CLASSMATES AND ALSO COUSINS who celebrated their graduation Friday night from Winters High School are (from left) Robert Bedford, Michael Mostad, Marcie Pritchard and J. W. Angel. For the past ninety years, someone with the Bedford name has been enrolled in Winters schools. Although Robert is the last student named Bedford to be in school here, there are still almost a dozen Bedford descendants in the Winters schools.

1996 graduation completed without a hitch — or rainfall

With overcast skies and a moderate breeze blowing, 55 graduating seniors from the Class of 1996 received diplomas in ceremonies last Friday evening in Blizzard stadium.

Graduation exercises for the past two years have brought downpouring rain and a scrambling of friends and family members. And although heavy clouds hung around all day long and a good soaking rain would have been welcomed by everyone, Mother Nature held back and, except for tears of emotion, no moisture fell this year.

The baccalaureate devotional was given by Rick Cobb, minister of the Main Street Church of Christ.

Gayla Clough gave the salutatory address which reflected the determination and dedication of her classmates over the past thirteen years. Lori Jobe's valedictory address followed with whimsical advice for the future.

Outgoing WISD superintendent Tommy Lancaster presented the Pearl Jackson Memorial Scholarship to Kevin Conner, who plans to attend Angelo State University. He is the son of Randall and Susan Conner.

Janabeth Bryan was awarded the Floy Hood Hodge Scholarship.

She is the daughter of Nancy and Sealy Bryan and plans to attend Lubbock Christian University.

Secondary School Principal Charles Kidwell announced the winners of the Jake Joyce Memorial Awards to Outstanding Students as Rachel Edwards and Mark Deike.

Rachel and Mark both plan to attend Texas A&M University in the fall.

Following the presentation of diplomas, the benediction was given and the graduated class of 1996 became part of WHS history.

Updated services now available from GTE

The times, they are a changin'. And so are the telephone ringing sounds, numbers and services.

With the much needed upgrading of equipment, General Telephone Exchange is now able to offer residents of Winters the newest in digital technology.

On May 22, more than a dozen GTE dignitaries and technicians gathered in Winters to introduce the new equipment and services available.

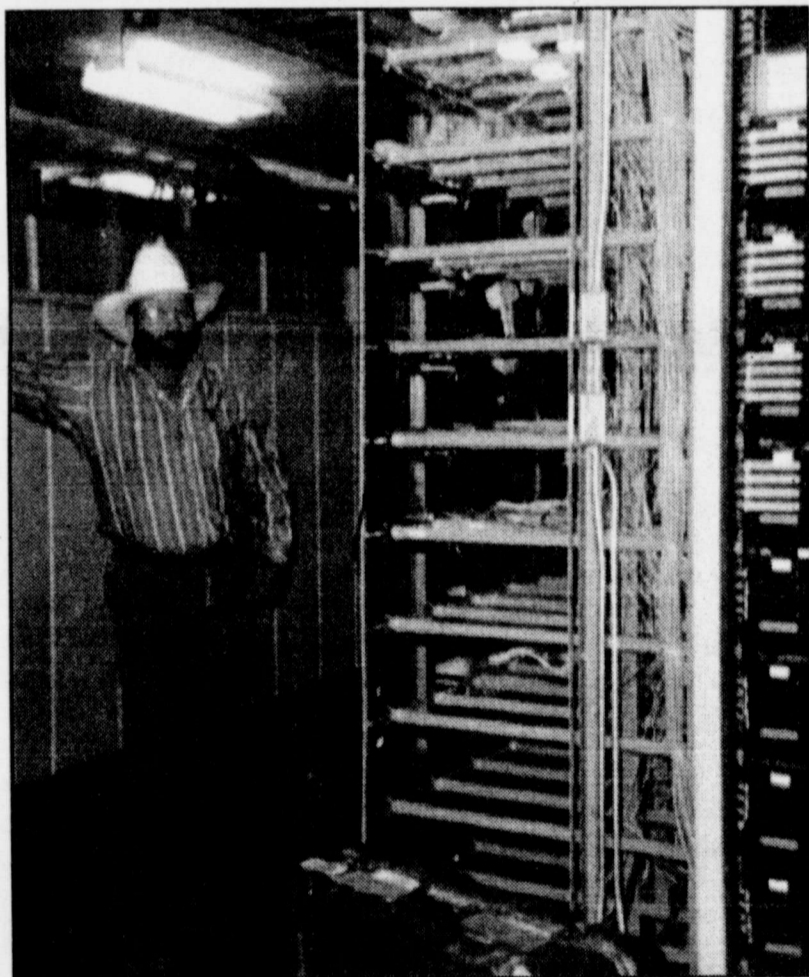

Local callers may now choose from several options including calling number identification, call waiting, smart ring, three-way calling, automatic call return, call forwarding, call block, speed call and VIP alert.

The new equipment module is located in the GTE office on Main street, and is only fourteen feet long by three feet wide by seven feet high. This module will replace the "miles and miles" of wires, boxes and cables which have serviced customers for the past several years.

Winters residents have probably noticed a longer ringing with each incoming call. Another obvious change is that callers must now dial all seven digits of local numbers, as opposed to dialing only five digits in the past.

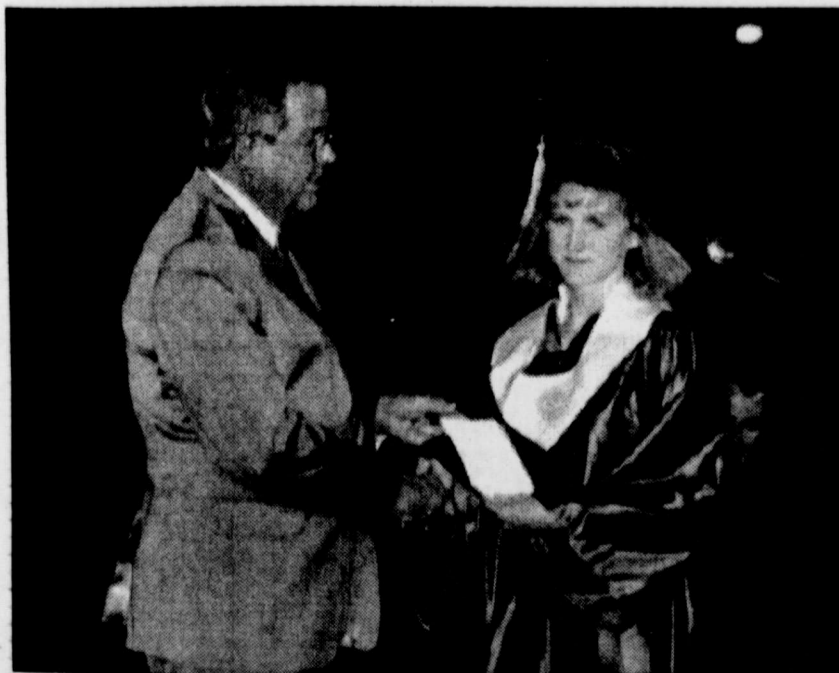

Don Black, local GTE manager, says he's very excited about the new changes and the extra room he'll have in his office after moving out all the obsolete equipment.

NEW GTE EQUIPMENT is now in place at the Winters station on Main street. Local manager, Don Black, stands in front of the new panel module which houses the computerized telephone equipment. The new module is a mere 14 feet long by 3 feet wide by 7 feet tall and replaces rows and rows of cables, boxes and wires as shown at right.

PEARL JACKSON MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP was awarded to Kevin Conner by Superintendent Tommy Lancaster.

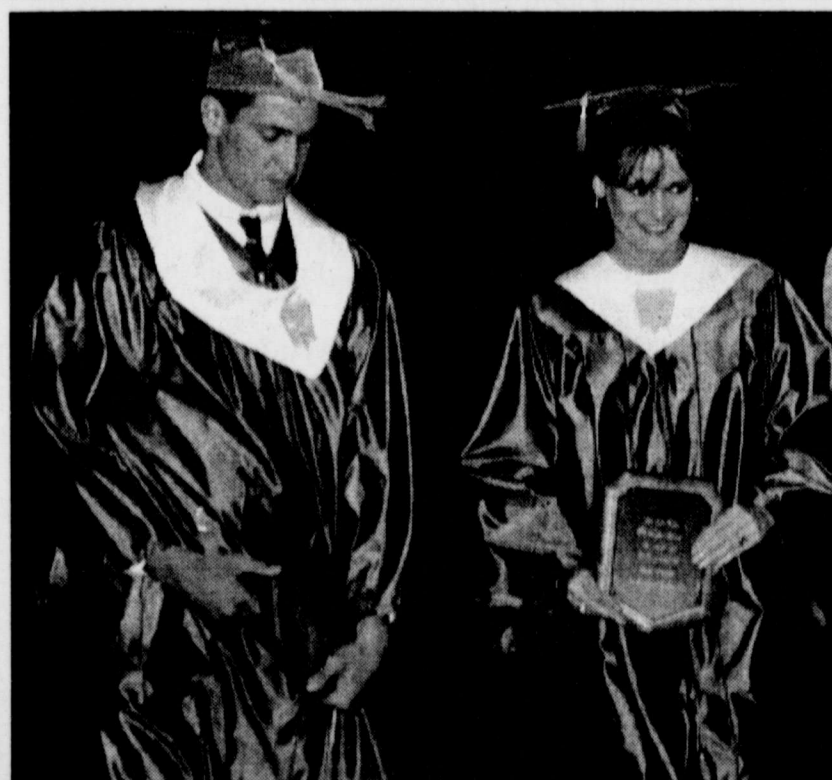

FLOY HOOD HODGE SCHOLARSHIP winner was Janabeth Bryan.

Tax offices to close early June 10-11

The Runnels County Tax Offices in Ballinger and Winters will close at 12:00 noon on both Monday, June 10, and Tuesday, June 11, so all employees may attend workshops in Abilene.

The Runnels County Tax Offices will re-open Wednesday, June 11, at 8:30 a.m.

Regular office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

JAKE JOYCE MEMORIAL AWARDS for outstanding boy and girl went to Mark Deike and Rachel Edwards.

Commissioners continue review of emergency medical services contracts

Runnels County Commissioners continued to work on bid specifications for emergency medical services at their special meeting on Tuesday, May 21.

Commissioners have been looking at the contracts with North Runnels Emergency Medical Service and Ballinger Emergency Medical Service in preparation for asking for new bids this fall. Reasoning behind the discussion is to get a better handle on costs and be able to budget when the new budget is planned, even though the present contracts do not expire until December of this year.

In other business, Sheriff Bill Baird requested commissioners okay the entering into an agreement with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice for Runnels County to be able to handle paroled prisoners. According to Baird, the inmates would be on a work release program which would require them to return to the jail each afternoon. The state will pay the county for housing and feeding the prisoners. The contract does allow Runnels County to decline to take certain prisoners, according to Baird.

Following a motion by Commissioner Skipper Wheelless, seconded by Ricky Strube, the commissioners unanimously approved entering into the agreement.

Other business handled at the meeting included:

•Tabled a request from DPS Troopers Scott Warren and Geoff Aycock for the purchase of a computer in lieu of the usual purchase of a new radar system for the troopers. The request was made, according to the troopers, to help them complete forms and reports more efficiently with software available.

•Approved the signing of contracts with Wiginton, Fawcett, Hooker, Jeffrey, P.C., Architects, to draw up plans for a new jail for the county. The county will pay $3,000 upon the signing of the contract, with a total of $16,800 due for the plans if approval to build the jail is not approved by voters in November. The architect's fee, if the jail is built, would be 8% of the total construction cost.

•Heard a report from Sheriff Bill Baird on the recent inspection of the county jail. Baird said the inspector faulted the jail for not having a jailer on each floor. Baird said he didn't think that was really necessary, but it is a state requirement.

•Transferred $22,500 out of the General Fund to a new budget line item for jail planning.

•Tabled action on a resolution for installation of utility and pipe lines on county rights of way and crossing county roads.

•Routinely approved accounts and the County Treasurer's quarterly investment report.

From The Well

by
Pastor Jim Hanson

One of the first poems I learned as a young boy was, "Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow? With silver bells and cockle-shells and pretty maids all in a row?" I'm not sure I understood it then. Or now. But it brings to mind — gardens.

When I was growing up in Brookings, South Dakota, my folks had a garden. Every spring my dad and mother would work up the soil, lay out the rows, plant the seeds, fertilize the ground with good old-fashioned manure, and then, water. It was a lot of work for them, but I do believe they enjoyed it. As a young hand, my job was to help weeding. Not much fun. But very necessary.

Every year my dad had a contest with one of his good friends, a man by the name of V.O. Madsen. The contest was which one would first have red ripe tomatoes on the vine. Dad won a couple of years in a row. But then there was the year the tomatoes seemed to stay green forever. And Dad was quite certain he would lose. But then, one day, early in the morning, as he walked to the garden he saw some red glimmering on the tomato vines. His blood started running faster as he quickened his pace to the place where his garden grew. He bent over, looked down, and put his hand around the red tomato to see — that someone, during the night, had painted some of his tomatoes — red!

Then, I heard him say, "That sucker!" It had to be V.O. And it was. We had many a chuckle about that garden tale that was true. And how that garden grew red tomatoes overnight!

Gardens are a way of life in England. They don't fuss a lot about their lawns. But every house seems to have a garden, especially flower gardens. When we were there one summer you would see the folks weeding and trimming and watering their flowers. It looked good!

Carl Krenzler, a rural sociologist who was a professor at Montana State University in Bozeman, Montana, once told me how we could cure most of the big cities social problems, the ones we read about in the paper every day — the crowded conditions, the poverty, the gangs. His solution? "I would give every resident there a window box, full of good earth, and some seeds, and some simple directions as to how to make it grow. It would put them in touch with reality. It would put them in touch with the earth again. That is the best therapy there is. It would heal the cities."

The other day a neighbor and I were talking. We were standing near one of our flower beds. He was sharing with me some of the things that made him feel down and depressed. And then he said, "You know what makes me feel good when I'm feeling bad? When I get out and work in the yard and with the flowers!"

I'm sure it was something like that that was in the mind of Rudyard Kipling when he wrote "The Glory of the Garden." I found this poem in a garden — on the grounds of the H.E. Butt Retreat Center near Kerrville. It was laminated so the weather wouldn't get to it. It says it all.

"Gardens are not made by saying,
'Oh, how beautiful,' and sitting in the shade.
Then seek your job with thankfulness and work till further orders,
If its only netting strawberries,
or killing slugs on borders:
And when your back stops aching,
and your hands begin to harden,
You will find yourself a partner in the glory of the garden.
Oh, Adam was a gardener, and
God who made him sees,
That half a proper gardener's work is done upon his knees.
So when your work is finished,
You can wash your hands and pray.
And the Glory of the Garden
It shall never pass away!"

Crews News

by Hilda Kurtz

Habit is like a waterbed—it's easy to get into, but hard to get out of.

The Crews supper will be Saturday, June 1st, at 8:00 p.m. Bring your favorite covered dish. Come one, come all.

Hopewell Baptist Church had good attendance for Sunday services. After services, all had dinner. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Boatwright, Carolyn Kraatz, Carolyn Webb, Edith Everett, David and Shirley Lake of Tyler, Keith Gerhart and Cathy Bruce, Brian and Furisa Childs and their children: Chandler, Brianna, Marlin, Brady, and Scott.

Dee Faubion, Netha Kerby, Helen Alexander, and Nila Osborne met Monday morning in the home of Mildred Morrison and watched the films of Mildred's cousin, a missionary in old Mexico.

Weimar Jones Gladewater died Sunday, May 19, 1996. Our sympathy goes out to his family and friends. Weimar once lived in the Crews community.

Fairy and Wilbert Alcom attended the wedding Saturday, May 25, 1996, of Isaac Denson and Shannon Smith of San Angelo. Others present were: Johnna and Linda Denson of Weatherford, Aaron Gerice Denson of Springfield, Missouri; Steve and Jennifer Christianson of Anker, Iowa; Johnny and JoAnne Mathis of Springfield, Missouri.

Visiting with Dennis McBeth and family on Memorial Day was Joan and Jason Sears of Lubbock and David and Shirley Lake of Tyler.

Jan Davis was a nice welcomed visitor Friday afternoon to me. Ruth Pape came on Wednesday. R.C. Kurtz came on Thursday and brought me a cute collie puppy. He answers when I call Bobbie. Why? Because he doesn't have a tail.

Hildegard Asborn of San Angelo spent Memorial Day with me. Mary Kurtz came to visit late Sunday evening.

Wallace Farrier Coleman visited Josie and Bill Hoppe during the week.

Coleman Foreman was back in Abilene to see his doctor for more tests and treatments. On Sunday, Coleman went to see Lawan Foreman after the Hopewell dinner on Sunday.

Mildred Morrison spent Monday in Kerrville on business. She also got to talk to an old friend, Elizabeth Ray. On Wednesday, Mildred, Author and Netha Kerby attended the funeral of Tom Jefferys. Selma and Vernon Wilkerson of Bangs and Author and Netha Kerby came Wednesday night and played 42 and spent the night.

Bradley Scott went to Sweetwater on Saturday night and spent the night. He attended Hopewell church services and dinner before returning home Sunday evening.

Before church services Sunday, I visited with Corra Petrie and Lawan Foreman in the Winters Senior Citizen Center. Also I had a call with Reba Norris.

Travis and Lynda Ford of Rising Star spent Saturday with Connie and Georgia Gibbs.

Bill Calcote got a nice rattle snake last week at Dennis McBeth's house. Julie England of Winters came to visit Aldine and Dennis. The McBeth family attended the wedding shower for Scott Gerhart and Melissa Mints Wednesday evening at the Hopewell fellowship hall.

Visiting with Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion Saturday were: Bernie Faubion of Abilene and Wayne and Carrie Kraatz of Bradshaw. Carolyn Kraatz brought each of them a plate lunch from the Hopewell church dinner.

Ruth Pape called and talked to David Craig in Houston, David and Mike Craig in Dallas, Lee Ueckert in Houston, and little Julian Craig on Saturday.

Fred Watkins came home Saturday after surgery in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo on Monday. The Watkins family would like to thank you for all the prayers, calls, cards, and visits. Hildegard Asbury of San Angelo dropped in to wish them well.

Dannella Shannon of Abilene visited Helen Alexander Thursday night.

Janet Cason carried a group of senior citizens to Abilene on Tuesday for the Summer Jamboree at the Civic Center. Those attending were: Lillian Eubanks, Louise Wade, Lee Claxton, Vivian Foster, Dick Mayo, and Margie Jacob. A good time was had by all.

On Friday, Brenda and Margie Jacob, Shannon and Jerry Engler attended the Trimke Christain Academy awards banquet in Brownwood were Bryce Busenlehner attended school. Bryce received the highest award in his class, also "Most Friendliest," and several other certificates. Congratulations Bryce. Margie Jacob had all of her children home on Sunday.

Pat and Earl Cooper returned Sunday from Little Rock, Arkansas, after a week of visiting with their son, Ronnie Bennett of Denard, Arkansas. They came through Granbury to see Pat's brother, Lanny Lacy.

Area students on ASU Dean's List

Area students attending Angelo State University in San Angelo are listed on the Dean's List for the Spring semester at the university.

Those listed from Winters include: Michael Brewer, an undecided major; Carrie Guy, an English major; Jody Guy, a kinesiology major; Corinne Hubach, a business major; Leroy Jones, a finance/real estate option major; Chris Parramore, an early childhood major; and Lue Walker, an early childhood major. Vicky Hensely, a business major from Wingate, is also listed.

To be eligible for the Dean's list, a student must be enrolled as a full-time student and have at least a 3.25 grade point average.

Honest criticism is hard to take, particularly from a relative, a friend, an acquaintance or a stranger.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lesleon Gordon

Regina Boles, Carl Lesleon Gordon united in marriage

Regina La Nell Boles and Carl Lesleon Gordon were united in holy matrimony on Saturday, March 16, 1996, at 4 o'clock in the evening at Trinity Baptist Church. Dr. Bill Blackburn officiated the double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Boles of Mountain Home. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gordon of Hunt.

Grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Willis of Ingram, Richard Gordon of Hunt, Bob Ned Talbert of Mountain Home, and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Boles of Winters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was joined at the altar by family members for dedicatory prayers.

The bride wore a natural raw silk gown fashioned with a scoop neckline and short scalloped sleeves. The bodice was embellished with hand-sewn pearls and iridescent sequins. A chapel-length train fell from the waistline.

The bride carried a bouquet of white, long-stemmed tulips.

The colors and flowers for the wedding and reception were purple, coral, and white. Green ferns and ivy were used as accents.

Matron of honor was Darla Foster of Camp Wood. Bridesmaids were Bonnie Baldwin Robertson of San Angelo, Heidi Reus Stewart of Azle, and Lisa Chaney Rush of La Marque. They wore matching dresses of purple shantung.

Flower girl was Margot Boles of Dallas.

Best Man was Michael Curry of Houston, formerly of Hunt. Groomsmen were Ruben Gutierrez of Kerrville, Joel Grandfield of Hunt, and Matthew McVey of Carbondale, Illinois.

Ringbearer was Logan Hill of Sundown.

Ushers were Reagan Boles of Stephenville, Ryan Boles of Round Rock, Jason Davis and Coy Galloway of Ingram, and Michael Baublitt of Kerrville.

Included in the reception were Jennifer Boles of Winters and Bridgid Boles of Abilene.

Out-of-town guests came from Dallas, Winters, Abilene, Coleman, Austin, Houston, Fort Worth, Azle, Waco, Lubbock, San Angelo, Sundown, Morton, Whitney, Palacios, Camp Wood, La Marque, Harper, Johnson City, and Fredericksburg, Texas; Carbondale, Illinois; and Denver, Colorado.

The bride and groom both graduated from Ingram Tom Moore High School. The bride is a graduate of Baylor University and is teaching second grade in the La Vega School District in Waco. The groom completed four years in the U.S. Marine Corps and is employed by Sunscreen International in Waco.

After a honeymoon to Colorado, the couple will reside in Waco.

SIDNEY TUCKER, second from left, administrator of Senior Citizen's Nursing Center in Winters, speaks to a group of nursing home Activity Directors from the Big Country area. The meeting was held in the local facility as part of a continuing education course for the directors through Abilene Christian University. Also on hand was Melinda Tucker (far left) who serves as assistant administrator of the Winters nursing home. Approximately twenty-five guests participated in the day long workshop.

Robert Bedford among seniors to receive RCLEOA scholarships

The Runnels County Law Enforcement Officers Association recently awarded their annual scholarships to three Runnels County seniors. The recipients are Robert Bedford from Winters High School, Robert Fuentes from Ballinger High School, and James Moeller from Miles High School. Each recipient received a scholarship in the amount of $200. Each applicant was selected on the basis of economic need, academic status, and the desire to seek higher education to enter a career in a Criminal Justice field. The recipients were selected from a field of applicants from each high school in Runnels County.

Methodists reach goal of providing youth social site — a volleyball court

When the United Methodist Youth Fellowship (U.M.Y.F.) took over the old lumber yard building next to the Methodist Church two years ago, they came up with some great re-decorating ideas and a long wish list. The plan was to create a place where Christian youth could come and "hang out" and involve their non-Christian friends in a casual environment. And, after two years of planning and working, another major project at the Methodist Church Youth Building is finally completed — a sand volleyball court!

This project involved quite a few people and considerable timing and effort. Bishop and Son's prepared the site for the church and were able to dispose of the dirt on property belonging to Murray Edwards. A water line needed to be moved during this initial work, and the City of Winters responded quickly to this need. Dave Springer from the First National Bank of Rotan help the church to acquire the sand to fill the pit — it required 14 truck loads!

On Sunday, May 12, even though it was Mother's Day, Robert Cook made the volleyball poles and came out and put them up. Mike Davis donated railroad ties, and the U.M.Y.F. group worked to line the sand pit with the ties. Later in the week, James Brown came out with his tractor and leveled the sand, cleaned away rocks, and began working on setting up parking barriers around the property.

To finish up the project, Bishop and Sons returned with a back hoe to clean up the site and finish the court edges. The Methodist Church board of trustees quickly gave approval for a new spotlight, and within the week, West Texas Utilities had it installed.

The U.M.Y.F. group is grateful to all of those involved in this project. Already the volleyball court has been put to great use. On Sunday, May 26, the city-wide Christian Youth Fellowship Night finished off with some great volleyball!!

Summer basketball camps set at HSU

Dennis Harp, coach of the Hardin-Simmons University men's basketball program, will be conducting this summer's Athletes Against Drugs Basketball Camps.

The camps are scheduled for June 27th-29th and July 8th-11th on the Hardin-Simmons University campus at the MaBee Complex. If campers enroll by June 1st, they will receive early bird bonus gifts.

Both camps will consist of instruction by Coach Harp and current HSU players on the fundamentals of basketball.

Indiana University All-Conference player and former Cooper Cougar, Andrae Patterson, and University of Texas standout, Brandy Perryman, are just two of the many guests that will be assisting with the camps.

Athletes Against Drugs is a non-profit organization of athletes who are concerned with drug abuse among our nation's youth. Participation in sports provides an impactful alternative to negative behavior and substance use, that builds character, self esteem, and healthy lifestyles. For more information on the Athletes Against Drugs Camps, please contact Coach Dennis Harp at (915) 670-1467.

Composting, good waste reduction

The City of Winters, under the direction of Mayor Dawson McGuffin and the City Council and with the hard work of the employees, strives to initiate new measures and means to make the quality and quantity of City services better for the citizens of the Winters area. One of our duties is safety of life, health, security, and well being of the people. Waste reduction has a lot to do with the above mission. Composting, recycling, and reusing waste certainly will help.

Every year in Texas, nearly FOUR MILLION TONS of yard trimmings end up in Texas landfills. Landfill space in Texas is rapidly decreasing. If we all found a way to use/recycle our yard trimmings it would cut the landfill fill-up rate by 20%.

One of the many ways that we can fulfill this need is to compost our yard trimmings and some kitchen scraps which we can then use for fertilizer and mulch. This not only saves money, it also saves landfill space and water.

Compost saves time and money by providing an almost constant source of free fertilizer and soil conditioner. Compost helps your plants grow by loosening the soil, improves moisture retention in your soil, can reduce your water bills and the potential for contamination of our waterways and drinking water.

Compost can be used in many different, but similar ways. You can spread it on your yard to help the grass grow greener. You can place it around your trees to help them grow and produce. You can mix it into your flowerbeds and garden. It can also be used during the winter months as "insulation" around trees, bushes, and roses to be protected from the cold.

If you don't want to or can't compost on your own, ask around, maybe one of your neighbors would like your yard trimmings for their compost pile. They might share it with you.

Composting is an important environmental project which can help us now and for generations to come. If we don't start now, there may be no room for our children to use for landfills. Please start today.

COMPOSTING RECIPE

- Find a well draining spot out of direct sunlight.
- Start with a layer of coarse material like twigs, straw, and leaves.
- Add a layer of grass clippings and leaves, mixed with egg shells, coffee grounds, tea bags, and fruit and vegetable scraps from your kitchen, along with water and soil on old compost.
- Add more leaves, grass clippings, and kitchen scraps as they become available.
- Turn the mixture on a regular basis to provide spaces for air to circulate.
- Be sure it stays moist, like a damp sponge.
- For best results, try to build your pile so that it's at least three feet wide and three feet deep. If it's smaller it will take longer.
- Use compost when it resembles dirt.
- Compost bins are not necessary to make good compost, but they can help.

The City of Winters with the help of the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission has purchased a chipper and 100 compost bins. These compost bins will be distributed to the citizens of Winters. Please contact Rebecca McKown at City Hall 754-4424 to make arrangements to get your bin.

Lori Jobe presented $1,000 National FFA Scholarship

Lori Jobe, member of the Winters High School FFA Chapter, received the National FFA Organization's Hydro Agri North America, Inc. Scholarship in the amount of $1,000. Lori plans to use the funds to pursue a degree in veterinary medicine at Tarleton State University or Texas A&M.

Lori is the daughter of Archie and Doyle Jobe of Winters. Her advisor is Roy Schackelford.

The scholarship is sponsored by Hydro Agri North American, Inc. as a special project of the National FFA Foundation, Inc. and is one of 850 awarded through the National FFA Scholarship Program during 1996. One hundred and ninety-five corporate sponsors have been made available through the National FFA Foundation by business and industry sponsors to reward and encourage excellence and enable students to pursue their educational goals.

Scholarship recipients were selected from more than 7,325 applicants from across the country. Selections were based on the applicant's academic record, FFA and other school and community activities, supervised agricultural experience program in agricultural education, career plans, and financial need.

Animal laws, youth's safety of concern

The Winters Police Department and animal control officer would like to remind citizens of animal control laws.

Failure to comply with the following laws are punishable by fine:

— Every owner of a dog or cat shall have the animal vaccinated against rabies at 4 months of age and every year thereafter.

— Animals shall not be permitted to run free in the city of Winters.

— No owner shall have an animal which disturbs the peace, comfort, or property of the neighborhood.

This is the time of year for rabid animals and for rattlesnakes. Please contact the animal control officer or the police department, if you have a problem with either.

With warm weather and school dismissal, the Winters Police Department also reminds everyone to be alert of children playing outside. Please be careful while driving.

Sheep & goat processing facility to be built near San Angelo

Construction of a new processing facility near San Angelo is crucial to the survival of the sheep and goat industry in Texas. Closing of the Monfort plant created a void which the new facility will fill. At present lambs are being trucked approximately 750 miles to be processed. With the new local plant, freight costs and shrink will be drastically reduced, returning more net profit to Texas sheep and goat producers.

The Board of Directors and Organizers of Ranchers' Lamb of Texas, Inc. announces the extension of stock sales until June 3, 1996. The first subscription period was a success in that it raised $3.75 million dollars in stock sales. The goal of the Directors is to raise enough money to build the plant debt free. Cost projections are estimated at $4.2 million dollars to construct the plant. Templeton Construction of San Angelo has been selected as general contractor for the construction of the plant. Plant blueprints have been approved by USDA to process sheep, goats, and veal calves. Construction will begin June 1, 1996, three miles east of San Angelo on Hwy. 380 adjacent to the city of San Angelo waste water treatment plant.

It was the belief of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Task Force, which began meeting approximately one year ago, that producers must design, organize, invest, and assist in the operation of a vertically integrated business. This would allow the producer an opportunity to participate in value-added processing. To insure success of the plant, Ray Ellis of San Angelo has been retained to manage the new facility. Ellis has 30 plus years of packing plant and meat sales background with Swift, Armour, Monfort, and Superior. In addition, the directors have secured investments from ranchers, feedlot operators, by-product processors and brokers, and meat brokers which creates an alliance from the producer to the end user.

The board of directors of ranchers' Lamb of Texas is as follows: A.H. "Chico" Denis of Vancourt, chairman; Bill Pfluger, San Angelo, vice-chairman; Len Mertz, John Cargile, and Pierce Miller, all of San Angelo; Ferrell Davis, Midland; DeWayne Lindsey, Rankin; F.H. "Tuffy" Whitehead, Del Rio; and James Powell, Ft. McKavett.

Ranchers' Lamb of Texas will process approximately 8,000 lambs per week and approximately 1,500 goats per week. The plant will incorporate the latest in New Zealand technology to insure efficiency, hygiene standards, safe working conditions, and profitability.

Everyone interested is encouraged to invest in this unique opportunity for the sheep and goat industry regardless of whether they are actively engaged in ranching or not. Contact Ray Ellis, Ranchers' Lamb of Texas, Inc. P.O. Box 30070, San Angelo, Texas, 76903.

Royal and National Western Stock Show, so the caliber of donated livestock will be excellent — without question."

WTRC has conducted a club lamb sale since 1990, and a decision was made this year to add meat goats to the event since many ranchers are diversified in that area as well.

Also, lambs and goats purchased at the June 15 sale will be eligible for competition in Rehab's Jackpot Show scheduled for December 14, according to Kearney.

Russell Kott, also of Sterling City, assists Kearney with the club lambevent while Joe Raff of Colorado City is coordinating the meat goat activities.

The Club Lamb and Meat Goat Sale as well as the October Club Pig Sale are special segments of Cattlemen's Round-Up activities at which ranchers donate livestock to be sold at auctions to benefit WTRC operations in Abilene and San Angelo. Proceeds from donated animals, as well as cash gifts, are used to help the Rehab Center provide annually outpatient treatment services to 15,000 disabled children and adults.

Anyone wishing to donate lambs or goats or needing more information may contact Kearney at (915)378-6881, Raff at (915)728-2222, WTRC-Abilene at (915)691-7290 or WTRC-San Angelo at (915)949-9535.

Insect Scout School June 3 at San Angelo

All cotton producers and other persons interested in cotton production are invited to attend the 1996 Insect Scout School, Monday, June 3, at the Texas Agricultural Research and Extension Center in San Angelo. Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. with the school being conducted 9:00 a.m.-noon. There is no pre-registration nor fee required for attending.

Topics include cotton plant physiology; early season cotton insect pest; biology; identification and damage of cotton bollworm, tobacco budworm, boll weevils, and aphids; identification of beneficial insects, secondary pests; and proper pesticide safety procedures.

This would be an excellent opportunity for cotton producers to get a refresher course on insect scouting and identification. It is very important to be able to identify correctly the various insects found on cotton, both beneficial and pest species.

Two CEUs for private, commercial, and non-commercial recertification can be earned by attending the Insect Scout School.
