F. F. A. Banquet A "Whoopin' Success" In Every Particular

"Yeah," the "old home town paper" was a little late last issue, getting out to its readers—and there's a reason. H. B. Edmondson, v. a. teacher of the Bronte schools, and his farmer boys had a banquet last week on "press night"—and we couldn't resist the temptation when we printed the program for the occasion and saw on the menu that there was to be chicken and giblet gravy, with all the other accessories. And this is to advise each and all and sundry that if you don't want to catch the average editor, don't set a mouse trap and bait it with "chicken and giblet gravy."

And "believe you me," the banquet was "a whale of a success," everywise. The attendance was large—plates were laid for more than one hundred. The menu was arranged and served temptingly by Mrs. B. F. Kirk and her home ec girls. The program was excellent—the future farmers in charge of the program "put it over" with a whizz and a bang. Keeney Arrott was master of ceremonies—and he could serve at a state occasion where the "mighty and the great" appear and keep the proceedings moving without a dull moment. With all this, the crowd was in jolly spirit.

Congratulations to you, Mr. Edmondson and your future farmers, on the delightfulness of the evening's program—and if you ever want the editor to attend another like occasion, all you have to do is to invite him, and serve "chicken and giblet gravy"—for, he has already accepted the invitation in advance.

Red & White Store Remodeled, Down to Date

Whatever one business institution in Bronte does that shows its progressiveness, is a distinct compliment to the entire business personnel of the town. On that basis Bronte should feel that it lacks "a bird's eye sight" of being knocked out, yet.

For, if one will go to the Red & White store, owned by Cumbe & Company and managed by I. M. Cumbe, and see the interior of that grocery and meat mart, he will find himself wondering if he ever saw a more attractive and beautiful store interior and a more imposing arrangement of the lines of merchandise on display.

And further, it is a compliment to Mr. Cumbe. At this time when everyone in business, if not jittery, he is handicapped because of the shortage of manpower, many business concerns, if not retrenching, are passive and "just waitin' to see what's goin' to happen," Mr. Cumbe has thrown himself into his business and has had his store building, both inside and out, worked over, remodeled and modernized and beautified, and installed new fixtures, thus saying to the people of "Bronte land," "let's go forward."

And without one bit of flattery, the writer has never seen anywhere a more attractive place where merchandise is sold and the display fixtures more pleasingly arranged. It will be well worth anyone's visit to go and see this New Remodeled (Continued on last page)

Six Were Injured Early Sunday Night In A Car Wreck

Sunday night there was a car wreck, resulting from a tire blowing out, just the other side of Orient at the Crow's Nest creek bridge, that seriously injured six persons. Five of the number were soldiers from Camp Barkeley.

Frank Dickerson, a civilian, was driving the car, with the five soldiers as passengers. They had been to San Angelo and were returning to Camp Barkeley. At the Crow's Nest creek bridge the tire went down and threw the car into the bridge, turning it completely over and injuring all six of the occupants. Camp Barkeley was contacted and an army ambulance was sent for the injured and carried them to Camp Barkeley, where they received treatment for their injuries. It was thought when they left Bronte that none was dangerously injured.

Elbert Stephenson Reported Missing By the War Dept.

The shadows of war fell again upon Bronte last week, when the War Department wired Mrs. Elbert Stephenson that her husband was missing in action. The missing soldier boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jap Stephenson of Bronte. He was born and reared here and was educated in the Bronte schools. His wife before her marriage was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lem Cowley of Robert Lee. Upon receipt of the message she at once informed the parents of her husband.

Later news came from some of Elbert's comrades in battle in letters to their wives, that they hoped for Elbert, as they saw his plane go down and it fell within the American lines.

These are tragic hours and The Enterprise shares these anxious hours with the loved ones, and all others who are in like condition, in their anxiety and sorrow.

Worship Hours at The Methodist Church Changed

Rev. A. Hanson, pastor of the Bronte Methodist church, requests The Enterprise to announce that the hours of worship at his church are changed, beginning next Sunday as follows:

Church school will begin at 10 o'clock instead of 10:30 as it has been heretofore, and the preaching hour is set for 11 o'clock instead of 11:30 as heretofore. Let everybody who is interested take notice.

Rev. Hanson and his church leaders inaugurated mid-week prayer service again, Wednesday night, and will hold the prayer service each Wednesday night. "The world is failing," said Rev. Hanson, "because the people have ceased to be prayerful as they should."

All are cordially invited to attend any and all of these hours of worship.

Founders Day of the Association was observed by a playlet, given by the Speech Department, directed by Mrs. Jeff Dean.

After the program a free will offering was taken which was $1.71.

The president called the house to order for a business session. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The president appointed a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Otis Smith, Miss Nell Lowry and Mrs. Allene Mitchell.

The Executive Committee of the Bronte PTA met March 7, 1943, in the superintendent's office.

A report that all library books had been purchased was received.

A recommendation was made that two delegates be sent to the 6th district conference at Odessa, with all expenses paid.

The committee adjourned.

STATE FILES ANTI-TRUST SUIT AGAINST THREE TEXAS COMPANIES

Grover Sellers, Attorney General for the State of Texas, announced in Austin last Friday that he had filed an anti-trust suit in the 119th District Court at Ballinger, Texas, against Fairbanks Morse and Company of Illinois, with offices in Dallas; and the Universal Electric Company of Alabama, with offices in Dallas, a Texas Corporation, headquartered in Dallas.

The Attorney General, in his petition, alleges that these three companies conspired "to furnish equipment and sell Fairbanks-Morse diesel engines and equipment to various municipalities in the State of Texas, to the exclusion of all other brands and makes of engines and equipment; and further, to control the municipal elections and to determine the plans and specifications and the bidding of such construction in the cities of Jasper, Angleton, Sonora, and the City of Winters. Each of the above municipalities and cities being located and situated in the State of Texas. Thereby eliminating all competition in the sale of equipment and in the construction of municipal power plants in the cities herein named."

The Attorney General's petition further points out that the defendant, Fairbanks-Morse Company, has engaged in the business of selling diesel engines and the construction of municipal power plants in the State of Texas for a period of ten years or more; the defendant, the Universal Electric Construction Company, has been engaged in the construction of municipal electric and other utility construction for municipalities in Texas for the past four years; and that the H. B. Gieb and Company is an engineering corporation which holds itself out as an independent consulting engineer, and has, for the last four years, been engaged in the preparation of plans and specifications for the construction of municipal utility plants. These defendants have occupied a dominant position in the business of constructing municipal plants in Texas since about the first of January 1940.

Coke County F. F. A. Livestock Show, at Robert Lee, Monday, Greatly Surpassed All Expectations, Everywise

Monday was truly a "red letter" day in the educational, industrial and economic life of Coke county—it was the 5th Annual Coke County FFA and 4-H Club Livestock Show. Previous to the Coke County Show coming into existence, the Bronte FFA Livestock Show had been in existence for some years. It was enlarged in 1940 and took in as a part of the organization the FFA department of the Robert Lee schools and the 4-H clubs of Coke county. And the name was changed to its present name.

Each succeeding year the show has grown in proportions every wise—in interest, in exhibits, and the quality of the livestock exhibited, as well as increase in attendance at the annual exhibit. This year surpassed all former years in the number of exhibits, the quality of the exhibits and the premiums awarded.

The Coke County Livestock Association, which is made up of the ranchers and farmers of the county, sponsors and finances the show. That is explanation for the increase in the money awards. Coke county this year, it is said, had more money for awards than any county in West Texas. The show announced at the outset that $600 had been provided for awards. But before the show was over they had in hand something around $800. D. B. Collinsworth, v. a. teacher at Robert Lee, Travis B. Hicks, county agriculture agent, who directs the 4-H clubs of the county, and H. B. Edmondson, v. a. teacher at Bronte, are the active directing forces.

And the show Monday was a distinct credit to the exhibitors, the directors of the show and to all Coke county—for, it would be difficult to assemble as many choice animals as were shown at Robert Lee Monday. And as for their quality, Douglas Gartman, 17 year old FFA boy at Robert Lee, had 4 calves on exhibit. He won first place with one of his calves and sold it to the M System Stores, Wednesday morning. Mr. Edmondson took some of his boys and their exhibits to the West Texas Boys Livestock Show at Abilene. Gartman took one of his three calves and it won 2nd place in the dry lot class, and also won the grand championship in the dry lot class. He sold the calf to the Wooten hotel at 30 cents a pound. In this class, Johnny Clawson, FFA boy of Robert Lee who, it is said, worked against many odds, won fifth place. In the lamb dept. Eugene Rives, of Robert Lee, placed 8th. In the swine department, in the pen of 3 pigs, Floyd Sheppard, Robert Lee, won 4th place. Hence, Mr. Collinsworth returned home considerably "cocky" about old Coke county and the Robert Lee future farmers.

Mrs. Jack Eaton becomes a paid-in advance subscriber to "the old home town paper." Mrs. Eaton says that she and Mr. Eaton enjoy the farm and its freedom of life very much, since giving up the road show life. They have bought them a farm north of town and are making many improvements. They have just had a "hog-killing" time on the farm, having butchered enough hogs to supply them their meat and lots of "good ol' cracklin' bread."

In the show Monday, the animals were judged on a classification basis; ranking 1, 2, or 3 according to their commercial grade. Exhibitors and rankings (No. 1, 2, and 3 in that order) were:

QUICKIE FARMERS

To the Editor: This is my vote, "NO" in what I think of the local draft. I do not think it handled fairly, where these young men set up in farm production overnight just for deferment. We have several in this community.

Editor's note: The above is a clipping taken from another newspaper, in which the writer of the article was expressing his opinion with reference to the question involved, and the clipping was sent in to The Enterprise with a request that it be published.

That Red Cross Drive— One Way You Can Help

The vital nationwide drive for $200,000,000 for the Red Cross is now on. What more worthy cause is there to give to?

The Red Cross follows our men to the front lines. There it ministers to the wounded and the sick. There and farther back it brings cheer and comfort to the boys just when it counts most. To convalescents and the shell-shocked it brings a touch of home. Through its international affiliations, the Red Cross has been a major, and sometimes the only contact with our men held as prisoners of war.

Unselfish, non-profit—perhaps one cent of each dollar goes for administrative purposes—the Red Cross now is indispensable.

Remember: "The more I give, the more I live."
