UNCLE HUIE from HOG CREEK says

Dear Mr. Editor:

It may be that I'm gitting a little impatient, but it seems to me this cold war business with Russia is gitting as one-sided as a drunk's hat.

I was reading last night where the United Nations has estimated the budget for the Congo at $120 million this year. But Russia, that can finance big armies and missiles and trouble-makers all over the world, including the Congo, has refused to pay a dime of it.

most of it. We've give away so much money for foreign aid to countries all over the world that most of them thinks now it's a permanent arrangement sent down from Heaven.

And when we make our stand this time, I hope they don't have no Yalu River stuff in it. This thing of fighting with one hand tied behind our back ain't the kind of war the United States fighters. It just bleeds us down, and makes us spend a dollar to their dime, without gitting no place.

On the home front, I see by the papers where the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee in the Congress predicts that prices will "edge up" a little this Fall.

And sometimes a feller can find plenty of troubles right in his own house. Fer instant, my old lady come in last night from a meeting of the Home Demonstration Club and I made the bad mistake of asking her what they talked about.

This is treason, Mister Editor, and I aim to find out if any tax money is going into these club projects. I've writ to my Congressman in no uncertain terms.

Yours truly, Uncle Huie

County Agents News Column

By STERLING LINDSEY

The Extension Service Area Entomologist, John Thomas, of Lubbock, pointed out several important facts regarding cotton insect control in meetings held in the County last week.

First, since we have a good sub-soil moisture, every cotton farmer should think seriously about fighting insects to hold the early cotton if control measures are necessary. He pointed out to the operators present the fact that 88% of the cotton farms produced, are produced in the first three weeks following the first bloom. Also, early cotton is normally of better quality and sells for a better price. And a fourth factor — we should mature some cotton before boll weevils become a menace and hurt the quality.

Fleahoppers will be the major insect to watch for attempting to blast the squares, according to Mr. Thomas. If we get our spray or dust equipment ready then make field checks to determine if the Fleahopper is increasing in numbers. If a buildup occurs, we should be able to hold most of our early farms with less expense and at the same time produce bolls with less water.

Applications of insecticides to be effective and economical must be applied at the right time, with a certain pressure and volume, never the less, by avoiding serious early season losses to insects, I believe we have a good chance to make a good cotton crop.

While I am on the subject of cotton I will mention a common disease — cotton root rot. The following is a quotation from Dr. Harlan Smith, Plant Pathologist with the Extension Service: "Rains that occurred during June will bring on a considerable amount of cotton root rot. If more rains occur in July and August, the amount of root rot will be greatly increased."

Dr. Smith made the statement to cover all areas of the state subject to root rot losses. We are not hit as hard normally as some other areas, but losses to root rot were substantial in the County last year. They could be worse this year.

The potential losses for this year on dry land cotton can not be economically controlled, but if your cotton field has a fairly tight sub-soil and/or you can rotate your acreage, you should be able to avoid some of the root rot losses next year.

Deep plowing—six to 18 inches—during the hot, dry months gives the most benefit, but rotation to cleaner ground normally gives some benefit, also.

The 4-H Club members are in the process of preparing their records for the year. In a workshop last week, the following club members began completing their records: Danny and Freddy Smith, Gaylon and Darrell Pitcock, Jerry Parker, Maxie Evans, Bucky and C. L. Sparks, Roy Blair, Roy Gene Ivey and Doyle Robertson. Other club members will complete their records in the near future. Records of the members that are completed by July 26 will be eligible for County and possibly district awards.

Also, every club member submitting a record on his demonstration work receives a year pin for his years work.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dean Caperton and daughter of Lubbock have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kirkland, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Caperton. They returned home Tuesday and were accompanied by Gwen Kirkland who will spend two weeks visiting the Capertons.

It's that time of the year again—Dress Revue and record book workshop! Sterling and I worked with twenty-five 4-H boys and girls June 26th on record books.

The group was composed primarily of boys and girls who are just beginning record keeping on their projects. This is an important phase of 4-H Club work because most all contest areas require records. A record of a member's activities gives a judge a better insight as to the progress the individual is making. Therefore, the member is judged on progress made and not just his showing at that particular time.

Girls who attended the workshop are: Jackie Counts, Ida Lee Parker, Sharon McCutchen, Nancy Richards, Jo Alice Evans, Rhea Jean McCutchen, Kathy Preslar, Elaine Fikes, Lois Heuvel, Shirley Brice, Marilyn Wallace, Vernay Vaughn, Sherry Pitcock, Leta Robertson and Kitten Dean.

Summer heat poses a real problem when it comes to keeping garments fresh and attractive. Quick action can do much to insure the removal of perspiration stains. Such stains normally are acid and usually will wash out of washable fabric but sometimes the color of the fabric is changed. If so, dampen the stain with water and hold it over the fumes from an open bottle of ammonia.

This may restore the color. Old stains may be alkaline. If so, sponge with vinegar.

Perspiration odors may be removed by sponging the stain with warm water to which a few drops of vinegar have been added. Then sprinkle with powdered pepsin, work well into stain, and let stand 1 or 2 hours, keeping the spot moist. Finally, brush powder off and rinse well.

For a stubborn stain, sponge with hydrogen peroxide or a mixture of one teaspoon sodium perborate to one pint peroxide. Rinse with water.

If you have other stain removal problems, drop by the office for a copy of "Removing Stains from Clothing."

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

Ford wagons have features that only America's station wagon specialists can bring you

There's a wagonload of reasons why more people prefer Ford wagons.

There's more room. Ford's extended load deck is the longest and widest in its field.

There's more convenience. You can have a power-operated roll-down rear window in any Ford wagon.

There's more distinction. The Country Squire (above) is the only wagon in its field with body panels that look like mahogany, wear like steel.

There are more savings. Ford's Ranch Wagon is America's lowest-priced,* full-size wagon. And like all Fords, every Ford wagon is built to be more service-free: goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes.

Stop waiting for that wagon you've always wanted. Swap for a '61 Ford wagon now! Save for a '61 Ford, the wagon America loves most!

Today is the day to STOP... SWAP... SAVE
