BUY LIGHT BULBS FROM BRONTE FIREMEN

Bureau of the Census reported late last week that the count has 2,891 persons, compared to 3,589 at the 1960 count. The drop is 698.

Unofficial figures say that Robert Lee has increased 90 persons during the past decade, from 910 to 1,080. On the other hand Bronte has decreased 99 persons from 999 in 1960 to 900 in 1970.

Anyone who believes he was not counted should report the fact to Mrs. Louise Clendennen of Silver, who was in charge of the census for this county. Or, it may be reported to city officials who will contact Mrs. Clendennen.

The story in Coke County was the story for most of West Texas, as a great majority of the counties in this area reported losses.

Of the larger cities in West Texas only San Angelo, Lubbock and El Paso reported gains. Losses were tallied for Amarillo, Odessa, Abilene, Midland and Wichita Falls.

A decline in employment in the oil industry was blamed in many quarters for the drop in West Texas population.

Brown Returns As Methodist Pastor

The Rev. Fred L. Brown was reassigned as pastor of First United Methodist Church when appointments were read Friday evening at the Annual Conference of the Southwest Texas Conference, meeting in San Antonio.

Arthur Kendall was returned to Robert Lee.

Warning Issued By Atty. General On "Free" Books

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Lee were called upon recently by a salesman who offered them "free encyclopedias" but a side stipulation said they would have to buy yearly supplements which would cost enough to pay for the entire set.

Lee thought the deal sounded a little "shady" and contacted the office of Attorney General Crawford Martin. He received an answer and a copy of the following news item which Martin suggested they ask to have it published in their local newspaper.

The article follows:

Attorney General Crawford C. Martin today warned residents of the state to be on guard against door-to-door salesmen and telephone solicitors who offer "free encyclopedia sets" to the public.

The catch in this "something for nothing" offer is that to take advantage of the "free" part of the offer, the customer must agree to keep the set up to date by purchasing the annual year book supplement for a period of ten years, Martin said. The result of the transaction is that the consumer ultimately pays for the entire set purchased.

At the conclusion of the sales pitch, the representative informs the prospective purchaser that though the encyclopedias are free, the company wants to insure that their advertising sets placed with "model families" are kept up to date. Therefore, the recipient must pay in advance for the annual supplements. Often the purchaser signs what he believes to be an agreement to receive the "free encyclopedias," when in fact he is actually signing a contract of sale.

Martin said the sales practices described are deceptive and misleading and in violation of the State Deceptive Trade Practice Law. The attorney general urges any Texas citizen who feels that he has been victimized by this type of sales practice to contact Robert E. Owen, Chief, Antitrust and Consumer Protective Division, Box "R", Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sims spent the weekend in Waco visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sims.

Sanco Reunion Set Saturday, Sunday

(From Robert Lee Observer)

Everything is just about ready for the 16th annual Sanco Homecoming, according to Ulmer Bird, president of the Sanco Community Association, sponsor of the get-together. The activity will begin Saturday afternoon and continue through Sunday afternoon.

Bird said the visitors are expected to start arriving Saturday afternoon prior to the Saturday night program. The informal Saturday night session will feature visiting and instrumental music, as well as old time folk songs by several college students who are expected.

T. C. (Tennis) Creighton of Bowie, Ariz., who was reared in the community, will serve as master of ceremonies for the Sunday program. The Rev. G. K. Carley of Blackwell, former Sanco Baptist pastor, will bring a devotional program Sunday morning. A recognition program will follow.

At noon a barbecue dinner will be served. The barbecue will be prepared by Roy Martin of Sterling City. The association will furnish the meat and beans for the meal, and they will be supplemented by whatever each person wishes to bring.

Bill Worrell of Colorado City, a graduate art student at Texas Tech, will exhibit some of his work during the two-day homecoming. Worrell has done several water colors in the Sanco area and they will be featured in the one-man show. He recently had the same exhibition at Colorado City.

Bird said that the homecoming is of special interest to those who were born or reared in the community, but everyone is invited to attend any part or all of the meeting. "Everybody is welcome," he said.

Cheese

If cheese buying puzzles you, it's understandable. More than 500 kinds of cheese are marketed around the world. They include natural cheese and blends or combinations of natural cheese, process cheese, cheese food and cheese spread.

Each natural cheese can be grouped by moisture content or hardness and by degree of ripening or aging. Natural cheese varieties are:

Very hard, ripened: Parmesan Romano.

Hard, ripened: Cheddar (often called American), Colby, Edam, Gouda, Gruyere, Swiss, Provone.

Semi-soft ripened: Blue (or Bleu), Brick, Limburger, Muenster, Roquefort.

Soft, ripened: Bel Paese, Brie, Camembert, Liederkranz.

Soft, unripened: Cottage Cream, Mozzarella, Neufchatel, and Ricotta.

Although Federal Standards or Identity govern the minimum per cent of milkfat and moisture permissible in most varieties, you can expect each natural cheese to differ a bit from country to country, brand to brand, and package to package even within the same brand. Variations in milk, seasonings, aging, manufacturing techniques, time of the year, locality—all affect the flavor texture and color of the same variety.

When you shop for cheese, be sure to read the label.

Coldpack or pasteurized process cheese contains about the same fat and moisture content as allowed in the natural cheese from which it was made.

Cheese foods contain about 60 per cent the total fat and about the same moisture content as the natural products.

Pasteurized process cheese spread contains a slightly lower fat content than found in cheese food but a much higher moisture content for easy spreading at room temperature.

To find the relative cost of various packages of cheese, compare the price of equal weights. Aged or sharp natural cheese usually costs more than mild cheese; imported cheese sometimes costs more than the same variety made in the United States.

Prepackaged slices, cubed or grated cheese usually cost more than wedges or sticks. Store brands usually cost less than national brands, but there may also be quality or flavor differences.

For best flavor, serve ripened natural cheese and coldpack and process types at room temperature—allow one to two hours for refrigerated cheese to warm up.

News on Durable Press

Thanks to a new process developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, durable press cotton is now abrasion resistant.

Wearing in men's trousers at knees, pockets and cuffs have been a problem with all-cotton durable press garments.

The permanent sizing process improved abrasion resistance as much as five times on sample trouser cuffs. The sample also showed about 65 per cent greater tear strength than conventional durable press fabrics.

The sizing does not interfere with durable press qualities in clothes.

Send a letter to North Vietnam.

Right now hundreds of Americans are being held captive in North Vietnam.

A few prisoners have made it back. They talk about bamboo cages. Vicious beatings. Malnutrition. Humiliation.

But the North Vietnamese will tell us nothing. And it's this silence that makes our appeal more urgent.

For the families at home, there is no word on who's alive. Who's dead. Or even who's being held. There is nothing. Except the anguish of not knowing.

Maybe you can change this. By writing to the one man who can change it: The President of North Vietnam.

Ask him to release the names of prisoners, allow them to write to their families, and let the Red Cross inspect the prisons to insure proper medical treatment and living conditions.

Remind him that he is bound by the 1949 Geneva Convention which his country signed. And by the Istanbul resolution.

North Vietnamese leaders do care about American public opinion. And if they think they can gain something by bowing to it, they will.

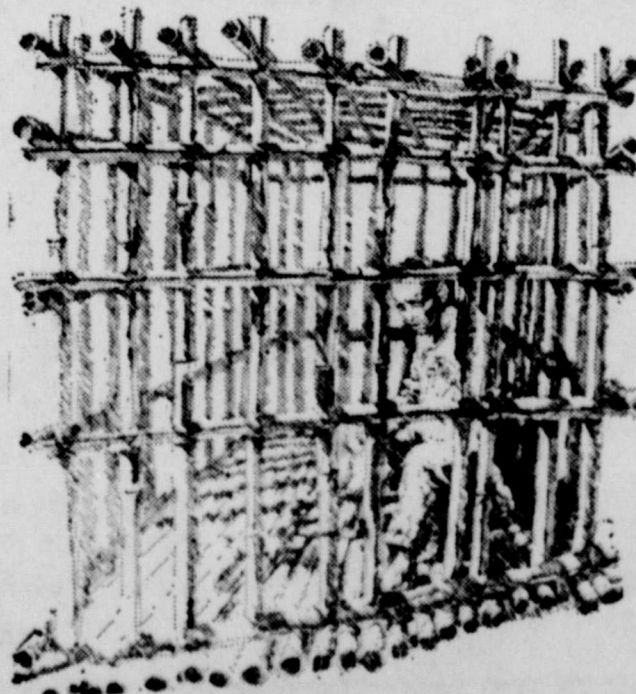

But one letter won't do it. Or a thousand. Maybe it will take millions. So we've got to write now. All of us. And often.

Write a letter tonight. And send it to: Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam.

It'll cost you a quarter. But it might save a life.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS +

Maybe they'll open it.
