sharp and his Texas Performance Review team have set the standard for streamlining government agencies, saving taxpayers a documented $6.2 billion and helping Texas avoid a state income tax. And his reviews of Texas school districts have saved taxpayers more than $24 million.

Now he's fighting to cut millions of dollars in welfare fraud and bureaucratic waste by abolishing paper food stamps, which are often stolen and then traded for drugs. Sharp's plan is to replace food stamps with computerized security cards.

No wonder U.S. News and World Report (1/4/94) says: "John Sharp has become the mastermind behind a sweeping overhaul of the bureaucracy that has put Texas at the forefront of the nationwide effort to...root out waste."

Yet, despite all the additional duties and initiatives taken on by the Comptroller's Office, Sharp still managed to reduce the number of his employees and return $9 million of his budget to the taxpayers.

Of course, there's a lot more waste in Texas state government just waiting to be cut, so the job is far from over. That's why we need to keep John Sharp on the job.

Cellular phones denied for county officials

by Sandy Owen
Special to The Winters Enterprise

The Department of Public Safety's request for six cellular phones was shot down during a special meeting of the County Commissioners, Thursday, October 27.

DPS troopers wanted cellular phones for each trooper car, the Runnels County sheriff and judge, and two commissioners. After a brief discussion, Commissioner Johnnie Wilson made a motion to deny the request and Commissioner Self seconded the motion. Commissioner Ricky Strube was in favor of the denial while Commissioner Skipper Wheelless was opposed.

The request for the phones would be for locating the individuals and calling next of kin when serious accidents occur.

Wilson said that the radio in current use should be sufficient.

After weeks of research and comparisons on health insurance bids submitted to the county, the commissioners made a motion to continue with the current Blue Cross/Blue Shield plan with no changes.

Commissioners' Court reconvened at 7 p.m. for a public hearing on the proposed county jail.

The next meeting is Nov. 14 to canvass votes from the Nov. 8 election and Nov. 15 is the regular meeting.

Don't miss your opportunity to win a boat or $15,000 cash

The Winters Volunteer Fire Department has extended their deadline for purchasing tickets for the fish and ski boat combo or $15,000 cash until December 3.

"Ticket sales have not been going as well as expected," says Fire Chief Johnny Merrill. "We had hoped to contain sales within the Winters area, but may have to seek outside advertising and purchasers."

WVFD hopes to sell 400 tickets at $100 each as a major fundraiser for the building of a new fire station. The drawing will be held the day of the Christmas parade.

The boat is on display at Peoples National Bank parking lot. This 18' fish and ski combo boat, VIP brand, is red, silver, and charcoal with standard equipment including rear entrance ladder, tripod ski bar, trolling motor, AM/FM/cassette, Hummingbird depth finder, 135 hp Mercury motor with stainless steel prop. The winner has the option of taking the boat or $15,000 cash.

Citizens are encouraged to support the Fire Department in their efforts. If a fireman calls upon you, remember, he gave you one of the first chances. Don't let this opportunity pass you by.

Students encouraged to participate in the V.F.W. "Voice of Democracy" Scholarship Program

The Winters Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9193 and the Ladies Auxiliary are sponsoring the 1994-95 "Voice of Democracy" Program. This program has been officially endorsed by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and has been placed on the NASSP National Advisory List of Contests and Activities for 1994-95.

The "Voice of Democracy" Scholarship Program is a national audio essay scholarship competition conducted by the V.F.W. to give 10th, 11th, and 12th grade high school students the opportunity to speak up for freedom and democracy. The program is designed to foster patriotism, love of country and intended to encourage citizenship.

All eligible students will be judged on their interpretation on the program theme. A positive approach should be used to express the entrant's viewpoint. The theme is "My Vision for America". The finished written essay can not take less than three minutes nor longer than five minutes to deliver on cassette tape.

State winners will receive an all-expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C. Five fun-filled days of tours, theaters, visits to monuments, meeting with heads of state and often the President or Vice President of the United States. Scholarships will be given on the state level and the first place winner will also be sponsored to the American Academy of Achievement in June at a selected site.

National scholarships will total over $100,000 with over 40 winners. The first prize will be a $20,000 scholarship.

The V.F.W. must receive entries by November 15, 1994. If you are interested please contact David Evans, Winters High School Teacher, or Mary Kurtz, V.F.W. "Voice of Democracy" Chairman.

LOOK WHO'S SUPPORTING SENATOR BILL SIMS ...

"Senator Bill Sims has established himself not only as a conservative voice in the Senate, but also as a leader of bipartisan cooperation in state government ... a knowledgeable, but down-to-earth politician who understands the people and needs of this district."

Abilene Reporter-News
Sunday, October 16, 1994

"Sims has been anything but bashful about proposing legislation of his own ... sponsoring 555 bills during his six sessions in the legislature. Because Bill Sims has demonstrated the ability to work with both sides of the aisle and has garnered the respect of his Senate colleagues he would make an effective spokesman in the Senate for Bell County and the rest of Central Texas."

Temple Daily-Telegram
Sunday, October 23, 1994

"He's a rancher, small businessman and a conservative legislator whose credentials already are established around the Capitol in Austin. Sen. Bill Sims is the man we should elect to represent District 24."

Killeen Daily-Herald

"Bill Sims has been a fierce advocate for agricultural interests in the Senate. He led the successful fight for boll weevil eradication legislation, which will mean millions of dollars a year to producers and the state."

San Angelo Standard-Times
Sunday, October 16, 1994

"The Texas State Teachers Association is committed to excellence in our educational system. Sen. Sims has worked with the TSTA to help us insure a quality education for our students and to improve the status of teachers and other educational employees."

Richard Kouri
President of TSTA

"The 1993 legislative session was one of the most successful for business in many years. A great deal of the credit goes to key legislative leaders like Sen. Bill Sims, who was instrumental in making sure the needs of the business community were so favorably represented in the Texas Capitol."

Bruce Gibson
President of the Texas Chamber of Commerce

"Sen. Sims understands that small business is the backbone of our nation's economy and is fighting hard to resist attempts by state government to mandate benefits that would interfere with small business operations."

Robert S. Howden
State Director of the National Federation of Independent Businesses/Texas

"Not only is Sen. Sims important to us as a senator, we consider him one of us as well. As a farmer and rancher, he is keenly aware of the problems that face agricultural producers. And he shares our concerns about property rights and government regulations."

John Baker
Farm Bureau member

"Sen. Sims was instrumental in ending liberal parole policies that were releasing 150 inmates a day - often violent offenders - onto the streets. Under Sen. Sims leadership, parole has been cut back by two-thirds."

Claude Hart
Executive Director of the Texas State Troopers Association

"Sen. Sims has been a friend to law enforcement throughout his public career."

Jim Lyde
Executive Director of the Texas Municipal Police Association
