completed a range conservation plan on his ranches last week. The plan was developed to treat each acre according to its needs. The plan included a system of deferred and rotation grazing. This allows the better grasses such as side oats grama, little bluestem, Indian grass, switch grass, tall dropseed, blue grama and black grama to grow and increase in plant vigor, mature a seed crop, and build ap a grass litter. The plan also included seeding and farming on contour, development of livestock water, terracing of cropland, protecting crop stubble and maintaining on or near the surface of the soil, eradication of cedar and mesquite, seeding of cover crops and seeding of sonnel of Soil Conservation Service assisted Price with the development of the plan.

Several district cooperators comlin, C. N. Webb, B. B. Pierce, W. C. Cresap, Bryan Gartman, D. M. Millican and James Allen are some of the and owners who completed seeding of their winter cover crop. Land owners are seeding winter cover crops to tie down the soil, add nitrogen and build up the organic content of the soil. Rye and vetch, and Dixie wonder winter peas are the legumes being used by the district cooperators.

Buster Pierce, a member of the Valey View Group, completed construction of a diversion 1,200 feet long last week.
