Origin of Thanksgiving

By IDUS ENGLAND
Minister Church of Christ

The term Thanksgiving has long since lost its real significance. It is more commonly called today "Turkey Day," and turkey day has come in modern American to be simply a "legal holiday," which to some means merely a cessation of labors, to others maybe homecoming at the Alma Mater, while to others feasting and merriment, to still others revelling, carousing or even crime. To very few is it a day of celebration, because it is doubtful if the masses who observe this day would really realize what and why we celebrate the last Thursday in November.

But that is America, the United States of America, "a government of the people, by the people, and for the people." A nation whose foundation is the four freedoms, and one of those four freedoms (that of religion) being the origin of Thanksgiving.

In the year 1620 a little band of Pilgrims disembarked from the Mayflower at Plymouth now in the state of Massachusetts. These were not the first emigrants to land on American soil but previous efforts at colonization of this country had failed. This group of people had a very good reason for coming to America. They came as religious outcasts, fleeing from persecution, or as restless souls worsted at politics, or unable to gain a living at home. In this new world they were practically their own political and governing body, and their only fears in matters religious were the hostile Indians who would attempt to prey on them at their religious gatherings. Shortly after their arrival they were beset by the severe cold of winter, the hardships of livelihood that accompanied their lack of preparedness to meet it, and in addition to this was sickness, and constant fear of the Indians.

An undaunted faith in God helped them to persevere through the winter and the following farm season when they prospered in their labors at tilling the virgin soils.

Having completed successfully this first year being blessed with an abundance of physical needs, having had religious freedom, and having made friends of enough of the Indians to feel securely established in this new world, they called in the Indians and all gathered together a feast of their abundance and had a day of thanksgiving—thanksgiving to God for having made all these things possible.

And so it was through the sacrifices, and precedent of this little band of Pilgrims (the fathers and mothers of American liberty and freedom) that our present National Holiday exists.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Some time ago an article appeared in Copper's Farmer in which the cross bred sheep program in Coke County was discussed. The agent's office has received several letters in response to this article, some wanting to purchase Suffolk rams and others wanting to sell. Our latest letter is from Mesa, Ariz., in which the breeder wants to sell some purebred Suffolk spring bucks. Any rancher interested in these should contact the county agent's office.

HUMBLE PERSONNEL GUESTS AT SATURDAY BARBECUE

The personnel of the Humble office in Colorado City were the main guests at a barbecue given Saturday in the city park at Bronte. The barbecue was given by the McQueen & Clevenger drilling crew and the following landowners who have oil wells drilled by the Humble company: J. L. Brunson, R. E. Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Keeney, O. L. Johnson and Mrs. Nannie Ash. C. E. Earnest is the tool pusher for the McQueen & Clevenger crew here.

An estimated 500 persons attended and enjoyed barbecued beef and goat.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pittman and baby of Liberty are here visiting his parents and other relatives this week.

On the first Thanksgiving Day the Pilgrims knelt and gave thanks to God for His mercy and guidance during their first year in a new land . . . a land of plenty that was free from oppression and persecution. The hardships they endured were many, but their faith in Him was strong enough to overcome any obstacle. The roots they planted were deep and from them have sprung the greatest nation on earth.

In their humble way they gave thanks for the things that most of us take for granted as our due. They offered prayers of thankfulness for the freedom of worshipping as they pleased; they gave thanks for being given the opportunity of settling in a land of plenty. These are the things that we as Americans are blessed with from birth.

Let us, then, on this Thanksgiving Day, take time out and give thanks for our many blessings. Let us thank Him for the courage of our forefathers and for their faith. Let us all give thanks for the privilege of living in a land of plenty where freedom reigns with liberty and justice for all. And lastly, let us offer thanks for a Thanksgiving table that is filled with an abundance of food — a picture that is seen in few other countries throughout the world.

Thanksgiving Features Sunrise Service and Football Classic

ROBERT LEE-BRONTE BALL GAME MAIN ATTRACTION FOR HOLIDAY

The traditional Bronte-Robert Lee football game will be the Thanksgiving entertainment for a large part of Bronte and Robert Lee. Although both teams are out of the race for the district championship the game annually decides the Coke County championship.

Interest in the game is always high and the colorful rivalry between the two teams always provides a good football game with plenty of thrills for the spectators. The game will be played here on the Elbert Stephenson Field tomorrow afternoon.

Statistics give the Robert Lee Steers a slight edge. They have won four games and lost four, scoring 73 points to their opponents' 83. Bronte has two wins and seven losses on their record for the season with 62 points to their opponents' 138.

Probable lineups for the Bronte Longhorns: Vaughn, L.T.; Brown, L.T.; Lasswell, L.G.; McCutchen, C.; Ash, R.G.; Rusk, R.T.; Saeed, R.E.; Hester, Q.B.; E. Rusk, L.H.; Gentry, R.H.; and Sandusky, F.B. Bronte reserves are Wilkins, Winn, Whalen, Waldrop, Franklin, Caudle, Thomason, Brown and Phillips. Jack Price and W. N. Caddy are coaches for the Longhorns.

Probable Robert Lee lineup: Varnadore, L.E.; P. Smith, L.T.; Plumlee, L.G.; J. Sheppard, C.; Lofton, R.G.; Brunton, R.T.; McGallian, R.E.; and Roe, Hood, Hamilton and Mauldin in the backfield. On the reserve list is Baker, Kirkpatrick, Wink, Austin, Duncan, Davis, Brown, Carwile, Bloodworth, Simpson, Cox, Davis, Montgomery, Havins, Thetford, Robertson, Odum, Roberts, McAdams, and Martin. Mike Hughes is coaching the Steers.

The Bronte band and pep squad will perform at the half and those who saw the Armistice performance are sure the girls will have another treat in store for the fans at the half-time of the Thanksgiving Day game.

Mrs. Robert Knierim returned this week from San Antonio where she has been visiting her sister. Her sister has been in ill health for some time.

Mrs. J. O. Raney is in San Angelo visiting her daughter and son-in-law and helping with their new baby son who was born last week.

Bronte citizens will celebrate Thanksgiving Day in various ways. Some have indicated that they plan to spend the day quietly at home, while others say they will visit relatives and friends out of town.

The First Thanksgiving

By REV. ALVIN R. MAULDIN
Pastor Methodist Church

Reflection on the facts of the First Thanksgiving is quite revealing. It was not a thanksgiving for an easy time and for plenty. More than half of the heroic band of pioneers had died during the first hard winter. A few crude huts had been erected to live in, and a small amount of grain had been harvested.

The prospects of additional hardships were more in evidence than hope of comfort and plenty. In England, whither they could have returned the previous April, with the sailing of the Mayflower, they could have had far more of material blessings. Why then did they not return to England?

Because they were of a different religious belief than the established church, and would have met with persecution for their persistence in worshipping God in a different way. Why were they thankful? They were thankful for life and opportunity, and especially for freedom to worship God according to the dictates of their conscience.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MRS. SCOTT

Mrs. Ara Scott and her daughter, Mrs. Maurice Thoming, gave a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Scott last Tuesday night at the home of the hostesses. Several games were played.

Maraschino cake and hot chocolate were served to the honoree, Mrs. Walter Scott, Sheriff and Mrs. Paul Good and their grandson, Fred Bruce, Dorothy Scott, Junior Pruitt, Mrs. Lulu DuBose, Mrs. M. A. Scott, John Rogers, Mrs. Ida Rogers, Juanette and James Coalson, and Kenneth, Danny, Noel and Billy Scott, Tommy Thoming and the hostess.

A Sunrise Service at the Methodist Church has been planned as a community affair for the day. Rev. V. D. Price, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, will bring the morning message.

It was pointed out that the service is for all denominations and everyone is invited to attend. In addition to Rev. Price's talk, there will be several other numbers appropriate for the occasion.

Of course, in the afternoon, the big event on the docket for Bronte is the annual Turkey Day football game with Robert Lee. A story giving the details of this event will be found in another place in this paper.

Most all of Bronte's merchants will close for the day.

THANKSGIVING IS THEME OF MEETING

A sentence prayer for Thanksgiving was the roll call answered by members of the Junior Study Club at their Friday night meeting, Nov. 18, in the home of Mrs. Clark Glenn near Tennyson.

On the program were Mrs. Francis Pruitt with "Freedom and Peace" as her subject and Mrs. Charlie Phillips with "It Pays to Be Thankful" as her subject.

Two guests, Mrs. Dale Glenn and Mrs. Jack Belcher, were present for the meeting. A refreshment plate of hot tuna sandwiches, pear and cheese salad, ritz crackers, cookies and spiced tea was served to the guests and the following members: Mmes. James Allen, Louis Bridges, R. T. Caperton, Earl F. Glenn, Binks McCutchen, Ben Oglesby, Noel Percifull, Charlie Phillips, Francis Pruitt, Roy Robinson, Frank Sawyer, R. H. Sims, Bon Spoons and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKown and son left this week for Yuma, Ariz., where they will spend the winter. Mr. McKown has relatives there whom they will visit and he will also there during the winter months.

1-B Keeney Spuds in; 2 Percifull Sets Pipe

Humble No. 1-A Olive Mae Keeney, Bronte Field well, was completed this week and the rig was moved. However, no official figures as to the production of the well have been released.

McQueen & Clevenger Drilling Co. moved their rig Monday to the new location, which is known as the No. 1-B Olive Mae Keeney. Plans were to spud in this new venture either Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning.

Hickok & Reynolds No. 2 J. A. Percifull set surface casing at 600 feet Monday. Their plans were to be drilling ahead below that depth today.

Blessings of Year Have Been Many

By REV. V. D. PRICE
Pastor, First Baptist Church

Most of the countries of the world have a Thanksgiving Day—even though all of them do not fall on the last Thursday in November as ours does. It is most appropriate that peoples of all countries have certain seasons of thanks and that we exercise care lest we forget the Source of "every good and perfect gift." What a mean thing it is for anyone to sin against God in ceasing to be grateful or failure to express his gratitude at all times.

None of us will fail to appreciate the unusual blessings we have enjoyed in the past year. Let's not forget those many little things which make life worth living; and, most of all, may we remember that the greatest blessings are spiritual ones. As the poet has put it in the following words, Americans have much cause for thanks:

THANKS BE TO GOD

With gratitude we lift our voice to praise God's glorious name, To Thee who lifts the fallen up, restores the sick and lame. We thank Thee for Thy bounteous store that meets our every need. Above all else for Thy dear Son who still does intercede.

We praise Thee for Thy watchful care, Thy providence and grace That spite of tears, through rifted clouds, we can behold Thy face. We thank Thee for the storm and calm, for gain as well as loss, For adding to our stock of grace and burning up our dross.

We thank Thee for our native land, the home for all the free, And pray that none may be so vain as not to yield to Thee.

We praise Thee for the talents given and crave Thy help each day That we may use them as we should, and ample increase pay.

We thank Thee that we still believe that Thou art at the helm, That out of chaos Thou wilt bring the order of Thy realm;

And though men strive in bitter hate and seek to slay and maim, Thou wilt make their wrath to praise

Another location was staked on the Percifull place this week. The No. 3 Percifull is east of the No. 1 and is scheduled to be drilled to 5,500 feet. Plans call for it to be made into a gas well.

Humble No. 3 Sallie Odum Estate was finished this week for 27 barrels of oil and 62.1 barrels of water in 24 hours. Production is from the Strawn formation at 5,520 to 5,525 feet.

William Hamm, Jr., No. 1 S. L. McNay registered 146.6 barrels of 45 gravity oil in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 1,256-1 and production was from 5,290 to 5,331 feet. This well is in the Fort Chadbourne pool over in Runnels County. It is three and three-quarters miles east of the Humble No. 1 Odum, the field opener.

Last available report on Barnsdall Oil Co. No. 1 Findlater-Webb was that they were drilling below 3,260 feet.

C. H. Murphy No. 1 R. C. Russell, wildcat north of Robert Lee, was reported to be running 143 high in comparison to a wildcat failure to the southwest. It was drilling below 5,328 feet in shale.

DISTRICT FFA CONTESTS HERE ON DECEMBER 10

The District Leadership Contests for FFA chapters will be held in Bronte on Saturday, Dec. 10. The contests will begin at 9:30 a.m. Teams from Big Lake, San Angelo, Robert Lee, Bronte and probably Eola and Eden will be present.

J. T. Henry, local agriculture teacher, said this will be the first time Bronte has been the host school for the district contests. They will be held in the agriculture building.

Two divisions of each contest will be conducted. There will be contests for the FFA group and the Green-hand group in each of the following subjects: chapter conducting, farm skill demonstrations and FFA quiz. Banners will be awarded to the winners in each division.

BELVA STILL IMPROVING

Little Belva Karen Rippetoe is still improving, according to a letter from her mother this week. Mrs. Rippetoe said that she could not help but have hopes that she will be cured of the cancer with which she is stricken.

Thee and the result wilt Thou restrain.

Though dark the clouds and fierce the storm and high the billows roar, We know thou wilt guide us through and bring us to the shore.

Once more we render Thee our thanks and still do watch and pray, We'll do our best, stand every test and wait eternal Day."

Perhaps it will be acceptable if we seek to show our thanks as we offer them.

PRICE FOR OAK CREEK LAND TO BE SET AT TUESDAY HEARING

The three-man appraisal commission, appointed by Judge Jeff Dean, was scheduled to hear arguments and set a fair price Tuesday on land to be used in construction of the Oak Creek Reservoir project by the City of Sweetwater.

A hearing was held last Thursday but nothing was agreed upon. The commission, together with a representative of C. H. Wylie and another of Sweetwater, visited the site Saturday.

The land involved is part of the 19,000-acre Odum estate and is owned jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Wylie and Mrs. Nettie Curry of Ballinger. It is located about ten miles north-east of Bronte near the old Butterfield Trail. Sweetwater is seeking to condemn 1,022 acres of the ranch, although only 409 acres of land would actually be under water.

The City of Sweetwater has offered $30 per acre for the land, but Wylie has refused the offer and witnesses for him have testified that $100 per acre would be nearer a fair price for the land.

Wylie took the stand late Thursday and said that the construction of the lake would remove some of the best grazing land from his property and thereby decrease the value of the remaining land. He also declared that his livestock would be forced to go below the dam for watering purposes, a distance of more than two miles.

Sweetwater proposes to leave him the mineral rights on the land, but he maintains that they would be practically useless under the lake. Humble Oil & Refining Co. is drilling on the land at the present time.

The commission which will set the price to be paid for the land is composed of Frank McCabe, R. B. Allen and W. W. Ivey. Sweetwater is represented by City Attorney H. R. Bondies and Ney Sheridan, Jr., assistant attorney. Scott Snodgrass of San Angelo and Paul Petty and T. G. Patteson of Ballinger are representing Wylie.

Euterpean Club Has Meet Thursday in Sweet Home

By MRS. CHARLES BAGSDALE

Autumn leaves and a Thanksgiving theme were carried out in the house decorations last Thursday in the home of Mrs. L. W. Sweet when she was hostess to the Euterpean Club of Blackwell. Mrs. R. V. Copeland, president, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. H. C. Raney was leader for a "Stop, Look and Listen" program. The roll call was "A safety first slogan." "A Charge To Keep I Have" was sung by Mmes. Owen Colvin, Austin Jordan, Joe Weddle and J. Roy Sanderson. Emily Post's code of traffic courtesy was given by Mrs. Vernon Copeland and a poem, "Courtesy," by Edgar A. Guest, was read by Mrs. Cecil Smith.

Mrs. Cecil Smith conducted a motor quiz and "A Thanksgiving Prayer" by Edgar A. Guest was given by Mrs. F. S. Youree.

A refreshment plate was served to one guest, Mrs. Cletus Hyatt and the following members: Mmes. Owen Colvin, B. V. Copeland, Vernon Copeland, P. G. Dahney, Austin Jordan,

B. R. McCarley, O. Z. Porter, Charles Bagsdale, H. C. Raney, J. Roy Sanderson, W. C. Shamblin, Cecil Smith, Joe Weddle and F. S. Youree.

Jean Liles Honored At Seated Tea

Jean Liles, bride-elect of Frank Wojtek, was honored Friday night, Nov. 18, at a seated tea and bridal shower held in the home of Mrs. H. O. Whitt. Hostesses were Mmes. Whitt, C. B. Smith, Cecil Kemp, H. A. Springer and Gayle Hufstuler.

Guests were met at the door by Mrs. Kemp and registered in the bride's book, presided over by Mrs. Hufstuler. Open faced ritz sandwiches, cakes and coffee were served from a table centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums in a crystal basket on a mirror reflector. Mrs. Springer poured the coffee and Mrs. Smith assisted with the serving.

The guests were seated when Miss Liles and her mother came in. They were presented with corsages by the hostesses and then Miss Liles opened her gifts.

House decorations were yellow and white arrangements of chrysanthemums.

Miss Liles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Liles of Bronte and has been employed by the West Texas Utilities Co. here until recently. Mr. Wojtek is one of the owners of the Texas Theater. Date for the wedding has not been announced.

News from Coke County SCS

W. E. Burns, a supervisor of the Coke County Soil Conservation District, sold his lambs last week weighing 85.4 pounds pay weight. Mr. Burns started his conservation ranching program two years ago and has made noticeable recovery of the better grasses, A. V. Sheppard states.

To overcome the drought effects of last year, Mr. Burns cut his livestock down to about 85 ewes and five cows per section, to give his range grass a chance to get ahead of his livestock. He plans to increase gradually the livestock, keeping his eye on his grass.

"Nine acres of Dixie Wonder winter peas on my farm is getting off to a good start," said O. T. Colvin. "I seeded the peas in rows this Fall and they are up to a good stand. Dixie Wonder winter peas is a deep rooted annual legume that is proving beneficial as a soil building crop. I believe that landowners are going to have to find some legume that can be used to build up our soil," Colvin continued.

Two miles of level broad base terraces were completed last week on R. H. Sims' farm. The terraces are

Good Old Turkey Day THE AMERICAN WAY

While the thoughts of most of us naturally turn to turkey when we think of Thanksgiving Day, it is well for us to also think of the blessings that are ours personally and as a people.

First, we should be thankful that we are Americans. No country on the face of the earth has been more richly blessed than our own United States of America. Next we should be thankful for the privilege we enjoy of living in this fine community! True, there are some things we may not like about our own community just as there are some things we don't like about the way our national affairs are conducted. This should be a challenge to us to participate more actively in efforts to correct these situations. One needs only to sojourn away from home for a while to learn that "the old home town" is a pretty good place in which to live after all.

This year, in particular, all of us should be truly thankful. Strife, turmoil and uncertainty still afflict many of the people of the world in spite of all our efforts to make the world peaceful.

There are still many problems for us to solve here at home, but these are as nothing compared to the hopeless conditions faced by many peoples of the world today.

Grateful that we are privileged to associate and do business with the people of Coke County and its territory, we, the firms and individuals whose names appear below, desire to give public thanks and expression to the above thoughts at this Thanksgiving season.

Let Us Give Thanks—

The faith of the Pilgrims who founded our great country is a lesson to us that should be remembered. Their prayers of thankfulness on that first Thanksgiving Day were humble and sincere . . . they were prayers that gave them courage to carry on in the face of hardships and privation. On this Thanksgiving Day, then, let us offer prayers of thankfulness and ask for the divine faith that leads to a better and more peaceful world.

Former Coke Man Writes Prize Winning Book

Carl Coke Rister, noted author and historian who was born in Coke County at Hayrick, was recently presented with a $500 runner-up award by the Texas Institute of Letters for his book, "Oil, Titan of the Southwest."

It is the eleventh book he has written and recounts the rush for oil riches in the Mid-Continent and Gulf producing areas. It traces developments from the time of the Indians through the first wildcatting to recent explorations.

Rister was not a Coke County citizen long, as his father, pioneer preacher and carpenter at Hayrick, moved to San Saba County shortly after his birth.
