AG BOYS BUILD FENCE

Vocational agriculture students of Bronte High School have constructed a fence from the south end of their new building on out to the school property line.

Built of concrete blocks, the fence has "FFA" blocked off so it can be seen from the street.

A new light fixture with the letters "FHA" outlined inside has been hung at the front of the entrance to the homemaking department of the school.

Snake Roundup Set March 11-12

Bronte Jaycees' annual Rattlesnake Roundup will be held March 11 and 12, with big prizes being offered to persons who bring in the largest number of pounds of snakes. Prizes are offered for the longest snake, the snake with the most rattles, also.

The annual affair, which draws huge crowds from all over the country is one of the biggest and best snake shows in West Texas.

Shellie Downs, well known snake handler from Florida, will again be featured in snake handling and milking exhibitions. Another handler will also be engaged to help entertain the expected crowd.

Prizes totaling $335 will be awarded as follows: for pounds of snakes delivered on Saturday: 1st prize, $175; 2nd prize, $50; third prize, $15. For most pounds delivered on Sunday: 1st prize, $50; 2nd prize, $25. For snake with most rattles, $10; for longest snake, $10

Lots of good hunting territory is located in Coke County and hunters should be able to find lots of rattlers, especially as late as March 11 and 12. Martin Lee, publicity man for the show, said more hunters than have participated in past years are needed. "We have calls from lots of ranchmen who would like for somebody to hunt on their places, and I hope we have enough hunters to go around," Lee said.

Any rancher or other land owner who want their places hunted are requested to sign up at Mackey Feed & Supply or Hurlin Lee Humble Station.

Attention was also called to the fact that some hunters are already hunting snakes, and they should be sure that they have permission of land owners.

City Election To Be Held Here March 4

A city election will be held Tuesday, April 4, to elect two aldermen to Bronte's city council. Terms of Councilmen Norman R. Kiker and Horace Grigg expire this year.

Another vacancy for the position of Buddy Reed also exists, but the council has the right to appoint a member to fill a vacancy. It is expected this vacancy will be filled before time for the election. Reed moved from Bronte, leaving the vacancy.

Deadline for filing for the city jobs is March 4, 30 days before the election. Candidates who wish to file should contact the city secretary, Mrs. Helen Kirkland. A candidate's name may also be filed by petition.

Kiker told The Enterprise that he would not seek reelection. Grigg was not contacted before press time.

County Agents News Column

By STERLING LINDSEY

Coke County 4-H Club members made a responsible showing in the stiff Abilene Show week before last. As usual, we had some disappointments, but as a whole our group placed about as many animals as anyone.

In the lamb division our big splash was in the light weight Crossbred Class. Five of the six lambs making the sale were in this class of approximately 200 lambs. Lane Beaty stood 14th; A. J. Roe III, 16th; Riley Waldrop, 20th; and Eddie, Gary, Linda and Jean McDaniel had the 16th and 24th place lamb in this class. One other lamb making the sale was Walter and Jeania Tinkler's 22nd place heavy weight Finewool lamb.

Two other lambs I recall being placed were Lane Beaty's 22nd light weight finewool and Kathy Service's 27th heavy Finewool.

Several of the swine entries placed among the top animals. Rebecca, Audrey and Sharon Walker placed 3rd, 4th, and 7th, respectively. Rebecca and Audrey had entries in the light weight Duroc Class while Sharon competed in the heavy Duroc Class. Also, placing in the heavy Duroc Class were Sue Lindsey, placing 3rd, and Eddie McDaniel, placing 5th. Two other light Durocs were placed that failed to make the sale. Lesa Lindsey placed 17th and Terry Wojtek placed 19th. There were 93 pigs in the light weight Duroc Class.

Next on the agenda of shows will be the Houston Show. Several club members plan to compete at Houston the first of March and still more the following week in the San Angelo Show.

Texas had its first screwworm case of 1967 last week. One of the Valley Counties reported a case.

Wherever you find cattlemen you'll find controversy over which size cow raises beef the most efficiently. Some literature says larger cows, up to a certain point, at least, tend to give more milk and raise bigger calves.

But it may not be necessarily true, particularly for individual cows, according to a "cow size" study underway at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center. So far in the test, some smaller cows have produced heavier calves on less feed than larger cows.

A. A. Melton, animal husbandman, in charge of the test, said preliminary results show no positive relationship between size of the cow and gain of the calf. He said milk yield of the mother cow seems to have much more effect on performance of the calf than size of the cow.

In nearly every case, the cow giving more milk raised a bigger calf. Surprisingly, and contrary to some other reports, smaller cows often gave as much and more milk than large cows.

In the test, Charolais and Hereford cows were divided into groups according to size. Range in the Hereford cows was from 937 to 1,372 pounds. Range of the Charolais was 1,148 to 1,546 pounds.

In the Hereford group, Melton found the smaller animals raised calves weaning an average of 29 pounds more than those from the larger cows — and on 10 pounds less total feed. The feed total includes feed for the mother and creep feed for the calf.

In the Charolais group, the small cows raised calves weaning 72 pounds more — on 237 pounds less feed.

Now that the calves are weaned, Melton has them in the feedlot to see if there are differences in feedlot performances in calves from small compared to large cows. Also, the cows are being maintained during their dry period to see if larger cows require more feed during the dry period.

This is the first year for the test, said Melton, so the results are somewhat incomplete. The study will continue for ten years.

Primitive prints are the biggest fashion trend in the spring cotton fabric lineup.

Textile designers are emphasizing the bright, hot colors and original native designs of primitive tribes in both the Old and New Worlds. For instance, the multi-colored geometric symbols showing up in many spring cottons are borrowed from the art of the ancient Aztecs of Mexico, or the Inca Indians of South America. These primitive designs look most authentic on homespun and other rough-weave cottons—as do the prints inspired by Africa's native fabrics.

Africana cottons are coming on strong in sports year collections for spring, '67. Inspired by authentic tribal prints, the cottons have the look of genuine hand-blocked fabrics. They blaze with strong earth colors: shadings of red, brown, yellow, and green, etched in exotic designs on sturdy, washable cottons. African prints appear most often on the more coarsely woven cottons—but primitive print fabrics range from terry cloth to cotton satin. Showing up in both piece goods and ready-to-wear fashions, colorful Africana cottons are favorites for beach and lounge wear.

They're especially popular for caftans, long flowing robes worn as beach cover-ups and at-home gowns. The robes are copied after those worn for centuries by desert tribesmen in North Africa and the Middle East.

Correct Disposal of Paper and Glass Pesticide Containers

Many pesticide products are sold for home use in paper and glass containers.

These containers pose special disposal problems. An important part of pesticide use around the home is the correct disposal of all so-called "empty" containers.

There is a right way to take care of glass pesticide containers. You should make sure that the containers are never used again. Dispose of them in a manner that does not create a hazard to pets and members of the family.

The best way to get rid of glass containers is wrap them with several layers of newspaper and then break them with a hammer. Then place the package of broken glass in the garbage can or take it to a local supervised sanitary land-fill dump to be buried. You can bury them yourself if you choose an isolated area away from children, pets, and garden areas.

Paper containers present a problem because they are combustible. When you burn the paper containers you also burn the remainder of the pesticide powder within. The pesticide will either go up with the smoke and settle somewhere nearby, or, it will remain as a residue within the ashes of the fire.

Burning of herbicide "weedkiller" residue in paper containers is to be avoided because the residue will often drift with the smoke and settle on some susceptible ornamental plant or crop nearby. It can thus do extensive damage.

The safest way to dispose of paper containers is to take them to a sanitary land-fill dump to be buried.

The Lord is my shepherd

The 23rd Psalm is one of the most familiar chapters in the Bible. Early in life, most of us have committed it to memory. Every once in a while we should go back to these verses and think of the wonderful message of faith and trust in God that they reveal to us. They show us that we have a loving Father; one who will show us the right paths; one who will protect and provide for us. These scriptures end with a note of thanksgiving and a promise.

"Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

Plan to start a regular worship in the Lord's house this Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Don't Be That ONE!

It takes two to start a fight...but only one person to cause an accident. One careless driver can kill or cripple a pedestrian or fellow motorist. The Coke County Traffic Safety Committee suggests that you take immediate steps to keep from being this one person. Check up on your driving habits. If you run the yellow lights. If you roll past stop signs. If you speed through school zones...stop these dangerous practices. Stop them right now...before it is too late.

ELECTRIC CONDITIONED LIVING ● ELECTRIC CONDITIONED LIVING ● ELECTRIC CONDITIONED LIVING

What people are saying about...

A CLEAN BREAK WITH THE PAST

"It meets with total-family approval," is what the Jack Rogers family of Abilene say.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Jim and Jenny live in over 1500 square feet of total electric GOLD MEDALLION comfort, and they like it all. "We like electric baseboard heating because it's quiet," Mrs. Rogers says. "It's controlled heat from room to room. We like to turn off the heat in the bedrooms at night."

The cooling, lighting and extra outlets add conveniences, too. "And we like electric water heating because we're never out of hot water," Mrs. Rogers says. "My electric range is easy to clean, and it doesn't black-up my pans."

Operating cost is only $21.53 per month average—thanks to WTU's low 16¢ winter heating rate.

Why not step up to total electric living and find out what you have to say about it!

*Plus tax and fuel adjustment.

WHAT A RACKET!! — Mason Glenn, Bennie Carol Oglesby and Gary Don Allen, Bronte students attempt to blot out the extremely loud roar of a miniature pulse jet engine. This was one of nine demonstrations in the famed General Motors Science Show "Previews of Progress" that appeared at the school last Friday. Presented by Public Relations representative, David G. Gosler, is designed to interest students in choosing a career in science or engineering.

The pulse jet was used to trace the history of jet propulsion from the invention of the aeolipile in 200 B.C. to modern jet engines.

SOLAR POWERED CAR—A second demonstration, viewed by, left to right, students Jake Golson, Janet Lee and Sidney Eubanks was a sunmobile that runs on sunlight that strikes the eight photovoltaic cells on its hood. The cells change 12% of the energy of sunlight into four volts of electricity. A 300 watt lamp was used to demonstrate the sunmobile indoors. "There are no plans to produce sun-powered cars in the foreseeable future," Mr. Gosler said, "but the sunmobile does illustrate one method of obtaining energy directly from the sun."

DUMMIES FLY — Students Gary Stroebel, Lisa Morrow and Charles McGuire were greatly interested in seeing the effects of a simulated crash on two articulated dummies who were not wearing their seat belts. A miniature impact sled was used for this demonstration on safety. Students were told of how engineers and medical researchers use full-scale sleds to test effects of a collision on man-size dummies. High speed movie cameras and special detectors enable engineers to record the action and forces exerted throughout these tests. "The impact sled is one of our most valuable safety research tools because it can duplicate almost any kind of collision and repeat it as often as desired," Gosler said.

Easter Seal Appeal To Start In Coke

The 1967 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Coke County Monday, Feb. 20, according to Bill Allen, Robert Lee banker, who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county. Allen said that Easter Seal Appeal letters would be arriving at homes in the county about March 1.

An Easter Seal representative, Allen is the person to contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing program and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults.

Special emphasis is being given in 1967 by the Easter Seal Society in Texas to locating disabled children and adults who may need rehabilitation services and do not know where they are available. Anyone who could benefit from treatment and services offered by the Easter Seal Society can contact Allen at the Robert Lee State Bank.

The Easter Seal Society was established to assist disabled persons and their families in finding and making effective use of all resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more useful lives. The Society helps support 23 treatment facilities where crippled children and adults are treated regardless of their ability to pay. Wheelchairs, walkers and related services are provided for those who cannot provide for themselves.

Allen said the Easter Seal Society depends on the annual Easter Seal Appeal to finance this program of rehabilitation in Texas. He urged Coke County citizens to increase their support of the Easter Seal Society, and its program to help crippled children and adults.

MAYOR IN AUSTIN

Mayor Royce Lee left Wednesday morning for Austin where he will attend a meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Small Town Task Force. The WTCC group will meet with Gov. John Connally and several state boards and agencies to present problems of small towns to state officials.

The meeting will start at 9:30 Thursday. After the morning session, the group will have lunch with Governor Connally, with Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith and Speaker Ben Barnes as special guests.

Lee said the purpose of the meetings is "to talk with various state agencies and ask their service on possible remedies for the ailments of small towns."

The mayor went to Austin early as he wanted to discuss some matters of local interest with the Texas Water Rights Board and with Parks and Wildlife officials.

A number of meetings have been conducted over West Texas during the past several months by the Task Force, and a White Paper summarizing the findings will be prepared following the Austin meeting.
