Arkansans Not To Hold Reunion

It has been decided by the executive committee and others in charge of directing the annual gatherings of the native Arkansans, not to hold the annual get together this year.

The decision was reached after due consideration, but with much regret.

The gathering for this year was abandoned for two reasons. First, it was settled definitely that material for seating purposes was not locally available. The South Texas Lumber Company, through their local manager, O. H. Willoughby, have always generously supplied the material with which to seat the park. But the stock of dimension lumber at this time is so limited that material necessary can't be supplied. The committee decided that it was best not to hold the gathering unless ample provision in all particulars for the throngs who usually attend this annual get together, could be provided.

As secretary of the reunion the writer has had numerous inquiries from near and far with reference to the reunion this year. And this is to advise one and all of the final decision of the committee regarding the matter.

Another feature entering into the decision of the committee was that Dr. J. D. Sandefer, who is president of the Arkansans' organization, is president of Hardin-Simmons University. The last day in May has always been the day of meeting of the Arkansans. It falls out that on that day this year Dr. Sandefer must have the commencement of the University and hence he could not attend.

Whether the reunion will be held next year and in the future years will be determined by the circumstances when the time approaches next year, according to some of the committee.

NEW MANAGEMENT HAGELSTEIN AT BALLINGER SHOP

Elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise is an announcement of the Hagelstein Monument Company, San Angelo, Abilene and Ballinger, of the appointment of a new manager for the company's business at Ballinger.

Mr. H. A. Burke is the newly appointed manager. Mr. Burke bears the highest recommendations both as a gentleman and as an artist in his work who is capable of designing memorials of the most satisfactory designs.

As for John Hagelstein, owner and general manager of the Hagelstein Monument Company, his name is a household word all over this part of West Texas. Mr. Hagelstein has placed more memorials, by far, perhaps, in West Texas than any other man who ever engaged in this line of work. Pleasing in his manner, fair and square in his dealings and always courteous, John Hagelstein has his friends all over West Texas literally by the hundreds.

Read the announcement of the Hagelstein Monument Company with reference to Mr. Burke as the new manager at Ballinger, and when you go to Ballinger call at their place of business on Broadway—Mr. Burke will be pleased to meet you.

"The mocking birds are singing," and "the doves are cooing"—so, it must be that spring is here!

RUNNELS SONG MEET TO BE AT MILES

The Runnels County Singing Convention will meet in its regular annual session at Miles Methodist church on April 25 in an all-day singing program. A basket dinner will be served on the grounds at the noon hour. Arrangements have been made to take care of a large crowd. Singers are expected from as far as Sweetwater, Abilene, Coleman, Robert Lee, Sterling City, Eden and many other towns and vicinities. The Ernest Rippetoe Male Quartet of DeLeon will appear on the program all day Sunday and they will also give a concert at the Miles Baptist church Saturday night, April 24. This is one of the best male quartets in Central West Texas. Other specials will be the San Angelo Male Quartet arranged by V. L. Forehand; the Jennings, Low, Forehand Male Quartet of Winters; the Tucker Twins of Winters, prize winners at the State Convention last summer; the Weaver Female Quartet of San Angelo; the Blue Bonnet Trios of Stephenville and the Byrl Brooks Quartet of Bangs may also appear on the program. An immense crowd and many singers are expected in attendance. Fred Bedford of Winters is president, Mr. Kornegay of Wilmeth is vice-president and H. W. Bigler of Miles is secretary of the convention. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Bees Capture and Hold "Go Devil"

Mr. C. J. Banowsky, Bronte's dairyman, and one of Bronte's prosperous and successful farmers, as well as one of the country's most energetic citizens, knows when to "lay off" from work, and that however a farmer may be pressed for time, it is best to "consider duly" and not be too anxious to work, under "unfavorable circumstances."

The other morning Mr. Banowsky, due to other matters demanding his attention, did not go to his plowing job until up in the morning awhile. The night before when he quit running his "go devil," he left the implement where he quit work. The next morning, about ten o'clock, Mr. Banowsky took his team and went back to continue his "go deviling." But, when he reached the place he paused for a few minutes, when within several feet of the implement, but it took him only a few moments to decide that he did not want to do any "go deviling" for the present at least. For, a swarm of bees had pre-empted the "go devil" and had possession of same. Mr. Banowsky recalled the legal axiom that "possession is nine points in law," and withdrew, leaving the bees "lord of all they surveyed."

In the afternoon the bees vacated, leaving Mr. Banowsky to return and re-possess his "go devil," and go peacefully and merrily on with his work.

Read the financial statement of the Farmers & Merchants State Bank, Ballinger, in this issue—it is good reading.

Bronte's Debate Team Wins 2nd at District Meet

The Bronte High Debate team composed of I. N. Polk Jr. and Morton Caudle won second place in District Meet in San Angelo, which was held April 16-17.

The teams entering the meet were San Angelo, Lake View, Menard, Eldorado, Eden, Ballinger and Bronte. Only at a small margin did San Angelo win over Bronte in the finals. This is the first debate team entering the District meet from Bronte since 1930.

I. N. Polk, Jr. is the son of I. N. Polk Sr., who has been residing in the Bronte community for a number of years, coming to this section from Fort Worth.

I. N. is a senior in the high school this year and has a very high scholastic rating. His name is printed on the Women's Progressive Club Loving Cup in 1934-1935. Each year the student with the highest scholastic rating his name is printed on this cup.

Morton Caudle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Caudle, who have been residing in the Bronte community for six years, having moved here from Robert Lee. Morton is a junior in the Bronte High School and has been very active in both literary and athletic events.

The debate team was coached by Miss Mary B. Roach, a teacher in school, and by Superintendent Nathan Johnson, who assisted during Miss Roach's absence.

Hats off, folks, to these two young men for their fine record both in debate and in the records they have made as students—and likewise congratulations to their tutors, for it shows that efficient and painstaking work has been done.

Henry Raney Has Banner Ice Agency

Henry Raney of Blackwell has taken charge of the Bronte Banner Ice Agency and is now operating same.

Mr. Raney has remodeled and enlarged the storage house and office of the plant and it has much more capacity.

Mr. Raney has also established a produce house in connection with his ice business and will buy poultry and cream and the saleable produce of the people who come to him. Mr. Raney is a thoroughly experienced produce man. He has been engaged in the produce business at Blackwell for the past seven years. A few years ago Mr. Raney was in the produce business in Bronte, and, therefore is no stranger to the people of Bronte and the Bronte country, by any means.

"I expect to pay the very top of the market always for produce," said Mr. Raney. "And in my ice business I shall always give the very best service humanly possible. As for the quality of our ice, it is known to all who have ever used Banner ice that as to its quality there is none better and but few that will equal it."

Mr. Raney will serve free ice cream to all who call at his place on State street, across from the Smith Service Station, tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, long as the cream lasts. Read the announcement of Mr. Raney elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise.

ATTEND STOCK JUDGING CONTEST AT A & M

Prof. J. T. Henry, vocational agriculture teacher in the Bronte school, and six boys returned home Tuesday, from A. & M. college, where they attended a three days stock judging contest. No awards had been made when the Bronte party departed for home.

Edward Cumbie won sixth place out of one hundred and fifty boys who entered the stock judging contest at Texas Tech April 9-10.

THE POOR FISH!

We have heard of many incidents that were pathetic and provoked much sympathy—but, the most "touching thing" (?) we have heard lately was an episode that involved the poor little fish in the Concho river, below Miles last Monday.

Four preachers consorted together to the discomfort of the aforesaid little fish. The reverend gentlemen making up the "blood-thirsty" party were Revs. J. H. Thompson and Lewis Stuckey, Methodist and Baptist pastors respectively in Bronte, and Revs. J. T. Leggitt and J. L. Wallace, Methodist and Baptist pastors respectively at Miles.

As we have sought in vain for a "fish story" from the local fishermen, each always demurs, and pointing to the other, says, "let him tell it."

We wish the little fish in the waters that were invaded could talk. What a story they might be able to relate of "the things they heard" from the lips of this quartette of "piscatorial artists."

There were seven entries in the contest: Ballinger, Junction, Menard, Lake View, Sonora, San Angelo and Bronte. San Angelo won first and Bronte second. The others won as follows: Ballinger, third, and Junction fourth. All the plays were well presented.

"IMMUNIZE NOW—STAMP OUT DIPHTHERIA"

Austin, Texas, April 22, 1937.
 A health slogan applicable to May-Child Health Day, "Immunize Now—Stamp Out Diphtheria," is designed to intensify the campaign against one of the most deadly foes of children, diphtheria according to Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

If parents would have their family physician administer toxoid to their child as soon after it reaches the age of six months as possible, much suffering and many deaths could be prevented.

The administering of toxoid is a very simple procedure and causes the child little or no discomfort. In approximately ninety per cent of the children receiving toxoid, there will be established a life long immunity to this disease.

TO BE SURE, four to six months after the final dose of toxoid, the child should be Schick tested so that parents will know definitely whether child is immune. The test consists of just a few drops of diphtheria toxin between the layers of their skin. If the child is immune, no reaction will be noticed. If not, there will appear redness at the sight of the test that reaches its height the third or fourth day.

FARM ACCOUNTING
REVEALS LESSONS

Principles of Sound Business Management That Apply to All Farms

An analysis made of detailed records kept by a group of Wisconsin farms revealed several important lessons and the principles of sound business management derived from them apply equally well to other farms, says an article in the Bulletin of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. The article says: "Investment costs, including interest, depreciation, repairs, taxes and insurance, are approximately two-thirds of all farm costs. Furthermore, these costs are largely independent of the production program of the farm."

"This means that if a farmer cuts his production of crops or livestock, he increases his investment costs per unit of product produced, as a smaller number of units must then carry as large an expense load as before. This illustrates the importance, from the standpoint of costs, of operating a farm at or near capacity."

"Investment mistakes are more costly than many others because they cannot easily be corrected. If a farmer pays too much for his farm, his investment costs will be abnormally high as long as he owns it. If he constructs a $4,000 barn, when a $2,000 barn would have served his purpose, he will have excessive barn costs, year after year, during the entire service life of the structure."

"This emphasizes the importance of a knowledge of investment values and the specific investment requirements of individual farms."

Determining Real or False Economy.
 "In working for greater economy, it is essential that the farm manager be able to distinguish between a real and a false saving. This can be done only through a careful estimate of the contribution to income, over a period of time, of each item of expenditure. Only if more is saved in expense than will be lost in income, can a contemplated cut in expense be designated as a real saving."

"For example, dropping dairy herd improvement work may result in a yearly expense reduction. The question to decide is what effect the dropping of this work will have on the present and future income from the dairy herd. If the estimated loss in livestock receipts due to a lowered efficiency in feeding and breeding is greater than the original saving, then it would obviously be a false economy."

"Substantial savings can be effected on many farms through the use of more home grown garden produce and farm cured meats. Why pay out money for products of this kind that can be produced much cheaper at home? The money saved from the family food budget can be used for the purchase of many things that will make the farm a more comfortable and pleasant place to live."
