1997 CLASS 2A BI-DISTRICT CHAMPS!

THE WINTERS BLIZZARDS CELEBRATE their 13-12 victory over the Stamford Bulldogs last Friday night.

Blizzards freeze Bulldogs 13-12 to advance in playoffs; Iraan next Freezing mist and high winds seemed only to ignite the Blizzards last Friday night in their exciting 13-12 bi-district win over the favored Stamford Bulldogs.

"This was the biggest win we've had in a long time," said head coach Robin Byrd. "It was a great win, and we're glad to still be playing."

Known as the Big Blue Wrecking Crew, the Blizzard defense seemed to step up their level of intensity, especially at the most crucial times of the contest.

"We felt that our defense is what won it for us. I think probably the biggest thing is that we were able to kind of handle the run and force them to throw the football," added Byrd.

Playing before a bundled up capacity crowd in Blizzard stadium, Winters received the opening kickoff but could muster only 19 yards of offense before being forced to punt the ball with the wind. This put Stamford on their own 14-yard line where the Blizzard defense set the tone for the evening.

After the Bulldogs' 3 and out, Winters got the ball on the Stamford 44-yard line. But on 3rd and 4, Stamford's Clarence Whitfield intercepted the ball. Although this stopped the Blizzard drive, the starting tailback was injured and would not return to the game.

Winters returned the favor by intercepting the ball on the Winters 45-yard line. An illegal block was called against Winters on the interception and that set the ball up at the Winters 29-yard line.

With the blowing wind and cold fingers, Winters turned the ball over with another interception on their own 16-yard line. Again the Blizzard defense went to work by holding the Bulldogs to only three yards in three plays.

On 4th and 8, and 11:13 left in the second quarter, Stamford attempted a 30-yard field goal. With the wind at his back, the kicker sailed the ball wide right and the game was still scoreless.

The Blizzards again were unable to muster an effective offense and punted back to the Bulldogs.

From the Winters 45-yard line, Stamford ran for 19, passed for 10, and ran for 8 more yards. The Big Blue Wrecking Crew held for two plays inside the three-yard line but on 3rd and 2, Stamford ran in for the touchdown. The extra point kick was wide right, and with 4:57 to go in the first half, Stamford led 6-0.

The remainder of the second quarter was a defensive struggle as neither team could move the ball. The half ended with Stamford holding a 6-0 lead.

For the second half, Stamford decided to take the wind in the fourth quarter, so Winters chose to kick.

Stamford took the ball on their own 27-yard line and on 3rd and 4, was stuffed by the Blizzard defense — Michael Pritchard, Dennis Conner, Bear Nitsch, Kirk Byrd, and Michael Prewit.

Winters would start their first drive of the second half on their own 40-yard line. Eric Bernal carried for 20 yards and Marshall Scates for 9 nine yards.

On a 3rd and 9 from the Stamford 27-yard line, the catch of the evening would be made.

School to build new facility at track field

During their regular meeting on November 10, members of the Winters Independent School Board voted to approve the construction of a facility at the track field. The new building will house restrooms, storage area, and concession stand.

The building will be a single 30x60-foot building with an approximate cost of $26,196 on a site determined by Superintendent Mike Harris, Athletic Director Robin Byrd, Secondary School Principal Charles Kidwell, and WISD Business Manager Jimmy Butler.

Superintendent Harris reported to the board that WISD has been awarded thirty computers by the Texas Attorney General's Office.

These computers will save the school district approximately $30,000 and will be implemented if and when the new junior high school building is constructed in the first half of 1998.

Board members voted to dissolve the Runnels County Education District citing its existence "creates an administrative expense not justified by its relative benefit."

A letter from Fran Kidwell, music teacher, was read to the Board expressing her appreciation of work Dale Montgomery had done with the elementary choir. Montgomery is the Maintenance Supervisor for the school.

Boys win 3rd at State C-C

For most people, hopping out of a nice warm bed in the early morning hours to get ready for school or work can be a struggle.

Now try jumping out of bed and heading straight out the door to run four or five miles in the cold, damp morning air before hitting the books for seven hours, then starting the second workout of the day.

This has more or less been the routine for the past three months for members of the WHS cross-country teams.

This past Saturday, all that hard work, discipline and dedication paid off as the boys team brought home third place in the State competition at Round Rock.

"Our kids have worked hard all season . . . This was tremendous, tremendous."

Coach Henley

Running in a wind chill temperature of 22 degrees with a 25 mph wind, the Winters athletes also contended with an extremely muddy course as a result of almost three inches of rain earlier in the week.

"The weather and track conditions were the nastiest I've ever seen at a cross-country meet," said Winters coach Ed Henley, who certainly thinks his team did its best.

The Blizzards haven't been ranked in the state's top 10 all season, but "you don't have to be ranked to run," Henley said with assurance.

"This was tremendous, tremendous," he added. "These guys have surprised me all year, so I wasn't surprised today. We've been beaten only by the number 1 and 2 teams in the state. That says a lot for our kids."

Freshman Jimmy Rodriguez led Winters in eighth place, freshman Luis Llanas was 19th, sophomore Chris Santoya was 46th, freshman Aaron Pritchard was 54th, junior Felix Portillo was 56th, freshman Juan Santos was 58th, and senior Chris Soto finished 62nd.

Alternates were V. J. Santoya, See CROSS COUNTRY, pg. 4

Oil Bidness

By Reg Boles ©1997

This is a continuation of our two-part look at the oil patch's independent business people.

Last time, we spoke of the similarities in the qualities that make these small businesses successful. In summary: they work hard, they try to provide the extra measure of service to win business, and they, on occasion, share their financial success.

Like any successful small business, these entrepreneurs have to go the extra mile. They are driven by the fear of failure in most cases. Failing means more than a mark on a scorecard somewhere. It may mean the difference between turkey or weenies for Christmas, as the company's bottom line goes directly to the owner's pocketbook.

Working hard doesn't always ensure a successful business, but, not working hard is a sure formula for failure. Most of these folks I've talked to make the point that, if their business fails, it will not, under any circumstances, be a result of a lack of attention on their part.

Driven by this desire to work harder, these business owners have learned that customer service is more valuable than gold.

Many of these guys and gals saw the direct result of poor customer service on at least one occasion when they worked for a large service company—unhappy customers. While a large company may have the financial muscle to stand the loss of one customer on a sub par job, the small business person is hungry for every job and every customer.

As a result, the niche company looks for every advantage in customer service to offer an alternative to a larger competitor. After all, they certainly can't outspend the big-name competitor, but they can sure out-hustle them.

Finally, my review of the small companies that are weaved throughout the oil patch shows a remarkable result. When an oil patch entrepreneur "makes it," he/she is positively enthusiastic about sharing the booty with their loyal employees and giving their fair share to the community.

These successful men and women are particularly keen on rewarding those that have been with them since the leaner times, as they should be. The lean times at start-up and the slow periods drive home the importance of having key employees that make things go in the business.

And, when the local community comes calling, as they most assuredly will, these business men and women open their pocketbooks and support their friends and family in the community. This is particularly evident in the typically small communities that dot the oil patch and are homes to many successful independent businesses. In these small towns, everybody's support is needed to keep things going.

There you have it: my take on the small-scale/big-aspiration business people that are so vital in the oil patch. They work hard, they use customer service to make up any perceived shortfalls, and these tight-fisted folks give to others when the needs are there.

All-in-all, not bad folks...

Residents enjoyed homemade bread

Monday was Homemade Bread Day. We were treated to hot, fresh slices of homemade bread, with butter and grape jelly. Billie Gerhart baked the bread and brought it to the nursing home fresh from the oven. When asked if she used a bread machine, Billie answered "no, this is made the old fashioned way." Also, as this was Billie's birthday, we surprised her by singing "Happy Birthday" to her. Thank you Billie for sharing with us on your day off. We all enjoyed it.

We're getting ready to start decorating for Christmas. Nada McMillion is busy at her sewing machine, sewing up Christmas stockings for all the residents. They are green and red with white trim. Everybody will have a Christmas stocking hung on their door this year.

The Family Dollar store in Winters and Wal-Mart in Ballinger have graciously consented to letting us hang paper ornaments on their store Christmas trees with names of our residents and a couple of gift suggestions. Go by and pick a name.

We don't have anyone on our sick list this week. We hope everyone stays well with the holidays coming up. The Head Start children will bring us a program on the 25th at 10:00 a.m. We are looking forward to that.

Don't forget our canned food drive. It will continue through Nov. 26. Bring cans for your family member to add to our box.

From The Well

By
Pastor Jim Hanson

Pastor Jim Hanson

I was sixteen years old at the time. A senior in high school. The day Grandma died.

She died at home. In her room. Across the hall from the room my brother and I shared.

She died in the early morning. Half asleep, I heard the footsteps of my mother, and then, of my aunt, as they rushed to her room. I don't recall any signals that Grandma had given, no outcries or anything like that. It's just like Mother had been awakened by some sixth sense. Summoned. Someone told her, some angel or something like that, "Get up and go to your mother's room. She is dying."

I heard their hushed voices. As I recall, my brother, who was home on leave from the Navy, jumped out of bed. I couldn't move. I was paralyzed with fear. Grandma was dying. I wasn't afraid of Grandma. I was afraid of death.

Soon I heard them praying. The folks in Grandma's room. They were praying, out loud, the Lord's Prayer. I thought to myself, "She must be going, now!" For a moment I thought I'd go join them. But, I knew it was too late. A few minutes later my mother came to my room and smiled through her tears, "Jim, your grandmother has died. She has gone home to heaven." It wasn't as if we hadn't been forewarned. For several weeks Grandma had been going downhill. Eighty-nine years is a long time to live. Body functions start to deteriorate. Her mind seemed to be in another place. She had no more "get up and go" in her. I really didn't know what to do.

So—I withdrew. I didn't stop in to see her. I didn't even slow down when I walked past her room. Or listen in. I avoided her. I avoided death and dying.

I've thought about it often. How I would rewrite the script. How instead of avoiding her because she was dying, I would go in and sit by her bed and tell her how much I loved her. I would do a lot of "remember whens"—"remember when you used to tell us about when you and Grandpa went by covered wagon from Wisconsin to Iowa?" "Remember when you used to read stories to me when I was little." I would have said, "Thank you for being my grandma." Held her hand. Kissed her. Been with her on her journey.

But, I didn't. I was afraid. And, I just didn't know what to do. Most of us don't.

This past weekend, Bettie Brown of Hendrick Hospice Care, came to our church and to our town. Her message was one of "Hope for the Holidays — for the bereaved and those who would be comforters for the bereaved." We learned a lot — about what to do. I'm so glad she came. I only wish I had known what she had to say when I was sixteen.

What she said applies in two situations — when you need to visit someone who is dying, and, when you need to visit someone who is grieving.

She said a lot, but she gave us the three "H's." Easy to remember. And truly helpful.

The first H is "Hang Around." Be present. Don't stay away. Get up and go over there — to that one that you love and care about. Drop in. Spend some time with them. I wish I had known that when Grandma died.

The second H is "Hush." You don't have to talk a lot. You are there to listen. Especially to those who are grieving. Don't worry about what to say. If you don't know what to say, say nothing. Share the silence. Let them say what they need to say, the feelings they need to share.

The third H is "Hugging." Or touching. If the one you came to see is in bed, it's pretty hard to hug. But, for sure, you can hold his or her hand. Even if they can't talk. Or, if it seems they can't hear. They can feel. The touch of your hand.

Sometimes we just don't know what to do. The three "H's" help. And, coupled with silent prayer, free us from fear. And free us for love. For those we love when death is around. Like Jesus said... "Be not afraid." "Love one another."

Did you know?

Q. I've read that Social Security will start paying new beneficiaries their benefit payments on the second, third, or fourth Wednesday of each month, rather than the traditional third day of the month. Why was this change necessary?

A. This change will help us to balance the distribution of Social Security payments.

The new payment dates will spread out monthly benefits throughout the month instead of during the first week of the month.

People who now receive Social Security benefits on the third of the month will continue to do so.

As the large baby-boom generation begins to retire early in the next century, the beneficiary population will grow from nearly 44 million today to 76 million by the year 2025.

State law says polling location to be used for voting purposes only on election day

Commissioners vote to close courthouse to business rather than move location

The Runnels County Courthouse will be closed to normal business next election day. County Commissioners voted unanimously to close the courthouse to business operations during elections at their special meeting on Tuesday.

Election judges Larry Lange and Martha Zertuche had approached commissioners with the request at their regular meeting last week. Commissioner Ricky Strube expressed reservations about the closing of the courthouse at that meeting and also on Tuesday he said he was not in favor of doing it. He said it would just be another day some county workers would be paid, but they would not be working, costing Runnels County taxpayers money. He said, "I think we should go through the March primary just as we have been, with the courthouse open, then look for another polling place to replace the courthouse."

Lange read from an election judges guideline from the state, outlining state law regarding polling places and those allowed inside the polling place. He noted that only these persons are allowed inside a polling place on election day:

- Election judges and clerks
- Poll watchers and inspectors
- Interpreters
- Persons admitted by the presiding judge to preserve order
- Persons admitted to vote
- Children under 18 years old who are accompanying a parent who is admitted to vote
- Persons admitted to provide assistance to or to interpret for a voter who is entitled to assistance or to an interpreter.

He noted that a footnote said, "No one may be permitted to be inside the polling place unless specifically authorized by law. Election officials (other than the precinct election judge and clerks), party officials, candidates, or members of the media are not permitted to be in the polling place unless they are voting or fall into one of the other groups of persons listed above, who are permitted to be in the polling place."

Zertuche said she thought it would be a mistake to move the polling place since so many people had been voting at the courthouse for many years. She said, "I think it would hinder voting if the polling place is changed."

Commissioner Thurman Self said, "I guess that would also mean the tax office in Winters would also have to be closed to business if we follow the law."

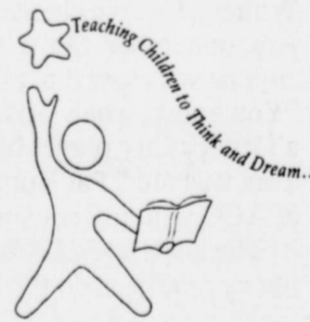

Following the discussion, Commissioners voted unanimously to close the courthouse as requested by Lange and Zertuche.

In other business on the agenda, Danny Prado, representing Runnels County Mental Health Unit, asked commissioners to rent space in Ballinger for MHMR to operate. He said the agency is now working with 49 people in the Ballinger area and it is sometimes difficult for them to find transportation to Winters for appointments. He told commissioners the agency was requesting the leasing of two offices at 806 Hutchings at $350 per month. He said the offices would be used to do screening, counseling and crisis management. The $350 per month includes utilities, so there would be no other expense to the county, he said.

After some discussion as to where in the budget to obtain the money, Commissioners voted unanimously to rent the offices for MHMR.

Bids were opened for a used vehicle for the Sheriff's office. Two bids were submitted, both from Toliver Bros. in Ballinger.

Both bids were for the same vehicle, a 1995 Chevrolet Tahoe with 24,896 miles. The bid without trade was $23,581.58 and allowing a $3,000 trade for the sheriff's 1991 S-10 Blazer, the bid was $20,574.47. Commissioners voted to take the bid with the trade-in included.

Other business included:

• Discussion of terminating the contract with Otis Elevator Co. and entering into a new contract with A.H. Elevator. County Judge Marilyn Egan said the current Otis contract, begun in January, 1972 had a clause that the contract could only be terminated on the five-year anniversary date, with 90 days prior notice. She noted there was not time to give the required 90-day notice. Commissioner Keith Collom moved commissioners authorize Judge Egan contact Otis and see if they would allow termination of the contract with a shorter notice. The motion passed and Egan will report back to the court on her findings.

• Commissioners rescinded their order to advertise for proposals for drug testing. Judge Egan advised the testing was a professional service and bidding was not required for professional services.

• The court approved County Auditor Darlene Smith's annual report for fiscal year 1997. Judge Egan noted the report shows income for the county was $3,623,174.30, with expenses of $3,503,181.28 resulting in a $119,993.02 balance. Commissioner Collom commented, "It sure is good to finish a year in the black!"

Health Notes

At North Runnels Home Health our focus is providing the best care possible for patients and helping them care for themselves. We believe the more our patients know, the better care they can receive.

Taking Medication Making A Schedule

When taking more than one medicine at the same time, it is often a good idea, each day, to put all the pills you are supposed to take that day into a small container, preferably one with interior compartments. These can be purchased in drug stores or from various catalogue companies. Some hold a week's worth of pills, others a month's worth. By checking the compartments, you can see what you have and have not taken that day.

It is also a good idea to keep a small schedule of your medicine with you at all times. This schedule should list not only the name of the medicine and the time(s) it should be taken, but also what the medicine looks like. For example: 12 noon — 1 Keflex — green capsule, bedtime — 1 Elavil — small yellow pill.

Remember, don't change the medicine schedule on your own and don't stop taking the medicine because you feel better until you consult your doctor.

Storing Medication

Remember that in addition to observing the doctor's instructions, you should make sure that all medicines are out of the reach of children and pets.

Some medicines should be stored in the refrigerator and some in special dark bottles. Be sure you understand if this is required for any of your medicines.

Benefits & Side Effects

Since every person is unique, every person can have slightly different reactions to medications.

If you have been told that a medicine will make you feel better after a certain time, and you notice no effect, be sure to consult your doctor. And if you experience any unexpected effects, let your doctor know.

MY FAVORITE FOOTBALL GAME

Editor's note: The following story was submitted by a former Blizzards member in response to my request for memories of a special game, season, play or player. 1962 — They remember it, too!!!

My most memorable Blizzards game was played in Odessa in the 1962 2A playoffs. Denver City was expected to roll over the Blizzards, but it did not happen. Mike Bedford recently described the magical 1962 season well. That season our "B" team knocked heads with the Varsity every afternoon all fall. It was a job! As a result the "B" team went 7-1 with future Blizzards stars Richard Puckett, Larry Awalt, Richard Shade, Hank McCreight, Chester Puckett, Larry Adams, Gary Young, Van Spill and others. I watched the Denver City game from the stands with other B-teammers. I remember Grissom's run as if it were yesterday. He ran an inside play behind the blocking of Jackson and Mathis, stumbling as he broke the line, he pawed the ground with his free hand to stay on his feet. A bone-crunching block by Tommy Young allowed more running room. Then a Denver City defensive back hit Steve hard enough on the shoulders to stand him up. He regained his balance, running 73 yards for the take-charge touchdown. I've watched a lot of football since, but there has never been a run to equal that one. Nine or so years afterward, I heard the other side of the story from a Texas Tech friend. When I told him that I hailed from Winters, his face changed expressions. "I'm from Denver City. Do you remember Steve Grissom's run?" Of course, how could anyone who saw that playoff game not remember? He continued, "You know, when Grissom broke through the line stumbling and a Denver City player hit him, causing him to regain his balance? That was me." Pat Hubbard, now an attorney, played college ball at ACC with my cousin Tommy Young. The Denver City folks remember the game and the run, too, but not as fondly as do the Blizzards.

Dick Young

Leo Uresti and Ruben Garcia. Dilly won first place in the team results with 60 points, Boys Ranch finished second with 65 points, and Winters had 96 points in the meet that saw 116 of the best runners in the state from twelve schools compete. "Our kids have worked hard all season," said Henley. "We ran ten meets and never finished below third place." Many of the team members, particularly Llanas and Rodriguez, were regulars at both the early morning runs and the afternoon workouts. "And some of these kids also competed in football practice every afternoon in addition to their cross-country training," added Henley. When asked what the goal for next season is, Henley held up his index finger and said with a grin, "Win first place!" With four freshmen, one sophomore and one junior returning to anchor next year's team, that Number 1 win looks pretty promising. On October 28, the Blizzards won the district championship for the fourth consecutive year. The team placed third at the regional meet on November 8, earning a spot at the state meet. And just like the pink rabbit that beats the drum promoting a certain battery, these cross-country runners from Winters just keep going ... and going ... and going.

MICHAEL PRITCHARD #50 rushes in to sack the Stamford quarterback during bi-district competition. Kirk Byrd #44 closes in to assist on the play. Pritchard, who also recovered a Bulldog fumble, and the Big Blue Wrecking Crew played a key role in the Blizzards 13-12 victory.

Kenny Whittenburg threw the ball into the end zone and Ricky Luz, extending his 5'10" frame, made the spectacular diving catch for the Blizzard score.

Marshall Scates' all-important extra point kick was good and Winters led 7-6, with 7:50 left in the third quarter.

The ensuing kickoff was returned by the Bulldogs to their own 29-yard line. Stamford moved the ball to the Winters 11-yard line with a 39-yard pass. On the first down play from the 11, the Bulldogs fumbled and Michael Pritchard recovered for Winters.

The Blizzards started their drive on their own 9-yard line and after runs by Bernal, Scates, and Whittenburg, they were forced to punt.

The Wrecking Crew again would rise to the occasion. Stamford would be held to three and out.

The third quarter ended with Winters on Stamford's 28-yard line. Again a combination of runningbacks got the ball to the 15-yard line, then Whittenburg made the 15-yard run in for the touchdown. The point-after try was no good and Winters held a 13-6 lead with 8:44 left in the game.

Stamford then marched the ball 61 yards for a touchdown and took a timeout to decide if the extra point try would be for one or two points.

The Blizzard defense stopped the two-point try just one yard short of the goal line and Winters held the lead 13-12.

Stamford had one more chance for victory when the Bulldogs got the ball on the Winters 35-yard line after an 8-yard punt into the cold north wind. The Bulldogs moved to the Winters 18-yard line with a 4th and 4 situation and 1:31 left in the game. Stamford called another time out to make their crucial decision.

Again the Blizzard defense rose to the occasion and stopped the Bulldogs short of their mark. A rush by the Big Blue Wrecking Crew caused the incomplete pass by the hurried Stamford quarterback.

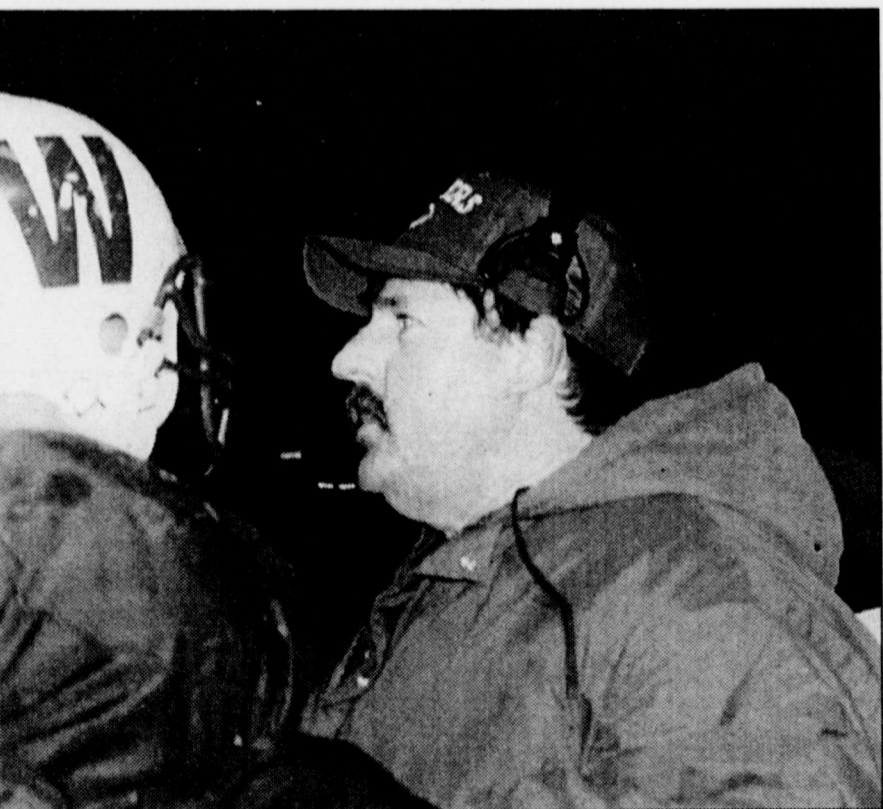

The Blizzards took over on downs and ran the clock out to hold on to the precious victory 13-12, and nobody seemed to notice the cold any more.

The Blizzards travel to Snyder this Friday to face the Iraan Braves in Area playoff competition.

As the defending State champion with a 9-2 season record, and a 7-0 record in the playoffs, Iraan will be a formidable foe. The Braves' two losses were to 3-7 Wall and state-ranked Stanton.

Coach Robin Byrd says, "To win, we can't make mistakes, can't allow big plays and can't turn the ball over."

Back the Blizzards this Friday at Tiger Stadium in Snyder. Kick-off is at 7:30 p.m.

Directions to Tiger Stadium at Snyder

Football fans traveling to Snyder in support of the Winters Blizzards may find the following information useful.

From Abilene, travel northwest on Highway 84. Near Snyder, take the Highway 180 Exit. At this exit, you will see Willow Park Inn and Burger King to your right. There will be a stop sign where you are to turn left.

Travel west until you come to a "Y". At the "Y," take the left fork onto 37th Street.

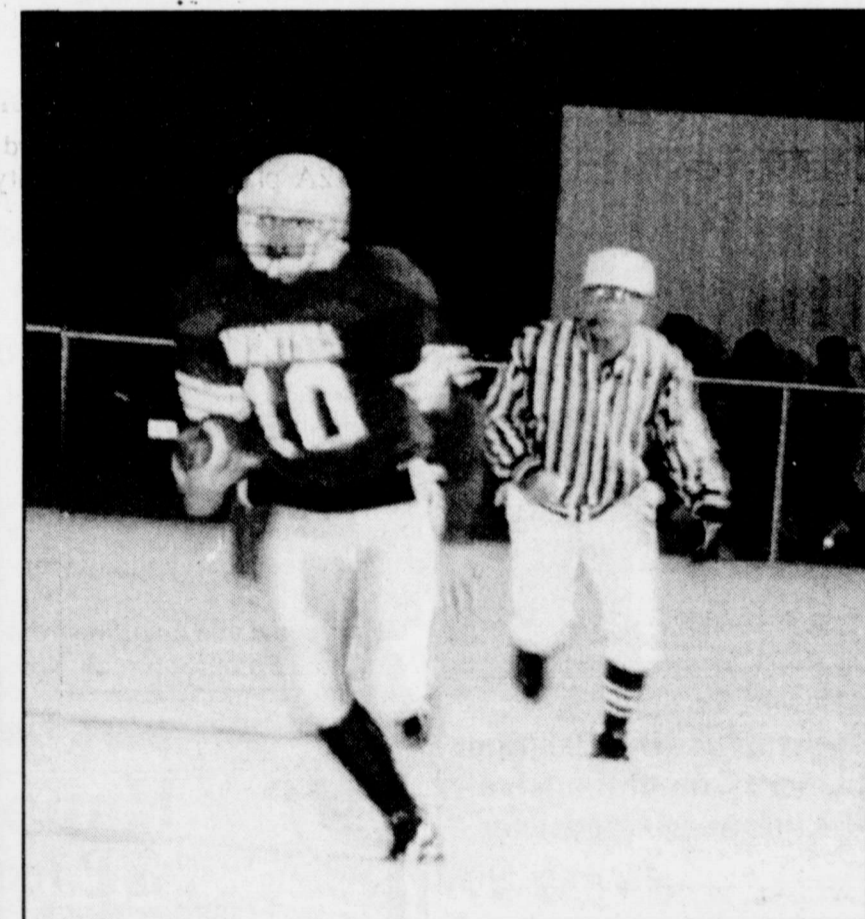

Go approximately 3 miles, turn left on Dennison Avenue. About one mile before reaching Dennison Avenue, you should see American State Bank to your right. Keep going to Dennison Avenue.

Tiger Stadium sits off of Dennison Avenue.

Winters will be the home (west) side where the bleachers do not display the Tiger emblem.

As a final reminder, of course, if all else fails: Look for the high stadium lights.

FABULOUS FROZEN FANS braved 26-degree weather to watch the Blizzards beat Stamford 13-12 last Friday night in Winters for the bi-district championship.

Big Buck Contest to benefit Winters Christmas in April

Winters Christmas in April is sponsoring a Big Buck Contest. Entry fee is $15.00 per hunter.

Rules require that the harvested deer be taken in Runnels County. Horns must be tagged and all state game laws must be followed.

Prizes will be awarded according to measurements of horns, most unique horns, widest spread, most points (1" or longer).

Measurements will be taken at Bernal Meat Processing, 920 N. Main, in Winters.

A panel of three will confirm the measurement of the horns and decide on the award recipients.

Prizes will be furnished by local merchants and include a pickup tool box, deer feeder, pickup bed tent, binoculars, motor oil, hunting boots, caps, tee shirts, and others.

The contest ends the last day of deer season, January 4, 1998.

For more information, call Mark Goetz, CIA chairman, at 754-4152.

Memories - memories

Since Carroll (Toddy) Simons, now of Rt. 3 Box 315A, Huntsville, Texas 77340, was president of the 1947 graduating class of Winters High School, it was his duty to hand out the class histories to his fellow classmates at the reunion dinner.

It is appropriate to give his history first:

After graduating from WHS in 1947, I attended St. Edwards University in Austin, and graduated magna cum laude in 1951 with a degree in General Science. In 1952, I went to work for Shell Pipe Line Corp. in West Texas. That same year, I married Lillie Ozella Spann of Wingate in a ceremony at Winters in the home of my mother, Mrs. Eunice Simons.

During the Korean conflict, I served two years overseas in the U.S. Army. After the military service, I returned to work for Shell as a land agent at Shell's head office in Houston. For the next 25 years, Lillie and I lived in Houston, but we traveled extensively as I worked as a senior land agent on various major Shell projects in 15 states, including Alaska. In 1984, we moved to Midland where I worked as Shell's division land agent until I retired in 1989, after 37 years of company service.

After retirement, Lillie and I built a new home on Lake Livingston near Huntsville, where we now reside. We have three children - two boys, Michael and Steven, and a daughter, Devron. Mike is in the game room entertainment business in Houston, and he has a daughter, Tanya. Steven owns an auto repair business in Huntsville, and he has two children - a son, Cole, and a daughter, Shelley. Devron is married to Warren Wittenborn, a computer programmer, in Austin, and they have two sons, Bryan and Allen.

I have many fond memories of my Winters school days, such as learning to enjoy hamburgers at some hill just south of town, singing off-key at a Minstrel show brilliantly produced by Barbara Bratton, overcoming the West Texas heat by keeping plenty of cool refreshments on hand, and finding out that you should not loop a J-2 Piper cub airplane (should you, J.P.?).

Looking forward to seeing you all. - Toddy

From Thelda Clark Taylor, 1427 Wedgewood, Odessa, Texas 79761:

Winters was a great "protected" place in which to be raised. The most daring incident occurred one senior year. It took a lot of nerve for Sug Rowland, Jean Barron, Barbara Bratton and I (four maids in a row in every class) to play hooky to help Mord Tucker and Dennis Taylor celebrate their leave from the Navy. We spent the afternoon at the drugstore listening to records. We didn't have a chance to escape prosecution, but it was fun!!!

The last 50 years have been glorious (most of the time) with the protection, love, and support of my husband, sons Buckley and Byron III, their wives, and children.

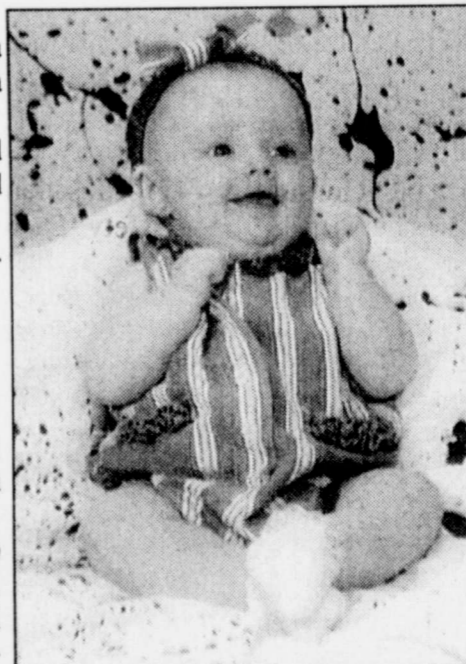

After graduating from Baylor, we lived in Odessa, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Odessa again. The past 28 years have been spent working for Ector County ISD teaching Spanish, 5th grade, and as Technology Specialist before becoming the Technology Coordinator for the district. Time was also spent receiving my master's degree and working on my doctorate.

Retirement is filled with helping run a Baskin-Robbins store we own, spending every other week at Lake Ivie, and entertaining our grandchildren. Come to Odessa, and I'll treat you the "flavor of the month."

Working with classmates for the reunion makes me realize how precious the friendships were in the first place.

Your Health

With A Proven Commitment To Quality, Convenience, And Cost Effectiveness, The Ballinger Memorial Hospital District Offers Comprehensive Health Care Services For The Informed Consumer.

DO YOU NEED A MEDICAL ALERT TAG?

There are few things that help doctors and ambulance personnel in times of emergencies as much as a medical alert tag.

The chances are pretty high that the first EMTs and doctors to care for you in an emergency will not know you and your medical history. Often, there is no friend or family member immediately available to give the necessary information to begin the right treatment in the first minutes of an emergency.

For example, when an elderly man has an accident and is unconscious a medical alert tag may help the doctor suspect a diabetic reaction, seizure, or even a severe bee sting reaction as opposed to a concussion.

WHAT MEDICAL PROBLEMS NEED MEDICAL ALERT TAGS?

What sort of medical problems need a medical alert tag? Diabetes is certainly one of the main illnesses deserving a tag. Diabetic reactions can mimic a variety of medical problems and early treatment can prevent many complications.

Heart disease, seizure disorders, use of medicines such as blood thinners or heart medicines, and allergic reactions to medicines or insects are just a few of the things worth having on a medical alert tag. Ask your doctor if you should wear a tag.

TAGS CONTAIN EXTENSIVE INFORMATION

The tags are available through pharmacies or companies which provide the tag and maintain more extensive information of your conditions. These tags, worn as bracelets or on neck chains, will have a phone number where the doctor can call for more information about you and your health.

"CALL ME...when you need a friend" sings the Winters Elementary Select Choir in their first performance at home on November 11. The choir's program entitled "Celebrate America" was performed for Coleman I.S.D. earlier that day. Fifth and sixth graders, who compose the singing group, met their challenge by performing very well as always. Several energetic and patriotic tunes were also included.

The American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout is for smokeless tobacco too

Since the American Cancer Society first began its popular promotion, the Great American Smokeout, to help smokers kick the habit, users of other tobacco products have been educated about the dangers of smokeless tobacco as well.

There has been a resurgence in the use of all forms of smokeless tobacco: plug, leaf, and snuff, but the greatest cause for concern centers on the increased use of "dipping snuff." In this practice, tobacco that has been processed into a course, moist powder is placed between the cheek and gum, and a number of carcinogens are absorbed through the oral tissue. Dipping snuff is highly addictive, and exposes the body to levels of nicotine equal to those of cigarettes.

In 1986, the U.S. General concluded that the use of smokeless tobacco "is not a safe substitute for smoking cigarettes. It can cause cancer and a number of non-cancerous oral conditions and lead to nicotine addiction and dependence."

Oral cancer occurs several times more frequently among snuff dippers compared with nontobacco users. The excess risk of cancer of the cheek and gum may reach nearly 50-fold among long-term snuff users.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, U.S. output of moist snuff has risen 83%, from about 30 million pounds in 1993. The use of smokeless tobacco is increasing among male adolescents and young male adults. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's 1995 Youth Risk Behavior Survey reported that 20% of male high school students used smokeless tobacco. About 6% of men and 1% of women 18 years and older use smokeless tobacco (snuff or chewing tobacco) nationwide.

Runnels County pecans to be judged at Concho Valley Pecan Show

This year, Runnels County pecan entries will be judged in conjunction with the Concho Valley Pecan Show in San Angelo on December 4-5, according to Mike Mauldin, Runnels County Extension agent, and Anthony Lange, horticulture committee chairman. This event will be held in lieu of the Runnels County Pecan Show this year.

Pecans are probably grown by more people in Runnels County than any other crop and a pecan show is an excellent way to learn about pecans.

Entries must be turned in to the Runnels County Extension Office by noon on December 2 and will be delivered to San Angelo for processing and judging.

Each single entry should consist of not less than 45 pecans of the same variety. They should not be cleaned or rubbed to the extent that the shape or color is altered. They should be packed in a paper or plastic bag with the exhibitor's name, address, phone number, and variety of pecan, if known. Exhibitors are limited to one entry of each named variety they grow. However, a grower may enter as many seedlings, known hybrids, or natives as he wishes. There is no entry fee.

Divisions will be: commercial, classic, and variety seedling.

Champion and reserve champion will be selected from each division. Plaques and rosettes will be presented to the champions and rosettes to the reserve champions.

Retired Teachers, Mrs. Hohensee "looking forward to Christmas"

Patricia Hohensee, Runnels County Extension agent; presented the program "Looking Forward to Christmas" to Runnels County Retired Teachers at their November meeting. The meeting was held at the First United Methodist Church in Winters on November 10, 1997, at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Hohensee brought a potpourri of holiday delights consisting of several Christmas decorations such as a clay pot Santa, a paper bag puff, and a no sew sweatshirt. She also shared recipes along with heart-healthy hints and cooking tips that will make holiday foods easier to prepare.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Betty John Byrns, Hortense Joyce, and Joyce Krause. A short business meeting followed the program.

Members present were Ann Patterson, Josephine Estes, Virginia Brown, Marthiel Russell, Nina Hale, Freddie Grohman, N.T. Gault, Geraldine Lange, Ouida Nichols, Betty John Byrns, Joyce Krause, Hortense Joyce, Sarah Parker, Mary Stanfield, Lela Mae Shelbourne, and Eula Mae Kruse. Edna Gillespie was a guest.

local merchant to sponsor you for only $10. We can promise you a fun-filled day.
The generosity of local merchants has enabled us to have drawings on the Cowboy Christmas day for some wonderful prizes. Each business in Winters will have a Christmas box in their store on Saturday. When you visit each business, you will be able to enter your name for the prize drawings. The boxes will be picked up at 1:30 p.m. and taken to the Rock Hotel.
The parade will draw to a conclusion at the hotel where the queen contestants will dismount their vehicles and the winners will be announced. The town drawings will be held immediately after the crowning of the Sno-Queen and we encourage you to be there to receive your prizes.
We will be giving further information on the parade and pageant in next week's paper, but remember the deadline for entering the pageant and the parade is December 1, 1997, at 12:00 noon.
Winters needs your help to make this year's activities a huge success. It will give you the opportunity to visit the local merchants and see what they have to offer for your Christmas giving. Who knows, you may win valuable prizes plus get your Christmas shopping finished while in town, and enjoy a great Cowboy Christmas day in Winters, Texas.
Please call the Chamber office at 915/754-5210 from 8-12 each morning or leave a message and we will get back with you. Watch for the posters to go up downtown.
