Everything in the house was either burned or ruined by smoke

Mrs. Roberts died late last Wednesday at her home in Robert Lee, apparently of a heart attack.

Mrs. Roberts was born Feb. 20, 1911, in Collin County and came to Coke County in 1928. She was the daughter of J. E. Mitchell of Robert Lee and formerly of Bronte, and the late Mrs. Mitchell. She was married to Alton Roberts Dec. 24, 1931, in Robert Lee. She was a member of the Baptist Church and the Order of the Eastern Star.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Bobby Roberts of Robert Lee; her father, J. E. Mitchell of Robert Lee; two brothers, Marion Mitchell of Midland and James Mitchell of Abilene; five sisters, Mrs. Mildred Roach of Clovis, N. and water. However, quick action by local firemen prevented the fire from spreading to the nearby house and garage.

Ditmore said they had no idea how the fire started.

Firemen answered a call Monday afternoon to fight a grass fire on the C. H. Wylie Ranch northeast of town. Some 100 acres were burned off before the blaze was brought under control.

Another grass fire was put out last Friday on the vacant area behind the Bronte post office.

Robert Lee P.O. Robbed

(From Robert Lee Observer)

Robert Lee's post office was burglarized sometime last Thursday night, July 30. The breakin was discovered Friday morning by Postmaster Hugh Lewis Jr. and Asst. Postmaster Ray Shandley.

According to Sheriff Melvin Childress, the breakin and robbery was a very professional job and few clues were found after several days of investigation by postal authorities and his office.

The burglary was discovered about 9 a.m. last Friday after Lewis and Shandley had already worked the mail for the morning. They went into the office as usual, put up the day's mail, and opened the safe to take out their stamp drawers before the

Help Needed for Celia Victims

Coke County has been asked by the American Red Cross to contribute $244 for its share of aid to victims of Hurricane Celia which ravaged the Texas Gulf coast the first of the week. Anyone who wants to donate to this cause may leave the money with B. D. Snead, treasurer of the Coke County Red Cross, at First National Bank, or with H. O. Whitt, county service officer.

Whitt told The Enterprise

Thursday afternoon that the request for help was discussed at the noon meeting of Bronte Lions Club and donations on the spot amounted to $100.25.

Whitt said a communication from the Red Cross told of the huge expense which is being required to house and feed thousands of hurricane victims, and more money is badly needed.

Young People Attend Seminar

The life story of a former narcotics addict and an ex-convict was one part of the program heard by two Coke County young people when they went to Baylor University July 28-31 to attend a citizenship seminar conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau.

Sherri Pitcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Pitcock of Sando, and Donald Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Thompson of Bronte, represented the Coke County Farm Bureau at the four-day training school. Also attending from Coke County were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cumble and daughter, Susan, of Bronte. Cumble is field representative in this area for the Farm Bureau and was in charge of the chartered bus which carried the West Texas delegation to Waco. A total of 419 delegates attended the seminar.

Richard Perigo of Dallas told the young people the story of his life as an addict. He is associated with HIP (Help Is Possible), an organization concerned with the prevention of delinquency and drug abuse among teenagers.

The program also included four nationally known lecturers: Dr. Clifton L. Ganus Jr., president of Harding College, Searcy, Ark.; Dr. C. L. Kay, vice president for public affairs of Lubbock Christian College; John Noble, Muncy, Pa. author of "I Was a Slave in Russia;" and W. Cleon Skousen, Salt Lake City, Utah, author, lawyer, educator and former FBI agent. The session also featured films and panel discussion.

The seminar placed emphasis on economic, moral and social aspects of American society in an effort to give the students a better understanding of the American system and way of life.

The persons from Coke County said the entire program was "great."

Marla Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Thompson, has been visiting in Palos Verdes, Calif., with Mrs. Thompson's sister, Mrs. Tom Harris, and Mr. Harris. The Thompsons will go to Midland Saturday to meet her when she flies home from California.

Former Judge and Mrs. R. E. Seay of Comanche and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Seay of San Angelo visited Ernest Seay Sunday in the Bronte Hospital.

Austin — Campaigns are shaping up on some of the seven proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on by Texans at the General Election on Nov. 3.

While public interest centers on the liquor by the drink amendment, there are other major alterations in the state's laws to be considered by the voters.

In their order on the ballot, these are:

1. Enlarge the Judicial Qualifications Commission to censure or remove lower court judges and justices of the peace as well as district and appellate judges.
2. Authorize the legislature to enact a law on the sale of mixed drinks.
3. Provide for legislative establishment of a uniform method of tax assessment on ranch, farm and forest lands based on the capability of the lands to support the raising of livestock or production of farm and forest crops.
4. Make the State Building Commission a three-member appointive agency.
5. Permit counties to issue road bonds up to one-fourth of their assessed real property valuation on a majority vote.
6. Make town or city homesteads of $10,000 and less exempt from forced sale (presently set at $5,000).
7. Allow the legislature to provide for consolidating offices and functions of government and for performance of governmental functions by contract between the political subdivisions in any county.

Texas voters have adopted 195 amendments to the 1876 constitution, over the years, and rejected 125.

DESEGREGATION SUIT: THREATEN — Federal negotiators report that only a few of the 38 Texas school districts, called on the carpet concerning segregation, had satisfactory plans for complying with U. S. guidelines. They conducted a two-day conference with school officials here and gave most of them another week to try and work out something or face a lawsuit by the U. S. Justice Department.

Negotiators suggested "pairing" of adjoining neighborhood school districts to get better racial balance.

Lufkin, Marshall, Midland and Katy found no ground for agreement with the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and Justice Department negotiators. Some complained that federal officials raised a new issue — that of integrating Mexican-Americans, as well as blacks. Most want to continue their efforts to find a way to comply with suggested plans.

Palestine reached a tentative agreement on pairing plans involving two grades in each school requiring limited busing.

COURTS SPEAK — Alcoholic Beverage Commission's rules governing private clubs are headed for a U. S. Supreme Court test after the highest state court finally upheld the agency's regulation. Club operators claim "kings-x" against the rules while their appeal is "diligently pursued."

Texas will be among the first states to challenge constitutionality of the new federal act extending voting rights to 18 year olds.

State Supreme Court, splitting 5-4, held that a businessman could not collect a $10,000 libel judgment against a Denton newspaper for a story, based on an accurate statement made at a city council meeting where it was erroneously reported that the man had declared bankruptcy.

La Raza Unida Party brought a mandamus suit in the Supreme Court to require its candidates' names to be placed on the general election ballots in three South Texas counties (Dimmitt, LaSalle and Zavala).

Supreme Court agreed with an intermediate decision that judges cannot grant occupational drivers' licenses just so those whose licenses have been suspended can get to work.

LOOPHOLE COSTS — State has lost millions in land revenue due to an old loophole in the law, which was temporarily closed last year.

State Land Office has been forced to sell submerged land for $1 an acre to any navigation district that wanted it. Another law permitted district to declare land so acquired surplus to their needs—and sell to the highest bidder.

So, Aransas County Navigation District, for example, acquired 604 acres near Rockport (in Little Bay) for $1 an acre then resold to a corporation. Some 165 acres of property now is selling for $33,098 an acre.

Now, no more state owned beaches, islands or submerged land may be sold or leased until the Interagency Natural Resources Council makes its final report to the legislature — or until May 31, 1973 — whichever date is first. Unless the legislature takes a permanent step, the Land Commissioner once more could be forced to sell land requested by navigation districts for $1 an acre.

GAS PRICE RISE URGED — Federal Power Commission at hearings on natural gas prices in the Permian Basin was urged to end pricing controls or raise rates fast and substantially.

Commission examiner reopened the Permian Basin rate case that resulted in the establishment in 1965 of ceiling rates at well-head.

Witnesses, including producers and political officeholders, called upon the commission also to halt "two-price" system for wells drilled before 1961 and new wells.

Some called the 1965 regulation a dismal failure that led to the current shortage in gas reserves.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin pledged full resources of his office against any effort at federal regulation of Texas intrastate gas market. FPC now regulates gas moving interstate.

AIR POLLUTION END SEEN —and end to "visible" air pollution in Texas in less than a decade has been predicted by the director of the State Air Control Board.

ACB Chief Charles Barden so forecast at a budget hearing for his agency.

Barden, revealed Barden, now is working on a state regulation to control pollution from vehicles. Regulation will be in effect before the year is out.

FEDERAL GRANTS — Recent federal grants include $200,541 to Southwest Educational Development Laboratory for continuation of Head Start Pilot Program in McAllen; $240,000 for alcoholic counseling and recovery program in San Antonio; and $21,340 for planning assistance to Lower Rio Grande Valley Development Council.

Short Snorts

District Judge Herman Jones of Austin was named by Gov. Preston Smith as presiding judge of the Third Administrative Judicial District, succeeding D. B. Wood of Georgetown.

New York World's Fair dinosaurs have been donated by Sinclair (Atlantic Richfield) to Dinosaur Valley State Scenic Park at Glen Rose.

More than two million hunting and fishing licenses are being shipped to local distributors this week (for fiscal 1970-71), reports Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Half the nation's potential oil and gas reserves remain to be discovered, say geologists.

Twenty-seven applications for permits to sell $31.9 million worth of securities in Texas were filed with the State Securities Board last week.

Joe H. Jones, special research associate with the UT Bureau of Business Research, reports a recession in Texas economy was clearly in evidence through the first half of 1970, with prospects for a significant economic recovery within the next six months appearing unlikely.

We are going out of the Chevrolet business, and will sell all or any part of our business. We would sell the entire business, subject to approval of Chevrolet Motor Division or:

1. Sell business, and lease or rent all buildings and lots.
2. Sell equipment and fixtures separately.
3. Sell buildings and lots separately.

If Chevrolet Motor Division does not approve of some prospective buyer, the service facilities will continue to operate, but after August 7 we can no longer do warranty work on any car. All cars purchased from us will get the warranty work done by dealerships in their respective areas. Anyone failing to get warranty work done in a reasonable length of time can contact us, and we will make an appointment with a dealer in your area. Chevrolet Motor Division has assured us that all our customers will get the same type of courteous treatment that they have received from us over the past 25 years.

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

Washington—John Nance Garner advised new members of Congress, "You don't have to explain at which you never said." Nowadays it seems everyone public life thinks he has a few words of wisdom which the country is entitled to hear. It is called our "open society" — and thank goodness we have it. On the other hand, our enemies must get comfort and, doubtless, a great deal of benefit, from information we give them in public statements. We have gotten to the point at it is demanded of the President, in televised news conferences that he discuss matters we are thought of as being classified in the interest of national security. Now, if he does not do so, he is accused of not informing us. In committees of Congress, demands are made of military officials and others in sensitive positions to reveal high secret information. A few years ago members of Congress certain committees were privileged to high confidence but nothing has happened. The "something" is that a few — a very few, which is too many — would hardly wait to see a newspaper reporter. What was supposed to be highly confidential statements were available in the press in the night edition. This is our "open society" but why open should it be? While trying to let our own people know what is going on, the question of revealing so much to see who would destroy us, is a dilemma. Just having seen Pearl Harbor after having been there during World War II, 27 years ago, a reminder that the Japanese didn't send us a postal card advising they were going to attack our ships tied up at that time, the masts of some still waving above the water. Should the commander-in-chief of the United States be required, either by the demands of some members of Congress or the news media, to tell our enemies what we will do or not do on the battlefield? We are in a "limited" war in Southeast Asia. We are faced with a festering war in the Middle East. We are threatened with the possibility of a war of global proportions by nations who have made clear their aim to dominate the world. In the name of "tell all" Hanoi is more comfortable to know exactly our intents. Would their rulers be less comfortable if we had not ruled out air attacks on their vital installations? Would they be less comfortable if we had not ruled out the destruction of the harbor of Haiphong and the bombing of the dikes holding back the mighty Red River? Bit by bit, piece by piece, in officials statements, in hearings before Congressional Committees, and particularly Senate inquiries, the enemy has been told the exact details of our plans. Whether they are ever used or not, our options should be left open. The enemy has revealed none of his and we know little about him. He acts without news conferences, interviews or global discussions.

He acts with a confidence that slowly but surely the United States will not use its power and that he can eventually be certain of victory. In a declared war our free and open society has no hesitancy in invoking voluntary restraints of sources of information which might aid the enemy. In today's explosive world situation such voluntary restraints are no less desirable. It should be practiced by all who come into possession of sensitive information. The best kept secret in our history was the development of the atomic bomb. More than $2 billion dollars was laid out for its production. Only about a half dozen people really knew what it was all about. We are living in a world of dictators and totalitarian governments who can part their hair on the other side tomorrow morning. We compete in literally a life and death atmosphere. To sum up, this deadly game cannot forever be successfully played with cards face up only on one side of the table.

Foliage for arrangements during the winter months may be preserved by using glycerin. The leaves of many plants may be used to make interesting arrangements when flowers are not available from the garden.

The procedure is simple. All you need to do is stand the stems or leaves in a mixture of one part glycerin and two parts water.

Midsummer is a good time to get started on this project. The leaves will be in an active stage of growth and will rapidly absorb the glycerin. This usually takes about two to three weeks.

Many kinds of leaves may be preserved by the glycerin process. Magnolia, oak, peach, eucalyptus and poplar leaves are satisfactory. Of the shrubs, try barberry, forsythia, summac, privet, rhododendron and rose leaves. The leaves of many perennial herbaceous plants may be used such as aspidistra, cannula coral bell, genaniums, iris and devil's ivy. Leaves of small herbaceous plants may be submerged completely in a half and half glycerin-water solution.

Select only perfect specimens and wash the foliage with water to remove dirt or spray residue. If the material has woody stems, cut off the lower inch with a sloping cut before starting the treatment. Then stand the stems or leaves upright in a jar of the glycerin solution.

The leaves will change color as the solution is absorbed, and good air circulation and warm weather will speed up the absorption. Wipe the leaves occasionally with a cloth dampener with the solutions as this will help prevent drying before the glycerin reaches the edge of the leaves.

Leaves preserved by glycerin should be stored in boxes to protect them from damage and dirt. Check the boxes frequently during the first few weeks to be sure there is no leakage from the leaves which might cause mold.

Home Accidents

Home accident deaths totaled approximately 27,000 in 1969. Four million persons were disabled in home accidents, at a cost, including wage losses, medical expenses and administrative and claim settlements of insurance, of $1.6 billion.

There are about 12,000 people who die annually, just from household falls alone. Countless others are seriously injured each year.

Two of the most common household hazards that result in disastrous falls are a slippery bathtub and an uncarpeted stairway. A small investment in non-skid tapes could prevent or lessen the danger of slipping. The tape comes in rolls, strips or patches. Some is very decorative in bright colors and shapes.

Strips of tape protect effectively, especially when applied at right angles to the probable direction of the fall. Both strips and patches can be used in bathtubs. Many people prefer the patches as they seem to give somewhat better protection and are more attractive.

Few tapes will adhere to a damp, porous surface, so before applying strips or patches to a bathtub, clean and thoroughly dry the tub. It should be allowed to stay dry for several hours after applying the tape.

Tests have shown that tape adheres best to varnished or sealed wood surfaces, and tape of a textured surface with embedded particles of grit are the most slip resistant for slippery walking surfaces.

Get rid of these hazards in your home by using these inexpensive methods, so that you can reduce your chances of becoming one of this year's statistics.

The term of each member shall be six years except in the first appointments to the Commission the Governor shall appoint one member for two years, one for four years, one for six years, and thereafter one member biennially. The Governor shall biennially designate one member as Chairman. Vacancies in the Commission shall be filled by appointment by the Governor for the unexpired term. The provisions of this paragraph shall be self-enacting."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment reconstituting the State Building Commission as a three-member appointive commission."

PUBLIC NOTICE

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (HJR30)
General Election Nov. 3, 1970

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Subsections (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (11), (12), and (13), Section 1-a, Article V, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"(5) The Commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet at Austin at least once each year. It shall annually select one of its members as Chairman. A quorum shall consist of five (5) members. Proceedings shall be by majority vote of those present, except that recommendations for retirement, censure, or removal of any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall be by affirmative vote of at least five (5) members.

"(6) A. Any Justice or Judge of the Appellate Courts and District and Criminal District Courts, any County Judge, and any Judge of a County Court at Law, a Court of Domestic Relations, a Juvenile Court, a Probate Court, or a Corporation or Municipal Court, and any Justice of the Peace, and any Judge or presiding officer of any special court created by the Legislature as provided in Section 1, Article V, of this Constitution, may, subject to the other provisions hereof, be removed from office for willful or persistent conduct, which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of his said duties or casts public discredit upon the judiciary or administration of justice; or any person holding such office may be censured, in lieu of removal from office, under procedures provided for by the Legislature.

"B. Any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of this subsection who is eligible for retirement benefits under the laws of this state providing for judicial retirement may be involuntarily retired, and any person holding an office named in that paragraph who is not eligible for retirement benefits under such laws may be removed from office, for disability seriously interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent in nature.

"(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to the misconduct or disability of particular persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.

"(8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.

"(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary."

"(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement or removal, due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.

"(12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal.

"(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of, the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment relating to the removal, retirement, or censure of Justices, Judges, and Justices of Peace under prescribed circumstances."

Lee, Morrow Take Cattleman Course

Jim Morrow and Tommy Lee recently attended the Graham School for Cattlemen at Garnett, Kans., for a week of intensive training in artificial insemination, practical methods of cattle care and herd management.

Morrow is associated with the C. H. Wylie Estate Ranch and Lee is associated with the T. C. Lee and Cloverleaf Ranches.

The Graham School was founded in 1909 by Frank B. Graham, master breeder, and has attained worldwide recognition as a school for the training of herdsmen and breeders by visual demonstrations and actual "on the farm" methods of instruction.

Classes are held the second full week of each month. All students are given individual help and instruction and are provided opportunities to work with live animals and warm carcasses under the supervision of instructors who have had many years of experience and training with cattle.

Since cattlemen come from all parts of the United States, as well as from other countries, Lee and Morrow had many opportunities for an exchange of ideas relating to all phases of the cattle business.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wrinkle, Mrs. John Riley and Cindy and Mrs. Nell Ruple and daughter have returned from a week's vacation in Colorado. The Wrinkles and Mrs. Riley visited the Dwain Wrinkles in Colorado Springs and Mrs. Ruple visited her brother in Golden, Colo.
