Prior to their business session, members of the board were guests at a dinner served by members of the Homemaking II class. Under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Royce Fancher, the girls served a complete meal to the trustees. Allen Sherrod, one of the board members, complimented the girls highly on their cooking and serving technique. He said all of the men thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

On the county board of trustees, the incumbents who were unopposed, were returned with almost unanimous vote. Noah Pruitt Sr. represents precinct 2 on the board while C. E. Arrott was re-elected from precinct 4. W. D. McAdams of Robert Lee was re-elected as trustee at large for the entire county.

Residents of Bronte's two new additions will be out of the mud and dust before long. Commissioner Howard Brock announced this week that plans have materialized to pave 15 blocks in the two additions. The money for the project will be provided by city and precinct funds.

The two additions, one opened up by C. E. Bruton and Mrs. Annie Wilkins in the south part of town, and the other in the southeast part of the city have had a total of 21 new houses erected since they were opened up. The south addition has 13 new homes, while the southeast has eight.

Brock said that he had made a deal with the city to buy $800 worth of asphalt toward building the new streets and that the remainder of the cost will come from precinct 2 funds. He said that his regular road crew will do as much of the preliminary work as possible, thereby cutting down on the actual cash outlay.

Finishing touches on the caliche base and actual paving will be done by E. W. Wilson Construction Co. of San Angelo, Brock said.

Already one of the "most paved" small towns in the state, Bronte will have 140 blocks of paving when the proposed project is completed. This amounts to more than nine and one-half miles.

It was in 1955 when 125 blocks were paved by C & C Asphalt Paving Co. of Colorado City. A contract was let to pave 111 blocks at a cost of $66,415.70. However, enough money was available to increase the number to 125. The paving was financed with a $160,000 precinct bond election. Remainder of the amount was used to construct modern bridges in the rural areas of the precinct.

The new addition in the southeast part of town was opened up when Bruton, Cecil Kemp, E. F. Glenn, Vernon Glenn and T. F. Sims purchased a tract containing 21 lots in April 1960. In addition to the eight homes in the addition, the houses of E. F. Glenn and Dr. John R. Harris, which front on Randall St., will be served by the new paving.

Easter Services Are Planned by Area Churches

Two Easter sunrise services have been announced in this area. As has been the custom for many years, a service will be held atop Mt. Margaret at Tennyson and another will be conducted in the tabernacle at Blackwell.

Actually two services will be held at sunrise at Tennyson, one atop the mountain and another at the Baptist church for those unable to make the climb. Breakfast will be served at the church after the services.

The Blackwell services will be conducted by the Rev. Thomas Linn, Baptist pastor. Doughnuts and coffee will be served following the services at the Blackwell Methodist church.

Bronte churches have announced no services other than regular ones. However, special music and sermons on the occasion will be the rule in local churches.

School Holidays

Bronte school students will be happy to see the Easter season as classes will be dismissed this afternoon at 2:35 and will not be resumed until the usual time Wednesday morning, April 17.

Easter Egg Hunt Set Sunday at Park

An Easter egg hunt for all the kids in this area will be held Sunday at the Bronte County Park. The annual hunt, sponsored by the Bronte Lions Club, will be held at 3 p.m.

As has been the custom the last few years, there will actually be four hunts: one for children up to three years old; for those who are three up to school age; for those who are first graders up to nine years; and for those who are over nine.

Prize eggs will be hidden for each group, and awards will be given to the children who find them.

Aubrey Denman, park caretaker, will be in charge, and he invites all kids in this vicinity to be present.

Good Rain Raises Farm Prospects

First moisture of the year to amount to much fell late last week. Most gauges in the Bronte area showed a measurement of about 1½ inches. The rain fell slowly, and all penetrated the ground, doing a great deal of good.

Ranchmen expected the moisture to green up pastures with a few days of sunshine.

Deposits Up at First National

Deposits at First National Bank in Bronte were up nearly $70,000 over 1962 at a bank call on March 18 for the first quarter of the year. Depositors in the local bank had $2,600,398.15 as compared with $2,531,918.03 a year ago.

Total assets of the bank was just under $3 million, standing at $2,921,013.77. Loans were down slightly at the latest call, with $748,549.63 on the books compared to $884,560.13 in March 1962.

Capital strength of the Bronte bank also was increased over a year ago, with $320,615.62 in the three capital accounts, compared to $303,218.31 a year ago.

Bronte Trackmen Win District Meet

Bronte's Longhorn track team had it nip and tuck all day Wednesday at the district track meet in San Angelo, and the final outcome was not known until the last race. The mile relay team came in second in that event to give the Longhorns a second place and 146¼ points to win first place in the district.

First place honors were taken in the 100 yard dash, with Glenn Sims setting a new record of 10.2; 220 yard dash, Barry Curlee; mile run, Bernardo Fuentes with a new record of 5:05; 440 yard relay team, composed of Roy Stout, Ronnie Lee, Curlee and Sims, new record, 45.2; high jump, Jim Morrow, 5'10½".

The junior high school didn't fare as well as did the high school but picked up 25 points, and won first places in 440 yard relay with a team made up of Tony Olivas, Wayne Hester, Ronald Hooper and Larry Corley. Corley also won first in pole vault, and Olivas flung the discus for a first place.

High School Results

100 yard dash: Sims, 1st; Stout, 2nd; Ronnie Lee, 4th.

AD-LIB-BEN

We invite attention of our readers to a page ad in this week's Enterprise which deals with the disarmament question now being discussed in the U. S. Congress.

As is pointed out in the ad, a resolution is now before the Congress to set limitations on taking away the armaments of defense which have been built up over the years to protect the citizens of this country. We would like to add our two cents worth that this matter would be a good thing for all of us to investigate and write our senators and congressmen about.

We can't believe that any of our representatives would be stupid enough to want to take away our defensive armaments and turn the military power of the world over to an international police force, but it would be well for you to let them know just how you feel about it.

It's a little incongruous for us to spend billions of dollars on defense, and then spend additional funds studying how to abolish our tools. It just doesn't add up.

We certainly are not opposed to doing everything possible to bring about peaceful existence for all people everywhere, but, as we know, any disarming done by us should also be done by our opposition, and we must have an iron clad guarantee that it is done. The question is: How much is a Russian guarantee worth?

The annual Cancer Crusade begins here next week. Since polio has been conquered, mostly by research financed with money given by millions of people like you and I, we think that the Cancer Crusade should have a top place in our program of giving to worthy causes.

Plans are for a worker to call on everyone in this area. In addition to soliciting funds, they will distribute literature with valuable educational information concerning cancer. May we urge you, in the interest of conquering this killer, to contribute liberally and help pay for the research which will eventually lead to a cure. We believe it will be done.

By the way, in case anyone could forget, Monday is the last day for most of us to file our 1962 income tax returns.

UNCLE HUIE from HOG CREEK says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
The preacher come by our session last week, reported his joints was stiff from setting in on committee meetings all week. He told the fellers he read onct where a camel was a horse that was put together by a committee, said he wouldn't doubt it none on account of they had committees in his church that put some funny things together.
He said they now got 32 committees at his church, one more than last year, reported they added a new one on account of they always wanted to show a increase fer the year in everthing. The new one, he announced, was the Watchdog Committee, a addition suggested by the Bishop on account of the many underground movements in most churches today. He said they made the best head-hunter they had chairman of this new committee. It ain't even been swore in official yet, he said, but they done uncovered two plots to git rid of the preacher, a plan fer changing the choir, 10 cases of backbiting and one of backsliding. And he told the fellers confidential that he had a suspicion they was gitting ready to tap his telephone.
Incidental, the good Parson ask the fellers if they was smoking more and enjoying it less, reported this topic was brung up Thursday night at the meeting of the Committe On Christian Living. My neighbor's wife, the solo singer in the Choir, was in charge of the program and she claimed smoking wasn't no sin. She said the Lord put everthing here fer a purpose and she couldn't think of nothing tobacco was good fer except smoking and chewing.

Another member of the committee claimed it was a sin and that if the Lord put everthing here fer a purpose, a man's nose wasn't put here fer a smoke stack.
But the big topic of the week, reported the Parson, come up on Tuesday night at the meeting of the Christian Education Committee when the subject of evolution was brung up. One member said he was hearing some schools was teaching that us humans come from monkeys. According to the committee, these folks was claiming that at one time they wasn't nothing but monkeys and they kept gitting better and better till they turned into humans.
The Parson told the fellers he wasn't too shore we sprung from monkeys but it looked like the human race was going back to the monkeys. He said when God made man he was a pritty decent feller but he's been going backward all the time. He claimed he knowed a few men, from the way they was acting, that if they had a few fleas you couldn't tell the difference.
The good Parson left a little early, said he had to take some bananas home to his six younguns.
Yours truly,
Uncle Huie

We need some ladies to train and be clothing leaders for 4-H girls. The Clothing Units are broken down according to ages and abilities just as the Foods Units. I need about eight leaders in Robert Lee and eight in Bronte to work with a small group of girls. If you want to help with the clothing work and you do not sew, there is still a part of the Unit you can do. Of course some leaders are needed who can sew.

You need not worry about methods to use—any method in construction is acceptable as long as the technique used gives a nice product. Please call or drop me a card if there are any questions. We need these leaders immediately. I am planning a meeting in Bronte on Friday morning, April 26, at 9:30 a.m. and in Robert Lee at 1:30 p.m. on the same day. I need your name and the girls you want to have in your group before that day. Let me hear from you!

The District 4-H eliminations are to be held on Saturday, April 20, in San Angelo. 4-Hers from Coke County will participate in the Favorite Food Show and several other contests.

Daphne, A. J. III and I will spend the Easter holidays with my parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Croslin, near Paris, Texas. We always look forward to our visit—especially A. J. III. He loves to visit his Uncle Jim West who is a Lamar County Commissioner. He gets to watch the road building process and is treated royally in the West household!

Seeing the Miss Wool Pageant Saturday in San Angelo was a thrill. What lovely woolen garments the young ladies wore! It really made me proud I live in a sheep growing section of the

So The People May Know

(The following extracts are reprinted from the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe of January 30, 1963, and from The Dallas News Editorial Page, Friday, April 20, 1962.)

From the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe:

U. N. "PEACE FORCE" WOULD RULE WORLD— AGENCY PUSHES SCHEME— BAN POSSIBLE IN 10 YEARS

A U. S. government agency, now in operation, is promoting a plan to strip America and other nations of their defenses, and transfer all military power to the U. N. Peace Force. It is called the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. Its director is William C. Foster. Its address is 2201 "C" NW, Washington 25, D. C. It is financed by a minimum annual appropriation of $10 million. It was created by act of Congress in September, 1961, and signed into law as Public Law 87-297. In its 16 months of operation this agency has supported and promoted the "U. S. Program for General and Complete Disarmament in a Peaceful World." Under this program the United States could be disarmed in less than 10 years!

This goal is stated in a report by the U. S. disarmament agency, "Blueprint for the Peace Race:" "Disarmament would be accomplished in three stages—the first to be carried out in 3 years; the second, also in 3 years; and the third as promptly as possible within an agreed period of time. Stage 1 would be initiated by the United States, the Soviet Union, and other agreed states."

After describing the necessary steps in the first two stages of disarmament, the plan reaches its zenith in Stage III: States would retain only those forces, non-nuclear armaments, and establishments required for the purpose of maintaining internal order; they would also support and provide agreed manpower for a U. N. Peace Force. The U. N. Peace Force, equipped with agreed types and quantities of armaments, would be fully functioning. The manufacture of armaments would be prohibited except for those of agreed types and quantities to be used by the U. N. Peace Force and those required to maintain internal order. All other armaments would be destroyed or converted to peaceful purposes.

Thus American bureaucrats and diplomats are working for disarmament and a permanent U. N. Peace Force in two areas: First, in the executive department of the U. S. Government. The Director of the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency has the status of an assistant Secretary of State, but is responsible directly to the President as well as the Secretary. He has vast special powers and almost unlimited funds. Second, in the United Nations and at the Geneva Disarmament Conference. Two days following passage by Congress of the disarmament agency act, President Kennedy laid before the General Assembly "The United States Program for General and Complete Disarmament in a Peaceful World." This plan became the basis for the Geneva negotiations. It is set forth in State Department Publication 7277—a booklet titled "Freedom From War."

Fears that the proposed "peace force" would come under Communist domination are not imaginary. The Soviet Union has always kept a firm hand on United Nations military affairs.

There are eight department, or "cabinet," positions in the United Nations. Most important is that of Assistant Secretary-General for Security Council Affairs. This office involves political and military activities. Its holder is commander-in-chief of U. N. military forces. An unofficial agreement was made by the Big Five members, including the United States, at the time the U. N. was first organized. A Russian was to have this all-important post. The deal was engineered by the cunning Andrei Vishinski, and agreed to by U. S. delegate Edward Stettinius. The idea seems to have been to keep the Bear happy "for the sake of world peace." No time limit was set for this arrangement. But apparently the Soviet Union assumes it is permanent, because the Assistant Secretary-General for Security Council Affairs has always been a Russian. (A discussion of this deal can be found in the book, "In the Cause of Peace," by the late Trygve Lie, first secretary-general of the U. N., The MacMillan Company, 1954, pp 45-46.)

Here is the roster of Assistant Secretaries-General for Security Council Affairs since the beginning:

|---------|------------------------------|
| 1946-49 | Arkady S. Sobelov, USSR. |
| 1950-53 | Konstantine Zinchenko, USSR. |
| 1954-57 | Ilya Tchernyshev, USSR. |
| 1957-60 | A. Dobrynin, USSR. |
| 1960-62 | George P. Arkadev, USSR. |
| 1962- | Eugeny D. Dizelev, USSR. |

It is naive to the point of childishness to believe that the Soviet Union would agree to disarm itself unless it was certain it could control the international force. Nikita Khrushchev, himself, has told us as much. Our great weakness is refusing to believe the Communists when they tell us what they are going to do. Said Khrushchev: "Even if all the countries of the world adopted a decision which did not accord with the interests of the Soviet Union and threatened its security, the Soviet Union would not recognize such a decision, but would uphold its rights, relying on force..."

SPIES TO FORCE COMPLIANCE — "CONTROL SYSTEM" IS THEME OF RESEARCH

If the nations of the world are to be disarmed, there must be some way to enforce compliance. This problem is worrying the international planners. Even with a U. N. Peace Force, vested with the power of coercion by arms, poking into every cranny of the world, there are likely to remain large segments of mankind resisting this world authority either in the open or underground. How should these be handled? At least one study on the subject has been made, and research is evidently going on now.

Edith Kermit Roosevelt, who has a genius for turning up significant documents that other reporters have missed, revealed in her syndicated column last week the details of a study made by a panel of scientists for the Institute for International Order, 11 West 42nd Street, New York City. This study for the Institute for International Order outlines a "program of research" into problems posed by resistance to disarmament. The study's title is "The Technical Problems of Arms Control." In discussing techniques to insure compliance with official disarmament arrangements, the chairman of the panel suggests spies be employed around the world. Jerome Wiesner, an MIT man when the study was made in 1960, and a White House scientific adviser, is quoted by Miss Roosevelt as recommending an "international intelligence network" which could "recruit and train competent secret agents" to ferret out resistance. Moreover, in order that an arms control inspection system might be developed into "a system of enforced world law," the scientists urged research on an informer system, and extortion of information from "key people" by drugs, hypnosis, and machines.

The Institute for International Order study, like the whole disarmament scheme, is based on the false thesis sold to millions of the world's fearful—that there are only two alternatives: Disarmament or a nuclear holocaust. The study recognizes the fact that there are people who have not yet been convinced of this, and who are likely to launch a counter-revolution, or set up an underground movement. It is against these people that the "psychological inspection" techniques would be used.

PROGRAM COVERS ALL ARMS—EVEN YOURS

Can you go hunting on a bright morning in 1984?
Can you keep a hand-gun for protection of your home
if you live in the country or suburban areas?

These are the questions asked by many Americans confronted by one word in the proposals put forth by the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency for adoption by other nations (with the assumption, to foreigners at least, that such proposal has been approved by the people of the United States). That word is "all." It sets squarely in the phrase "the elimination from national arsenals of all armaments... other than those required for a United Nations Peace Force and for maintaining internal order." In other words, the soldiers and the policemen—and the criminals—may have guns, but freemen cannot.

The word "criminals" was used with intent... The criminal has always been able to find a gun. In fact, most guns used by criminals are stolen. In one classic criminal case here in the Southwest, it was found that the machine-guns had been stolen from the army arsenal. One survey showed that sufficient armament was stolen from arsenals each year to keep the underworld in fighting trim. Crime is a matter of intent. If one wishes to kill, a rock, a hammer, strangling hands, a knife, an ice-pick suffices.

No one really expects criminals to register their firearms. No one really expects firearms registration to cut down on "accidents" or murder. That is only the pink ribbons with which the package is wrapped. "The historical record shows that no dictatorship has ever been imposed on a nation of free men who have not been first required to register their privately owned weapons," notes the National Rifle Association of America.

Efforts to weaken the National Guard and draw it under federal control are a part of the pattern... The second article of the Bill of Rights reads: "A well-regulated Militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed." (End quote from the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe.)

Conclusion of an article on Disarmament from the Dallas Morning News:

The U. S. disarmament proposal is possibly the most serious threat this nation has ever faced. The News cannot believe that the American people are ready to be ruled by the U. N.—not now or ten years from now. We must forget for the moment our anger or concern over almost every other issue... and concentrate on the defeat of this disarmament scheme.

Our survival and our freedom may depend upon it. If we lose this one, the ball game is over.

Every American who has an interest in preserving his heritage must make the weight of his opposition felt. If you've never sent a letter or telegram to the White House or the Capitol, now is the time. (End of quote from the Dallas Morning News.)

Reckless Driving In Parks Can Kill Child, Sheriff Says

With the increased activity at the parks as spring opens, Sheriff Melvin Childress has been receiving some complaints of careless and reckless driving in or near the county parks at Robert Lee and Bronte.

With children running and playing around the parks, Sheriff Childress says he is concerned over danger to children and others who might get hurt.

"There are speed zones at both parks," he said. "We ask everyone to observe these and other rules under which the county parks are operated. Especially we want to ask parents who permit their children to drive cars to caution them—you know if somebody is badly hurt or killed, that can never be undone."

"It is especially dangerous to start a car off in such a manner as to endanger a child that might be caught in front of the car."

"Constables are on duty about both places, and of course may make arrests where laws are violated."

"But the important thing is that everyone just exercise thought and care to prevent accidents, enjoy these places put there by the county, and help everyone else to enjoy them, too, by cooperating with the park keepers and the law, and preventing some tragedy that would ruin a good time for all and put a cloud over the rest of life for whoever causes the accident and all who are brought sorrow by it."

Deputy Jesse Parker reported that he has received complaints, also, about children running across streets and highways without looking for oncoming traffic.

He urged parents to caution their children to look carefully before crossing streets, particularly highways 277 and 158.

Parker said that Supt. C. B. Barbee told him an effort would be made through the school to alert children to the danger of crossing streets without stopping and looking both ways.

BURLESON-CURTIS RESOLUTION

A resolution has been introduced into Congress which is called the Burleson-Curtis Resolution because it was introduced by Senator Curtis and Congressman Omar Burleson. The purpose of this Resolution is to curb the authority of our leaders to unilaterally disarm the United States. This Resolution is known in the Senate as Senate Concurrent Resolution 21, and in the House of Representatives it is known as House Concurrent Resolution 83. If you are opposed to the plans for disarmament of our nation as explained in the above reprinted material, then write to your Representative and Senators and tell them that you are in favor of these Resolutions to protect our nation from this disarmament scheme. It would also help to write to each member of the Foreign Relations Committee in the Senate and the Foreign Affairs Committee in the House of Representatives to tell them that you are in favor of the passage of this Resolution. You can get a list of these Committee members from your Representative or either one of your Senators.

At this Holy Season,
we pause to join with you in remembering the Word of the Risen Lord—in counting our blessing—in adding our prayers for peace.

To all of our many customers and friends, we wish all the blessings and heartfelt joys of Eastertime.

MARKETING YEAR FOR WOOL AND MOHAIR IS CHANGED

Texas sheep and goat producers are reminded by Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist, that the market years for wool and mohair have been changed from an April 1-March 31 year to a calendar year basis.

In order to make the transition from the April-March base to a calendar year, the 1963 marketing year will consist of only nine months—April through December. The first full calendar marketing year, therefore, will be 1964, explains Uvacek.

These changes are important to sheep and goat producers, says the specialist, since the selling time of their clips and the amount of incentive payments they receive are involved. The incentive payment rate, he explains, is based on the difference between the national average price received by producers and the incentive prices announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The incentive level for wool in the marketing year 1963—April-December—is 62 cents per pound, while that for mohair has been set at 76 cents per pound, Uvacek says.

Pay Dues Now To Golf Assn.

Membership dues for the Golf Association were due on April 10, according to a spokesman for the group, and those who haven't paid are urged to do so immediately. The money is needed to buy and pay for equipment for the new four hole golf course in the park. Work that can be done at present is about finished and the officials are waiting on grass cuttings, which are expected to arrive about April 15.

Between 25-30 paid up members were reported Monday and other are needed, the spokesman said. Dues may be paid to Clint Low, John Boyles, or Aubrey Denman or may be left at the Bob Wilson Barber Shop.

The Coke County program building committee has secured his services to assist local groups and the county extension agents with rural and community development programs.

Brown will speak to the Robert Lee BCD during their noon luncheon Thursday. The BCD changed their meeting date this week from Tuesday to Thursday in order to have Mr. Brown on the program.

A meeting of community leaders and others from over Coke County will be held in the County Courtroom at 2 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. Brown is a gifted speaker, inspirational as well as entertaining. We hope each community will be well represented at the meeting, in order to take advantage of his knowledge in the field of community development.

A field lot and pasture tour will be conducted by the Coke County livestock planning committee, on Tuesday, April 16. Five stops, three to view feed lot operations and two to view pasture programs have been planned by the group.

The tour will include stops at the Simpson feed lots in Robert Lee, R. R. Walston feed lots in Winters and the Porter feed lots under construction in Sweetwater. Pasture management stop will be made in Bronte to view D. K. Glenn's management program and in Sweetwater to see the results of coastal bermuda grass pasture.

The livestock committee planned the tour to allow Coke County operators a chance to gain more information in these two areas.

They are searching for ways to improve upon or add stability or income to livestock operation in Coke County.

Anyone desiring to make the tour should meet with the committee at 7:45 a.m. Tuesday, on the south side of the Courthouse. Should they desire to join the group later, the tour will progress as follows:

Modgling Heads New Data Center In Washington, D.C.

Thomas A. (Bobby) Modgling, who was born and grew up in Bronte, is the head of a World-Wide Data Center recently opened in Washington, D. C. Purpose of the new center is to record earthquakes. It is part of 125 stations scattered over the world.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Modgling of Bronte, the head of the new center in the nation's capital wrote his parents that he was very busy learning the finer points of photography, which when combined with his experience as a geophysicist, will qualify him to head the center.

Under Modgling's direction are about 25 employees, including three geophysicists and a number of clerks, typists and photography technicians.

The network of recording stations under the direction of Coast and Geodetic Survey, hopes eventually to be able to predict earth shocks. The stations will record location, nature and frequency of quakes all over the world, and expect the data collected to set a pattern for predicting future shocks.
