

The view from your library

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX
The Summer Reading Program will be over Saturday, and the party will be Aug. 9 at 9:30 at the First State Bank community room. If you have read at least 12 books during the summer then you have an invitation to attend the party and receive your certificate.

NEARLY everyone is counting calories now. Most of us eat the wrong foods and therefore we gain too much weight. We have a delightful book in the library "How to Gorge George Without Fattening Fanny," by Nancy Gould. This is an interesting book and with these recipes you can be eating some of the most delicious foods and still not have to worry about calories. This book combines humor with recipes. Here are some "Foods for Moods": "Oh, my aching Heart; Oh, my aching Sweet Tooth." DESSERTS AND SWEETS When true love goes, My sweet tooth grows I crave cookies and candy, Anything that's handy. It's not the same as a man, I know, But a chocolate cake won't leave you low. These puddings and pies, May smother your sighs. "I'm mad as a hornet; I could eat a horse, And still have room for a second course." MEATS, POULTRY, FISH Your ice box is no place to go, To cool a raging temper, you know, You'll only grow to hate yourself, For resorting to that pantry shelf.

MORE donating books: Rev. R. Chen, Georgia Henderson and the Lonnie Bells, and Melissa Goolsby. My sister, Mrs. Lynna Cloer of Tulsa, went with me to the book sale sponsored by the Friends of the Library in Lubbock last Friday. We bought several books for the Castro County Library. (The Friends of the Library here furnished the money for us to buy these books.) While I was at the book sale in Lubbock I saw Margaret Baskin a friend of mine who also knows the Cowsets; Lena Martin a former resident of Dimmitt, the Wylies, and Wayne Henley, a neighbor of mine when I lived in Lubbock. Wayne has been associated with the Avalanche-Journal for 42 years.

INTERESTING people in the library last week: It must have been grandmother week because we had so many to visit the library. Mrs. Smith from Borger came in with her grandchildren, Cindy, Kim and Lance. The other grandmother will be in from New York. Bobbie Baldrige brought her grandmother, Mrs. W. S. Garner, from Arp. Sheril has been reading all summer. Paul and Barbara Blanchard and their family Stephanie, Nicholas, Christopher and Michael; also Barbara's aunt Monica Ros from California.

Christopher and Michael attend school in England. Mrs. Bedford Smith and her grandchildren, Cara Koble and Richard Lee Koble from Cushing, Okla. Beral Hance and her two granddaughters, Tracey and Paige from Richardson, came in and checked out some books while they were here visiting. Susan and Nolan Clay from Ponca City, Okla. visited the library while they were here visiting their mother, Donna Williams. Betty Parish and Robin were in the library one day. Betty had been visiting her sister in Oregon and had stood in a clump of poison ivy. J. C. Reese, who is the NYC coordinator and counselor, came by one day to visit with the girls who are working through this program. We have had three this summer, Irma Salinas, Lupe Quiononez, and Maria Leal. Roy Rowan from Lubbock came in with the Andrews, Sonya, Becky and Brenda.

By GERALD BROADSTREET
Greetings Comrades
Last Tuesday, the 25th, I had the pleasure of visiting Post 8570 in Muleshoe. I had a most enjoyable visit with their Commander, Joe T. Gonzales. He assured me that he would be in Dimmitt for our District 13 convention. From the way he talked, they just might win the "Traveling Plaque" by having the most members present. I was really impressed with the post in Muleshoe. To be as young in the organization as they are, they sure have a nice post home. If you get a chance, be sure and pay them a visit, you'll be equally impressed I'm sure.

WELL Comrades, one more weekend and the District 13 Convention will be here, that's the weekend of August 12 and 13. I sincerely hope that you've made plans to attend. It's important that the local post have a strong attendance, it reflects to the visiting posts that we stand behind our officers and help support every way possible.

This will be the first convention with the newly elected District officers. Comrades, we have a fine program lined up for the convention that includes the "Wells Fargos" for your dancing pleasure. This is the group that played for us the 22nd that everyone was so pleased with. They can really make some good music and their violin player is out of this world.

Our Department Representative will be Senior Vice Commander W. K. Huber of Corpus Christi. Comrade Huber is a nice person and a hard working individual that really puts forth his best effort in promoting our organization. I hope you'll put forth a big effort in making his acquaintance.

The Ladies Auxiliary has planned the menu for the Sunday meal and it is really something. The main dishes are roast beef and ham.

As you can see by the information I've given you that this is going to be a memorable convention and we want you to be a part of it, so please be there. Okay?

BY THE way Comrades, our next regular meeting will be this coming Monday Aug. 7. Remember our post will open at 7:30, one hour prior to meeting time, and only members will be admitted. Please try to make this meeting, it's important that you do for we have much to discuss and decide.

I do want to mention that we have been having some nice big crowds at our "Game Night Activities" on Wednesday. We sure do appreciate you coming out and participating. I hope you enjoy it as much as I do. We start at 8:30 but if you want to be assured of a good table you'll have to get there early.

IN THE state there are 283 feedlots with a capacity of 1,000 head or more. Of these, 205 reported cattle on feed July 1, while the other 78 reported their feedlots as empty. Capacity for all 283 large feedlots totaled 2,621,950 head and showed a 73 percent occupancy.

Birthday party honors R. Young

A birthday celebration honoring R. Young on his 70th birthday was held Sunday at his home at 204 NW Fifth St.

MR. YOUNG, who had suffered a broken foot and is recuperating in Plains Memorial Hospital, was released for a few hours Sunday to enjoy the birthday dinner and visit with the family. All of his children were in Dimmitt for the celebration, although his son, Marshall, had to celebrate in the hospital also, a victim of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Young have six daughters and one son. Their children are Pauline Bridges of Hereford, Ruth Mitchell of Pecos, Bobbie Pierson of Petersburg, Mary Brice of Pueblo, Colo., Rosie Hall of Pecos, Christine Bridges of Houston and Marshall Young of Dimmitt. Also present were 12 of the Youngs' 17 grandchildren. Two of the grandsons not present were serving in the armed forces overseas.

After the dinner was served, Mr. Young cut the birthday cake which was made and decorated by his daughter, Ms. Bobbie Pierson. The cake was decorated with a rose tree, with a rose for each member of the family. Ms. Pierson also wrote a poem entitled "33 Roses" to explain the cake decorations.

TEXAS garden-fresh vegetables are in abundance now, and most consumers agree that these Texas agricultural products are first in quantity and quality. There are 105 counties in 13 areas of the state growing vegetables in commercial quantities on a total of 214,140 acres. The state ranks third in the nation, behind California and Florida, in production of fresh market vegetables; and is first among the states in production of watermelons, spinach and cabbage.

'Fun Day' slated for 4-H youths

By IRENE KEATING
It is only a little over two weeks until you'll need to have your children back in school. I know how busy all you mothers are.

OUR SECOND annual county 4-H Fun Day will be held next Thursday at Palo Duro Canyon beginning at 10 a.m. There is an excellent program planned and all 4-H'ers and their families are urged to attend.

Sunday the 4-H Junior Leaders Club will hold a "can drive" and pick up beer cans and bottles from the county's roadways. They did this several weeks ago and collected a trailer load of bottles and cans.

The Dimmitt 4-H'ers had a real nice swimming party last week. About 40 4-H'ers and parents attended. Mr. and Mrs. Therman Oldham are the organization leaders for his club and are doing a fine job.

The Dimmitt and Nazareth 4-H Clubs each have over 50 members. Luke Acker and Mary Acker are the organization leaders at Nazareth.

THE HAPPY Heipers 4-H girls club at Easter gained several little boys at their July meeting and decided to call themselves the Jolly Workers now. Mr. and Mrs. Buster Thomason are their organization leaders.

I hope all of you read the 1970 census information that was in last week's newspaper. It revealed some interesting facts about the people in our county and that our average income is about $2,000 less than that of the state as a whole. No wonder there aren't many young people here—they'd rather work where salaries are good. Let's work together for the ultimate good of Castro County.

Judicial Inconsistency?

In quite a far reaching decision the United States Supreme Court recently ruled that a state could not use its police power to force children of Amish families to attend school beyond the elementary grades.

The Amish people have their own ideas on how their children can serve both their God and society, and the highest court of the land recognized this right.

But the very same court has ruled, at least by inference, that other parents do not have the right to send their children to the school nearest their home if somebody decides they should be bused to some other area. The term inference is used here because the Supreme Court decisions on this matter of busing are quite cloudy.

Somewhere involved in all this is an issue revolving around what is called quality education for all children, but so far no one has been able to come up with a precise definition of what a quality education comprises.

It could be said, with some justification, it is presumed, that graduation from high school is part of a quality education, but in the Amish case the court apparently did not hold to this view.

The nation's independent business people, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, support a Constitutional amendment that would prohibit compulsory busing. In their minds, at least, there is no affinity between quality education and busing.

After all, tax money spent on gasoline, does not improve the quality of the curriculum. Tax money spent to hire bus drivers instead of teachers hardly seems to go in the direction of higher quality of educational instruction. And money spent to buy buses, tires, repairs, et al, does nothing to improve the quality of classrooms, labor facilities, recreational facilities, and other needed items.

In addition, long bus rides to and from school for young children is not the best way to maintain in them the mental alertness necessary to absorb education of any quality.

Thus, there appears to be a great inconsistency in judicial reasoning.

In the Amish case, the court rules the police powers of a state to control the lives of children are illegal. But on the other hand, it has so far upheld the police powers of the state to exercise control over all other children.

Thus, without meaning any disrespect to a hard working, sober and very respected segment of the people, it is quite proper to pose a paraphrase.

What's sauce for the Amish is also sauce for the non-Amish.

ONION HARVEST is now in its final week here. The county's onion growers, enjoying a bumper crop, are producing enough of the big spicy-sweet onions for millions of hamburgers and tanga dishes across the nation. Here a process worker at the plant of La Mantia, Cullum, Collier & Co., Inc., fills out a large sack of Sugar Sweet brand No. 1 onions to be shipped. As onion harvesting and processing winds down, the potato harvest continues in full swing, and carrots and cucumbers approach their peak in local fields and processing plants.

Bentsen urges USDA to move to prevent VEE

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen last week urged the Agriculture Department to take all necessary precautions to prevent a recurrence of last summer's VEE epidemic among Texas horses.

In a telegram to Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, Bentsen pointed out that there have been recent reported outbreaks of VEE in northern and western areas of Mexico.

"These outbreaks demand utmost cooperation of your agency with the Mexican government and the Texas Agriculture Commission to preclude a recurrence of last year's disastrous epidemic in Texas," Bentsen said.

The Texas senator also urged the USDA to contact all interested individuals and organizations, and coordinate activities necessary to protect livestock from VEE.

"TEXAS agriculture officials have assured me that, at this point, the Mexican outbreaks pose no immediate threat to our state," Bentsen said. "But, until we can complete research into this disease, we must move very cautiously."

Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) struck heavily in Texas last year, in an epidemic that caught the USDA off-guard.

Sen. Bentsen, noting that "sufficient foresight and adequate research may have prevented the disease from reaching epidemic proportions," successfully co-sponsored legislation to alleviate the problem. The measure appropriated $1 million to the USDA for VEE research and control.

"But our efforts must not stop there," Bentsen said. "We must do everything humanly possible to assure that this dread horse disease does not return to plague Texas."

Most Texans of Spanish heritage are young, urbanized, earn less

What percentage of all Texans are of Spanish heritage? What percentage are at least second-generation Americans? How many live in rural areas? What's their median income and age?

THESE QUESTIONS and many others are answered in a new Census Bureau report on the state's largest ethnic minority, based on the 1970 census.

The report shows that nearly one in five Texans (18 percent) is of Spanish heritage. Of the state's 11.1 million total population, 2,059,671 have Spanish surnames, or speak Spanish at home or as their mother tongue.

An overwhelming majority of Texans of Spanish heritage live in urban areas. The official figures are 1,723,531 (or 84 percent) who live and work in the cities.

ONLY 336,140 Texans of Spanish heritage live in rural areas, and only 18 percent of these live on farms.

In fact, three Texas cities have almost as high a combined Spanish-heritage population as all rural areas of the state put together. These cities are El Paso with 190,582 (56 percent of the city's total population), Brownsville with 45,115 (86 percent), and Laredo with 60,084 (86 percent).

Eighty-nine percent of all Texans of Spanish heritage were born in the United States. Most of these are at least second-generation Americans, with less than one-third having one or both parents born in Mexico.

TSE MEDIAN age of the Spanish-heritage population is 19.3 years, compared with 26½ years for the population of Texas as a whole.

Persons of Spanish heritage 25 and older averaged 7.2 years of completed schooling, compared with 11.6 years for the total population 25 and older.

Among the 600,425 persons of Spanish heritage 16 and older who were employed in 1970, 3 percent held professional or technical jobs; 14 percent were clerical or kindred workers; 15 percent were in crafts; 16 percent were operatives (mostly nate cash crop and thus keep a portion of our state's largest industry in operation," Tower said.

machinery); and 14 percent were service workers other than private household.

MEDIAN income in 1969 of the 423,780 families of Spanish heritage amounted to $5,897 compared with $8,490 for all families in the state.

Tribulations in the report show that 6 percent of the Spanish heritage families had incomes of $15,000 or more, while 17 percent of all Texas families were in this income bracket. At the opposite end of the scale, 21 percent of the Spanish heritage families and 13 percent of all families had incomes below $3,000.

Similar detailed statistics for persons of Spanish language and surname are available in the 1970 census reports for Arizona, California, Colorado and New Mexico.

Copies of the report, "General Social and Economic Characteristics: Texas" PC(1-C45), are available for $6 each from the Superintendent of Documents, US Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, or from any Dept. of Commerce field office.

The surprising Maverick.

It's a comfortable, 6-cylinder American compact that's actually priced below the Volkswagen 113.

If you can afford a Volkswagen 113 - or almost any little import - you can afford a Maverick. Look:

FORD MAVERICK	2-door	6-cylinder	$2,140.*
VW 113 (Super Beetle)	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,159.*
TOYOTA COROLLA 1600	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,109.*
DATSUN PL 510	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,306.*

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for 2-door models. Excludes dealer preparation charges if any, destination charges, title and taxes.

NOTE: People ask us how we can afford to offer a roomy, 6-cylinder compact at about the same price as the little imports. First, we've been making small cars since 1908. Experience helps. Second, we haven't changed Maverick—except for mechanical improvements—since we first introduced it. That kind of continuity helps to control costs. Third, recent currency revaluations and devaluations have helped restore the competitive stance of American manufacturers.

Ample room inside.

Maverick's front seat, for example, over 8" more shoulder room than Volkswagen 113. There's no wasted space inside Maverick. At the same time, none of that small-car crowded feeling.

Maintenance: Even simpler, more convenient than the little imports.

VW, for example, recommends normal service every 3000 miles or three months, whichever comes first. On Maverick, it's 6000 miles or six months. So Maverick's recommended service interval is twice as long as Volkswagen's.

We also designed Maverick to be a simple machine to care for. In fact, we've even prepared a manual which tells you how to do many maintenance jobs yourself.

One more convenience: there are over 5,600 Ford dealers in the country. VW has about 1,100.

FORD MAVERICK
FORD DIVISION

A good car for long trips.

Maverick's rear track is 2.9" wider than Volkswagen's. Its wheelbase is 7.7" longer. There's a bit more weight, too. By themselves, these differences aren't very big—but they can add up to a big difference in the way Maverick drives and handles the open road.

Better idea for safety... buckle up!

It may just be the best car value in America today.

Liquid SEVIMOL CARBARYL INSECTICIDE

now labeled for control of CORN BORERS

If Southwestern corn borers tunnel into stalks and lodge your plants, you'll lose plenty in profits. Keep them out of your crop with liquid SEVIMOL.

Recently labeled for use against the Southwestern corn borer, liquid SEVIMOL insecticide will help keep this greedy feeder from wrecking your crop and reducing your profits. Here's how to use this outstanding insecticide:

Start examining your crop now because the maximum hatch period lasts from mid-July through mid-August. If egg masses or larvae are present on 50 to 75 percent of your plants, apply SEVIMOL. Then plan a second application 7 to 10 days later.

SEVIMOL is a combination of molasses and dependable SEVIN carbaryl insecticide. Dispersed in water and sprayed in low-volume applications, it gives you a heavy spray that falls fast and sticks to plants, resisting wash-off by rain and irrigation. And SEVIMOL not only gets Southwestern corn borer, it also controls corn earworm, fall armyworm and certain other corn insects.

This season, beat Southwestern corn borer to the punch with the power of liquid SEVIMOL insecticide. Your dealer stocks it. See him today.
