More Happy Echoes Of Our Progress Edition

Happy words of congratulations continue to come to us with reference to our Anniversary Edition issued two weeks ago.

Among our fellow editors who "tossed bouquets," we saw the following. Thanks to you, brother editors for the kindly words, for we have read that "a kind word doeth good like a medicine."

The Bronte Enterprise issued an 18-page progress and prosperity edition last week. The occasion was the 50th anniversary of Coke county and many interesting tales of pioneer days were printed. Advertising patronage was generous and with a large number of cuts the paper was interesting and brought much favorable comment. —Ballinger Ledger.

The little city of Bronte occupies a unique position in the family of West Texas towns, and in Coke County. So unique is Editor D. M. West's place in the journalistic world, that he placed in the mails last week, a crackerjack two-section Special Issue depicting the Progress and Prosperity of his county. Mr. West, it was a good representation of your fine town and county and proves that a good town and a good editor can produce evidences of prosperity and push. If there was a single business in Bronte left out one could not tell it, by the numerous advertisements. It takes everybody in a community to produce a good paper. Congratulations, Mr. West.—Hamlin Herald.

HAVE DELIGHTFUL TRIP

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Leonard returned Tuesday night from a delightful trip to several points.

Primarily they went to Austin, to be present at the graduation of their son, Dwain, who graduated in the school of pharmacy of the University of Texas, Monday night.

Leaving Austin Dr. and Mrs. Leonard went to San Antonio and saw many of the historic places of that interesting city. They returned by the way of Georgetown and the Buchanan Dam and saw some of the old places of the old home community of Mrs. Leonard's father's boyhood days, W. W. Lockhart.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonard had a most delightful trip.

"Juicy" Letters About Coke Co. Watermelons

My Dear Mr. Elo:

I am sending you by our mutual friend, Mr. O. L. Huddleston, a Coke county watermelon.

I am sending the melon for two reasons: First, it is an expression, in a small way, of my personal appreciation of you and the friendship I bear you because of the fine and happy relations between us in a business way, through the many years we have sustained business relations. As publicity director of the West Texas Utilities Company, in which relation you have supplied my publication, as well

SSCL Hearing At Ballinger September 1

There was a public hearing held in Miles, Texas August 18, 1939, for the purpose of obtaining information in regards to creating a Soil Conservation District, under the State Soil Conservation Law. This proposed District includes the Eastern one-fourth of Coke County or all land in Coke County which is drained by the Kickapoo, and Live Oak Creeks, and on East to the County line. Because further information must be obtained, this hearing was adjourned and another hearing has been called. This hearing is to be held in Ballinger, Texas Friday evening 8:00 p. m., September 1, 1939.

It is very important that all land owners who own land which is drained by Cow Creek on the North, and Buffalo Creek on the South of the Colorado River, and any land East of these two creeks should attend this hearing to express their feelings in regards to creating such a District.

This question is of vital importance to land owners in this section of Coke county, so attend this hearing and express your sentiments either for or against the proposed district. The State Board will be governed by the action of the people in this matter. If the district is formed and this part of Coke County is excluded, and you favored being

When the above picture of Miss Swanson was taken, the three large melons at her side weighed respectively 57, 63 and 65 pounds. Her father is one of the successful melon growers of Coke county, while Miss Swanson is one of Coke county's beautiful young women.

We assured the genial publicity director of the Utilities Company that the best advertising after all is "the product" itself and told him we would send him one of Coke's average (?) melons so that he could and would know that "truth in advertising" is the thing for which our publication stands. Therefore, we sent Mr. Elo a melon with the following letter of "statement of facts," explanations, etc. The melon was grown by E. B. Fletcher, who is one of the successful melon growers of the Bronte section of country:

And your uniformly kind and courteous treatment in our business relations has bound you to me until I have for a long time held you in high personal esteem. If ever you have had occasion to feel you would be justifiable in criticizing the advertising service we have rendered you, your patience has been beautiful to the extent that you have never been severe in critical remarks but rather you have always withheld such remarks. So, in the language of the Westerner, we like you "purty dern well."

Second, I want to convince you, if possible, that there is at least one "truthful" newspaper in the district, you can blame no one but yourself, if you do not attend the hearing.

Under the States Soil Conservation Law, the action of the landowners govern the action of the State Board, and the wishes of the majority are complied with. Nothing good comes to those who sit and wait, however, something bad may show up at any time. Now is the time to act, be at this hearing.

STOP AND THINK

As time rolls on and days go by,
We never stop to think, Now please tell me why?
Because we all know, that it's got to end
But still we go on living in sin.

If there wasn't a devil, and all his temptation,
What wonderful people we would have in this nation.
For us, dear friends, our Jesus died,
And made some rules from which we must abide.

There are so many of us, from day to day,
Who may lose our faith and cease to pray,
We may ask God for something, some night in our prayer,
And wake up expecting it to be lying there.

It's like growing up, it can't be done in a day,
Please remember that when you start to pray,
And if you fail, just pray again,
Have faith in God, You will be sure to win.

Coke County Exhibits, Midwest Exposition

Coke county is to have an active part in the Midwest Exposition at Sweetwater again this year, it has been revealed by Austin Jordan of Blackwell, president of the fair association. Dates for the 1939 Exposition are October 24-28, inclusive.

An invitation is to be extended County Agent Smith to enter an attractive 4-H Club exhibit, as he did last year. Residents of Coke county are urged to participate in other phases of the fair, Mr. Jordan said.

Attractive cash prizes are to be awarded the winners of first, second and third places in an Old Fiddler's contest on opening night of the Exposition. Cash prizes in like amounts are to be awarded winners of first, second and third places in a Jitterbug contest. Both are open to residents only of Coke, Runnels, Taylor, Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Mitchell and Nolan counties. Exhibits in the 4-H Club boys, girls and women, F.F.A. boys, Hereford and Jersey cattle, sheep and goats, poultry, and quilt departments are expected to excel those of last year, the president explained. The premium catalogue has already been turned over to the printer and 3,000 of them will be ready for distribution next week.

T. J. Tidwell carnival shows and rides will be in the Exposition midway when the fair opens October 24. This company, which winters at Sweetwater, is one of the largest carnival attractions traveling the Southwest.

As last year, there will be no charge to view the exhibits in all departments. A small parking fee is to be charged for protection of cars actually parked on fair property, President Jordan said, but plenty of free parking room is available south of the Exposition grounds.

A "mystery wedding" on one of the nights, when a young couple from the Sweetwater section is to be married in a public ceremony, and appearance of the Light Crust Doughboys will be two of the entertainment features.

approximately $50 per acre. Accept this melon in the spirit in which it is sent. And I trust that you and those who may relish the melon with you shall enjoy its delicious esculence.

Mr. Fletcher desires the seed from this melon for planting purposes—therefore, if it is not too much trouble to you, I will greatly appreciate your saving the seed and sending me at your convenience.

With every personal good wish for you always, I am,
Sincerely yours,
D. M. West.

And after the recipient of the melon we had sent, had "stuffed his maw," it seems, to the last limit, he sat down to his typewriter and "jerked off" the following reply to us:
Dear Mr. West:

All my friends up at the Abilene Reporter-News join me in sending thanks for the wonderful watermelon, including Frank Grimes who recalled that he used to work for you quite a long while ago. It was positively the best watermelon any of us had ever tasted and we unanimously voted a resolution that Coke County has usurped Parker County's title to the champion watermelon grower of Texas. If they grow any larger or any better-tasting, as you claim, I am willing to take your word for it. You most certainly proved all you told me about Coke County melons and I concede the truthfulness of any statement you might make as regards the melons.

The melon you sent me, and Doc Huddleston was kind enough to relay on up here from Ballinger, weighed 71 1-2 lbs. It served 12 people generous slices (some of them two) and we still have one-fourth of the melon left. Tell Mr. Fletcher I am going to send back most of the seeds. However, Mr. Grimes, Howard McMahon, and Wendell Bedichek all wanted enough to plant a vine or two. Also tell Mr. Fletcher we congratulate him on his watermelon-growing ability and in the future intend to ask for the "Fletcher Tasty

Thanks to you Mr. Elo. We are pleased that you and that newspaper "gang" had a feast, and we sincerely and deeply appreciate the kindly personal references.

And there is just one question,

C. C. Glenn Celebrates 20th Year As Gin Man

C. C. Glenn, the Norton gin man, is somewhat an "old timer" himself when it comes to point of years of service.

Twenty years ago Mr. Glenn entered the gin business at Norton and through two decades he has served the cotton farmers of Norton splendidly. Mr. Glenn is not only a thoroughly trained and experienced gin man, but he is absolutely reliable in all his dealings with the public. Therefore, he has established for himself at Norton a reputation for fair dealings and good work as a gin man that is worth more than any amount of money he has realized from his work as a gin man.

Mr. Glenn is celebrating his 20th year as Norton's gin man and he is doing it in a substantial way. Under the new arrangements of today's methods of business, farmers have more than one cotton market. They can haul their cotton by truck to any market they may wish. Mr. Glenn is allowing each farmer who gins with him 50 cents a bale as drayage and the owner of the cotton can take his cotton to any market he may choose. If he wishes to sell in Norton, he gets the 50 cents as drayage fees just the same. If he wishes to take his cotton to any other market he can do so and the 50 cents Mr. Glenn allows as drayage pays for the hauling.

A fine plan and congratulations to both the cotton farmers of Norton and to Mr. Glenn. And also congratulations to Mr. Glenn on his 20th anniversary—many happy returns of the year to you, Mr. Glenn.

and that is not "How old is Ann?" But it is: How old is Frank Grimes? Yes, he worked for us "quite a long while ago" and we thought he was old then.

My 20th Anniversary

IN THE GIN BUSINESS IN NORTON

It is a matter of great satisfaction to me that during my 20 years inginning for the good people of the Norton trade territory, I have always worked in perfect harmony with our people in all community affairs—for, the interests of Norton and the Norton section of country, of course, are my interests—when you prosper, I prosper with you.

My Policy Has Been Cooperative

I have always had no policy except that of cooperating with Norton business interests, and all other movements for the good of Norton and the Norton country.

My Policy Continued

And in celebrating my 20th year as your gin man, I am going to do a liberal thing: Every time you gin a bale with me, I will allow you 50 cents as drayage fees, and you can sell your cotton anywhere you please—sell at Norton, Winters, Ballinger, Bronte, or anywhere else. So bring on your cotton, and sell where you want to.

My Business Slogan

For these 20 years my business slogan has been: "I strive to deserve your business." That still is my motto.

Deeply Appreciative

I am deeply appreciative for your continued patronage through these 20 years, and so will strive harder than ever, if possible, to please you in each bale I gin for you.

"THERE'S ALWAYS A REASON WHY"

When life seems dark and dreary,
And the days are lonely and weary,
There is always a reason why,
And that reason you can find if you try—
For, everything that is, there is a way,
To find out, whether it's work or play,
How to do the things that one must do,
And never have days, except skies of blue,
Whether one works, or whether he plays,
He can always have the brightest days—
But the best thing about one's work
Is to make it play—then he doesn't want to shirk;
And this your experience surely will be,
If you do your "washing" at our Laundry.
