T. R. Butler Dies at Sweetwater; Interment in Bronte

Friday morning, January 15, 1943, T. R. Butler died at the family home in Sweetwater, after a lingering illness of more than a year. His condition however did not become critical until Saturday night, January 9, at which time he was stricken and from which he never rallied. Interment was in Bronte cemetery, Sunday afternoon, following religious services at the First Baptist Church in Sweetwater, at 2 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Sibley.

Thos. R. Butler was born at Aberdeen, Mississippi, in 1871. He came early to Texas. September 26, 1900, he and Miss Beulah Gideon were married at Rockdale, Texas. Two children were born to them. The children are Mrs. H. C. Gallaway of Duncan, Oklahoma, and George Thomas Butler of Los Angeles, California. The daughter was with her father when he passed, the son did not arrive until Saturday. There is one grandchild, Creighton Callaway of Duncan, Oklahoma.

About 1910 Mr. and Mrs. Butler came to Bronte to reside. Mr. Butler engaged in the drug business for some time. During his residence in Bronte, he bought the town's newspaper, The Bronte Enterprise, from the writer, which he owned for some time and had an experienced newspaper man in charge of the business. In 1913 Mr. and Mrs. Butler moved to Belton where he engaged in the drug business for a time. He then went to Hale Center where he and Jack Caudle engaged in the furniture and hardware business. From Hale Center he went to Plainview and engaged in the same line of business. About ten years ago the family moved to Sweetwater and have made their home there since that time, where he engaged for a time in business.

Besides the widow and children and grandson deceased is survived by two brothers and three sisters: Mrs. T. T. Oliver, Sweetwater; Mrs. Cora Fitzgerald, Stephenville; Mrs. T. A. McQuary, Plainview; John Butler, Hamilton, and Jim Butler, Stephenville.

Others attending the funeral were: Mrs. D. E. Prewitt and sons, Ira and Marvin, and daughter, Mrs. Dewey Collier, Ralls; E. R. Gideon, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Watson, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wylie, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wylie, Jr., Robert Lee; George Gideon, San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gideon, Bronte.

When T. R. Butler died one of the world's best men passed. Of the hundreds of men the writer has known intimately through life no one we have ever known had a higher place in our appreciation as to his ideals and character. In all our relations with him socially he was clean and high-minded and in our business relations, we regarded his word the same as his bond. And now that he is gone, we are glad for the memories we have of him. To the sorrowing family we extend condolences.

R. E. Cumbie went to A & M College Wednesday, where Edward Jr., graduates today. Edward came home a few days ago and his father carried him back Wednesday. Edward is another of Bronte's boys who stayed with his school work until he completed his course.

J. D. McCleskey from San Marcus is here visiting his grandmother, Grandmother McCleskey, and other relatives. His friends are glad to see J. D. again.

Soldier Boys Appreciate Gifts from Home Folks

A few mornings ago when a group of Bronte and Coke county boys departed for the army training camp quite a number were at the bus station to see the boys away. A collection had been taken and a goodly quantity of cigarettes was given the boys—and also a purse of money.

With reference to the above The Enterprise is in receipt of the following letter from the boys:

Camp Wolters, Texas.
Dear Mr. West:

January 17, 1943.
The Bronte Enterprise,
Bronte, Texas.

A letter of thanks to the folks of Bronte for the cigarettes, and money given us. We divided the cigarettes, and used the money for a show at Abilene, where we were from 12 o'clock to 5 in the afternoon. All of us enjoyed the picture, "Black Swan," at the Paramount theatre.

Again, thanks, and the best for all of you. From your boys in the U. S. army.

An "Analysis of Propaganda," by Diversity Club

The Diversity Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Maxwell, Jr. with Mrs. Alfred Taylor and Mrs. Maxwell, hostesses.

The subject for the afternoon was "Analyzing Propaganda." Roll call was answered with examples of propaganda.

Recognizing Propaganda, was discussed by Mrs. Marlin Mackey.

Propaganda Evils was the topic discussed by Mrs. Mack Powell.

Patriotic numbers were played by Mrs. I. M. Cumbie.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames O. R. McQueen, Geo. Thomas, Mac Powell, Chas. Boecking, Brooks Browning, D. K. Glenn, Mac Rippetoe, Marlen Mackey, Otis Smith, W. W. Milnax and Miss Nell Lowry. Guests, were Mesdames H. O. Whitt, I. M. Cumbie, and the hostesses, Mesdames Taylor and Maxwell.

Franklin D. and "we" are just alike—both now slice our own bread which puts us on a level with the commoners. Selah!

And "Sister" Roosevelt says, according to press reports, that she is going to "gad about," just as she has been doing, whenever she pleases. Well—to say the least she is not setting a very patriotic example for all the other American women.

Don't bet on scraps except the one you'll win by giving your scrap metal to the Army now.

COMPLETES COURSE IN PHARMACY; WILL JOIN THE NAVY

Pharris Mackey returned home Sunday from the University of Oklahoma, where he completed his course in pharmacy. It took Pharris some years to graduate, but he stayed with it until he completed his course.

Mr. Mackey now plans to enlist in the Navy at once and enter training.

THEY "DONE" AN' GOT OUR VOTE "AGIN"

Wednesday afternoon, the editor was rushing to San Angelo at 35 per (government regulations.) All at once there was an explosion which meant that the fulfillment of our fears for several weeks as we crept along on tires that met government requirements, namely, a "blow-out" of one of the vulcanized tires we have been using for some months. Pulling off the concrete we "got out and under," with a car jack the vintage of which is not known. We were "yanking away" with the old worn-out jack, but getting nowhere except to the end of our patience. Passing motorists rushed by, some at 35—while some seemed to be going—well, we are sure they were pressing the gas at near 60 per. None of them seemed to see us and the predicament we were in. But long ago we decided never to attempt to stop people in their "onward flight," to ask for assistance—so, if the passersby did not stop voluntarily and offer aid, it meant we got no aid.

Behold!—on this particular occasion a car approached at regulation speed. Just after the chine began to back up. Our come to a stop. Then the macar passed, it began to slow and first impulse was to jump the fence and "tear out" through the pasture—for, who could see a man down and under his car these days, and stop, if he were not a cold-blooded hold-up man? But, bravely we awaited developments, laying our largest tire tool where it would be convenient in case of an emergency. But, lo!—when the occupants began to unload from the car, friendly faces and voices greeted us. They were Judge McNeil Wylie, Coke county's popular county judge; Willis Smith, the ever-obliging clerk of the county and Judge Wylie's brother, Grover Wylie—all from Robert Lee. The trio proved to be real friends indeed—for, in a "jiffy," Judge Wylie had his car jack out, from under the turtle; Willis Smith grabbed our lug

Red Cross Books are Available—They're Valuable

Recently when the Red Cross first aid course was given here, a shipment of Red Cross books was sent here from Red Cross headquarters to be used in the course of training given. Those taking the course were required to purchase a book as the textbook used for instruction in the course.

More books were sent than were needed. These are here at the office of the West Texas Utilities Company. H. A. Springer advises that these books can be bought for sixty cents apiece—and says that they are very valuable, and every home should have a copy of the book in it.

BROWNS FIND GOOD MERCHANDISE MARKET IN SAN ANTONIO

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Browning returned from San Antonio, Wednesday where they spent several days in the markets buying spring and summer merchandise for the dry goods department of their store.

Speaking to The Enterprise relative to their trip and the markets Mr. Browning said that find so much merchandise on he was very much surprised to find so much merchandise on the markets and so much variety in spring and summer merchandise. Mr. Browning expressed the belief that the buying public would really be surprised when the purchases they made arrive and are placed on the display counters of his store. "Tell the people," Mr. Browning said, "to watch The Enterprise for announcement of arrival of our spring and summer showings—for, under the circumstances, it certainly will be to their interest."

wrench, by the time the judge had the car jacked up, "Willis" had the lug nuts removed, and before we hardly had time to say, "thank you, boys," they were in their car and on their way, leaving us with "a song in our heart."

"Taint" no use talkin' to us—these two "boys" have done and got our vote "agin" against all comers.

And here, now, in this way, we say, "thank you friends, for friendly light you gave us. May your shadows never grow less!"

Carlisle Buys Sanderson Stock At Blackwell

One business change at Blackwell with the beginning of the New Year is that of the purchase chase by T. A. Carlisle the grocery stock of Roy Sanderson.

Mr. Sanderson had not been engaged in the business but a few months, yet it is one of the oldest businesses in Blackwell. The business was established by Roy Hamilton, deceased, in 1909 and was operated under the firm name of Reed & Co. A few years ago Mr. Hamilton died and his son, Roy, later assumed charge. He ran the business until he was called to service—then he sold to Roy Sanderson.

Carlisle's is the oldest business firm in Blackwell. It was established in 1908 by Mr. Carlisle and C. H. Bolen deceased. It operated under the firm name of Carlisle & Bolen until 1916 at which time Mr. Carlisle bought Mr. Bolen's interest and since then has owned and operated it under his own name.

The Sanderson stock has been moved into the store of Carlisle's.

Four Elegant Tables, PTA Gift to Home Ec Club

In its last meeting the Bronte PTA had a most interesting meeting.

The topic was "Earn, Save, Have."

Special numbers were given by the 5th grade which were pleasing to all, with Miss Tripp at the piano.

Supt. B. F. Kirk was leader of the program. Prof. Kirk gave an interesting report of the educational conference he attended recently at Austin.

Mesdames C. E. Arrott and Robert Forman were speakers on the afternoon program.

Some time ago the PTA appropriated an amount with which to buy the material for four tables for the homemaking department. Prof. O. A. Faith, VA teacher, and his boys were to make the tables. The tables were finished and presented to the department. The tables are very beautiful and are appreciated by the homemaking department.

SANITARY BEDS ARE ESSENTIAL TO GOOD HEALTH, SAYS DR. COX

Austin, Texas, January 21.—In an effort to prevent the spread of disease through bedding, 5,863 second-hand mattresses and other articles of bedding were sterilized during the month of November, 1942, according to a report issued this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Since it is estimated that the average individual spends one-third of his life in a sleeping or reclining position, each individual is certainly entitled to sanitation in any used article of bedding that he may purchase," Dr. Cox asserted.

The Texas State Sanitary Bedding Law prohibits the sale of second-hand bedding that has not been sterilized. There are 59 privately owned sterilization vaults in the state that have been approved by the State Health Department.

Before buying a second-hand mattress, pillow, featherbed, studio couch, or any other used article of bedding, Dr. Cox declared that the purchaser should demand to see the sterilization tag that is required by law to be affixed to all such articles offered for sale. This sterilization tag bears a statement that the bedding has been germically treated by a method approved by the State Health Department and is the public's guarantee on health protection in the purchase of used bedding.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE
Accident! Coincidence! Maybe.

The scene was at the Weatherford Old Timers' reunion out at Holland's Lake back in 1932. It was well along in the afternoon of the third and final day and the crowds were thinning out.

You columnist was there to write up the events for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. D. B. Greene, staff photographer, remarked:

"We'd better get one more picture of a couple of pioneers."

Soon I saw an old gentleman in picturesque attire and he agreed to wait until I could find someone else to pose with him. A man with thick, gray hair and flowing whiskers came in sight and he consented to be in the picture.

The camera clicked and, with poised pencil, I asked the first man his name. When he replied, the other exclaimed:

"Don't you know me? I thought you might be here and I came especially to see you. I've been looking for you all three days and was just leaving the grounds."

The first pioneer peered and then said, "Why, it's Joe! I've

And they embraced happily—boyhood friends who had moved to distant scenes and had not seen each other in a dozen years and might never have met this side of glory land had they not been brought together by a newspaper reporter who had picked them at random out of a throng of hundreds.

Coincidence? Accident? Maybe—but I like to think that a kind Destiny smiled and pulled the strings.

FUN, FACTS AND PATRIOTISM POETICALLY EXPRESSED BY FIFTH GRADERS

(Editor's note: Bronte may not have its quota of boys wearing the uniform, and it may not have many WAACS and WAVES, but The Enterprise will "pit" "the old home town" against any community, large or small, when it comes to producing "poets" and "poetesses"—and the bold declaration is based on the evidence that follows. Mrs. H. A. Springer decided she would test her pupils on verse-writing. And before she could stop "the mills from grinding," her desk was piled high with the verses below. Evidently, from the sentiment expressed by many of the verse-writers, Hitler and the Japs have a very poor rating within the confines of the room of the fifth graders.)

OUR FLAG

Three cheers for the red, white and blue!
The flag we love so true.
It's waving for you and me
Wherever we may be.

We hate to see our boys leave,
But old Hitler it's sure to grieve.
When Old Glory waves in Berlin,
Old Hitler will die in his den.

The red, white and blue is waving high,
The pilots can see it from the sky.
The Marines and the Navy on the radio,
Tell us it will be planted in Tokyo.

To the flag of the U. S. A.,
Our protection we pledge today—
On high may you always wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

—Billie Jean Millikin, Bronte school.

OUR FLAG

Our flag is red, white and blue.
And it waves for our boys
It waves for you and me.
Who are fighting for our liberty.

Rayma Bagwell, Bronte school.

OUR COUNTRY

Let Liberty stand!
All over the land.
Let us all be free,
From sea to sea!

Let our flag wave
So we may save
Every American in the U. S. A.
Say! I'm on my way!

—Norma Jean Gentry, Bronte school.

THE SNOW

The wind is whirling around and around,
Sending the tiny snow flakes to the ground,
Deeper and deeper pile the drifts,
Far below the towering cliffs.

Children scampering on their way,
Always welcome such a day.
Bright red sleds they pull about,
Down the hill they will go, no doubt.

—Frances Pauline Beavers, Bronte School.

OUR BASEBALL TEAM

(Editor's note: Somehow last week we got Master Alvah Lee Allison's "Baseball Team" somewhat mixed up. We did not discover it, until the paper was printed. We regret the mixup, and, therefore, we reprint the whole of it again this week.)

Raining or snowing,
Our baseball team keeps on scoring—
Throwing and blowing,
They keep on scoring.

When they get put out,
They do not pout.
They just shout:
"We'll get it back on you."

And when they put someone out,
They shout, "Don't pout.
You can put us out.
If you will look about."

Our baseball team plays nice and clean.
They will not cheat.
But they will repeat:
"We still can beat."

—Alvah Lee Allison, Bronte School.

THE SCHOOL

The sun comes up in the East,
The sun goes down in the West—
I love the Bronte School,
Of all the schools, the best.

You ought to see!
We are such sights every day.
But when we work, we work,
And when we play, we play.

—Hazel Hays, Boonte school.

Let Us All Do Our Part in This War.

"You bet, we're proud of 'em!"

Yes, we're just plumb stuck-up about these men! They're making good soldiers, good sailors, and good marines. One (Captain Tommy Dodson) is missing in Java. One (Pfc. Othello "Doc" Adams) is credited with killing 20 Japs. Thirty of them now are commissioned officers. Two are lieutenant-colonels, five are majors, five are captains, 17 are lieutenants and one is a Navy ensign.

All 150 received training and experience in this organization which is enabling them to render valuable service to their country.

While they stand ready to make the supreme sacrifice in the fight for our American way of living, those of us left behind stand united in backing them up with plenty of electric power.

And we're proud of the job we're doing here at home, too! There has been no power shortage... either in your home or for Uncle Sam.

Back of this ample supply of power is the American system of FREE ENTERPRISE, which is performing the incredible job of producing the weapons of war with which to win the victory... weapons for all the United Nations.

Business management under free enterprise is supplying the brains, the know-how, and manning the production lines that turn out the planes, tanks, ships and guns.

The creative genius behind the lines comes from the ranks of industry, not from the muddle of bureaucracy.
