Adult Education Classes to Start

Approval has been secured for some adult basic education classes to be conducted in Bronte School. Supt. C. B. Barbee said this week that this new aspect of education is a community service the school has been seeking to have approved for some time. The program will be carried out in cooperation with San Angelo Public Schools.

Local school officials will meet Tuesday with San Angelo school officials to get the program set up. Then, on Thursday, Feb. 4, there will be a public meeting at 6:30 p.m. when the program will be explained to everyone who is interested. The meeting will be held in the school auditorium.

Barbee urged everyone who has even the slightest interest in the program to be present for the meeting next Thursday night. "We want to acquaint all our people with this program," he said, "and would like for a large crowd to be present, even though many of them may not enroll for the courses."

Classes will be held two nights

State Welfare Changes Made

The new year saw three major changes in the operation of the State Department of Public Welfare.

The changes were implemented on Jan. 4, as follows:

1. Use of a simplified eligibility application in the adult programs old Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind, and Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled; and a "client-completed" form in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program.

2. A switch in social services from meeting long term needs to meeting short range, specific goals.

3. A change in staffing patterns to allow the Department to meet the caseload explosion with available personnel.

The simplified method for determining eligibility works much like the declaration system for income tax.

The applicant fills out the form himself, eliminating the need for a face to face interview with a caseworker.

"The procedure has built-in controls to guard against error and fraud," said Carrol D. Crum, regional administrator in San Angelo. "Extensive tests in three regions for approximately a year showed very little error. Less than one per cent of those applying and approved for assistance actually were ineligible.

"This simplified application shows faith in the dignity and responsibility of those who must ask for assistance," Welfare Commissioner Burton C. Hackney said. "On July 1, 1971, this method will be a mandatory federal requirement. Sheer numbers of applicants gave us the impetus to implement it six months early."

Hackney explained that pilot tests on a similar AFDC application produced "disappointing results," but that the Department is still trying to perfect the form.

"However," Hackney added, "the new client completed form will be a time saver. Applicants can meet in groups in which one caseworker can instruct them all to supply the necessary information adequately.

"Then each client will be contacted and the information verified in the traditional manner. Of course applicants can still apply individually," he said.

The change in philosophy on social services for families and children serves two purposes, Hackney explained.

It spreads the available staff further by limiting the length of time in which specific services are given.

Comprehensive studies have shown that meeting a specific, short range goal can be a more efficient way of providing services to families.

"The Department will still have primary responsibility for child protection, foster care and adoption services for all Texas children," said Crum.

"Our new job is mainly a referral and counseling service to help people overcome the barriers that stand in the way of their reaching the community resources at their disposal," Crum continued.

Examples of what the social worker might do now were given as these:

Help an expectant mother find the right kind of medical care and enroll in a pre-natal class. Help her contact an agency that will provide a home aide while she is in the hospital. Arrange for older children to stay in a day care center while she is in the hospital and the father is working.

Or help a 17 year old drop out enroll in the Work Incentive Program that will allow him to learn a skill and receive work-related expenses during the training period.

Explain state and federal medical benefits to eligible recipients. Help a disabled person find a spot in a rehabilitation program.

Direct those interested in learning about birth control to the most convenient center for medical advice and materials.

"Social services for those in the pure adult programs will be greatly limited to emergency services," Hackney said. "For instance, if an elderly person in need of medical care is living alone and has no one to help him enter a hospital, an emergency caseworker will assist him."

"Our main problem will be in the rural areas where our workers will have great distances to travel and where community resources are few," Hackney said.

The Commissioner explained that the new staffing plans allow a great deal of flexibility in each of the 17 state welfare regions as each regional administrator may devise his own staffing pattern subject to state approval.

Texas Welfare Services

Here is the present scope of Texas welfare programs and services, as released recently by the Department:

* The State Department of Public Welfare provides financial assistance to 554,000 needy Texans—the elderly, blind, disabled and dependent children.

* We provide the assurance of medical care to all of these 554,000 people, and in doing so we deal directly or indirectly with about 12,000 physicians, 500 hospitals and 800 nursing homes.

* We are now involved, in varying degrees of administrative responsibility, with the operation of commodity distribution or food stamp programs in all counties of the state.

* We provide social services to families and children, and on a limited basis to adults who are receiving assistance checks through one of our financial assistance programs.

* Our child welfare workers are giving direct protective services to 12,000 children who are neglected, abused, abandoned, exploited, or in danger of becoming delinquent. These services are provided for all children in need of them, without regard to income or any other factor but age.

* And we have licensing responsibilities. For example, during the last fiscal year we licensed 1,100 child care facilities and day care centers.

In all these areas and others in which we operate, we see for the future even greater expansion and growth. Caseloads and expenditures continue to rise.

Gourmet Market

Tasty snacks that are also nutritious are now being made from beets, mushrooms, sweet potatoes and even parsnips, sliced and deep fried like potato chips.

Chemists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture developed the basic technique for deep-fat frying vegetables other than potatoes. A manufacturer recently adapted the process, and now the snacks are available in a number of markets.

The new snack products are made from large, over mature and starchy vegetables not suitable for the fresh market or for most other processing. During production, flavoring agents are added. The products are less oily than the original ones made by the Agricultural Department's chemists.

The snacks, now commercially produced, are available in 2-ounce jars in many specialty food stores and supermarkets throughout the country.

Meats, Hosiery Sales Gain

Checkout registers in grocery stores clicked out $73.2 billion in sales in 1969, according to private industry statistics.

Food sales, at $53.4 billion, showed about the same 5 per cent gain they made the year before.

Nonfoods and alcoholic beverages, at $19.8 billion, slowed their advance for the first time in several years. Sales gained only 3 per cent compared to 10 per cent in 1968.

Across the board, nearly all the sales increases in '69 came from price rises.

Gains in food sales ranged from about 3 to 7 per cent — with meat, poultry, fish and beverages the leaders. Higher prices were responsible for larger sales of meat and eggs. They also represented most of the increase in sales of poultry, fish, cereal and bakery items, and dairy products.

Among nonfoods, women's hosiery sales rose 17 per cent, and toys 4 per cent. Phonograph records, pet foods, and tobacco products gained slightly.

Soap, paper items and housewares held onto their traditional shares. But sales of a big, non-itemized category of mixed merchandise — some relatively new among grocery store offerings — fell 4½ per cent after sharp gains in preceding years.

Planning for Safety

Accidents don't just happen. They are caused when senior citizens fail to follow the basic steps of safety in the home.

To help prevent accidents from falls, use bannisters or railings along stairways, and around porches. Install hand grippers near the bath tub, shower or toilet.

Adequate lighting can be an important safety aid too. Provide good lighting in halls, basements and attics, and use night-lights in bedroom, bathroom and hall areas. Place a light within easy bedside reach. And remember to use a light when working over the sink and stove in the kitchen.

In utility and kitchen areas, provide easy to reach space to store often used items. See that corners on cabinets and counters are rounded. Keep wheeled carts or baskets to carry supplies and laundry.

Ramps, wide doors, accessible windows, width of halls and other planned built-ins for the home should be installed for the handicapped senior citizen in a wheelchair.

When you promised to share and share alike, did that mean your wife could use up all the hot water?

You could get up earlier. Then you'd be sure to beat her to it. Of course she wouldn't be too impressed with your chivalry.

Another alternative is a larger gas water heater. Gas water heaters are easy to buy, easy to install, and recover hot water up to twice as fast as comparable electric models.

So stop competing with your better half. Get a larger capacity hot water heater. For fewer fights and lots more hot water.

Auto Owners Receive Registration Renewal Applications During January

If you own one or more of the more than seven million motor vehicles in Texas, you should have received some important mail early in January.

It is your registration renewal application, and you'll need it to buy license plates for your vehicle.

This is the second year of operation for the new, easy computerized registration procedure devised by the Texas Highway Department.

Last year, the system greatly reduced bothersome waits and long lines which plagued vehicle owners at county tax offices and substations in years past.

Prospects are that the system will work even better this year.

Also, it is not necessary to present last year's registration receipt of the certificate of title. The renewal application you have received in the mail is all you will need.

Registration begins Feb. 1 and continues through April 1.

The renewal application should have arrived in the mail in a slender envelope marked, "Important — This is Your License Plate Renewal Application."

The application is a three-part form with instructions printed on it. One important thing to remember is THE CARD SHOULD NOT BE TORN APART.

After the registration period begins Feb. 1, each vehicle owner can take the renewal application and the fee to his county tax office, or he can order his plates by mail.

If the owner wishes to register by mail, he should send the entire three part renewal application, the fee and an additional $1 to the local tax office as early as January with the understanding that his license plates may not be mailed until Feb. 1.

The additional $1 charge covers cost of handling and postage.

If owners are to receive their plates by mail before the April 1 deadline, then they must send the renewal form, fee and $1 for each vehicle to be registered to the local tax office by March 1. This allows 30 days for delivery of the plates before the April 1 registration deadline.

If the owner decides to go to the county tax office or substation, he will find shorter waiting lines.

All he needs to take with him is the renewal application and the fee. He will then receive his new plates and part of the form as his receipt. Another part of the form is retained by the county and the third is sent to the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department in Austin.

However the owner may decide to register his vehicle, by mail or in person, use of the renewal form will be more convenient and time saving.

The current registration system is the product of much work and planning. The system began to take shape in 1967 with the installation of the first computer equipment by the Motor Vehicle Division of the Highway Department.

Coke County residents should apply to the office of County Tax Assessor-Collector O. B. Jacobs to obtain their new license tags.

School Lunchroom Policies Explained

Supt. C. B. Barbee has released the statement printed below as the policy of Bronte School lunchroom. It is being published in order to acquaint patrons with new policies of the lunchroom.

The Bronte Independent School has recognized the need for helping meet the nutritional needs of children, and serves a well balanced nutritious lunch each full school day. The lunch is served from 11:10 to 12:30 on school days and is planned to provide from 1/2 to 3/4 of the nutrients boys and girls need each day. We always serve meat or a meat alternate, two vegetables or one vegetable and one fruit or two fruits, bread, butter and milk, and, as frequently as possible, a dessert the children will enjoy. The food is wholesome, well prepared, and served in an appetizing manner. The charge to students who can afford to pay is 35c for one milk and 38c for two milks in grades one through five and 40c and 43c in grades 6 through 12. To meet your children's health needs we would like to encourage your children to eat lunch at school each day. We believe the lunch is wholesome, nutritious and a bargain. And we invite you to visit the school and see our lunch service. However, since some families may find it difficult to pay the full price for children's lunches, we will provide these lunches free or at a reduced price to those children whose families cannot afford to pay the full price.

Children from families whose income meets those indicated on the attached charts are eligible to receive lunches free or at a reduced price.

In deciding if your children are eligible for either free or reduced price lunches, we will also take into consideration any unusual circumstances such as prolonged illness in the family, unexpected expenses due to fire, flood or any other disaster of this nature, seasonal unemployment and similar emergency situations.

Parents who feel that their children may be eligible for free or reduced price lunches are urged to apply. An application form with directions has been sent for your use. Your application will be reviewed by the High School Principal/Elementary Principal within 2 days. You will be notified promptly as to the decision on your application. If your application is approved and your children are eligible to receive a reduced price lunch, the amount you will be expected to pay will be included in your notice. However, if you feel that you cannot pay even this amount, get in touch with the Superintendent of Schools and your application will be reviewed with you to see if different arrangements can be made.

If your application is rejected, the reason for rejection will be clearly stated in your notice. This notice will also tell you how and to whom to appeal the decision.

All applications will be handled privately and information will be kept strictly confidential. Children who receive free or reduced price lunches will be treated in the same manner as those who pay the full price for the lunch. Every possible effort will be made to make sure that no one, other than the person(s) reviewing the applications, knows which children pay and which children do not pay for their lunches.

A complete copy of our formal policy is on file in the Office of the Superintendent of Schools and is available for you to see if you care to.

One point should be emphasized, and that is that everyone who receives free or reduced price lunches under this new program has to make applications. Even though your child may now be receiving free lunches, you still must apply for him to continue to do so.

Judge Thetford Signs, Lindsey, Bob Gulley Watch
Coke County to Take Part in New
 "3.76 in '76" Agricultural Program

Coke County is participating in a program announced last week by County Agent Sterling Lindsey to increase the agricultural output and income of the county and state during the next five years. The statewide program was announced by Dr. John E. Hutchinson, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Proclamations were signed by Gov. Preston Smith for the state and by Judge W. W. Thetford for the county, endorsing the program. The successful conclusion of the program would give Coke County farmers and ranchers some $460,400 more annual income five years from now.

Name of the program is "3.76 in '76." This phrase indicates just what the program aims to do, in that Texas agricultural income now stands at $2.76 billion per year, and the goal is to increase this figure by $1 billion.

The week of Jan. 25-29 has been proclaimed "3.76 in '76" Week by the governor and judge and all citizens are urged to observe this period by dedicating their efforts to achieving the goal.

The goal calls for $3.76 billion in total cash receipts by the end of the 1976 crop year, not including government payments; and was determined from projections by Extension specialists and individuals in the agricultural industry. A committee of agricultural economists with the Extension Service studied past production records and made projections for 1976 based on current trends and expected improvements in technology and marketing.

Projections on an individual county basis were made by program building committees, made up of businessmen and producers. The expectations were then organized along county, Extension district and economic area lines to give producers across the state "something to shoot for."

In addition, annual goals were determined for the various agricultural commodity groups to allow a yearly measure of the program's success.

Texas presently accounts for about five per cent of the total national agricultural cash receipts. But to achieve the goal of "3.76 in '76," the state must claim almost ten per cent of the projected national increase in the coming years. Extension specialists and county agricultural agents are scheduling meetings with producers throughout the state to help them with new advancements in technology and marketing in their particular areas.
