March of Dimes Drive Nearing End and Goal

The March of Dimes ran in full swing this week as individuals and organizations dug into their pockets to give to the Polio Fund. Approximately $600 had been deposited for the east end of the county late Wednesday as reported by Mrs. Charlie Boecking, campaign chairman.

Twenty-nine of the 32 employees of Rowan Drilling Co. gave $71.00 to the drive. The individual cards that were sent out netted about $60.00. The Junior Study club gave $10.00 and the Woman's Progressive Club allotted $5.00 to the fund.

The First Baptist church in Bronte gave their Sunday night offering, which amounted to $94.65 to the Dimes March. The dance at the Legion Hall

Saturday night netted approximately $50.00 and the Lions Club collected $78.43 at the Texan Theater last Friday and Saturday nights.

From coffee sales, the three cafes in town have turned in $121.70 to Mrs. Boecking.

Diversity Club members conducted the Mothers March in the residential sections of town last night. Results were too late to get in this paper.

One more large activity to raise money for the March of Dimes will be the Square Dance at the Tad Richards barn tomorrow night. A top band will be on hand to provide the music and square dancers from all sections of the surrounding vicinity are expected to be in attendance. Last year this activity netted the drive $193. All proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Gertrude Gray In Race for Coke County Treasurer

Mrs. Gertrude Gray of Bronte is announcing her candidacy this week for the office of County Treasurer. Mrs. Gray is well-known here, having been a long time resident. In announcing her candidacy to the office now held by Mrs. Ruby Pettit, Mrs. Gray issued the following statement to the voters of Coke County:

"After much consideration, I have decided to make the race for County Treasurer of Coke County. I would like to acquaint the voters of the county with some of the facts about myself which you may wish to consider when you go to the polls next July.

"I was reared in Coke County and have lived here most of my life. I graduated from Bronte High School in 1928 and attended McMurry College for a short time after graduation from high school. I am a widow and have five children, ranging from 8 to 17 years of age.

"I have been employed at Lambers Laundry here in Bronte for the past eight years. My entire family and I are active members of the Baptist church.

"Since I do not have a car of my own, it may be difficult for me to contact each voter in the county personally, but I will do my best to do so. I will greatly appreciate your vote. I am personally acquainted with Mrs. Pettit and think she is a fine woman. I am making the race for her office solely because I need the job. I elected as your treasurer, I will discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability. Yours very truly, Mrs. Gertrude Gray."

NEW NSLI DIVIDEND BEGINS IN MARCH

The Veterans Administration today announced it will pay a regular dividend of $200,000,000, beginning in March, 1952, to approximately 5,000,000 holders of National Service Life Insurance.

Policy holders who wish to receive their 1952 dividend in cash must so notify VA, under the Public Law 36, 82nd Congress.

Policy holders who do not so notify VA, under this law, will not receive their dividend in cash. Instead, it will be used by VA to pay premiums becoming due after the dividend is payable, if the policy holder fails to pay such premiums. A special form is being mailed to all eligible policy holders which they may use to request cash payment, but any type of written request for the cash payment will be acceptable to the VA. The dividend is payable to policy holders whose policies were in force under premium paying conditions for 3 months or longer between the 1951 and 1952 anniversary dates of their policies.

The same dividend rates that were used in computing the 3-year dividend will apply to the 1952 dividend. Generally speaking, those who received the full three-year payment of the special 1951 dividend will receive approximately one-third of that amount in the regular 1952 dividend, provided their insurance was in force during all of the 1952 dividend year.

It is expected that the first payments will be made in March. Future payments are planned as soon after the anniversary date as is administratively possible.

ATTENTION, ALL FATHERS-IN-LAW

C. E. Bruton, owner of the local White's Auto Store, had the opportunity this week to do something that most all fathers-in-law would like to do occasionally. He fined his son-in-law for speeding.

In addition to operating the local store, Bruton is also justice of the peace for this precinct. His son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Speck Nicholas of San Angelo, were given a ticket by a highway patrolman for speeding Saturday night, along with instructions to appear before before the justice of the peace.

Bruton said that Nicholas brought the ticket in and didn't act like he wanted to fight the case—so he was fined $1.00 and costs.

Jimmy Burnett Has Birthday Party

Mrs. James Burnett honored her son, Jimmy, on his fifth birthday Wednesday with a party in their home.

A balloon theme was carried out in decorations and refreshments. Balloons were also favors. Birthday cake, punch and ice cream were served to Jimmy and the following little guests: David Burnett, Linda and Steve Whitaker, Vicky and Mary Brock, Danny Danley and Margie Oglesby.

RIGHT-OF-WAY FOR ROAD EAST OF HERE IS BEING SECURED

Commissioner Otis Smith said this week that some progress is being made in securing the right-of-way for the farm-to-market road east of Bronte to the county line.

Smith said that he has the deeds and has contacted most of the landowners and they all seem agreeable to the project's passing along their property lines.

Smith also said that there is a strong possibility that the road leading from the Bronte-Robert Lee highway to the Humble Camp west of here will be paved or at least made into an all-weather road. There are now ten residences located in the camp in addition to the office and supply grounds. Much traffic moves over the road, making the paving necessary.

1401 Poll Taxes Paid in Coke to 4:30 Yesterday

1401 citizens of Coke County showed their desire to vote in the forthcoming elections by paying their poll taxes up to 4:30 p. m. yesterday, only 30 minutes before the deadline.

Bronte voters were saved the trouble of going to the sheriff's office in Robert Lee when a sub-station was set up in the Bronte City Hall to allow local residents to get their poll tax receipts here.

A similar station was organized at Silver.

The 1451 eligible voters will have their chance to voice an opinion on several important matters which will come to a vote this year. In Bronte, school trustees and city officials will be chosen, and holders of poll tax receipts will vote on precinct, county, state and federal officials.

Of interest to voters in the east end of Coke there are three offices for which more than one candidate has announced his intention of seeking. J. T. Thetford, Wilson Bryan and incumbent Paul Good are running for Sheriff and Tax Assessor-Collector. Howard Brock this week announces that he is a candidate for Commissioner for Precinct 2, the office which is now held by Otis Smith. Mrs. Gertrude Gray is announcing this week that she will seek the County Treasurer's job now held by Mrs. Ruby Pettit.

More candidates are expected to come out for various offices before the final filing date in May.

Prehistoric Facts Sought Here By Archeologists

Edward B. Jelks and E. H. Moorman of the Smithsonian Institute are hunting in the river bed back of the Oak Creek Dam for some facts about prehistoric Texas. They made their first visit to the site Tuesday and will continue their work well into February.

The prize of their search would be some evidence of Folsom Man, dating back 10,000 years. They would settle for any information that would help fill in the gaps relating to prehistoric Texans.

Jelks, who read a paper at the recent sessions of the Texas Archeological and Paleontological Society, heads what is known as the River Basin Surveys, directed by the Smithsonian Institute, in the Southwest. He has headquarters at Austin. With Moorman as assistant, it is his hope to make an appraisal of the archaeological sites to be flooded by the Oak Creek Reservoir in northeastern Coke County.

The survey is a part of the archaeological salvage program of the River Basin Surveys. The exploration is designed to save important archaeological materials from destruction by the present extensive dam construction program in the United States.

The Coke county site is in an area that is not well known archaeologically. Investigations in nearby areas have resulted in some information relative to prehistoric inhabitants. If the sites develop anything to fill in the gaps, the likely areas will be recommended for excavation. Any excavations, if approved, will take place next fall.

Leon Sharp returned Monday from Grandfalls, Texas, where he was engaged in a meeting at the Church of Christ from January 20th through 27th.

PERSONALITY RIDDLE

(Ans. to last week—J. L. Carroll) He's sorta bald, short and fat. What in the world do you think of that?

He's very nice, courteous and neat.

But his name we can't repeat. He's extremely clever—why yes! Still can't tell you who to guess. He has a strict golden rule.

Seriously, kid, stay at school. He has a son and two daughters. Drives a blue car worth several quarters.

He likes hunting and fishing, too. You know him and he knows you.

LONGHORN GOSSIP

Mr. Gaddy: Bob, give me the formula for water.

Bob C.: H-I-J-K-L-M-N-O.

Mr. Gaddy: What are you alking about?

Bob: But, Mr. Gaddy, you said yesterday that the formula for water is H to O.

Miss Timmons says: Remember girls, this is leap year, and don't take advantage of the boys.

W. D. Latham says: To make a girl feel dull and dolesome, say her face looks kind and wholesome.

POEM:

"What do you desire, my brave, To give your cold relief?"

"It's a linen cloth," said Hiawith', "For which I hanker, Chief".

DAFFYNITIONS:

Propaganda: The only thing the Russian people get without a ration card.

Pickpocket: A man who finds a silver lining in every crowd.

Radio Program: A brief interruption between commercials.

Wave: A Grable-bodied seaman. Believe it or not! The world's most plentiful mineral, salt, was once so precious that it was used for money.

OUR PLACE IN LIFE

Students if high school age seem to think that the crisis of the world at the present time is something for our parents to worry about and when we get old enough to vote we will then think of the importance of it.

Our lives lie in our own hands and yet we unconcernedly take the attitude of letting someone else do the worrying. Tomorrow is not for our parents to decide, but for us. We are the men and women of tomorrow and how we feel now will be the results of the new day. How can we just sit back unconcerned about the whole thing?

Through unconcern for our government, the wrong kind of people can get into the offices of our nation, make it corrupt where there would be no organization. Study of our government is greatly needed because we should want to know how to keep it strong. With God on our side, no one can overcome us.

This may seem uninteresting to you and very unpleasant, but it has to be faced and we must face it. Without facing it we are due for a certainty—maybe slow, but surely—of ruin.

and weight 130. Kitty Sue Gaddy. We see her birthplace as Marble, Texas on February 23, 1935. We find her activities at Bronte High: cheer leader, forward on basketball team, Miss B. H. S. her junior and senior years, football sweetheart, volleyball team, president of senior class, and has held many important places in the school since her high school years began. Her hobby is sleeping. She enjoys Jeff Chandler on the screen. Her favorite food is salads. Her ambition is to attend college.

My mother makes her home with as and she tends to be very outspoken about the behavior of my two daughters aged ten and twelve. She is particularly shocked by the way I allow them to dress. When they are at home or playing with friends, I let them wear blue jeans in the winter and shorts in the summer. Mother insists that the shorts, especially, are "indecent" and that wearing them will make the girls "talked about." My daughters, who think her attitude is "silly," seem to take pleasure in shocking her. The tension created by the whole situation is very hard on me and I do not know how to restore a pleasant relationship.

You must run the home and guide your daughters as you see fit, and let your mother know that she must not criticize the girls openly. Do not yield on this point. It is not pleasant, of course, to have her silent disapproval so apparent, but secure in the realization that you are doing what is right, perhaps you can learn to bear with increasing equanimity her petulant behavior. In the meantime, make every effort to treat her with affection and to discover areas in which her insights and suggestions can be accepted without jeopardizing the happiness of the family.

Two additional suggestions are in order. Try to help your daughters "understand" their grandmother and to realize that it sometimes is difficult for one as old as she is to change her ideas. Do not scold them if occasionally they try to shock her—to do so would build increasing resentment toward her—but do attempt to help them see that she should be treated with courtesy and respect. Arrange for situations in which the grandmother can be of help to the girls and in which the girls can do something for her that is especially thoughtful.

It will be helpful, too, if your mother can have friends of her own age whom she sees rather frequently. Older people have a great time talking together and the conversation usually includes comments about their families! They brag about their children in one breath and in the next criticize them for the way they are bringing up their children. As they express to each other this disapproval of the younger generation, it gives a "lift" to their own egos and they are likely to be much easier to live with in their own homes.

Our two small boys, ages three years and eighteen months, seem to have completely "taken over" at our house. Our three-year-old insists upon being a part of every activity around the home—from helping make cookies and running the vacuum (which are fairly acceptable) to carrying out ashes and "fixing" the radio (which we consider out of bounds). When his participation in any activity is barred, a tantrum results; then sulkiness and thumb-sucking until his next sleep period. How much freedom should a child be allowed in the home and how do you enforce the limits?

It probably is inevitable that in a certain sense children of the age of yours should "take over" a household. A three-year-old is full of life and vitality; his span of attention is short and he moves rapidly from one activity to another; he likes excitement and gets satisfaction out of exposing the wishes of his parents. He likes to imitate adults; he wants what he wants when he wants it, which usually is "right now." If his energies are not wisely directed and if every whim is catered to by indulgent parents, he soon becomes a little tyrant.

You certainly have not been at fault in allowing your children a certain amount of freedom in helping with the activities of the household. Children learn best as they have an opportunity to make choices and if we give them these opportunities we must expect some decisions and some behavior that produce rather unfortunate results. That this has happened with your own three-year-old should produce no great concern on your part and certainly does not call for punishment.

Nevertheless, it should be realized that children should not be granted freedom in areas in which mistakes may produce serious property damage or injury either to others or to themselves. Unrestricted freedom is as undesirable as is no freedom at all. It would seem, therefore, that you should make it quite clear to your three-year-old that there are certain activities which he cannot as yet help. In so far as possible let him know why he cannot help with them. Having placed certain restrictions, be sure that they are consistently followed.

SELF EMPLOYED TO PAY SS TAX

Many self-employed persons do not know that the 1950 Amendments to the Social Security Act extend coverage to them, according to George Clark, manager of the San Angelo social security office.

This change became effective on January 1, 1951. Self-employed persons now have the same rights to benefits on behalf of themselves and their families as employees.

Self-employment includes individual stores owners, partners, owners of shoe shine stands and numerous other business activities. There are 14 specific exceptions for professional people, among them doctors and lawyers.

Self-employment coverage is not voluntary. The individual is either covered or not covered. The self-employed person's income is not reported until the end of the year and will be reported with his annual income tax return. The first report is due before March 15, 1952. The tax rate is 2 1/2 percent of the first $3600 of net business profit.

CARD OF THANKS

Words can hardly express our appreciation and gratitude for kindness and help shown us in our time of need. At a time like this, we realize more than ever how much we need friends like these. We hope that in some way we can repay everyone for their kindness. Thank you and may God bless everyone.

The Joe Hester family.
