Good Rains Fall Throughout The Bronte Sector

Heavy Rains and Hail; Little Damage Reported

This has been not only "Easter week," but it also has been "rainy week."

Sunday, the elements were threatening, a small mite of misty rain fell through the day. Sunday night, however, the flood gates opened in the sector just east of Bronte and the rains came abundantly! gloriously! And all the country from Maverick to Ballinger had a heavy rain. Late Monday afternoon, the clouds came again and at nightfall, it began to rain in Bronte. Then Tuesday and Tuesday night the rain continued to come down. North of Bronte, Monday afternoon there was quite a hail storm, but far as has been reported at this time no damage of any consequence was done.

The rain has really put the country in good condition. Oats most of them, are ruined because of the continued dry weather—it is estimated by some that perhaps 25 per cent of the acreage is saved. Anyhow, the land is singing, as well as the hearts of men, now, that the rains have come in time for the other crops and a bright prospect looms ahead.

Bronte Bank Has Counterfit Penny In Its Cash Account

Yes, there really and truly is "a new thing under the sun," it is Bronte—that is, at least, it is new, far as the information of this writer goes.

The "new thing" is a counterfit penny. The other morning, the writer stepped into the First National bank, and President L. T. Youngblood was standing at the teller's window, thumping a penny on the marble desk, and was remarking, "Yes sir, it's a counterfit penny." Upon investigation, it was easily detected as to its spuriousness. It was not thick as a genuine government penny, nor was the printing on it eligible as a like genuine coin.

Where the penny came from, of course, Mr. Youngblood does not have the remotest idea. But, why anyone should waste time and effort to counterfit pennies, when he could just as easily counterfit larger denominations, is the question yet not answered—evidently, he was counterfitting simply to entertain himself and not for profit.

SELL YOUR JUNK NOW

The Morgan Wrecking Company of Ballinger have a large display on the front page of this issue of The Enterprise, asking for scrap iron, and other items as mentioned in the ad. They are paying to get this ad on the front page—the government is calling for all scrap iron that can be had. Is there a lot of this scrap iron around your place? If so, get it together at once and sell it. Read the ad and see what the Morgan Wrecking Company have to say and the prices they are offering.

Furniture Company Gives Home Week' Special Bargains

Almost every worthwhile institution throughout this land now has a day, or a week, set apart especially to emphasize its importance.

But, there is no week that means more to our American life than does the week devoted to the home—for, it is the oldest institution known to mankind. And the home is the thermometer that truly reveals the people of any period of time, and of every land. For, "as goes the home, so goes the nation." Verily, how true always, regardless as to time or country!

In our American land we have set aside a week for the home—that week for 1942 is next week—April 11 to 18. During this period of time, there is an effort throughout the whole land to get the people to turn attention to their homes, make them more inviting by making them more attractive and beautiful. The furniture and home furnishings industries of the land have joined this crusade for better homes. Therefore, many of the leading furniture houses of the land observe the week, by having sales at which they sell furniture and home furnishings at greatly reduced prices.

Among the number of far-seeing and progressive furniture concerns that are to observe this "Better Homes Week" is King-Holt Furniture Company of Ballinger. This large and widely known furniture concern is known as one of the most progressive in this part of West Texas. E. E. King, owner and manager of this modern furniture store, is always in the forefront for anything and everything that will make for better homes for the people. Therefore, this store is making special effort next week, and is offering special inducements to the people in the way of greatly reduced prices on every line in his store.

Read the King-Holt ad elsewhere in this issue—it will be well worth your while, whether or not you contemplate buying any home furnishings now—for, the sentiment it expresses is stimulating in this time of the war stricken condition of our country.

EDITOR'S OLD FRIEND HERE

W. D. Risor, an old friend of the editor, and full-fledged Texan, recently from Los Angeles, California, is with us, at least, for a few days, giving us a lift in the office, aiding us to catch up with our work. Mr. Risor is scouting for a business of his own. He knows the newspaper business and the art of modern printing, and is a genial "guy" to the last degree. Mr. Risor was with us at Snyder several months last year and rendered valuable service until he was called to Los Angeles on account of illness in his family.

First National Bank Shows Strong Financial Strength

The Enterprise carries the financial statement of the First National Bank in Bronte, in this issue, as called for by the Federal Banking Department.

The statement reveals a healthy and wholesome condition for the bank. If all the banks of the land show as strong financial status as does Bronte's bank, there is abundance of money to put the Japs and Hitler to flight, far as finances are concerned.

Dave Clendening of Fort Chadbourne has bought the lots on highway 70, just north of town, on Kickapoo creek, where the skating rink used to be and is moving his house from Chadbourne on to the lots and will make his home there.

WILLIS STUDIO AT SWEETWATER IN LOVELY NEW QUARTERS

One of the old business in Sweetwater is the Willis Studio—just how long Mr. Willis has been there, engaged in the photography business, not many folks could even begin to guess. It is well nigh on to thirty years—to be exact, it is twenty-seven years ago that Mr. and Mrs. Willis launched their business in that city. From a small beginning their business has grown until now, in their new location, just one door west of their former location, they have one of the most modern and elegant and beautiful studios the writer has ever seen.

The Willis have an announcement of their new location in this issue of The Enterprise, and an invitation to everybody to visit them and see their beautiful new place.

Congratulations to you, Mr. and Mrs. Willis, as you have now come into the realization of your dreams of a quarter of a century ago as to your studio.

TOPPER'S SHOP AT SWEETWATER, IN NEW LOCATION

The Topper's Shop of Sweetwater, one of the ladies' stores of that city, has an announcement in this issue of the change of their place of business. This fast-growing business of Sweetwater is now on the north side of the square, in the building formerly occupied by the Willis Studio.

Mrs. R. E. Morrisson is manager of this store that specializes in feminine wearables. Mrs. Morrisson knows her business, is a careful buyer and sells at close margins—therefore, the Topper's Shop has had to seek larger and better quarters. Read the announcement of the Topper's Shop and when you go to Sweetwater visit Mrs. Morrisson—she will be glad to see you.

John Warner has gone to Dallas for examination by a specialist as to his condition.

BOMBS!

... after 10 Years of Inaction

WASHINGTON is "concerned" because the country has not awakened to the danger of bombs!

And the people are concerned—nay, alarmed—because Washington has not awakened to the danger confronting the country!

For 10 years the average American has been exposed to perpetual e-motion. Each so-called "emergency" has resulted in creation of some new alphabetical bureau or agency until today he has little sympathy for the inconveniences of an over-crowded Washington.

With patience exhausted, the average citizen now is demanding something more than words, something more than cajolery to build up his morale.

He wants examples, actions, in high places.

Why, he is asking, is his money (taxes, bonds and stamps) allowed to be wasted on non-essential activities while boys in the armed forces are dying for lack of guns, ships, tanks and planes?

He ordered fighting equipment to rain bombs on the Axis!

No other country can compare with America's potential war production. No other has the men, the machines—or the electric power. America's electric companies, under trained and experienced business men, are supplying power for the vast wartime industries, in addition to your home and business, where it's needed when it's needed and in quantities greater than the combined total of all the enemy countries.

Last year they paid $510,000,000 in taxes—enough money to equip 2,400,000* soldiers . . . enough money to build 9,273* pursuit planes, 2,429* light bombardment planes, or 1,522* flying fortresses!

Here's a business built the American way—by level enterprise and public individual investment—and regulated by the government and dedicated to defending America's freedom and democracy until the last dictator has fallen.

FIRST AID FOR INFLUENZA

Influenza needs skillful watching.

INFLUENZA got its name from an Italian word that means influence, and our word "influence" takes its root from the same Italian word. The connection between influence and a very troublesome disease may seem a bit remote, but the Italian savants of that day supposed that influenza was influenced by the movement of heavenly bodies.

That explanation matches modern science in several ways. The modern experts tell us that influenza comes from a virus, which is merely a name for something we don't really know and have never seen. In fact the virus is far less predictable than the movement of the heavenly bodies, — witness sporadic and sometimes violent epidemics of influenza.

Now that winter is here it is well to give a thought to influenza. It may miss you, but it is everywhere and if one gets run down, or cold, or suffers from improper diet, it may strike. There is no mistaking its symptoms, with chills, fever and what someone has aptly called the "creeping misery."

If it comes see your doctor at once, for it is potentially dangerous. He may give you quinine, but he'll certainly keep you in bed for a few days to ward off the dreaded aftermath of so many apparently mild cases, — pneumonia.

Doctors in Europe, more than those in America, have long ago pointed out that it's better not to get influenza at all than have to go to bed to fight an attack. They have proved to their satisfaction that five grains of quinine taken every day from November to March will most likely keep people from ever getting the disease.

Other doctors doubt this, but thousands of the general public believe it. Many are quite willing to testify on their use of quinine to avoid influenza. Perhaps the best answer is to try it, anyway. The cost is trifling, and if it works one avoids a troublesome and often dangerous disease.

M System at San Angelo Has Farmers Exchange

One business institution in this part of West Texas that touches the interests of the farmers more than any other one business concern, perhaps, is the M System Grocery and Market, with stores in San Angelo and Robert Lee.

This big grocery and market concern, owned and managed by Lewis & Henson, started many years ago, on a somewhat modest scale. But with the passing years they have grown into gigantic proportions. They have always bought close as possible and have counted on volume rather than to sell at larger profits. And their plan has worked.

But, one thing that has aided the M System stores is that they have cooperated with the farmers, in buying the cream, eggs and poultry of the farmers all over the country—and, therefore they have won a place in the confidence and appreciation of the farmers.

The M System has an announcement in this issue as to their Farmers Exchange that really makes interesting reading. We suggest that you turn right now and read it.

Use Special Care
 In the Selection of Breeding Birds

Don't be careless in the selection of the breeding flock from which you plan to raise your 1942 pullet crop!

That warning comes from J. D. Sykes, poultry authority with Purina Mills, for he says, "The pullet in your 1942 flock can be no better than the breeding that lies back of her. Your breeding flock is the best evidence of that breeding."

He suggests the early selection of breeding birds. "Birds that have laid throughout the year until late fall," he says, "are almost always the very best birds in the flock."

"If possible," Sykes says, "pay particular attention to the number of eggs each bird has produced, her size of eggs, hatchability, and livability of chicks. Individuals that have demonstrated their ability to remain healthy and to lay continuously are usually valuable breeders."

"This year, with the increased demand for eggs in prospect, it is absolutely essential to breed from birds of known ability," Sykes asserts. "Every precaution should be taken to avoid any possibility of putting poor layers into the laying houses."

Eliminate Pullorum Disease

One of the diseases to be most carefully avoided in the breeding flock is Pullorum. According to Sykes, Pullorum can be detected by blood testing, and he suggests that at the time the breeding flock is selected, all birds be tested by one of the recognized methods and all reactors removed.

He warns that if as many as five percent of the birds react, another test should be made in 30 days, and thereafter every 30 days until all reactors have been removed.

Ration Very Important

"At the Purina Experimental Farm," Sykes says, "results have shown the importance of feeding the breeding flock a ration specially designed for the production of hatching eggs. One fact is basic; you can't add anything to a hatching egg after it is laid. The breeder hen has to make her hatching egg from the feed that she eats, and it will vary in nutritive properties, such as vitamins and some minerals, depending on the amounts that are in her ration."

Editor's Note: For breeder flocks, our local Purina dealer recommends Breeder Lay Chow—to be fed with home grown grain; or Layena—a complete ration. He will be happy to explain how local flock owners use these two feeds to produce hatching eggs.

If you have thought, or think now, that Bronte is "a one-hoss town," it is positive evidence that you were not on the downtown streets Saturday night. The milling throngs were everywhere. Where did they come from? "Search us!"

Plant a garden, and be "an aristocrat."

Due to the oat crop largely being a failure, the largest crop of row feedstuffs the country has had in a long time will likely be planted.

PREVENTABLE DISEASE MORE DEPLORABLE THAN WAR CRUELITIES

Austin, Texas, April 8—"The cruelty of our war-time enemies is no more important than the cruelty of American indifference which every year allows thousands of small children to suffer, and possibly die, from diphtheria and smallpox when these two diseases are absolutely preventable," Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today in commenting on President Roosevelt's act in setting aside May 1 as Child Health Day.

"There is no more important phase of national health than national child health, and the annual death rate from diphtheria and smallpox is difficult to understand when we remember that science has produced successful immunization for the prevention of both these diseases," Doctor Cox said.

In pointing out the necessity for preventing epidemics, lowering the death rate from communicable diseases and elevating national health standards, Doctor Cox stressed the fact that if all parents would cooperate with the President in his campaign to have every child in the United States over nine months of age immunized against diphtheria and smallpox, these two killing diseases would be completely eliminated as threats to the health of American children.

President Roosevelt has asked the cooperation of all American parents in this nation-wide campaign to stamp out diphtheria and smallpox, by immunizing all children over nine months of age. With our country in urgent need of its entire manpower to successfully defend itself against an aggressor enemy, President Roosevelt has asked the same close cooperation in health matters that he expects to receive in all phases of our defense program.

Doctor Cox has notified all local Chairmen of Health and Emergency Medical Service in the State of Texas that he, as State Chairman on Health and Emergency Medical Service, will greatly appreciate their complete cooperation in this vital matter and urging them to give this activity in their communities full support as a most important measure for the war-time protection of our civilian population. Jimmie Eubanks of Fort Benning, Georgia, is home for a 90 day visit with home folks. Jimmie expects to enter the aviation corps—so, he has the above time in the interim, in making the change.

Prof. Jordan, instructor of the Bronte High school band, has returned from the hospital, and is much improved.

Mrs. H. O. Whitt was returned home from a San Angelo hospital Wednesday, where she underwent major surgery two weeks ago. Her condition is much improved.

Pupils of the seventh grade in the Bronte schools, are a very busy group just at this time, rehearsing their commencement program.

Mrs. Callie Bennett has been seriously ill. Mrs. Taylor Shelton, Mrs. Bennett's daughter, of Edith, has carried her mother to Edith.

Doctor Cox asserted, "that Texas will cooperate with President Roosevelt in this Child Health campaign to the extent that every child in Texas will have been immunized against diphtheria and smallpox by May 1, National Child Health Day."

the justice courts and 346 in the county court, Logan had only 33 acquittals. In civic work he represented the county in 97 lunacy cases and has presented 23 juvenile cases to the court. His further duties have included assistance to five jury of view road cases and numerous civil cases, and assisted the attorney general in three injunction cases.

As county attorney he assisted both district attorneys here in prosecution of felony cases, and has worked with all the grand juries of the court terms here.

Stating his policies as a prosecutor, Mr. Logan said:

"I believe that certainty of punishment is the only effective means of preventing crime, and that to secure this end it is necessary that we have a consistent and vigorous enforcement of all our laws. Your district attorney must strive constantly to bring in a fair and impartial jury to the investigation of each to prove the guilt or innocence of each offense all the facts tending to the accused: for in the last analysis, it is not the duty of the district attorney to convict, but to see that justice is done.

"I shall try always to adhere to these principles as district attorney. That is the only reward I can offer for the support and confidence of friends. I think no candidate for this office can offer more, and I am sure none should offer less," Logan said.
