AD-LIB-BEN

Last week we said in this column we would try to have a summary of what has transpired on the Kickapoo Dams project. We have a good excuse for not having it this week. F. S. Higginbotham, chairman of the steering committee for the project, needed the information and maps we were to study, so he came by Monday and picked them up. So, until he brings them back, we'll have to postpone this matter further.

We have been receiving a good bit of information lately about the restrictions which the Internal Revenue Department has been placing on public utility advertising. At a casual glance, it might seem rather unimportant to you that utilities companies are not going to be allowed to deduct money spent for what we call institutional advertising from their income tax returns. Seems they can deduct anything which is not critical of the federal government.

Of course, it will be injurious to the companies and also to the newspapers in which the ads appear. But that is also relatively unimportant to most of you.

The thing that is important to you is that this is just one more instance of the federal government's putting a stranglehold on private enterprise. It is just one more case where individual initiative, ambition and enterprise is being stifled.

As we understand this particular case, it is a simple matter of the boys in Washington being sore because utilities companies have been using some of their advertising money to criticize policies of the government, as related to public power plants. It is understandable why the utilities are critical of the federal government. You see, Uncle Sam is their biggest competitor. Uncle Sam generates and sells more electricity than was ever dreamed of by a privately owned company. Not only that, but he sells his electricity cheaper than the private companies can sell it. Probably the main reason he can sell so cheaply is because he has no stockholders to account to — his power plants were built with the taxpayer's money, — and he has NO federal income tax nor property tax on his power plants, his highlines or any of his other property.

We are not questioning the necessity of the federal government taking a hand in some big projects which have and will help the new, renewal or extension, either in the Bronte area, or anywhere else. Regular prices will be reduced from $2.50 and $3.00 to $2.00 and $2.50.

Subscribers may come by The Enterprise office, they may renew through one of our representatives, or they may mail their subscriptions in to Box 318, Bronte.

Every year hundreds of readers take advantage of the special offer to renew their own, as well as subscriptions of friends and relatives.

Enterprise representatives in communities around Bronte include Mrs. Charles Ragsdale at Blackwell, Mrs. John Gaston and Mrs. W. T. Green at Tennyson and Mrs. Herbert Holland at Brookshire. Besides these four ladies, Mrs. Marvin Corley will be working in Bronte, and will take your subscription. Anyone at the Enterprise office will also be glad to serve you.

Persons whose subscriptions have not expired are invited to take advantage of the special offer to extend their papers for a year from the due date. The reduced price will not be in effect until this time next year.

Enterprise Out Early Next Week

The Bronte Enterprise will come out a day early next week, if at all possible to produce the paper in one day less time.

Reason for the change in publication day is on account of the holiday next Friday in observance of Independence Day. Stores in Bronte will be closed for the holiday and usually grocery advertisers like to run their weekend specials for Thursday and Saturday when a holiday comes on Friday.

Advertisers and persons turning in news are asked to keep the change in mind, so that their material will be received in time to get in the paper. All deadlines will be moved up exactly one day.

Ballot Copy Now In Hands Of Printers

County Democratic Chairman R. B. Allen and his sub-committee met recently to prepare copy for the ballot to be used at the Primary Election on Saturday, July 26. Others on the committee were D. K. Glenn, Bryan Yarbrough, Eugene Brooks and Dave King.

A list of candidates for state-wide offices was certified to Mr. Allen by the State Executive Committee. Main job for the local committee was to arrange the list of candidates, and a drawing was conducted to make the placings.

Four candidates in the governors race will be placed as follows: 1. W. Lee O'Daniel; 2. Joe A. Irwin; 3. Price Daniel; 4. Henry B. Gonzalez.

Only other state office with more than two candidates is Commissioner of Agriculture. Their names will appear in the following order on the Coke County ballots: 1. John C. White; 2. Glenn H. Kothmann; 3. Tom Griffin.

Following are the drawings for State Representative and county and precinct offices:

Representative — 1. Parker Nunley; 2. A. J. Bishop, Jr.

County Judge — 1. W. W. (Bud) Thetford; 2. Jeff Dean; 3. Ernest Ivey.

County and Dist. Clerk — 1. J. L. (Chilly) Tinkler; 2. Charles C. Boecking.

Commissioner Prec. 2 — 1. Howard Brock; 2. Charles Eldred McGuire.

Justice of the Peace Prec. 2 — 1. Earl D. (Pete) Nutter; 2. C. L. (Charlie) Knierim; 3. J. T. Liles; 4. George Wrinkle; 5. B. G. Timmons.

Ballots will be made up and printed by the Robert Lee Observer and Bronte Enterprise. They will be delivered to County Clerk Tinkler prior to July 6, the date when absentee voting starts.

Condemnation Suits Hang on Technicality

The hearing on four condemnation suits involving right of way for rebuilding Highway 277 north of Bronte ended in a deadlock Tuesday when a dispute concerning mineral rights could not be settled. The case will be reopened in two weeks.

Unseasonable Cool Front Cools Area

Unusually cool weather for June blew into the Bronte area Wednesday noon and carried the mercury down to a low of 60 degrees Wednesday night.

Weather forecasters had thought the unseasonable cold would bring much rain activity into the state, but only a small amount of moisture fell in widely scattered areas. Robert Lee had a shower, but Bronte barely got a sprinkle.

Local residents welcomed the cool weather and the mercury was expected to stay down in the eighties all day Thursday.

Farmers say they are beginning to need rain rather badly for their row crops. Weather predictions for the next few days were short on words mentioning rain, however.

26 Kids Complete Beginners Course At Bronte Pool

Twenty-six Bronte youngsters were scheduled to complete the beginners swimming courses being held at the Bronte pool this week. However, due to unseasonably cold weather Thursday, the ninth lesson in the series was postponed and the courses will either be completed Saturday or early next week. When the course is over, the children will have had ten lessons in the fundamentals of swimming and those passing the test.

A jury of view had been appointed to settle the cases and convened at 10 a. m. Tuesday. Earl Smith represented the defendants in the case and Frank C. Dickey, Sr. represented the state.

The suits are styled with the State of Texas as the plaintiff and the defendants are Gladys Mae Sims and husband, Edward M. Cumbie and others, Fay M. Scott and others and F. S. Higginbotham and wife.

The State and Coke County and the four landowners involved have been unable to reach a settlement as to the value of property and damages which the landowners will suffer when the highway is built through their land.

A five-man board was named to study the situation after the landowners turned down the offer made as suggested by an appraiser from San Angelo. The board was asked to study the situation and make its report to the commissioner's court, with the figures submitted to be used only for comparative purposes.

Judge Jeff Dean said last week there was a wide range of difference between the appraised figure and the figures submitted by the board. The board was dismissed by the commissioners.

Frank C. Dickey, Sr. was then hired to negotiate between the two groups, but he has been unable to get them together on a price for the land.

The suits were filed and R. B. Allen of Silver, Bryan Gartman of Sanco and Fred McCabe, Sr., who lives southwest of Robert Lee were named as a jury of view to decide the case.

Dog Vaccination July 1 in Bronte And Robert Lee

The Coke County 4-H Clubs and Dr. Percy R. Turner, D. V. M., Water Valley, will jointly sponsor a rabies vaccination day in Robert Lee and Bronte on Tuesday, July 1.

All persons desiring to have their pets vaccinated to prevent rabies can get the immunizing done between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 12 noon in Robert Lee or between 1 and 4 p. m. in Bronte on that date. Key's Feed Store will be headquarters for the group in Robert Lee during the morning and Lee's Feed Store during the afternoon.

The program is being planned by the 4-H clubs primarily to accommodate the owners of dogs in the County, but cats and even large animals will be welcome. Dr. Turner will vaccinate the animals brought to the two locations and will be assisted by the County Extension Agents. He will charge $2.50 per small animal and will donate 50c of the fee to the County 4-H clubs. The cost includes the vaccination, the vaccine, a dog tag and a certificate if one is desired.

Dogs should be vaccinated annually. All persons with dogs or cats that have not been immunized against rabies this year will have an opportunity to get them vaccinated at either of the two locations next Tuesday. All animals vaccinated in the area that were vaccinated when a similar program was held last year should be revaccinated as their immunity is due to terminate in July.

UNCLE HUIE from HOG CREEK says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
Them Congressmen has been arguing fer six months over a bill to keep billboards off them new Federal highways they is fixing to build. The fellers at the store Saturday night decided they'd put the subject on the barrel-head fer one evening. Farmers can often decide things better in one evening than Congressmen can in six months. One feller allowed as how it would set education back 20 year to do away with billboards. He says the magazines is all talking about Johnny can't read much no more on account of this new progressive education system we got in the schools. His magazine information ain't too up to date on account of the only magazines he ever sees is the ones his old lady fetches home from the beauty parlor. But he claims the only reason Johnny can read the stop sign at a railroad crossing is from what he picks up from them billboards while he's riding the school bus back and forth. He's in favor of billboards 100 percent as a education measure.

Another of my neighbors didn't agree with him. He says everything else has gone scientific and he can't see no reason why Johnny can't git a education without learning how to read and write. He thinks Johnny peeping at them billboards is bad fer education under the new system we got now of educating a kid without learning him nothing.

I sided with the first argument. I've lived a full life, Mister Editor, a long span of years, from the days when folks had a plain cabin to now when they got a cabin plane, and things is gitting a little too scientific. What little schooling I got was when they supervised a kid while he worked and turned him loose while he played. Now they supervise him while he plays and if he does any work I ain't heard about it.

I ain't belittling science in general. It can do a heap of things. Fer instant, I know we're living twict as fast as we did 50 year ago but it takes a woman twict as long to git to be a old maid. That's science. It's mighty hard these days to tell how old a woman is if she uses these beauty things, paint and lipstick, just right. Personally I feel about the same toward 'em as I do a used car. I git mighty suspicious if the paint job looks too good. Yes, I know beauty parlors has got a lot to do with holding up the old maid situation. I don't know what's holding up the billboard situation in Washington.

I see by the papers where Senator Talmadge from Georgia says those hidden taxes is eating people up. It'll be plenty of time fer me to worry about them hidden taxes after I can git them out-in-the-open taxes paid.

Yours truly,
Uncle Huie

Taylor Emerson Owns Last Weeks Mystery Farm

Last week's mystery farm was pretty familiar to Bronte residents, as it is located only 2½ miles east of town, on the Balingier highway. It is owned by Taylor Emerson.

The farm is composed of 517 acres, 175 of which are in cultivation. Mr. Emerson has lived on the place for the past 14 years. During this time he has developed one of the most outstanding systems of tanks on the place to be found in this section of the country. In all he has six large tanks, which have proved most beneficial not only for their water storage capacity, but for the part they play in preventing runoff.

Mr. Emerson does not operate the farm himself, as he spends full time working at his oil royalty and lease business. During the last few years, he has handled many thousand of dollar worth of royalties and leases.

Dawson Coleman, vocational agriculture teacher at Miles, has the place leased. He farms the land which is under cultivation and raises registered Hereford cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson bought their farm from the Weggell Estate in 1944. They have made many improvements in the house during the time they have been living there. Mrs. Emerson is very active in all phases of Women's Home Demonstration work. She is the former Alene Walton of Bronte and was married to Mr. Emerson in 1931. The couple are active in Bronte civic work and are regular attenders at the First Baptist Church here.

In addition to the system of tanks which has been built on the farm, all the cultivated land is terraced. Up until last year water from the tanks was used to irrigate small acreages on the place.

The south side of the Emerson farm borders on the Colorado River and large deposits of sand and gravel have accumulated along the river bank during past centuries. Mr. Emerson and Collins Sayner of Tennyson have developed these deposits and built up a sizeable business. Mr. Sayner operates the sand and gravel project.

Mr. Emerson said the farm where he lives was first settled in 1894.

Newlyweds Honored At Blackwell Tea

By Mrs. Charles Ragsdale

The lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson was the setting of a colorful Fiesta tea honoring Mr. and Mrs. Boyce J. Eldson on Saturday evening, June 14.

The couple was married June 1 at the Blackwell First Baptist Church. Mrs. Eldson is the former Billie Nell McRorey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McRorey of Blackwell. Mr. Eldson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eidson of Sweetwater.

Hostesses for the tea wore Mexican hand painted sequined costumes. Colorful Mexican decorations of rugs, baskets and lighting were used on the lawn.

Mrs. Bill Johnson greeted the guests, who were registered by Mrs. James Cates.

A handwoven Mexican cloth covered the tea table, which was centered with an arrangement of tropical fruit in the Mexican pottery bowl. Mrs. Gordon Montgomery presided at the punch bowl. Decorated cake squares were served by Mrs. Sam Smith.

Mmes. S. P. Smith and Kenneth Jones displayed gifts.

The couple is living in Sweetwater where he is employed by the state highway department and she is employed in the county clerk's office.

Commissioners Court Session

A new car for use of the sheriff was purchased at a special meeting of Coke County Commissioners Court Tuesday. Judge Jeff Dean said two other orders were passed pertaining to county hospital cases and purchasing of tires.

A county-owned car which the sheriff had been driving was badly damaged by fire a few weeks ago. There was some discussion about paying mileage instead of furnishing an official car for the sheriff.

However, when bids were opened from three local dealers it was unanimously voted to accept the bid of Caperton Chevrolet Co. of Bronte. They agreed to furnish a new '58 model, 4-door, Biscayne 210 series, 8-cylinder Chevrolet, for $1,755 and the old damaged auto.

List price of the car was $2,880 and the trade-in allowance was $1,125. Bids submitted by Ivey Motor Co. and Vaughan Chevrolet Co. of Robert Lee were only a few dollars higher.

The Court voted that in the future approval must be given for all charity patients entering any hospital other than the Coke County Hospital in Robert Lee. If approval is given for the patient to enter another hospital, the allowance will not exceed $12 per day for all hospital and medical services. When cases of this nature arise it is necessary to contact the judge's office, which will confer with other members of the Commissioners Court.

The Commissioners also went on record that all future purchases of tires for county-owned cars, trucks and road equipment are to be made through the State Board of Control. This plan has already been adopted by some commissioners in buying tires for road equipment.

MRS. DON GLENN

Methodist Church Scene of McDaniel, Glenn Wedding

Wedding vows were exchanged Sunday evening at 7 p. m. by Miss Jeanette McDaniel and Mr. Donald Kenneth Glenn in the First Methodist Church here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDaniel of Chillicothe are parents of the bride. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Glenn of Bronte.

The Rev. James W. Campbell, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring rites.

Martin Lee of Bronte was best man. Ushers were R. J. Millikin and Dale Luckett.

Candles were lighted by Edwyne McDaniel, Chillicothe, brother of the bride and Connie Craig, Blackwell, cousin of the bride. The young candlelighters wore white and Miss Craig's white organza dress had a lilac cumberbund.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered tulle, fashioned with a portrait neckline, long tapered sleeves and basque bodice. The skirt contained billows of ruffles of embroidered tulle with alternate ruffles of crystal tulle ending in a brush train. Her regal queen's crown, fashioned of tulle, lace, sequins and seed pearls, had a waist length veil of crystal tulle. Her flowers were carnations and were carried in a partially open white umbrella with white rosebuds entwined around the handle.

Miss Jackie Grimes of Hurst, Texas was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carolyn Glenn of Bronte, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Kay Weathers of San Angelo. Their identically styled dresses were of lilac organza and featured scooped necklines, brief sleeves, and basque waists. The waist lines were caught up with a broad cumberbund of two shades of lilac taffeta, above the bell skirts. They carried colonial bouquets of lilac asters and wore headpieces fashioned of lilac asters.

Sharon McCutchen of Bronte, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and Beverly Craig of Blackwell, cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer. The little girls wore dresses, similar to those of the bridesmaids, made of lilac organza with skirts featuring ruffles of embroidered organza. They wore white aster headpieces and wristlets.

Mrs. Walter Phillips presented a prelude or organ music and played the traditional wedding marches. Richard Sims of Robert Lee sang "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Wedding Prayer" preceding the ceremony. He was accompanied at the piano by his brother, Ronnie Sims.

Church decorations included large baskets of white gladioli and greenery and candelabra with white tapers flanking the altar. Large white candles were placed at each end of the altar.

A reception followed the ceremony and was held in the church parlor. Guests were greeted by the bridal couple, their mothers and wedding attendants. Mrs. Martin Lee was at the guest register. Mrs. Vernon Glenn and Mrs. Royce Fancher presided at the table which was laid with a lilac tulle overskirt over lilac satin. The centerpiece was of white and lilac asters and a many tiered wedding cake was at one end of the table. Wedding cake and punch, nuts and candies were served.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Dallas, Fort Worth and other points in that area, Mrs. Glenn was wearing a white chemise dress with red accessories. They will live in Stephenville where he is attending John Tarlton State College.

He is a graduate of Bronte High School and has attended the Stephenville College. She is a 1958 graduate of Bronte High School and has been making her home here with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Binks McCutchen.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Glenn hosted the couple, their families and the wedding party with a rehearsal dinner at their home on Saturday evening.

Overnight guests Tuesday in the J. W. Latham home were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Blair of Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. Blair is a nephew of Mr. Latham. Guests in their home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Webber.

Farm Mystery Is Solved

When last week's Enterprise came out the Myster Farm of the week before had not been identified. That same day a card was received from R. H. Reaves of Austin, identifying the place. A little while after receiving the card, Mrs. Robert Hugh Sims called and also identified the place. The framed picture of the farm home will be sent to Mr. Reaves.

Mr. Reaves' card read as follows:

802 Cumberland Road
Austin 4, Texas

This is to let you know that we appreciate The Enterprise. It is like getting a letter from home every Monday.

The Mystery Farm of this week — We built that house in 1924 and lived there up until we moved here the first of last year. R. H. Jordan owns the farm now.

I am happy to learn of the good oat harvest and hope 1958 is a good year all the way.

Respectfully yours,
R. H. Reaves.

Mrs. Stewart Writes About Spain Vacation

(Editor's Note: Our "European correspondent", Mrs. W. E. Stewart, has done it again. This time, she and her family spent a five weeks vacation in Spain, and, again, has sent home a most interesting report of the trip. Mrs. Stewart is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Whitley of Cisco, and her husband, Capt. Stewart, is stationed with the Air Force in Germany. Believing the letter to be of much reader interest, we are reprinting it. However, due to its length, it will be run in several installments.)

We finally took our long awaited trip to Spain; we were gone 5 weeks and truly had the most wonderful vacation we've ever taken.

After all the last minute arrangements were made on passports, Spanish and French gasoline, and money, we left on Friday night, and planned to drive straight through France and spend our first night in Spain. This was quite an eventful night. We had bought a luggage rack for the car and we really looked like Oakies when we left. We had 3 footlockers, about 7 bags, and several boxes plus the car bed for the baby and her car seat.

The arrangement was with Billy and me in front, the maid and Shari in the back, and the boys behind them on a bed we had made on top of two footlockers. On the top in the luggage carrier we had one footlocker, 3 bags, and a couple of boxes of food. We were making good time and turned a corner in the middle of France (in the middle of the night) and off came the luggage rack. Luckily, Billy had it all tied on so well that it fell off in one piece or we would have had clothes and food all over France. We stopped and couldn't find the rubber cups that went under the steel frame, so naturally, we couldn't put it back on top of the car, so everything had to come into the car. Oh yes, besides all I have mentioned, we had a thermos jug under the maid's feet and a little ice box under mine. We had to leave the tail gate of the station wagon down and put everything on it, then tie it on, so off we went.

About two in the morning we were running low on gas, and couldn't find one station in France open, so finally about 4, we gave up and parked in a garage and slept til 7 when they opened. We continued driving and arrived Saturday night in Gerona, Spain, where we spent our first night. The next morning we did a little sight seeing — mainly the cathedral. This town claims to have been visited by St. Paul and St. James and they have a lovely Gothic cathedral that has 92 steps going up (I counted them) and the original church was built in the 8th century, and it has the widest knave of any church in the world.

From here we proceeded down the coast and drove through a town of interesting history — in 219 B. C. during the Punic Wars, rather than surrender to inevitable defeat, every person in the town committed suicide and no single survivor was found. Also, along this route we saw a gate over the highway that was built by the Romans about 400 B. C. and it was in perfect condition.

The next place we stayed was Valencia. This area is thickly covered with orange groves, and we tried to buy some, and honestly couldn't find a place that sold them—even the grocery stores didn't—so we were reduced to doing as everyone else did—swiping them. Billy said we wanted to be honest and they wouldn't let us.

The most interesting and thrilling thing in Valencia was the Holy Grail—the actual chalice used at the Last Supper. It was beautiful with stones in the base, and the altar and case were really lovely. It was such a thrill to see something that is believed to have been held by Jesus.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Marks from Pasadena, Texas, spent Thursday night of last week with the Marvin Corley family.

Marlon McCutchen was here from Goldsmith for a weekend visit in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. McCutchen.

ral government to penalize a group because they want to spend some of their own money to protect their own rights. If they can do that to the power companies, they can do it to just about country as a whole. What we question is the right of the fed-everybody. According to the Hoover report, the government of the United States is engaged in more than 2,000 enterprises which are in direct competition to private business. Isn't it possible that others who are vitally interested in these government projects will do as Mr. Estes Kefauver has against the power companies — all to promote his baby, the TVA? Other influential persons could use their power to obtain similar rulings against any group.
Uncle Sam is in banking, insurance, transportation, recreation, manufacturing, and many other businesses. Which one do you suppose will have the muzzle put on it next?
The federal government is too big, too powerful, and we believe that time after time it uses its power to step on the very people from whom the power is derived — you and I, and the other people of this country.
