Patrons Meet with Trustees To Discuss School Problems

A hundred or more school patrons and friends heard a discussion Tuesday night on the pros and cons of consolidating the Bronte School with the Robert Lee School. The meeting was called by the local school board after the trustees of both schools held three meetings together to discuss mutual problems.

Board President Joe Rawlings

AD-LIB-BEN

Opinions were varied at the meeting held Tuesday night as to the best solution of our school problem. As most of our readers know the discussion centered largely on whether or not the Bronte and Robert Lee schools should be consolidated.

It was brought out that the main problem of Bronte School is one of too few scholastics in the district. We seriously doubt that the shortage of scholastics is as big a bugaboo as some think. For instance, figures passed out following the meeting show the present enrollment as 275. Back in 1956-57, we had only 288, a drop of 13. When the enrollment for the past nine years is added and divided by nine, it shows an average of 294, less than 20 below our present number of students.

However, we think most everyone agreed that if we had more kids to go to school the other problems would take care of themselves. More students would provide us with more money, and if we had if we would be able to provide facilities needed; we would be able to offer more courses; we would be able to provide our children with a better education, which is, after all, the school's only reason for existing. Every person with whom we have talked presided at the meeting. Supt. C. B. Barbee made a short talk following the invocation by the Rev. Murrell Johns and the pledge to the flag, led by Prin. Joe B. Simpson. The superintendent brought out that the boards had made the study in an effort to find a solution to such problems as dwindling scholastics, limited curricula and inadequate facilities.

Barbee concluded his talk saying, "Our objective in being here this evening is to work toward raising and retaining a higher standard of education for the present and for the future school boy and school girl of the Bronte Independent School District."

Following the superintendent's talk, Rawlings opened the meeting to questions from the audience. On the stage with Rawlings and Barbee were board members Horace Taylor, A. E. Bell, Jr., Conda O. Richards and J. B. Morrow.

One of the first questions which was brought up was a comparison of the bonded indebtedness of the Robert Lee and Bronte Schools. Robert Lee has a debt of $246,000, while Bronte owes $91,000. Board members said the two debts would be combined, should the schools be consolidated, and taxpayers in both districts would assume their part of the entire debt.

The question was asked if only the high schools could be consolidated, leaving the elementary schools as they are. Rawlings answered this question by saying that the entire schools system would have to be consolidated, that it could not be done in part. Location of either elementary or high school would have to be worked out by agreement or by the school board.

L. T. Youngblood, Bronte banker, was quite plain in his opposition to the consolidation question. He said, "I feel like approving a

200 Take Part In Career Day

Approximately 200 students from Robert Lee, Silver and Bronte participated in a Career Day program Monday at Bronte School. Supt. C. B. Barbee said the program was well executed and should be highly beneficial to all who took part.

The program was sponsored by schools of Coke County and the Texas Extension Service. Planning of the program was done by Mrs. Fay C. Roe, HD agent, and Sterling Lindsey, agricultural agent.

The part of the program held in the morning was for all students participating and was held in the school auditorium. Included among the speakers were J. T. Morrow, vocational education consultant from Central High School in San Angelo, and Paul B. Faulkner, dean of men at ACC in Abilene.

Following a break for lunch, the students divided into smaller groups according to their vocational interests. Consultants presented talks and answered questions dealing with the following fields: banking, journalism, law, nursing, mechanics, business, beauty shop operation, engineering, agriculture, police and patrol work, medicine, home economics, teaching, religion and military.

At the morning program entertainment was furnished by Bill Williams, Robert Lee band director, who played the violin, a group of junior high girls, a high school quartet and a saxophone quartet.

PAYROLLS

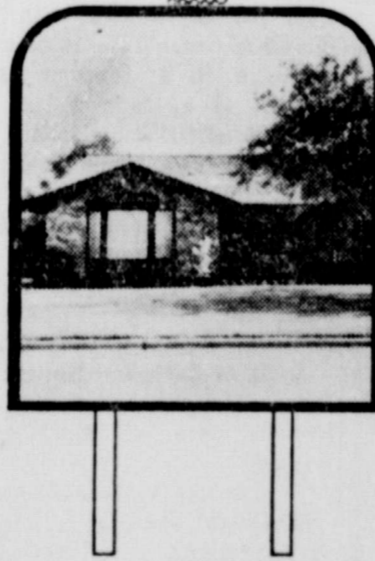

... sparkplug for economic growth

Payrolls pay off when new manufacturing industry begins operation in a town. Memphis, population 3500, is a good example. Pictured above is the Hall Plant, a unit of Burlington Industries, famous textile manufacturers. It brought a payroll to this Texas Panhandle town for more than 100 employees, mostly women, and has become an important addition to the local economy.

National studies show that payrolls, which come from 100 basic new jobs in a community, add 100 more homes such as the total electric Gold Medallion home pictured left . . . increase retail sales by $331,000 annually . . . create three new retail establishments . . . bring 359 new people including 91 school children . . . and add 97 more car registrations.

This is another PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

American industry is on the move . . . expanding, relocating, and establishing new product facilities all over the Nation. Here is another opportunity for communities to seek new manufacturing payrolls. WTU suggests that every community give serious consideration to this opportunity, since payrolls are, as we have seen, a sparkplug for economic development and growth.

thing of this kind (consolidation) would be selling our birthright for a mess of pottage."

On the question of enrollment decrease, it was reported that the number of scholastics has dropped from 303 in 1955 to 275 at the present time.

Simpson was asked to respond to the question of how Bronte school graduates are getting along in their pursuit of college work. He said that the performance of local graduates is above the national average.

It costs $540 per year to send a student to classes in Bronte School while the average for Texas is $400, Barbee stated in answer to the query of how local costs compare with other schools over the state.

Several men made statements that they are interested in seeing Bronte school taxpayers get the most for their tax dollar, and that they would consider moving to another school when they feel they are not receiving this return on their money.

Getting an accurate count of opinions was impossible at the meeting, but those who are opposed to it expressed their views more often than those who considered it possibly feasible.

When the meeting was concluded, Superintendent Barbee told The Enterprise that he would like to have had more persons present, but he considered it a success, because of the intense interest shown by those who were there. He added that he felt the people of the school district are much better acquainted with problems confronting the board and administration than they were before hearing the discussion.

Visiting in the L. H. Lammers home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Lammers and family of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. John Coalson of Meadow, Mr. and Mrs. James Coalson and baby of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coalson.

is for maintaining present standards or improving them.

The thought has occurred to us and to others that we should exert our efforts on the cause of our illness, rather than the symptoms; namely, getting more people in the school district. Other towns with less to offer than Bronte are attracting industry to their communities. They are trying to provide jobs for young people with growing families. Why can't we do that? If we could do it successfully, our major school problems would take care of themselves.

We believe the answer is not to give up our school to another town nor to a site halfway between Bronte and Robert Lee. We believe our answer lies in spending some money, time and effort to improve our community to the extent that small industries would like to call our town their home.

Bronte is the best small town we know of in which to raise a family. We have more facilities for the benefit of young people than any town our size. The grown-ups here are more than generous in their efforts to provide recreation for the youngsters. We have less than our quota of thugs and delinquents. It's just a good, wholesome family town.

Perhaps what we need is to spend a little money to let others know about what we have to offer. A little horn-tooting might be in order.

We have another problem here in that jobs are scarce for youngsters. The business community of the town is not prosperous enough to hire many youngsters during the summer months or after school. Of course, the main reason for that condition is the disloyalty of customers, including some of our teachers, who are looking for an excuse to buy out of town. But that's another problem. However, they do all tie in together, and the solution of one will help solve the other.

As the matter stands right now, we are unalterably opposed to consolidation. But we are in favor of all school patrons and friends becoming aware of the problem confronting the school and its board and administration, and seriously seeking the best solution for our boys and girls.

We are firmly for trying to improve our school by improving our community. We could all dig pretty deep to finance a promotion of this kind and still come out better than we would financing a consolidation.

GORDON McLENDON

Your candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator

BELIEVES . . .

• FOREIGN AID—Foreign aid should be withheld from all communist-dominated countries. Foreign aid should be maintained in those countries in which we have military bases. In other countries where any aid might be prudent, it should be mainly in the form of surplus agricultural products.

• NATIONAL DEBT—Government expenditures should be made only from current income in peacetime. An orderly program for retirement of the public debt should be initiated.

• FOREIGN AFFAIRS—The Monroe Doctrine should be firmly restated and upheld.

It's Beautiful

Gorgeous roses in full bloom, yellow iris and other flowers and shrubs, along with landscaping of the two large lots, are some of the reasons why the Foy Moore residence is so attractive.

Any family that contemplates building a new home or buying a place in Bronte, should take a long look at this property. We are ready to talk business and the price is down where it can be financed.

You're invited to inspect the property, and Everett Bruton will show it to you. If you've seen it once, go back for another look. It's beautiful. You and your family would be proud to make it your home.
