WINTERS FFA STOCK AND POULTRY SHOW IMPORTANT EVENT; THE TOWN INVITES EVERYBODY TO COME

The flags of welcome are unfurled to the breeze in Winters this morning—and there is a reason. The Winters FFA Livestock and Poultry Show is scheduled for today and tomorrow. And as that town always does, the whole populace are in unison and working together to make it a really worthwhile show.

The Winters FFA boys are wide awake and are at work at their job. They have some really fine livestock and poultry. J. M. Williams, vocational agriculture teacher in the Winters schools, is directing the big event.

The poultry show is open to all and many breeders have signified their intention of entering.

There has been provided a fund of $200 with which to give awards in the various divisions of the show. There will be exhibits of both livestock and poultry that will be well worth the time of anyone to see. The livestock show will be held only on Saturday.

Winters always does whatever it undertakes in a really worthwhile way and the two days show is going to be no exception. Quite a few of the progressive business firms of Winters have their special invitations in this issue of The Enterprise to everybody in the circulation territory of The Enterprise to attend the show and to visit the respective places of business of Winters. Read the invitations and remember those whose invitations appear in our columns—they really want you to come to the show and to visit their places when in that city.

Local Baptists

Call Reverend J. E. Eldridge As Pastor

The congregation of the Bronte Baptist church in conference Sunday, following Sunday school, went into the call of a pastor, which resulted in the call of Rev. J. E. Eldridge of Flomot as pastor.

Leaders of the congregation have been casting about for some months for a pastor to lead the church. During the time the church has been pastorless, Rev. A. V. Bradley resigned in the late summer to enter Howard Payne at Brownwood, since which time the congregation has been without a leader. Quite a few ministers have filled the pulpit during the time by invitation of the congregation, but table to the congregation found a satisfactory pastorate before the local congregation could call him to serve.

On a recent Sunday Rev. Eldridge filled the pulpit and his sermons were highly pleasing to the congregation, hence the church was called in conference as above set out and the call extended to Rev. Eldridge. The congregation at this time is not advised as to whether or not Rev. Eldridge will accept the call. The church leaders are hopeful and anxious that he will.

The above was set in type for last week's issue, but we delayed printing same, waiting for the congregation to have an answer from Rev. Eldridge as to his acceptance or rejection of the call. But such information was not received in time for the item to appear last week—hence it is printed this week.

Rev. Eldridge has notified the congregation of his acceptance of the call and that he will be here last of the week and will fill the pulpit Sunday morning.

COKE SONG MEET

There will be a called session of the Coke County Singing Convention at Wild Cat, Sunday afternoon, February 26, according to information furnished by E. A. Burgess of Robert Lee, president of the organization. The regular session at Robert Lee, for January was postponed on account of small pox. Let everybody who is interested take notice as to the above called session.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S PROGRAM SUNDAY

The young people of the local Methodist church will observe Young People's Day Sunday by giving a special program at the 11 o'clock hour. The program will include special musical numbers and talks all by the young people themselves.

There will also be special music for the church school when H. O. Whitt leads devotional, and at the evening church service. The pastor will preach at the evening service which begins at 7:30. Our evening services are growing. There are reasons for this. Come and see.

C. R. Hardy, Pastor

ROBERT LEE'S FIRST ALL-STAR BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT

Robert Lee's first all-star basket ball tournament will be held next week—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 21, 22, 23.

All games of this tournament will be played at night, and approximately $100 in trophies will be given away.

Teams from San Angelo, Sterling City, Bronte, Blackwell, Divide, Maverick, Norton, Robert Lee, and possibly other teams will enter. A great time is anticipated by those interested in the tournament.

YOUR OLD CLOTHING IS NEEDED

The Community Service Club wants all of the old clothing you have tucked away somewhere that you will never use yourself.

You probably have shoes the children have outgrown, old suits, dresses or other clothing that has good wear or good material in them yet. The club wants to help put that to good use.

Before you forget it, won't you please gather up what you have and bring it to the Home Motor Company or Modgling's Grocery Store. Or if you cannot bring it, telephone 26 and someone will call at your home for it.

All clothing will be placed where it is needed with the cooperation of the regular relief Committee.

Club Luncheon And Business Was Program

Luncheon and business were the two things that made the semi-monthly meeting of the Community Service Club interesting from first to the last, when it met Wednesday. The luncheon was at the Gilbert Cafe and as usual this cafe fed the guests most happily.

H. O. Whitt, president of the club, presided and put business before the body readily and with good order.

The committees practically all made good reports. Some of the more important reports were as follows:

C. H. Wilkins, chairman of the agriculture and livestock committee, reported that the prospect for a creamery was not yet so encouraging, but a hatchery was available with proper cooperation. He also reported that a jack for breeding purposes had been secured and more attention would be given to breeding.

Frank Keeney on beautification reported that the Women's Progressive Club has joined with the Community Service Club committee and he expected some real beautification work to be accomplished in the immediate future. The work now of beautifying Fairview cemetery was under way. In this connection Floyd Bridges brought a report that work was developing for the beautification of the school campus.

Prof. J. T. Henry brought a report as to the Bronte FFA stock show which will be held March 1. A large number of exhibits of yearlings and hogs will be exhibited this year. Prof. Henry was enthusiastic as to the prospects for one of the best shows the FFA boys of Bronte have ever held. A motion carried enthusiastically that the business houses of Bronte be requested to close from 12 o'clock to 3 o'clock that day, so that the business men and their clerks may attend the show.

Mayor R. E. Cumbie spoke with reference to keeping the town clean and sanitary and always presenting a beautiful appearance. He suggested that every business house clean the streets each morning in front of their respective places of business. In this connection Mayor Cumbie spoke with reference to the practice of some of throwing trash and other garbage on the highways just out from town. Mayor Cumbie stated and requested The Enterprise to give emphasis that if anyone caught parties in the act of throwing trash and rubbish on the highways to report same to the city council and fines would be imposed to the limit. Let everybody take fair warning and not be guilty of this—for, if you are, and you are caught it means the penalties of the law will be assessed against you.

It was decided that on each Thursday night following the luncheon, which is the first and third Wednesdays, a volley ball contest will be held at the school gymnasium. It is insisted that everyone attend this evening of fun and entertainment who can, and thus develop the recreational life of Bronte.

There being no further business, everybody "being full," they put on their hats and went home.

friends, will eventually make it all right. Congratulations and life's very happiest and best for Miss Jo Alice.

Mrs. Earl Ivey Dies Unexpectedly

It was shocking to the members of the family and their friends when Mrs. Earl Ivey died at the family home Friday night so unexpectedly.

Deceased became ill Friday. Calling her daughter and requesting an aspirin tablet she took it seeking relief. She passed somewhat into a stupor and when her husband came home he sought to awaken her and she could hardly be brought to consciousness. She finally came to consciousness sufficient to state that she had taken an aspirin to relieve her suffering. The doctor was called and all possible was done but no relief could be had, and about ten o'clock she passed away. She died from paralysis due to kidney trouble.

When her condition was recognized as serious, loved ones and friends were advised and all came to do whatever was possible, but it was all in vain and death relieved the sufferer.

Religious services were held Saturday afternoon at the Baptist church and interment followed in Fairview. The religious services were conducted by Rev. Elkins, pastor of the Baptist church at Nolan, assisted by Rev. C. R. Hardy, pastor of the Bronte Methodist church.

Bessie Hammond was born at Burnet, Texas, February 12, 1895, making her to lack only one day of being 44 years old when death took her from the walks of life.

December 28, 1914, deceased and Earl Ivey were united in marriage at Lampasas, Texas. Immediately after their marriage they came to Bronte to make their home and have resided here since that time. To them four children were born, all of whom, with their father survive, to sorrow over the death of mother. The children are Mrs. Helena Glenn, E. H. Ivey, Glenn Ivey and Ora Myrtle Ivey, all of Bronte.

Deceased possessed faith in Christ and united with the Baptist church at Burnet when she was 17 years old and had been a member of the church since that time, her membership at death being in the Bronte Baptist church.

A woman of devoted Christian life, faithful to her husband and children and home, and a friend to all, she will be missed by all in the circles in which she moved. The husband and children have the sympathy of all in their sorrow in which The Enterprise joins.

Browning's Store Opening Sale Starts Today

It's a beauty—it's really and truly "up-town stuff"—it would do credit to even the larger cities. We are speaking of Bronte's new general merchandise store—Browning's Store.

A few weeks ago The Enterprise carried the announcement that Brooks Browning had bought the general merchandise business of T. C. Price & Co., and that Mr. Browning had closed the doors of the business for an indefinite time in order to remodel and make beautiful and attractive the building, both the interior and the exterior.

And Mr. Browning has done all that he stated he would, as to remodeling and beautifying the building—it does not seem possible with all its modern rearranging, the installation of modern fixtures and so forth that it could be the same place.

Mr. Browning has not only remodeled and made beautiful the building both inside and outside, but he has put on display a stock of new and up-to-the-minute merchandise.

The most city like thing Mr. Browning has done, however, and that puts him in the lead in Bronte as a modern store, is the large 12-foot neon sign that hangs so illuminatingly over the front of his building—it will be worth the trip of anyone to town after nightfall just to see this large, modern and beautiful electric sign.

Browning's store carries a page announcement of its two days opening sale, which starts this Friday morning and runs through to tomorrow night. Read the announcement. The prices speak for themselves. Mr. Browning and his large force of clerks invite you to visit them during this Big Two Days Opening Sale. Browning want to meet you, if he has not done so already. Mr. Browning is no "new comer"—he is just another old Bronte boy who has "got his kitten eyes open," and has returned to "the old home town" for keeps.

Indeed, the modern appearance of the Browning Store is another milestone in the progress of Bronte's business interests, and if the Browning store is an omen of the coming days of Bronte's progress and development in its business life, then the old home town has an immediate future that is rosey.

Welcome to Browning's Store as one of the business institutions of Bronte.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wade Reese at the home of Mrs. Reese's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knierim, in Bronte, Monday, February 13, 1939, a fine bouncing nine pound baby boy, who has been christened Richard Wayne. We wish for this fine young man that he may always sail under lucky stars as he starts on his conquest of heart smashing through life. May the dreams of loved ones for him be dreams that shall always come true.

PROSPERITY THAT HOME-LIVING PRODUCES

"Last October, Hallettsville—progressive and flourishing Lavaca County seat—celebrated its 100 years' history with pageants, religious and patriotic ceremonies, oratory, music, dancing, rodeo and athletics contests. On that occasion Hallettsville received congratulations from many sister-cities, and public officials, businessmen and other Texas civic leaders went there to felicitate it in person. Again last week—as it had been accustomed to do for many years past—the community marked another prosperous twelve-month.

"Explanation is that the community—from its beginnings a century ago—has applied self-help principles. * * * When the boll-weevil came and seriously damaged a thriving cotton industry, the Hallettsville area pioneered. It turned to growing tomatoes, sweet potatoes and other truck; to turkey-raising, egg-production and dairy farming. That record explains why the Chamber of Commerce, at its annual banquet lately, could point to a satisfactory community income derived not mainly from cotton, but from butter, and eggs, chickens and turkeys, pecans and peanuts, tomatoes and yams. The total farmer earnings for the year and the aggregate bank-deposits today alike exceed a million dollars."

—San Antonio Express.

The above is reproduced for two reasons: First, the fine situation set out with reference to Hallettsville's prosperity and how it was brought about through diversification, should be a stimulus and furnish light to the Community Service Club in its laudable undertaking to promote the financial improvement of Bronteland. Second: Hallettsville is "the old home town" of the "Missus editor"—she's Scotch Irish, and that is sufficient for all to know, that one big reason for printing same, is because she said for it to be printed.

FORMER COKE COUNTY TEACHER BUILDS AN ARKANSAS SCHOOL

The Enterprise is in receipt of a marked copy of The Greene County Citizen, a weekly newspaper published at Paragould, Arkansas. The marked article is a leading front page item giving the news of a fine, modern school building having just been completed for the Lakeview school, a school near to Paragould, and stating that Prof. B. M. Gramling is the successful, progressive superintendent of the Lakeview school.

According to the news item, the new building cost $32,000 and is a twelve room structure. It is four miles east of Paragould, on a paved highway. It is on a campus of six and a half acres and is a beautiful yellow brick veneer structure. The school has an enrollment of 724 scholastics and the building is equipped with all modern conveniences.

The article gives praise to Superintendent Gramling for the fine building that has just been completed and for the wonderful school interest that has been developed in the Lakeview school.

Prof. Gramling was at one time a teacher in the Coke county schools, being for a number of years superintendent of the Robert Lee schools.

JUDGES FOR THE 8TH ANNUAL SAN ANGELO
 STOCK SHOW SELECTED

To The Enterprise:

San Angelo, Texas, February 8.—Judges for the various divisions of the 8th annual San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo, March 3-6, have been obtained, Culberson Deal, show manager, has announced. Deal says that each one is a recognized authority in his particular line and that authorities are confident they have secured the best for the important event here.

Foremost of the judges will be S. R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska, and now president of the American Hereford Breeders' Association. McKelvie, who runs 500 purebred Herefords on his ranch near Lincoln, Nebraska is to judge the men's Hereford breeding show. He has attended the show on previous occasions but never has served as a judge here.

Two other judges are P. E. Neale and John H. Knox, both from New Mexico State College at Las Cruces, N. M. Neale is to judge the men's Rambouillet breeding division and Knox the boy's baby beef show.

John H. Jones of Texas A. & M. College, College Station, is to judge the boys' fat lambs and E. J. Hughes, soil conservation expert here, the men's Delaine breeding sheep.

Rounding out the list of judges for livestock will be H. A. Fitzhugh, Bexar County farm agent from San Antonio. He will judge boys' breeding sheep. Fitzhugh was coach of the boys' judging team from Menard, Texas, which won first place in the national contest in Chicago last fall. He formerly served as Menard County agent and previously was vocational agricul-

Cotton Seed Meal And Salt

Dr. Broughton is very much against the feeding of a mixture of salt and cotton seed meal in self feeders. He states that there is a danger of the animals getting too much salt and bringing about salt poisoning if the animal ate enough of the meal to do them any good.

Judge of the colt show, a new feature of the exposition, will be Gen. Henry G. Whiteside, retired, of Winchester, Kentucky.
