Happy NEW YEAR

To both our advertising patrons and readers. To have had business relations with more than a thousand people, for a year, and that without a single misunderstanding in all business transactions is a record of which we are proud, and we believe justly so. May life's very best be the portion of all this year.

A BEAUTIFUL, GOLDEN DEED

The gladsome Christmas-tide is a joyous Season because it is a time of gift-giving to loved ones and friends. The writer received his gifts from various loved ones and friends, all of which he greatly appreciates. And the thought that prompted the gifts he cherishes, of course, more than the intrinsic value of the gifts received. If Christmas had no other significance than that of gift-giving, that within itself would make it worthwhile and is sufficient to perpetuate the glad Season for all time to come.

But, there is really a significance in gift-giving, whether at Christmas-tide, or any other time, which, when observed, is even deeper and more beautiful and more golden than the giving of gifts to loved ones and dear friends. Such an instance was made known to the writer Christmas Eve morning—and the deed is beautiful and golden beyond words to portray. There is a story—an interesting story, behind the beautiful deed which we are writing about. The story is this: In the early fall of 1937, Miss Lillian Bowen, beauty culturist of Dallas, who travels throughout West Texas as representative of the Martha Lee Cosmetics Company, and gives lectures and demonstrations on beauty culture, at the place of business of the local dealer in the Martha Lee products, came to Bronte, in her line of endeavor. Cumbie & Wilkins department store is the local dealer in the Martha Lee cosmetics. Mrs. J. H. Turner was one of the ladies who called on Miss Bowen, and following the lecture of Miss Bowen and her demonstrations in beauty culture, Mrs. Turner was so well pleased that she bought a liberal supply of the products of the Company Miss Bowen represents. Last spring, fire destroyed the Turner home and all the household effects of the family, and left Mr. and Mrs. Turner to start life over again, as they carried no insurance. Among the losses was Mrs. Turner's supply of Martha Lee cosmetics. Mrs. Turner regretted their losses, including her cosmetics. A few weeks ago Miss Bowen returned for her 1938 professional visit to Bronte, at the Cumbie & Wilkins store. When Mrs. Turner learned that Miss Bowen was in town, she visited Miss Bowen at her place of business, and told Miss Bowen of her losses and of her lack of funds with which to supply herself with another quantity of cosmetics. The losses of Mrs. Turner touched Miss Bowen's sympathies. She decided that nothing could be more appropriate and beautiful than for her Co., whose generosity Miss Bowen knew, would be appealed to, to replenish Mrs. Turner's supply of cosmetics. Hence, she wrote her Company, and advised of Mrs. Turner's misfortune, and suggested to them that if they really wanted to do "a beautiful, golden deed" for the glad Holidays, to send Mrs. Turner a gift of as much cosmetics as she had lost in the fire. Mrs. Turner had a package and a letter from the Martha Lee Company, Christmas morning. The package was a fresh supply of her favorite cosmetics and the letter expressed the regrets of the Co., and their pleasure to be privileged to supply her a fresh supply of cosmetics to take the place of that which she had lost in the fire.

Indeed, that was "a beautiful, golden deed," both on the part of Miss Bowen and on the part of her Company. It was "golden" on the part of Miss Bowen to be so thoughtful and kindly sympathetic with a woman whose acquaintance she barely had, and it was "a beautiful, golden deed" on the part of the Company, the generosity they showed towards a lady who was a rank stranger to them. Everything considered, it is doubted if there were a more "beautiful golden deed" performed in Bronte during the happy Yuletide Season. Mrs. Turner was so delighted and exuberant in spirit and unstinted in her praise both of Miss Bowen and also her Company, Christmas Eve morning, it really was refreshing to see the sunlight of gladness in her face, as she expressed her appreciation of both Miss Bowen and the Company.

"Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these * * * * ye did it also unto me."

And it was His birthday that was being celebrated at the time the "beautiful, golden deed" was performed. How appropriate! How beautiful! How golden!

O. C. IVEYS' FAMILY REUNION, A MOST HAPPY EVENT

The happy Christmas-tide days are always days of happy family gatherings and reunions. Such was the family gathering of the O. C. Ivey family, on Christmas Day.

In the early autumn Mr. and Mrs. Ivey celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary. It being impossible for some of the children to be present at that time, the celebration was postponed to Christmas Day. In this old West Texas family there are nine sons and one daughter. The children with many of the grand children were present Sunday.

It was indeed, a memorable day, for both the parents and also the children as well. The

BUTNER-HOOVER

Saturday afternoon, December 24, 1938, in the Gift Shop of Mrs. D. M. West, the editor officiating, Mr. B. F. Butner of Bronte and Miss Thelma Hoover of Burnet, Texas, were united in marriage.

The bride is a cultured young woman and qualified in the graces of character to be the companion of the one to whom she has given herself in marriage. She is a sister of Gibbs Hoover who resides on Mr. Butner's farm north of town. Miss Hoover came out in the late summer visiting her brother and family, and she and Mr. Butner met, at which time their romance began which had its culmination in the Christmas Eve wedding.

Miss Hoover returned to her home in the early fall, but returned to Bronte a few days ago and she and Mr. Butner decided to make Christmas happy for both and were united in marriage.

As for "Bob" Butner—well, the editor has known him a long time. If we didn't give him the first "spankin'" he ever got in Texas, it was not because we did not want to, and it was not because he did not deserve it. We met his mother on the train. Both she and we were enroute to Ballinger. "Bob" was just a "squalling brat." That was in 1900. We were just a youngster then. But being of a kindly disposed mien, observing the lady with a crying baby, and that she showed plainly she was tired and weary, we kindly offered to care for the crying babe for a time and let her rest. We got a bigger job than we ever anticipated. However, we proved ourselves a hero until we reached our destination and aided the mother off the train with her babe. We learned that the lady was coming to Ballinger, from Alabama, to make her home—that her husband was coming on a freight train, bringing the household effects. A friendship sprang up between them and us that has lasted through nearly forty years. Hence, we are still interested in "Bob" and we wish for him and his bride increasing happiness with the passing years.

WALKER-JONES

Saturday night, December 24, 1938, in the living room of the West apartments, Mr. Delma Walker of Robert Lee and Miss Mable Jones of Bronte, were united in marriage, the editor officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jones, of near Bronte. She was born in Collin county, but the family has resided in Coke county for the past several years.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hub Walker of Robert Lee. He was born and reared at Robert Lee and is known over Coke county and is a young ranchman and farmer. He has many friends who will wish for him and his bride bon voyage on the seas of life.

A PACKAGE OF CHRISTMAS LETTERS

They are just a package of Christmas letters—
Yet, they are most priceless to me;
For, in them are life's most golden treasures,
Without which I cannot afford to be.

They have come almost from everywhere—
From dear friends, both old and new;
They bring to me the senders happiest greetings,
And pledges again of deepest friendship true.

I have read them over and over again,
This dismal, cloudy, rainy Christmas Day,
For, they bring to me gladness and sunshine golden,
And will bless my heart all along life's fitful way.

They have come from those in every station in life,
Both these of high estate and of more modest place,
But, as to their depth of meaning, there's no difference,
For, each Greeting brings happy smiles to my face.

So, I will bind the package of Greetings,
With a silken cord, and put them away,
And in my heart their messages I will treasure,
As memories shall recur of this Christmas Day.

And, to you, dear friends, here and there,
Wherever your lots may hereafter be cast,
I pledge you again, at this gladsome time,
Your places in my heart are sure and steadfast.

And through the long, coming years,
The gladsome Greetings you have sent today,
I will cherish them, each and all, in memory,
As I go on, along life's changing way.

JOHNSON-SIMPSON

An early Christmas wedding The Enterprise failed to chronicle last week was that of Mr. Sewell Johnson and Miss Gladys Simpson, both of Bronte, which was solemnized at the home of Judge and Mrs. H. M. Robinson, three miles north of Bronte, Saturday night, December 17, 1938, Justice Robinson officiating.

These two young people are two of the fine young people of the Bronte section of country and come from two of the old time families here. The Enterprise wishes them every blessing in life.

LAMBERT-CLIBURNE

At highnoon, Sunday, December 25, 1938, at the home of the bride's parents, at Hawley, Texas, Mr. Robert Lambert of Bronte and Miss Mildred Cliburne of Hawley, were united in marriage.

The bride has been a teacher in the Bronte schools for some years and has by her good graces made friends of all with whom she is associated—she is one of the most popular teachers of the schools.

The groom was born and reared here and is one of Bronte's leading young men. He is in charge of the sales department of the Cumbie & Company Red & White store, which position he has held for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert arrived in Bronte Wednesday afternoon and are domiciled at the new Clitus Smith cottage just erected. Mrs. Lambert will continue her work of teaching in the Brontes schools.

MRS. GOLDEN HENSLEY HANGS SELF AT HOME

Sorrow filled many hearts of the friends of Mrs. Golden Hensley of Mertzon and family, when the news came Tuesday that she had hanged herself at the family home, near Mertzon, that day.

Deceased had been in bad health for more than a year is believed to be the cause of her rash act.

The body was brought to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brunson, five miles south of Bronte, Tuesday afternoon, where it lay in state till 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, then the body was carried to the Bronte Church of Christ, and religious services were held, following which the body was put away in Fairview cemetery.

Religious services were conducted by Elder J. P. Crenshaw, minister of the Sweetwater Church of Christ, assisted, at request of the family, by the writee.

The writer spoke as a friend concerning the priceless value of the friendships, especially in the friendships of life, especially in the hours of sorrow.

Elder Crenshaw spoke tenderly and helpfully along the line of getting helpful benefit from every experience in life. The church choir sang the hymns of the church. A large

THE ENTERPRISE LATE THIS WEEK

This last issue of "the old home town" paper for the old year will reach its readers a day late, due to the fact that the typesetting machine became slightly disabled and delayed—then the editor became "disabled" from illness and was not able to work for a time. We regret the delay and promise that it shall not happen again this year. Selah!

Because of the above circumstances the paper is not only late but we also had to omit some local news as well as some advertising in the way of New Year Greetings of several of The Enterprise advertisers. But, next week being the first issue of the New Year those greetings can appear appropriately in that issue and will appear at that time. Read the Greetings of our advertisers, in both this issue and the issue of next week.

County when a small child living there until 1924. She came to Coke County where she met and married Golden Hensley. To this union two children were born—Alyene, age 13, and Golden Jr., age 11.

Deceased is survived by her two children and her husband, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brunson, four brothers and five sisters, all of whom are present. They are Otis Brunson, Bronte, Neely Brunson, Norton, Woodrow Brunson, Bronte, D. L. Brunson San Angelo; Mrs. L. Bevers, Abilene, Mrs. Clarence Richardson, Abilene, Mrs. Floyd Bagwell, Hayrick and Corine and Catharine Brunson, Bronte; other relatives present are Mrs. A. G. Bunton, Mrs. Claude Miller, Mrs. Dock Spurrier, Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. Richard Whetstone, Mrs. Mattie Tatum, and other relatives."

To the sorrowing The Enterprise extends deepest sympathy in this hour.

G. A. Best underwent an operation at a Winters hospital Wednesday. The last report was that he was suffering considerably. We express the hope that this old time friend may soon be himself again.

C. E. BRUTON ENGAGES IN GRINDING FEED FOR THE GENERAL PUBLIC

C. E. Bruton, one of the forward-looking and progressive men of Bronte, has launched into a new business—that of grinding feed for the general public.

Feed grinding is something for some time by the ranchmen and farmers. Ground feed is that has been very much needed so much superior to feed that is not ground.

Mr. Bruton has mounted his new feed grinder on a four-wheel trailer and has it hitched to his truck. Therefore, he goes out to the ranches and farms wherever he is wanted to grind feed, and grinds the feed right at home for the feed consumer. This is, indeed, a great convenience to the ranchmen and farmers—for, hauling feed away to the mills to be ground is quite an inconvenient task.

All one has to do, who wants feed ground is to contact Mr. Bruton and make arrangements and Mr. Bruton goes right to the feed lots and grinds all the feed the man may want.

Read Mr. Bruton's announcement in this issue of The Enterprise with reference to feed grinding and see him if interested in having feed ground.
