Bronte-born Boy Becomes a Hero; Saves Captain's Life

Today Capt. John M. Morrison, serving with a fighter squadron of the forward echelon of the 14th U. S. Air Force under the command of Col. Bruce K. Holloway, owes his life to the quick thinking and swift action of three enlisted men, T-Sgt. Eugene R. Arvin of San Jose, California, S-Sgt. Ralph J. Scott, of Kilgore, and S Sgt. William J. Barowsky of Shenandoah, Pennsylvania.

A dispatch sent from 14th Air Force headquarters in China September 18 describing the heroism of the three men was released by the War Department in Washington today.

Capt. Morrison was returning from a routine flight, and was coasting in for a landing. He made a sharp bank, and then his ship stalled, and the plane slipped in. As the plane hit the ground the belly tank exploded and the plane was enveloped in flames.

They Can't Realize—

Before me on my desk is a letter from a West Texas boy to his mother. He says a lot more, but one thing he says is this:

"The people of America can't realize what the word 'War' means. They know that some people are fighting somewhere, but they can't realize what the boys are going through over here and elsewhere."

"To some extent, I disagree with that boy. His brother had just been killed. He was taking his brother's place. He knew he was facing the same fate as that which took his brother. Today he, too, is "missing in action" in the European theatre.

I do feel that the people in America today are realizing what is happening overseas—in Italy, in Russia, in the Balkans, in China, in Burma, and in the Southwest Pacific. Through their own loved ones, they are learning more of the truth that war is horrible in its waste of

Rev. Hak Park, Here Thursday Night, at M. E. Church

It is with genuine pleasure The Enterprise makes the announcement that Rev. Hak Park, a Korean, who saw service at Guadalcanal and was a captive of the Japs, will speak at the Methodist church in Bronte, Thursday night—Thanksgiving night.

Rev. Park was to have been here Sunday morning, but due to other arrangements, he could not come. Those interested (which should be all who are Americans) will be glad for the opportunity to greet and hear this "unusual man with an unusual message."

Mr. and Mrs. Amel Fahstran and daughter, Ruth, of Melvin, and Mrs. Minnie French of Chicago are guests of Rev. and Mrs. A. Hanson. Mrs. Fahstran is a sister of Rev. Hanson and Mrs. French is his niece. The visitors, like almost all others who come, if they are not already almost "crazy" about Bronte, they will be before they go away. It simply is unfortunate that everybody are not privileged to call Bronte "home."

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. R. W. Sims in a hospital at San Angelo, suffering with infantile paralysis is reported as being improved.

Mrs. Jess Best who has been in a San Angelo hospital for some time is reported to be improving slowly.

Mrs. J. H. Rutherford of Oak Creek and her daughter, Mrs. Jim Adair of Bronte, have returned from an extended stay in St. Louis and at Madison, Illinois. They were called there by the serious illness of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Wm. Brennan, who has been and is yet dangerously ill. Mrs. Brennan will be remembered all over the country, and especially by her host of friends and radio admirers as "Mildred Ann," who sang for quite a period over KMOX in St. Louis. She sang the popular songs of the times and played her own accompaniment on the guitar. But she married and became a mother and homemaker, at which she has been successful as she was as a radio entertainer. Mrs. Brennan though suffering, sent her regards by her mother and sister to all her friends of the other days. Her friends will regret to know of the illness of Mrs. Brennan and all will wish for her speedy and complete recovery. Mesdames Rutherford and Adair also visited other relatives at Madison.

HOME EC CLASS HONORS EDITH ELDRIDGE WITH FAREWELL PARTY

The Home Ec girls met Tuesday of last week with their sponsor, Mrs. B. F. Kirk, to honor Edith Eldridge with a farewell party who has moved to Sonora. Games were played by the group and refreshments were served. A gift was presented to the honoree.

Mrs. Herbert Harkrider and daughter, Miss Jenie Mae, and son, Herbert, Jr., were Sunday guests with Mrs. Harkrider's parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. Hanson.

Death Takes "Uncle Ed" Hallmark at Ripe Aye of 93

Tuesday, November 16, 1943, death came and called one of the last of the pioneers of this section of West Texas—"Uncle Ed" Hallmark, who died at the family home five miles west of Bronte. Following religious services at the home, Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. Hanson, pastor of the Bronte Methodist church, interment was in Fairview, with Frank Keeney undertaker in charge.

Deceased was born in Houston, November 14, 1850, making him to be ninety-three years and two days old when he was called to pass.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallmark came West in 1900, settling in this immediate section and have been here through the years. They did their part in the earlier days when the country was still a frontier without conveniences or advantages.

Those who survive are the companion and four children—two daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Daisy Hickman, Bronte, and Mrs. Delia Ogle, Fort Worth; the sons are Alec Hallmark, Bronte; and C. E. Hallmark, Dallas. There are also four brothers, ten grandchildren, nine great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren.

"Uncle Ed," as he was called for many years by his friends, was a member of the Christian church. He is one of the last of the "old school" of "gentlemen of the old South"—chivalrous, courageous, brave, loyal (Continued on last page)

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Percifull were happy as two "kids," Sunday. They had all their children and children-in-laws at home except one son and family. Their son, Noel and wife from California were here; also their son, Wayman, wife and baby. Their daughter, Miss Marjorie from San Antonio was also at home. Dan and wife were the absent ones.

S. A. KIKER WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

We "struck" County Commissioner S. A. Kiker the other day, and he seemed to be feeling "fit and fine"—it was the day after the Armistice feed and program Sunday. He talked like perhaps he could "lik" Hitler, single-handed and alone.

Therefore, we ventured to "pull" a "news reporter's trick" on him, and "pump" him about his candidacy for Commissioner next year. He made a strong "pull on his familiar old pipe and said, "well, I had not thought much about it—as it is some time yet before time for such matters."

But, upon being assured that we would stay with him till sun down or get a definite answer, he said: "Yes, I will be a candidate and will announce for the office at the right time." So, that is definite. For as The Enterprise knows, Mr. Kiker has no one who is even thinking of being a candidate against him. One thing sure, S. A. Kiker is the good of his precinct and county.

Rev. A. Hanson sends The Enterprise to Mrs. M. Kieth at Louise, Tex., and Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. Kieth have been close and intimate friends for long years.

Armistice Program By Legion, Full of Fun and Patriotism

With the precision and perfection of an army corps on the march, every feature of the Community Armistice Day program, sponsored by the local American Legion Post, that was rendered Sunday, from the moment the visiting soldiers called "halt," at the city park, where the tables were literally groaning with barbecue and the other essentials to a typical West Texas barbecue lunch, to the moment late Sunday night when the captain in charge of the soldiers, called "Company fall in," was as nearly all that is humanly possible to make such an occasion.

The George Scott Post decided a few weeks ago to have such a celebration, believing that it would be for the good, not only of the veterans of World War I but also for the boys in uniform now, as well as their parents and other loved ones and friends in this section. So, the "boys" went in for "a big un"—and "a big un," sure enough it was.

and chickens were slaughtered and barbecued to "a king's taste." The tables at Legion Park were set in order. By the hour for the barbecue lunch, the folks had come—not only the invited soldier boy guests, some of whom were to entertain in the afternoon, but the civilians from everywhere, all over these parts were there.

And such a feast! Some who were present assert that if all the boys of War II fight, and are going to fight, like those kakhi-clad boys ate that barbecue lunch, Hitler had as well come in and surrender now—for, those boys are going to shoot the "hit" out of Hitler and the "hit-o" out of Hirohito. Anyhow, everybody, both visiting soldiers and the civilians had "one whale of a good time."

And the program at the school auditorium in the afternoon was "a pun.h" from the moment that Master of Ceremonies B. F. Kirk stepped upon the platform until "taps sounded" late in the afternoon.

Professional entertainers from Ponce Field at Ballinger and Goodfellow Field at San Angelo saw to it that there was not a dull moment from the first to the last. Due to absence of the editor we cannot give their names and the particular parts of the entertainers. But, H. O. Whitt assures us that it was an afternoon that will not soon be forgotten—that while the entertainers provoked roaring laughter, yet the clan of bloody rednecks who have brought on this war were not forgotten.

One of the finest things associated with the whole affair, according to the legion leaders and members, and everybody else in these parts, was the generous thing on the part of Boehme's Bakery at San Angelo, who donated the bread for the occasion, giving the legion 100 loaves of their fine bread. Thanks were expressed to the bakery during the afternoon as the program progressed. And Mr. Witt, adjutant of the local legion, requests The Enterprise in this way to express the thanks of all for this generous gift.

There was such an abundance of food that the soldier guests were served supper before they started on their return home.

Mrs. Claud Overman Dies in California; Buried at Eldorado

Early Monday morning, November 8, 1943, Mrs. Claud Overman died at the family home in Brisbane, California. The body was returned to Eldorado, the home of her mother, Mrs. W. B. Cobb, for burial. Interment was Sunday afternoon, following religious services at the Presbyterian church in that town.

Deceased was born at San Angelo, July 27, 1905. She was reared in Coke county and attended school at Bronte for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Overman were married at Eldorado December 25, 1932. Some years ago they went to California where Mr. Overman for some time has been engaged in work at a defense plant. Mr. Overman lived at Wilmeth in his boyhood days.

Those who survive besides the husband and mother are two sons: Roy Dee Witt, Kodiak, Alaska and Merle Ray Overman, Norman, Oklahoma; a sister, Mrs. Paul McLeod, Sonora; a brother, Cliff Cobb, Port Arthur, several uncles and aunts and other relatives.

Her son, Roy Dee, is in the service in Alaska, where he has been serving for 26 months. He is an aviation metalsmith. Upon advice of the death of his mother he got a 14 day furlough—4 days travel and 10 days stay. He flew to Seattle and from there to Oakland, where he intercepted his father and wife who had already started on the trip to Texas with the body. From there he journeyed to Texas with them. He and Miss Dorothy Gene Barron who formerly resided at Wingate and was the daughter of M. D. Barron of Wingate, but is now in California, were married at Reno, Nevada, November 10, 1942. Roy Dee, accompanied by Mrs. Witt, will fly to Seattle on his return, and she will return to Los Angeles, while he will fly back to his post in Alaska.

Merle Ray, the other son, is in the Navy and is in training at Norman Oklahoma—he will soon return to his post.

Deceased was a gracious woman—free and happy in spirit, always with a smile and kindly word for all with whom she came in contact, and, hence, was loved by those of the family circle and by her friends. The beautiful floral offerings, piled high at her bier in the beautiful little church where she and her family used to worship, the fine and comforting words of the minister and the hymns of the church choir—all attested that she was loved by all in the circles in which she was known. And as the sun of that quiet, beautiful autumn Sunday afternoon hung low in the western sky, the body was put away, there in that sequestered spot, to sleep undisturbed, until all things earthly shall be no more.

But, she leaves memories to her loved and friends that are sweet as the songs of the angels!

Dwaine Pruitt returned to his post at Sheppard Field Friday night, after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Pruitt, and other relatives.

WINTER DISEASES OF CHILDREN DANGEROUS, SAYS HEALTH OFFICER

Austin, Texas, November 18.—Seasonal health hazards for young children are to be guarded against in the wintertime just as carefully as they are in the summertime in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Every mother is familiar with so-called summer complaints which affect small children but certain winter diseases can be just as harmful and are just as likely to make their appearance unless proper precautions are used," Dr. Cox said.

The group of winter diseases Dr. Cox included influenza, millitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, and even diphtheria when a child has not been immunized. Any such disease affecting a child's respiratory or breathing system is apt to be very serious and only too often fatal. Pneumonia often develops from a neglected cold or may follow a severe case of measles or whooping cough. Bronchitis condition may also prove to be any after effect of these diseases and these respiratory ailments are much more difficult to combat successfully than the digestive ailments which are prevalent in the summer time and known as summer complaints.

"These winter diseases are especially dangerous to babies and very young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread from the secretions of the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense against them is to strengthen the child's power of resistance against disease," Dr. Cox advised. "The second step is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure that they avoid contact with those who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

WACS TAKE COURSES IN ARMY FINANCE

Soon to Serve in Accounting, Pay Roll, Personnel Work in Field

Sweetwater, Texas, November 18, 1943.

To The Bronte Enterprise: Army finance has opened its doors to women, Lt. Patricia Nicolai, of WAC recruiting in this vicinity, said today. WACs are now being trained in two army finance schools to take over non-combatant duties in this branch of the army.

The courses given the WACs, both officers and enlisted personnel, include accounting, operation of checkwriters, computing pay rolls, insurance and allotments and organization and operation of the army disbursing office.

Following completion of the 10-week specialized course, WACs are assigned to active duty at an army camp or post and release fighting men for combat duty, Lt. Nicolai pointed out.

Among the 155 jobs WACs are now taking over besides finance in the army, is in personnel in which WACs conduct interviews, help in classifying and assigning men to training and aid in handling mail and personnel records.

Women of Bronte and vicinity may obtain information on the WACs and application blanks from the U. S. Army Hdqs., Municipal Bldg. Sweetwater.

J. ROBT. KNIERIM HAS COMPLETED COURSE IN HEAVY BOMBER SERVICE

To The Enterprise:

Keesler Field, Biloxi, Mississippi, November 18.—The Army Air Forces Training Command announced today the graduation of Cpl. Jephtho R. Knierim from the B-24 Liberator bomber mechanics school at Keesler Field.

Cpl. Knierim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knierim, Bronte, Texas, has just completed a course of approximately 17 weeks of training in all phases of servicing the heavy bomber, its fuel, electrical and hydraulic systems, instruments, engine operation and inspection.

In the last phase of school, the student spent eight days at "Fort Liberator," graduation field test area, where he alternately worked on aircraft and took up battle positions against mock attack. There he learned to put into operation under difficult conditions what he had learned in the earlier phases.

The graduates now will go to active duty on the line, to factory schools for more advanced training in aircraft maintenance or to one of the Training Command flexible gunnery schools to learn to be aerial gunners.

life and materials, of man's spirit and substance.

And I believe that more Americans are resolving, as that boy bitterly declared in his letter to his mother, that: "I am going to carry on to my last breath . . . and see to it after this war is over . . . that my children and the children to come never have to go through a war as horrible as this one."

But this boy didn't mean that he was going to stick his head in the sand and just wish that there would be no future wars. He wanted to go ahead and rush forever the spirit which spawns the aggressors and war-makers. He was determined to "get the job finished this time."

And there you have the reason why, when you talk to the boys who have really experienced war, you feel more confident than ever before that no false armistice will stop them this time. They intend to keep going until their bayonets have routed out of their war offices in Berlin and Tokyo those would-be world-conquerors who now, like cornered rats, concede their fate but seek the maximum of revenge on those who smashed their unholy plans.

Buy a War Bond FOR FREEDOM

*For Freedom's

FOURSORE and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

Fourscore years ago this November, Abraham Lincoln began his immortal Gettysburg Address with those words, in dedicating the National Cemetery at Gettysburg, Pa. Through the years that address has come to be known as one of the greatest documents of the ages, calling every loyal heart to "be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us . . . that these dead shall not have died in vain . . . that this Nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom."

FREEDOM . . . that little word that means so much! In this country we see its symbols everywhere. Our churches, our newspapers, our lecture halls, our assemblies, our businesses . . . all represent that one, all-important word. Under the influence of Freedom and what it represents, our country has grown in 150 years from a wilderness to the strongest power on earth. Today it is free people who are saving the world. People who will never allow themselves to be conquered!

FREE ENTERPRISE . . . Another word that creates tangible results. Free Enterprise . . . the force that enables private business-operating companies, like ours, to serve the public in their own zealous individual service-giving manner. From them each of us has earned personal benefits—our community has prospered and our country has become the richest in the world. When those who are fighting the battle of freedom return home to America, they'll expect this ideal to be preserved. It's up to us to do it!

Let us commemorate this, the 80th Anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, as "dedication day," an occasion for re-dedicating ourselves "to protect the rights and liberties of American Citizenship and maintain National Honor, Union and Independence."

CARD OF THANKS

We take this way of expressing our deep and sincere thanks to our dear friends and the good people of Bronte and elsewhere for their kindly sympathy and gentle ministries to us in the death of our dear husband and father, R. May God bless you, each and all.

His leg was caught under the seat. I reached down and got it loose, and Scotty and Barowsky hauled him out of the plane to safety. Well, that's about all there is, I guess.

Both T-Sgt. Arvin and S Sgt. Scott have been in foreign service almost two years. When S-Sgt. Scott was asked why he went out, he said with a laugh, "I was after the knife in the jungle kit." T-Sgt. Arvin said, summing it all up, "We were just the first ones there. Anybody else would have done the same." S-Sgt. Barowsky said laconically: "Just duty."

S-Sgt. Scott, son of Mrs. Leon Whaley of 707 Crim, attended Kilgore High School and the College of Marshall before enlisting in the Air Force. He was trained as a mechanic at Boston, Massachusetts, and at Maxwell Field, California. From there he was sent overseas, first to Australia then to India, and finally to China.

He has three sisters, Miss Maurine Scott, a teacher in Kilgore High School, Miss Billie Ruth Scott, and Mrs. Jo Dell Spears. A brother, James L. Scott is also in service.—Kilgore Herald.
