AD-LIB-BEN

Editor's note: This editorial was taken from West Texas Publisher, official publication of the West Texas Press Association.)

Residents of four small towns in the Abilene area woke up last week and discovered that they were without a local newspaper, and these communities have learned that this has been quite a blow. The Herring Publishing Co. which published the Munday Times, Knox County Herald, Rochester Reporter and Rule Review went out of business, unable to cope with rising costs and declining advertising income.

Until these newspapers closed down, people had taken them pretty much for granted, but without them, things are different in a local community. The Chamber of Commerce in Munday has held some emergency meetings and local merchants are raising money to try to attract a new publisher. In Knox City, local merchants and community leaders are trying the same thing. The other two towns are wondering what to do.

The people in Munday found out that it is not enough to get national news over television and the area daily newspaper. It takes local news to weld a community together and keep local business moving.

A community that loses its local newspaper finds that it misses it more than it thought it did. With the exception of the school system perhaps there is nothing that ties a community together and promotes its identity as does the local newspaper. When it disappears is when it is missed the most.—Harold Hudson in the Perryton Herald

County ASCS Office Has Answers On Phase II

Coke County residents can get official information on Phase II of President Nixon's Economic Stabilization Program at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, said J. E. Quisenberry Jr., county executive director.

"As the nation enters Phase II, ASCS county offices along with Internal Revenue Service will continue to provide public information at the local level," Quisenberry said.

The County ASCS office will receive regular updated information from the President's Cost of Living Council, Price Commission and Pay Board.

Residents calling or visiting the county office about a wage-price problem will get answers on the spot if the questions fall within existing guidelines.

More complex questions will be forwarded by the county office personnel to the nearest IRS office for reply.

"We are not authorized to handle complaints, violations, and requests for exemptions, but we will forward them to the IRS district headquarters office," Quisenberry explained.

Quisenberry also said that the name of anyone filing a complaint or violation will be kept confidential.

Any question that cannot be answered by ASCS or interpreted by the IRS district office will be forwarded for higher level action. The person making the inquiry will be informed if this action is taken.

Details on procedures for appealing decisions also are available upon request.

Austin — Gov. Preston Smith's decision to run for a third term drew sharp new attention to an increasingly crowded and complex 1972 political scene.

Smith said he would seek vindication in stock loan scandals. He plans to tell "over and over" that he killed (by veto) the bank deposit legislation urged by Houston banker Frank Sharp which the Legislature passed in 1969.

Meanwhile, former U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough said odds are now 10-to-one he will be a candidate—either for governor or the senate—next year. But he declined to indicate which race is most likely to attract him.

State Sen. Wayne Connally, youngest brother of U. S. Secretary of Treasury (and former Governor) John B. Connally, jumped into the lieutenant governor's race. Connally is a conservative Democrat.

Harold (Barefoot) Sanders of Dallas is getting set to run for the U. S. Senate as a Democrat, according to an announcement made Monday.

Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso indicated he will reveal at a dinner in his home town Dec. 7 whether he will enter the lieutenant governor's race or stand for reelection.

Republicans, calling for a "top to bottom cleanup" in state government, began recruiting preliminaries, concentrating on the governor's race. (They already have a U. S. Senate candidate, incumbent John Tower.)

The Republicans, in an informal statewide poll of gubernatorial preferences, came up with S. Ross Perot, wealthy Dallas businessman, who is a political independent, as their favorite.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde rancher-banker, continued full fledged campaigns for governor. Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall and Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby Jr. have been in the lieutenant governor's race for months.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a new law which allows those accused of crimes to waive rights to a grand jury indictment before trial in cases where the death penalty is not applicable.

In other recent cases the Court of Criminal Appeals held:
* That photographs of a bloody death scene are not automatically prohibited from consideration in murder trials.

* That a court is not to look beyond a bill as passed by the legislature to consider if the act creating a new trial court was duly submitted to a special legislative session by the governor.

COURT COST "SURTAX" PROFITABLE — Some 716 cities and the 254 counties collected $335,348.70 during September from a new "surtax" on court costs earmarked for improving criminal justice.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported on first collections under the law. Money will meet state and local matching fund needs for federal grants under the Omnibus Crime Control Act.

The new law provides an additional court cost assessment of $2.50 for a misdemeanor case conviction in a court where jurisdiction is limited to a $200 maximum fine and specifically includes traffic violations. It also directs a $5 additional charge on other misdemeanor convictions and $10 for felony convictions, to be collected as other fines or costs in cases.

BOLLWORM WARNING ISSUED — Unless the pink bollworm is controlled within the next few weeks, heavy losses, if not complete ruin, can be expected for the cotton crop in North and North Central Texas, the state department of agriculture warns.

Commissioner John C. White said farmers must take immediate steps to destroy cotton stalks and plow under debris as quickly as rains will permit. End of November was the plowup date for more than 40 counties in the North-North Central area.

VETS PROTEST NEW SCHOOL — Creation of a new veterinary medical school at Texas Tech in Lubbock will contribute to an oversupply of veterinarians in the state, Texas Veterinary Medical Association stated.

TVMA said the money could be spent better in aiding medical professions which have a shortage of doctors. Vets educated in Texas are already having to go out of state to get jobs, the association argued.

Short Snorts
A Democratic fund raising reception here Dec. 6 will cost $1,000 per — to hob-nob with Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Cong. Wilbur Mills. A $25 a plate dinner follows.

State Republican leaders demanded removal of Secretary of State Bob Bullock. Bullock said he intends to stay.

A new attorney general's opinion says court clerks must record defendant's birth dates, drivers license numbers where "reasonably available" in abstracts of judgment and so note where data is not available.

Dec. 5-11 is Texas Consumer Week.

The bicentennial era in Texas was launched Thanksgiving Day with halftime ceremonies at the Dallas-Los Angeles football game.

The Department of Public Safety has coded for computer storage 168,979 individual criminal records. Records will be retained by Project SEARCH (System for Electronic Analysis and Retrieval of Criminal Histories).

Hawley C. Allen

Hawley C. Allen Has 94th Birthday

A family dinner Sunday honored Hawley C. Allen, who was 94 years old on Monday, Nov. 29. The dinner was held in the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allen.

Family members attending included Mrs. Allen and the couple's three sons, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allen, Frank Allen and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Allen; a grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Allen; a granddaughter, Lisa; and two great-grandchildren, Sterling and Clay Allen.

Mr. Allen was born at Salado on Nov. 29, 1877. He recalls that Salado almost became the capital of Texas, having lost by perhaps three votes. He came to Coke County with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allen, in 1889, the year Coke County was created and organized. He went to school at Hayrick, the county's first county seat. He remembers Hayrick as "a pretty little town with the mountain to the northwest. The courthouse was a two story frame building and Sunday school was held on the second floor."

Mr. Allen moved to Schleicher County in 1897 or 1898 and was engaged in ranch work for three years. He then went into the ranching business and owned a transfer business and meat market in San Angelo.

He served as a peace officer for 16 years (12 years as sheriff in Tom Green County and four years in Coke) and later bought a pharmacy in Robert Lee. He has favored ranching as an occupation but is still interested in law enforcement and national affairs. He is particularly interested in the relationship between the United States and Mexico and in getting the U. S. on a sound economic basis.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were married more than 69 years ago, on June 15, 1902, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Caraway, in the Hayrick community.

Christmas Shopping

Make Christmas shopping as merry as the season by planning ahead to avoid the rush and confusion.

The first step is start early. Begin by making a list of all the people to buy gifts, then add to your list by answering these questions:

Who are you shopping for?

What would make a suitable gift? Consider several items.

How much can you afford to spend in your overall budget?

Where are you likely to find what you want to give?

Now check the list again and ask yourself:

Is this a realistic amount of money to spend?

Is it above your spending limit? Would it be possible to find a suitable gift more within the limits of money available? Or, maybe you can afford to spend more than you have allowed.

After deciding on gift ideas, study ads from local merchants to plan where to shop.

Next, separate your gift ideas into shopping categories to save back tracking from one department to another. You can then buy toys, jewelry and children's clothing as you come to each department in the stores.

Shopping can be done quickly and easily, with a minimum amount of money, if you plan well. Remember, make plans and shop early—then relax and enjoy the holidays.

Flames and Holiday Fabrics

Candles and open fireplaces make inviting settings for holiday activities. They are also the precise setting for possible ignition of textile products.

Textile product flammability varies according to the fiber content, weight, weave, surface and design of a garment or textile product.

Fabrics known for easy combustibility are sheers, light weight and loosely woven. Napped fabrics with air space between loose fine fibers ignite more readily than a smooth surface. And high fluffy piles burn rapidly in comparison to short high density piles.

Cotton, rayon and linen burn more readily than other fibers. Man-made fibers, including nylon, polyester and acrylic, are less flammable. However, they melt as they burn and may continue to do so even after the flame is removed, leaving a hot sticky liquid residue which can cause local burns.

Since flowing robes, long blousy sleeves, ruffles and frills are quick to catch fire—avoid wearing these party favorites when cooking or working around open fires. Also give careful attention to loose fitting clothes, party table covers and decorations near direct fire sources.

The Extension Service bulletin, "Christmas Time at Home," is available at our office. It is a for sale publication, but is worth much more than 35 cents. For a copy drop by or send your money to me at Box 14, Robert Lee, Tex. 76945.

Sen. Snelson to Be Governor for Day

The program of activities has been completed for Senator Pete Snelson's "Governor-for-a-day" ceremonies, slated to be held at the State Capitol on Saturday, Dec. 4.

Highlights of the day's events include Senator Snelson's swearing in ceremonies in the Senate Chamber at 9 a.m., followed by a press conference where the new governor will be interviewed by members of the press from all parts of the state. Governor and Mrs. Snelson will greet their friends and constituents at a reception in the Chief Executive's Chambers.

A feature of the day promising entertainment at its finest will be the gala inaugural luncheon, beginning at 12:30 p.m. at the Commodore Perry Hotel. All guests are invited to join Governor and Mrs. Snelson in attending this festive event. Admission to the Inaugural Luncheon will be by ticket only; tickets may purchased in various counties. Requests for tickets may be sent, along with purchaser's name, address, and payment of $5 per ticket, to "Snelson Governor For A Day Committee," Box 13332, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Many other interesting events and opportunities will be provided throughout the day to ensure that this will be a memorable and enjoyable occasion for all attending, committee members said.

Senator Snelson is third in the line of succession to the governor's office by virtue of his position as president pro tempore of the senate. Both Gov. Preston Smith and Lieut. Gov. Ben Barnes will be out of the state Dec. 4.

Under the new districting recently completed Coke County is in Senator Snelson's district.
