NUMBER 16.

Legislature Extends UCRA to January 1, 1948--Rampy Advises

Federal Employees . . .

On January 31, 1943 there were 2,862,185 civilian employees in the executive branch of the government. The total pay roll for January was in excess of $519,000,000, which is double the total pay roll of $259,404,954 for January 1942.

In response to an aroused public concern on this subject, rate of taxing on additional employees has been reduced. The Budget Bureau has ordered dismissals of 41,631, resulting in a saving of $80,000,000 per year, and the Bureau promises more slashes.

Only last week I had a letter from a lady from my district, now a government employee here in which she said: "You may take my word for this fact which exists here in our office . . . there are about 50 people here who are just sitting unable to find jobs. Where this shortage of manpower is, I'm sure I don't know."

I have called this to the attention of the head of that Department and also to the House Committee on Civil Service now investigating this subject. The Committee reports real progress is being made to eliminate unnecessary employees.

Last week the House passed a salary increase bill giving one and one-half times the basic rate of pay for over-time to most government employees, amounting to a total increase of 21.6 per cent. By the passage of this law a total of $567,000,000 per year is added to the Federal pay roll bill. I voted against this because, while increases in some particular types of Government work might be justified, a blanket increase of this amount is not good business under present conditions.

If the government wants to "hold that line" against inflation, it should hold down the federal payroll just as it asks private industry to halt its upward wage spiral.

War Bond Drive . . .

The present war bond drive is not only necessary to provide needed money for war materials, but it is the best weapon right now against the threat of inflation.

FIRST GRADERS HAVE EASTER EGG HUNT

Mrs. "Pete" Gentry, Mrs. John Suggs and Mrs. Minnie B. West, the room mothers of the First Grade, together with Miss Nell Lowry, the teacher, gave the pupils of the First Grade an Easter egg hunt, Thursday afternoon, in the yard of the West apartments.

Prize eggs for finding the most eggs were won by Jimmie Wayne Best, James Olivias and William Bruce Fletcher.

A very timely and appreciated treat was given all present in the form of ice cream. This was

Only One-Third of Coke's Bond Quota Subscribed to Date

The prospect for Coke county to meet its quota in the 2nd War Bond Drive that is now being staged is quite discouraging at this time.

The county's quota, without the $62,000 assigned to the two banks of the county, is $77,000. Mrs. Carrie Williams is leading in the campaign in Bronte and the Bronte section of the county. Bruce Clift is leading at Robert Lee and in the western part of the county.

At this hour, 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, there has been subscribed in Bronte the sum of $8,631.25, while at this hour, at Robert Lee, according to a report by telephone from Mr. Clift to The Enterprise, $20,055.25 had been subscribed. This makes a total in the county to this hour, of $28,686.50—just slightly more than one-third of the county's assigned quota.

"It looks a bit discouraging at this time," said Mrs. Williams, "with reference to our reaching the county's quota. Quite a number have bought bonds, but they have been mostly in small denominations. However, the government is encouraging subscriptions of small denominations, yet that will not bring victory to our campaign, unless the people subscribe for bonds in greater numbers and in greater quantities. Say to those who have stamp books filled out to bring them in, and exchange for bonds. And those who have their stamp books partly filled, if possible, let them fill out the books and get bonds. And those who cannot pay for enough stamps to get a bond, let them and finish out their books. Let get their friends to join them everyone of us in Coke county realize that this is one time when when we must do our best. It means a sacrifice in some instances. But let us think of our boys yonder at the battle front, giving their lives. One boy born in Bronte is either a captive in Japan or else he has been killed by the Japs. How are we going to face those boys, who by turn to us after awhile, if we do good fortune, are going to report now do our best to aid them in this one way, the only way we can let them know that we are sharing with them much as we can in the fight they are making for us?"

Let everybody heed the appeal of Mrs. Williams. Only next week remains for the people of Coke county to bring their county out victorious, or for the news to go out to the world that Coke County fell down on its job.

Sgt. and Mrs. J. B. Tannehill from Riverside, California are here visiting the Sergeant's mother, Mr. J. N. Tannehill. Sgt. and Mrs. Tannehill were recently married at Las Vegas, Nevada, and this is their wedding trip. Mrs. Tannehill is a native of Washington state—but she looks and acts "just like a Texas girl," which means that she is a beautiful and cultured young woman.

Water Shortage Forces City to Build River Line

The excessively dry winter and the continued lack of rainfall thus far since spring came, has depleted the city's water supply until the city dads were forced to take some action to get a water supply.

Some years ago there was a failure of water supply from the city's lakes. At that time a well was sunk in the north bank of the Colorado river, on highway 9, three miles south of town. Pipe was leased and a line run to the well. Abundance of water was supplied. When the rains came and water was plentiful in the lakes again, the river well was abandoned and the owners of the pipe took the pipe away.

This time, profiting by their experience, the city council has bought pipe and is having it brought in by truck. It is four inch pipe which assures an abundance of water. One lot of the pipe was bought at Breckenridge and the other was bought at Odessa. The pipe is in A-1 condition.

A crew of men is at work, rushing the laying of the pipe to the river well. Mayor R. E. Cubbie states that the work will be rushed fast as possible. The engine is being put in good running order. The mayor said that they hoped to reach the well with the pipe-laying by Monday night and soon as that is done and the proper connections are made, there will be abundance of water—"and one of the fine things about it is," said the mayor, "it is fine water, soft and healthful and drinkable."

"Ask the people," Mayor Cubbie requested, "not to use the water for any purpose except the stock and for cooking purposes until the well is properly running and furnishing water—for, should anything happen and the water from the well not be available soon as we hope, if the people use the water we have in the lakes, it could get serious."

Rev. A. Hanson, New Methodist Minister, Arrives

Rev. and Mrs. A. Hanson arrived in Bronte Saturday afternoon and took up their abode at the Methodist parsonage.

Rev. Hanson is the new minister of the Bronte Methodist church, who comes to succeed Rev. Lester Haines, who a few weeks ago left the pastorate, to go to Bra-kettville, where he will have opportunity to engage

BANK HOURS CHANGED

Hours of banking at the First National Bank, beginning after May 1st, are from 8 o'clock in the morning to 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Those hours will continue till October 1, 1943. The bank makes announcement in this issue of The Enterprise relative to the matter. Let all take note and be governed accordingly.

BEST WAYS TO SAVE COFFEE

From General Foods Corporation

1. Buy coffee only when you need it, and only one pound at a time.
2. Keep coffee in original container, tightly covered in cool place.
3. Use the right grind, the one This means drip grind for drip pots and vacuum-type glass coffee-maker; regular grind for percolator and boiled coffee. Drip grind may be used for percolator, using a little less coffee; the coffee will have good body but be less clear.
4. Make only as much coffee as you need; measure both coffee and water accurately.
5. Find the proportion you like. You can use less coffee than usual. With drip pot use extra filter or repour coffee through grounds on e. With percolator, percolate for three or four minutes longer. With vacuum type maker stir coffee in upper bowl and let it stand 4 or 5 minutes longer. These methods are especially helpful in making small amounts such as 1 or 2 cups.
6. Serve coffee in warmed cups, or cups rinsed with hot water.
7. Scour and air coffee-maker; keep it scrupulously clean. Scald before using to remove all stale odor.

Information to the Farmers About Selling Butter

There seems to be considerable confusion as to the necessary procedure for farmers to sell butter. It is not necessary for a farmer who sells butter to register until after May 1. He will simply keep a record of what he produces and what he sells and the stamps he collects until such time he will make his registration May 3 and May 14. These forms will be available in the Union on Form R-1609, between registration at the local rationing office.

Rev. and Mrs. Hanson come from near Houston. They are not entirely strangers to West Texas. At one time they were stationed at Brady for three years. Rev. and Mrs. Hanson express themselves as delighted with Bronte and the reception accorded them since reaching here.

Rev. Hanson filled the pulpit of his church Sunday morning and evening and The Enterprise has heard favorable comment of his messages.

In behalf of all our people The Enterprise extends welcome to for them success in their work Rev. and Mrs. Hanson and wishes a happy sojourn in Bronte.

Act Preserves the UCRA; Releases a $400,000 Tax Fund

It was a piece of wise legislation—reference is made to the act of the legislature this week in extending the Upper Colorado River Authority.

In the first place, it releases $400,000 impounded tax funds for the general revenue funds of the state, which, of course, can be used to good advantage just at this time.

But, greater still, it means the life of the Upper Colorado River Authority project—and many believe, that, perhaps, means the agricultural and financial permanent stability of all this part of West Texas. It means when finally consummated, that many thousands of acres of this fertile Colorado river valley will be under irrigation. That, of course, means that instead of sections of land now being owned by a few and furnishing pasturage for limited herds of cattle and sheep it will afford almost limitless feedstuffs for limitless numbers of livestock, including cattle, sheep and goats, and hogs—for, as some think, it will mean a home on every plat from twenty to forty acres of land. Be that as it may, it does mean a post-war job for the hundreds and hundreds of West Texas men now in the service, when they return home. How important, that there shall be a job for them, from which they may gain a livelihood when they shall return to civilian life and will be thrown on their own initiative for their livelihood.

By January 1, 1948, it is believed that the war will be over and the world will have returned to the pursuits of peace. Hence it is seen that the above legislation has preserved one of the most important projects in all West Texas. The UCRA includes a flood control project on the North Concho in Tom Green county, and the irrigation project in Coke county. Both projects have been given official approval by the U. S. army engineers, and have been recommended to Congress as both feasible and desirable.

The bill passed in the Senate Monday and was sponsored by Senator Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo.

The House passed the bill Wednesday, where it was sponsored by Representative W. H. Rampy of Winter and Representative Burke T. Summers of Big Spring. Immediately upon its passage by the House, Representative Rampy called The Enterprise by long distance and told of the good news.

Time work, gentlemen, you have done.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Brunson have moved to San Angelo where Mr. Brunson has a place with the meat department of the M System No. 1. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Brunson regret to lose them to Bronte—but all wish them prosperity and happiness in their new home.

Dan Scott who is now stationed at Casper, Wyoming, has been advanced to the rank of corporal. So, it goes among Bronte's boys in the service—they are passing on from privates to place of official rank in military service of their country.

SOME SAFETY RULES FOR SWIMMING AND BATHING ARE GIVEN

Austin, Texas, April 22.—Some timely advice to vacationists and picnickers was released from the State Health Department today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

It was pointed out that, in view of wartime restrictions, vacation pleasures are apt to be limited to excursions and picnics at nearby lakes, rivers, and ponds of unfamiliar depths and currents, and without the usual lifeguard supervision associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted, "nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety are disregarded."

The following simple rules for bathing and swimming in safety were suggested: at least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water; never dive into unfamiliar waters; upon first indication of fatigue, come ashore and don't re-enter the water; leave the water immediately, if chilled; do not enter the water when overheated; learn to float; never attempt to rock a boat in a spirit of fun; never swim in water that may be polluted. Swimming close to or even a few miles below sewage outlet is inviting the possibility of acquiring diseases.

"Excursions, picnics, and swimming parties contribute much to a healthy, happy, normal life, which is especially desirable at this particular time when the whole nation is under the strain of war," said Dr. Cox. "It is by no means advisable to eliminate these excursions from our summer program, but it is important that they prove beneficial and not disastrous."

NEW INSECTICIDE LAW PROTECTION TO FARMERS AGAINST IMPOSITIONS

The agricultural insecticide bill officially known as Senate Bill 5 passed both the House and Senate by overwhelming votes and recently signed by the Governor provides for regulation and control of the sale and distribution of agricultural insecticides and fungicides. Prior to the enactment of this law, there was no act regulating the sale of such products in Texas and as a result many worthless and sometimes harmful products were sold to the farmers as agricultural poisons and insecticides. Numerous farmers throughout the State have lost a great part of their crops due to the use of such worthless products, and it was not an uncommon occurrence to hear of farmers who had lost 25 or more bales of cotton due to the use of such products.

At the start of this legislative session Governor Stevenson incorporated in his emergency legislation this subject, and various bills were introduced in regard thereto including one in the Senate by Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe and three in the House, one by Fred V. Klingman of Karnes City, one by Representative W. R. Chambers of May, and one by Representative Frank Svadenak of Thrall. All of these bills were thoroughly considered and studied by the House Agricultural Committee, of which R. A. Fuchs of Brenham is chairman, and the bill finally passed contains the best features of all these bills.

The new law defines agricultural insecticides and fungicides, sets up certain recognized standards to which they must conform, and provides for the registration of all such products with the Commissioner of Agriculture before sale in this state.

A father is fighting...
So his boy may tinker

with Electricity

Over 160 of our men (and one woman) are in the U. S. armed forces. Last week one of these men, a good electrician who had been with the company for many years and who is a veteran of World War I, came home on leave. (He's a volunteer in the Navy.)

With him when he dropped around to say "hello" and talk shop with the fellows was his 13-year-old son... wearing his Boy Scout uniform.

All the guys were darn glad to see him and knew he has a swell Navy rating as an electrical technician. Naturally they asked a lot of questions and learned that Uncle Sam's Navy thinks mighty high of its men who come from America's electrical companies where they got their training and experience. They learned, too, that electric power is behind most of the Navy's great punch...

building ships, guns, bombs, torpedoes and the like with which to win the victory.

Finally someone asked: "Well, Don, have you decided—just what are YOU fighting for?" He answered right off, pointing to his son.

"Me—I'm fighting for this kid. He's a Boy Scout, see, and it teaches 'em to be independent and self-reliant. Well, dictators and bureaucrats don't like that—they want regimentation. So I'm fighting so he—and millions like him—will be free."

"Too, the kid's kinda like me. He has a knack for tinkering with electricity... likes it, see. Well, the kid may not be another Edison. But I want him to have the same opportunities that Edison had—and a lot of other guys who helped make this country great."

"I want him to be free to tinker all he likes. And if anything comes of it, if his tinkering creates something useful to the world, like Edison's tinkering, I want him to share in the profits."

Out of this freedom of individual opportunity grew America's great industries that today are pouring out the weapons of war... as in peacetime they pour out the comforts and conveniences of everyday home life to give us the highest of all standards of living.

This freedom is worth fighting for. Free men and women, working out their own destinies with their own hands and minds... building, inventing, improving... taking the risks and enjoying the rewards. And bettering the world as they better themselves!

NEW LAW—

The new law provides three safeguards for the farmers in regard to the sale of such products. (1) A penal provision which makes it a misdemeanor punishable by fine to sell products in violation of this law.

(2) A method of revocation of the license of all manufacturers or jobbers selling products in violation of this law, such revocation to be brought about thru due legal process.

(3) A method of condemnation and forfeiture of all misbranded or adulterated products sold in violation of this law in order to prevent the sale of such products to the farmers.

The expense of the operation of this act is paid out of the fees collected from the manufacturers for registration, and will not place an extra expense on the

America's Food Emergency

A Statement by Santa Fe

United States facing most critical "crop year" in its history

During the coming months, the need for more food may be greater than the need for more guns, tanks and planes.

Serving, as it does, "the breadbasket of America," the livestock and meat industry, and the great fruit and vegetable areas of California and the Southwest, Santa Fe pledges its all-out effort in the production and mobilization of food.

What Santa Fe Is Doing

Santa Fe employes are planting Victory Gardens along their railroad's 15,199 miles of right-of-way.

Everything that rolls on the Santa Fe is being kept in fighting trim:

Old cars with good running gear are being rebuilt into sleek new gondolas.

Many Santa Fe refrigerator cars that used to go back "dead-head" now hurry back loaded with other freight.

Cars are few and hours are precious. Every hour a freight car stands idle holds back food or other vital war freight from folks who need it.

The supply experts of the Army and Navy, the ODT, and the Interstate Commerce Commission Bureau of Service are all focusing on this problem.

How Shippers Are Helping

Shippers are helping and can continue to help (1) by maximum loading; (2) by quicker loading; (3) by quicker unloading.

More than 57,000 Santa Fe folks join with the farmers, the livestock producers, the shippers, and the consumers of all America to help meet the greatest food crisis our nation has ever faced.

They're On The Job, Too!

The Agricultural Development Department of Santa Fe has cooperated with growers all along the line, for greater production per acre, through better seeds and better cultural methods. For example:

The people of the middle Rio Grande know how the desert has been converted into paying crops.

The folks in Blue Water Valley of western New Mexico know how the production of vegetables has increased from 86 to 1076 carloads in the past three years.

The potato growers of Kern County,

California, know how Santa Fe cooperated in stamping out ring rot and blight.

This year, the people in the Texas Panhandle are bringing in their first harvest of waxy beans which promises to produce the starch for potatoes and other important products that formerly came from the cassava roots of Java.

In the present national food emergency, these people of Santa Fe's Agricultural Development Department are working harder than ever, doing everything they can to help food growers all along the line.

"It is unreasonable to think that the women of West Texas are of a less patriotic character than the women of north, south and east Texas. We have a quota of 727 WAACs to meet by June 30. Coke county's quota is 2. It is a fair quota, based on your urban population. We appeal to you to meet it, double if it is possible."

The War Department is unable to meet current requests of camps and posts for WAAC units due to failure to meet recruiting quotas assigned for the first quarter of the year, he pointed out. "The WAAC is included in the overall strength of the army now, and it is absolutely necessary that its expansion keep pace with the overall training program." "We have it straight from Lieut. General Brehon Somervell that women can do many non-combatant jobs just as well as, and some better than, many men who are urgently needed and eminently qualified for combat duty.
