PRICE 50 CENTS

NUMBER 47

MARK McMURRAY OF DeSOTO, TEXAS, bagged his first buck of the season in South Taylor County on Thursday, November 16, 1995. The 13-point buck scored on the Texas Index at 161 7/8 points and is estimated to be 4 1/2-years-old. When field dressed, its weight will be approximately 115 pounds. McMurray, who is married to the former Jill Walker from Winters, has already been fortunate in acquiring a couple of doe early in the season, but still looks forward to "getting the granddaddy of all."

Council hires new police officer

In a relatively short meeting on November 13, the Winters city council voted to hire Jason Pierson as a new police officer with duties to begin immediately.

Mayor Dawson McGuffin presented Susan Conner a proclamation honoring her husband, Randall, for his outstanding work with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Conner was recently honored at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center in San Angelo by the Extension Service.

Chief of Police Carey Balentine reported that Chevrolet had decided to stop making full size police cars and that Ford, being the only company still making them, increased the price to $18,306.00. Because this amount is more than was budgeted, Alderman Nelan Bahlman moved to initiate steps required to amend the budget to include the difference in the new price.

City manager Aref Hassan gave a report of his recent attendance at the Texas Municipal League annual conference in Dallas. During the meeting, Hassan represented the City of Winters on the Attorney General's Advisory Committee.

Hassan also reported to the council that the city has contracted with a collection agency and the Tax Attorney's Agency to assist in collecting delinquent taxes.

Blizzards rain on Eagles 26-0 for Bi-district win; Albany next

In the battle at Mudfest '95 last Friday night, the Winters Blizzards sloshed their way to a bi-district championship win 26-0 over the Eldorado Eagles.

On a field that had earlier in the week been soaked to soften the playing turf and then on game day received 3/4 of an inch of slow rain, neither team was able to overcome the elements for most of the first half.

Winters received the opening kickoff, and pass and ran to two first downs as John Biddix caught a 12-yard pass and Jerry Esquivel ran for twelve more. But a hold-hit ing penalty and an overthrown fumble. Winters stood at 6, pass forced the Blizzards to punt.

Eldorado was held by the Big Blue Wrecking Crew and punted the ball, and Winters started the only scoring drive of the first half at the Eldorado 44-yard line.

Jerry Esquivel was the work-horse for Winters with four carries for 25 yards. John Belew was on target with a pass for 19 yards to Mark Deike that set up the touchdown. Quarterback Belew took two tries to get it in from two yards out and scored with 3:42 to go in the first quarter. The extra point snap was high and backup quarterback Michael Mostad was hit in the back recovering the penalty and an overthrown fumble. Winters stood at 6, pass forced the Blizzards to punt.

Mostad's injury took him out for the remainder of the game, leaving the Blizzards with no backup quarterback.

The rest of the first half was a seesaw punting battle and neither team could mount a sustained drive.

A more aggressive, motivated Blizzard team came out for the second half after some apparent inspiration.

Eldorado received the second half kickoff but John Belew intercepted the third play from scrimmage and Winters started their

Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District receives national award

The Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District, with headquarters in Ballinger, was named Grand Award Winner in the 48th annual Goodyear Conservation Awards Program. The award was presented to the SWCD as a result of nationwide competition sponsored by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company in cooperation with the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD).

"We at Goodyear have spent the past 48 years sponsoring an annual conservation recognition program for conservation districts and their cooperating landowners and operators. Your district, in cooperation with other districts across the country, have contributed to thousands of acres of this country's soil, water, forests, and related natural resources having been saved for future generations," said Carl McElroy, Goodyear's

District Sales Manager in Houston.

In addition to receiving a special plaque recognizing its soil and water conservation achievements, the Runnels SWCD will participate in a grand awards tour, which is an expense-paid work-study trip in December to the Camelback Inn Resort in Scottsdale, Arizona. The directors of the district will be joined by representatives of other winning SWCDs from throughout the United States.

"An independent judging committee of state agricultural leaders selected the Runnels SWCD on the basis of the district's accomplishments in soil and water conservation," according to McElroy who presented the award.

The SWCD received the award at the 55th annual meeting of Soil and Water Conservation District Directors which was held in Galveston on October 16-18. Approximately 1,000 SWCD directors representing the state's 214 SWCDs as well as other conservation leaders attended the conference.

OIL BUSINESS

By Reg Boles ©1995

Carbon dioxide flooding is the darling of the oil patch again. Quite an accomplishment considering oil prices are lower in real terms than 10 years ago when everybody was ready to chuck it.

The development of carbon dioxide flooding as a tertiary (meaning "third try") recovery technique began more than 20 years ago at SACROC (near Snyder) among other places. It proved successful, but it is expensive to install and operate.

When oil prices reached their peak in 1982 and then began to stagnate and ultimately fall, serious questions arose as to the economic viability of the process.

Carbon dioxide flooding is unquestionably viable as far as engineering and technical factors go. However, the costs of selecting candidate fields, design of the flood, installing the proper equipment, building the necessary facilities to recover the carbon dioxide from the production stream, and maintaining the fields under flood are quite high.

The economic hurdles of carbon dioxide flooding made it very unattractive as oil prices began to fall (gasp!) below $30 per barrel in the early '80s. And, it happened at a very inopportune time, as large companies such as Shell, Amoco, and Amerada Hess were just finishing multi-million dollar recovery plants in West Texas. It seemed that large expenditures for the recovery method of the future were for nothing, as the prevailing economic reality of flooding reservoirs with carbon dioxide set in.

Partners began to pull out of projects, and budgets were scaled back. The future of carbon dioxide looked tentative at best, as oil prices began to slide even further (gasp!gasp!) below $20.

So, what's the deal? Why is it popular again? Oil prices are, after all, only $18 per barrel.

I hate to sound like the "conventional wisdom," but technology is the key. I will add that some hard work and determination by some regular people also play a big part. It also hasn't hurt that source carbon dioxide has come down in price a little, too.

The technology part is made up of two things.

The design of the floods used to take about two years, as extremely complex computer models had to be built to predict the performance of a potential flood. The predictions are used to select candidate fields, design well patterns, etc. Now, vastly superior computing power has allowed planning to be condensed into less than six months.

The production technology is the other part. The corrosive nature of carbon dioxide and water (forms carbonic acid) makes maintenance costly. But, new metallurgical and vessel technology has minimized the costs and maximized the effectiveness of recovery and gathering systems.

As a result of these technology advances, costs to install a flood are greatly reduced.

On the human side, engineers, field operators, and others have learned a lot from the existing carbon dioxide floods and are applying this knowledge to improve the economics of the new projects. Add a little hard work, and you have a work force able to make these things work at $18 per barrel.

All in all, the source price reduction included, the economics of carbon dioxide flooding have improved to point that supercedes stagnated prices. The Texas oil patch will surely benefit.

From The Well

by Pastor Jim Hanson

Today I am going deep into my well. I am thinking about Thanksgiving Day when I was a kid. It was so special. We spent most of November getting ready for it.

The preparation really started in school. Our teachers would start dressing the blackboards with cut-outs of pilgrims with their broad-brimmed hats with a ribbon and buckle on the side. Knee pants and big white collars. The women with their full length dresses with their bonnets and white aprons. And, the Indians.

Soon there would be added the words, "Happy Thanksgiving." The visual aids got us ready for the readings. First we saw, and then we heard the story. It was always fascinating to me as the teacher read about these folks who came over from England on the Mayflower. I could feel the cold splash of sea as she related the rough passage that took over three months. I mourned with those brave folks when I heard about when their loved ones died, and I breathed a sigh of relief when they made their landing in this brave new world.

They were called Pilgrims, these people. They were on a journey to a new land. They were hard working, family based, pious people. They had left almost everything behind them. They brought the ideal of freedom, of living in a free land where they would be free to worship God according to their conscience and a reliance on Holy Scripture for their guidance and governance.

Not only was their trip over difficult and demanding, their first year was no picnic! When the worst was finally over, they had lost forty-seven people, nearly half their original number. Thirteen out of eighteen wives died, only three families remained unbroken. And, as one historian put it, through it all their hearts remained soft towards God. The high point of their week remained Sunday worship, when the beat of the field drum would summon them to the morning and afternoon services.

As the teacher went on, we finally heard about that first Thanksgiving in October of 1621. Governor Bradford declared a public celebration, and ninety Indians came! The poor women were wondering how to feed them all. They came a day early, but not empty-handed. These natives brought five dressed deer, and more than a dozen fat wild turkeys. They taught the Pilgrim women how to make hoe cakes and a tasty pudding out of cornmeal and maple syrup. Finally, they taught them how to roast corn kernels in an earthen pot until they popped, fluffy and white - popcorn!

Between meals, the Indians and Pilgrims happily competed in shooting contests, foot races, and wrestling. Things went so well that Thanksgiving Day was extended for 3 days!

As we heard this story, we were pulled back into our roots as a nation. And, for sure, we wanted to get into the act. So, we did. We did a play. Each of us had a part. We made costumes. We learned lines. We re-did that first Thanksgiving, and it was planted deep in the well-springs of our soul.

How do we get into the act of Thanksgiving this year? For sure the Pilgrims remembered to give thanks to God for providing all their needs. And, for sure, we can, too. In our homes and in our churches on that day. We can join in the prayer of that Psalmist who said, "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endures forever." And saying that prayer, or one like it, for a moment or two, get into the act. The act of Thanksgiving. Our only true response for the gifts that God gives us!

Former resident making big name in country music industry

A small town girl with big ideas. That's what Reta Lee is all about. Taking time from her busy six week promotional radio tour, Reta and her manager stopped for a brief visit here in her old stomping grounds.

Reta is the former Reta Fuller, daughter of the late Vernon and Minnie Fuller of Winters. An aunt, Emma Fuller Moore, and husband Bob, were among friends and family members who dropped by to visit with Reta while she was in Winters.

Reta graduated from Jim Ned High School in Tuscola, and took baton twirling lessons from the former Judy Ledbetter of Winters. She, like so many other country entertainers, started her singing career in a little Baptist church near Abilene and was lovingly coached by her mother. Her daddy managed her career and made sure she appeared in all the local talent shows.

Reta says she "holds the wonderful memories of her parents very dearly in her heart."

Her country music career started when she was invited to appear on a local television show on KRBC television in Abilene.

After attending Hardin-Simmons University, she did some modeling, then married and moved to Wisconsin where she taught ballet, tap, jazz and baton twirling. She organized her own country band and called them "Pure Gold." She played all over the upper midwest, and even had her own television show, "Country Side Round Up," televised from Duluth, Minnesota.

Reta moved to Las Vegas in 1988 and had been performing her country single show in several local clubs. Her manager, long-time Las Vegas businessman, John Milam, heard Reta singing in one of the clubs on the Strip and gave her the financial backing she needed to complete the "Dare to Dream" album she had already started on last fall. She says she named her album for all the wonderful friends who gave her the hope to "dare to dream."

She has signed with the Little Richie Johnson record label and her recording of "Hey Baby" hit number one on the Airplay International Top 50 Independent Chart and was number 42 on the Major Chart in mid-October.

Reta received The Rising Star award for her "Dare to Dream" album on October 29 during the Country Music Association's of America competitions in Las Vegas.

During Reta's recent visit to this area, Lynn Smith of KRUN radio in Ballinger, hit the airways with Reta's songs, which combine Tex-Mex and country music.

In spite of her rising stardom, Reta is quick to remember her "roots" and gives her grateful thanks to all her friends and family for their support and encouragement throughout the years.

She has even written a book titled The Ingredient Called Love which is a tribute to her late father who suffered a stroke in 1986 and died in 1988, in Wisconsin. Her father was buried in Winters and Reta still expresses her gratitude for the "incredibly wonderful care" her family received from Mike Meyer and his staff at Winters Funeral Home.

Reta said she "loved seeing old friends and family members" during her recent visit to Winters and appreciates the inspiration she gets from them. Reta always ends her shows by saying, "It's people like you who make people like me."

Roots run deep for Reta Lee.

Tooter Harrison elected to Board

Lula Mae "Tooter" Harrison, retired teacher, of Winters, was elected to the board of Hardin-Simmons Baptist University, Abilene, during the annual meeting of the 2.6 million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas in San Antonio, November 13-14.

The 213-member BGCT Executive Board staff, from its offices in Dallas, responds to the needs of the churches and multiplies their ministries through various institutions and agencies.

Texas Baptist institutions include eight universities, two academies, Hispanic Baptist Theological Seminary in San Antonio, seven hospital systems, and homes for children and the aging in multiple locations throughout the state.

Blizzard Fans!
 Show your Blizzard spirit! Bring your shakers, rattlers, ringers, clangers, bangers, or any noise makers you can make or find to all the Blizzard football games. Put gravel or rocks in a drink can or plastic bottle. The noise is great and very intimidating to the opponent. See you at the game!

Directions to Gordon Wood Stadium in Brownwood

Football fans traveling to Brownwood in support of the Winters Blizzards may find the following information useful.

Be sure to look for the high stadium lights.

See the Blizzards off to Victory

All fans and parents of the Blizzards Bi-District Champions should be at the Blizzard field house on Friday, November 24, between 3:15 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. for a "Send Off" as the team leaves for Brownwood to meet Albany at 7:30 p.m.

Show your support—Be there!

Proud to be a Blizzard

 second scoring drive from their own 40-yard line.

A punishing ground game led the Blizzards down the field on their scoring drive. A mixture of running talents from Jerry Esquivel, Arnold Silva, Marshall Scates and Mark Deike took the ball to the Eldorado 6-inch line before Belew took it over for the touchdown. The 2-point try was no good and Winters led 12-0 with 6:05 left in the third quarter.

The Eagles and the Blizzards traded punts and on Eldorado's next possession, the Blizzards recovered an Eagle fumble at the Eldorado 37-yard line. On third and nine John Biddix wrestled a pass away from the Eagle defender for a Winters first down on the Eldorado 26-yard line. On fourth and ten, Belew forced Deike to change his crossing pattern by lofting the ball straight down the field. Deike adjusted quickly, eluded his defender and caught the ball for the 26-yard touchdown. Jonathan Cobb's PAT kick was good, giving Winters a 19-0 lead.

Eldorado was marching downfield at the beginning of the fourth quarter when John Biddix intercepted the ball at the Winters 27-yard line.

A combination of passing and running by the Blizzards got the ball to the Eldorado 10-yard line where Belew threw a bullet to Mark Deike for the touchdown. The extra point kick by Cobb was good and with 5:28 left in the game, the scoring ended with Winters leading 26-0.

Jerry Esquivel finished the game with 15 carries for 77 yards and Marshall Scates had seven carries for 59 yards to lead the Blizzards in their ground game.

Mark Deike led all receivers with five catches for 70 yards. John Biddix had four key catches for 41 yards.

Quarterback John Belew ended the evening with ten completions on 22 attempts for 117 yards.

Guard Luke Wyatt, 170 lb. senior, had his work cut out all evening as he battled 250-pound Ty Williams of Eldorado.

James Andrae and Kevin Conner made exceptional plays on defense with several solo tackles and stops behind the line of scrimmage.

The Blizzards, now 11-0, meet Albany in Brownwood on Friday, November 24, in Gordon Wood Stadium for the Area Championship. Kickoff is at 7:30 and Winters will be on the visitors' side which is the east side of the stadium.

Winters and Albany have shared three common opponents this season - Roscoe, Cisco and Stamford. Albany has lost to all three for a 8-3 season record.

Albany's strength lies with their running backs so the Big Blue Wrecking Crew will have to stay focused to stop the running game.

JANET GUY puts up the layup during varsity action for the Lady Blizzards against Eula. The Lady Blizzards will compete in the Frenship Tournament beginning Thursday, November 23 at 4: p.m.

DOWNTOWN PEP RALLY last Thursday night was fun for Blizzard players and fans.

Hatler Insurance named Spirit Business of the Week

Hatler Insurance Company is the Spirit Business of the Week. They have quite a display. There are more and more artistic works appearing on windows showing how much this town backs the Blizzards, the Big Blue Wrecking Crew.

There are some who back the Blizzards in ways that are not always recognized. Lynn Billups, Dickie Clough, Donnie Killough, and Alfred Yates made up the chain gang. They gave their time and effort to do a needed and necessary job. Then there were all those who volunteered their time to work in the Athletic Booster Club concession stand and the volunteer recruiters, Sue Prewit and Sherry Byrd. Also, Lee Colbath put out the flags which you saw on Friday and will continue to see every Friday in the downtown area. You are appreciated, all of you who have contributed time and effort.

Booster Club meetings are still being held every Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the field house. If you want to help with decorating, painting signs, or other booster activities, come to the meetings. Extra hands are always needed. If you just want to have a voice, listen to what is being done, or watch the game film, you are more than welcome to come.

Wear Blue on Fridays!

Back the Blizzards!

Winners in CEI Computer Reading Lab announced

by ANN SHACKELFORD

Students in the Elementary Chapter 1 CEI Computer Reading Lab worked extra hard this six weeks to earn chances to win prizes donated by merchants in Winters and Ballinger.

The students who did perfect work received tickets that were used in the drawing.

The 4th grade students earned enough "perfect shares" to receive a popcorn party.

Following are the winners and donated prizes for the second six weeks: Jeremy Hope, Winters vs. Wall football ticket; Hope Ontiveros, Eric Lopez, Abby Reyes, and Jesse Flores, (each) a home basketball game ticket; Joyce Johnson, Pizza Hut personal pan pizza; Jeremy Hope, Video Hut free video rental; Danielle Clark, Vanessa Santoya, JoAnna Torres, and Jacob Cortez, (each) Lawrence Bros. IGA drinks; and Justin Laird, Abby Reyes, and Jesse Flores, (each) Wal-Mart of Ballinger prizes.

The staff of the CEI Reading Lab would like to thank all of the merchants who donated prizes.

The students are once again working hard toward the prize drawing for the third six weeks.

How to fix a Thanksgiving feast by First Grade Students

Go to Lawrence Brothers and get a turkey. Try to find one that's very good. It needs to be reddish. Look on the date and it should say November. You feel it and it should feel hard.

You should taste it before you buy it and it should taste delicious. It should be medium sized like the trunk of a tree. The turkey will weigh 20 pounds. The turkey will be 5 or 6 inches long. The turkey will cost $11.00.

Take it home and cook. You will need to cook it in the oven. Turn the oven on to 11 degrees. Cook the turkey for about 15 or 20 minutes.

Take the turkey out of the oven and put it on the table. Cut it in pieces with a sharpened knife. Invite people to share the turkey. The turkey will feed 27 people.

We will need to have red kool-aid, red "jiggly" cranberry sauce that taste like some grapes. We need to have 49 pounds of kool-aid. We need 22 pounds of cranberry sauce.

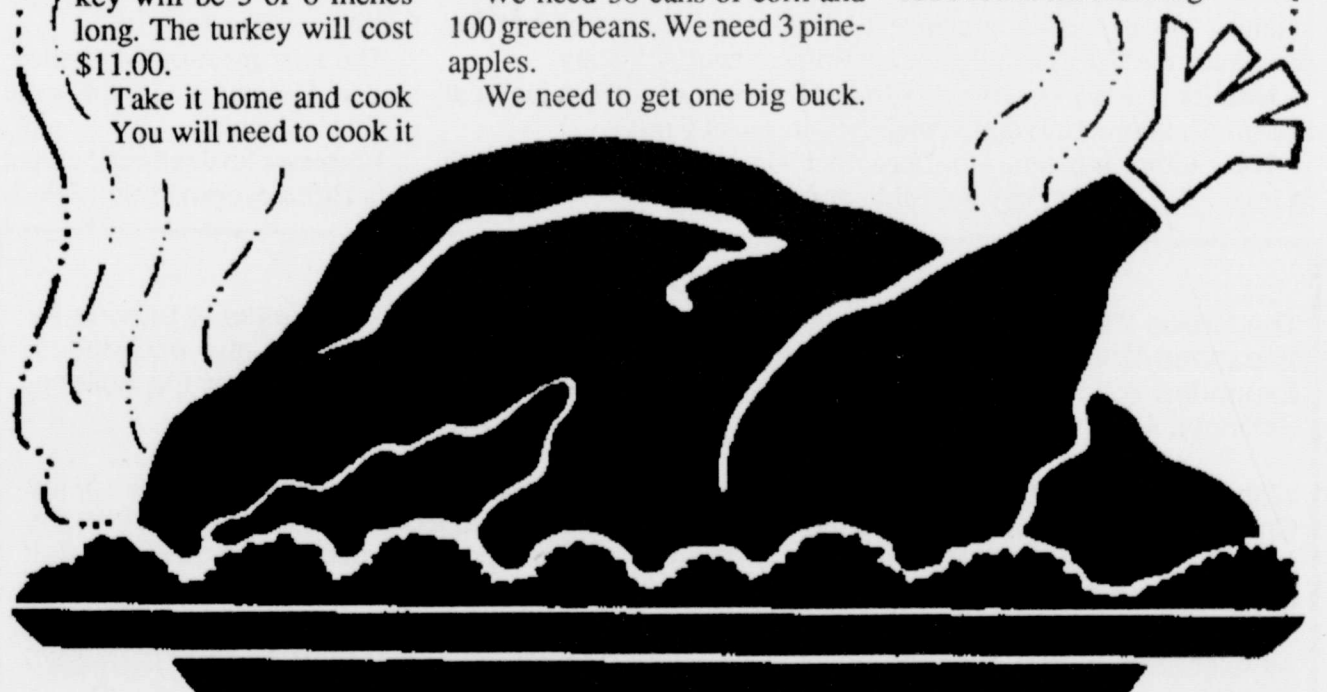

We need 30 cans of corn and 100 green beans. We need 3 pineapples.

We need to get one big buck.

We need to take it home and cook it. Put some spices on it and then cut it open. Cook it for 40 minutes at 24.

We need mashed potatoes. We need 22 potatoes. We need 27 pecan pies and 4 peach pies. We need 6 pumpkin pies. We need 3 banana pies. We need 3 apple pies. We need 70 pies.

Put the food on a big table. Everybody will eat it. We can plan bingo. Save some food for in the morning.

Mayor Dawson McGuffin gives thanks

This is a time of Thanksgiving. Each of you have a list of things that you're thankful for I'm sure. I'll share mine with you.

Things like a good car, clean clothes, and a nice home. My puppy, a beautiful day at the golf course. A Merle Haggard or Jerry Jeff cassette. Then important things, like being born in America. Living in a small town. Teachers and schools trying to make your life a little easier and better. Doctors and hospitals taking care of you in this life. Preachers and churches trying to prepare you for the next life.

My family and friends that love me even with my faults and shortcomings. Finally the lady that chose me to share her life. Thank you Lord. God bless you all and have a happy and safe holiday.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Expanded Toll-Free Local Calling Service will allow you to call and be called by the Abilene, Ballinger, Coleman, and Lawn exchanges on a local call basis (no toll charges).

Within the next 15 days, Taylor Telephone Cooperative will mail ballots to all customers in the Crews exchange. After marking the ballot, customers should sign their name and return the ballot to the Public Utility Commission of Texas in the stamped, self-addressed envelope that accompanies the ballot.

All exchange(s) that pass the ballot will be added to your local calling area for a maximum monthly per line charge as follows:

First five exchanges: Up to $3.50 for residence, $7.00 for business (NOT up to $3.50 or $7.00 for each of the first five exchanges).

Each exchange over five exchanges: An extra $1.50 per month, per exchange.

Maximum Monthly Fee	$ 6.50	$ 10.00

From Across The Mayor's Desk

by Dawson McGuffin

Hello again! Hey! Have you noticed the changes taking place at the corner of Main and Parsonage? Gene Wheat and friends have really been working hard. It looks great!

How about the new paint job at the Bakery on South Main. Good job, Frank!

Congratulations to the Winters Blizzard Football team and coaches. Now, focus on the State Championship—one game at a time. Good luck!

How about our city manager. On Sunday, November 12, 1995, at about 5:30 p.m., he teed off from T-box #6 at the Winters Country Club, and his ball went right in the hole. Congratulations on your HOLE-IN-ONE, Aref.

San Angelo's first "Concho Christmas Celebration" is inaugurated

On December 1st, the first "Concho Christmas Celebration" will begin in San Angelo. The kickoff will include the opening of the annual "Christmas at old Fort Concho." "Christmas at old Fort Concho," is a colorful visit to San Angelo's pioneer heritage and is one of the premier Christmas celebrations in Texas. San Angelo will continue that event with a glorious light production that will celebrate the holiday season, ending January 1st.

The Concho Christmas Celebration will be anchored by a "Community Christmas Tree" and will include an explosion of twinkling color marching down the length of the Paseo de Santa Angela, the new heritage trail that travels from Old Fort Concho to the Concho River. At the river, the shimmer of reds, golds, and purples, will be reflected on the Concho and the Celebration Bridge. The displays will illustrate the visions of San Angelo Christmas' past and present.

There will be the sounds of Christmas music and the tastes of Christmas; all created by the citizens of San Angelo to celebrate the inauguration of the Paseo.

San Angelo has, in recent years, focused on its unique heritage. Blessed with a magnificent frontier fort, the best preserved frontier fort in the nation, the city has restored a great deal of its history in the past six years.

San Angelo has created the unique Paseo which follows the footpath used by the Fort Concho soldiers to cross the Concho river to visit the bawdy little town of Santa Angela. Along the Paseo, many examples of San Angelo's past remind the visitor of life on the frontier. A beautifully restored railroad depot, a renovated railroad warehouse, a small collection of old buildings which are known as "Old Town," a tiered walkway to the river where fountains abound, and the Celebration Bridge, are some of the landmarks along the Paseo.

The end of the trail is Concho Avenue, the infamous home of saloons and other establishments of questionable reputation, which were the destination for the Fort Concho soldiers at the end of the footpath. Today, as a restored 1880's street, it has a delightful mixture of unusual shopping opportunities and restaurants.

The color and excitement created by the grand yuletide lighting displays at the "Concho Christmas Celebration" will be different from any other Texas city. It will be uniquely San Angelo. The lights are to be a voyage through history with the whole community lighting up to celebrate the beautiful city by the Concho River, San Angelo, Texas.

WINTERS FLOWER SHOP AND MORE is the Chamber of Commerce Business of the Month for November and specializes in fresh and silk flower arrangements and potted plants. Employees (left to right) Jill Bredemeyer, Betty Grenwelge, Lupe Diaz, Eris Beard (not pictured), and owner Janice Pruser can assist you with your floral or gift needs.

Soil and Water Conservation contests deadline is Dec. 15

The Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District (RSWCD) is again sponsoring the annual Resource Conservation Poster and Essay Contest for students in the Winters, Ballinger, Miles, and Olfen school districts.

The poster contest is open to students who are 12 years of age and under. The themes are "The Living Waters" and "Harmony: People and Places." "The Living Waters" theme emphasizes that water is essential to all life and is used by many different entities. Unless good water stewardship is practiced, the Living Waters may not be available for future use. The "Harmony: People and Places" theme stresses the inter-relationship between people and their environment. Everyone lives, works, and plays in different environments yet everyone needs to strive to practice good stewardship toward natural resources. Entries should be in the RSWCD office by December 15, 1995.

The essay contest is open to students 18 years of age and younger. The subject this year is "Soil and Water Conservation." This title includes, but is not limited to, the following general concept: The soil and water resources of this nation are vital for providing us with the necessities of food and shelter. Soil and Water Conservation Districts are engaged in the effort to carry out a local conservation program that meets the needs of the nation's soil and water resources for continued productivity. Essays are limited to 300 words. Entries should be in the RSWCD office by December 15, 1995.

Prizes include 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and Honorable Mention ribbons for winning posters and essays in each grade level in each school. In addition, the RSWCD will present cash awards in the amount of $25, $15, and $10, respectively, to the top three overall winners in the District. The overall first place District winner will receive an engraved plaque and represent the RSWCD at the San Angelo Area Conservation Awards Banquet. The awards program will be held March 25, 1996, on the campus of Angelo State University in San Angelo.

For more information on this year's contests, please contact the SCS office at 2000 Hutchings Avenue or call 915/365-3415.

Cotton chemicals available quicker

Administrators with the Environmental Protection Agency have agreed to streamline the Section 18 process to give Texas cotton producers quicker access to chemicals necessary to combat such devastating cotton pests as the beet armyworm, tobacco budworm, and aphid.

The agreement came during a meeting set up by Congressman Charles Stenholm between Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Inc. officials and the EPA in Washington, D.C.

The Texas Department of Agriculture will develop the paperwork necessary for the usage of chemicals by sometime in January.

County Pecan Show set December 5 at Ballinger

The 1995 Runnels County Pecan Show will be on Tuesday, December 5, in the First National Bank of Ballinger, according to Mike Mauldin, Runnels County Extension Agent, and Anthony Lange, Horticulture Committee Chairman.

Pecans are probably grown by more people in Runnels County than any other crop and a Pecan Show is an excellent way to learn about pecans. Everyone is encouraged to participate in this year's show.

Pecans may be entered at the County Extension office in the County Courthouse in Ballinger, Alderman-Cave in Winters, the Norton Gin, Ballinger Feed and Seed, or the First National Bank in Rowena. No entry will be accepted later than Friday, December 1, at 5:00 p.m.

Each single entry should consist of not less than 45 pecans of the same variety. They should not be cleaned or rubbed to the extent that the shape or color is altered. They should be packed in paper or plastic bag with the exhibitor's name, address, and variety of pecan, if known.

This year an entry fee of $2 per entry will be charged to offset expenses. Exhibitors are limited to one entry of each named variety they grow. However, a grower may enter as many seedlings, known hybrids, or natives as he wishes.

Divisions will be: Commercial, Classic, and Variety Seedling.

Champion and Reserve Champion will be selected from each division. Plaques and rosettes will be presented to the Champions and rosettes to the Reserve Champions.

The public is invited to attend open house and public viewing of the entries from 1:00-3:00 p.m. on December 5 at the First National Bank of Ballinger.

JASON PIERSON, originally from Sweetwater, has joined the Winters Police Force. He is a graduate of Western Texas College in Snyder, majoring in Criminal Justice, and also completed the West Central Texas Council of Governments Police Academy in Abilene. Mr. Pierson has worked one year for the Childress Police Department and is engaged to marry July 13 of next year.

Fort Worth Stock Show Centennial features variety of entertainment

An exciting Centennial Edition of the Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show is planned during the 17 days of a special celebration January 19 through February 4 to commemorate "100 Years of Heroes" at Will Rogers Memorial Center.

The spectacular program is packed with special entertainment features. "This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity you will not want to miss," said W.R. Watt Jr., Stock Show president/manager.

Two additional matinee performances have been added the first weekend to the World's Original Indoor Rodeo, making a total of 30 action-packed performances, all scheduled in Will Rogers Coliseum.

A Centennial pageant will be interspersed with what is known as the best rodeo production in the United States. Featured flashbacks in music and verse of stock show and rodeo history will reflect a successful past and enhance the Centennial theme that utilizes special effects never seen before in Fort Worth. Tad Griffith of Las Vegas, producer of the special, is the son of the late Dick Griffith, one of the "Heroes" of the Stock Show, having been a contestant in the early 1920s.

Returning to the rodeo will be the crowd-pleasing and exciting Canadian Chuck Wagon Races.

This popular event is sponsored by the GMC Silver Star Truck Dealers, with the four individual wagons provided by Justin Boot Company, Winn-Dixie Texas, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and Texas Commerce Bank.

Another rodeo feature will be the Coors Cowtown Cutting contest with both open and non-pro contestants seeking a share of a $23,800 purse. Three riders will go head-to-head with rough, range cattle at each performance.

The Fort Worth Calf Scramble, giving Texas high school boys and girls an opportunity to catch wildly running loose calves for a chance to snare $500 certificates to purchase heifers for show in Fort Worth next year, is sponsored by Mrs Baird's Bakeries and Justin Boot Company.

Among new events in the W.R. Watt Arena of the new Charlie and Kit Moncrief Building will be a nightly presentation of a Centennial Western Roundup Show, free to stock show visitors. This program will revisit a bit of history and entertain from the past.

The rodeo ticket office in the lobby of Will Rogers Coliseum will be open on Monday, December 4. Mail orders are being accepted now at P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101-0150. Tickets are priced at $16 for Friday night and all weekend performances, and $14 for Monday through Friday matinees and Monday through Thursday nights. Mail orders should include $3 extra per order for return postage.

Largemouth bass surveyed at area reservoirs

Largemouth bass populations from several area reservoirs are in good shape according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department fall electrofishing surveys.

The surveys showed above average numbers of largemouth bass greater than 14-inches long in Hords Creek Lake (near Coleman), Lake Leon (near Eastland), and Lake Proctor (near Comanche). The fore-mentioned reservoirs also had significant numbers of young bass resulting from year classes produced within the last two years.

Other reservoirs with large numbers of young bass included New Ballinger Lake, Lake Brownwood, Lake Cisco, and Lake Sweetwater. Under normal conditions, these young fish should recruit to quality size in two or three years.

Of the reservoirs sampled this year, only one, Lake Fort Phantom Hill (near Abilene), showed a less than promising picture of the largemouth bass fishery. TPWD officials believe this poor sample resulted from a fairly recent water level rise and not a serious decline in largemouth bass abundance. However, it is likely that relatively few largemouth bass were produced this spring as water levels were low and dropped significantly, resulting in poor spawning success and little cover for young fish.

Next fall, TPWD is scheduled to sample largemouth bass populations at Lake Abilene, Lake Cisco, Lake Fort Phantom Hill, Hubbard Creek Lake, Lake Kirby, and Lake Sweetwater.

Natural Conservation News and Notes

Plant a tree

Did you have to settle for a substitute tree instead of the actual tree that you wanted last year because you waited too long to call the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District to order your choice of trees?

In cooperation with the Texas Forest Service Nursery near Lubbock, the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District (RSWCD) will be offering quality hardwood and evergreen tree seedlings for sale to area residents through the Windbreak Tree Program.

These seedlings are healthy, viable seedlings that are well-adapted to the soil and weather conditions for Runnels County.

The RSWCD will be offering three categories of seedlings this year: conifers, hardwoods, and wildlife packets.

Twelve inch conifers (Afghanistan pine, Arizona cypress, Austrian pine, and redcedar) have a 28 cubic inch root volume and are $35.00 for 20 trees.

Bareroot hardwoods (aromatic sumac 'skunkbush,' catalpa, chinquapin oak, desert willow, greenash, hackberry, honeylocust, mulberry, nanking cherry, osage orange, Russian olive, and shumard oak) are approximately 24 inches in height and sell for $20.00 for 25 trees.

The wildlife packets (100 trees in 4 species) contain species beneficial to wildlife habitat and nutrition. Types of wildlife packets available are deer, turkey, squirrel, and quail and pheasant and are priced at $45.00 per packet.

This program will conclude on February 5, 1996, and seedlings will arrive at the Natural Resources Conservation Service office in Ballinger on February 14, 1996.

Please consider ordering early to have trees reserved before stocks are depleted.

Technical assistance in planning your windbreak is available. For more information, call 915/365-3415 or come by the Natural Resources Conservation Service office at 2000 Hutchings Avenue in Ballinger.
