Bronte Teachers Are Elected For The Next Year

The board of trustees of the Bronte schools met in session Thursday night and elected teachers for the 1939-1940 session.

Bob B. Covey had already been elected to succeed himself as superintendent. He was unanimously and enthusiastically elected by the board to his position with a two year contract.

The teachers elected Thursday night, have not yet been made assignments, but it is likely each one will continue in the position each teacher had this session. W. W. Mullens, Principal.

J. T. Henry, vocational agriculture.

Mrs. Mary Marie Wilson, home economics.

John H. Hamblen.

Miss Nell Lowry, primary.

Mrs. Geo. Thomas.

Miss Novis Whitaker.

Mrs. Mildred Lambert.

Mrs. Janie Hull.

Miss Lucy Warner.

Miss Joan Vanderford.

Miss Juanita Mings.

There is yet one other teacher to be elected, provided the scholastic census when finished shows the required number of scholastics to make it possible to have the additional teacher. There are 16 teachers this year, and will be the same number next year, if the scholastic population makes it possible.

Bronte Bakery Is Located In New Quarters

The Bronte Bakery has moved this week into a new location. It is now in the old City Cafe building, next to Caperton & Ivey service station. It was in the building next to Keeney's variety store, where it had been for several years, across the street from its present location.

B. F. Gilreath, owner of the bakery, stated to The Enterprise that he did not know yet just what the name of his business now would be, nor the extent he would enter business—whether he would add a cafe for the present or not, but did not

No Preaching At Methodist Church Sunday

Rev. C. R. Hardy, pastor of the Bronte Methodist church, wired The Enterprise from San Antonio Monday, stating that there would be no preaching services at the Methodist church, Sunday, either morning or evening.

Rev. Hardy went to San Antonio to be with Mrs. Hardy who has been ill and it is presumed that Mrs. Hardy's condition is such that Rev. Hardy could not return.

But let all take notice that the Sunday school will be held at the usual hour and all are urged to be in their places.

The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. Hardy will join in the good wish that Mrs. Hardy may speedily recover her accustomed health.

J. C. Duncan and family from Mt. Calm were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Ott. Mr. Duncan is a son of Mrs. Ott.

Jubilee Celebration Of Coke County Held Sunday

The citizens of Coke county—the old time citizens as well as the citizens who have not resided in the county so long, joined in a golden jubilee celebration of the county's organic existence at Sanco Sunday.

And it was really a most pleasant affair from the beginning of the program until the final benediction was pronounced in the late afternoon.

The setting of the place for the golden jubilee celebration was both historic and romantic, for much of the pioneer history of the county, far as the first immigrants are concerned, is associated with Sanco and Yellow Wolf creek which flows hard by this little, but beautiful and sequestered village. The tabernacle in which the gathering met is on the banks of the Yellow Wolf, and the little village and its tabernacle nestle in the creek valley, with the blue-capped mountains almost surrounding county for many years before moving away, brought a message of greetings and a eulogy to the hardihood of the pioneers and the present splendid citizenship in Coke county.

Ira M. Bird of Robert Lee, as a young man, brought a wonderfully interesting message on "The Years Ahead." Mr. Bird, as a young man, proved himself an orator with a masterful flow of language with which to depict his imagery as he walked across the years to come and with the paint brush of words painted the picture of "The Years Ahead."

Ulmer Bird, born and reared at Sanco but now editor of The Abilene Times, was master of ceremonies and carried the program of the day right along without a hitch anywhere.

As the sun was fast setting Sunday afternoon, the benediction, pronounced, the pioneers and the many others of the large gathering, said goodbye and turned their faces towards their homes—all wondering and dreaming as to what the next fifty years of the county will mean.

SANTA FE CLOCK INSPECTOR HERE

L. A. Taylor, headquarters at Topeka, Kansas, clock inspector for the Santa Fe railroad, was in Bronte Monday morning and gave the Santa Fe clock at the local Santa Fe station a thorough going over and cleanup. Nothing is more essential to a railroad than correct timepieces. Therefore, the Santa Fe railroad has every clock on its system inspected and repaired every fifteen months—a little item of expense within itself, isn't it?

S. Bullard a guest, and the hostess.

Mrs. J. Q. Hanna had as her guest this week Mrs. M. B. Mahaffey of San Angelo. This is Mrs. Mahaffey's first visit in Blackwell in 40 years. She taught her first school at Boozier Creek school house in 1885. She has taught 30 terms of school. Her father, Mr. L. L. Brumbley died at Bronte in 1921.

Mrs. Roy Sanderson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raney attended the funeral of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Glass of Sterling City.

Miss Jewell Dickson accompanied the Blackwell Junior and Senior classes on a trip to San Antonio and Austin, last week. Everyone reported a wonderful time.

the town, in the distance. There were more than 50 of the pioneers—those who were here when the county was organized in 1880. Some of them have now grown old and came into the meeting on their crutches while others were assisted to places in the seats of honor reserved for the pioneers. The morning hours were taken up in religious services and a message from Mrs. E. P. Mead of Abilene, who has just returned from Palestine. It is said that her message gripped the hearts of her auditors from the first to the last sentence.

At noon an old-fashioned lunch was spread picnic style and the old pioneers and the many hundreds of others enjoyed a hospitality that was never surpassed, which is the standard always of Coke county people, regarding hospitality.

In the afternoon the Robert Lee quartette supplied most of the music, singing appropriate songs. Each of the pioneers who had seats in the place of honor was called upon to speak briefly. Many humorous incidents of the pioneer days were told, while some were pathetic and provoked tears in the eyes of the great numbers in attendance. Judge McNeil Wylie at the outset of the afternoon program brought greetings in his usual happy style to the pioneers. At the close of his address Judge Wylie asked the audience to join in a tribute to the memory of the pioneers who have passed on, by closed eyes and perfect silence for a moment.

Judge D. I. Durham, also, in his characteristically happy way spoke briefly. Judge Durham having been a resident of Coke

MARRIED

H. A. Turner surprised his parents and friends by "showing up" here on the early Sunday morning bus, with a fine young lady with him, whom he introduced as his wife.

Mr. Turner and Miss Violet Osborne of Lamesa were married Saturday afternoon, April 22, 1939, at Lamesa, which is the home of the bride.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Turner is the culmination of a romance that began last year at the CCC Camp at Lamesa where Mr. Turner was an enrollee.

The Enterprise wishes these young people all the blessings of wedded life.

Fred McDonald who has been seriously ill in a Winters hospital is now improving and it is thought will soon be himself again.
