Soldier is Crushed By Ledge of Rock, On Mt. Margaret

A strange and tragic accident occurred at Tennyson, Sunday morning—strange and tragic in its setting and its consequences. The place was on Mt. Margaret, near the picturesque little village. The accident was the death of a soldier, Sgt. Sivert Froman of Chicago, a soldier at Camp Berkeley.

The victim and two soldier comrades, and two girls from Dallas, had climbed to the summit of Mt. Margaret for the novelty of the climb. They sat down on a ledge of rock. The ledge crumbled, toppled and fell, catching young Froman under its terrible weight.

The comrades were helpless. They rushed down to the village and secured crow bars and other men to aid them and rushed back to where the crushed man was being held by the boulder and rescued him. A Keeney ambulance rushed him to a San Angelo hospital, where he soon died.

Truly, Mt. Margaret is "a Mt. of Tragedies." Tradition has it that away back, in the earliest times, a little girl by the name of Margaret died and her father buried her body, away up, on the top of the mountain—from this traditional incident the mountain took its name, tradition says.

Floyd Bridges Seriously Injured—Struck by Car

Floyd Bridges who was struck down accidentally by a car, is reported doing well as could be expected in a San Angelo hospital to which he was rushed immediately after the accident.

Mr. Bridges suffered two to three breaks of one of his lower limbs, and other injuries. But, with no complications, it is believed he will soon come back to normalcy, it is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Price and Mrs. Cecil Glenn were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Price at Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Caudle at Hale Center. Mr. Price says that they have wonderful crops on the plains.

"ARKANSAW" READER WRITES INTERESTINGLY

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mayer reside at Van Buren, Arkansas. For years, since they went away they have been readers of "the old home town paper." Writing the other day to renew their subscription, Mrs. Mayer wrote interestingly. First, she was loud in her praise of "Arkansaw." That pleased us—for, "again we say unto you," Columbus and we "discovered America" in "Arkansaw." The writer referred to recent articles in The Enterprise, namely, the old Fort Chalbourne postoffice closing. She said that it brought a tinge of sorrow to her; as she thought back over the long, silent past. She also referred to the story of Charlie Eubanks' all garden.

Thanks to you, Mr. and Mrs. Mayer for the promptness with which you always make remittance on your subscription. The Enterprise subscription family reaches into several states, extending from New York to San Francisco. Some of them pay promptly—but some are forgetful. This is an appeal to all of our subscribers in other states, if your subscription is not down to date, won't you, please, send us remittance, covering same. Thanks. We know that if you appreciate the weekly visits of the paper, bringing to you the happenings of "the old home town," right now before you forget again, you will send us check to cover your arrearages of subscription.

AN ORGANIZATION FOR WAR

By ANNE FRANKLIN

School pupils all over America are helping in the war effort by joining the Junior Red Cross. This is an organization to help soldiers, marines, and sailors. When you give to the Red Cross, you are giving to your own brother, father, cousin, or uncle. Your pennies will buy games, tables, chairs, and other useful items necessary for the entertainment and care of our fighting men. The period, from November 3 to November 15 is set aside for joining the Junior Red Cross.

We must help our fighting men to win this war! Let us invest pennies in victory

Diversity Club Meets with Mrs. D. K. Glenn

The Diversity Club met at the home of Mrs. D. K. Glenn, Thursday afternoon.

Those in attendance engaged in the Red Cross sewing. Miss Cleek instructed in knitting.

Refreshments were served to the following members:

Mrs. W. H. Maxwell, Jr., Mrs. Alfred Taylor, Mrs. Otis Smith, Mrs. James Glenn, Mrs. Doug Snead, Mrs. Chas. Boecking, Mrs. O. R. McQueen, Mrs. Mac Rippe-toe, Mrs. Brooks Browning, Miss Nell Lowry, Mrs. W. W. Millikin, and the hostess; one visitor, Miss Margaret Cleek.

THE JUNIOR RED CROSS

By IRIS BROOKS

The Junior Red Cross is not only an American, but a world-wide organization. High school students all over the world are doing their bit to take part of the sting out of the war. They are striving to keep up the morale of the soldiers and to relieve

Bronte PTA Buys a $50.00 War Bond

The Bronte PTA had quite an interesting meeting in its last session.

The following program was rendered:

Singsong, led by Mrs. Alfred Taylor.

Leader, Mrs. H. A. Springer.

1st speaker, Katherine Rawlings.

2nd speaker, Edith Ellridge.

In the business session, the following items of business were transacted:

It was voted to pay $50 on playground equipment for the school.

It was also decided to contribute $50. to buy material for tables for the Home Economics Department of the school. Prof. Faith, V. A. instructor and his boys, it is understood will build the tables.

The PTA voted to invest in a $50 War Bond.

Bronte Junior Red Cross Now Actively at Work

The Junior Red Cross in the Bronte school is now in full swing. Mrs. Vera Thomas has announced that many activities are being carried out and plans for an enlarged activity are fast shaping.

Mrs. Thomas also announced that the annual enrollment campaign takes place this year November 1-15. During this period students who are already members will be re-enrolled, and the newcomers who desire to join will be enrolled for the calendar year 1943. The enrollment for Service will provide every boy and girl in the Bronte school with opportunities to serve in the war effort.

Nationally there are more than 14,000,000 members of the Junior Red Cross in the schools. During the past year they have made more than 3,000,000 comfort and recreational articles for the armed forces, 500,000 garments for refugee children, and engaged in many other activities devoted to the war effort as well as to the many communities in which they live.

the suffering of humanity.

Each year a number of things are made and put into use. Such things as beds, tables, clothing, shoes, recreational equipment, greeting cards, and many other things are supplied by the Senior Red Cross and made by the Juniors.

The Junior Red Cross helps raise the funds that go into the Red Cross organization.

We, as members of this organization can keep smiling, be friendly, ready to do anything for our country, day or night; ready to help in time of need, ready at any time we are needed most. We can keep up our own courage, and the courage of others.

Soldiers go for books—so, we can buy books, find second-hand books, collect books and donate books to our men in service.

The slogan of the Junior Red Cross is "We Serve." To that we might add "We serve for God and country, to uphold and defend the constitution, to foster one-hundred per cent Americanism, to make right the master of might, and to promote

RATTLESNAKES AS HIS COMPADRES

H. O. Whitt, the obliging and genial Santa Fe agent is considering changing as to his job. He wants to become an author—he wants to write a book. If his longings were to have fruition he would write a book on "Railroading in the West." Mr. Whitt's new aspiration and inspiration (?) comes about because of some of his daily experiences in his present field of endeavor. It is "Rattlesnake Time in West Texas," for those who engage in the delicate (?) task of commercializing on these West Texas "pets," of which Coke county has an abundant supply. Therefore, R. L. Collier who is said to be "the champion rattle snake catcher" of West Texas, is a very busy man. He catches the rattlers, puts them in boxes, brings them to the depot, turns them over to Mr. Whitt, takes his receipt and goes his way—but, not so, with Mr. Whitt.

Instead, the faithful agent of the railroad like the boy who stood on the burning deck, he has to stay through the hours of the day and listen to the hissing rattle of the deadly poisonous reptiles, on, until the next train comes and takes the venomous, slimey, hissing, rattling monsters away. But that does not bring surcease from the hideous hours that are to be his on the tomorrow—for, soon Collier will come with another box of the hideous monsters, to drone their hissing rattling noises into the agent's ears again till the next train comes to bear them away.

We don't blame Agent Whitt—we believe we too would turn author, or "turn turtle," or "turn something else," rather than daily to "make our habitat with the denizens of 'the dark places.'"

To say the least, if there is anything in environment, Bronte should have a "most prayerful man" as its railroad agent.

MARRIED

Corp. Frank C. Wojtek and Miss Jessie Pearl Summers of Robert Lee were married Thursday evening, November 5, 1942 at San Angelo. Rev. N. E. McGuire, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, officiating. The vows were taken at the home of the minister.

The bride is the daughter of W. A. Summers of Robert Lee. She is a graduate of the Robert Lee school and holds a position in the AAA office at Robert Lee.

Corp. Wojtek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wojtek of Robert Lee. He entered service in January at Goodfellow Field where he is still stationed. He is one of the owners, with his brothers, of the Texas theatre in Bronte and the Alamo theatre in Robert Lee.

The Enterprise joins with the many friends of these two popular young people in wishing them great fortune and much happiness as they enter life together.

peace and good will."

Gas Rationing Postponed for Another Week

The Enterprise has received thru the local Rationing Board, from Mark McGee, State Director of Price Administration, the following:

Registration for gasoline rationing is postponed to November 19, 20 and 21st. Effective date of gasoline rationing will be postponed. You will be advised later of actual effective date. All surplus passenger type tires, however, must be turned in by November 22.

Mark McGee, State Director Office of Price Administration.

SENDS EDITOR BIG TURNIP

Our good, long-time friend, Jack Caudle of Hale Center, sent the editor by T. C. Price, Monday, a "golly whopper" of a turnip. It was a purpletop and tipped the beam at four pounds exactly. Thanks to you, Jack—and we believe that when they grow them. Mr. Price says that Mr. Caudle planted the turnips, with soy beans he was planting, and was not especially interested in the turnips. He planted only a small area, yet he has already sold 7,000 pounds—that sounds like a Bronte turnip patch story. Anyhow, thanks to you, Jack.

8TH GRADE CLUB MET

We had our last meeting, November 9, 1942.

We elected new officers, as follows:

Eula Saunders, president.

Cecil Coalson, vice-president.

Altus Fay Powers, secretary.

J. C. Caudle gave a reading.

Billy Gene Thomas also gave a reading.

James A. Taylor led the club in singing the Star Spangled Banner.

Billy Charles Simpson told about the army.

The meeting adjourned.

The 8th Grade Club Class.

SCHOOL'S FIRST GRADERS READY TO COOPERATE

Miss Nell Lowry, popular teacher of the first graders, in the Bronte school, handed the following to The Enterprise as expressive of the sentiment and attitude of that interesting group of "young ladies" and "young gentlemen."

"We are happy to cooperate with the school committee in their nutrition program.

Each grade is responsible for one week, to supply posters for the bulletin board in the lunch room. As an introduction to the program, the first grade is making posters this week.

Interesting problems centering around the Texas Food Standard is being studied in all phases of our work."

THE AMERICAN JUNIOR RED CROSS MARCHES ON !

Formed by proclamation of President Wilson in 1917 to give school children of America an opportunity to serve in the war effort, the junior membership of the American Red Cross in the schools can now point to a twenty-five year record of accomplishment in many fields of endeavor. In World War I and during the years of peace that followed the activities of the young people in this organization became a living testament of democracy. And now that we are again entangled in world conflict, the Junior Red Cross has answered the call to the colors.

In nearly every field on the home front these young people are active. They are out to surpass the record established by their mothers and fathers who were members of Junior Red Cross a generation ago. And the pace at which they are going indicates that they will.

Here in Bronte the school is enrolled 100 per cent in the Junior Red Cross. Bronte school was enrolled last year, but plans are being made for a much greater work this year. Since Pearl Harbor they have devoted much of their working time to production for the armed forces, especially in the scrap drive. We are proud of the work they have done and are continuing to do.

The first two weeks of this month, November 1-15, the nation-wide Enrollment for Service in Junior Red Cross is taking place in the schools. The 14,000,000 young people who are already members will re-enroll for the calendar year 1943, and many thousands more are expected to join up to participate in the opportunities for service which are offered.

The necessity and value of the activities of the Junior Red Cross, were emphasized by the words of President Roosevelt on the Silver Anniversary of the organization this September. Said Mr. Roosevelt: "I commend the American Junior Red Cross for so amply justifying the faith of those who were its founders twenty-five years ago. I am confident that the future achievements of the organization will be ever increased. The needs of our nation at war are great. The American Junior Red Cross, because it has already proved its ability, can be counted on to assist greatly, toward meeting those needs."

The Junior Red Cross fits well into school and community life, as nearly all of its activities are group ones. Membership in elementary grades is by classrooms, and in high schools by groups of one hundred, and pupils of any public, private or parochial school may join. In Junior Red Cross there are no lines of race or religion. It is an organization open to all school children.

We know that the citizens of Bronte, both young people and adults, will join with all their hearts in seeing to it that our school is enrolled for service in Junior Red Cross one hundred per cent!

During the last school year members of the American Junior Red Cross earned more than 260,000 first aid certificates, as well as thousands of Red Cross Home Nursing, life saving and water safety, and nutrition certificates.

A convalescent home for British children, sick and wounded as a result of the war, had been set up in England through the National Children's Fund of the American Junior Red Cross.

Working in home economics classes in the schools of the nation members of the American Junior Red Cross have made more than 500,000 garments for the refugee children of Europe during the past year. Production of this type is continuing greater than ever during the present school year.

More than 3,000,000 comfort and recreational articles were made for the men in our armed forces during the past year by members of the American Junior Red Cross. These articles range all the way from menu covers and joke books to afghans, ping pong tables and furniture for canteens and recreation rooms.

PROTECTION FOR YOUNG CHILDREN AGAINST WINTER COMPLAINTS

Austin, Texas, November 12—In discussing seasonal health hazards for babies and young children today, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, stated that babies and young children need as careful protection now against winter complaints as they do in hot summer weather against "summer complaints."

Influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, and asthma are included among those diseases which may be dangerous winter illnesses among young children since they affect the respiratory or breathing system. Such diseases as pneumonia may develop from a neglected cold, they may follow as an after-effect of the measles or whooping cough, or they may occur suddenly and with very little warning. These diseases of the respiratory system are more prevalent in winter than summer and are much more difficult to combat than digestive ailments such as summer complaint.

"These winter diseases are particularly dangerous to babies and young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread through the secretions from the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense," Dr. Cox cautioned, "is to strengthen the powers of resistance against disease; the second is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure they avoid contact with others who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

POWER AND LIGHT UTILITIES HAVE AIDED IN WAR PROGRAM

H. A. Springer, local manager of the West Texas Utilities, said yesterday that the tribute to the nation's natural resource industries in the latest issue of Industrial News Review, "of course, includes such industries in this part of West Texas."

An editorial in the Review referred to light and power, coal, and oil.

"West Texas can't claim much production of coal," Mr. Springer said, "but as for the rest, we can be justly proud of our contribution to the war effort."

In part, the editorial said: "The job the natural resource industries are doing on behalf of the effort deserves nation-wide recognition and admiration.

"The power and light utilities are among those industries. For many years, the utilities have been subjected to the most bitter kind of political and legislative attack. They have been subjected, in addition, to tax-subsidized competition from the socialized power systems built by the government. Yet, in the face of these tremendous difficulties, they have successfully any and all demands for power. They have expanded their plants to the limit of their abilities. They are serving war industries, consumer industry, agriculture, and homes with complete efficiency and at extremely low cost.

"Around 90 per cent of all commercially-generated power in this country is produced by the private utilities—and some of our major industrial areas, where key war plants are situated, they produce all the power."

It is pointed out that "no resource is more important to has made a magnificent record in keeping production up to the unprecedented demand."

Such industries are credited with "helping to bring ever nearer the day of final victory . . . and are typical of free America's answer to the dictators who deliberately brought upon the world the most terrible war in history."

We have more wheat on hand than we really have room for, and we will pay a slight premium over the Government loan to relieve our storage problem.

We did not want to store wheat in our elevator, but had to take care of our customers some way, and now we would like to buy some of this wheat—about 10,000 bushels, at least.

Any farmer that is willing to sell at a small advance, see us. Last year wheat sold at above Government loan here for only about 43 days. We don't know anything about the future, but would like to buy some of this wheat now.
