SIXTY BRONTE COTTON FARMERS RECEIVE GOVERNMENT COTTON CHECKS FOR $14,578 TODAY

Second Group of Government Cotton Checks to Bronte Farmers This Afternoon

The second group of Coke county cotton reduction checks has been received. There are sixty of them and they go to the farmers of the Bronte section—thus making the farmers in the east side of the county to fare a little better than the farmers of the other sections of the county, in that the Bronte farmers, more of them than those elsewhere in the county, are receiving their cotton money earlier. It is only a question of a short time, now, it is thought, till the whole amount will be paid.

The checks to be given out, will be given out this Friday afternoon, September 22, at the First National Bank in Bronte.

Those who will receive checks are as follows, sixty being the total number to be given out:

RUNNELS SONG MEET TO BE AT BALLINGER

Dear West:

Please announce in The Enterprise that the Runnels County Singing Convention will meet next Sunday, September 24, at Ballinger.

We are expecting a large number of good singers. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Fred Bedford,

Pres. County Convention.

DR. SWINDELL COMING

Let all those who are interested take notice that Dr. J. A. Swindell, optometrist, of San Angelo, will be at the City Drug store in Bronte, Saturday, September 30. This is a great opportunity for all those needing such professional services.

D. W. TURNER ILL

D. W. Turner of Norton, is seriously ill, which The Enterprise regrets to learn.

"Uncle White," as he is affectionately called by all who know him is one of the old-time citizens of that section. He is well known throughout the Bronte section of country as well as over other parts of West Texas. All will join in the good wish that "Uncle White" may soon be himself again.

Miss Bettye Butner has gone to Abilene where she entered Simmons University as a student.

James Hearn is in Brownwood, where he enrolled as a student of Howard Payne College.

CLASS ENTERTAINS CLASS

"Fun was fast and furious," it is said, at the Key park Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Lucy Warner's Sunday school class entertained Mrs. L. Johnson's class with a picnic.

Mrs. Alfred Taylor and H. O. Whitt were chosen as stunt leaders. And it is said that stunts that would have "out-stunted" professionals were put on, much to the amusement of all. Fun and frolic was the order of the evening and everyone had a delightful evening.

A picnic lunch of delicacies was served to about sixty.

CAR LIGHT LAST WARNING

This is absolutely the last warning with reference to your car lights. We have notified, called attention, and done all we can to get the people to adjust their car lights and to conform otherwise to the law. And, now, for the safety of the public we will from this date henceforth enforce the law regardless as to who you are, or the excuses you may make. Don't wait now until you are called, and, then, plead that your lights have just gone out—see to it that your lights are burning. Everybody together, now, for strict adherence to the car and traffic laws.

Walker Good,
T. F. Sims,
Officers.

COKE COUNTY IRRIGATION PROJECT SUBMITTED TO PWA. BY COMMITTEE

The Enterprise expects "big, report from any source relative uptown stuff" for its next issue relative to the Coke County Irrigation project.

The local steering committee, consisting of Robert Knierim and R. E. Hickman of Bronte, Fred Roe, Robert Lee and H. G. Wendland of San Angelo went to Fort Worth Wednesday, and Thursday submitted the application for funds with which to construct the system, to the PWA.

This morning as we go to press The Enterprise has had no report from any source relative to the hearing. But, we feel confident that in next week's issue we can give more detailed information relative to this gigantic project, and a project the construction of which will mean so much to this section of country.

The San Angelo Standard reports this morning that 1933 is the driest year this section of West Texas has had in fifty years—evidently, then, something needs to be done.

Norton Gins and Leading Merchant In Co-operative Campaign for Business

Norton's two gins, Cecil Glenn, and the Farmers Gin Company and A. T. Chapman, the largest mercantile establishment of that splendid little town, fifteen miles east of Bronte, over in Runnels county, are out in this issue of the Enterprise in a cooperative campaign, soliciting all who should, to gin their cotton in Norton and do their trading there.

Cecil Glenn calls attention to the fact that he has installed new beley machinery and other new machinery. This shows a spirit of fidelity to the farmers who patronize Mr. Glenn's gin. The Farmers Gin Company also reminds that they have completely gone over their plant during the summer and have put every little detail in splendid condition, thus giving them a plant second to none.

A. T. Chapman, Norton's general mercantile establishment, boosts the gins of his town and pledges to pay top of the market for cotton. He also assures those who buy from him that he will sell them merchandise cheap as they can buy elsewhere.

Let those in all that section especially read the announcements in this issue of The Enterprise.

R. McQueen, Geo. Thomas, The Club will have its Constitution Week program, September 26. Mrs. Alfred Bennett will be hostess in the home of Mrs. Taylor Shelton.

Watch for "Clubbing a Husband"—the sensation of the day. Auspices of the Womans Home

Miss Louise Gideon has gone to Ozona where she becomes a student in the Ozona high school

Misses Mary Louise Holder and Virginia Youngblood have gone to Belton where they have entered Baylor College.

Isn't It The Truth?

ROY L. CRAWFORD, PALMER, TEXAS

I sat in the car
As the train sped down the track.
I thought of the man at the throttle of the engine,
And the man who fired the furnace
Under the boiler.
For them I prayed a prayer,
That God would give them clear vision,
And steady nerves at throttle or furnace
While I was on the train.

When I was a boy
I hoped some day to be an engineer,
And sit in the cab of an engine,
And pull the whistle cord at crossings,
While I watched the miles of track
Flying under the drivers.
I suppose every boy
Dreams of being a railroad engineer
When he is big.

Down by the tracks lived a stooped, little man
In a hut.
He rode out every day to work
On a hand car with some more men.
He came home at night tired and dirty and sweaty
After working all day on the tracks.
I suppose no boy ever dreamed of being a "sniper,"
And working on the section—
Cutting weeds, and pulling ties and driving spikes.

Now since I have grown up
I am not an engineer
And I do not work on the section.
But as I ride in the car
While the train goes flying down the track,
I thank God for the man who works on the section;
The man who drives the spikes
That hold the rails
That keep the engine on the track
For the engineer.

IN MEMORY OF L. E. BRUTON

We will meet you, darling brother,
In that land beyond the sky,
Where we'll have no more heart-aches,
In the land of the sweet bye and bye.

How we love you, darling brother,
Only the angels can interpret such love,
And we know that if we are faithful to Jesus,
We will meet you in Heaven above.

And at night, when our hearts are lonely,
In our home, all alone,
We can only trust in Jesus,
Who always cares for His own.

Thus to meditate upon his promises,
In His blessed Word so kind,
He can heal our every heart-ache and sorrow,
And comfort our soul and mind.

Precious Jesus, how we thank Thee
For the precious gift of love,
That was given us through our brother!—
It was like that from above!

Now, that Heaven holds our treasure,
Make us worthy of the love,
That shall be ours, when we reach
Our Heavenly Home above.

So, 'tis good-bye, darling brother Luther,
You always shared our heart-aches and our tears,
You never neglected, or forgot us,
In all your earthly years.

His sister,
—Mrs. Hattie Day.

New Deal Cotton Plan

Since the administration in Washington seems definitely committed to higher prices for farm products, and in order that the Farmers of West Texas may have an opportunity to take advantage of same and hold their COTTON for higher prices, we have completed arrangements to make liberal advancements on all cotton sold to us "On Call."

Basis on the Cotton is fixed on a future month at time of delivery, therefore the farmer knows every day exactly what his cotton will net him.

Special provisions in this Contract will be:

NO CARRYING CHARGES AT ALL

NO MARGIN CALLS

PRIVILEGE TO FIX FINAL PRICE ANY DAY

In as much as Cotton prices are usually higher after the "FALL RUSH" is over, we feel that it will be to the farmer's interest to take advantage of our "NEW DEAL COTTON PLAN."

SAN ANGELO

It has been your custom without exception when a new and worthy business has opened in your town for you to give it from one to two columns of boosting and congratulating the new business and your town and county upon their good fortune in having the new business to come among you. Again, we ask you, why? Perhaps, it is because you and the joint-keeper are not good, close, personal friends.

The brewers and legal booze joint owners in New York are already appealing to the government to go after the bootleggers—that the bootleggers are making and selling beer cheaper than the legal booze venders can sell it for. Now "aint that just too awful bad!" We refer their case to "Uncle Bill" Kellis who had so many "holy spasms" about the "dastardly and nefarious trade" of the bootleggers, and the assurance that there never would be any more bootlegging, if only "legal booze" could be returned. Indeed, "Uncle Bill," FDR and "Chaparel Jack" could well afford to charter the fastest ship that plies the air and send you to New York (that "Paradise of American i-deals) and let you whisper in the ears of those law-breaking bootleggers and tell them that they "must be good"—that your word is at stake about what the good little bootleggers would do soon as legal booze was returned—that they would be good and not bootleg any more. "The Eyes of Texas" are on you, "Uncle Bill," and the distinguished leader of Texas democracy, your booze leader, jimferguson. O, gods of Greece!

But, speaking of the proposed attempt of the state health department to keep the beer dives sanitary, there will not be enough tax paid by the dive-keepers to bear the expense of the sanitation venture. There was so much patriotic (?) appeal by the spielers for beer on the plea that the tax on beer would relieve the tax burden! The fact is that it will prove to be just as it always has done, booze in any way as a legal venture is a burden to the government—booze joints don't come into existence to aid the government—they are interested in one thing only and that is, how much money can we clean up, out of the venture?

Miss Mary Ellen Gordon of Coleman is a guest in the H. O. Whitt home. Miss Gordon and Mr. Whitt are cousins.

ATTENTION!

Don't neglect your eyes. If they burn, headaches, or objects blur when reading or doing close work, have them Properly Examined and glasses fitted.

If your child's eyes hurt, or they are backward in their school work, have their eyes examined at once.

I will be in BRONTE, TEXAS, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, at the City Drug Store, to examine eyes and fit glasses.

"HEALTH RACKETEERS"

Austin, Texas, Sept. 20.—In speaking of health racketeers, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, said, "There is no meaner method of hittin' below the belt than holding out false promises to incurables. This fact, however, does not in the least deter the unscrupulous who thus heartlessly prey upon thousands of unfortunates who are in a hopeless stage of illness. Thousands of dollars are extracted annually from individuals whose conditions direct their hopes to the promises made by the super-scientific gentry who claim to have beaten the untiring researchers on endowed laboratories to cures for cancer, diabetes, tuberculosis, epilepsy, pellagra, and other serious conditions.

"Unfortunately, it is words rather than deeds that creates the miracle. A miracle which, instead of being related to a cure, is entirely associated with the transfer of large sums of money from innocent persons to those whose only interest in health and health matters at the cash register.

"It is the sad and killing fact that in addition to the incurables, there are thousands of believing persons who become victims of this type of racketeer, and thus through self-diagnosis and self-treatment, postpone a real investigation of their ailments until the incurable stage is reached.

"Two main rules could be followed in this connection. The first is to have an annual physical examination by a reputable physician. In this way incipient conditions can be discovered and by proper treatment the disease frequently can be conquered. The second rule is to mistrust all high promising statements of 'amazing discoveries.'"

VACANCIES IN HISTORIC CORPS

It is announced by Major P. D. Cornell, U. S. Marine Corps, that a few vacancies now existing in this famous military organization will be filled through the Marine Corps Recruiting Station at 535 St. Charles Street, New Orleans, La., during the month of October.

All applicants for enlistment must have been graduated from an accredited high school or attended an institution of higher learning, and, due to the high qualifications required of an applicant he must be of the highest type both physically and morally.

Men enlisted at the New Orleans office, after a period of intensive training, which consists of close and open order drills, the use of rifles, machine guns, bayonet automatic rifles, Stokes mortars and all other implements of modern warfare, are transferred from Parris Island, S. C., where they receive their initial training, to one of the many Marine Corps Posts at home or abroad. Many of these men, who desire to serve at sea with the Fleet are sent to the Sea School Detachment at Norfolk, Virginia.

Any young man desiring information about this service should write Major P. D. Cornell at the above address and he will furnish him with full information and application blanks.

The health authorities in Dallas stated, according to press reports from the papers of that city, that the beer joints of Dallas were just about as filthy as they could be, upon the very first inspection by the health authorities. Now, that evidently must be much disappointing to "Uncle Bill" Kellis and his jim ferguson person, as they both acclaimed in the press and by mouth that the bootlegger's place would look like a hog pen compared with the neatness and sanitation of the legal beer parlors. But, regardless as to the source of information, or the geographical location of the beer joint, it can always be known that filth will exist, unless the health authorities inspect every morning. The beer joint keeper is not in business for the benefit of the public health (or morals either as for that matter.) But, why should they be so considerate—swill eaters are never interested in sanitation and health, all they want is swill—and, then more swill.

MARRIED

Friday afternoon, September 15, 1933, in San Angelo, Mr. W. O. Eubanks Jr., and Miss Metia Hallmark were united in marriage.

These young people stole a march on their friends. It had been expected by their friends that they were going to marry. But it pleased both of them to go quietly to San Angelo and get married before their friends knew it.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hallmark. She was born and reared here, attended school here and is known to all as a young lady of charm. Her friends wish for her every added joy in the marriage relation.

The groom likewise is Bronte born and reared, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Eubanks. He has many friends who are extending to him congratulations on winning the one he has as his life's partner.

The Enterprise joins with the friends of these widely known young people in every good wish for them in life.

MARRIED

Mr. Chester Ivey and Miss O-pal Bledsoe both of Bronte were married early Monday morning, September 18, 1933, at Wheeler, Texas.

These two young people it

The Enterprise reports several of Bronte's finest young people having gone away to school, at college and elsewhere. We wish these young people, each a successful school year, and a happy sojourn away from home. There may be others who are gone, The Enterprise failed to get. If anyone knows of others we will appreciate a report of same.

seems, were bent on marriage, regardless as to the approval of relatives on both sides. Hence they stole away, without confiding in anyone. They started to Oklahoma, but decided that was too far away, and thus would compel them to have to wait too long for the consummation of the happy event. Hence when they reached Shamrock they drove into a service station and told the service station man that they wanted some gasoline and a marriage license. The station man sold them their gasoline then he told them, he was out of marriage license, but pointing to another service station across the street, told them they could get the license there. They rushed over to the place but the accommodating service station man reported that he was very sorry, but he, too, was out of the license called for. He sent them away, across town to another service station. When they reached this place, they found an old, grandfatherly man in charge. They told him that they wanted a marriage license and that a service station man down town had sent them to him—that he had plenty of the license they were seeking. The old grandfather said: "Children those fellows down town have been teasing you—marriage license can be secured no where except at the court house, and the nearest court house is at Wheeler." Thereupon the two turned towards Wheeler, secured the much desired license, found "a duly authorized administrator" and were married. They returned home Tuesday. Of course, now, The Enterprise can not vouch for any of the above being true, far as their seeking the license is concerned in the manner described—but that is the way it was reported to us. Tuesday the newly-weds returned home. That night, the friends of the two and also of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Eubanks, Jr. another pair of newly-weds, got both couples. They caught Mr. and Mrs. Eubanks at the show. Then they went out to Mr. Ivey's parents, where Mr. and Mrs. Ivey were spending the night, three miles in the country and brought them to town. They took the two grooms and yoked them together with a chain and then chained them to a light post on Main street, down in the central part of the business section. The young lady friends of the brides took them away and hid them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brock. After keeping the grooms chained till a late hour they turned them loose that they might find their brides. At last the brides were located and the fun at the expense of the two couples of newly-weds was over.

Miss Bledsoe is a sister of Mrs. Geo. Chisholm and has made her home with them for some time. She is a young woman of gracious mien and is qualified in mind and heart to be the life's companion of the one to whom she has given herself in marriage. During the time of her residence here she has made many friends who wish for her every joy as the years of life come and go.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ivey and is a descendant of one of the old-time and widely known families of this section. He has many friends who are congratulating him upon winning one so fair as his life's companion.

The Enterprise joins with the friends of the happy two in every good wish for them as they shall travel life's way together.

AMERICAN CAFE TRUE TO NAME—NO BEER

Two weeks ago The Enterprise stated that soon as we could get the names of the cafes and restaurants in San Angelo that would not make their places booze joints by selling beer we would publish the list so that the families of our citizens going to San Angelo shopping and on other missions would not have to go into beer joints to get cafe service unless they just wanted to eat at such places.

The editor and wife were in San Angelo Monday and upon limited investigation we found only one standard cafe that had refused to sell booze. There may be other such places, but far as our investigations went we found only one. If there are others, soon as we get their names and locations we will publish them—for it is nothing short of a public shame upon San Angelo, for that city to have its places converted into such places that are not suitable for little children to go in and get cafe service without looking upon men and women—and many of them quite often disreputable characters—drinking booze promiscuously.

But, there is at least one standard cafe in San Angelo that has chosen to keep its place clean and free from all the bad and undesirable features of a booze joint. Its owners and managers prefer to keep their place free from the many objectionable and dangerous features that booze drinking always entails. Their attitude is an invitation to everyone who believes in decency to go to the American cafe for their cafe service when in San Angelo. The American has the right name and it behooves all our citizens when they take their families to San Angelo, and need cafe service, where everything is orderly and free from the dangers and bad influences of promiscuous booze drinking, to take their families to the American.

This is no paid advertisement, but purely a news item published to give what we regard as important information to the families among our readers who go to San Angelo and therefore will need cafe service, but will not want to go to a booze selling establishment to get cafe service.

Nor have we any personal interest in the American further than that of old-time friendship for the owners, Messrs. Will Kemp and Dave Girdwood, both of whom we have known for more than a quarter of a century. Our chief interest in the American is that it is a neat, clean moral place where a man can take his wife and small children and get cafe service for them free from the possibilities of the dangers and bad influences where booze is sold and drunk.

The American has been boycotted a few times already by drinkers who went in and called for booze. Upon being informed that booze was not served there the drinkers got up and walked out. If it comes to a game of that kind The Enterprise just wonders if there is enough pure, old-fashioned blood in the veins of Coke county people who are against booze, for them, when they go to San Angelo and need cafe service to maintain their ideals and go to a first-class cafe where everything is cleanly and sanitary as can be found anywhere, where the service is unexcelled and where modesty and quiet and wholesome influences like one's home obtain all the time. If so, go to the American, for it is all that we have said about it—and two finer gentlemen than Messrs. Kemp and Girdwood can be found nowhere, and likewise the young lady waitresses are modest and polite and one hundred per cent attentive always to the guests of the house.
