Housing Work Showing Up

Annual Special On Enterprise Starts Monday

The Bronte Enterprise's big annual subscription special will start Monday, July 1. It will be the 20th such event which allows readers of this newspaper to save 50 cents on any subscription.

The offer is good for new, renewal or extension subscriptions either in the Coke County area or more distant locations.

The price for The Enterprise during the bargain days is $3.00 in Coke and adjoining counties, compared to the regular price of $3.50. Anywhere else, the regular price of $4.50 has been reduced to $4.00. "We are happy again this year," said Publisher Ben Oglesby, "to offer our readers this savings on their subscriptions."

He pointed out that the offer is good for subscriptions which expire any time. If a subscription is not out, it will be marked up a year from its regular expiration date.

Orders for The Enterprise may be mailed in or brought by the Enterprise office. Readers living in outlying communities may subscribe through Enterprise representatives, including Dana Cunningham or Mrs. W. T. Green in the Tennyson area; Mrs. Rocky Thompson at Blackwell; or Mrs. Herbert Holland in the Brookshire-Maverick-Norton area.

A big percentage of Enterprise subscriptions are sold each year during the July special.

TOWN TO TAKE HOLIDAY

Most Bronte business firms will be closed Thursday, July 4th, in observance of Independence Day. Included in the closing will be the city hall, U. S. postoffice and First National Bank. Some businesses will remain open to take care of treatment and local trade expected on the holiday.

The Bronte Enterprise will be unable to close, since the holiday falls on the pres day when The Monitor, newspaper for Goodfellow Air Force Base, is printed. Instead of closing on the 4th, The Enterprise will be closed on Friday, July 5.

AD-LIB-BEN

There was a good one in a syndicated column one day this week. It should prove applicable to lots of persons we know, and went something like this: I make too much money for anybody to buy me the things I want, and not enough to buy them for myself.

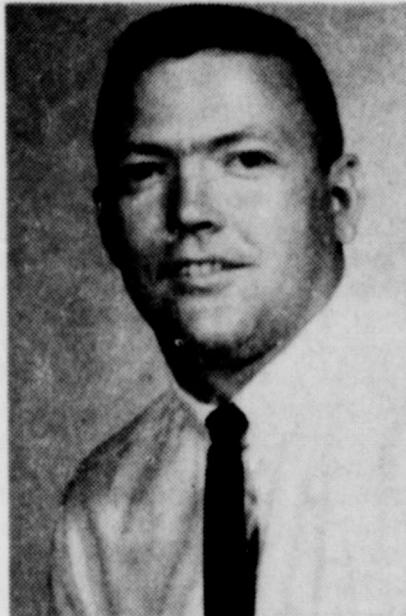

As we wrote in this column last week, Bronte citizens, both junior and senior, would welcome any part or all of Norton's student body as a part of Bronte school.

We believe Norton students would be more at home here than any place they could go. Our school concentrates on development of a small student body, and is successful in most cases in bringing out the best our students have.

As a general rule, nobody has money who ought to have it. — Benjamin Disraeli.

Saying little can be a real help in acquiring a reputation for knowing a lot.

This issue marks 30 for the first 20 years Libby and I have worked on the Bronte Enterprise. We might have some more to say on this matter next week, if we have time between now and then to take a long backward look.

NEW COACH — Gaylon Woodard is the new assistant football coach and girls basketball coach employed by the Bronte School. Woodard has been principal of Blackwell School. Supt. C. B. Barbee said he will probably teach several history courses in addition to his coaching duties.

4-H Horse Show Set for Tuesday

The Coke County 4-H Club Horse Show will be held in the Bronte Arena on Tuesday night, July 2, at 8 p.m.

The show will include halter classes and performance events. The champion mare and champion gelding will be selected in the halter classes.

Five performance events are scheduled with Junior and Senior divisions in each event. The events are reining, western pleasure, pole bending, barrel racing and flag racing.

Each member will exhibit his or her animal at halter. Also, each contestant will enter two or more of the performance events. The public is invited to watch the show and performance.

A big showing has been made in the past couple of weeks on the new housing project. Last official report received by Norman R. Kiker, executive director of Bronte Housing Authority, stated that the project was 16.97 per cent complete. However, the report was dated June 15, and a

Farm Bureau Announces Plans For Queen and Talent Contests

Officials of Coke County Farm Bureau announced this week that the organization will hold its annual Queen Contest and Talent Find July 27. The contests will be held in Bronte School auditorium this year.

Mrs. C. E. Arrott, Farm Bureau secretary, said that four Coke County girls have already indicated their intentions to enter the Queen Contest. She said that others who want to enter could contact her at the office in Robert Lee. Mrs. Arrott pointed out that candidates for the Queen Contest must come from families who are Farm Bureau members.

Farm Bureau is interested in having as many persons as possible enter the Talent Find contest, Mrs. Arrott said. Entrants do not necessarily have to be members of families who belong to Farm Bureau, she said.

Plans are for committees to be appointed in the next few days to work out details of the contests. More information will be printed as soon as plans are more definite.

The Farm Bureau will send two Coke County young people to the High School Student Seminar, July 30-Aug. 3, at Baylor University in Waco. Mrs. Arrott said. Janet Lee of Bronte and Darrel Pitcock of Robert Lee will represent the local organization. Other Farm Bureau activities on the calendar include some sort of special observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27.

Austin, Tex. — Arrival at the mid-way mark in the 30-day special legislative session touched off an explosion of activity in key areas of spending, taxation and liquor-by-the-drink.

*Both House and Senate passed versions of the 1969 budget and went to conference committee to work out differences.

*House passed by a narrow margin (78 votes to 67) Gov. John Connally's bill to permit liquor by the drink sales in mini-bottles under taxation and strict regulation.

*House Revenue and Tax Committee sent out for debate and full House action Connally's $119 million tax package. This controversial measure hopefully will land in conference committee this week after amendments in both houses.

Representatives voted overwhelmingly for a $474 million general revenue budget, senators for a $479.7 million general fund appropriations measure. House version would require $132.6 million in new revenue, Senate bill $137.9 million. All phases of Connally's tax liquor-by-the-drink legislations were designed to raise $127.2 million, so additional revenue must be found.

House fought a bitter battle over the mini-bottles bill which was combined with proposals of a sub-committee for strengthening liquor laws. Tax on little bottles and increased fees will produce over $8 million. An addition $6.5 million would come from a gross receipts tax on private clubs, as called for in Connally's tax bill.

Margin on mini-bottles in the Senate is said to be even closer than in the House. Poll takers said 14 to 15 senators would be counted as sure supporters.

A sales tax increase to three per cent is certain to figure in the final tax package. This whether the legislature votes a straight rate hike or goes along with Connally's plan to raise the rate and rebate 75 per cent of the take to cities (in lieu of their present local option sales tax levy). Connally also proposes to put sales tax on many services and cigarettes.

Mini-bottles bill would make one-drink-sized containers available in licensed hotels, clubs, restaurants, planes and trains.

Sellers would have to do at least a third as much business in food sales as on liquor. Mini-bottles probably will be expensive, since they would carry a tax of about ten and a half cents each. Sellers will have to pay the state permit fee ranging from $500 in the smallest towns to $1,250 in cities over 250,000. Furthermore, cities and counties can match the charge.

Bill also sets specifications for private clubs and raises fees, although it will allow managers and most other employees to issue guest cards to the drop-in trade and it authorizes credit card sales.

Legislation would further permit 16-year-olds to sack beer in groceries and serve as bus-boys where mini-bottles are handled. It would outlaw gambling, increase punishment for permitting minors to buy or consume alcoholic beverages, raise beer dealers' license fees from $30 to $150 provide for faster sale of confiscated liquor by the state and make most Texas Liquor Control Board records available to public inspection.

Barring logjams the legislature has a fair chance of beating its deadline and winding up must business in a single special session.

GIN DUST — One of the differences between the Senate and House is whether the Texas Air Control Board is going to be allowed to require cotton gins to put in dust abatement devices.

Senate voted to strike out a "rider" which would prohibit the board from spending any money on activities connected with cotton gins. But the House voted to keep it in, by a vote of 95-47.

This prohibition was put into the present appropriations law in 1967. This led to a blast at the Legislature by some members of the Air Control Board. But a provision put into the air pollution control law in 1967 cannot be changed by this session of the Legislature...so it operates effectively to keep the Air Control Board out of the cotton business.

However, the ginning industry has been working with the Board and has been doing research aimed at reducing the air pollutions problem caused by gin operations.

DRUNK TESTS ADVANCED — A bill to require those suspected of driving while intoxicated to submit to breath or blood tests on penalty of having their licenses suspended has been approved by the House State Affairs Committee.

Legislation provides that a driver gives implied consent to undergo chemical testing to determine if he is drunk when charged with the offense. Most other states have similar laws as required by the 1966 federal highway safety act.

Tests showing a blood content of one-tenth per cent alcohol by weight would be prima facie evidence of being under the influence of alcohol. Arresting officers would have to appear in court. Those with religious objections to blood drawing could take a breath test.

RURAL ROADS — That long-quiet farm-to-market roads fuss has come back to life.

Some city legislators are pushing a bill to do away with the $15 million a year of general tax money which is being spent on rural roads. They want it spent on city streets. But their efforts have failed so far.

Freezing Prepared Foods

During hot summer months, it is easier to open the freezer for baked goodies or casseroles than to spend hours in the kitchen. Freezing is the only method to preserve many of these baked or cooked goods.

Cook most breads, cakes and pies before freezing. Cool them and wrap in moisture-vapor-proof material.

Use standard recipes for cakes and breads. For quick breads use double-action baking powder. Biscuits and muffins are better frozen uncooked. Bran muffins, fruit and nut breads are better if baked before freezing.

You may freeze bread and rolls baked or unbaked. Use a recipe with a fairly large amount of fat and sugar. Baked products may be stored as long as 9-12 months.

If you want to freeze dough, allow it to rise until double in bulk. Doughs shaped before freezing may be inferior, even when stored only two weeks.

Prebaked cakes containing fat may dry out slightly after two months, and after four months, flavor changes may be expected.

Use pure extracts as imitations may produce off-flavors. Angel food, yellow sponge, chiffon and fruit cakes baked before freezing will keep up to a year.

Uncooked confectioner's sugar frostings freeze best. Boiled and other soft frostings containing egg whites and cream fillings are not suitable for freezing.

Fruit, vegetable and chiffon pies freeze successfully. Fruit pies may be frozen either before or after baking. Crust is more tender, flaky and flavor fresher when the pies are frozen before baking.

Authorities advise against freezing lattice top pies. Don't cut steam vents in top crusts of frozen unbaked pies until they have been removed from the freezer.

Do not overcook foods that are to be frozen. Foods that are to be heated before serving are best if only partially cooked; meat should be tender but still firm; vegetables slightly underdone.

Use as little fat as possible in gravies and sauces. Fats have a tendency to separate, but if used in smaller proportions, they will recombine when heated.

Fried foods are apt to become rancid after one to two months of storage.

Use seasoning sparingly as some of them change during storage. Pepper gets stronger. Cloves may become stronger and discolor frozen fillings. Garlic becomes stronger during storage and onions gradually lose flavor. Green peppers, sage and pimientos increase in strength.

It is important to cool cooked foods promptly to prevent continued cooking. Foods and flavor rapidly when held at high temperatures. And warm foods invite bacteria growth.

Submerge the cooking pan in ice water to hasten cooling.

After cooling, package in moisture-vapor-resistant material immediately. Pack all types of cooked foods as solidly as possible to avoid air spaces in the containers.

Enhance the flavor of meats, poultry, seafoods, precooked foods and vegetables with monosodium glutamate (MSG).

Casserole dishes containing macaroni, spaghetti, noodles or rice may be frozen. To serve, bake in 350 degree F. oven for 40-60 minutes. You can move the baking dish directly from the freezer to the oven with little danger of breakage.

You can freeze almost any type of creamed dish except those containing hard-cooked egg whites. Avoid overcooking and cool rapidly in pan of ice water. Don't store longer than two to four months.

Package prepared foods in amounts suitable for serving. You may safely refreeze frozen foods that have been thawed if they still contain ice crystals. Thawed foods spoil faster than fresh foods.

Thawing and refreezing may lower quality of some foods, particularly fruits, vegetables and prepared foods.

Anyone desiring more information on freezing may contact my office for a copy of publication B-175, Frozen Foods, and HG-40, Freezing Combination Main Dishes.

A call, card or letter is all that is necessary to receive a free copy of one or both of the booklets.

Cool Front Fails To Yield Moisture

The Bronte area is getting dry and missed a good chance for rain Tuesday evening. Dark rain clouds and blowing dust moved into the area shortly after six o'clock, but rain was not forthcoming.

Robert Lee reported .18 inch of rain, and a heavier fall was recorded to the south toward San Angelo.

The unsettled weather accompanied a cool front, which brought a welcome relief from the warm temperatures and high humidity which the area experienced the first of the week. The temperature was in the low 60's Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Murtishaw and Mark, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Effie Roberts of Robert Lee, spent the weekend in Jal, N. M. They visited their sister and daughter, Mrs. Jean Featherstone, who underwent major surgery Friday. They report she is making a satisfactory recovery. Her son, Gary, returned home with the Murtishaws for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ragsdale of Fort Stockton spent last week here on a vacation visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ragsdale.

VISIT MRS. COLE

Visitors in the home of Mrs. J. B. Cole during the past weekend included her daughters, Mrs. Bernice Nichols of Brenham and Mrs. Willard Longwood and Mr. Longwood of San Antonio. Also, Bill Cole of Pasadena; Mrs. Maurice Cole and Mrs. Karen Maddox, both of Abilene; Donald Uzell of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. George Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Cole, all of Boerne. The visitors were in this area to attend funeral services for Mrs. Lela Elizabeth Robertson, a sister of Mrs. Cole's late husband.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Sumner and Joan of Canadian spent Thursday and Friday of last week in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Morris. They planned to come back through Bronte Wednesday and Mrs. Morris and girls were to return home with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bruton returned Tuesday from Bonham where they spent two days visiting with her mother, Mrs. Kate Biggerstaff. Mrs. Biggerstaff has been hospitalized, but they reported she was released.

Mrs. C. R. Smith is reported much improved this week after being seriously ill and undergoing surgery in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo. Her husband said Tuesday that he felt like she would be able to leave the hospital in a few more days.

Miss La Jan Kiker, Tommy Joe Walter Are Married In Double Ring Church Ceremony in San Angelo

Miss La Jan Kiker became the bride of Tommy Joe Walter in a double ring ceremony read Saturday, June 22, in Trinity Methodist Church in San Angelo. The Rev. Wayne N. Stout, pastor of Central Baptist Church in Bronte, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Kiker of Bronte and Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Walter of San Angelo.

Mrs. Walter Phillips was organist and Kreta Kiker, sister of the bride, was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white crepe with a jacket of Venise lace. She carried a white lace covered Bible, belonging to Mrs. Ronald Hooper of Waco, topped with a gardenia. She also wore a gold cross necklace which her great-grandmother had brought from Germany and worn at her wedding. The bride's mother also wore the necklace for her wedding.

Maid of honor and bridesmaid were Kreta and Kathy Kiker, sisters of the bride. They wore blue shantung dresses with lace bodices.

Best man was Robert Price of San Angelo and Grady Roe of San Angelo was groomsman.

Members of the immediate families were wedding guests.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Walter in San Angelo.
