SHOULD THE GOVERNMENT CHANGE ITS POLICY?

(An Editorial)

It is not in the spirit of antagonism, simply for the sake of being antagonistic, does The Enterprise raise the above question relative to one of the policies of the government in administering its affairs in its relations with the citizenship of the country, as regards the question involved. We readily understand how easy it is to be critical without being constructively so—hence, criticism of any kind, concerning any matter that affects public weal, should always be of a constructive nature. And especially should that be true in these times, far as any criticisms whatever relative to the government's program and the manner in which the government administers its program.

The foregoing is only a preface to what follows relative to the government's method of administering one of its financial programs, namely, that of the government establishing all of its administrative offices only in county seat cities and towns in administering its farm program, with the farmers of the country.

As The Enterprise understands it, the policy of having administrative offices only in county seat towns does not deal fairly and justly with the non-county seat towns and the business interests of such towns, nor does it deal fairly with the farmers who are not conveniently located as to county seat towns. The method of administering its affairs only in county seat towns on the part of the government as regards the farmers who are conveniently located as to non-county seat towns, and who transact their business in non-county seat towns, makes it most inconvenient for such farmers, and compels them to make an indefinite number of trips to county seat towns for the purpose of adjusting their affairs with the government in its program. When, if the administering of the government's program could be so arranged that the farmers could deal with the government with reference to the above in the local towns and through the local banks of these farmers, it seems to The Enterprise that it would very much simplify the program of administration, and it would inure to the good of both the government as well as the farmers and business interests of each local community.

There is no question but that there is dissatisfaction with reference to the present method of the government's administering its farm program, and there is no doubt but that the present method is more expensive than if it were administered locally in each local town or community. And if the above method of administering the program, or some similar method that would relieve the farmers of the indefinite number of trips to the county seat, was adopted and leave the farmer to deal with the government through his local bank and in his home town, we feel sure that it would greatly increase the appreciation of both the farmers and the business interests of the hundreds and hundreds of non-county seat towns.

Anyhow, The Enterprise ventures the above suggestion for whatever it may be worth and we would be glad to see such a method of administration brought into vogue by the government.

BRONTE GIRL WITH HARDIN-SIMMONS BAND FOR TRIP

Miss Winnie Dean Modgling is in Abilene this week, on invitation of the instructor of the Hardin-Simmons band. Miss Modgling attended Hardin-Simmons two years, being a student there last year and the year before. While a student she was a member of the Hardin-Simmons band and became so proficient and such a capable member of the band that the instructor has found it difficult to find one to succeed her.

The band has made an engagement for next week which takes them to El Paso and into Old Mexico. Needing Miss Modgling so very much for this particular week's engagement the instructor phoned Miss Modgling, telling her how much they needed her and offered to defray her expenses for this week, while in Abilene rehearsing with the band and also next week while making the band's itinerary. Miss Modgling accepted and is rehearsing with the band trip next week, and therefore, is looking forward to a week of most interesting sightseeing.

MARRIED

Saturday evening, March 15, 1941, at the home of Rev. R. A. Howell, of Tennyson, Mr. Jack Corley and Miss Christine Van Zandt, both of Tennyson, were united in marriage, Rev. Howell officiating.

The bride is the daughter of

TRIP TO SAN ANGELO

The Homemaking II b class of Bronte went on a field trip to San Angelo to visit the Spode and Wedgewood shop owned by Miss Amie Cornick. They were given a history of the Spode and Wedgewood china by Miss Amie Cornick; also a lecture on silver and glassware after which we were allowed to go and see the exhibits in the house, which were very interesting.

The group was refreshed with coffee and cookies.

Leaving the Spode and Wedgewood shop we went to the downtown stores to investigate the prevailing styles suitable for the high school girls, shopping and sightseeing.

Those in the party were Katherine Rawlings, Billie Jean Duncan, Jo Marie Chumley, Sue Scott, Mary Dittmore, Elizabeth Baker, Louteen Cornelius, Mary Helen Clark, Mattie Belle Gibson, Jean Pruitt, Marcene Best, Lucille Gaines, Marjorie Percifull, Marjorie Kennedy, and Maurine Miller, sponsored by teacher, Mrs. Mary B. Wilson and Mrs. A. N. Rawlings and Mrs. Robert Coleman.

Mrs. H. H. Van Zandt. She is a graduate of the Bronte High school and is popular in the social circles both at Tennyson and Bronte. The bride wore a blue dress with blue accessories.

The groom is a young ranchman of the Tennyson community.

The Enterprise joins the other friends of these two happy young people in wishing them much happiness.

Dr. John L. Barron, Bronte Boy, Opens Clinic

"Mighty oaks from little acorns grow."

And the philosophies of the above philosophy were never more true, as to human achievements, than in the instance of which we here write.

Back, some time near the beginning of this century, a baby boy was born, to a man and his wife, at their farm home, in the Fort Chadbourne section of the country. The particular farm now is known as the Joe Lindley farm.

The babe in question is now Dr. John L. Barron of Winters. The babe was no unusual babe, except perhaps in one particular, and that was his persistent disposition, learning when hungry that "if at first, you don't succeed (in getting your meal) cry, cry again," and thus from the first it became a policy with this Coke county scion to "keep on keeping on," at whatever he undertook until he got results.

Growing to boyhood, this youth attended the Fort Chadbourne schools. In his studies, his outstanding characteristic of persistency had to do with his grades and passing on to higher studies.

Quite young, this lad in question decided that the study of medicine should claim his attention soon as he made sufficient study in the literary schools. Choosing to be a doctor of medicine, the young man turned his attention in that direction, taking his course of lectures getting his authority to be a doctor, he "hung out his shingle" at Wingate a fine "suburb of Bronte," and began his upward climb in his chosen profession. And he has lived and is yet living up to his first decision that of studying medicine, and, therefore, notwithstanding his remarkable achievements in his work as a physician and surgeon, he is still a most earnest student in "the study of medicine."

A few days ago in Winters, the doors of a fine modern clinic as can be found anywhere were thrown open and the public whether suffering or not, was invited to visit this wonderful place and see the marvelous extent to which modern surgery and modern science of medicine has attained. On such an invitation, the writer visited our good friend, Dr. Barron, and we confess it was an "eye opener" to us. We expected to see everything, to the last moment, in all that goes to make a modern clinic but we were not prepared

Season's First Snow, 4-inches, on March 17

West Texas "lived up to its reputation." Monday and Monday night for freakish weather.

Just at nightfall, Sunday evening, a norther struck full force. Monday the skies were grey and by nine o'clock flakes of snow began to fall. In the afternoon the snowfall became heavier. During Monday night the fall was heavier, and Tuesday morning the populace of this town awakened to look out and see "mother earth blanketed in about four inches of snow."

The snowfall was the first of the winter season. The winter has been most remarkable for its mildness and regularity of its temperature. The weather generally has been just above freezing most of the season, but not cold enough to freeze. The editor plucked roses from one of his rosebushes the 22nd of February—an unusual thing.

Damage from the snow has not been so severe, stockmen suffered but little from loss of lambs and otherwise. The snow melted off Tuesday and the "equinoctial flurry," which is always expected, has passed and it may be that springtime with all its fronding and blooming and fragrant beauty is "just around the corner."

Anyhow, things are fine in these parts, livestock of all kinds are fat, winter weeds and grass abundant, and the small grain crop is unusually fine. So, "and the band played on."

to see what we saw.

For some time Dr. Barron has been using two residences as a clinic. Recently he purchased the Tourist hotel in Winters, a building highly suited in its structure for a clinic. Building artists began the task of putting "the dreams of a Coke county boy," in the long ago, into a grand reality, in the enduring form of brick, mortar and stone. From the floor to the roof the entire building was remodeled, fashioned and finished into a structure that is "a dream of loveliness" in its architectural appointments and in the practical arrangements for a modern clinic. Candidly, it does not seem that a single thing was omitted in the matter of the utilitarian features as well as aesthetical appointments.

The building is equipped with Venetian blinds throughout, fluorescent lights, house telephones, signal lights in the upstairs hallway connect with the business office, and many other step-saving conveniences. Furniture throughout the lower floor offices and waiting room is Royal Chrome, upholstered in leather in blending colors.

In addition to the large reception room, the business office, X-ray department, laboratory, two treatment and examining rooms, and doctor's office are on the first floor. Upstairs are the minor surgery room, sterilizing room, doctor's scrub room, two treatment rooms for diathermy, E. K. G. Machine for testing the heart, basal metabolism rating machine. The other rooms are attractively furnished as living quarters for the two registered nurses.

The personnel of the clinic includes a registered technician, two registered nurses, a reception clerk and a colored helper, Eugene Johnson, who has

Service Club Honors Young Joe Rawlings

It is a matter of community pride with all well regulated communities, to give recognition to any and all of its people, either old or young, who achieve in a worthwhile way in any worthwhile endeavor.

In the above particular, Bronte it seems is a most favored community in the matter of the achievements of its boys and girls, especially those in the school age. But none has excelled Joe Rawlings, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Rawlings, who is a student in John Tarleton College at Stephenville.

Last week in the Southwest Fat Stock Show and Exposition, young Rawlings took top honors in the Junior Judging Contest, as a member of the John Tarleton college team.

The Bronte Community Service Club at its semi-monthly luncheon Wednesday took knowledge of the remarkable achievements of this Bronte boy and a committee was appointed to draft resolutions, honoring young Rawlings. L. T. Youngblood and H. O. Whitt were appointed and as a committee they submitted the following to the publicity committee of the club:

"By order of the Bronte Community Service Club, meeting in regular session on March 19th, 1941, the following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, The Bronte Community Service Club being mindful of achievement and accomplishment of our entire citizenship and particularly of our youth and,

"Whereas, Joe Rawlings has made an outstanding success in judging livestock at the Fort Worth Livestock Show, taking first place in individual judging,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that this Club, in regular session duly assembled, hasten to extend congratulations to Joe for the splendid achievement and with the wish for continued success in his work.

"Be it further resolved that this resolution be mailed to Joe Rawlings, Care John Tarleton College, Stephenville, Texas, and a copy furnished the publicity committee of the Bronte Community Service Club for the purpose of giving same local and state publicity."

HEALTH UNITS ARE ESTABLISHED IN MILITARY UNITS

Austin, Texas, March 17. Establishments of health units in areas where military troops are concentrated has been a specific responsibility of the State Health Department in the National Defense Program, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, announced.

These health units designed to maintain the health of the civilian population in areas adjacent to military reservations have regulatory public health control of all the territory within radius of five to fifteen miles from the reservations proper.

The personnel of these units, specially trained in the technique of military and public health, guard against insanitary practices in the production and distribution of milk and food supplies. Special attention is also given to water supplies and sewage disposal within the area. Housing codes have been set up to minimize hazard which might under ordinary circumstances exist. Permits are required for the construction and operation of retail establishments within the area showing the sanitary regulations have been complied with in all details. The control of the communicable diseases is the primary objective in the establishment of these public health units: The presence of military personnel within the civilian areas necessitates constant control measures to keep communicable disease under check and avert any possible epidemics inside the reservation or in the surrounding area among the non-military population.

These full-time public health units adapted to areas adjacent to military reservations have been established around Camp Bowie at Brownwood, Camp Berkeley at Abilene, Camp Wolters at Mineral Wells, and in the five-county area surrounding Camp Hulen at Palacios. Additional public health personnel has been added to the existing health unit at Corpus Christi for special work in the territory surrounding the U. S. Naval Base, and to the health unit at El Paso to serve the territory surrounding Fort Bliss.

It is anticipated that within

SEVEN INCH SNOW FALLS IN WASHINGTON

In a private letter to the editor from Congressman C. L. South, the congressman reports a 7-incher snow in the Capital city. Then the congressman seemed to be seized with nostalgia as he commented on the fine, balmy spring-like weather he was sure we are reveling in down here in dear old Texas.

But, Congressman, had you been here Sunday evening and part of the middle of the week when the thermometer was flirting with "below freezing," you would have thought "balmy, springlike!"

CLEAN CEMETERY LOTS

Frank Keeney, who has oversight of taking care of Fairview, Bronte's beautiful cemetery, requests The Enterprise to suggest that the individual owners of lots in the cemetery, see to it that the lots are now cleaned and then be kept that way, as the avenues and lanes have been put in beautiful condition.

CAUGHT A "BIG UN."

(Omitted last week)

Fishing time is here again—which, of course, means more "tall tales" about the "big un" that got away.

But, we write of the "big un" that didn't get away. Frank Keesee fished Saturday night in the Colorado river and caught a cat that weighed fifteen pounds.

Sunday afternoon, a party of invited guests of Mr. and Mrs. Keesee's friends enjoyed a fish fry, on the Kickapoo, just south of the bridge on highway 109. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Buster Hester, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Bailey Bell, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Walton and daughters, Nellie Jean Hageman and the host and hostess.

All report a most enjoyable time.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

The Santa Fe Railway System carloadings for the week ending March 15th 1941, were 18,058 compared with 17,240 for the same week in 1940. Received from connections were 7,585 compared with 5,280 for the same week in 1940. The total cars moved were 25,638 compared with 22,520 for the same week in 1940. The Santa Fe handled a total of 25,060 cars during the preceding week of this year.

In the near future several additional military health units will be established in areas of the State where military camps are in existence and in areas where ship yards, airplane factories and related defense establishments necessitate the concentration of large bodies of civilian or military population.

Patriotic colors of red and blue were used as attractive decorations for the Book Review Tea, Wednesday afternoon March 12, in Blackwell at the home of Mrs. Austin Jordan.

The Women's Society of the Christian Service of the Methodist Church entertained the Women's Missionary Union of the Baptist Church. Friendliness was well stressed in the opening by Mrs. Austin Jordan when she quoted Charles Kingsley's "I Had A Friend." The guest speaker, Mrs. Royal Headrick of Sweetwater, Texas was presented to these present as our friend and neighbor." Mrs. Headrick reviewed briefly but well, the Biography, The Life of Eleanor Roosevelt, by Ruby Black. The author of the book was a school mate of Mrs. Headrick and was in Nolan County, making the review doubly interesting.

The tea table was beautifully laid with a rich lace cloth, centered with a lovely piece made up of red, white and cellophane with a white field dotted with blue and red stars, on a base of red and blue, this was flaked by blue holder with lighted red tapers. The spacious rooms were effectively decorated with small clusters of American flags. Tea was poured by Mrs. H. C. Rainey and Mrs. W. L. Porterfield assisted by Mmes. J. W. Raney, T. J. Payne, C. J. Harris, Geo. Hartin, R. Lanier and Austin Jordan.

More than sixty guests were invited and were received at the door by Mrs. Jordan, who pinned a red white and blue, corsage on each.

The guest speaker was graciously attired in a rose dinner gown, trimmed in sequins. Mrs. Jordan wore a sea foam green, lace topped shirt waist dress, while Mrs. H. C. Raney had on an Eleanor Blue Marquisette. Mrs. Porterfield wore a soft violet crepe, Mrs. C. J. Harris a spring printed crepe, Mrs. T. J. Payne a modish dress of black, while Mrs. Geo. Hartin had on a latticed work yoke, ashes of rose crepe and Mrs. J. W. Raney wore a burgandy crepe.

Mrs. C. J. Harris presented a lovely square Fostoria vase, a gift from the committee, to the guest speaker, at the close of the book review.

Mrs. Mollie Smith, registered nurse is business manager. She has been with Dr. Barron for 10 years, and is known throughout this section as a most efficient nurse and valuable assistant to the doctor.

Miss Evelyn Russell, formerly with the Municipal Hospital, has been there for almost a year. She assists the doctor in both minor and major surgery, examinations and treatments.

So, to you, dear, good doctor friend, and personnel of your staff, across the hills and the valleys that intervene between your native county and your present home, we extend the hand of heartiest congratulations, and sincerely rejoice with you in the achievements you attained, and greater still the place of abiding confidence, you have won in the hearts of all the people of these parts as to your ability as a physician and a surgeon. May you continue to "dream dreams," and may every fond ambition in your chosen work, come to be grand realities.
