BRONTE, COKE COUNTY, FEBRUARY 4, 1938

NUMBER 5

Hon. Harry Hines Writes About Coke Co. Roads

County Judge McNeil Wylie is in receipt of a letter from Commissioner Harry Hines, member of the State Highway Commission, advising as to his interest in the construction of all-weather highways in Coke County that are much needed.

Hon. Hines states that he is committed to the paving of Highway 158 from Bronte to Robert Lee which he is going to keep constantly before him and the commission until the contract is let. How long that will be Mr. Hines did not indicate, as the finances of the highway department are running low.

But the word from Mr. Hines is encouraging and signifies that the member of the commission who has inspected the road and the conditions is committed to the project, and therefore, it will be in line for construction as soon as conditions permit.

BABY HAS SEVEN LIVING GRANDPARENTS

Another infant in the community with a large number of living grandparents is William Louis Eubanks, with seven living grandparents. The eight pound baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Eubanks, Jr. January 27.

All seven grandparents live in Bronte and Blackwell. They are: Mrs. E. C. Vest, great great-grandmother, Blackwell; Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards, great grandparents, Blackwell; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Eubanks, Sr., grandparents, Bronte, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor, grandparents, Bronte.

J. A. Patterson of Ballinger, route 2, sends us the price of subscription and requests The Enterprise to come to his home. Mr. Patterson says that last week's issue alone was worth the price of subscription. We thank this good friend of many years, and trust he and family shall enjoy the weekly visits of the paper.

One Minute Sermon

BY REV. A. V. BRADLEY

"STRONG DRINK"

"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."—Prov. 20:1.

"Who hath woe? Who hath sorrows? Who hath contentions, Who hath babblings? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes. They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine? Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

"Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things."

"Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that beth upon the top of a mast."

"They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not sick; they have beaten me, and I felt it not; when shall I awake? I will seek it yet again."—Prov. 23:29-35.

"Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them! Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure."—Isa. 5:11, 14a.

"But they also have erred through wine, and through strong drink."—Isa. 28:7a.

"Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and tomorrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant."—Isa. 56:12.

"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him, and maketh him drunken also, that thou mayest look upon their nakedness."—Habakkuk 2:15.

"Be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess, but be filled with the Spirit of God."—Eph. 5:18.

These verses of Scripture need no explanation. Let God be true and man a liar. God looks on our present liquor situation with disgust, and would say, "Woe unto you who seek strong drink"—hell is your portion. Whiskey is alright in its place, but its place is in hell.

SAN ANGELO BOOSTER TRIPS PLANNED FOR FAT STOCK SHOW

San Angelo, Tex., Feb. 3. The first of a series of trips advertising the Seventh Annual San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo, March 4-8, inclusive, was made by members of the Longhorn Club last week to Miles. The occasion was the annual showing of the livestock projects of the Miles Future Farmer of America Chapter members.

Other trips are being planned during this month and the first few days of March when the FFA boys and 4-H club youths show their livestock.

Among towns remaining on the schedule are: Brady, Eldorado, Sonora, Junction, Mason, Mertzon, Rankin, Eden, Odessa, Rochelle, Brownwood, Coleman, Ballinger, Winters, Big Lake, Sterling City, Bronte, Garden City, Robert Lee, Menard and Sweetwater.

Winners in the local shows will be among the exhibitors in the five-day show here. Premiums for livestock winners will exceed $3,000.

This year's entertainment will be the rodeo with Everett Bowman, 1937 world champion cowboy. Other noted performers will include Paul Carney, 1937 champion of Madison Square Garden, New York, rodeo, and Vic Schwarz, winner of the Western National at Denver.

World championship stock, owned by Everett Colborn and Harry Knight, Arizona, former rodeo performers, will be used. Colborn will serve as arena director.

Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band, Abilene, will play for the five afternoon performances.

Ruth Price, who is attending A. C. C. in Abilene spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Price.

Gene Keeney, junior at Hardin-Simmons University was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Keeney, over the week-end.

Helen Abbott visited her grandmother in Abilene Sunday.

Plans for World's Championship Rodeo are Made

Abilene, Feb. 3.—Plans for the West Texas World's Championship rodeo in Abilene, March 1, 2 and 3, are beginning to take shape. This event will officially open the Texas rodeo season.

ACE performers of the rough and ready sport will be on hand trying for a portion of the $3,000 prize money in five events. The West Texas Fair association, sponsor of the event, has announced prizes of $2,000 in cash, which will be supplemented by the entry fees.

Events that have proved popular in the leading shows of the United States are listed for the one here. They are calf roping, bronc riding, wild mare riding contest, steer riding and bulldogging. Purses in these contests total $100 each, for day performances and will be divided four ways. Winners in the three day averages will split a $1000 added three ways.

Hugh Bennet, hard-riding Fort Thomas, Ariz., cowboy and former Abilene Christian College student, who has been named arena director, will come to Abilene direct from Tucson, Ariz., February 25.

Many other leading cowboys are expected to come here from Arizona, then go to San Angelo and on to Fort Worth for the Southwestern Exposition. Heading that group are Vic Schwarz and Hoyt Hefner of Wichita Falls, Jake McClure of Loving, N. M., Ralph Bennett of Abilene and many others.

Wild Brahma steers, bucking horses and steers for the bulldogging events, have been contracted. They belong to Red Lyons of Byers, Texas and are considered the best of this country. Brahma calves and wild mares are to be bought by the fair association for use during the six performances.

Improvements are being made to the lighting system at the fair arena which was constructed last fall. Officials say night shows will be as snappy as those held during each of the three afternoons, with added facilities.

The rodeo is to be held in connection with the West Texas Boys Livestock show, an annual event. J. I. Moore is superintendent of the show and says it will be the largest ever held here. Approximately $1,000 in prize money will be awarded to the boys with winning animals.

Arrangements are being made by D. H. Jefferies, president of the fair association, and W. R. (Ruck) Sibley, chairman of the rodeo committee, for added feature attractions at the rodeo. This will include trick and fancy roping and riding and exhibition cowgirl bronc riding.

HER 7th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. George Wrinkle gave her little daughter, Loretha Mae, a party at their home northwest of Bronte, Saturday afternoon, January 29. It was the seventh birthday of the little honoree, who was the recipient of quite a few pretty gifts from her friends. The little ones had a happy time playing games and otherwise enjoying themselves.

Refreshments of cake and hot chocolate were served to the following: Mary Lou and Betty Sue Pittman, Katharine Wrinkle, Gene and Bobby Tomlinson, Dorothy Scott, Delbert and Cecil Carlson, Dean and Warren Beaver.

Santa Fe Installs Signal System on Highway 158

The Santa Fe railroad is installing a signal system across their property on highway 158, leading towards Robert Lee, on Main street. A crew of men are at work on the job and it is expected to finish the installation within the next ten days.

This is a much needed signal system—for, there is much traffic on this highway, across the railroad tracks, and some serious accidents have narrowly been averted.

Prof. N. E. Smith, the efficient and popular band instructor of the Bronte school band, went to Fort Worth Thursday night, to attend the state band directors convention. Prof. Smith will return Sunday night.

Rabbit Drive Was Successful; Fine Dinner Served

Coke county traditions as to Coke county women being culinary artists were upheld Tuesday, at the rabbit drive in the Juniper community, across the river south of Bronte, in the sumptuous dinner served by the ladies of that community to the rabbit hunters at the noon hour.

About seventy-five hungry men, came "rushing in" from the drive shortly after twelve o'clock. The coffee, a wash pot full of the brew, was steaming hot, and strong enough to float the proverbial iron wedge. The baskets and baskets of lunch which had been assembled at the Tom Williams home, were spread on an improvised table. Following the expression of thanks, the

The editor acknowledges a kindly invitation from the pastor of the host church, Rev. Clarence A. Morten, to attend this meeting. We will be glad to do so, if reasonably possible, if for no other reason than simply to meet this good man. We have had a peculiar experience concerning him. Some years ago, we edited a church paper. He wrote for the columns of our paper quite often—yet we have never had the pleasure of meeting him "face to face." Then, too, we knew his wife when she was "just a little girl." It seems so strange that she is now "a grown woman"—it simply doesn't hardly seem to be real. We have spent many happy hours in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Adams—her father yet survives, and the Maker of men never made a man who was more true to the right as he conceived the right, or more loyal to a friend than he. We have cherished his friendship through the years!

DAILY MEDITATIONS

J. H. THOMPSON

"When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools; pay that which thou hast vowed." Eccles. 5: 4.

What becomes of honor, of virtue, of chivalry, of character when vows are unpaid?

What can come of such cynicism and profligacy but fatal hurt to the soul and irreparable damage to society?

More is the pity that some vows fall broken and dead upon the very altars where they are made.

Were this the whole story, then well might one utter a despairing cry and die. But thank God, honor and integrity have not perished from the earth. There are many who pay their vows and keep their word, and watch over their conduct with deathless vigil.

It is fair to say that God has compassion on the delinquent but no pleasure in him. Fidelity is one of the most amazing factors in all human history. Every promise kept brings us one step nearer the heart of the Eternal.

"The leading rule for a man of every calling is diligence. Never put off til tomorrow what you can do today."—Lincoln.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT GIVES WARNING AGAINST INFLUENZA

Austin, Texas, Feb. 3. Influenza, while not of such prevalence as last year, is still occurring frequently enough to cause alarm, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

In its present form, its symptoms may range from a common cold to high fever, backache and prostration. However, pneumonia as a complication represents the real hazard. And, as is well known, pneumonia is an exceedingly dangerous foe. The remedy is bed on first appearance of a cold, remaining there until advised by the physician that one can safely get out of it.

Everyone should realize that in its mildest form influenza can easily become a very serious matter. Of course, prevention is better than cure. While influenza seems to be no respecter of persons, the careful observance of a few common sense rules materially strengthen one's resistance to an attack. Some of these rules: In so far as possible, avoid intimate contact with members of the families who have colds or influenza.

Keep the feet dry. Wash the hands thoroughly before meals.

And if you do develop influenza, see your doctor at once.

Fencing For Rotation and Forced Grazing

"Fencing for conservation and utilization has been emphasized in the complete conservation program of the 24,854 acres co-operating with the Soil Conservation Service. The original plans for this acreage included the construction or relocation of 38 miles of fence. In the main, fences were established to permit a grazing system which included both temporary and permanent pasture and to divide cultivated field to permit utilization of crop residue and eliminate point row areas," said R. M. Milhollin, Project Manager.

Fencing to permit rotation and forced grazing gives a more equal consumption of all the vegetation, yet permits resting of pastures, or grazing periods, for grass that the necessary vegetation for erosion control and moisture conservation may be maintained.

Mr. B. L. Trimble recently told of how cross fencing on alfalfa field gave twice the grazing for hogs as where no crossfences were used. The observation was made some thirty years ago when an acquaintance fenced five acres of alfalfa into four equal lots and had another five acres not cross fenced. This operator rotation grazed the five acres that were crossfenced but maintained hogs in the other five acres all the time. A final analysis revealed that the cross-fenced area would carry twice the number of hogs as the other area not crossfenced.

"The results of fencing for conservation and utilization are commanding more attention than embodied in the original plans," said R. M. Milhollin. Dr. J. S. Hixson has completed fencing

Linking Corpus with Mississippi and the Great Lakes

Corpus Christi, Tex., Feb. 3. Linking of Corpus Christi with waterways of the Mississippi River and the Great Lakes, an objective of 32 years standing, was advanced a step nearer completion with recent announcement that a $970,000 allotment has been approved for construction of the intracoastal canal from Port O'Connor on Matagorda Bay to Corpus Christi.

Completion of this section will pave the way for the transporting of oil by barge from Port Lavaca and intermediate points to Corpus Christi for storage and shipment to foreign, coastwise and intercoastal points.

Dredging of the channel in Calhoun and Aransas counties is expected to get under way within a few weeks, and this portion will probably be completed within 12 months. The canal will be nine feet deep and have a base width of 100 feet.

Construction of this section which gave two additional pastures, Zack Jones and Jake Harper are adding extra crossfences on pasture land. Too, E. R. Von Rosenberg and T. J. Fant have recently planned and constructed new fences in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service so as to perfect a more complete conservation program.

Soil Conservation Service San Angelo, Texas

will leave incomplete the 65-mile Freeport section of the canal extending from the eastern Brazoria County to the west end of Matagorda Bay. Acquisition of rights-of-way and spoil disposal areas are the principal requirements for the canal's completion in the Freeport area.

Practicability of the Port O'Connor-Corpus Christi section was demonstrated two weeks ago when two barges carrying 2,800 barrels of crude oil for storage here, successfully navigated the proposed canal route from Port Lavaca to Corpus Christi.

The intracoastal canal, "from the Mississippi River at or near New Orleans, Louisiana, to Corpus Christi, Texas", was adopted and authorized in the Rivers and Harbors Bill passed by Congress and approved by the President January 21, 1937. Total cost of the project will be approximately $16,000,000. The canal, when completed will provide a land-locked waterway 600 miles in length and suitable for barge transportation.

The canal has been completed and is now functioning from New Orleans and Plaquemine, in Louisiana, to Galveston, and beyond to the Brazoria County line.

Saturday Night in Japan

"COME on in, the water's fine." Bathing in Japan is on a different plane from ours, as these two American gentlemen can tell you. Tubs are perpendicular there, instead of horizontal, and you stand in the water up to your neck. But we shouldn't laugh at this somewhat primitive scene, according to Consumers Information, which points out that only a hundred years ago, there were only 1,500 bathtubs in the United States, all of them in Philadelphia, where they had a city water system and taxed each tub $3.00. President Fillmore installed the first tub in the White House in 1850. Advertising of the advantages of convenient and sanitary bathing started 31 years later, has continued increasingly ever since, and has made the United States the cleanest nation on earth. Even the most advanced European nations are far behind us in this respect, and the possession of a bathtub in most countries is a sign not only of opulence, but ostentation. The United States is among the few countries generally educated to the knowledge that health and cleanliness go together.

Outstanding feature of the program will be a message from the state president of the P. T. A., read by Mrs. A. Taylor. Included on the program will be a special number by the Third Grades, a sing song conducted by Mrs. W. Bowden, a talk, "Punctuality in the School," by Mrs. Nathan Johnson. The program will be followed by a round table discussion, and the routine business of the meeting.

Hostesses are: Mrs. Willis Reed, Mrs. Arnett, and Miss Mildred Clifton. Parents and members of the faculty are urged to attend.

RABBIT DRIVE

hunters and all others present passed by in single file and were served by the ladies in cafeteria style.

"And what a dinner!"—country sausage, country boiled ham, chicken, cooked every way almost known to kitchencraft—fried, baked, and dressing, and chicken and dumplings—salads, cakes, pies, every kind, made a menu that would spoil "the appetites of the gods." That fact was well demonstrated, the way the hungry hunters devoured the delicious viands. But, nobody, perhaps, relished the dinner more than that fellow whose smiling face is appearing regularly in the San Angelo Standard-Time—Fred Gipson. Now the way that fellow ate was almost "legendary." And that he could smile as demonstrated during the lunch hour at the drive the other day. When he brought that face of his into close proximity to that country sausage and boiled ham, there was no smiling—he certainly showed himself to be a "serious-minded" lad—and finally he concluded with his face buried in a quarter-cut of "boggy-top" pie, like one of olden times, of whom it was said, "and he never smiled again." Whether he has recovered is not yet known.

But, to the rabbit drive—there was a wholesale slaughter of the pests.

Ant this is to give notice that another drive is staged for the section of country just east of Tennyson, next Tuesday, February 8. The drive starts at the Clarence Derrick home and dinner will be served at the Flat Rock crossing. Everybody is invited to come and bring their "deadly weapons."

There will also be a drive Wednesday, February 9, in the Brookshier community, just beyond where the drive will be staged Tuesday. All who enjoy rabbit hunting and a good dinner are invited to be in this drive.

AN INEXCUSABLE ERROR

The writer has been engaged in country newspaper work for many years, and has made many typographical errors. Some of the errors were amusing and some embarrassing—but for a downright inexcusable error the one in the ad of Dr. Dann's Health Home at Sweetwater, in last week's issue was "the limit."

For a long time Dr. Dann has run an ad with us twice a month with reference to his Health Home. The Doctor's business signature to his sanitarium is Dann's Health Home—a most appropriate and befitting name. We have had the signature set in movable type. But last week the signature "piled" as we started to lift it from the "dead stone" to the "make-up stone." We then set the signature on the machine. And "believe it or not," instead of setting it as it should have been set, we cast it "Dann's funeral Home."

Of course the paper had hardly more than gotten into the post office until readers began to "razz" us about it—and we watched our office door at the approach of every one entering, expecting Dr. Dann to come wading in with a "gatlin gun," or some other "sure shot" deadly weapon. But, we had a letter from Dr. Dann that "talked straight" to us, but had no threats of "bodily harm," which relieved us somewhat, except we are "just ashamed" to meet Dr. Dann.

However, we have an explanation. Dr. Dann and everybody else knows it was a typographical error—but that does not keep the mistake from having occurred. The explanation is this: first of last week our typesetting machine got out of adjustment and we were delayed nearly two days. Hence, when we got to running we had to work almost day and night to get the issue out. It was about 2:00 o'clock in the morning, after having worked all day and late into the night, that we "piled" the signature, and to save time set it on the machine. But, just why we put it "Funeral Home" instead of "Health Home," we will pay some one if he is wise enough to make it plain to us. The only explanation we have is that having worked beyond the reasonable powers of human endurance, we must have felt that the only place for us was a "funeral home."

For incongruity of thought, we will also pay a premium for an instance that will surpass this one of ours—"health" and "funeral"—the two terms are the very antipodes of each other.

As suggested above, "Dann's Health Home" is a suggestive name, for it is growing rapidly in favor with people throughout West Texas. The writer has known Dr. Dann many years. He came to Sweetwater several years ago and in a modest way began the practice of his profession. By staying with his task, being absolutely fair with the people, and honest and candid with those who called on him for professional advice, his practice has grown until it touches all West Texas.

Outgrowing his office which he had thoroughly equipped, some time ago Dr. Dann bought one of the most centrally located sites in Sweetwater and erected on it a building, just as he wanted it for a sanitarium, and installed the very latest health aids and hence is now in position to give as thorough professional service as will be found anywhere in a chiropractic institution. Hence, he named his new place "Dann's Health Home." There are those all over the country who will testify as to the professional services of Dr. Dann and the unsurpassed facilities of "Dann's Health Home" as a health center. Dr.

Dann is a pleasing, genial gentleman, and every attendant in the Health Home is likewise always interested in those who go there for treatment. If you have never visited "Dann's Health Home" it will be worth your while for you to pay this health center a visit—you will not only be surprised at the up-to-the-minute health equipment Dr. Dann has installed, but you really will be made to "feel at home" such are the pleasant environs of the place.

And The Enterprise assures its readers that if you do not get relief at "Dann's Health Home" you will then wonder if the next place for you will not be a "Funeral Home." Anyhow, Dr. Dann and his faithful assistants leave nothing undone to bring their patients back to health and normal strength.

Apologies to you, Dr. Dann, for the inexcusable error.
